
While it's one rule I can say I've followed religiously, there HAVE been two exceptions. My friend Beth and my mother's friend Tammy are the only people outside of my family that has ever seen me having sex with my father - at least the only people that knew he was my father at the time. I have NEVER told any of my boyfriends because all it takes is one bad breakup and who knows what they might spill and to whom. As erotic as it sounds, it's just not worth the risk.

Then again, there is always a first time for everything I guess...

1. Rules

Let's set the record straight from the beginning...

My name is Kelly and for the past eight years, since I was sixteen years old, I've actively practiced incest with my parents and several immediate relatives including an aunt, uncle and three cousins (two girls and one boy).

Hmmm, saying it like that somehow makes it sound like I'm standing up in front of a AA meeting confessing to being an alcoholic. Well. that couldn't be any further from reality. There's nothing I've done with my parents or other family members that I need to "confess". There is nothing I have done sexually with my family that I regret. OK, maybe there were a couple of time with my Uncle Jim that I'd like to be able to erase from my memory but overall you know what I mean. On the other hand, there are LOTS of things over the course of those same years that I regret NOT doing - but that's a different issue for another time.

So essentially the only time I tell people that I practice incest is when I'm on-line. Thanks to the Internet and porn industry, it's not surprising that the first thing that comes to their minds are images of pedophilia, wild family orgies, slutty teenage girls flaunting themselves shamelessly to their fathers, in addition to all sorts of sordid and perverted practices, all of which are heavily promoted by porn sites. Truth is, I've never seen a web site that discusses incest in an intelligent and practical manner. Instead, incest is always portrayed so as to encourage the perverted fantasies of the predominantly male population that supports such sites.

One of the many reasons I post my own web site is to provide a place where people can come and see how REAL incest works in a REAL family, not the crap you find on the porn sites. On my site I have posted a number of articles about how I feel about incest so I won't repeat them all here, but suffice to say while I believe incest can be the foundation for a loving and respectful relationship between family members, I recognize that it can also be easily abused. More than anything I hate it when people use "incest" as a rationale to abuse their children. In the same vein I also despise web sites that promote incest as being pornographic in nature. It's because of the way incest is portrayed in the media and Internet that when I say I am involved in incest, people instantly jump to a number of totally wrong assumptions leading to conclusions about me that are totally messed up. This is also one of the biggest reasons why I never tell anyone in my "real" life what I do in the privacy of my home with my family.

Another reason I never talk about incest with friends is more practical - it's illegal. Whether it SHOULD be or not isn't the issue (you might find it surprising to learn that personally, I think it should remain illegal). Unfortunately, because it IS illegal, "holier than thou" crusaders will try to ruin the lives of someone without ever taking into account whether or not anything harmful has actually taken place.

Not only is incest illegal, but if I revealed to people WHEN I started having incest, that could also lead to problems should such information get in the wrong hands. By the time I was sixteen I was no virgin - far from it. Still, despite the fact I was quite active sexually already, my father could have been charged with statutory rape for having sex with me at that age. Now that I'm 24 I don't worry about it - what are they going to do, arrest him for what he did years ago without me pressing charges? I sorta doubt it.

Still, even if no legal action were taken, the very fact that such information was made public would be enough to ruin my father's legal career and before it was all over, the lives of everyone in my family would undoubtedly be negatively impacted. As I mentioned earlier, most people only see incest as it is portrayed on the evening news and Internet so it would be only natural for them to condemn my parents as being abusive. Some have tried to claim that I was "groomed" by them as I grew up to where I thought I was the one initiating sex when it was actually the inevitable result of years of preparation by my perverted parents. That is all so much crap I wouldn't even know where to start but sadly, it's probably what would happen if things became public knowledge.

Unlike a few "talks" I'd had with my mom earlier when I was growing up (stop masturbating in public, that skirt is way too short, etc.), my parents never actually sat down and told me not to say anything about what we did, at least not directly. I was sixteen when I first had sex with my parents. By the time I reached that age, I knew full well the potential consequences. My parents treated me as an adult and I behaved as one.

As much as I know it's the right thing to do. It's been hard at times NOT to tell people. I'm not ashamed of what I do, not even a little bit. I'm proud that my father sees me as more than just a daughter but also as a sensuous woman who can satisfy his deepest needs. Nothing would make me happier than to be more intimate with him in public so I could show people how much I love him and let them see how much he loves me. Reality bites.

The closest I've come to revealing the truth was to my boyfriend back when I was almost engaged to Duane. At the time I struggled as to whether I should wait for him to propose and THEN tell him, or to just tell him and get it over with. When I was convinced he was about to propose to me I decided to do a little experiment to try and gauge what his response might be when he found out that his girlfriend was also having sex regularly with her dad. The experiment involved letting him know about my Aunt Linda and cousin Kristen. After he had sex with them together, things went downhill from there and in the end we broke up. He then tried to ruin my teaching career and everything got so horribly confusing for a long time. Although it all worked out in the end, I learned a valuable lesson - NEVER tell anyone about incest. Well, when I get an actual marriage proposal I will but not a moment earlier.

Actually, there are two people outside my family that know the truth. One is my mom's best friend Tammy, who lives in Oregon. Since my mom's accident I haven't see Tammy and I doubt I'll ever see her again now. It doesn't matter since I would NEVER worry about her telling anyone given her close friendship with my mother over so many years. The other was my best friend Beth. Now THAT was rather interesting in how it came about as she actually had sex with my dad before she knew he was fucking me also. Like Tammy, I have no worries at all about Beth as we've been best friends since my earliest memories.

Interestingly, there ARE a few guys who HAVE seen my dad fuck me. The important thing is they didn't have any idea at the time that I was his daughter. It involved some my dad's clients who thought I was a hooker he'd hired for the evening. It's a long story so all I'll say here is that it was the first time anyone outside my family had seen me fucked by my dad and it was REALLY hot - for all of us! Still, such opportunities don't just pop up every day.

So it all boils down to this - I simply don't tell people about my incestual relationships because it's in everyone's best interest that I don't. Note that by "everyone", I mean everyone important to me, NOT everyone who might be interested. I'd like to think that not even our closest friends and neighbors have a clue. Sure some of them may not exactly consider me to be shy, to say the least, but there's a BIG difference between someone thinking you're a slut and that same person knowing that you have sex with your dad!

2. Randy & His Sister

Back in high school when I was a senior I briefly dated Randy, a junior. I usually didn't go out with guys younger than me but he was a bit of a nerd and for the first time, I was someone's "first" which was pretty cool. There are several entries in my diary regarding those days, plus a few more recent ones involving the time we've spent together since he moved back to the 'burgh in the fall of 2009 after being laid off in California. We aren't exactly "exclusive", but for the most part I think we both have enough fun together that we don't feel the need to seek out too many other people to keep us happy. There's never been a moment when I thought I'd want to marry the guy, but I enjoy being with him and the sex is great so what more can I ask for now?

There is one special thing about Randy that makes him unique, at least so far as guys I've dated. While I've met tons of guys on-line who claim to be involved in incest, I've never actually met anyone in real life who was. WAY back when I was first getting sexually active I got involved in a situation with my boyfriend and his mother, but that was almost ten years ago and I never really did find out what the whole story was. You can imagine how my curiosity was peaked when I found out that Randy was fooling around with his older sister.

There's an entry in my diary regarding what happened between Randy and his sister not too long ago. Briefly, I watched them having sex on their parents' bed, the same bed where Randy use to fuck me back in high school and where his sister caught us once. This time she didn't know I was hiding in the closet watching everything they were doing. Then again, had she known I was there she never would've done it in front of me given the way she feels about me being with her brother. Lots of baggage there but you should get the idea. Still, it made Randy the first guy I've met who was having sex with his own sister, at least for real. Nobody else in his family was involves and his ultraconservative parents would have freaked had they known, but it was the first case of incest I was aware of outside my own family.

When it comes to what Randy knows about ME..., well, let's just say not as much as I'm sure he would like to know. He has seen me and my cousin playing together, but then at times it seems so has half the south side of Pittsburgh! Just come to a party where the two of us are goofing around and you'd have to be blind not to know SOMETHING has to be going on between us. Then again, we are cousins and FEMALE cousins at that, so nobody much seems to care all that much - especially the guys. Of course, it's not like we're dating or anything freaky like that.

Other than my cousin Kristen, whom Randy has fucked himself a few times in the past, he doesn't know about anyone else in my family so far as sex goes. Until now, it was my intent that it stay that way - just as it has been with every other guy I've dated, no matter how serious things may have gotten. Granted, that was all before I knew he was screwing his sister on a regular basis...

3. Revealing the Truth

After that time when I watched Randy and his sister doing it on their parents' bed while I lurked in the closet, we never really talked a lot about it. It was just one of those things we seemed to reach a mutual consensus on without really saying anything out loud - no discussion about him and his sister. He actually seemed to be a little embarrassed by it all. I really couldn't blame him as all of the reasons I mentioned before as to why I don't discuss incest with boyfriends probably applied to him as well to one degree or another. As for me, I sensed his insecurities and it also made me wary of talking about it as I end up inadvertently sharing something about me in the process just to make him feel better.

As time passed, I couldn't help but wonder more about Randy and his sister. It was a fluke getting the opportunity I'd had the first time so I was under no delusions that I'd ever see them having sex again. In fact, I hadn't even seen her since then as she lived on her own and never seemed to be at her parent's home when I was there with Randy. Since Randy wasn't bringing up the issue, it didn't seem right for me to either. Still... when I meet him and we are doing it, I can't help but wonder what they did last night? Was the same dick that was buried in me now deep inside his sister's pussy last night? Was that faint odor I smelled when I sucked his dick the lingering scent of his sister's pussy? To be honest, it was driving me a little crazy at times.

Not to go off on a tangent, but what is "worse", at least in the public's eye - a father fucking his daughter or a brother doing his sister? It's really not a fair question as it's sort of like asking a man if he has stopped beating his wife. Personally, I DO see a difference, not so much as to whether one is any more "right" or "wrong" than the other, but rather in terms of emotions and submission.

As an only child. I've never had the opportunity to have sex with a brother since I was an only child. Still, I know that at least in my fantasies the sex would have been more for fun than anything else.

Having a horny brother on hand for sex whenever I needed it would be convenient, not to mention downright handy when I was hornier than usual, but I couldn't see it being anything all that emotional like it was when my dad fucked me. Maybe I'm looking at it wrong, but I would think that the sex would be all about getting ourselves off more than anything involving "love" or emotions.

In contrast, sex with my dad is ALL about emotions. He's 45 now and face it, from a purely physical perspective it's not quite the same getting drilled by a 23 year-old stud like Randy. At the same time, sex with my dad is much more fulfilling in that during sex and afterwards I feel a sense of love and respect that lingers on long after he has cum in me. While sex with Randy is physically incredible (the boy has one talented dick), it always leaves me wanting more, like I'm some sort of drug addict craving her next fix. I guess you could also say that I have sex with my dad because HE wants it whereas I have sex with Randy because I want it. My duty as a daughter is to please my father but with Randy, while of course I try to make him happy the most important thing is that I get what I want.

So back to my original question, "What is "worse"- a father fucking his daughter or a brother doing his sister? " The reason I ask that now is because it was central to my thoughts and considerations when it came to what I would tell Randy - and even more so, what I would NOT tell him. The important question was if he knew I was having sex with my dad, would the consequences of having his own incestual relationship with his sister be enough incentive to keep his mouth shut about me and my dad?

Knowing Randy's parents, I had to believe the answer to my question would be yes, there WOULD be sufficient consequences, at least enough for him not to want to have his own secrets revealed. His mother in particular was almost insane when it came to premarital sex, so I could only imagine how she would react to her own kids having INCESTUAL sex. God, that would probably send her off with a stroke!

There was also the question that even if Randy COULD be trusted, what did I have to gain from revealing the truth to him? It's not like our sex would be any different - my god we already fuck like rabbits as it is! At this point I couldn't picture my father fucking me in front of him any more than him doing me in the public square at noon on Saturday. So what would be the point in telling Randy anything?

Perhaps I was all wrapped up in this train of thought because in some ways I just wanted to tell someone my secrets... ANYONE! Holding it in all these years was really tough at times and just once I wanted to see the look in a guy's eyes when he found out the truth about me. Considering Randy's own incestual experiences, I was pretty sure it would be a look of lust, not disgust, one of excitement and desire. Mmmmmmm, I could only imagine the sex we'd have afterwards! Would he want to role-play with me as his daughter and him as my daddy?

Whenever major decisions such as this arise, I have one sure-fire way of handling them - procrastination. Fast decisions are rarely good decisions, at least when I make them. Most of my major screw-ups in life can be traced back to a quick decision made in the heat of the moment. I'm sure there are those people to whom such decisions come easily, but not for me. Thus after seeing Randy and his sister together, I tabled any thoughts of sharing what I'd done with my dad with Randy and bided my time, figuring God would reveal the proper time and place to me.

Well, despite my persistent prayers God certainly took his sweet time about it... New Year's Eve came and I almost told Randy then. Rather than going out and doing something wild like I usually do to celebrate the new year, I decided to stay home with just Randy and my cousin. Being the numbers were such that he was the only guy, I couldn't be selfish and so I shared Randy with Kristen throughout the evening. However, when it came to the clock striking midnight, he was MY boyfriend so I made sure that I was the one he was fucking as the ball dropped at Times Square. Our timing was just a little off - I wanted him to explode in me just as the ball hit bottom but he was a couple of seconds late. Still, not too shabby considering his orgasms aren't exactly something he can control with all that much precision - I have enough stained outfits to prove it.

Afterwards, as we lay in my bed still tied together, I thought it might be the perfect time to tell him my "secret". Then, just as I was about to say something, my horny cousin plopped down on top of the two of us and that was that. The sex was great, of course, but the mood had definitely changed and it just didn't feel right telling him when he was falling asleep next to me, especially with my cousin sandwiching him in from the other side.

It wasn't until a couple of weeks later that the right moment finally presented itself. This time I was at his house for a quick fuck after we'd gone out to a movie. His parents were out and we were both horny as hell so we figured why waste another half hour or more driving back to my place, especially since Kristen would likely to be home and the odds were pretty slim that she would leave us alone for long. Not that it would be so bad if she didn't, but I had other things in mind for which I needed his undivided attention.

Just for fun, I coaxed Randy into fucking me in his sister's old bedroom. She lived in her own place but her parents still kept it as "her room", sort of nostalgic for the old days I guess. He wasn't too thrilled about the idea but it didn't take much to convince him it was in his best interests. Really, when has a man ever told me "no" about anything when I had his dick in my mouth? Just doesn't happen... LOL

For better or worse, Randy came pretty fast. Whether it was he was just that awfully horny or doing it in his sister's bed turned him on, it was only a matter of minutes before he was cumming and shooting sperm all up inside of me. As I felt him releasing himself in me I couldn't help but feel a sense of satisfaction in how well I'd "trained" Randy. When we first starting fucking again he was all into this crap of pulling out and wanting to spray his cum all over me like he was marking his territory or something like that. Sure it may be the standard porn movie conclusion, but I hated it for two reasons. The first was more practical - it left a mess all over me and was a pin to clean up, especially if it got in my hair. Then there was the simple fact I LOVE for a man to cum inside of me. I don't know, maybe it's some evolutionary or female instinct, but I feel an incredible sense of contentment and fulfillment when I know a man is flooding me with his sperm. Not to mention it feels good too!

"Damn, THAT was fast," I teased him as I sucked his cock dry once he finally pulled it out of me.

When he was this horny I knew it wouldn't take much more of this to get him erect once again and I wanted more than just three or four minutes of dick in me! Randy just grunted, jerking a little when I would hit a particularly sensitive spot on his dick.

"So tell me Randy, when was the last time you fucked Cindy in this bed?"

It was a devious question and I could tell from his reaction that he wasn't prepared for THAT one. Yep, sort of out of the blue but those were the best kind of questions as they typically got the most honest answers as he doesn't have time to dream up a response.

"Shit... a couple of days ago if you must know."

"Cool, were your parents home?" "Hell no, you know better than that. We NEVER fuck when they're home. Sheesh, my mom would kill us both!"

"Well I bet your dad wouldn't mind... I bet he'd love to fuck Cindy too, wouldn't he?"

"My dad?" Randy explained, "Nawwwwww, I don't think that would go over so well."

"Why not? I think most dads would love to fuck their daughter, don't you agree?"

"Well I don't know about THAT... I just can't imagine my dad fucking Cindy - or even WANTING to do her like that."

"Would it turn you on to see him fuck her?"

Randy hesitated at that one. I don't know if he was trying to make up his mind or if he was just trying to figure out how to answer it without getting himself in trouble.

"I don't know... a father-daughter thing always sounds hot but not so sure when it's my own father and sister."

"Well, I never met a guy who fucked his sister before either," I teased him back.

"Yeah but still... you and your DAD?" he said in a tone that clearly told me he still was not totally convinced, "How did it start? Does he still fuck you? How often?"

You can imagine how rock hard he was by now. I gripped his erect dick with my hand and pulled him closer to me. "No more questions until you fuck me better this time."

Hey, a girl has got to have priorities and I wasn't any where's even close to feeling as good as I'd wanted - or expected for that matter. His dick felt so good in my hands and my pussy was practically screaming for me to push it inside again.

"Oh come on Kelly, you can't drop something like this on me and then just tell me to fuck you!"

Actually, I thought I could! To prove it, I leaned back and spread my legs apart for him, offering myself to him like a whore in heat.

"Fuck me Randy... dammit fuck me. I'll tell you more if you do."

Well, he did and this time it was MUCH better but I could tell his mind was not totally engaged. Thankfully his dick didn't need his mind to function properly. All the time he was fucking me he kept trying to find out more about me and my dad but I made him wait until we had both cum before I said another word about it. Eventually I kept my end of the bargain which worked out for the best because by the time I was through he was horny as hell again so I got fucked yet again. Gotta love the boy's recovery powers!

I got the feeling Randy was hoping against hope that I would offer to include him in a father-daughter three-some or at least let him watch my dad fuck me but I made no such promises. It wasn't that I didn't WANT to, but I knew my dad would have something to say about it and odds were not that good my dad would go along with it. I'd have to catch him when he was really horny - the perfect time to catch ANY man when you wanted something from him!

4. Convincing My Dad

Like, how many times had I whispered those same three words to my father over the years? Dozens if not hundreds of times? Still, each time I did I got the same reaction from him - uncontrolled lust and determination. There was just something about three simple words that seemed to set him off like nothing else I could ever say to him. I guess that's a little bit of why I say them!

In this case it wasn't like he needed any encouragement. It was Sunday morning and with only twenty minutes before the service started, we didn't have a lot of time to mess around. It was five minutes from his house to church as giving time to clean up a bit and park and such, that left less than ten minutes for him to fuck me and cum in me if we were going to make it on time. Fortunately, I was wearing a skirt without any panties underneath so it wasn't like there was all that much in the way for him. He'd been rock hard from the moment I'd stepped in and I saw the grin on my Aunt's face as she watched him fuck me – obviously proud of herself for making sure my dad was ready for me this morning.

As it turned out, my Aunt Linda must have prepared her brother-in-law a little TOO well as it seemed he'd barely started stroking himself in me when he started to cum. Damn, that was fast! I looked over at my Aunt Linda with a bit of an accusing expression and she just shrugged her shoulders as if to say there was nothing she could do about it. Then she couldn't help but pop a grin and I knew she was a little too pleased with herself. Oh well, at least I was the one to get his cum!

On the upside, for once we didn't have to rush out of the house to get to church on time. I straightened out my dress and kissed my dad as he somehow managed to get his freshly fucked dick back in his pants. His erection hadn't dwindled yet and it was sort of funny seeing him try to get it to fit back in his pants again. With a few minutes to spare, I took a deep breath and dropped my bomb.

He just shrugged, working on his zipper which seemed to be stuck.

"Did I tell you that he and his sister have sex all the time?"

That got his attention and he looked up at me. I could tell that he was not quite sure where I was going with this but he was still interested. Obviously he expected me to provide a little more detail so he was caught off guard at what I had to say next.

"Well, I told him a few days ago that you fuck me too."

Now THAT really got his attention! Suddenly the zipper wasn't an issue before. His mouth dropped open and while he stood there staring at me my Aunt Linda was the first to speak up.

"You told your boyfriend about THAT?" she said incredulously, "Kelly, are you insane? After what happened with that asshole Duane and the way it almost got your dad in trouble... how could you even THINK of doing such a thing?"

My dad motioned with his hand for her to calm down a little. Unlike my aunt, he didn't seem upset at all but instead actually a little intrigued if I was reading him right.

"So what exactly did you tell this guy anyway?"

I paused for a moment, trying to think of a response that would balance the glare from my aunt with the curiosity of my dad.

"Not all that much really. I don't know... we were just doing it and he was talking about him and his sister and it just kinda came out."

It was time to get to church so we had to hurry off before any more questions had to be answered. Nobody said anything in the SUV yet in a way the silence said more than anything. The two of them seemed lost in thought and I had a pretty good idea what they were thinking about. Nothing was said during church of course, but afterwards it became pretty obvious that none of us had been listening to the sermon. I'd really hoped to have a chance to discuss it alone with my dad but my aunt clung to us like Velcro. Damn, she had really become protective of him since moving in with him!

"So what do you think is going to happen now?" my aunt quizzed me once we were back at their house. It seemed funny calling it "their house" when it used to be "my house". In my heart it still was but with my aunt living there now with my dad I almost felt like an interloper.

I hesitated, looking at my dad for his approval before I went on. I knew he already knew what I was going to say and for that matter, my aunt probably did as well. Still, it needed to be said sooner or later. Finally my dad winked at me when he thought my aunt wasn't looking and I knew it was OK with him so I took a deep breath and came out with it.

Even at this point I don't think either of them expected to hear what I proposed. Of course my aunt was dead set against it but my dad overruled her. Since Randy already knew, what harm could it do? I was feeling a little victorious so I couldn't help but tease my aunt by asking her if she wanted to watch but she just stormed off, mumbling something about how crazy we both were. When she was upstairs my dad turned to me and hugged me.

"Are you sure this is what you want baby?" he whispered in my ear.

I nodded and we kissed. My heart had been beating so fast but now I felt safe and secure I his arms, just as I always did since I was a little girl.

"Fuck me daddy."

There they were, those three words he loved to hear so much. It was totally spur of the moment as I hadn't even thought about having sex again after church but it seemed appropriate under the conditions. After all, he'd just agreed to share me with another man so didn't he deserve something from me?

"Fuck me daddy!"

Those were the last words I said as my dad did just that...

Am I a good daughter or what!

5. Getting Ready

I was SOOOOOO nervous. Over the past week I'd had to make so many decisions and now I was second guessing every one of them. Tonight was the big night and I wanted everything to be perfect. The problem was, when dealing with two men who were of different ages, backgrounds and with totally different preferences about sex, how do you decide on one thing or the other?

After my dad had agreed to my plan, I couldn't wait to see Randy again and tell him. From his initial response I could tell that he still hadn't quite believed me before when I told him I was fucking my dad so when I made him the offer he seemed a little surprised.

"Really Kelly? You want to do THAT?" he stammered.

Before answering I took his dick back into my mouth again and sucked on it for a short while before answering. I'd waited until I was well into a good blowjob before bringing this up, knowing there was no way he would refuse with my lips wrapped around his dick. Mmmmmmm, Randy could NEVER say no to me about anything when I sucked his cock! Not that I thought he would WANT to, but why take any chances?

In the end he agreed of course and he was rewarded well. I even let him cum on my face so that should tell you how pleased I was with him. Now it was all up to me to put my plan into motion. Of course, at this point my plan was nothing more than a concept. Sure, they had both agreed to fuck me together but there were so many unanswered questions. Where would we do it? When? How would it go – would they do me together or one at a time or what? There was the important decision as to what I should wear - if anything?

I have heard people say that girls look for men like their fathers. Well, nobody could accuse me of THAT when it came to Randy, at least when it came to sex. Since my relationship with Randy was founded primarily on sex (it was pretty much the only reason we dated... make that the ONLY reason we dated), it really didn't matter what his other likes and dislikes were compared to my dad. Maybe it was because my dad was twice as old as Randy but whatever it was, when it came to fucking me they were like total opposites.

With my dad, sex was always about me submitting to him, satisfying him and tending to his needs and desires. Of course as my father he tried to make me happy as well, but ultimately it was HIS needs that determined when we did it and how. He loved to fondle me and touch me, even when it didn't lead to sex. Sometimes we would just sit on the couch and kiss like teenagers, his hands roaming all over me on top of my clothes, never actually reaching underneath. I loved it when he would play with my hair, running his fingers through it and tugging on it gently.

My dad loves blowjobs. Of course, ALL men love blowjobs but I mean my dad REALLY loved them from me, especially when I would do it someplace semi-public. From the very first time he fucked me, my dad came inside of me and except when he would cum in my mouth, he ALWAYS came inside my pussy. Unless he as in a hurry, he loved to stay in me afterwards, kissing me and touching me as his cock dwindled inside of me. At his age, a repeat performance was usually out of the question, even with Viagra, so it was like he wanted to prolong it for as long as possible. Perhaps the biggest thing about sex with my dad was the incredible emotional high it gave me. There's just something special about having your own father mating you. Maybe someday when I am married my husband will make me feel special in this way but for now, it's something only my dad can do for me.

As for sex with Randy, what can I say? He's at the peak of his sexuality and fucking me is ALWAYS on his mind. Of course he loves a good blowjob, but he'd rather fuck me if he could. Unlike my dad's musket-loader, his dick was more of a machine gun, recovering quickly and typically able to do me three times or more a night. In fact, the first time was usually pretty quick just to get it out of the way so he could fuck me longer the second time before blasting off. The third time usually took some coaxing while the fourth time required some heavy duty mouth work to get him back but usually I could do it.

Like most young guys, Randy tolerated foreplay because he knew I demanded it but he didn't waste any time getting his dick in me as fast as he could. As I mentioned before, he stayed in me now when he came but for a while when we first started doing it I would go home a total wreck, no matter how many tissues I brought with to try and clean myself off!

The more I considered their differences, the more I developed a plan to take advantage of both. Of course, it all hinged on whether they would FOLLOW my plan. When it comes to men and sex you can't EVER be sure of anything ahead of time.

After considerable debate, the "where" came down to a hotel room. Randy's, of course, was not even a consideration. I considered my dad's house but then I was worried Randy might be intimidated having to come onto my dad's "territory". My house was out of the question as well, it just didn't seem intimate to me to do it in my own bed. I wanted something more exiting, something more exotic. Thus in the end I decided on more neutral territory - a hotel room downtown.

The "when" was the easy part. It could be any day, really, as I knew neither of them would allow anything to get in the way of this opportunity. I preferred to keep it a weekend so I didn't have to go to school the next day. Facing a classroom of sixth graders with a well-fucked pussy still throbbing between my legs was NOT the best idea in the world. I ended up choosing a Friday night since that also meant I didn't have to worry about getting up for church the next day either.

Maybe the one item I debated on the least was what to wear. This was the one area where both men agreed - the sluttier I looked the better. It was just a question of which outfit to choose - formal, casual, sporty, etc. In the end, as my plan took form it actually became a non-issue.

The week before the big night I was consumed with thoughts about what was going to happen at the end of the week. Even when in class, I would sometimes get totally distracted by my dreams of what they would do to me, of how they would watch each other as they fucked me. Imagine if my kids knew why their teacher was smiling so much all week! Much to Randy's chagrin, I told him he couldn't fuck me during the week as I wanted him horny and with a full load of cum for me. He wasn't thrilled with having to go so long without getting a piece of me but I just smiled and told him it would be worth it.

At home, I must have set a personal record for masturbation sessions in one week! Even my cousin Kristen, no slouch herself in that department, couldn't believe it. I couldn't blame her for being a little exasperated. It was like my hand couldn't leave my crotch from the time I got home to when I finally fell asleep exhausted and spent. She offered to "help" but I politely refused - it was all about me, Randy and my dad this week, even in my fantasies.

When I told my dad about where I wanted to do it, he offered to book the room but I told him I would do it. I wanted this to be a special night for him and for me to take care of everything. When I told Randy, the relief in his voice told me I had made the correct choice. I can't blame him as what guy wouldn't be intimidated to come to a man's house and fuck his daughter right in front of him in his own house?

My plans were made, my men were horny, and it was time. Even with all my preparations I was still nervous. After all, it's not every day a girl gets to fuck her dad and boyfriend at the same time - for the first time at that!

6. The First Time

One of the logistics that I struggled with was how to bring us all together. Well, as I mentioned earlier, it was the differences between them that actually led me to the answer. There was also the fact that this wouldn't be the first time my dad had watched a boyfriend fuck me. Heck, back in high school he must have seen me dozens of times when I would bring a boy back home to my room. Of course the boy didn't know my dad was peeking in through the door, but I did and it made it all the better for me. What this all meant was that it wasn't terribly important for me to make sure my dad was there when Randy first fucked me. of course I knew my dad would enjoy seeing it, but it wasn't something new that he would feel he'd missed on out if he wasn't there.

Thus what I had set up was for me Randy to pick me and take me to the hotel room like we were on a date. We normally avoided the expense of a hotel room but now and then we would do it just for fun. He stopped by right on time and came to the door to get me. I could have easily walked out and met him at the curb when he pulled up but tonight he had to be a gentleman to I had insisted he come to the door to get me. Besides, I had an ulterior motive as well!

"Hi Randy," I greeted him as I opened the door. Randy stepped in and saw I was wearing a long winter coat with knee-high boots and a scarf wrapped around my neck.

"Ready to go I see," he said, maybe a little miffed I was hidden away so well under my coat.

"Almost," I said coyly, untying the belt that was keeping the coat closed. It fell open to reveal I was totally nude underneath, nothing but the coat, scarf and boots. "Do you like my outfit?"

Like I said earlier, in the end it was easy to decide what to wear - nothing! Randy loved it when I acted like a slut and what could be sluttier on a cold winter night than to go out with nothing on underneath your coat? He started to reach for me but IZ knew if I let that get started, we might not make it to the hotel room any time soon so I stepped back and redid my coat.

"Later big boy...later," I teased him.

He looked like a little boy who was told he couldn't have the puppy dog in the window but I knew he would be happy before the night was over. He led me by the hand to his car, even opening and closing the door for me as I held my coat out of the way of the door. The trip downtown was uneventful, neither of us saying much more than to comment on the weather. I would look over at me from time to time, obviously hoping I would do something to turn him on like I usually did when we were in the car together but not tonight. Nope, tonight he had to wait until we got to our room.

Checking in, we had to wait behind a couple of business men. I felt a tingle as I stood there feeling my coat against my bare skin. Other than randy, the guys around me had no idea I was naked underneath and I wondered what they would say should my coat "accidentally" fall open. Another time and I might have done it just to turn on Randy but once again, he would have to wait until we got to our room.

On the elevator, Randy tried to slip his hands under my coat but I pushed him away. God, he must be horny as hell - just the way I wanted him to be. He fumbled with the key card in the room, so anxious to get inside I wondered for a moment if he had a bursting bladder. As it turned out, he was about to burst but it wasn't his bladder that would explode!

Stepping in the room, Randy looked around as if expecting to see something - or someone. The room was empty of course, so he looked back at me with a questioning expression and I knew exactly what he was thinking.

"He'll be here later," I said softly, knowing full well Randy knew exactly who "he" was.

Without further ado, I pulled the scarf off, tossing it on the dresser and then quickly took off my coat, laying it over the scarf. The boots were history seconds later, leaving me standing there totally nude in the middle of the room facing Randy.

He still had his coat on and just stood there, staring at me like he'd never seen a naked girl before.

"Are you just going to stare at me or are you going to fuck me?"

That seemed to shake him out of whatever trance he was in and he quickly stripped as I pulled back the covers and slipped underneath. I'd asked for a king size bed and I laid on my back right in the middle with my arms outstretched. I smiled as I saw Randy's dick was already standing at attention as he stripped off his underwear and advanced toward me, his nude body looking so handsome and delicious in the soft light from the lamp on the desk. Mmmmmmm, I couldn't wait for him to get under the covers with me!

"I thought we were doing this with your dad?" he asked as I lifted the covers to get under with me.

"Don't worry, he'll be here," I assured him, "I wanted you to fuck me first."

Indeed, that was my final plan. Since I knew Randy would be good for at least three times tonight, why not get the first one out of the way before my dad arrived? Plus, I thought it might help to make Randy a little more comfortable if his mind was somewhat clouded after his first orgasm. I don't know the science behind it, but I DO know that men just don't think too clearly after they cum - something women have used to their advantage for centuries I suppose.

Randy moved over next to me on his side, lifting his upper leg over me so his cock was poking me in the hip. Oh yeah, my boy was horny all right! It was like a steel rod was trying to push itself right through me!

"God I missed you this week," he mumbled as he slid over on top of me.

I spread my legs further to allow him to wiggle his hips to position his dick at my pussy. There was no sense in trying to delay it so why not make it easy? I knew all too well by now that when Randy was this horny there was only one thing that would satisfy him - feeling his dick in me.

So without any fanfare or even so much as a kiss, he lifted my megs up with his arms and got on his knees between my legs, pulling me up and into his pulsing cock. Reaching down, I guided his dick and as soon as he felt his head begin to enter me he shoved his hips forward and rammed it inside of me. Thankfully, he wasn't the only horny person in the room and my pussy was soaking wet already, allowing him to slide easily in to the hilt on the first try.

"Oh fuck you're so tight," he groaned.

Well what did he expect, the poor thing hadn't had anything in it for almost a week now! As I prefer to use my fingers over a dildo, nothing had stretched me out since last Sunday when my dad fucked me so I was really gripping his cock now - not that he was really complaining.

Randy started banging me, thrusting him dick in and out of me quickly. If I hadn't been so horny myself I might have tried to slow him down but I wanted him to cum as badly as he did.

"Cum in me Randy, fuck my pussy, cum for me!"

He was grunting and I knew he was close. Just then a voice came like out of nowhere.

"You heard my daughter, cum in her," a deep voice said firmly.

I knew who it was and had Randy given it a second's thought he would have too but he reacted instinctively and turned his head to see my dad standing there with a big grin on his face.

"What are you looking at ME for? Is this how you treat my daughter? I believe she asked you to cum in her, didn't she?" he said but the twinkle in his eyes told us he was just teasing.

Of course, it helped him that I had told him about my plans ahead of time and he had watched us go to the room, then bided his time until her knew what we would be doing. I had to say, his timing was perfect!

No matter how much he may have prepared himself, no matter how much he knew it was OK to be fucking me in front of my dad, Randy was still a guy and what guy doesn't have nightmares growing up about a father catching him fucking his daughter? It's like the ultimate taboo, the thing every dad warns a boy about when he dates his daughter. So I guess I couldn't complain that for a moment, Randy hesitated. The good news was that he didn't pull out or anything like that. He turned from my dad and looked back down at me.

"You heard my dad... now cum in me!" I said firmly, almost demandingly.

Yes, Randy WAS a guy and despite whatever social taboos he might be dealing with, his cock WAS inside of me and he WAS horny as hell so what could he do other than to continue on? Suddenly he thrust himself hard against me, pushing his dick into me as far as he could, the base of his cock pressing against my freshly shaved pussy, compressing his thick pubic hair against me.

"He's cumming in me daddy... he's cumming in me," I announced, looking over at the side of the bed where my dad had sat to watch us.

He'd taken off his winter coat but still had the rest of his clothes as he sat there silently, smiling as he watched Randy's hips thrusting into me with each load of sperm he was pumping into me.

Speaking of cumming me, Randy was FLOODING me. It was like he was never going to stop as he let loose one load after another inside of me. I could even feel it dripping down the crack of my butt as it leaked out of me as he stroked himself in and out. Once spent, he rolled over to the side of me opposite from my father, laying his back next to me on mine as he tried to catch his breath.

"Well, I see you two didn't waste any time," my dad said with a grin, reaching over to run his hands over my bare upper thigh.

He moved his hand up until he had it cupping my breast, his fingers lightly touching my sensitized nipple.

"You know son, there's more to sex than just dipping your stick in and letting it go," my dad said gently as he caressed my boob, "A woman needs more to be satisfied... a lot more... maybe you need someone to show you."

My dad was following the script perfectly. Of course, Randy had no idea my dad and I had worked this all out ahead of time. The entire reason I rushed Randy into fucking me so fast was to final a rationalization for my dad fucking me in front of him As horny as he was, he had played into my hand perfectly and now while he was getting himself ready to go again, my dad was ready for his turn.

"Come here baby," my dad said gently, reaching out to me.

I sat up, feeling Randy's cum between my legs as I did and so I used the sheet to wipe myself off before scooting over to my dad. As I got closer, he put his arms around me and pulled me in tightly to him. Then he lowered his head down and for the first time that night, I was kissed. God, just kissing my dad in front of another man was something I'd never done before and I was conscious of him behind me, undoubtedly watching the scene unfolding before him. It must have been like a fantasy come true for him to watch a father loving his daughter.

As we kissed, he pulled me up an onto his lap. My feet were still on the bed so I wasn't as heavy as I could have been but still, I wasn't twelve anymore! He didn't seem to mind as I wrapped my arms around his neck and continued kissing him as my breast pressed in tightly against him. His hands began to wander over me, running all over me as his fingers gently caressed me. It felt so wonderful, so right. I loved it when he touched me this way, like he as exploring me for the very first time. I felt his hand working its way between my thighs so I spread them apart just enough to let him reach down to my pussy, his finger running up and down my swollen pussy slit. I was slippery from the moisture of my pussy juices and Randy's cum but my dad didn't seem to mind.

Leaning back from him, I licked my lips as he lowered his head and started to suckle my breasts. My dad knew just how to alternate between gentle kissing and sucking to make them tingle! I could see Randy over my dad's shoulder, laying on his side now with the sheet off, stroking his cock slowly as he watched. For the moment I though he wasn't seeing much as my dad was blocking his view but then I realized he was looking at the mirror on the wall where he could see a side view of what was happening. I smiled at Randy and then sucked in my breath as my dad pulled on my nipples gently with his teeth. God it felt so good!

We went on like this for a while and then I whispered to my dad to lay down. I stood to the side of the bed and undid his belt buckle and pants, then slowly unzipped his pants. He lifted his hips as I pulled them off along with his underwear and then his shoes and socks, leaving him naked from the waist downward. His cock was stiff and I was proud of my dad for having such a firm erection in front of my boyfriend. He must have =taken a good dose of Viagra beforehand as more often these days it took a little work from me to get him this stiff, no matter what his anticipation level may be.

Looking at my dad and then at Randy, I crawled up on the bed and kneeled between my dad's legs, gripping his cock in my hand as I nestled into place. Both of them had their eyes firmly planted on my dad's crotch where my hand was slowly stroking my dad's erection.

"Do you want to see me suck my dad's cock Randy?"

OK, award for the silliest question of the day goes to Kelly but still, I felt like I HAD to ask him. After all, this would be the first time anyone like him saw me suck my dad's cock so I wanted it to be as memorable as possible - for all of us.

"God, I can't believe this," was all Randy could say in response.

The firmness of his cock confirmed his feelings - he was ready to go again but he would have to wait for a while. For now it was my dad who getting my attention.

Lowering my head down, I reached out with my tongue to just touch the tip of my dad's cock head. Even that light touch was enough to make him jerk involuntarily. Yep, my dad was just as horny as this boy next to us who was half his age! I knew it wouldn't take much to set him off in this condition so I had to be careful. As much as I wanted to suck his dick, it was my pussy where I wanted him to cum eventually.

As my mouth wrapped around his cock and I slowly took it in, inch by inch, my dad groaned and he put his hands on my head, trying to push my head down onto him even more. Mmmmmmm, he smelled so good! He must have showered just before coming over and I could smell the fresh scent of soap mixed with the more musky odor of his lust. When I had him all in my mouth, I turned towards randy and was pleased to see him staring at me, not even blinking as if he didn't want to miss a fraction of a second of what was going on right before his eyes.

It would have been easy to get my dad off quickly in the condition he was in so I didn't suck him all that much out of fear he wouldn't be able to hold back. Still, both of them seemed to be enjoying what I was doing and it made me feel good to be able to get two guys off with just one BJ. My dad also must have sensed he was about to lose it so he pushed my head back and smiled at me. I knew from having had sex with him so many times over the years what he wanted next but Randy wasn't as familiar with us so said it out loud for his benefit.

"Lick my pussy daddy," I said gently, my hand holding his cock but not stroking it so he wouldn't cum accidentally.

Unlike "fuck me daddy", these three words were almost NBEVER said when I had sex with my dad.

It wasn't because I didn't want him too, I just didn't have to say it - it happened on its own. Over the years I would say I only get my pussy licked maybe a third to half the time when I have sex but that's OK with me. Not that I don't love it, it's just so few guys know how to do it right and it gets frustrating having to explain to each one all the time. That's one reason I love sex with girls, especially my cousin, who KNOW what it feels like to be licked and KN(OW how to do it based on personal experience. My dad was probably the one exception but then he has fucked me more than any ten men combined so I guess it's only natural he would learn how to lick my pussy the way I like it over all that time.

Essentially we just traded places. In the process my dad took off the rest of his clothes so when he laid down on his belly on the bed between my legs, he was totally naked now. I dropped my head up on a pillow so I could watch better. My dad also grabbed an extra pillow and put it under my butt to lift my pussy up in the air to make it easier for him to get his mouth on me without me having to lift my hips up so high. Once we had everything in place, he didn't waste any time putting his face in my crotch and going to work! Having already been fucked by randy, my clit was pretty sensitive still and when his lips touched them I thought I would shoot off the bed!

"Yes daddy! That's feels soooooo good daddy!" I moaned as I writhed on the bed.

He had his arms around my hips so his hands were under my ass, one butt cheek in each hand as he lifted me up to his mouth like he was eating a pizza or a sandwich. Mmmmmmm, a pussy sandwich!

God I was so close to cumming now. It was perfect - my dad eating my pussy while my boyfriend watched - and took notes hopefully. I could even smell my pussy as my dad lapped his tongue all over me and covered his face with my juices. The fact that same of Randy's cum might have been mixed in didn't seem to faze him. In the past when he was watching a porn movies he would comment on how gross it was for a guy to eat a girl after another man had cum in her so I knew this had to be a special time for him to do this for me.

Oh yeah! I was cumming now and my back arched upward and then dropped down as my hips thrust uncontrollably up into my dad's face. It was like I was fucking his tongue as my legs wrapped around him and pulled him tight into my crotch. God it felt so good! How do you describe it? How do you describe a sunset to a man blind from birth? Some things can't be put into words and what I was feeling at this moment feel into that category.

My dad was showing off now. He was being merciless, not letting me relax for a second as he continued his onslaught with his tongue and lips. Then he pushed two fingers into my pussy as he put his mouth over my clit and let his tongue run in circles all around it. Now THAT really set me off again. Most men seem to think a girl's clit need constant pressure when in reality, it can be just as good if not better to tease all around it instead, with the occasional flicker of the tongue right over it. My dad, being an expert when it came to pussy licking that he was, had been trained by my mom many years before and he knew exactly how to set me rocketing off again and again.

How long was he going to do this to me? It was like I was on another planet now, the whole room was dark as I shut my eyes tightly and tried to focus on maintaining myself under some semblance of control but it was useless. Finally it became too much, I felt like I was going to pass out or have a stroke. Reaching down, I tried to push his head away but he just turned them aside and kept his face planted between my legs.

"Stop daddy! Oh my god I can't take it anymore!"

He didn't stop. If anything, my pleas seemed to encourage him all the more. I couldn't keep my legs around him anymore as they fell to the bed and I just laid their limp, unable to even move now as everything around me seemed to collapse to just my pussy. It was insane, total overload. I couldn't even raise a hand to protest any longer. It was beyond pleasure, beyond anything I ever thought possible.

"Now see kid, THAT'S how you make a woman orgasm," I vaguely heard my dad say to Randy.

Randy didn't say anything and I couldn't work up the energy to even open my eyes to see what he was doing. It didn't matter to me at that moment. All I could think about were these HUGE throbbing sensation that seemed to emanate from my pussy and then pulse like a monster wave all through me. It was like every time my heart beat my entire body resonated and every square inch of me responded.

While planning this evening, the LAST thing I ever imagined doing was falling asleep yet somehow I did. How long, whether it was just a few seconds or what, I wasn't sure because when I opened my eyes, my head was resting on my dad's lap while Randy was gently rubbing my legs up and down. My dad looked quite pleased with himself and for good reason - that was one of the most intense orgasms I'd ever had and he hadn't even fucked me yet!

THAT was about to change as I soon found out.

"OK, NOW she's ready to be fucked," my dad was saying to Randy, as if I wasn't even there, "Don't worry, she'll perk up once she feels me inside of her, trust me."

Not only was he giving Randy advice, but there was a subtle hint to what he said that HE was going to be the next to fuck me and that randy shouldn't get any other ideas for the moment at least. I surely didn't mind. Now that I was starting to clear my head I was feeling this overwhelming urge to have something inside of me, like I was missing something vital to complete me, to fill me up. That that something should be my dad's dick was just all the better. To have him do it with Randy watching just was icing on the cake.

"Ready Kelly?" my dad asked as he lifted my head and got out from underneath me.

"Mmmmmmm, fuck me daddy."

They both chuckled and for a moment I wondered what the inside joke was and then my dad cleared things up for me.

"See, didn't I tell you she would say that?" he said to Randy, "She knows how to please her old man. I raised her to be a damn good daughter!"

Funny, if I ever called him an "old man" he would have been angry but I guess between guys it was OK. In any case, he grabbed my ankles and twisted me around on the bed so my butt was on the edge and my legs hung over the side. Randy had moved to one of the chairs, leaving the entire bed to me and my dad. Actually, I think he did it more to get a better view than to give us space!

I wanted my dad in me but somehow I was still totally exhausted from what he had done to me. As a result, I just laid there, waiting for him to take him however he wanted to. One of the great things about sex with your dad is the trust factor. There weren't many guys OI would allow myself to get into this sort of situation where he was under complete control of me. However, with my dad there were no worries. I knew I could trust him explicitly and that he would never do anything to me that would hurt me or that I didn't want to do.

My dad put my feet up over his shoulders as he grabbed my ass with his hands, his arms helping to support my legs. He was so hard that it was like being poked with a stick as his cock tried to find its way into me without either of us using our hands to help. I WANTED to help but I just couldn't get the strength up to lift them and grab his dick. In the end it didn't matter. As wet as I was and after the fucking and licking I'd had, he was able to zoom in on the target easily and the next thing I knew my dad was in me. I looked over at Randy and smiled as he watched a father fuck a daughter for the first time - in real life that is. THIS was what I wanted him to see. THIS was what I wanted him to understand.

"My daughter's pretty tight for a slut, wouldn't you agree Randy?" my dad said as she started to slowly thrust himself in and out of me.

Randy seemed a little shy to respond so my dad continued, "Don't be embarrassed, you won't be saying anything about my daughter that I don't already know about."

"Yeah, I love that about her too - nice and tight!" he said enthusiastically.

It seemed a little surreal to listen to them compare notes about fucking me but then, that was what this was all about today, wasn't it?

As my dad fucked me slowly, I felt my strength returning. Perhaps it was the extra adrenaline as I felt him ramming his dick into me. Whatever it was, I wanted more of it - a LOT more.

"See her squirming Randy? She wants more. Shit, the slut can be insatiable sometimes - but I'm sure you know that by now yourself."

Randy just nodded, stroking himself again now as he watched my dad fucking me. I motioned for him to come over to me and when he was close enough I grabbed his dick and pulled him towards me.

"My girl just can't get enough dick, can she Randy?" my dad encouraged him.

My dad seemed to be thoroughly enjoying himself now, keeping up a slow but steady rhythm as he fucked me. Meanwhile, I had Randy's cock back in my mouth as he kneeled next to me and lowered his dick to my face. Mmmmmmm, now THIS was heaven. My dad's dick in my pussy and my boyfriend's in my mouth.

"Hey, I need to lay down, this is killing my back," my dad said, lowering my legs and pulling his dick out of me for the first time since he started fucking me.

I got back up on the bed and laid on my side as my dad spooned in behind me, lifting my upper leg up and over his while he worked his dick back into me again. Meanwhile, Randy was back up with his crotch in my face as I continued to blow him.

The way I was positioned I could see us all in the mirror and I smiled as I looked at the sight that was before me. Damn, this was so cool! It was then I realized the one thing I'd forgotten - a video camera! Damn, it would have been so hot to watch this later alone with each of them but there was nothing I could do now about it.

"So I hear you've been fucking your sister," my dad said to Randy, like he was just carrying on a normal conversation.

If there ever was NOT a normal conversation, this had to be it. Still, they started talking to each other like I was just some sort of fuck toy they were sharing. If it hadn't been so hot to hear Randy tell my dad what it was like to fuck his sister I might have been offended but as it was, it just got me all the hotter.

My dad had been trying to delay for as long possible but eventually it got to where he just couldn't control it anymore. Randy was right in the middle of talking about a time when he and his sister had fucked in some parking lot - something he never told ME about, when my dad interrupted him.

"Sorry, gotta cum now!"

For the second time this night I had a load of cum shot into me, this time from my father instead of my boyfriend. I don't know if it was the sight of my dad cumming in me, the knowledge that it was my father filling me with his incestuous sperm, or what, but Randy cam himself almost immediately afterwards, flooding my mouth with a load of fresh sperm. Talk about a treat - two loads of sperm at almost the same time with one in my pussy and the other in my mouth. What more could a girl ask for?

Laying on my side this way I almost choked on Randy's cum but I managed to handle it all without spilling it, swallowing the warm goo quickly down in just two gulps. My dad had his arms around me now, keeping his dick in me as his cum filled my pussy. Randy let his dick drop from my mouth and I could tell he was wondering what he should do next. I started to say something but my dad responded first.

"I think it's time for your to go now son."

That sort of surprised me. I had planned that Randy would fuck me a second time in front of my dad but obviously that plan had been dumped by my dad. Randy just nodded, deferring to my dad's wishes. He quickly dressed and left the room, leaving me alone with my dad.

My dad pulled the covers over us and we just laid there for a while, a father and daughter coupled together in the most intimate manner possible, sharing something only a parent and child can understand. I felt so warm, so damn GOOD. Being in my dad's arms, Randy's cum fresh in my mouth with my dad still inside of me was the most sensational feeling I'd had in ages.

Laying there in the hotel bed, my dad and I feel asleep together.

Despite all my planning and conniving, when the evening started I had no idea how it would really turn out. As it as now, I had to say it was a monstrous success. We woke the following morning and did it again before checking out. My dad dropped me off at my house on his way home. I wondered what he was going to tell my Aunt Linda when he got there?

Story codes: inc father daughter
John - my dad (45)

Until just recently I would have contended that I finally had my life pretty much in order. My religious beliefs were biblically grounded. From these beliefs, I'd worked out the moral and ethical principles to guide my actions. My career goals were laid out and I felt I knew "what I want to be when I grow up". While marriage still seemed to be a distant goal, I enjoyed good relationships with my family and friends. Yep, I was perhaps even a bit smug, confident that I pretty much had everything under control.

A lot can change in a short time. Sheesh, was I just naive or stupid? Well, it just goes to show you can never take anything for granted.

1. A Confession to My Readers

If there is one question I get asked more than any other, it's "Are your diary stories true?" My answer is always a qualified "yes". The "qualified" part is because while the plots and overall scenarios are factual, I have always openly admitted to making a few modifications to maintain the privacy of everyone involved - especially me. Certainly it can be no surprise to anyone that I change the names but there are also lots of little things I have to change that people might not realize which could might aid someone with devious motives.

First, I obviously don't post an entry about every date, party, or event I am involved in. My "diary" is actually a selection of stories which I see as the "highlights" of my life. Not all of them are necessarily "good times". In the end, I write about the times that made me who I am today. With that in mind, does it really matter what hair color someone has, how tall they are, or even exactly how old they are? Does it matter to the story which restaurant or movie theater I really go to, or even what school? Is the exact date crucial to the meaning of the story?

There's no way I can include EVERY detail or I'd be writing novels. Does the dialogue have to be exactly what was said? The point is, none of these "minor" things have any bearing on what the overall story is about or what happened, so why should anyone care that I have changed them unless they are out to do me harm? Thus I don't feel that by changing any of these minor things makes my Diary any less a reflection on my life for what it covers and I make no apologies. Face it, unless you actually met, me, you would never know the difference anyway.

Now and then, however, there are things that I DO lie about or deliberately "embellish", usually because they are every sensitive subjects or could be taken the wrong way. I'm not necessarily proud when I have to resort to this, but it's my web site and I set the rules! This doesn't happen often and I consider it a last resort.

Perhaps one of the biggest events in my life that I've been blatantly dishonest about in my diary has to do with my parent's marriage. While they indeed had a long, and for the most part good marriage, it's certainly had its ups and downs just like any other - maybe even more. I have always loved my mom and dad dearly so I plead guilty to presenting their marriage a little more positively than it is really was out of respect for them. Well, a LOT more positively if I am being honest now.

What I am leading up to is that when I say my parents' marriage WAS good, it's in past tense not because my mother died a year and a half ago. Sure, that is what I have said in my diary but the real reason is because they got divorced. Frankly, I was totally blindsided when they told me. Of course I knew there were issues between them; I heard them fighting when they thought I wasn't listening although for the most part I didn't know why. Still, all marriages have their rough moments and I never dreamed they would actually ever go so far as to split up.

My parents' break-up was a tremendous blow to me which is why my web site went off-line for a few months while I tried to sort my life out. My first reaction was to just drop the whole website thing altogether. I mean, after all I'd said for years about how wonderful my parents' marriage was, how could I explain why they were now divorced? With my mom out of my life, having moved to the west coast near where her best friend lives, how would I address her in any future stories without mentioning the divorce?

After thinking and praying about it long and hard, I came up with the idea that I would say she died in a car crash and thus nobody would wonder why I never mentioned her again. Of course anybody trying to find a newspaper account or police record of such a crash during that time period would realize it was a fake story, but I didn't think too many people would be THAT driven into looking into my private life and even if they did question me, I could always just ignore them.

To minimize the questions, I avoided making an "announcement" or anything big about her "death" on my site. Another reason for minimizing the "death" scenario was I wanted to avoid becoming like so many of the crappy stories on the Internet that start with a parent's death which leads to sexual relations between family members. It helped that I'd never said a lot about my mom on my website before so it wasn't that big a stretch to stop mentioning her completely.

Although a few people mentioned it to me later, all I had to do was say I didn't want to talk about it and they dropped it. Now, over a year later, it rarely gets any attention. In the end, my mom is out of my life one way or the other so did it really matter why? Ironically, I think it would have been easier if she HAD died.

I'm sure anyone reading this is wondering why did my parents divorced after all the wonderful things I have been saying over the years about their marriage. Until just recently, I really didn't know all the facts. Oh sure they gave me the usual "incompatible" rationalizations, but I always felt in my heart they weren't telling me the entire truth. The fact that mom has not contacted me since she walked out tells me there were some major issues which nobody wants to discuss with me. Still, if both parties refuse to discuss it, then how was I supposed to find out the truth? Well, until now I didn't.

So why am I confessing this all now? It's been a year and a half and everyone has bought the "mom killed in a car wreck" story so why rock the boat? Well, this entry is about recent events that were VERY important to me, events that will profoundly change my life and I felt it was important that people understand why things will be different for me in the future.

The problem I faced was choosing to either completely fudge things about my mom and her role, or fess up about the real reason she "died" and thus tell this story more truthfully and completely. In the end, I chose the latter if for no other reason than it makes it a lot easier to write! I've always said that reality was easier to write about than fantasy. Trying to twist the events I am about to write about to fit the death scenario would have been difficult if not downright impossible.

I hope that the people who read my site and have been so supportive of me over the years will understand my motives and forgive me for lying to them about my mother's "death". In my heart I never intended to deceive anyone any more than absolutely necessary, hence the usual "I don't want to discuss it" response when people would ask me about my mom's "death". Until now it really didn't matter all that much whether she was killed or not as since after the divorce she has been dead to me, maybe not in body but in spirit. Thus had not the recent events occurred, odds are I would've never said another word about it.

For better or worse, things HAVE changed a LOT recently so I just wanted to clear this up before I continued. Be forewarned that as I write this I will be referring to my mom as she REALLY was, so don't be confused if it conflicts with past entries as I am not going to go back and change them.

2. Clueless

This past weekend was quite a time for me. It all started when I innocently called my Aunt Linda to discuss the upcoming Valentine's Day. As always, I was brimming with excitement as to what my dad might be getting me this year. My boyfriend Randy had already sent me the standard-issue bouquet of flowers and I assumed a card would soon follow, maybe with luck a box of Godiva chocolate (if he could take a hint). I wasn't all that worried about randy anyway since he's not the overly romantic type to start with, plus we aren't exactly THAT close, at least in terms of any long-term relationship. My dad, though, was a different story. He's always doted on me for Valentine's Day, even more than Christmas some years. I still remember that sexy lingerie outfit he bought me a couple of years ago. Did it REALLY come without panties or did he "accidentally" leave them out? LOL

My aunt started to say something to me but then there was a long pause on the phone as if she was considering carefully what she was going to say. Even after all that she would only tell me was that I needed to talk to my dad - and soon. When I tried to press her she refused to say anything more than, "I think maybe it's time you were finally were told a few things."

Well, you can imagine how well THAT went over with me so I promptly called my dad and asked him point blank what the heck my aunt was talking about. My first sense that something was indeed amiss was when he seemed more surprised that my aunt had SAID such a thing than WHAT she had said. Then he too acted all dark and mysterious, asking me if I could stop over later in the evening to "talk". THAT got my attention as usually when my dad wanted me to come over later in the evening it wasn't to talk!

For the rest of the day I was totally distracted as all I could think about was what in the world they could be talking about. Something kept telling me that they were going to announce that they were getting married. When they'd first started seeing more of each other after the divorce had settled down, I assumed that it was just the two of them enjoying each other's company again - in a variety of ways with sex, of course, being the primary motivator. My dad has always had a special thing about sex with my aunt so that certainly wasn't surprising. When my aunt eventually moved in with my dad, they assured me that it was just for convenience sake. Yeah, I knew exactly what "convenience" they were wanting! But hey, I wasn't arguing as it let me move out of my apartment and save on rent money.

Still, for some reason I've never been able to picture them getting married but then I may have missed the signals. Looking back, I guess they never actually came right and SAID they weren't ever going to do anything more than just live together. Maybe I had just assumed it based on their comments and behaviors. Then there was the whole divorce thing. I could never imagine my dad ever getting married to another woman after what happened with my mother, and especially not to her sister, regardless of the sex.

Also standing in the way of any marriage plans was the issue of our extended families, most of who were still in a state of shock over my dad and my aunt living together. I could only imagine the tongue wagging if they announced they were getting married. It would have been bad enough had the "other woman" moved in with him after my mom left, but when that woman was her own sister... well I shouldn't have to draw a picture for you to know what people were saying about them as it was. And then to get married on top of it all? No way.

Sometimes I amaze myself at how clueless I can be, especially when it comes to reading my own father. I don't know if my judgment is clouded because he's my father and I have these preconceived notions of how I THINK he should react and behave, or maybe something else. Whatever it is, all through my life there have been so many times when I was sure about something regarding him, only to find out later I was completely off base. Usually it had to do with what he wanted for Christmas or something as inane, never anything TOO serious. This time it was starting to look like I'd missed something much more serious.

One of the earliest of those "clueless" times was back when I was only eight years old. I've written about all this before in "Appendix (D.4) My Thoughts About Masturbation" so I won't repeat all the gory details here. Essentially I was with both of my parents in our hot tub after my mom had caught me watching my dad masturbate. My mom has always maintained that her sole intent was to teach me engrained as I grew up that to this day I don't even run around nude in my own place.

In a similar manner, masturbation was something I was taught at an early age as being a normal thing that people did when they felt the need - no different that scratching an itch. Although I didn't start seriously masturbating until I was eleven, I often saw my parents doing it, especially my dad, before then. It wasn't just when he watched porn but even just regular TV shows (Amanda Tapping on StarGate SG1 has always been one of his favorites) would get him hard and make him have to take care of his needs then and there in his chair. It's not like he whipped it out and made a big deal of it or said anything - he just did it. If I happened to be there then I saw him, if not I didn't - simple as that.

So in such a casual setting, can I really be blamed for not realizing that there were times when my dad was masturbating because of ME? While I didn't lounge around the house naked, I didn't exactly overdress, especially during the evenings. My favorite outfit when I got into my teens was one of his dress shirts or sometimes just a t-shirt. Since I was a little girl I've always had an issue with panties and so I seldom wore them - and in the evening I NEVER wore them at all.

Thus at times when I was laying on the couch or doing things around the house, I'm sure my bare ass was on display but I didn't give it a second thought since I was taught that it wasn't anything to be ashamed of. Besides, it's not like I wiggled it suggestively for him or anything naughty like that unless we were joking around. So was my dad masturbating because my t-shirt had ridden up or because of what was on TV? At the time I never even considered it could be anything but the TV. In other words I was clueless.

Yet another example of my being naive as a teen regarding my dad was when I started dating boys and bringing them home for sex. My parents told me from the beginning that they would rather I bring them home than do it in the backseat of a car or some other place where we might be caught or not be safe. Of course my boyfriends had no idea I had my parents' permission to have sex in my bedroom so they usually were a little nervous at first doing me while my parents were downstairs, but that quickly disappeared once we started doing it. They would've REALLY freaked if they'd known my dad often watched us by spying through the crack in the bedroom door I always made sure was there.

At the time he told me it was to make sure I was safe and I actually DID feel much more secure knowing my dad was nearby in case something got out of hand.

The idea that he might be just as interested in seeing two teenagers having sex as he was in my security never crossed my mind! Still, why would it? It was just sex and my dad had a HUGE porn collection so why would I think he needed to get off watching me? Yeah, I know it sounds stupid, but I believed him. He WAS my dad after all so why would I think he wanted to have sex with me? In other words, I was totally clueless.

It wasn't just his thoughts about sex with me that I misunderstood as a teenager. Somehow I totally misread his desires and relationships with other women. My parents taught me from the beginning that adultery was a mortal sin, the absolute worst thing a husband or wife could do to their spouse. They assured me that they'd always been faithful to one another since they were married and always would be - no swapping or anything like that. As it turned out, they weren't lying about the results, but there was a lot more I didn't know when it came to unmet desires and the resulting frustrations.

Before I started having sex with them myself, I had absolutely no idea that my mom had an incestuous upbringing along with her sister. It wasn't just THEIR dad that wanted both sisters, later it would be MY dad as well. If there was one thing about my dad's sexual needs that I failed to realize before it was too late, it was how he much he craved sex with my mom's younger sister. My mom had told me early on that my dad had dated both sisters in high school. When I was old enough to understand, she even confessed they both had sex with him as well. Yet somehow it never crossed my mind that my dad and her sister might have continued doing anything after everyone was married.

Along the same lines, I was always told my aunt had to get a divorced because she and her husband didn't get along. It wasn't until I got involved with incest that I was informed of the real reason the split -her insistence on continuing to enjoy sex with her brother-in-law. While technically it should have been OK for them to have sex since it was just incest, that doesn't mean the left-out spouse was necessarily on board. As it turned out, Aunt Linda's husband bailed early while my mom lived with it for over 25 years before she got fed up as well.

Soooooo... when I was younger and my aunt would stop by and she and my dad would disappear for a while, I was told he was just helping her out with her finances or some legal issues regarding her realty business. It wasn't until my dad started having sex with me that my mom told me what they REALLY did upstairs!

Sure it was crazy erotic and super-hot at the time, but it made me more than a little uncomfortable afterwards given how much my parents had always preached about the sins of adultery. They rationalized his behavior it to me at the time by saying that as best friends for so many years, Beth and Tammy were virtually part of our family but still, it WAS a pretty thin rationalization. The fact I accepted it without realizing the full implications just goes to show how clueless I could be, even when I was in my late teens and supposedly so smart and sophisticated.

Take it from me, it's pretty hard to admit being clueless about so many things. Still, none of this was anything at all of the magnitude of the things I was even more clueless about, things I was about to find out for the first time in my life. As I was sitting on my bed, waiting to go over to my dad's house and find out what this mystery was all about, you would think I might have figured some of these BIG things out for myself. Looking back now as I write this, it was all there, a simple puzzle just waiting for me to put the pieces together.

Somehow I was so blinded by my own beliefs and so assured of my relationship with my father that all I could think about was what was happening between him and my aunt. That it could have anything to do with me or my mom never once entered my train of thought. Then again, I don't blame myself TOO badly. After all, why would I have ever imagined that I might have been wrong about so many things that I considered to be the bedrock of my life?

Is it really my fault I'm so clueless at times? Maybe it was not so much because I was clueless but that I was too trusting? THAT scares me more than anything.

3. Stunned

When I arrived at my dad's house, I noticed my aunt's car was gone which meant it would be just me and my dad. Well, that sort of surprised me since I would have thought any announcement such as what I was expecting would've been made by the two of them together. Then again, maybe he wanted to break the news to me by himself, knowing I would probably be pretty emotional when he did.

Taking a deep breath, I went in through the garage door entrance and into the family room in the basement where I figured he would be. Normally my dad was one in one three rooms - the bedroom, his study, or the family room. Under different conditions, it wouldn't have surprised me if he had been in the bedroom, waiting for me so we could get right to it as quickly as possible. At least for the start of tonight, I didn't think sex was his primary need and since the only time he was usually in his study was for work, that left the family room. Sure enough, there he was with the TV blaring, slouched back in his favorite recliner in sweats like he was ready to go work out.

With the cold and snowy weather I was in boots, jeans and a heavy sweatshirt, not exactly my sexiest outfit to be sure but with the crappy weather we'd been having, a necessity. In any case, there wasn't anything underneath - top or bottom, just in case he should need any "help" from me later it wouldn't take much to get myself prepared for him. I'd learned long ago when it came to my dad, better to be prepared for anything! Nine times out of ten (at least), "anything" meant something to do with taking my clothes off.

"Kelly!" he returned with a smile on his face.

He patted his lap and I knew what he wanted so I sat sideways on his lap with my legs hanging over the arm, leaning in to him with my inner arm around his neck.

Without another word we kissed and he hugged me close with one arm while his free hand quickly made its way between my legs and pressed in against my denim- covered crotch. Hmmm, maybe I'd misunderstood the situation and he was just horny for me after all. Granted I wasn't sixteen anymore but still, at 24 I was almost half the age of my aunt and I knew while my dad LOVED fucking my aunt, he also liked younger girls which is when he would use me and my cousin whenever he got the "itch". Of course, as his daughter I knew it was more than just satisfying his lust, but he WAS a man and men have needs and if I could satisfy my dad's, I was more than happy to do so whenever he needed me. If there is one thing I pride myself on, it's having NEVER said 'no" to my dad, at least when it came to sex.

As it turned out, having sex with me wasn't his intention - at least not yet. Although he held his hand firmly tucked in between my thighs, he stopped pressing his finger into my crotch and leaned back as we broke our kiss.

"We need to talk Kelly."

Oh boy, THAT was never a good omen. Any time growing up when he would start out a conversation with those words I knew something was NOT going to be good. It might have been when I spent too much on one of his credit cards. Other times, especially when I was younger, it might have been about how I dressed or behaved "inappropriately" in public - or at least worse than usual. Maybe the worst time he uttered those words was when he and my mom announced their divorce. Most recently had been when he told me that my aunt would be moving in with him, although that hadn't turned out so bad because it let me move in with my cousin and stop paying rent.

"Yes daddy????" I said softly with a hint of a smile, preparing myself for what I was still sure was going to be a wedding announcement.

He hesitated, the way he always did when he had something to tell me that he knew I was going to have a hard time understanding.

"Well... it has to do with your Aunt Linda..."

Yep, I knew it... here it comes! I was about to blurt out that I'd already figured out what he was going to say when he said something else that stopped me in my tracks."

"...and I guess it's time I was honest with you about a few things as well."

Oops, now THAT didn't sound like a precursor to a wedding announcement. From the pained look on his face I knew instantly that it definitely was NOT about an engagement. He might be worried that I wouldn't understand him marrying my aunt, but he wouldn't look like it as hurting HIM so badly to tell me about it.

"Kelly, before that I need you to understand more about the relationship I have with your Aunt Linda - and what I had with your mom and her as well."

My mind was racing as what usually happens when it does, I was getting totally confused. OK, so what did he mean by "before that"? Before what? Why bring up my mom now?

"Kelly, you know I loved your mother and I never meant to do anything to hurt her."

Yeah right. So what good was it if it led to a divorce? Still, I kept my mouth shut and let him continue.

"I know we haven't discussed the divorce much since your mom left."

Like duh! Still, I just nodded, wondering if he was going to finally open up about things with me. I'd long given up that he would ever tell me the full story so maybe for some reason he finally was going to spill it.

"I suppose by now you've probably figured out that your mom and I split because of something to do with your Aunt Linda."

Actually, while I may have wondered about it at times, I really did NOT have any strong feelings that she was the reason for my parents' divorce. Why would I think such a thing anyway? My parents believed whole-heartedly in the concept of incest and so it was OK with my mom for her husband to have sex with her sister if for no other reason than she had to be since Aunt Linda was family. However, outside of the family he wasn't allowed to be with other women because that would be adultery. I guess had I never started sex with my dad that I never would have known about him and my Aunt Linda. Still, my mom had never given the slightest hint that she was jealous or upset with the amount of sex my dad had with her younger sister which is why I never seriously considered it a reason for their divorce.

"I know you're familiar with how your grandfather took your mom and her sister's virginities and even a little bit how it wasn't entirely consensual at the time. After all, your aunt WAS only twelve at the time. However, I'm not so sure you fully realize that despite what you may have been told, it never DID become 100% consensual. I hate to say this, but your grandfather abused them both, even if nobody wants to admit it. Even your mom has a hard time discussing it which is why she prefers the more pleasant version she told you. It's the real reason why your grandmother never got involved and why to this day she still doesn't like to talk about it."

"But dad, if that's the case then why did mom always claim that she was so happy that I finally had the same relationship with you that she had with her dad?"

My dad just stared at me, as if he was expecting me to provide the answer. Seeing I wasn't quite getting it yet, he added, "Think about it Kelly... I know what she SAID but did she really? Think about how she acted when you were younger, the restrictions she imposed on me and how overly protective she was of you, especially when it came to me."

I just sat there in silence, mulling this all in my head. Then suddenly, it was like the proverbial light bulb turned on over my head. Was this why my mother had insisted that if anything happen between my dad and me that I had to be the one to initiate it? I'd always figured it had something to do with her first time with her dad which I knew wasn't the best, but still I never suspected she had THIS strong of a reaction to it. Like, what would have happened if I had never initiated anything? Until now, I'd assumed that sooner or later she would've stepped in as I got older, perhaps discussing it with me or otherwise helping me to make a decision. Ultimately, I'd always assumed that my mother WANTED me to have an incestual relationship with my father, but she wanted me to be the one to get it started. Was I wrong? It didn't seem possible.

"So dad... are you trying to tell me that mom didn't really believe in incest?"

The disbelief was thick in my voice. This was impossible. No way. Not after all these years and having seen so much. With mom g9one my dad could make up anything so what was he trying to accomplish with all this?

"That's a complicated question Kelly, and I really don't mean to sound evasive. Although she felt it was not a sinful act, so long as it was true incest, let's just say I don't think she would have been overly upset had you and I never done it"

Wow, talk about a body blow! Still, those things HAD happened so it wasn't making any sense to me. If she was really against incest, she sure had a funny way of showing it!

"But what about you and Aunt Linda?" I asked, deflecting the issue for the moment about me and him, "I thought mom was OK with you fucking her after you and mom got married?"

This time my dad really looked uncomfortable, as if this was something he had been hoping to avoid but now that he had opened Pandora's box, there was no stopping.

"Truth be told Kelly, I was about to ask Linda to marry me. In the end I decided that I loved your mother more in other ways but god, the sex with Linda was amazing – and it still is. She's so much more open about things and we had some crazy times together when we dated, doing things your mother would never do with me – even after we got married. Ultimately I ended up making a deal with your mom – I'd marry her so long as I could keep having fun with Linda, no strings attached."

My eyes narrowed as the full import of what he was saying struck home. "So you're telling me that the fact it was incest to have sex with Aunt Linda was not really why mom was OK with it? What if they hadn't been sisters but girlfriends instead? Would you have kept fucking her after you married mom? Even if it was adultery instead of incest?"

My dad shrugged. "What can I say Kelly? I like to think it was God's plan to have it work out this way. Since Linda was her sister, so long as your mom could rationalize it using incest there was nothing 'illegal' about it and so everyone was happy, at least mostly."

"But dad, was mom really happy? Sounds to me like she was sort of forced into agreeing with everything. Would you really have not married her if she didn't go along with this?"

"Look Kelly, don't look at this as something bad or coercive. Really, your mother and I truly had a wonderful marriage. We loved each other very much and I away. Linda certainly had no problems with it and I suppose I don't need to say anything about Kristen," he finished with a bit of a laugh.

I couldn't help but grin myself. When it came to sex and Kristen there were no surprises there, that was for sure.

Still, I wasn't totally convinced. Not by a long shot. This was all pretty crazy and there were still too many unanswered questions.

"Yeah but what about Rick? That had nothing to do with you; it was all her. If she was so against incest then why did she like fucking him so much? And don't even try to tell me it was to please you. She LOVED having sex with him."

"Oh come on Kelly, do I need to spell everything out?" my dad whined but then he continued anyway. "You know the answer - he was a young stud with a big dick, available, "legal" and she enjoyed being a MILF for him. That was all it ever was, pure and simple."

Well, my mom had often told me the same things herself but under the conditions today, I just wanted to be sure. Still, all this left one question in my mind... the BIGGEST question of them all. The scariest question by far.

"So why do you fuck me daddy?" I said in a soft voice, so low he had to ask me to repeat myself.

It was a question I didn't WANT to ask but one I felt I HAD to ask. Deep down, I knew that this question was the real reason he had asked me over and all this up until now had just been leading up to it.

"C'mon Kelly! You know why."

"I want you to tell me daddy... tell me why you REALLY want to fuck me."

"Because I love you Kelly."

"I know you do daddy, but you don't have to fuck me to love me," I replied sharply, "Isn't that what you've always told me? So why do you fuck me? Why did you want me so bad when I was younger when you already had my mom and Aunt Linda?"

My dad shrugged his shoulders and sighed. "Because I needed it. I needed YOU."

He said it so softly I wasn't sure I heard him right at first but from the stricken look on his face I knew what he said without even hearing the words. It was more a confession than a statement. There was more to it than that though... he said he "needed" it using past tense.

"Exactly what do you mean by that daddy?"

It was like something snapped in him then, as if he couldn't contain his frustration with me anymore. His face darkened and his voice raised more than a few decibels.

"C'mon Kelly, you're not THAT dumb so quit acting like it. Why the hell do you think I made your mom let me fuck her that night in the hot tub when we knew you'd be watching from your bedroom? You were driving me crazy so I had to do SOMETHING to give you a nudge."

I just sat there in a daze, unable to absorb anymore. I knew he was waiting for me to say something but the words wouldn't come out. My mind was blank, there was nothing for me to say.

"Kelly, don't take this all wrong. You know I love you more than anything. Look in the mirror for god's sake. You can't blame me for craving you. Get real, you ran around the house half naked all the time, played with yourself CONSTANTLY without caring who was watching, fucked anything with a dick and yet you can't understand why I would want you for myself?"

With that his hand moved tighter into my crotch again, his finger pushing into my pussy hole as best he could with the jeans in the way. His other arm around me moved so he was cradling my braless breast in his hands. I felt him wiggle under me, trying to maneuver his hardening dick under me. God, after all this he was horny and wanted to fuck me! Unbelievable!

Ignoring his groping hands, I had to finish what we started. I had to know it all, the entire truth.

"So what's up now then? What's with you and Aunt Linda? Are you getting married?"

He seemed genuinely surprised at that; shocked even. "WHAT? Where the hell did you come up with that one? Hell no, we'll never get married. Why would we want to do THAT? The only reason I ever would've married her in the first place was for the sex and I get all I want now as it is."

"I don't know, I figured you were living together now and all. Why not?"

"I guess I have to spell it out again then, don't I" he huffed. "First, I really DO believe that adultery is wrong. Yes, I know I've had some slips in the past but the ones you know of were the only ones. To be honest, the biggest reason I don't want to marry Linda because I don't want to deal with the whole adultery thing again. I like the freedom of being single again."

The magnitude of what he was saying sank in and I glared at him. "So you just want to be able to fuck anyone at any time, is that it?"

"Well?" was all he said, shrugging his shoulders as if the answer was obvious.

"And what about Aunt Linda?"

That actually made him smirk a little bit when he replied, "Oh like she cares. Hell, SHE is the one who wants to fool around the most. Besides, how would she maintain her sales quota if she stopped fucking other men?"

Actually, the last part made more sense than anything I'd heard yet. My aunt had quite a rep in the local realty industry for her willingness to do most anything to get a sale, even bringing in her own daughter is necessary, not to mention her niece a couple of times! I wasn't so sure that the adultery "thing" was all that important to her, but you never know.

"So if you're NOT getting married, why tell me all this today? Why do this to me?"

This time he paused even longer than before but finally he drew a deep breath, let it out slowly, and said, "OK, so we aren't getting married but there ARE things we want to do and I needed you to understand beforehand."

Why bother? What could he say now that could possibly top what he'd already told me? Still, I was his daughter and needed to remain respectful so I kept silent and let him continue.

"Linda loves to party and she's always been trying to get me to swing a little and do things with other couples and girls. Well, now I can and so I wanted you to understand why before you heard about it. We didn't want to have to hide and worry that you might drop in sometime when things were happening."

Like how would I hear about it? I didn't bother asking THAT. There had to be more than this and he seemed to realize it from the expression on my face.

"OK Kelly, I guess I also need to confess something to you. I get the feeling that you sometimes come over here because you think you are doing something to help me more than because it's something YOU want to do. I just wanted you to know that you don't need to feel that way and you don't have to feel any obligations. It's not like I NEED you now for that anymore."

My heart was practically pounding out of my chest. What was he talking about? What was he trying to say? Didn't he want to fuck me anymore? Didn't he need me anymore? Then it dawned on me... was I too OLD for him? Anything was possible and I was seeing my dad in a while new light today. I knew he loved fucking me and my my favorite stuffed bear tightly against my heaving chest. It was like I was a little girl again and indeed, I felt like one.

Needless to say, the next morning I didn't go to church, nor did I go to my father's house so he could fuck me as he usually did before church. It's not that I didn't enjoy it, plus it always felt naught to sit in the pews with his cum fresh in me, but I wasn't even close to being ready for anything like that now, not after what I had learned the day before. Instead, I spent the morning in my own prayers, trying to decide what to do and what it all meant. Here's what I came up with in the end...

First and foremost, no matter what I love my dad just as much as ever and will continue to love him. I really can't blame him for anything. Sexual addiction is a disease, not something a man can control. Even though I realize now that my dad is a true sex addict, I respect him for having tamed most of his "needs" while I grew up out of love for my mother and me. After all, he could have done what my grandfather had done with my mother and taken what was rightfully his. Just as her mother did, I am sure my mother would have stood understood and so long as I wasn't harmed, not have interfered. But unlike my grandfather, my dad loved me too much to do that - and he loved my mother too much to put her in such a predicament. God, the willpower it must have taken for him to hold himself back, especially when I now realize how badly I teased him, even if it wasn't deliberate.

Since my dad has always claimed that he didn't have to fuck me to prove he loved me, maybe now he'll have the chance to stand by that claim. The main reason I gave myself to him was to satisfy his needs, even if I didn't fully understand until now what those needs were. Sadly, it appears that I am no longer young enough to fully satisfy those needs. Still, I am his daughter and always will be. I love him just as much as ever and even if we don't have sex again for a while - or ever, that is OK with me.

Second, I still fundamentally believe in incest. It wasn't incest that brought all this about - it was sexual addiction. My father is a sex addict and if anything, incest allowed him to control his urges for many years without committing adultery. I always suspect my aunt is a sex addict as well, which helps to explain some of her actions over the years in raising her daughter. The difference is that unlike my dad, she couldn't control herself while her daughter was younger. Would Kristen have become a whore without her mother's encouragement? So many things for me to consider now?

5. Unanswered Questions

Still, there are so many unanswered questions which I will never know the answers to until I meet my mother again, which may have to wait for heaven the way things are going now.

Even with all this out on the table, I still don't quite understand why my mother snapped. From what I can tell, nothing was all that different. Was it just as simple as a case where it was the final straw that broke the camel's back - nothing specific but just the continual buildup over the course of more than 25 years of dealing with your husband's addiction? If so, why cut off everything with her family, even me? Did she feel it had to be that way to keep her from feeling guilty perhaps, maybe even allowing her submissive nature to return her to my father?

Another unanswered question for me is if she allowed my father to have sex with me because she knew it was something he had to do or else find someone else, then why did she love having sex with me so much? I've always talked about how different sex was with my mother and dad. With my dad, it was always father-daughter, nothing else even in role-playing. With my mom it was more like two lovers. Was that because she wanted to have me not as her daughter but as another woman? While my mother certainly wasn't straight, I'd never really seen any heavy influence towards women other than with me and her sister. Was there more lesbianism within her than I realized?

Yet another question is left lingering. My mom must have known since high school that my dad was a certifiable sex addict and pedophile so she had to realize that sooner or later he was going to have me - one way or another. In fact, it was pretty amazing that he was able to wait until I was sixteen! Given that was the case, then why didn't she let him be more forward with me sooner? Why put me in the decision-making position such that later I would feel guilty because I didn't give myself to my father first? Why did she even bother stopping me from sucking his dick when I was younger? Once I started having sex, why not let me know my dad wanted it too instead of making me feel foolish years later for not recognizing the hints he was giving me? It seems the more I learn about my mom the more complex she becomes.

Then, although it's pure curiosity and perhaps a bit of voyeurism, I'm dying to know more about the other people my dad and Aunt Linda have been seeing. What was this about couple's with younger daughters? Would he ever let me know more about it? Just how young WERE these girls? It bothered me a little that he had been so coy about that question. How long had this been going on without me knowing about it? My cousin has since claimed to know nothing but there something in the twinkling of her eyes that told me she wasn't telling me all that she knew. Given her preoccupation with young boys, was she perhaps involved as well? In the end, was he maybe just teasing me a little and "young" meant simply younger than him but at least eighteen years old? Personally, I hope so for his sake.

In the end, I suppose the REAL question is the one I don't know to ask yet. It's like the line from some song, "I wish I didn't know now the things I didn't know then." Still, once the genie is out of the bottle or Pandora's Box is opened, things can never be the same again. I was angry at my dad at first but now I more angry at myself than anything. Perhaps "angry" is the wrong word. "Disappointed" or "chagrined" are probably better choices in that I feel a little silly that all this was going on right in front of me and somehow I didn't recognize any of it. Was it because I was that unsophisticated or maybe it was more that I didn't want to see it?

Whatever the reason, it really doesn't matter. Life as I have known it will never be the same again. I can only pray ask that God continue to guide me in my life and protect me from myself.

One last thing I want to say and that is no matter how I may have phrased things here or come across, I do NOT regret anything that I have done sexually with my father or family. I still believe that incest has been a positive factor in my life and will continue to be, although I am not sure in what capacity. Will I still have sex with my dad? I am sure I will although I am just as sure that it will be less than in the past. I have grown up a lot in the more than eight years since the first time I gave myself to my father and so has he. It's only natural that our relationship change with time and I see this as just one of those things that happens.

It just goes to show that none of us knows God's plan for us. We just have to live each day as it comes which is what I try to do, even if I don't do as I say much of the time! Frankly though, I could do without ever having another such "revelation"!

(Mar 05[4]) Chapter 207: Responses to Revelations

Story codes: nosex
John - my dad (45)

I recently posted a diary entry titled "(Feb 14) Chapter 206: Revelations" where I not only told up to a few secrets I'd been keeping, but also confessed to a couple of other things where I'd not been entirely truthful in the past. In doing so I told about things I learned about myself and my family life and parents. It was an extremely emotional article and difficult to write. My biggest concern was the reaction I would get from those who had been faithful readers over the years.

The initial reaction, as I expected, was mixed. Here is a sampling of some of the responses I received and my comments about them.

Hi,

To your keyboard, I know you will make that text look better, once again English is not my best language. Revelation: sex addict, nymphomaniac ? There is no such thing as a pathology called nymphomania. It was made up by society to label women with a big sex drive. Society is scared by women sexuality, it wants to control it. There is a word for your male equivalent: macho. Are they called sex addict? No, parents are proud to have a son that is macho. You know how men's are when they talk about sexual experiences they have, they are proud, when women talk about theirs, they are always ashamed or people try to make them feel guilt.

Sex addict, can't we just call it a hobby? You know by now their two kind of sex, on type that include love the other type just plain fun so why do you wonder about being an addict or nymphomaniac?

I like to masturbate or have sex at least once a day, like I eat 3 times a day, drink water, go to the gym 3 times a week and so on. I'm 40 and it stills goes on People are jealous. Some people don't like others to have fun in life. For example the gays, they don't like bisexuals persons. Why ? Because they enjoy sex with both men and women.

Some gays never accept their orientation and are tortures, seeing people have fun either way just make them jealous. People that call you names are jealous, there is a saying that the cat that can't catch the piece of meat that hangs too high in the tree, will say that is rotten. So people that can't have you, control you or have the chance to live experience that you live will spit on you. A other thing about man, one guy says to the other: did you fuck her? If the other answers yes, the first guy will say: what a whore, if the guy says no the first guy will say : what a whore...see you can't win.

About your father, seems like you have a need for submission and you love to break rules. You intellectualized sex it is not just a physical need but also emotional. You say your father loves you, hmm, does he bring you flowers, goes out to dinner with you and do those entire thing that lovers do? I know you're going to say he loves you the way a father loves his daughter, but still when I love or appreciate a women I like to do these little thing. When I like her body and her sex drive I just fuck her and go away. On my behalf I would say there are a few women I needed, just a few. The smell of their body, the shape of their pussy, the way they sucked, how they screamed I just needed them so bad. Just a phone call to ask them to come and fuck them and after that send them away. Why ? Because I didn't love them I had no need to get close to them beside sex.

Subject: revelations

Dear Kelly,

I read your post titled "revelations." I feel really bad for you. Losing your mother is a terrible thing. This may be worse than losing her in a car wreck.

The internet is a funny thing. You have many people who read your site and email you, but to your readers you are the only one. I just read your diary and since it is your diary I feel like I'm close to you.

But, of course you don't know me!

I suppose this does not really make sense but what I want to say is that if I say the wrong thing-it is not that I am attacking you personally, I may think I am a good enough friend to disagree with you. But, since you don't know me at all, you may think I'm a heckler or something.

Anyway...

I would like to make a few observations.

1. I have observed some local folks who were in the "swinging" lifestyle in the 1970's. Somehow it didn't work out so well for their families. They are very nice people, kind of like grandparents now, but their focus on sex, opened them up to the same sorts of problems you have had.
2. Which leads to this observation. Sex seems to be a lot about control and submission. When you denied your father, he later called you and said he "needed" you. You went to him and he made you submit and you accepted something which was offensive to you.
3. As I said, I have not been reading your site because of some of the issues people get into here. Do you think that when you get people to talk about certain things you are also doing an dominate/submissive role scene? (That was not to be mean or put you down it was just something to think about.)
4. You may want to remove some of your comments about your father. Saying that he is currently involved in something illegal is a lot different than saying this is a story you made up about a fantasy which involved yourself.

5. Are you really sure that you need to submit yourself to your father? You are now an adult? What does this submission mean? Is it to be respectful or is it to do whatever he asks of you? At what point do you want to build your own life?

I am writing to you because I feel like I know you from reading your diaries. I like you. I think you are a really good writer. I think you should be happy. I think we all need God's love and forgiveness daily. As I said earlier have stopped closely following your site because many things discussed here disturb me. This does not mean I am condemning you or dislike you. I just believe differently. Again, I love your diary because it is about you and I've followed you for a number of years. I want your life story to have a happy ending. This is a strange letter because I'm trying to encourage you but yet I feel I'm being negative. I don't want to be negative, I actually care about you. (I know it is the internet and none of us may be real) I want to say that life is one foot in front of the other. New things develop, some good and some bad. You strive to make the best choices.

You are given a hand of cards-good or bad, and your faith in God helps you play your hand. Do the best you can in everything. Search for God with an honest and open heart and you will be led.

That sounds cheesy but I've found it helpful.

Good luck and I hope life improves for you.

De

P.S. Please don't put me in your hate mail! If this annoys you please just throw it away and I won't bother you again...

Subject: RE: your last diary entry

Hi Kelly,

I read the last diary post, "the reconciliation", a few days ago and have been meaning to write to you ever since but couldn't. The main reason for this delay is that I wanted to say so much about so many different things and there was never enough time to do it. Finally, I decided to "just do it" but write in "installments" if necessary. LOL. Basically, there are 3 things. First: Your style of writing/storytelling. It is just SO unique & SO enjoyable. As you know, most porn writers, like porn movies, follow one of the two styles. Either it is wall to wall fucking...furious, hard, animalistic, raw fucking! There is little, if any, story build up & dialogue is limited to something like, " OH YESSS!! FUCK ME!!!!! FUCK MY PUSSY!! SHOVE YOUR BIG HARD COCK IN MY FUCKING CUNT!! OH GAWDDDDDD!! I AM CUMMMMMMMINNNNGGGGGGG!!!!"

HaHaHa. I confess, there are times I can enjoy that kind of porn :)

Then there is the "couples" type porn. There is plenty of romance, feelings, long foreplay and a nice build up. I like that very much, esp if it is sprinkled with or ends with some good hard fucking. :) But you don't follow either. You have a rather unique style, very much your own. It is as if we are two close friends & you are sitting down & chatting about the last date. You take your time explaining the background, your thoughts, hopes, fears, expectations, trepidations etc etc. I like it when you digress because that's what do we do in real life chats. Everything is "as seen thru your eyes". We begin to (almost) experience what you are experiencing. Case in point, the last entry. When you were getting fucked by your dad and he was squeezing & massaging your gorgeous ass cheeks, pulling them apart, stretching your pussy lips apart & exposing & opening your very vulnerable asshole, I was ROCK hard! :) When he asked you to hand him the lotion, I almost lost it. Such a huge turn on!

But then, as he started to ignore your protests, pleas & pains and pushed his cock inside rather mercilessly, I went limp!!! Completely! I lost all interest! I felt SO sorry about your discomfort, pain & humiliation. Just shows you how you make your readers identify with you! :)

Subject: long time reader

Hi Kelly,

I'm a long time reader but have never written before. I have always found your stories to be fun and exceptionally hot but after reading revelations and reconciliation I've got to say it moved me to write for an entirely different reason. I know you love your father but his use of you borders on abuse and while I can't judge anyone I hate that he has hurt you so. I'm 44 yo myself and this one really brought out the paternal side in me. made just want to hold you and tell you it'll be alright. I pray that God will give you peace and compassion in the days ahead.

It's touching to know total strangers have grown to know me through my web site to where they can feel this deeply about me. At times I want to quit because it seems nobody cares but then I get a letter like this one and I know there are people out there reading about me and being concerned for me. It's a nice feeling!

Hi

First what is it with you American to bring good into every situation, here in Canada it isn't so, better reach for a friend to share your pain, just like that. :))))

Second, bad english tried my best

Yes, for me too the revelation it was a shock, now I have to go thru your whole diary again with a different perspective.

What I think is that you don't have to look for answers or try to understand. I was told once in any kind of relationship, we always seek a personal interest, a need. It is always like that. Your father, i presume here, it was to satisfy his need for young girls, and how convenient it was his daughter. You,. I don't know, sexual needs, to explore sexuality, pleasing your father being up to what your father wanted from you ?. Anyway it is for you to find out.

The revelation of your father: maybe it is a way not to impose a burden on you to come every week or to get you involved with the other young girls, since you generally don't caution underage sex, he doesn't know how to ask you to join in. But I think the most important fact is that he loves you, if he didn't he wouldn't care to just turn his back on you and never say why. We don't need to share or explain or behavior to a person we don't have any consideration for. At least for me it is that way. Some time I wonder if it is better to have a submissive sexual toy that just "shuts the fuck up" or a sex partner with who I can rationalize, any of these situation have their pro's and con's.

As being a sex addict, it is not pathology if your father functions well in society, if it doesn't get in the way of his responsibility. Let says a drug addict or any addict will destroy himself to the point of dying of it or harm itself, is it the case of your father? Pedophile, isn't a man that ONLY enjoy sex with young people and can't get it up with adult? If your father likes any age, he is just a pervert like us all or enjoying different kind of sexual situation. Make a parallel with food, if you don't eat meat you're a vegetarian, some day you eat out, some day you eat home, always comforting to eat home, no? Some day you go to the fast-food for a quick one, some day you have the full service...anyway..

On your side, being clueless.. not really your fault you focused on pleasure, love not the twist and turn of relationships. It is true you're a very intelligent person , very nice to read your text, love the way you handle chats and you seem to be a good person. There isn't much girl like you around. I met some focus on sex but damn they were dumb, an intellectual desert, my gf is like you intellectually but too much closed on sexuality with more than 2. She fills my every day needs as a companion, intellectually, I which she was as pervert like me but her insecurity it very high. I was told only 5%(to put a number) enjoy sex for sex as a hobby or activity, the others have issues.

There is no such thing as adultery it is a conception of the society as long as the rules are establish between individual those rules prevails. Your mother accepted them in the beginning it is her right to get out of the relationship when she feels like it, well, to cut off any contact with you I think is wrong but...

I hope you won't go around wondering too much, that you will go on with your life and focus on your needs and ours as readers. If you like to please your father and you love him he seems ok with that, why wonder, have fun. Everybody wants a piece of you, as I can understand, you can be picky, enjoy but don't let anybody influence your freewill, your freedom. And please stop it with that god thing, if there was any as it is describe you, all your readers and fans would of been struck by lightning by now. :))))

On a other subject, I read your text on the Indian casino, I didn't like the way it ended, what bunch of low life guys you came across, they were not thankful of I to have the chance to meet you and have shared the experience with you. I would have and always am when I come across a women like yourself that let me please her and enjoys it

If you come to Montreal one day let me know, I know you don't meet people from the net , but if you go to a swinger club in Montreal tell me when and where it is anonymous there.

Thank you for keeping you site up and your hard work very exciting, interesting and brings introspection

Wow, quite a letter! I totally disagree with the part about adultery as I believe in God and the Bible but the rest of it was quite touching and interesting to read.

Kelly, your candor is what makes your site so compelling along with your, to say the least, very entertaining narratives. As a longtime reader I understand your concealing your mom's divorce with the false story of her death. The divorce was also shocking too as is your mom's decision to cut herself off from you.

I'm very sorry for your present distress that your father has seen fit to inflict on you, shattering your illusions about your relationship with him, if I have it right, by telling you that his sexual involvement with you over the years since you were sixteen has been more about his desire for sex with yourself as a young girl than a loving act of incestual sex between father and daughter.

You recognize that your dad is a pedophile. Any psychologist would not be surprised that your mom, a victim of coerced sex, basically child rape, by her own father along with her sister, Aunt Linda, would be drawn to someone like your father. She knew that your dad wanted you as a prepubescent girl but fended him off saying it would only be ok if down the road you initiated sex with him but hoped it wouldn't come to that. Of course it did come to that as your dad did everything to provoke you sexually and finally got you at sixteen when you initiated sex with him.

Your dad is no more a "sex addict" than you are. Labeling someone an addict absolves them of a lot of responsibility for their actions. We all are born with a sex drive but how we handle it separates pedophiles, adulterers, molesters, from the rest. In your story Tent Sex (a very funny story) you restrained yourself from sex with an underage boy because you recognize that no adult should be involved sexually with a minor, that its illegal because it's very wrong.

A previous responder pointed out that you and your dad's continuing intense incestual relationship evidently became increasingly intolerable for your mom when she found herself replaced by her own daughter as your dad prefers young girls and you became 'the other woman.' You dad's affairs with other underage girls, along with her sister could only have exacerbated things. Of course your mom was complicit in all this.

You are a person of character and integrity. You've always sought to be a loyal and loving daughter but here your dad has treated you callously. He has always loved and supported you but he is driven by his sexual compulsions.

I think that you need to turn your attention to your teaching career in order to become personally and financially independent. You know that you need to get a job teaching in the public school system as you will never make any decent money teaching in private schools. You have to do whatever it takes to secure a decent job even if it means going back to school to get an advanced degree, an MA.

You have the rest of your life ahead of you so throw yourself into your career and things will open up for you and brighter days will follow.

Best,

Bob

Kelly's Response:

He raises a good point when he says my dad is no more a sex addict than I am. Well, am I? I have certainly been accused of it in the past, not to mention being labeled a nymphomaniac amongst other things which I wouldn't mention in civilized company. What do you think?

Hey Kelly,

Read your last entry, that was a powerful one. I am sorry that your dad let you done, sort of. You've always written that you loved to have sex with him because you were his daughter and it was your responsibility, because you loved him... I've always thought that these people who write their "stories" on your site don't get what you perceive to be a "good" incestual relationship. But now it seems like you dad was more like these guys who steal their daughter's panties and cum on them... not because they love them, but because they are just horny old men... not much love there.

I hope that you are doing better, I'd imagine that was hard for you to put down into words.

Sam

Kelly's Response:

I don't know if my dad "let me down" so much as "led me on." Even then, it wasn't that he didn't love me or respect me, the scales were just tilted far more to the "lust" side than I'd ever imagined. So far as I know, my dad never stole my panties or anything like guys on my web site do with their daughters; but then he didn't have to since he always had the "real" thing available to him – me whereas the guys on my site can only fantasize about having sex with their daughters. Sure, my dad was horny but then, aren't all men?

That is a lot to take in. I hope no one hassles you about the 'scenario'. You were always up front that some things were embellished. I can't imagine how many different things are going on right now. Best wishes.

Yes, I have always tried to be honest what is true and what is not on my site, even when the "true" stuff is not 10% accurate I've tried to make that clear. Dear Kelly

How are you. I read your latest post where you talk about your mom and dad and growing up. I don't really know what to say about it all. I can't imagine the turmoil you must be going through. I am definitely praying for you. I you want to talk you can. I maybe don't have any special insight but I care and I can listen. Also I am a Christian. Regardless you are in my thoughts and prayers and I hope things go well for you. Take care.

Dear Kelly,

We had exchanged a few emails about a year ago. I haven't emailed for a while due to some personal issues which has kept me occupied. I have, however, visited your site from time to time. I just read your last entry, "Revelations". To say that I felt devastated would not be much of an exaggeration. It is funny how we develop emotional attachment to people who we have only read about, have never met, & never will, and may not even exist in the real world! I apologize for the last statement. I DO believe that you are "real" but I am talking about cyber-world in general.

As I was saying, I felt very sad for you and strangely enough on a personal level too. Reading all that about your mom, I had developed a great deal of admiration, respect & affection for who she was & how she was. I was quite offended by Maria's ( I think ) most degrading & humiliating story about your mom and cheered when you kicked her out. You always wrote about your mom with such love & devotion and about your dad too. Their marital relationship seemed ideal. I guess it was too good to be true.

Still, based upon what I read, I had formed an idealistic vision of your parents. Now, it is like a fairy tale exposed, like a temple destroyed! Please forgive me for looking at it from my personal perspective. By no means am I trying to ignore or belittle your loss. That is a given! and you have expressed it quite eloquently in your diary. You must feel SO devastated, perhaps cheated, for all those facts which were kept hidden from you for so long. I feel for you and pray that you can cope with it the best way possible. I know you will! Funny thing, reading this last post, I kept hoping that maybe someone has hacked into your site and has written this fake diary. I am still hoping for that but, sadly, the writing style of this post is very similar to the others. So, I am afraid it is genuine. :( Btw, do you know why your mom has severed her contacts with you? To me, it is a puzzle. She has some genuine issues with your dad but why any anger towards you? I was going to say some things about your dad but I don't think you need to hear that. Plus, this email is already too long and you are probably ready to doze off.

Kelly's Response:

I do feel touched at times at how people who have followed me over the years react to me. After all, I've been telling people about some of the most intimate and special times of my life for almost seven years now! I just wish more people who have been reading about me over the years would get in touch with me too.

Hello again, :) I respect your wishes about not judging your dad harshly. Plus, who am I to judge anyway? I have more than my share of faults & sins, I couldn't possibly cast any stones. You are, undoubtedly, a very smart women ( not to mention gorgeous & incredibly sexy ) so you know exactly what has taken place in your life. You took an exceptionally bold step by revealing everything with such candor. I bet that there are plenty of your readers who are waging their fingers, assigning blames and spitting out all kinds of advice. I just want to support you in however you feel & whatever you do. I only hope that it does not embitter you much and you continue to love your parents & continue to thrill us horny bastards & bitches here. Haha.

Do you think your mom may have had some strong resentments towards you because of your close sexual relationship with your dad? I get the sense that your mom was never in favor your dad fucking you. She was afraid that it may be inevitable but she delayed it as long as she could. I think her precondition that " only when she wants it & initiates it" was based on a hope that you will never initiate it. When that did take place, she was disappointed & resentful. These feelings only intensified with the continued strong love/sex bond between the two of you even into your adult life ( novelty did NOT wear off ). Although your dad fucked quite a few other women, he did not love them, not even Linda, they he loved you. So, YOU became the "other woman" & the object of her jealousy & resentment. It was your "fault" because you "initiated" it.

Btw, may I ask you why you decided not to post any more of your chats? I love to read them, especially the ones with Kay ( Kay_slut) You know something? I have not seen a picture of either you or your mom ( or anyone else ) but you paint such a vivid picture in words that it is easy to imagine how beautiful you and your mom must be, both inside & out... not to mention unbelievably sexy! It is hard not to love you guys. Really?? not many comment about chats? Wonder why? Well, I am glad to be in the minority who love, LOVE your chats. I dare say that I get even more "turn on " from them than most stories ( not talking about your diary entries). I guess probably because the chats seem more real. I know, I know, they are not any more real than the stories but it is easy to get into the "live chat". I guess, I am not making much sense here, am I? lol

Now, I know you are going to ask me what I liked most & what I liked the least. Well, the most I think would be your chats with Kay. The one where you two had almost cybersex, OH MY GOD! ;) That made me cum! :p

The least liked has to be some chats where you appear to be coaxing a dad to do things to his VERY young kids. Just not my thing. I find it a total turn off. Of course, it is just fantasy. I strongly doubt any of them would actually DO anything but still...

Do you still chat with Kay? If not, why not? Do you think I could try to contact her? Kelly, I love your site but more than that, I LOVE to communicate with you. I thank you for answering my emails even though they are pretty "vanilla" & not very interesting. You are amazing & truly one of a kind!

Love,
Sean

=================

Kelly's Response:

I don't post many chats anymore because frankly, there are not that many that I think people would care to read and it's a lot of work to download and format them to make the readable.

things now. "You should really work on your opinion here. It will not be a good idea if you tolerate him just because he is your daddy"

After I finished your latest diary entry I just wanted to be removed from you site as soon as possible. A very important argument to write you in the first place was that I thought you would be less brainwashed in my particular direction then the norm. Well it is true, but its not nearly as open minded as I first hoped you were. When I read through the diary entries and chats and what else you have there, there were always ups and downs but in the end I thought you would tolerate me. Your answers were always polite or even encouraging to write more.

Over time I learned that you would be disgusted by the age alone if it fell under your "limit". I now belief that you even think that young children cannot have orgasms not to speak of positive experiences with adults. Well I am not sure for the later because of different reasons, but I can assure you of the first one. I did for as long as I remember and I sure didn't stop until I reached an orgasm. Ask Kristen about this.

Anyway, I came to the conclusion that asking you to remove my stuff would send the wrong message. I don't comment this further, but I am happy that another opinion (my stuff) is out there in the big wide world for anyone to read. It's not the ultimate world changing conclusion and I may be wrong in some/more cases and I sure am not the best writer and writing in a foreign language doesn't help either but at least I am happy that there is something different.

And, and that's the important part, I still love you! Even if your open-mindness doesn't reach my territory, it's a WORLD more than most people would tolerate.

The following excerptions hurt my feelings so I had to comment them directly. The comments may sound harsh but I don't care. I think you deserved it here.

"Sexual addiction is a disease, not something a man can control. Even though I realize now that my dad is a true sex addict, I respect him for having tamed most of his "needs" while I grew up out of love for my mother and me."

What makes him different then you? You masturbate at least 2 times a day and don't mind a 2 hour pussy-licking from Kristen. Where is the line? I masturbate 1-2 times a day too, am I still healthy or do I have this sexual addiction disease myself? This is not meant to offend you. I really don't understand why you put yourself in a position where you can point to someone else who is slightly different (well, is he at all? don't you need it just the same?). It sounds like you are mother Theresa and he is a bad demon directly from hell.

Pointing isn't nice, especially when you are not so much away lust-wise. What is the point in pointing anyway? Does it make it easier for you and your own demons?

If you think that his porn differs the two of you than I can only say: Look in the mirror girl. Look at your page, look at the tributes, look at the chats. Look at all the TIME you spent there and god knows where else.

To conclude: if you think your father should be healed than you say the same about yourself. (a disease is curable, right?). If that's what you think than its ok. What I don't like is the pointing.

"..and pedophile so she had to realize that sooner or later he was going to have me - one way or another."

This is just evil. How can you sleep with such thoughts in your head? If I were your father I would have a really HARD time to forgive you this. Maybe you should leave his life so you really don't end up like your grandmother, having to live with guilt for tolerating things that are not tolerable in your opinion. Maybe ask HIM about an advise. And your mom too.

Well anyway, keep your head up high Kelly. Everybody has their issues. Like you said, life will never be the same again but never forget that it's you who live your future. You ARE a wonderful person and I don't see any reason why you shouldn't learn from this to improve your life. Your daddy still loves you and ALLWAYS will no matter what.

Luv,

Jules

Kelly's Response:

Wow, what can I say to something like this? What CAN say is that in a way I feel vindicated in that I have always tried to be open minded when it comes to other people's lifestyles and beliefs and fantasies. Hopefully this just goes to show that just because someone disagrees with me I don't censor them or otherwise berate them personally. I'm not shy to say when I disagree, but at the same time that's MY opinion and not a judgment of the person.

Note he wrote me back after this was posted...

Hi Kelly,

when I read the other responses to your revelation entry I felt like a troll. Most people focus on you and how you must feel now, even offering that you can talk to them anytime and such things. This is how I like to be myself but I am no machine and I try to learn. I know you like guys who know what they want, be strong and confident. I am not. I read accusations and judgment where you tried to realize and analyze things. I felt accused myself in my sexuality and wrote a letter out of that perspective. Now I am sitting here like a boy who knows he didn't handle things right and feels kind of embarrassed. I tried to give support too ("I know your daddy is going to heaven" etc.) but my misinterpreting you and my harsh tone turned this mail in a direction I wish I could make undone.

Sorry Kelly!

Hi Kelly,

I read your story on "Revelation" and learned a few things. Let's just say, "I'm naive, too." You refer to yourself as "clueless." Well, what I have found out in life that naive people are usually the honest, trusting people. The kind of people that are good. I will say, I liked you enough to research your "Mom's" death, but I learned a lot about that spectrum. Only because, I liked you. Anyway, it was a death in a way to the family, so that kind of a lie, on this website is acceptable. Really, I wonder how many people reading your website think everything is true, false, or guess, really what it is all about. For a while, I thought your website was to find pedophiles for the police. (It still might be.) I'm not sure! Let's just say, I think about all your writing. I'm an old writer too. I don't write about sex, that's way yours is so interesting. All I want to say is that you should go talk to your Mom. It sounds like she has been through a lot. At first, I would say, " Mom, I just wanted to see you." Take everything easy until she tells you. For her to make such a drastic move; she had reasons; I give her credit; there is only so much time on this planet and she hit this level. She has a lot of wisdom to tell you. Maybe in time. All I can say, don't hold grudges, talk to her, if she doesn't want to talk, give it a rest, and try another day. We are like trees! We grow up! But the older trees have a lot of wisdom. Mothers have a role of teaching their children. Her walking out was for you and her.

Love yah,

Kelly's Response:

Some interesting comments. Take for instance the point about his researching my mother's "death". Is it any wonder I take my privacy so seriously. I am sure many people have tried to find clues in my diary as to my real identity which is why I am so careful about it.

Kelly,

We have chatted a few times over the years and I did a few tributes. I always love reading your site, stories, chats etc.

Your update on revelations is hard to read, knowing how much you have done and loved over the years with your dad. It just takes my breath away why in the world did he need to tell you that. What is the benefit except to hurt you?

Just know this Kelly while I'm not family just a fan like many others I care and appreciate what you have shared with me and made me so happy for over 4-5 years at least.

Always remember that many people do care about you.

Kelly's Response:

I don't think my dad had any intention to hurt me or he could have told me everything long before then. Eventually it had to come out and I guess I'm glad it did so at least I can deal with it. Wow, 4-5 years? I wish people would write me sooner!

I just read your latest diary entry. Due to your admittance of previous "lies" maybe I should take this with a grain of salt. But I understand your position. I am going to just assume the gist of this is true and go from there.

My thoughts are with you. You find yourself in an uncomfortable position of having to re-evaluate your life and what you thought you knew. You still have questions. It is not clear what type of relationship exists with your mother. I would suggest you talk with her. Preferably with a visit. It is never a bad time to try and rebuild your relationship with family. You are an adult and should be able to have a calm conversation which helps you to further understand things. I would suggest from what I have read that she made decisions to protect you. I will not speculate on why the final decision was made and neither should you when it is possible to get the real answer.

The simple answer is that you were used. You realize it now and it doesn't feel good no matter how you rationalize it. I think your question about the age of the "others" casts light on something in the back of your mind also. You are a teacher now. You understand how easily young minds can be swayed and directed. What if they don't have a parent who has the long term well-being of the child at the forefront when making decisions? Someone like your mother.

I hope that through introspection and further answers you reach the peace we all deserve.

I have a little saying, "When you close you eyes what do you see? What might have been, or what's going to be?"

Be good and do the right thing.

I realize we don't know each other. I am sure you have good friends to confide in. But if you need anyone to talk to who isn't so close to things I am here. I know you might think it inappropriate, but I am would be willing to listen and talk on the phone also. Just putting it out there.

==================
Kelly's Response:

My first reaction as I read this was a little indignation at the accusatory tone, but then it mellowed out somewhat and my blood pressure subsided. Was I used? Of course I was but we all use other people whether we like to admit it or not.

I was really surprised by the recent (February 14th) entry to your diary. I had been touched by the news you put out about the death of your mother and how you and your father coped with the situation. I know how it feels to lose a parent. Then the news that your mother was not only alive, but that your parents had divorced was a big shock. The further revelation of your father's misleading need for your young body really caught me off guard. It must have taken a great deal of courage and trust in your readers to write that entry. You must know that there are thousands out here who really have connected with you and are wishing you strength to deal with your life. We are praying for you and hoping that you will be able to deal with this new period of your life. May God bless you and keep you, Chris

==================
Kelly's Response:

One of the benefits of being relatively "anonymous" on my web site is that I feel free to express my views and talk about myself in ways I never would if the people reading it actually knew me and I had to face them personally. It was more concern over what people would say than any courage on my part. It is hard to comprehend sometimes that so many people out there actually follow my web site and life!

Kelly,

I've been a fan for a long time, but never before "Revelations" have I been moved to write. I know that authors enjoy feedback, and so I do feel somewhat bad about not expressing to you the enjoyment I've gotten from your site over the years, but the honest truth of it is that I'm just not usually expressive in that way. Nonetheless, I feel that the time is right to write to you.

I'm quite certain that "Revelations," though well written, can only communicate only a fraction of the distress you felt upon learning what you did. That your father was not completely honest with you over the years seems undeniable. Of course, if your other diary entries show any of the truth of him at all, it seems likewise undeniable that he does care about you. Still, I can only imagine how you feel having learned that your parents' relationship with each other and, indeed, your father's relationship with you were not what you thought.

That said, I have only the following to offer.

Don't beat yourself up too much for not seeing your father as he really was; it's so often hard to see our parents as real people, with all the human foibles and faults, rather than as sort of omnipresent entities of some sort. As someone who's lost his father, I urge that as angry and upset with him as you are right now, try to remember, too, that he does love you.

I also hope that this experience doesn't lead you to give up on familial incest as a way of life. I've never had that experience, but I believe in it firmly; someday, perhaps, I will meet someone else who does, too.

Finally, I hope you don't see yourself as anything other than a supremely desirable young woman, a woman who is not only sexy but smart and poised and talented, as well (if your diary entries are any indication, anyway!). Finding out that your father would rather have sex with younger girls must be a blow, I understand, but there are as many different preferences as there are people on this earth, and you shouldn't ever think that you are undesirable because just one man prefers something else. Besides, if his lines in your diary entry are representative of his actual feelings, then I'd say that he still thinks you're pretty hot, too, whatever else he might like.

I've read your diary and your fantasies, followed your links and just generally acquainted myself with your life - or at least the parts of it you show on the web - over the years. I know I don't know you, but I feel as if I know something about your life, and what little I do know has engendered in me no small amount of, well, fondness for you. We must all deal with disappointment and hardship in this life, but if it is possible that my letter can assuage your distress in even some small way, I will feel as if I've done something worthwhile here.

Best wishes always,
LWS

Kelly's Response:

I often wonder how many people out there would like to write me but never do for one reason or another. He is right about how it is nice to get feedback and to hear from people as to how they react to what they read. Sometimes I feel like nobody is reading anything or cares about me so why am I bothering? So it was nice to hear from a "first-timer".

Final note: So do you have anything to add to the "conversation". Was I wrong to lie about my mother's "death" in lieu of admitting to my parent's divorce? I still think I did the right thing but maybe you disagree with me. As I mentioned, it's nice to get feedback so please feel to offer your comments and suggestions.

Subject: Revelations.

Dear Kelly,

I read your diary entry, Revelations, and it has haunted me for days now. My heart goes out to you. I was about 22 when the truth came out and I discovered that my father was a pedophile and had sexually abused my sister for 9 years, from the time she was 5 until she was 14. I had the "good fortune" of only being subjected to beatings and constant psychological abuse. Back then my job was to be the model child to support the family's front of normalcy and provide my parents with a sop for their conscience. I can truly understand your anger and that terrible feeling of having a veil lifted from your eyes. All of a sudden your entire life and childhood are cast in an entirely different and thoroughly unwelcome light. Sometimes I felt like everything made so much more sense, at other times my childhood seemed like something bizarrely reflected in distorted fun-house mirrors. On a side note, telling the truth about your father, revealing your parents' divorce and the lie about your mother's death does the same thing with your entire diary. All of a sudden everything changes. Although I value honesty, I think that you did the right thing for you when you wrote that your mother had died rather than telling the tale of their divorce. However, I sincerely hope that you contact your mother again. Having been estranged from both my parents I know how important it is to rebuild at least some form of bridge. Yet, having said that, it also takes two to tango. I discovered that you can only achieve so much, especially when people (our parents and family, for example) would rather bury the truth or bend it to suit themselves. Your mileage may vary. One thing I truly respect is the fact that you have the integrity to say that you still love your father. In the face of things like this, both love and forgiveness are definitely the roads less traveled. That is something else that I understand only too well. Too many people are too quick to condemn and too few are willing to look deeper, understand and forgive. It took me a long time to accept the fact that, despite everything, I still loved my father and even went on to forgive him. It is very hard to hate someone or something that you understand so well. My own experiences with incest have been a lot less fun than your own. That, combined with the way I was raised and discovering that the man I identified so strongly with was a pedophile left me with a lot of unhappy baggage when it came to my own sexuality, but that's a happy (not to mention hot) tale for another time. I mention the baggage because reading your diary and your thoughts once helped me to reflect on and change my own approach to my sexuality. Thanks. I hope you come through this ok.

Love,
Ben.

PS: Hug also from my grateful wife: Ain't family grand?

=================

Kelly's Response:

Well, if there is one thing I learned, even when you THINK you have a good incestual relationship there can still be problems so it's not surprising when others have issues at well.

Kelly...

I first off would like to apologize for my previous actions... When we last spoke, you sent me some photos for tributes but I was unable to... Complications of a professional nature arose, ensued, and have now been overcome... If you still wish for these tributes, well I feel it would be only right to send them... But only if you wish...

Anyway, first off... I'm happy that you didn't lose your mom to death as you had previously written... I was at first puzzled at why you chose that option vice speaking the truth... However, after reading your "Revelations", I can understand why you did... You wanted your privacy and while I had known when I first began this website that some of the stuff you wrote were not accurate for several reasons (i.e. your privacy, to speed along the story, etc.) and I digress... Bottom line is that you can count one more fan in the "support" column...

I do have two question... I understand in advance if you choose not to answer but I would like to understand a couple of things... Have you had any contact with your mom following "Revelations"? I think you're mom's feelings and thoughts may be more revealing to you and I'm curious to hear them, vice what your dad has said about her actions on the matter... If nothing else, remember that when all else is lost, family is all we have left (but I think you already know that)... The second question is if you have talked to your Aunt since? She obviously was the one that forced this to a head...

I understand a lot of what you said in your journal entry and while I've never tried to pass judgment on writings (since it's always been my experience that I cannot comment on stuff I have not experienced myself), I would like to offer a couple of thoughts:

- I don't think you were "naive"... In my humble opinion, you were "blinded" by love... In other words, you trusted your dad and thought what he was doing was the right way, despite not seeing his true intentions until he laid them out... Personally, I think you are too hard on yourself and too easy on your dad...

- I once thought your dad a lucky bastard... I think he's more of a deceptive one now to have led you along as he did... And now that his "control" (i.e. your mom and their marriage) is out of the picture, I'm concerned not only for what he may do, but what may happen because of it... I hope for your sake, you take some steps to protect yourself...
- You have questions and I personally think you have every right to find them out for, if nothing else, your own knowledge and I hope you do... You may not get any answers and the ones you do get may not be to your liking, but I hope you do...

I hope I have crossed no lines and hope you do find brighter days ahead... Keep your head up... Life may suck but that's why we grab helmets... Take care and look forward to hearing from you...
Joe

Dear Kelly,

We've chatted a few times, it's been a while since we chatted though. I'm sorry to hear about your recent experience with your dad. Not only was he your dad, but he was also a loving figure in your life, and it almost has the feel of a guy/girl that you care deeply about, telling you that you're not enough. I'm truly sorry that you experienced that. I do forgive you by the way with telling us that your mother died, I'm glad it didn't actually happen, and it's your choice what to tell us and let us in on your life, after all it's your journal so you don't even have to tell us anything. Dear Kelly,

My name is Rebecca, and normally I try to avoid the whole, sending emails to people because I'm sure they get a lot of emails and don't need to read another one. But you mentioned that you like feedback, so I thought I'd put in my two cents. For what it's worth, I hope my insight helps you, assuming that the details I have gathered thus far are accurate.

The wonderful part about your upbringing was that it taught you to not be ashamed of one of the most natural things in the world. Sex, love, affection. The whole fundamental concept (in theory) is that you love your family, its pleasurable, it's not hurting anyone as long as its consensual, which is what I think your mother was really trying to enforce. And if you think about it, you'll understand why and you will thank her for it. Granted I think she should have made it clear to EVERYONE involved that it was your decision, but that's me.

I live with a small family of two men. I love and support the two men. If that means that they require "pillowing," I am more than happy to oblige. I see it as my duty. Women are the heart of the home. What better way to say, I love you, than to give pleasure and surrender completely to them. To say, I love you, and accept you, no matter what. I think that's pretty moral. I don't say this to compare my situation to yours, only so that you can see that we are kindred spirits of sorts.

I know I'm getting long winded here so I'll try to wrap this up. I'm not known to be succinct. Although I am known to be a HORRIBLE speller. My point is this. You have some difficult questions to ask yourself. And I want to really encourage you to sit down and write out some rules and morals. Things YOU believe in. Was it right for your mother to make sure you had a voice, a RIGHT to choose whether or not you wanted the relationship with no pressure of Parental pleasure/displeasure ? Was it right of her to not inform you that it was your choice and what your father wanted?

Ultimately, only you can decide what is right and wrong. Stay strong in your beliefs, and this too shall pass. I'd give you a hug if I could hun.

Sincerely,

Rebecca

Kelly's Response:

One of the few female responses. I wasn't sure how to respond to this one. How would YOU have responded?

(Mar 13) Chapter 208: Reconciliation

John - my dad (45)

Until a month ago I would have contended that I finally had my life pretty much in order. A lot changed for me in a short time. The question for me was, what do I do now? For once I didn't make a snap decision but then my procrastinating was brought to an abrupt end and I had to make up my mind - would I have sex again with my dad?

1. Post-Revelation Debate

Recently I posted an entry in my Diary entitled "Revelations" (Feb 14) Chapter 206: Revelations) where I revealed the truth about my mother's "death", that my parents had actually divorced and soon afterwards my mom had moved out west to be near her long-time friend. Since I haven't heard from her since, so far as I was concerned it was the equivalent of her dying so I never felt all that guilty about my little fib. If anything, it helped in that I didn't have to answer a lot of questions about a subject I really didn't want to talk about.

So why did I dredge all this up when essentially everyone had "bought" my story about the fatal car wreck? Well, the recent events in my life would have been almost impossible to have described or be understood unless the truth about my parent's divorce was known. I guess I could have just ignore these events in my diary but that would have made the whole thing a total farce in that I would have to lie about so many things in the future that I may as well start writing nothing but fantasy stories. So I chose to fess up and thankfully, most of my readers have been understanding and supporting.

To recap just a little (read "Revelations" for all the gory details), my mom's younger sister Linda moved in with my dad a while back. At first I wasn't too sure how I felt about them living together full-time but since it allowed me to move out of my apartment and live with my cousin rent-free, there were advantages. Besides, it wasn't like anything changed between them. She had been all but living there anyway in recent months. Even while I was growing up she and my cousin spent most of their time at our house. It wasn't until I was sixteen and entered into incest with my parents that my mom told me the truth as to why her sister was at our house. It was then I found out what REALLY went on when she and my dad went to his study - and it wasn't to talk about taxes and real estate issues.

Needless to say, since my aunt started living with him it seemed my father's "needs" were satisfied most of the time since he wasn't asking me nearly as much for "help" in that area. He and my Aunt Linda had always had a lot of sex together ever since high school so it wasn't anything new. I always assumed my mom seemed OK with it since she was the one he married. If was OK all those years, then so who was I to say anything now about it, especially since my parents were now divorced over financial and personal problems (or so I had been told).

Then came that stressful day last month ago where my dad finally told me why he and my mom REALLY had divorced. They'd always been a little vague about it with me and I'd had a hard time accepting it. So far as I had been concerned, they had always been the perfect couple with a perfect marriage. Sure I knew they argues about things at times but what couple doesn't? It just goes to show how kids don't always know what goes on between their parents - even when that "kid" is in her twenties.

Given my naive view of my parent's relationship, you can imagine my shock when I learned that one of the major reasons my mom had left was because of my dad's unbridled lust for her sister. She had tried to accept that my dad enjoyed sex with her sister more than her - and apparently always had. My aunt was always the "wild one" of the two sisters so what guy wouldn't love to fuck her?

Fortunately for my mom, he didn't choose who to marry solely on the basis of who was the better fuck. What I did NOT know until now was that one of the conditions of his marrying my mom was that he could continue fucking her sister any time he wanted. I had always assumed that since she was her sister and that made it incest, not adultery, that my mom was OK with it. Well, I also assumed she was OK with incest in general so it just shows how little I really understood my mother.

All that was hard enough to accept but it wasn't my only "revelation" that day. Of course I knew that my mom lost her virginity to her dad and that she had an ongoing incestual relationship with him even after marriage. While she had mentioned off-hand that the first time wasn't exactly consensual, I had always

As if all THAT wasn't enough, he told me that he and my aunt were getting involved with other couples, including those with kids. He wouldn't tell me their ages but from his mannerisms I knew they weren't my age, not by a long shot. In fact, he even went so far as to imply that I was getting too old to satisfy his lust for young girls. He never mentioned anything about not wanting to fuck me, only that he needed younger girls than me to silence the urges he could no control. It was that loss of control which pushed my mom over the edge and made her divorce him. Fantasies were one thing but when he couldn't keep them as fantasies, she couldn't enable him anymore.

All this occurred a month ago and since then my dad and haven't spoken, let alone had sex. In fact, it's been the longest I've ever gone without giving myself to him since that first time when I was sixteen (not counting being away for school). He didn't even try contacting me, obviously realizing I had a lot to think about, which I appreciated. My Aunt Linda and I had a number of discussions where she tried to explain more about my dad to me, but it was essentially the same story. Of course she wanted to rationalize everything – she was the e one getting what she'd always wanted – my dad.

Just to show how confused and hurt I was, it was almost two weeks before I even had sex again with my boyfriend – something like a new record for me in terms of going without sex since I was fourteen (not counting my college days when other restrictions applied). All I can say is if THAT doesn't tell you how crazy I'd been feeling then nothing can!

2. In a Quandary

Everyone has their character flaws and I readily admit to having plenty of my own. One such flaw is my tendency to put off decisions. The bigger the decision, the more I procrastinate. In this case, it had been a month since I left my dad behind and still I had not decided what to do. Since I posted that diary entry, I've had plenty of advice but it ranged from people telling me to go running back to my dad and submitting to him no matter what, to those labeling him a pervert and telling me that I was abused as a child and was only now realizing it.

In the end, I was starting to make up my mind and of course it was somewhere in the middle. Once the initial shock wore off and I was able to even think about things without getting TOO emotional, I realized that I loved my dad just as much as was. When my dad uttered those words I knew without any doubt exactly what he needed... sex. More specifically, he needed sex with me.

There was a time not long ago that those words would make me feel tingly all over, especially that special place between my legs. My hand would already be heading to my crotch as I KNEW what those words meant. Today however, my reaction was different. Instead of being aroused I suddenly felt a deep sense of apprehensive, even a little bit wary. After not hearing a word from him for weeks, to suddenly have him call me early in the morning and without any explanation utter those words, words that we both knew meant. So what the heck was going on?

My silence probably told him more than anything I could've said. I could actually hear him sigh on the phone and I didn't know if it was from frustration or anger with me - or maybe a combination of the two. Whatever the case, he tried again...

"Kelly... I'm so sorry things have been the way they have been lately. I miss you so badly... I REALLY need you baby. NOW!"

"OK daddy," I mumbled and then hung up.

I wondered if he realized that I hadn't agreed to actually DO anything. In fact, I wasn't even sure myself what I was saying "OK:" to, if anything. Was I just acknowledging what he had said or had I agreed to do something about his "need"... or something in between?

Setting the phone down on the nightstand, I tossed off my comforter and felt the cool morning air against my warm nude body. Any other Saturday morning I wouldn't be just laying here on my back. It was a rare morning ANY day that I didn't masturbate at least a little bit before getting out of bed, even if it was just semi-conscious diddling. Often it took a trip to the bathroom to satisfy Mother Nature before I got serious, but in the end it was like a ritual of mine to masturbate before I did anything else in the morning. However, this morning I just laid there with my eyes closed and my hands to my side, lost in thought as I contemplated what had just happened.

There was no doubt what my dad wanted. Wow... how many times over the years had I heard those three simple words, "I need you"? It had always been a source of pride for me that never in the past nine years had I ever once said no to him when he asked. It didn't matter what I was late for, how I felt, or who I as dating. When my dad needed me, it was my duty and responsibility as his loving daughter to take care of those needs as best I could. Of course I usually enjoyed it myself - like who doesn't enjoy being fucked or sucking a dick? Even those few times when it was inconvenient or I just wasn't in the mood, seeing the expression on my dad's face, the look in his eyes, the hardness of his dick, and then the sensation of him filling my pussy with his incestuous cum more than mad it worthwhile.

Now, for the first time in my life, I found myself questioning whether or not I would respond to my father's call. Should I toss all my concerns and questions to the side and simply be the good daughter, pleasing my father as only I could?

Yes, in my heart I knew no matter what he might say or even think himself, that fucking me was different than fucking any other girl. I had something nobody else in the world did - his genes. I had a title that no other girl in the world could claim - I was his daughter. No matter how young she may be, how inexperienced and naive, no matter how cute or appealing, no other girl could give him what I could - his daughter's pussy.

In the end, there really was no debate, despite how I might try to pretend there was. I'd known all along in my heart what the ultimate "solution" would be to my so-called dilemma. It was just a case where I had to admit it to myself, to realize how deeply ingrained certain feelings and beliefs were in my psyche. You just don't throw away a lifetime of teaching, learning and observation in one day. You can't debate yourself out of your duties and responsibilities, no matter how much you try to rationalize it.

Indeed, like Dorothy in the Wizard of Oz, the answer had been right in front of me all the time. All I had to do was to realize and understand what it was on my own. Yes, there really was only one thing I COULD do without throwing away everything that made me who I am. To do anything else would be abandoning everything I believed in, everything I held sacred.

Ultimately I was my father's daughter and I loved him unconditionally. My father needed me now so of course there was only one proper response... to submit myself to him and satisfy his needs. How could it be any other way?

3. Reconciling With My Dad

Once my decision was made it was like suddenly I felt a tremendous load lift from me that I hadn't quite realized was there but which had been weighing me down for weeks. The sense of certainty and relief that I felt made me all the more assured that this was indeed the right thing to do. In a way I was almost angry with myself for having put myself through all this pain and anguish the past few weeks when the answer was right there in front of my face all the time. How much better it would have been for everyone had I simply opened my eyes and accepted what I knew in my heart was the ONLY legitimate option I had.

My dad had sounded so forlorn and sad on the phone that I didn't want to delay any more than necessary. Still, there were a few things I needed to do before I just hopped in my car and drove over. First things first... my bladder was about to burst and once I'd taken care of THAT I brushed my teeth and rinsed with a mint mouth wash. I was in a rush but a shower was in order, not to mention a quick touchup with the my razor. Depending on my dad's mood sometimes he licked to lick me and other times he just went straight to business but just in case I wanted to be ready for him. My hair wasn't all that great after I dried it but then I suspected it wasn't worth spending a lot of time on anyway. The same with my makeup - I put enough on to look presentable but not like I was going out on the town.

Now I needed to decide what to wear... of course it wouldn't be on me long but still, first impressions always are important, no matter who you were meeting or for what reason. A simple pair of jeans and a blouse would have been OK I'm sure with my dad but not for me. Since the weather was FINALLY warming up, I decided what better excuse to break out a pair of short shorts so I rummaged through my dresser and found one of my more indecent pairs - a pair of denim cutoffs with ragged torn edges that was cut up to the pockets in back and all the way up the legs to the crotch. I only wore them at home or in private as I doubt most places would allow me to wear them seeing as they showed off half my ass and pulled up into my pussy when I sat down.

Along with the shorts I grabbed a blouse, leaving it unbuttoned and tying up the tails tight under my bust which revealed my cleavage and most of my boobs. I was torn when it came to my shoes, reaching first for a pair of sneakers to give me that "girl-next-door" look but in the end I settled on a pair of slutty high heels.

A dash of perfume in all the right places and I was ready to go. On my way down the hall I passed Kristen's bedroom where she was still passed out from the night before. Surprisingly she was alone as I could have sworn I'd heard someone with her but maybe he'd left already or didn't stay once he got what he wanted. Odds were on the second option if I knew the type of guy Kristen typically brought home. I didn't wake her and just went quietly down the stairs to get a jacket. It was supposed to be really warm today but this early it was still nippy and it wasn't like I was dressed all that warm!

My jacket only came down to my waist which meant it did nothing to hide anything lower. As I walked to my car I noticed our neighbor was out getting his newspaper. I really didn't know him all that well, having only seen him as we would pass going to and from our respective homes. Pour neighbors were an older couple and didn't seem to have much of a social life based on the dearth of visitors. He may have been old but he still seemed to appreciate my outfit as I caught him staring at my ass. Smiling at him, I waved and he returned the same. It was then that I realized that he'd never seen me in anything but winter clothing so it was the first time he'd gotten a good view of my bare legs and ass. Living next to Kristen and her mom, I was pretty sure that he must have gotten more than a man's fair share of such "views" - and more, but I was the new girl so I wondered what he thought about me. It might have been fun to hang around and talk to him a while, maybe tease him a little while I was at it, but I had more important things to do. Hmmmmmm, I was going to have to ask Kristen some time about him.

It only took a few minutes to get to my dad's house. I parked at the bottom of the driveway and entered the code into the outside opener to raise the garage door. My dad's SUV and my aunt's car were there so I knew both of them were home. That sort of raised my eyebrows a bit. Was Aunt Linda aware of his phone call to me? If so, was she expecting me to be coming over this fast? Well, for that matter, did my dad even know for sure that I was?

Entering the basement from the garage, it was pretty dim so I turned on the lights to make my way through the laundry and family room to get to the stairs leading to the kitchen upstairs. There was no sign of life yet but then I really wouldn't have expected any in the family room at this time of day.

Entering the kitchen though, I was prepared to see SOMEBODY fixing breakfast or just having coffee while reading the paper but it too was quiet and look undisturbed. Well, I KNEW my dad had been awake earlier but maybe he had gone back to bed, thinking I wasn't going to be coming over until later, if at all.

Draping my coat over one of the kitchen chairs, I looked around in the morning light and suddenly felt a little overwhelmed with memories and emotions. After all, this was the home I'd lived in all my life until I went off to college. All the things I'd done here, all the trial and tribulations, all the successes and excitement... Looking out the back door of the kitchen, I saw the cover was on the hot tub and I recalled how many incredible experiences I'd had on that deck and in the hot tub. God, how many guys had fucked me in that tub? My dad alone had done me more times than I could remember - it had always been one of his favorite places to be with me.

My heart almost burst then as I remembered my mom. Seeing her and my dad making love in the hot tub for the first time was something I would never forget - nor the feelings and desires that had arisen in me as a result, and the events that eventually came about because of it. I remembered her watching down from my bedroom window when my dad first fucked my best friend Beth only now I knew her TRUE feelings as she watched her husband commit adultery with a teenage girl.

I stood there like that for a few more minutes, awash in memories and emotions. Only now, those memories were different, the emotions not the same. It was like I was looking at them through a different lens, seeing them in a totally different way. Now I was seeing them more as my mom must have seen them and I began to understand more why she was doing what she was doing right now. I could only imagine how SHE remembered these times.

For just a moment I caught myself questioning what I was about to do. Here I was, standing in my kitchen dressed like a slut, just as I had so many times while growing up and waiting for my date to pick me up or to go to school. Back when I was about to go out on a date, my dad would sometimes sit in the kitchen and feel me up under my short skirt or grab my boobs through a tight revealing top, teasing me about what I would soon be doing with the guy I was going out with. Then later he would be there when I came home, waiting to hear all about what actually DID happen. Only now I knew more WHY he did those things and it changed the entire picture for me. Still, it wasn't anything BAD, just different.

Taking a deep breath, I left the kitchen and walked to the front of the house towards the stairs leading to the second floor where all the bedrooms were. As I slowly walked up, trying to keep my balance in the ridiculous heels I was wearing, I grinned as the same creaks and groans gave away my actions, just as they did when I would try to sneak home after a late date. Actually, there was a secret path up them to avoid most of the louder ones, but in these shoes it was enough just to walk up the stair, let alone try to contort myself like a Twister game to be quiet.

As it turned out, it didn't matter anyway as when I got to the top of the stairs and looked in my dad's bedroom I saw he wasn't there. My Aunt Linda was laying there on her side facing away from me, the sheets covering her mostly but her bare shoulders and back were visible. She seemed sound asleep and I could even make a little bit of a snore. Well, she WAS 41 so I guess that comes with age. Heck, even her daughter at just over half her age snored!

So where was my dad? Steeping to the side, I peeked into my old bedroom and there he was, laying on top of my bed was my dad, waiting for me. He was laying on his side, holding himself up on his elbow while his free hand slowly stroked his already erect cock. Obviously he was ready for me!

"I knew you'd come," he said in a low voice, "I knew you could never say no to me."

Now THAT could be taken a number of ways. Was he just expressing his confidence in me that I would WANT to come to him whenever he asked? On the other hand, was he confident in his authority as my father that I would submit to his request regardless of anything else? There was something in his tone, something almost arrogant, that told me it as more the latter. At the same time, so what if it was? If that was the case then he would be right so what was wrong with it other than the fact he seemed quite pleased with himself.

"I'm glad to see you dressed for me... you'll always be your daddy's little slut, won't you?"

"Yes daddy... I always will."

His dick was hard as a rock and I knew he wanted me badly. I wasn't sure what he wanted most right now, for me to just start sucking him, to strip, or what. Well, he was never shy about telling me what he wanted and this morning was no different.

"Get over here now and suck my dick," he said in a soft yet firm voice. It clearly wasn't a request, it was a demand. Did it really matter?

Kneeling on the oval rag rug by the side of my bed, I reached for his dick as he scooted over to the side. My dad pushed my hands away. "Just your mouth... No hands... I only want you to use your mouth."

He was right on the edge so his cock was actually out over the floor. As hard as he was, it stuck straight out so it was easy to open my mouth and take him inside without holding it like I would have had he not been so erect. He thrust his hips forward, pushing it all the way in as he held my head to keep me from pulling back – as if I would want to.

"Look at me Kelly... look at me when you suck my dick."

I turned my head as best I could with a mouthful of his cock and our eyes met. He smiled at me and I could see his eyes glance to where his cock was sliding in and out of my mouth. Actually he was the one doing the all the motion as I just held my head still and allowed him to essentially fuck my mouth slowly... ever so slowly. It felt so hard yet soft at the same time as the smooth skin of his dick slid over my moistened lips. I could smell him, smell his musky crotch odor as he would push himself in deep enough to where his thick black pubic hair would press against my cheeks and chin. It was the odor of a man – a horny man, and I loved the scent of him.

"Yes baby, that's it... I've always LOVED watching you suck my dick... you know that, don't you? You know just what your daddy wants."

All I could do was smile as best I could in response. Of COURSE he liked to watch me such his dick, didn't all men? Honestly, I can't recall a single guy that did NOT want his dick sucked and every one of them would get off seeing me doing it. Sure there were those times when they were so horny they just wanted to fuck me, but I would say there's not a man in the world that would say no to a blowjob – gay or straight. Sure there may be men who won't accept a blowjob because of their morals or other beliefs, but that doesn't mean they don't secretly WANT one, no matter what they say.

What I've also learned over the years is that it isn't just the blowjob that gets guys off. No, my dad had just expressed it perfectly... they like to WATCH a girl giving them one. If my hair was hanging down, that didn't make any difference so far as what I was doing, but they always brush it out of the way so they can watch. My dad wanted my hands off of him as I sucked him and I knew it wasn't because he didn't like me to stroke his dick, but that WATCHING me suck his shaft was more erotic to him than seeing me hide it with my hand as I sucked him. I guess it all just goes to prove what I've always contended – that sex is 80% mental and only 20% physical. Well, maybe for a guy the ratios are a little closer but you get the point.

At first I used my hands to balance myself as I kneeled but then I put them to better use - caressing my boobs through my blouse as I bobbed on my dad's dick. Damn my nipples were already aroused to the point of being so hard it almost made me jump up when I first touched them. It would have been easier to have untied the bottom of the blouse and let them be free but I had a feeling my dad would enjoy doing that for himself later so I resisted the temptation.

Without any warning my dad released his hold on my head and turned back on his side, positioning himself in the middle of my old bed. His glistening dick curved up and over his stomach, pointing at him like some fleshy snake that had arisen from his hairy crotch. He motioned for me to stand up and so I stood there as his eyes traveled over me from head to toe, pausing at a few strategic places along the way.

"Damn, you've grown up so much, haven't you? You're not my little girl anymore... you're a woman now. A beautiful, sexy woman."

It was an exchange that had gone between us countless times as I grew up only this time it carried a new significance to me. In the past I'd taken it as a compliment, that I was maturing into a woman and he appreciated it. Now, however, I heard something different. Sure he still appreciated what I'd become, but was there also a hint of sadness in his voice. Was it that I wasn't his little girl anymore - with emphasis on the "little"?

I remembered how proud I'd been when I moved into a C cup bra and actually NEEDED one. Did my dad wish they were still the little A-cups I had when I was fourteen, as much as I tried to stuff them so I could say I wore a B-cup to my friends (as if that fooled them)? While I wasn't overweight, still I wasn't exactly a skinny little teenager anymore. Did he miss my pony legs and straight waist? I doubted he would admit to such thoughts but deep in his heart, were they there? Was that the REAL reason why he said he wanted to be with younger girls - he missed my immature body?

Well, if I couldn't be his "little" girl, I could certainly be his fantasy girl. Did it really matter so long as I took care of his needs as a good daughter should? Wasn't it my duty to adapt to his changing needs for me and do whatever it took to please him? So what if he had other desires? I was still his only daughter and as such the only woman that could address the incestuous desires that sometimes consumed him.

His voice startled me for a moment as I had drifted off with my thoughts for a moment there but then his words cut in and I was back to reality once again. As I unbuttoned my shorts and pulled them down to my ankles, stepping gingerly out of them while keeping on my heels, it felt good to be bare-assed in front of him. Some girls love to run around topless in panties whereas I've always preferred to go bottomless with something covering my top. I suppose a shrink would have his theories but personally I think it has to do with several issues as I was growing up. First, just as he was proving yet again now, my dad had always been an ass man. He'd always encouraged me to go without panties or bottoms, even when I was little.

There was also the fact that I was highly sensitive about my breasts as a young teenager - or should I say, LACK of breasts. While my legs and ass took shape early on, my boobs simply refused to come along for the ride. My best friend Beth was like two sizes ahead of me throughout high school and it was obvious when we would stand next to each other and see where the boys would be staring. Well, whatever the reason I enjoyed wearing only something on top and my dad seemed to love it too.

"Now spin around and show me that incredible ass."

Smiling, I did as he instructed, using small step as I'd kept my heels on. As I turned my back to him I felt his hand softly caress my butt and then squeeze my ass cheek. I paused to let him grope me more and then felt his hand move between my bare thighs.

"Bend over babe."

It wasn't much but it was enough to tell me what he wanted. I leaned over, putting my hands on my knees and letting my feet spread apart a few more inches. His fingers slid down between my crotch until he was pressing against my freshly shaven pussy. I felt his middle finger exploring me, pushing its way into my damp pussy, then moving in further until his entire finger was inside of me.

"Damn, still as tight as ever, aren't you?"

It was obviously a rhetorical question so I just wiggled my butt a little in response.

"Alright, now get on top of me."

Hmmmmmm, I guess that meant no more foreplay. Damn, he must be REALLY horny and so just wanted to get down and fuck me. I couldn't help but flash a wry grin as I remembered being so careful to shave so my pussy would feel smooth on his face. Not that I was complaining! He'd never been one to lick me all that much, for whatever reason, preferring more to touch me and fondle me than to lick me. Then there were those days he would practically camp out down there, like he couldn't get enough of the taste of my pussy. I guess today wasn't going to be one of those days.

While my dad might have preferred me to keep them on, this wasn't a porn movie so I dropped the heels which made it so much easier to get on top of him. What is it with men wanting girls to keep their shoes on anyway when they have sex? If anything, I'm always afraid I'm going to spear him with one of my heels!

Swinging one leg over him, I sat down on top of his dick and felt it's hardness pushing up against my pussy. We both looked down and I could see the swollen head sticking out from between my legs. My hips rocked slowly, rubbing my ever wetter pussy along the stiff shaft below it.

"Oh god I want to fuck you so bad Kelly," he moaned, lifting his hips up against me, "I NEED to fuck you... I want to cum in you... so bad."

His eyes were closed now and it was as if he was in a trance or something, lost in his desires and lust. I know there are times when I feel like I really need to be fucked but looking at my dad, it was like he actually physically NEEDED to do me.

"Please Kelly... let me fuck you...please."

As horny as I was getting myself, I still couldn't help but wonder what was going on. It wasn't like my dad wasn't getting laid enough. Heck, with my Aunt Linda living with him he was probably getting it more than just about any man his age, not to mention who knows what else he was doing besides screwing her.

There would be time to think about this later but at the moment I had more pressing things to attend to - literally. Between my legs there was an erect dick pushing hard against me, as if it was trying to push itself into me anywhere it could. All I had to do was lift myself up a little and his cock slid down my pussy slit until I felt it in just the right spot and I sat back down again. As hard as he was and as wet as my pussy had become, it didn't take much effort for it to slide into me all the way until I was literally sitting on his crotch, impaled on his dick like a corn dog on a stick at the state fair.

"Oh god that feels so good," he sighed, relaxing it seemed for just a moment until his hips jerked up almost like he was having a convulsion, driving himself up against me as if he could possibly get any deeper into me than he already was.

Leaning over, he untied my blouse and let it hang open so my boobs dangled over his face while his incestuous dick remained in my hot pussy. He closed his eyes again when my nipple brushed against his lips and he eagerly started to suckle on it like a hungry baby. He then grabbed my boobs with both hands, squeezing them together and kneading them with his hands like he was a baker trying to make bread! By lifting my hips up and down I was able to move his cock in and out of me while holding myself up over his face so he could switch from one breast to the other.

My arms started to tire so I sat back up on his lap and circled my hips around like a hula dancer, rotating my pussy around his dick as he held my butt with both hands. He had his eyes closed again, as if he was trying to concentrate on nothing more than the feel of his incestuous dick inside daughter's tight pussy. OK, so maybe it wasn't as tight as some of the girls he may have been fucking lately, but for my age I thought it was pretty darn good.

Yet again he surprised by suddenly sitting up and pushing me off of him, his dick flopping out of me all covered with my pussy wetness. Without saying anything he grabbed me by the waist and moved me into a kneeling position and I quickly caught on to what he wanted - to fuck me doggy style. It actually wasn't one of his favorite positions, at least not with me, but then I wasn't going to say anything. Pushing my legs apart, he put one hand on each of my ass cheeks and spread me apart so my freshly fucked pussy was in full view. At this point, I just wanted to feel it filled again so I leaned forward onto my elbows so my ass poked up even better for him to get himself into me.

"Kelly, did I ever tell you that you have an INCREDIBLE ass?"

I turned my head and smiled back at him. "Only a few times daddy... tell me again."

Yeah, more like a thousand times but what girl ever tires of hearing a man telling her he likes her ass? His large hands squeezed my ass as he moved forward until I felt his dick pressing up against me again. He tried to push it in but he didn't have it quite lined up so he let go of one of my cheeks and quickly guided himself into me, putting his hand back on my butt as soon as the head started to go into me. At first he just sort of moved it around in like a circle but then he pressed it into me until I felt his coarse pubic hair against my bare butt.

His first real thrust was so strong it almost knocked me forward off my elbows. I reached forward to grab a couple of pillows and stuffed them under me so I could just lay on top of them while he fucked me from behind. His hands moved from my butt to my waist, gripping me and pulling and pushing me back and forth in sync with his thrusts so my ass would slam into his crotch as he pushed it into me, making a loud slapping sound almost like he was spanking me. It felt SOOOOO good to feel his dick gliding in and out of my wet pussy, one moment almost all the way out and then the next, filling me with his cock.

"Give me that bottle there in front of you."

I looked ahead where the pillows had been and there was a bottle of massage oil which he must have hidden under the pillows. As I automatically reached for it, I started to wonder what he wanted it for and then the realization hit me. Oh crap, he wanted to fuck me in the ass!

This, more than anything else today, surprised as well as shocked me. My dad knew how I felt about anal sex. Sure, I'd done it a few times at parties but never because I asked for it. Well, at least I wasn't a total anal virgin and thankfully he seemed to have prepared for it. Still, he'd NEVER asked me before to fuck me in the ass because he knew my feelings about it. I've always said that one of the foundations of true submission is total trust in your partner. Submitting doesn't mean slavery - it means giving yourself to someone while at the same time secure in the knowledge that he will not abuse your trust. I knew my dad liked anal sex but I never worried about it because I knew he would never ask me - or at least I THOUGHT he would never ask me.

Even though I knew his intentions and as much as my initial reaction was to pull away and stop him before he did anything, at the same time I'd come over here willingly with the intent to reconcile with my dad by submitting him and demonstrating that I was still his loving daughter. If I was sincere in my feelings for him, how could I say no to this?

As he slowly drove his dick in and out of me, I could feel him moving as he opened the bottle. Despite warming it on his hands, it still felt ice cold when he started to tub it into my tight asshole. Then he slid his slick thumb into my ass and I felt that weird sensation I always get whenever something goes in where it should only come out.

People always ask me why I don't like anal sex as if there was something wrong with me. Well frankly, I know more girls who hate it than enjoy it and those who claim they enjoy it will often confess that they only do it for their boyfriend. God gave me this wonderful pussy that was designed for one thing - sex. A hard dick fits perfectly in it, I produce the lubrication necessary for it to not hurt me, and it feels SOOOOO good when a guy fucks me.

Now compare my pussy to my asshole which was designed for one thing - to crap. Assholes are like one-way streets in that things are meant to come OUT, not IN. Face it, something the size and hardness of an erect cock was not in the mind of our Maker when he designed my ass. Then there is the final factor - it's just unsanitary. I mean, would you wipe your ass with your hand and then eat dinner without washing it thoroughly? If not, why would any man expect to plunge his cock up where I'd just crapped and then expect me to suck it afterwards?

OK, so I know there are plenty of people out there that claim to enjoy anal sex (mostly men) and I know the porn industry makes it a mainstay - which tells me all the more it's not for the girl's enjoyment so much as getting the guy off from some sort of weird control thing. All I can say is that I treat it like fantasies in that you are welcome to do whatever you want so long as everyone consents and nobody gets hurt - just leave me out of it.

Apparently, my dad had other ideas today. What was going on? He seemed to be in this strange mental zone and now it seemed to extend even further than I had realized. Was this his way of showing me he was in control? Was he trying to test me, to see if I would truly submit to him even if he wanted me to do something I really didn't want to?

A groan escaped my lips as his thumb pushed deeper into me. It felt odd to have his dick in my pussy and his thumb in my ass. I supposed he could feel his thumb against his dick while he fucked me and I wondered how it made him feel?

Just when I thought maybe his thumb was all he was going to put up my ass, he pulled out and I felt the head of dick now positioned at the entrance to my ass - something new for sure when it came to sex with me and my dad.

"Please don't daddy," I whispered softly, hoping against hope he might come to his sense before it was too late.

"Sorry babe, but I've been wanting to do this for so long... so long," he said as he grimaced while he tried to push his erection into my ass.

OK, so maybe I'd taken a few dicks in there but they were a while ago and not that many. Even with the lubrication he had used to covered my ass and his dick it wasn't like he was going to just pop in it. God, it was like being fucked for the first time, taking something larger than you'd ever had into you for the first time. Then he finally got the head all the way in and I felt like my ass was on fire.

fucked countless times during those years and yet somehow it felt again like it was that very first time all over again.

So much had happened in those nine years, so many changes in my life for good and bad. I looked at my dad, seeing the lust in his eyes and the desire on his face as he stared at his all but naked daughter sprawled on her back before him. Lately our relationship had been tested in a way it never had been before and just when I thought everything in my life was screwed up and crazy, here I was yet again, submitting myself totally and unconditionally to my father, giving everything I had to him.

Under the circumstances, there was only one thing I could say at this moment...

"Fuck me daddy," I whispered in a voice husky with my own desire. "I love you daddy, now fuck me. Show me how much you love me."

It was like this giant light turned on and everything lit up in him as he smiled and his eyes momentarily lost that animal lust. For a fleeting few seconds there was my loving father, softly telling me I was his little girl again and everything was going to be alright, that he was going to make me feel better than I'd ever felt before. It was like one of those sci-fi movies where someone's body was taken over by an alien and for a brief moment the real person inside appears.

Then, just as it always happened in the movies, that look was there again, replaced by that startling look of passion and aggression that I knew could only be answered by one thing - sex. In the past I would even be frightened at times when I saw this look because I knew it meant nothing could stop him now. Even if I asked him to stop I doubted that he could even hear me, let alone comprehend what I wanted. All that mattered at this moment was he wanted to fuck me and nothing was going to stop him now.

I felt him push himself into me and then that wonderfully familiar sensation as his dick popped into me, my pussy clamping down around his shaft behind it. Again, it was like that very first time when I felt my dad's dick enter me. Sure I'd fucked plenty of guys before him but there was something special about it when he was in me. Now, years later, there was still something special about it. After all, he WAS my dad and how could it NOT be special?

Silently he pumped his dick in and out of my pussy in long, steady strokes. I fingered my clit as he drilled me, closing my own eyes this time as I could feel the shaft of his cock rubbing against my fingers as I toyed with myself.

"Oh daddy... I'm cumming!" I announced to him in a louder voice than before.

Finally I was cumming, my orgasm quickly peaking as he fucked me faster and faster. Any anger I may have felt for him, any worries or doubts, everything disappeared in the haze of my orgasm and then he started to cum as well, driving me onto even a higher plain of pleasure.

"Oh yeah... cum in me daddy... give me your cum." I begged him.

My father buried his incestuous erection deep inside of me, spewing his warm sperm deep inside of me as his hips thrust himself even deeper into me with each load.

Finally he was spent and he let loose of my legs and I slid down his thighs onto the bed, leaving behind his cum-covered cock which was already dwindling. I couldn't move, just lying there silently as he put his hands on his legs and gasped for breath. Finally he laid down next to me and I turned on my side and put one leg over him, pressing my still sensitive pussy up against him. He put his arms around me and we kissed for the first time today.

Soon he fell asleep and I gently removed his arm from around me and got out of bed. I quietly stepped through the hallway to the bathroom opposite my bedroom where I looked at myself in the mirror and grimaced. Yep, it was a good thing I hadn't worried too much about hair and makeup. God, what which was looking back at me through the mirror? it couldn't possibly be me!

After cleaning myself up a but I went to leave the bathroom to return to my room. As I stepped out I saw my aunt standing in the doorway of their bedroom. She had a robe tied around her which was rather surprising since she was practically a nudist around the house normally.

"Well, I see you two have made up," she said with a teasing voice, nodding her head back to the bedroom where my dad was literally passed out on my old bed.

I gave her a hug and we kissed briefly before I went back to my room to get changed. My dad never even moved a muscle as I dressed and gave him a peck on the cheek before leaving the room.

"So what's the story now?" my aunt asked, having waited outside in the hallway for me.

I just shrugged and waved goodbye. At the moment I really wasn't sure how to answer that question.

4. Going Forward

My mind was caught up in a whirlwind on the way home, full of jumbled and virtually incoherent thoughts. Actually, I was lucky I didn't get in a wreck as the next thing I knew I was parked in front of our house and really had no idea whatsoever how I'd gotten there! My neighbor wasn't in sight this time so I just carried my coat up to the house and let myself in. If anyone WAS watching me, then they got a good eyeful of what was coming this summer if nothing else. Stepping in the door, I'd no sooner had hung my coat up in the closet when a voice called down from the stairs.

"Hey slut, I hear you fucked your dad... FINALLY!"

Damn, news travels fast! Her mother must have either called right after I left or maybe she even had called Kristen while I was doing it with my dad. Either way, obviously Kristen was in on everything so there was no sense in pretending otherwise. Walking up the stairs, she gave me a little pat on the butt as I passed by her.

"Damn girl, didn't you wash up before you left?" she teased me, "Mmmmmmm, you smell good."

Actually, a shower was the very thing I needed right then I just pushed her back playfully and she let it go at that. Actually, it was surprisingly sensitive of her to not pester me more about it. Yeah, her mom must have told her everything because normally she would've been following me down the hallway like a lost puppy dog until I'd filled in all the details.

After I'd cleaned up I just flopped in my bed naked again, pulling the sheet up over me to keep the chill off. My hands gripped my head with my wet hair as I tried to figure out for myself just what the heck I'd done today - and what it meant for the future.

Well... I'm saying this after having a day to think about it - following a month of heavy contemplation before that. Yeah, I'd let my dad fuck me again but something told me that sex would never be the same between us again. Indeed, I was no longer his little girl, his "little slut". I was now a twenty-something girl that he enjoyed fucking whenever he felt the need. Sure, there was still the element of our father-daughter relationship, but most of that was dispelled when his dick filled my ass and I realized what I really was to him, at least now. It may have been different when I was younger, but not anymore.

Will I fuck him again? Of course... provided he asks me. There are some things buried deep inside of you that just can't be changed and submitting to my father is such a fundamental part me, such a large part of who I am, that I could never do anything different. Would I pursue sex with my dad? No, but that doesn't mean I would turn him away.

In some ways, I think my entire view of incest is changing - at least so far as I am concerned. While I've always maintained that incest is not for everyone, I use to put up my family as the poster child for "good" incest. Well, now I knew that even my own family wasn't as functional as I had imagined. Not that it would classify us as dysfunctional, but clearly we had issues I never knew about - or at least never wanted to see.

When I get married, will my husband know about my incestual life? Until now the answer was an unequivocal YES. Now I wonder if it would be such a deal breaker for him not to know. Do I really want my husband to fuck my daughter? DO I really want to fuck my son someday? A month ago I would have said YES and not even hesitated. Now... I'm not so sure. In fact, I'm pretty sure I wouldn't.

Do I still think the concept of incest is good? Of course but now I would place even stricter limits on it than before. Now I would say the population for which incest is manageable and healthy is even smaller than I ever would had imagined.

My dad's getting older and I have a feeling those phone calls where he tells me he needs me are going to become fewer and farther between. Even if I do get married and don't tell my husband, would he ever have to know?

Yep, LOTS of things for me to think about...

(Mar 20) Chapter 209: Beth Takes Me Out

Beth - BFF (26)

What are best friends for if not to help you out in times of need? Well, if anyone ever had a best friend, I did when it came to Beth. She knew just what I needed...

1. Best Friends Forever

If there was ever a way to describe my relationship with Beth, "BFF" would be it. I'd known Beth for all my life. Our parents were social friends (totally non-sexual), we grew up in the same neighborhood, were dropped off at the same child care center, attended the same schools, spent summers at the same church camps, and were members of the same church. About the only thing we differed on was college. I chose to go out of state to a private Christian university while she attended a local junior college. Over the years we'd shared our most intimate secrets and feelings, not to mention a few boyfriends along the way. I simply can't imagine ever being so close to anyone as I am today with Beth. It's a unique bond few people ever get to share with anyone.

Knowing how close we are and our mutual appetites when it came to sex, people seem to find it a surprise that we've not had much of a sexual relationship between us. Sure we are often involved in sexual situations together like at parties, double dates and such. It's just one of those thing we never did together. Maybe it was because the two of us are so close in so many ways that it just wasn't something we felt was necessary. Yes, there were a few times here and there where things got a little out of hand, especially when we were younger and still learning about our developing bodies and new feelings. Still, I would say that those times were more out of juvenile curiosity than a true sense of intimacy.

While the two of us didn't do that much with each other, perhaps one of the more significant events that shows how close we are was when Beth became the first girl that my dad fucked outside of his marriage - thus his first adulterous sex after almost twenty years of marriage. At the time it was quite shocking thing to me in that all my life my parents had preached to me that incestual sex was OK but adultery was not. Incest was sex within a family and thus not sinful but rather a part of the blending of a family through marriage. Adultery, on the other hand, was just a means of satisfying one's most lustful instincts with no biblical basis – other than being clearly labeled as being a sinful act (making it to the Top Ten even!). At least that's how they had portrayed it until that first time between my dad and Beth.

My parents rationalized my dad's actions by saying that Beth was virtually one of the family after all these years – the same rationalization they used later when my dad wanted to fuck Tammy, my mom's best friend. Still, while from a purely sexual perspective it was hot to see my dad having sex with my best friend, my conscience always bothered me a little bit.

Speaking of incest, that was the one major aspect of my life that I did NOT share with Beth until after she had sex with my dad. Although I was there the first time my dad did her, I didn't join in and even then Beth had no idea that he was doing me too. Actually it wasn't until during the second time (and last time) that he did her that I joined in and she learned the truth. Although that time it felt a little better since we weren't hiding so much from her, deep in my heart I couldn't help but worry that adultery was adultery, no matter how you slice it.

Just to keep things even, or at least that was my excuse at the time, I also was the first girl that Beth's dad cheated with. The circumstances were quite different from her and my dad's tryst in that I seduced her father, essentially having sex with him against his will (but he seemed quite happy about it at the time).

In this case there was no rationalization required since Beth's family wasn't into incest. It was just pure adultery on her father's part. While Beth knew about what he dad did with me, her dad had no clue that she'd watched us, nor did he ever do me again. Personally, I had no desire to do him again anyway since the first time is always the most thrilling.

It was probably just as well because it led to one of the most serious arguments Beth and I had ever had and had it not been for our longstanding relationship it might have broken us apart. As I said, her father wasn't into incest or cheating on his wife so I think she sort of resented me for pushing him to do what I am sure he sorely regretted afterwards. Any elation I may have felt having "conquered" him was tempered by a sense of guilt that grew even more when I saw how upset she was over it. Ever since then we have both sworn off doing anything like that again.

All this father-daughter crap just goes to show how sex can complicate even the best of friendships, one of the reasons Beth and I rarely did anything intimate together. We never really had ever discussed it per se, it was more something we each just seemed to recognize instinctively. Neither of us was shy about being with another girl, so it wasn't like we didn't get off having sex with each other. It just wasn't something we NEEDED. Something natural.

Putting the whole sex thing aside, I often get comments that people in general can't understand how we ever became best friends when we are so different in so many ways. Personally, I think it's BECAUSE we have such different personalities and likes/dislikes that our friendship has endured as we are not in competition with one another very often.

For example, Beth is much more the party girl and outgoing, totally unafraid to chase the guys - "bag and tag 'em" as she likes to say. In contrast, I prefer to be the one that the guys chase - although admittedly I do my best to attract their attention. I guess you could say it's like Beth goes fishing with dynamite and a net whereas I prefer fly fishing where I teasingly toss out the bait and let the fish come to me It's not that I'm shy by any means, it's just that I've always enjoyed being the prey more than the hunter. Needless to say there have been exceptions to these rules for both of us, but for the most part that's the roles we prefer.

Back to our sexual preferences (which I know people reading this would prefer to hear about rather than our taste in TV shows and books), Beth and I tend to have quite different tastes as well. Both of us are technically bisexual in that we enjoy sex with both men and women. However, I prefer guys (they have something "special") while Beth leans more towards girls although she certainly doesn't turn down a hard dick when it's offered! Oddly enough, at parties where group sex is more prevalent, she goes for the guys but I know in her private life she has more girlfriends than boyfriends.

Physically, we differ as well. Let's just say that nobody is going to mistake us for twins. Perhaps the most noticeable difference, at least to guys, is that Beth has always been large-breasted, filling out a D-cup bra before she finished her freshman year. She gets a little "help" in that department due to her being a tad heavier than me but she's by no means fat.

I've been jealous of Beth's boobs since 6th grade when she was the first girl in our class to start poking through her tops. After spending most of my teen years secretly wishing I could trade mine with hers, these days I'd say I'm probably happier with my boobs than hers. While mine are definitely not as perky as my cousin Kristen's perfect boobs, I can still get away without a bra in most cases whereas Beth pretty much HAS to wear one just to support her massive girls. She has mentioned getting a reduction at times but from the ways the guys drool over those puppies I can't see that happening any time soon.

If there is one area where Beth and I differ the most, it would have to be our attitudes towards group sex. For me, I'll take a good ole' one-on-one any day. It's so much more intimate and I love being the center of attention. A three- some is OK at times but even then I much prefer it to be with two guys whereas most guys seem to want to be with two girls.

Personally I think it's more than a little hypocritical that guys think it's hot to see two girls together but get all homophobic about "crossing swords" with another guy. It seems to be a big hit on porn sites but in real life, not nearly so much, at least not the guys I've known.

Beth, on the other hand, literally lives by the motto, "the more the merrier". In other words she LOVES group sex and the larger the group the better. The actual makeup in terms of men and women doesn't seem to matter as much to her as the total number although I think if she were forced to choose, it would be more guys than girls.

Beth's an active member of a local private "sex club" that meets periodically where just about anything goes yet at the same time provides a safe and VERY private setting. Over the years she's convinced me to attend a few of these parties and while I can't say they weren't fun, in the end they weren't something I wanted to every day, or week or month even. Like who would NOT find such a thing physically fun and mentally invigorating, especially when you never knew what was going to happen? Still, I always left feeling somewhat emotionally empty and even a little cold in that usually not only did I have no idea WHO fucked me, but I wasn't even always sure how MANY did! It was just sex for the sake of sex, without any challenge or sense of accomplishment other than to say, "Gee, I've never done THAT before."

Along with my cousin Kristen, the three of us are together most of the time and other than Beth's secret little parties, it's a rare event where just one of us shows up without the others. As much as I love my cousin, it's Beth who will always be my closest and best friend. It's no coincidence that during the past few months or so when I'd been having a number of issues and decisions to make that Beth would be there for me, almost seeming to read my mind, to somehow knowing just when I needed her the most.

2. Beth Convinces Me

If you've been reading my diary then you know how recently I'd been on this crazy roller-coaster ride where my whole life seemed to be turning upside down and backwards. Some of my core beliefs were being tested and I found myself questioning things about myself I never would have even thought twice about before.

Thank goodness Beth had been with me during this time, offering a warm shoulder to cry on when it seemed I couldn't decide what to do. It would've been easy for her to say, "I told you so," or some other sarcastic remark but she never said anything like that to me, supporting me 100% the entire time. Some people might have taken advantage of my confusion and depression to have sex with me but Beth never even started to do anything like that with me.

Did I mention Beth was my BFF? I love her!

Once I'd made up my mind about my dad, helped in no small amount when he asked me to come over and let him fuck me again, Beth was the first one I told about it. I'd called her on my cell phone about an hour after getting home from my dad's place, crying because I was so confused about what I'd done. When I first got home it seemed all was settled - I was my dad's daughter and as such, it was my duty to submit to him and his right to expect me to do so - case closed. All the debate and self-analysis had been a tragic waste of time in that it really came down to whether or not I was ready to stand by my morals and ethics or to throw away everything I believed in. In fact, I was actually a little angry with myself for putting myself through such anguish when the answers were there as plain as the nose on my face the entire time.

Still...

About an hour or so after I got home, I was laying on my bed after my shower, wet hair and all, huddling under the covers to keep warm. Damn, my pussy was STILL tingling after having been fucked by my dad just a little over an hour earlier. Even so, for whatever reason I just couldn't bring myself to masturbate as I normally do when I felt this way. It was hard to understand my feelings as I knew what I'd done was the right thing to do - no question about THAT. In fact it was the ONLY thing I could've done under the circumstances and remain true to myself. Yet if that was so, why did everything seem so surreal? It wasn't that I felt remorse or guilt, but more like something was MISSING, like I hadn't been fulfilled in some way that I couldn't nail down.

So who do you call when you feel this way? Your best friend of course. Thankfully Beth answered her cell phone on the second ring yet when I tried to say hello, all of a sudden I couldn't help but burst into tears.

"Hey, you all right girl?" a concerned voice came over the phone. When I didn't answer she knew what to do. "Just hang in there and I'll be right over."

Like I said, she's my best friend and I love her!

It was about thirty minutes later when Beth came in my bedroom. She'd gotten a key to Kristen's house even before I did, something I never quite understood but that's another issue for another day. Tossing her jacket on the floor, she sat down on the edge of my bed and put her hand on my bare shoulder, rubbing it gently.

"Hey girl, so what's the story here anyway?"

I'd stopped crying not long after she'd hung up but now I felt for a moment like I was going to start in all over again but somehow I managed to keep the tears at bay. Then I took a deep breath and explained to her what I'd done earlier in the day - and I mean everything. Beth kept quiet, letting me have my say without interruption until I got to the part about the anal sex and her eyes widened.

"What? No way... he really did THAT to you?"

Now as much as I disliked anal sex, Beth was one of those girls who liked it (another Key difference between us). Actually we'd spent many a long evening discussing the pros and cons of anal sex but neither of us was willing to compromise our positions except to acknowledge that the other was entitled to her opinion. Beth also was well aware that my father had never pushed me in this way to have anal before so she must have thought things had gone crazy between me and my dad. It wasn't technically the first time he'd fucked my ass but it WAS the first time he'd done it against my will so I guess you could say it HAD gone crazy.

"Well, he fucked you in the ass... get over it girl. Did you at least like it?" she asked with a little smirk, as if she expected me to suddenly be "converted".

Glaring at Beth because she knew better than to even ASK such a question, I assured her that I had NOT enjoyed it but she just shook her head in mock amusement.

"So what's the big deal then? Sounds like you have things worked out with your dad overall."

For a moment I hesitated. What WAS the problem anyway? How could I explain to her the emptiness in me now, the lack of fulfillment. She'd never been fucked by her father, she'd never felt her dad's incestuous sperm erupting from his erect dick deep inside of her wet pussy. She'd never had such an intimate relationship with her father so how could she possibly understand what I was feeling right now?

"Hey, I know what it is," she announced with her hand together, an almost satanic grin on her face.

Uh-oh, I had this sinking feeling that I was about to be invited to one of her sex parties yet again, despite the fact I'd turned down like the last six offers before this.

"You need to get laid sister, and I don't mean by that boy-toy of yours Randy. Nope, you need a good old-fashioned screwing."

Yep, here it was, any second now she would say something like, "There's a party tomorrow night so why don't you come with me so you can CUM with me?" or something else even more suggestive.

"So what do you say you and me hit the town Saturday night and see what kind of trouble we can get into?"

Now THAT caught me off guard... on a day when I thought nothing else could possibly surprise me again. When Beth said "trouble" what she meant was going out and getting laid. To could be with a boy OR a girl, either way would be fine with her.

My automatic response was to protest. Like, it had been quite a while since I'd gone out and done something really crazy. Kristen had been teasing me lately that I was becoming domesticated in my old age. Then again, I WAS 25 now so it's not like I was a reckless teenager anymore. Not surprisingly, Beth would have none of it.

"You don't seem to understand Kelly... I'm not ASKING you, I'm TELLING you."

That made me laugh, as if she could really force me to do anything yet when push came to shove, sometimes it was like she had this remote control to my mind and could indeed make me do just about anything she asked. To be fair, I knew how to push her buttons as well to get my way when I really wanted it so I guess we were even in that department.

As we laughed together, her hand surreptitiously slid down my bare back from my shoulder, her fingernails gently running down my spine all the way to my tailbone where her hand flattened out again and began to caress my bare butt – something she knew I loved.

"Now Beth... what are you doing?" I asked her teasingly, as if I didn't know already.

"Damn girl, you're so tense... you need to loosen up a little," she said softly back as she continued to touch my warm butt.

Suddenly it was like the entire room changed, like a curtain had drawn on the stage and everything looked and felt different. Gone was the playful banter and the general chit-chat, replaced by a silence that was only broken when I couldn't help but moan softly as her hand squeezed my butt cheek. God, I LOVED my butt to be played with and if anyone knew it, Beth did.

Beth pulled the sheet off of me, revealing my nude body to her as I laid on my stomach, enjoying the gentle touch of her hands as they lightly traced me all over. Then she used both hands to move down the back of one leg all the way to my ankle and then back up the other, approaching coming teasingly close to my crotch but the suddenly veering away so as to give it a wide berth at the same time. Then it was back up my spine again and over my shoulder blades until she was rubbing the tops of my shoulders and the back of my neck just under the hairline.

It felt incredible as she would run down my sides, coming again ever so close to the sides of my breasts but not quite touching them as she worked her way back to my butt yet again. I felt a shiver run through me as her fingers ran down my butt crack, stopping just before they reached my asshole and then going back up again.

"Oh Beth... that feels sooooo good," I sighed in a low whisper, my eyes closed as I concentrated on nothing but her tender touch. Mmmmmmm, I could take this all day!

It wasn't long before Beth showed that she had other intentions as well. Pausing for a moment from her exploration of my nude body, she sat back and quickly undressed, dropping her jeans and top to the floor along with her bra, panties and anklets. Next thing I knew I could feel the warmth of her naked body pressing up against mine as she laid on her side next to me, draping one leg over me so her bare crotch was pressed up against my hip bone. She draped one arm over me, letting her large breast press against my side as she leaned forward to kiss my neck and just behind my ear.

"Mmmmmmm, you smell so good," she cooed as she nibbled on my ear while grinding her crotch against my hip bone.

Well, she must like the scent of body soap! Just imagine if she had smelled me when I first came home from my dad's, especially given the way Kristen had picked up on it so fast.

Laying there like this I couldn't help but think about how hypocritical guys are when they press to watch two girls together but then they don't like to watch two guys together - especially if they are one of them. Then again, it's at times like this when it's easy for me understand. When I'm naked and laying up next to a guy who's also naked, I LOVE the feeling of him against me, especially when his dick is erect and pressing into me as a sign of his lust for me. I love a man's strong arms around me, taking me as his and feeling the urgency of his desires. Yet in the end, it's not so much the actual physical sensation of him against me that turns me on as the intense emotions generated within me that makes me want to be with a man in such an intimate way.

In contrast, laying together nude with a girl like Beth is not so much physically enthralling as it is mentally. Sure, the touch of her warm skin against me, so smooth and soft, felt absolutely WONDERFUL. It's like snuggling up to my favorite stuffed toy when I was a little girl - only this "toy" is living and breathing, filled with as much desire for me as I have for her. The scent of her perfume, mixed with the musky smell of her sex as she grows more and more excited is simply intoxicating. To feel her breasts against mine, our nipples touching and stimulating each other, is pure bliss. Who would NOT like to feel such a wonderful creature next to them?

Yet as insanely wonderful as it may FEEL to be together with a girl like Beth, it goes way beyond just the usual physical sensations. Knowing she is feeling the same desires as me, the same sensations, the same arousals, brings us closer together. Feeling her pussy press against me tells me how much she desires me, and reminds me just how much I desire her as well.

I don't know how to describe it fully, but just that being together with a girl is like nothing else in the world. There are other experiences which are also great, this one is just unique and ever so special. No doubt a guy has to share some of the same feelings which is why he wants TWO girls, to double the pleasure. Can I blame them? No!

As all these thoughts revolved through my head, I just laid there motionless, enjoying the warmth of Beth's smooth skin against me. I loved the feel of the pressure of her bare leg over the back of mine. Then her hand began to work its way further down my ass, pressing with more urgency between my thighs as I parted them just enough to let her slip her hand in between. At first she just cupped my warm crotch, her palm pressed against my pussy hole as her fingers moved upward to explore my slit and eventually they found my sensitive clit. Her forearm nestled between my ass cheeks, spreading them apart yet they pushed back as if they were trying to grip her arm and hold it in place.

"Mmmmmmm, you're so warm and wet," she murmured as her fingers began to work their way between my pussy lips. "Tell me Kelly, did your daddy cum in you?"

She slipped in that last question sort of unexpectedly. Normally I didn't talk a lot to Beth about sex with my dad, especially after we'd called a truce after I'd done hers. Of course it was something she knew I did, not to mention something she herself had done twice, but it wasn't the sort of thing we spent a lot of time discussing. Yet now she seemed to be getting a little hot thinking about my dad's cum that might still be leaking from me.

"Oh god Beth... he did... a lot."

"Did your daddy make his little girl cum?'

"Ohhhhhh yesssssss," I sighed as I recalled just how wonderful it had felt when he done that very thing.

Without another word she slipped a finger into me, closely followed by a second and once they were all the in as far as she could reach she started to gently stroke them in and out of my throbbing pussy.

"Oh yeah, I bet you want your daddy's dick in you again right now... don't you?"

Like DUH! Still, I answered her by saying, "Oh yessssss... I want it so bad. I want him to fuck me again"

Beth chuckled, startling me at first. "Yeah but I bet you'd take ANY dick in you right now... you're such a slut you don't care who's it is so long as it's in you... am I right or am I right?"

She had me! "God yes... just fuck me!" I groaned as she worked her fingers in me.

Damn, Beth's fingers were driving me nuts, not to mention the one she had planted over my clit that was making me practically jump off the bed each time she ran a little circle around the swollen source of so much pleasure. Beth was pressing up even tighter against me now, squeezing her large breast up against me as she kissed my shoulder and back.

My hips began to press up against her hand, humping slightly now as I dreamed her fingers were my dad's aroused dick in me again... or Randy's... or ANY dick for that matter, just as she had said I wanted. I loved the feel of her fingers in me but I would've given anything right then for a real cock to push its way into me. I wouldn't even look to see whose it was, just so long as it was in me and fucking me ever so good. If anything, that would be even hotter - to have a faceless cock suddenly press into me without warning, filling me with its firmness as I was left to wonder who it belonged to.

Beth pulled her hand away and before I could protest, she had her leg off of me as well and was pressing firmly on me to signal me to roll over onto my back. No sooner had I done so then she twisted around and got on top of me, her face planted in my crotch with her own pussy hovering right over my eyes. Without another word she dove in, her tongue attacking my clit with a vengeance. God it felt so damn good! It was a rare time when Beth licked my pussy but when she did, it was obvious she'd had plenty of practice in the past.

Reaching around her smooth legs, I put my hands on her large bottom and pulled her down to my face so I could lick her pussy as well. God, she smelled so horny! My nose pushed into her pussy slit, followed closely by my tongue as I tasted my best friend's pussy for the first time in ages. Mmmmmmm, she tasted wonderful but then to be fair, what girl didn't when she was horny? For some girls pussy is an acquired taste but I'd loved the smell and flavor of mine from the first time I began to explore myself when I was just a pre-adolescent.

For the next hour or so, maybe even longer as I couldn't be sure, Beth and I enjoyed one another in a variety of different positions. Sometimes we did each other together, other times just one would lick and fondle the other. My favorite time was when I got out my beloved toy - my trusted double dildo and we both fucked the other in a manner of speaking. I loved it especially because it was almost like she WAS fucking me in that I could feel every move she made inside of me, just as I would if a guy was fucking me. What was extra special about a double dildo as compared to a regular one was that while I was feeling her, she was feeling me at the same time!

How many times we both came will always be a mystery as I lost count as my mind grew foggier and foggier with each one until it all seemed like one long orgasm, each chained up together with the next. Finally we were both simply exhausted and she fell on her back next to me, each of us gripping our crotches with our hands as if to somehow calm down the storm that had been brewing down there all the time. We turned to look at each other and I loved the look on her face, all flushed with sex and shiny with sweat. Her hair was a disaster, as I was sure mine was as well.

"I love you Beth," I said ever so softly in the silence.

"I love you too Kelly," she replied as we leaned over to hug and kiss. It wasn't like we were lesbians "in love" with one another. It was simply the love two friends share.

Then we just stayed that way for the longest time, best friends holding each other as their naked bodies pressed tightly against one another. Yes, this was what being a best friend was all about!

When it finally came time for Beth to leave, she reminded me of my "promise" to go out with this coming Saturday. I half-heartedly protested, saying I hadn't made any such promise but Beth wouldn't take no for an answer.

"Now are you going to come with me or do I have to make you cum again?" she threatened, as if THAT was a threat. Heck, I just might refuse just so she would "punish" me!

We both laughed at that and she finally left me, naked and totally drained.

It wasn't until late in the afternoon before I got out of bed again, once again to face Kristen in the kitchen where she was running around without a shred of clothing on as usual. At least I had the decency to wear a robe around the house, especially in the kitchen

"Damn Kristen, don't you EVER get chilled?" I teased her, smacking her tight little bottom with the palm of my hand.

Sometimes seeing her naked made me forget she was almost 23. No wonder she still being carded at the movies. She could have easily passed for being five or six years younger without anyone batting an eyelash. While it was pain at times, I think she loved it when it came to the guys who always thought she was some young teenager - a misperception she often failed to correct.

Kristen just giggled. It was the usual banter between cousins and then she pressed me for what Beth and I had been doing for so long in my bedroom.

"Damn, you smell like sex again cuz!" she giggled, "Hmmmmmm, but this time you smell like pussy! Were you being naughty with Beth?" She answered her own question with, "And why didn't you invite me?"

Again we both laughed as she knew full well what had gone on in my room earlier. When I told her about our plans for the weekend, of course she tried to muscle her way in but I wanted this to be a night with just me and my best friend and ultimately Kristen conceded - for now at least.

So now I just had to wait for Saturday night. It wasn't far off so far as the calendar was concerned but I knew the time would drag as it always did when I couldn't wait for a day to come. Hmmmmmm, I wondered what Beth had planned for us? I had no idea except for one thing... I couldn't wait to find out!

3. Getting Ready

I should've known at least in general what was coming by the time Beth came by to pick me up that Saturday evening. For once I was dressed and ready to go on time. Beth had probably assumed I would be my usual half-hour late when she set up the time so now we were left with nothing to do for the next hour or so since it was so early. Rather than just drive around and waste gas, Beth came in to visit with Kristen for a while.

Of course Kristen was still pretty put out that she wasn't invited to join us - something she made sure to give Beth an earful about. The good thing about Beth was that she knew Kristen all too well to know she would hold a grudge. There would be a next time and maybe that time it would be just her and Kristen. God, I could only imagine what the two of the them together on their own would be like!

I was dressed in one of my sluttier outfits. I'd pulled out of winter storage one of my summer skirts (something plaid was too "schoolgirl" and not really appropriate for this sort of evening) Although the hemline was down close to my knee it was slit up high almost to my hip on the left side so when I sat down and crossed my left leg over my right it allowed most of my thigh and even a bit of my rear to show if I wasn't careful - and I had no plans on being careful!

On top I had an almost sheer white blouse with frilly lace down the center, which was unbuttoned to one button below the center of cleavage so the jet black bra I had on underneath was clearly visible - as if you couldn't already see the outline through the sheer material of the blouse itself. Yes... I was wearing a bra but in this case it was for show, not to be hidden underneath my clothes.

In addition to the bra, underneath I was wearing a French cut hipster thong that left little to the imagination but with just enough material so as to not quite reveal everything. Sometimes I think hiding just a little is more sexy than simply baring everything from the start. Like they say in showbiz, it's always better to make them want more than to hand out everything in the first act. It's also a well-known fact by strippers that guys love the anticipation and sense of the unknown as much as the actual naked body.

Added in the ensemble were my favorite thigh-high hose, black of course, and so sheer it was almost like I didn't have anything on but yet made my legs look so much better after a winter with little to no sun. Tanning booths scare me with all the threats of skin cancer so the hose helped out a lot at this time of year when you need to bare your legs. Besides, when I sat down and did that leg- crossing thing the top elastic band of the hose would be revealed, something that always got more attention it seemed than if it was just my bare leg. I guess technically someone isn't supposed to see the top of your hose so by letting it show that makes it all the more erotic. Like my mom use to say about dinner... it's all in the presentation.

With an outfit like this, what other choice for shoes did I have than my flimsiest black heels? Flats or a short heel would have looked horrible and besides, nothing like a pair of ridiculously high heels to make those thighs firm up and look great! You don't girls wear heels because they feel good, do you? LOL

Usually I'm not a big one for a lot of makeup but when you dress up like this, you can't go out without making your face up along with it. A darker eye shadow than I usually wear along with some eyeliner complimented my brown eyes. Together it contrasted with my blonde hair which also should have told anyone I wasn't a natural blonde although with my pussy being shaved I couldn't prove it one way or the other! Just a little more perfume than usual and a splash of my old favorite Johnson's Baby Powder between the legs and I was ready to go.

Beth was dressed to kill herself with a tight dark blue dress that hugged her body like Saran Wrap. She may have been a little heavy for such an outfit but it really did make her ass look great. How she sat down without it all bunching up around her hips was going to be an interesting experiment to watch! What surprised me was it was strapless and with the low cut back there was no way she could wear a bra. I knew the dress had a built-in supports but the poor thing didn't have a chance when it came to dealing with Beth's large boobs. Well, if nothing else you knew she was 100% the real deal - no silicone in those babies!

Kristen, who apparently reconciled herself to staying home, was dressed up for the occasion as well - wearing nothing but a pair of pink cotton panties. I say dressed up because it was more than what she usually wore around the house! With her perky boobs she didn't droop even a fraction of an inch so why bother with a bra? She was definitely the "topless" type of girl, running around that way most of the time even when she wore panties or gym shorts - her favorite "around the house" wear if she was going to wear anything.

We were finally about ready to go when I had my back turned to Beth while facing Kristen to say something or another. I saw Kristen's face light up and from her mischievous grin I knew something was up. Unfortunately I wasn't fast enough as Beth snuck up behind me, reached under my skirt and pulled my thong down to my ankles in one swift motion.

"C'mon girl, step out of these... they stay home tonight."

Knowing it was useless to argue, I did as she said, after which she tossed my thong to Kristen who teased me by putting the crotch up to her nose and taking a long whiff and sighing rather melodramatically. Ignoring her little drama act, I turned to Beth with a look of exasperation.

"Oh now don't look at me that way," she said sternly, shaking her finger at me, "Besides, since when do you go out with panties on anyway?"

"Well my dress IS cut pretty high?" I said, sounding pretty lame even to myself.

"And your point?" Beth cut in, shaking her head at me like I was some silly girl.

"I don't know... I just thought it looked sexy on me," I struggled to argue.

It wasn't that I was all that worried about going out without panties. Actually I'd always loved the feeling of being bare under a dress or skirt, even as a little girl. Heck, I can't even remember the last time I sat in church with anything on underneath my dress but still, as I mentioned before I was hoping to tease a little tonight rather than just bare it all right from the start.

"And so it did," Beth agreed, but then countered with, "But tonight we're out to have fun, not just tease so they would've just gotten in the way anyway."

To prove her point, she lifted up her own dress, or more like peeled it up and sure enough, her bare pussy was there for all the world to see as well - and with a lot less to hide it than I was wearing.

"Sluts!' Kristen called out accusingly, then laughing as she fell back into the couch. Talk about the kettle calling the pot black...

We all just laughed and then I gave Kristen a kiss goodbye as did Beth. Finally we were on our way! I decided to leave my purse home so I wouldn't have to worry about it which meant leaving my cell phone home as well but then I didn't plan on doing a lot of chatting with anyone tonight.

4. Almost Losing My Bra

Beth was driving and soon we were heading for some place she knew on the south side just across the river from the main city. It was an area where a lot of the old-time saloons and bars from the long-gone steel era had been redone over the years, some of them quite well and they often held specials for girls, especially on weekends. It was another good reason to be a girl - no cover charges and if you played your cards right, you wouldn't pay for anything else inside either.

Yep, it's good to be a girl...

The parking lot was already pretty full, even thought it was barely ten o'clock, but Beth's little car fit easily into an open spot close to the door. It was chilly but I didn't want to worry about my coat so I left it in the back seat and hurried into the front entrance. Some gorgeous hunk opened the door for us and welcomed us in while stopping the guys after us to demand their payment to the empire. In our case, our looks and outfits were our payment and I was confident from the stares we were already getting that we more than met the cover charge.

The place was predictably crowded. There wasn't an open table or a spot at the bar but that didn't bother me as I knew from past experience that we wouldn't be standing for long. Sure enough, we hadn't been there a minute before two guys approached us carrying beers.

"Hey girls, we've got room at our table so why not join us?" the taller one announced. Damn, both of them looked pretty good actually and I glanced at Beth who smiled demurely at me. Well, why waste any time if you didn't have to? Sometimes you lucked out from the start and sometimes you didn't. Tonight it looked like we'd hit the jackpot in the first round.

Their table was actually already full with all six chairs occupied but it was all guys and I barely caught myself from laughing as they all got up at once to offer us their seats. It was times like this when a girl has to be careful.

Guys might not think about it but there's a definite science and strategy involved when a girl picks where to sit. You just can't take any seat - you have to think ahead and understand the benefits and consequences. For instance, the first question was would we sit together or apart? Being it was so early in the evening, sitting together was the right choice. Allowing ourselves to be split apart meant we would each surrounded by horny guys with no help from the other. It also meant we couldn't play together a little bit if we decided to tease them - which we both had every intention of doing.

So a lesson for the guys here... When you see two or more girls sitting close together, it usually means they aren't ready to DO anything quite yet, they just want to scope things out and see what happens. You can try "splitting one off from the herd", but good luck with that.

Now later in the evening, assuming things were working out as planned, we would probably split up but even then we would still stay near enough to one another that we could "rescue" the other if need be. At the same time we would be far enough apart to where the guys weren't as intimidated and would likely be more aggressive.

So in summary for the guys... sitting together means we're teasing, sitting apart means we want to get laid. Now Is that easy enough for you guys to understand?

The waitress stopped by to see if we wanted anything. She took one look at Beth and me and her nose turned up a bit. Bitch. Yeah, like WE were the sluts with her wearing a t-shirt two sizes too small without a bra and shorts that left half her ass hanging out. Actually, the waitress was pretty hot and undoubtedly she would be going home with plenty of tips.

I ordered my usual - a Diet Coke while Beth asked for some sort of wine. The guys went for a couple more pitchers of beer on top of who knows how much they'd already drunk - plenty from the looks of things already.

So now we were all seated with the initial formalities out of the way. As they say... let the games begin...

Really, for two experienced sluts like Beth and me, it was like shooting fish in a barrel. Heck, for that matter what experience did a girl need in this "target rich" environment? I didn't have to do anything but sit there and the guys practically fell over themselves competing for my attention. It was a little sad and I almost had to feel sorry for them - almost.

Beth was sitting sideways in her chair, pretending to tug at her dress to pull it down but not putting enough pressure on it to really do anything. If anything, her constant fussing with it just drew all the more attention to the fact that her entire thigh was exposed along with a peek of her ass - something I was sure was her intention all along.

Come to think about it, it was more than "shooting fish in a barrel", it was a little pathetic in that guys don't seem to have a clue about how to get a girl interested in them. All that macho crap where they pick on each other and see who can be the rudest and crudest does nothing for me. Still, it's what a girl has to endure if she wants a free night out - not to mention getting laid herself.

One advantage of being a girl we that all I would've had to do was grab any one of them and haul them off to the restroom and I'm sure I could've had most anything I wanted. Still, I wasn't THAT desperate or THAT horny - not yet at least.

When our waitress FINALLY returned with our drinks (I doubted her manager would've been very happy with her tardiness in serving a group like this) I saw she had something else on her little round tray - a large pair of scissors. In fact, they probably could have been classified as shears they were so big. Now what were THEY for????

It wasn't long before I found out as Beth apparently had it all planned out ahead of time. I should have been suspicious when she insisted that I remove my panties but didn't even tease me about my bra. Then there her not wearing one in the first place... and in her case a bra actually helped her figure more than going without one. It had been too long since we had partied like this and my "spidey senses" had obviously dulled as in the past few months!

Beth poked me in the side and pointed towards the bar. I looked but couldn't figure out what she was trying to show me so she leaned closer to my ear so I could hear her better and she told me to look OVER the bar. My heart skipped a beat when I saw what had to be a hundred or more bras hanging from hooks over the bar. It reminded me of clubs where ties were snipped off and hung up like trophies, only this place seemed to specialize more on women wearing what they apparently considered to be "inappropriate" attire.

"Guess who's is gonna be up there next?" Beth taunted me.

Ordinarily, taking my bra off in public wasn't THAT big of a deal. In fact, I'd no doubt that sooner or later it would be coming off before the night was done - why else wear one? Still, that all assumed I got to take it home with me. Bras aren't exactly cheap, at least not the ones I buy. Even the more utilitarian ones I get at Penny's and Macys for school, designed for comfort versus show, weren't exactly inexpensive.

When it comes to those I buy to wear out on a night like this, now that's a different story entirely. For instance the one I had on now came from Victoria's Secret where I think they double the price just to put the label on. Sure it made my boobs look great - why else do women pay for them? Sheer black, it had sculpted lace edges and a thin underwire that pushed my boobs up and together to create an incredible illusion of cleavage - perfect when you wore an unbuttoned blouse like I was wearing now.

Looking at the shears, I had this sudden realization that someone intended to CUT my bra off and THAT just wasn't going to happen. I'd find some way to go home with it but that assumed it stayed in one piece. Well, a good offence is supposed to be the best defense so I decided that if I was going to have to take off my bra, it would at least be on my terms.

The waitress started to reach for the shears as the guys started chanting, "no bras allowed" and I saw that everyone around us was now turning to look and see what was going on. I motioned the bitchy waitress to get lost and stood up, holding my hands up like I was surrendering, which technically I guess you could say was just what I was doing.

"Ok, OK... hold your horses!" I said, trying to get them to stop their chants and lewd comments. "If you all shut up I'll take it off... OK?"

At first it was like they hadn't heard a word I said but then a couple of the guys seemed to get the message and started hushing their compatriots until the overwhelming din became a low murmur. It was probably the best I could hope for so I knew I'd better do something before they got wound up again.

Pretending to be exasperated, which wasn't really that much of a stretch, I reached under my blouse and pushed the bra strap off my left shoulder and then reached under the sleeve to pull it down and over my arm. THAT shut the rest of them up for a moment but then the murmur started again as I reached under the other side and repeated it for the strap on that side. Reaching into my all but unbuttoned blouse, I twisted the bra around me until the snaps were in front and undid the two hooks that were keeping it together, allowing me to pull the bra out from my blouse in one swift motion like a magician pulling a rabbit out of a hat.

For a brief moment my left boob fell out but I quickly readjusted the blouse to cover myself again. Not that it had anything being as sheer as it was, but at least I was technically covered so nobody could claim I was being indecent in public. OK, so maybe if there was a family there the parents might not like their kids seeing my breasts outlined with my dark nipples clearly outlined through the sheer fabric. Then again, who would bring their kids to a place like this in the first place, at least this late at night?

"Give it up!" the waitress said, reaching for my bra, apparently intending to add it to their collection.

Well, I wasn't about to let Miss Bitch have my expensive bra, so I handed it to Beth who thankfully put it in her purse which she had fortunately brought along with her. The crowd didn't seem too pleased to be robbed of their prize, but they seemed to quickly forget it as I saw umpteen sets of eyes glued to my chest. It was easy to see why as what was intended to be an erotic blouse showing off my lingerie was now the moral equivalent of a peep show.

I just shook my head and smiled. This wasn't a strip club after all, so there were limits to what you could do without getting in trouble. A quick flash and a naughty blouse were one thing but taking off my top could become a whole different ballgame.

"You knew about this, didn't you?" I said accusingly to Beth with a bit of a grin that was meant to take the edge off.

"Well duh... just be glad I brought my purse with or that fancy thing would be hanging from the ceiling now," she retorted.

With the show over, if you could call it that, things seemed to calm down a bit while another round of drinks was brought. I was even starting to get a little bored but then I should have had more faith in Beth...

5. Upping the Ante

"You horny yet?"

Beth leaned back after whispering in my ear with a playful grin. I could tell she was getting a little restless with all the coy talk and teasing. Something told me SHE was the one who was horny, but it wasn't like she was the only one. God, it had been a long time since I'd gone out and done anything like this and so I was ready to step things up notch or two... or ten.

By now we had each been each flanked by a couple of the bolder guys who had brought their chairs up right next to ours. They each had one arm around us leaving the other to do whatever - which in this case meant doing their best to feel us up under the table. It didn't take long before I felt a hand on my thigh. Boy, he wasn't even going to start at the knee like most men do, trying to be subtle. No, this guys went straight for my mid-thigh which was exposed as I had my outside leg next to him slung over my other knee, letting the slit in my skirt give him easy access.

I didn't say a word, or make any other response for that matter, letting him take my silence for acquiescence which he readily did. Looking over, I saw Beth's new friend was doing much the same, except in her case her skirt was so short most of her leg was showing without having to slip through a slit.

It was the same old game every guy and girl have played probably since the beginning of time. I bet some ancient cave man use to sit next to his cave girl and try to see how far up her animal skin he could get before she pushed him away. The fun part for me was to see how bold he would get if I just ignored him, pretending I didn't even notice what he was doing by carrying on a conversation with Beth and the other guys while he groped me practically right out in the open.

"I bet my guy finds out I'm not wearing panties before yours does," I said into Beth's ear, covering my mouth with my hands so nobody could tell what I was saying to her.

Beth glanced down at my lap where she could see the guy's hand had disappeared now under my skirt as he was moving more to the soft inside of my thigh. Her guy had most of his hand under her hemline now, meaning he wasn't all that far from his destination. Hmmmmmm, it was going to be a close call no matter who "won".

"OK... You're on," she said back, not bothering to hide what she was saying, leaving everyone to undoubtedly wonder what we were discussing between ourselves.

We didn't have to discuss the bet, it was all just for honor anyway. We'd played similar games before and had long since established the rules, the most important being you couldn't "help" - no words of encouragement, using your hands, opening your legs, or anything like that. He had to do it all on his own - whatever "it" may turn out to be.

Actually, most guys lost their nerve when it came to groping a girl's pussy in public, especially in a group like this. Had we been in a booth or someplace more private it would be a different story but here it didn't take all that much for anyone to see what was happening below the table top. Most guy were all talk but not so brave when it came down to it unless they were really drunk.

My guy had tried to get over the top of my leg but that was difficult with my legs crossed as they were so he tried a different strategy. This time he started to reach UNDER my upper leg, sliding his hand between my upper thigh and the chair bottom. It would have been a lot easier for him had I just shifted my weight enough to take the pressure off his hand but I knew Beth was keeping tabs on me as much as I was on her and she would cry foul if I did anything so blatant.

Beth's guy seemed to having the same problem, which was made even more difficult as Beth's legs were a bit heavier than mine. He seemed to be abandoning his quest for her crotch in favor of a flanking maneuver, running his hand up more on her hip than towards the middle. The fault in this maneuver, at least so far as the bet between Bath and me was concerned, was that she could be wearing a high-cut thong which meant he would have to reach way up her dress to be sure if she was wearing any panties or not.

God, was this guy EVER going to just DO it? It was hard to sit like this pretending like nothing was happening, talking to people about some inane subject while Mr. Hand was working his way up and under my leg. His fingers were almost there now, past the tops of my hose and the urge to lean over just a little to help him make this final move was almost irresistible. Still, I wasn't going to let Beth win by default, not when I was so clearly in the lead. Hey, it was my honor at stake!

Bingo! I felt a light brush as his finger tentatively made contact with my pussy. Well, if nothing else he knew I wasn't wearing anything over it! With my victory in hand, literally, I nudged Beth who frowned and pushed her guy away as he wasn't making any real headway in the first place. As for me, enough was enough so I shifted myself in the chair such that his hand was no longer under me. It was then I acknowledged him for the first time, looking over at him and smiling naughtily.

"Did you find what you were looking for?"

He seemed to be a little bit embarrassed but he maintained his composure and replied, "Actually I didn't... but that's OK."

You had to give him credit, he was pretty quick. I looked at Beth and she nodded. No words were needed when you knew the other person as well as we knew each other. Play time was over. It was time to separate the men from the boys - literally. I saw her lean to say something to the guy who had been feeling her up and I took her cue to do the same with mine. I knew what she was saying as we'd both played this game before.

"Isn't there somewhere we can go where you can see what else you can find – or not?"

At first I think he couldn't believe that I'd actually said that. I suppose after chasing after girls for who knows how many nights in his life, only to be teased mercilessly and left with nothing to do but masturbate later about what MIGHT have happened, this must have been like a wet dream come true. Admittedly, I'd done such things to guys myself many an evening, leading him on, letting him buy me things and take me places, only to leave him behind with his dick all hard and horny. Sorry guys, it's a girl's world out there!

"Yeah... sure," he finally stammered back. Then he noticed his friend next to Beth motioning to him and the two of them got up to talk between themselves. I grinned at Beth and asked her what she'd said to him.

"I asked him if he wanted to fuck me... sheesh Kelly, what else would I be asking him?"

That's my Beth. Why be subtle when you can be outrageous? I just shook my head but then why should I be surprised. It's not like it was the first time she'd used that line. After all, why change horses when you have something that works every time?

Typically when we went out like this we would trade off between a few guys, teasing and flirting and just having a good time with some harmless fun. For the price of a few gropes and wandering hands, we didn't pay a thing and everyone did everything for us – not a bad deal in my book.

Tonight, however, it was obvious Beth had other things in mind. I guess she figured if she couldn't talk me into going to one of her sex parties, then the next best thing would be to make one of our own. She wasn't joking when she said earlier that she was going to get me laid! Then again, when it comes to planning for sex, Beth never jokes, at least not seriously.

6. Driving to the Hotel

Now that we had our two "willing participants", there wasn't much need to hang around. Beth grabbed her purse – with my bra safely tucked away (she wasn't about to give it back to me yet). We looked at the guys, waiting for them to get moving, until finally they seemed to understand that we were serious! I couldn't blame them. How many times had they been teased in the past by girls like us, only to be dumped at the last second while they laughed and walked away? Well. these guys must have thought they had hit the lottery as they high- fived it with their friends, all of whom were staring at Beth and me, undoubtedly wishing now that they'd been the ones with the balls to approach us first.

We went outside where it had chilled considerably, reminding me that my jacket was still in Beth's car. It was then everyone seemed to come to the same realization at the same time - where the heck were we going? No way they were coming back to my house - not with Kristen lying in wait for some unsuspecting guy to walk into her lair. Beth was still with her parents so THAT was totally out of the question. As for the guys, who knew? For that matter, I didn't even know their names, let alone anything about their living arrangements.

"I'm Kelly by the way," I said to the guy who had been feeling me up just a few minutes before. He seemed embarrassed that I had to be the one to start the introductions and he quickly said his name was Tim and then introduced his friend as Matt. Beth then gave them her first name so at least we could call each other by name now.

Apparently neither of them had actually thought they actually had a realistic chance in hell of talking a girl home tonight because they both hemmed and hawed about going to their places. For all I knew they may be living with their parents or whatever. They looked to be in their upper twenties at least so at least I was confident they weren't living in a dorm room! Still, for whatever reason they weren't exactly forthcoming about their living arrangements - not that Beth and were either but then we were the girls so we didn't have to. This sort of thing was the guy's responsibility so far as I was concerned.

"So are you guys too cheap for a decent hotel room or what?" Beth finally burst out, obviously a little perturbed at the delay tactics.

Matt looked at Tim and shrugged his shoulders as if to say, "Why not?" Tim seemed to be the one more in charge though.

"Hey I'm freezing here so can somebody just DO something?" I huffed, my arms wrapped around me trying to keep warm in my flimsy blouse. God, my nipples were poking out like spikes through my blouse from the chill.

Eventually it got worked out where I would ride with Tim in his car to the hotel while Matt would drive Beth's car behind us. We'd settled on the Sheraton at Station Square. On the map it wasn't that far away but with the roads and such in this part of town, it would take a bit of doing to get there, maybe fifteen or twenty minutes at least.

Beth's car was on the opposite side of the building as Tim's so Beth gave me a kiss on the lips while the guys stared and then she and Matt headed for her car while I went along with Tim to find his. He hit the button on his key and the lights ahead of us flashed on. Wow, it was this big white pickup truck decked out with fancy big wheels. It must have been a 4-wheel drive from how high it stood off the ground and for a moment I thought about how I was going to climb up without revealing my bare ass but then caught myself and almost laughed out loud. Like, why would I NOT want to flash him?

Tim at least opened the door for me as I grabbed the handle and pulled myself in, making sure to lean over so he could verify for himself now that wasn't wearing any panties. If he noticed (how could he NOT?), then he didn't say anything but I was pretty sure he did. It was chilly in the cab so I was hoping he would hurry and get the thing started so I could warm up. My coat was in Beth's car but I had assumed it would be OK to go a few more minutes without it rather than traipse all over the parking lots. Maybe that was a bad decision!

The first thing I noticed was that the truck had a bench seat in it! Wow, I hadn't been in a car with a bench seat in ages. Then again, I don't ride in many trucks, my dad's SUV being the closest usually, so I wasn't sure how many had bench seats without a console in the center. Hmmmmmm, this quick trip might be better than I'd imagined.

Tim climbed in on his side and started up the truck with a loud roar. It must have been a diesel from the way it sounded like a semi-truck, another first for me come to think of it.

"Sorry, it needs to warm up a second," he apologized, looking over at me, "diesel and all, you know."

Actually, I didn't know but who cared. All I knew was that the truck wasn't the only thing that needed warming up. It was a little odd in that as chilly as I was on the outside, I was feeling hot and horny as hell on the inside. Well, I might not be able to warm the truck up any faster, but I knew how to take my mind off the chill... "So Tim, did you enjoy feeling me up in there?" I asked in as sultry a voice as I could muster, moving over closer to him on the seat while tucking my legs up and under me with my feet on the seat.

If anything, my teasing question embarrassed Tim which I thought was rather sweet. Better that reaction than some macho response from a guy with a huge ego. Reaching over, I put my hand on his crotch and I could feel the bulge of his dick plainly under his jeans.

"Now it's MY turn to do the exploring... is that OK with you Tim?"

Like he was going to say "no"? Not hardly. Actually he didn't say anything, just a sharp intake of air when I grabbed the bulge with my hand, finally getting my first handful of his dick, even if it was through the fabric of his jeans.

"Mmmmmmm, do you want me Tim?" I asked softly, more a rhetorical question as I already knew the answer. "Well... I want your dick... now."

Cute. He seemed startled when I started to unzip his jeans, pulling it all the way down and then attacking his buckle. It gave me a little resistance but nothing I couldn't overcome and soon I was undoing his jeans, opening them up until I could see his grey boxer shorts underneath. With his jeans out of the way, that enticing bulge was even more noticeable. Poor Tim was just staring down at my hands, probably not sure if this was real, a dream, or some sort of cruel prank where I was going to leave him high and dry after teasing him.

Rubbing his cock through his underwear with the palm of my hand, I grinned at him and then looked back down at his crotch. Tim hadn't moved an inch, mesmerized by this unexpected "Dear Penthouse" moment. If anything, his reaction just got me all the more turned on. It's a lot more fun to surprise a guy who maybe has never experienced this sort of attention than some egotistical "lady's man" who thinks he is God's gift to women.

Tim was undoubtedly a few years older than me but in some ways he seemed younger, almost naive. Next I pulled the elastic band of his shorts down so the top was about half way down his dick, exposing him finally to my hungry eyes - and his as well. I could feel him shifting uncomfortably in his seat now as the truck idled away. Any thoughts he may have had of driving off seemed to have disappeared, for the moment at least. Feeling naughty, I gripped the shaft in my hand, feeling the warmth of his wonderful dick against my palm as my fingers wrapped around it.

"Mmmmmmm, you have a nice dick Tim," I complimented him, "But I bet you hear that from all the girls, don't you?"

"Ummmmm, well..." he stammered. Of course I already knew he had NOT heard such things based on his reactions so far but it just made it all the more fun to tease him a little.

"Do you mind if I suck your dick Tim?" I asked, trying to sound like I really WAS asking him.

I may as well have asked him if he wanted to keep breathing as there was no way he was ever going to say no. No guy ever does. He didn't answer right away so I asked again saying, "I really DO want to suck it, is that OK with you?"

"You mean here?... Now?" he finally got out in a voice maybe an octave higher than before.

"Why not?" I asked innocently, as if sucking his cock in the middle of a public parking lot was just something normal that I did every day. Well, for ME I guess it was.

"But what if someone sees us?"

Yeah right, sitting what felt like ten feet off the ground, who was going to see us without a step ladder? Even if someone did notice something was going on, they wouldn't see my blonde head in his lap.

Enough was enough, I really DID want to suck him so before anything else could happen I leaned over and laid down on the bench seat with my head over his crotch and quickly took his dick in my mouth before he really knew what was happening. Holding the elastic down, I was able to take most of his smooth shaft in my mouth without even trying very hard. He was maybe six inches or so, nothing spectacular but not the smallest I'd sucked by any means.

"Oh my god!" he gushed, stiffening up as I sucked hard on his cock which was now engulfed in my mouth.

Just then a car horn sounded lightly next to us and I recognized it as Beth's car. I couldn't see for sure but Tim's reaction cleared up any doubt. He tried to push my head off his lap but I wasn't letting go of his dick now that I finally had it. Face it, when a girl has a guy's cock in her mouth, between her teeth, it doesn't leave him with a lot of leverage to work with.

"It's Matt and Beth!" he hissed at me, "We have to go!"

I wondered if Beth was doing anything like this to Matt but then in her little car with the large console and small seats, it would have required some pretty good gymnastics moves for her to be sucking Matt's dick. No doubt she'd resigned herself to waiting for the hotel room. I bet she knew exactly what I was doing now though, and I felt good knowing she was probably more than a little jealous at the moment. Well, served her right for putting me in this situation in the first place!

I took my mouth off of him just long enough to respond by saying, "So what? Do you need your dick to drive?"

It was at moment I think when it hit him that I intended to suck him off while we were driving to the hotel. For goodness sakes, isn't this like every guy's fantasy... to be sucked off while he drives down the road? You would think he would be pushing me to do it all the more, not trying to get me to stop.

"I don't fucking believe this is happening," I heard him mumble to himself as he put it in gear and pulled out from the space where he had backed in earlier.

Meanwhile, I was enjoying the taste of Tim's cock in my mouth. Mmmmmmm, it had been a long time since I'd had strange dick. While Randy and I weren't exclusive, we went out so much that I simply didn't have time to see many other guys. Of course I had a few close friends that I kept in touch with, literally, but they were just fuck buddies, arrangements we had worked out a long time ago. End result was I could hardly remember the last time I had fucked a total stranger's dick, especially in a situation such as this. Mmmmmmm, I DID need to get out more, just like Beth was trying to tell me.

Trying to suck Tim's dick while he navigated the turns and twists of the roads in this part of town was a bit of a harrowing experience at times but he put his hand on my back to help me from being tossed off the seat during some of the sharper turns and quick stops. He wasn't saying a word but I could tell from the occasional moan and groan, or the way he would jump just a little when my tongue hit just the right spot, that he was enjoying himself.

After a bit I had a feeling we weren't too far away so my goal became to see if I could make him cum before we got there - not the easiest task when a guy's attention is diverted from his crotch at times, no matter what is going on down there. From the speed he was driving we must have been in the Station Square area so I redoubled my efforts.

Just a quick note... When it comes to cock sucking, like fucking, how and what you do depends a lot on what your goal or purpose is at the time. I don't always just want to make him cum as soon as possible, what's the fun in that? If I'm on a couch with a guy, watching a movie or TV show, I love to just suck lightly on his dick, squeezing it at the base to keep him in control.

The ultimate is to have him right on the verge of cumming but manage to just keep him from going over the edge to where the precum is flowing liberally but he doesn't quite make it all the way. Mmmmmmm, delicious and it drives the guy absolutely insane. Still, there ARE time when speed is of the essence, like now, so I have to change my entire technique to where I concentrate on the things that he responds to, the things that make him squirm uncontrollably, the things that make him gasp involuntarily or beg for more.

Despite my best efforts, Tim was putting the truck in gear before I had him cumming and for a moment, I thought he intended to make us both get out without reaching the finish line. Now THAT would have sucked – no pun intended.

"I want you to cum in my mouth Tim," I encouraged him. It was more than just a simple request. I knew men LOVED me to say that to them when I sucked them and I was pretty sure Tim proved to be no exception. Indeed, it seemed to do exactly what I had intended – give him that last little shove to make him fall off the cliff edge.

"Oh fuck!" he gasped as he put his hands on my head and pushed my face into his crotch. It was a good sign, if a somewhat uncomfortable one, at least for me.

The first shot of cum struck the back of my mouth, flowed by another and then yet another. Mmmmmmm, it tasted wonderful, despite all the beer he'd been drinking earlier. I clamped my kips down hard on his shaft, right below the ridge of the head of his dick, letting it act as a seal to keep his cum from leaking past my lips. Over and over he shot one load of cum after another into my mouth, like some sort of sperm machine gone wild.

Finally he stopped, well that is with a few minor aftershocks that he couldn't control later while I suckled on his now shrinking dick.. I let some of it drool out of my mouth so it dribbled down his shaft and then bobbed on his dick again to suck it clean. Each time I did that I could feel him shudder from the sexual pleasure I was giving him.

"Of fuck, that was incredible!" he sighed. Then he jumped as there was a knock on the driver's window. I looked up, feeling a little bit of cum hanging down from my chin. There was Matt, grinning from ear to ear.

"Oh crap, he sees you," Tim said, sounding a little anxious.

"So?" I questioned, "I bet he just wishes HE was the one with his cum in my mouth right now."

Sitting up, I tried to wipe the cum that was on my chin into my mouth while Matt just stared at me through the window. I didn't see Beth but then from my angle she could have been right next to the truck and I never would've seen her.

Looking at Tim, I grinned and asked, "So tell me Tim, did you enjoy the drive over here?"

"Oh fuck, that was the most incredible blowjob I've EVER had," he sighed long and hard. "I never dreamed anything like this would ever happen to me."

He had this dreamy look in his eyes get always seem to get after they have cum especially hard and it was almost like he was in a trance. He just sat there with his pants open and his shrunken dick now flaccid in his lap, covered with my spit and his cum.

A rap on the window and there was Matt and Beth, looking in this time and there was no way they could've mistaken what had been going on with me sitting up now, wiping my face with the back of my hand. Tim quickly pulled up his shorts and did his jeans which just made the two of them outside laugh as it was obvious as well as to what Tim was doing, even if they couldn't get an angle to see down into the truck cab.

Tim got out and I scooted over to get out on the same side. As I slid down my skirt pulled up to my waist and before I could pull it down, Matt got a good look at what was underneath - or rather wasn't. Of course, it's not Like I rushed all that hard to pull it down either. He ribbed Tim and said something to him I couldn't quite make out but I had a good idea what it must have been about. Meanwhile, Beth had been thoughtful enough to bring me my jacket. She helped me put it on from behind and I could hear her whisper into my ear.

"You nasty little slut... couldn't wait until we drove fifteen minutes, had to suck him on the way over, didn't you?"

Grinning, I turned my head to her and replied, "You're just jealous that you got stuck in the tiny car and couldn't do his cock for yourself."

She didn't have to answer, the sly grin on her face spoke more than any words could. Beth loved to suck cock too... maybe not as much as I did but then I LOVED sucking dick whereas Beth preferred to get down to fucking as soon as possible. She could eat a girl for hours (trust me, I know) but when it came to sucking dick, it was almost like she did it just enough to get him rock hard so he could fuck her more than anything else.

We headed for the lobby, the guys walking ahead of us while Beth and I held each other's arms as we walked a few paces behind them. I guess you could forgive the guys, it wasn't like we were their dates or anything yet at the same time, I expected a little more respect than a whore would get. By the time we got to the lobby though, we had caught up with them and I grabbed Tim's arm, whether he wanted me to or not.

At the desk, it was a bit comical as neither of them had appeared to have given much thought as to how to handle this once they got there. It might have been easier had the clerk been a guy but instead it was an older lady who clearly had me and Beth pegged from the moment we stepped up to the counter.

"Ummmmm... we need a room," Tim said. The woman looked at him, than at the rest of us, and then back at him again.

"How many nights?"

"For how many?" she asked.

It was obvious from the snotty tone of her voice that she was just being a little bitch. Now if it had been a guy, he would have not said anything and arranged for a single room, knowing what the story was here. It's not like it wasn't obvious what we were there for.

"Well, the four of us," Tim answered, looking at the rest of us as if he was expecting someone to say something different.

"Two double beds or a king size?"

Now she was just taunting him. In the end, did it matter? Well, not to me and Beth but I had a feeling already that these guys were not the most experienced in the world and to throw us all on one bed, no matter how big, might cause some serious performance issues with them being so close to one another. Thus the answer was obvious - double bed, and she knew it, or at least she should have known unless she was a complete idiot. On the contrary, she seemed to know exactly what she was doing, the bitch.

"Two double bed... you have a problem with that?" I snapped at her.

She seemed a little taken aback by that and stopped her little teasing routine. Sheesh, all we wanted was room to have some fun in, not negotiate an international treaty or something. I didn't care what was in the room so long, just so long as we got the key fast.

Tim had to have his credit card swiped and then the woman finally handed over two room keys.

"Will two keys be enough, sir?"

At that point even Tim had had enough and he just grabbed the keys and pulled me towards the elevators. Once we were all inside, Matt pushed the button for our floor and the doors closed, serving as a signal for Beth to get things started early herself. She reached down into Matt's pants and smiled wickedly at him, then at me and then back at Matt again.

"Sorry I couldn't suck you off on the way over her like my friend did to yours. Can I make it up to you now?"

By then we were already at our floor but mission accomplished. I could see Beth was a little more happy with herself for having at least made an attempt – not to mention the looks Matt and Tim were exchanging as we stepped out of the elevator and went to our room.

As we stepped into the room, I grabbed Beth by the ass and squeezed. Yep, this was going to be interesting if the trip getting over here was any indication.

7. Teasing the Boys

Once in the room I took a quick look around to scope it out. It was pretty much your standard hotel room with the requested two double beds. A small bathroom was off the side as you came in with a mirrored closet opposite of it. A large flat screen TV was mounted on the dresser to the side of another large mirror on the wall. There was a small desk with what looked to be a comfortable chair along with a stuffed chair closer to the heater/air conditioning unit. The beds had the typical ugly covers (who picks out these fashion monstrosities anyway?) with headboards mounted to the wall instead of being freestanding. A central nightstand had a phone and clock and that was about it. I guess I was expecting a little more from a Sheraton but then again, I doubted we were paying for a deluxe room either. Oh well, did it really matter? It's not like we were staying here on vacation.

There was a short period of awkward silence. It was easy to tell that both guys were feeling a little uneasy which in a way made me feel better than if they seemed like this was just another night at the hotel with two girls. I wondered if it had struck them yet that this was REALLY happening and not just some wet dream they'd fantasized about since they were teenagers. Well, if anything Tim shouldn't have any doubts after what I'd just done to him!

Unlike the guys, Beth and I had plenty of experience with this sort of situation. Actually I probably had more "hotel" experience than she did but so far as finding yourself with two guys you had never met before, ready and willing to fuck you... THAT was something she had probably more experience than me. We both looked at each other and grinned. Between the two of us, the guys never had a chance.

I suppose the guys wouldn't have minded if we had just stripped and laid on the bed on our backs with our legs spread, beckoning them to jump on top and fuck us. Yeah right! Not gonna happen - at least not yet. After all, at least half the fun in this type of situation is what you do BEFORE you get fucked.

While I loved getting laid as much as the next girl - or guy, I also loved the teasing and erotic foreplay that went before it. If a guy just wants to fuck someone, I tell him to hire a whore. I may be a slut but I'm no whore. If there is one thing I learned from my brief but illustrious escorting career back in college, if I'm going to let some guy get off with me, it's going to be on MY terms.

Beth and I took off our coats without a word but then Beth turned to them and put her arm around me with her hand firmly planted on my butt.

"Why don't you boys take a seat and relax a bit... Kelly and I need to take care of a few things first."

Now honestly I had no idea exactly what Beth meant by it so needless to say, neither did the guys but they weren't in any position to question her so they dutifully sat down with Tim taking the desk chair while Matt sunk down in the other. They exchanged glances and I'm sure they both had to be wondering what Beth and I needed to do first that was so important. It didn't take long for any of us to find out.

"Let's give them a show," Beth whispered to me with her head turned so they couldn't even see she was saying anything to me. I could see the look in her eyes and I knew she was horny as hell. Well, make that two of us. God, it had been so long since I'd done anything like this I'd almost forgotten the thrill of having two strangers watching me.

Well, it wasn't take long for the feelings it inspired to rise up in me again. In the back of my mind some little voice was warning me what happened when I got this horny but I wasn't in any mood to pay any attention to it. Instead, I turned to Beth and we faced each other with my arms around her neck and hers around my waist as we started to kiss and fondle each other. It didn't take but a few seconds for Beth to reach under my skirt and grab my bare ass with both hands and squeeze my butt, letting the guys get a peek of my bare ass as my skirt draped over her hands.

Meanwhile, I'd dropped my arms down to grab onto her tight dress at her hips and tug it up until it was bunched up around her waist with everything else below now open to the cool air in the room - and the eyes of the two guys staring at us like they'd never seen two girls playing with each other. Then again, maybe they hadn't...

Beth released her grip on my butt and started to unbutton what few buttons were still done on my blouse, then pushing it off my shoulders and down my arms. I let it drop to the floor, standing there now in just my skirt and heels as she tugged the top of her dress down and over her breasts such that her dress was now completely bunched around her waist. We kissed again as our breasts pressed against one another's, again gripping the other's butt as our tongues met.

Glancing over at the guys, it was like they were frozen, not moving a muscle or saying a word as if they were afraid of breaking whatever spell had come over us. Actually, I'd of been happy had they been jerking off but other than the obvious signs under their pants, they had their hands on the arms of their chairs.

"Lay down," Beth whispered to me in a voice so low I barely heard her.

Beth maneuvered me to the end of bed where I sat down and scooted back until my knees were at the edge with my legs hanging down. Acting as though nobody else was in the room with us, Beth pushed my knees apart and got down on her own knees, using her two hands to spread my pussy apart.

"Mmmmmmm, you look so delicious tonight," she purred as she lowered her head to my crotch and didn't waste another second before she had her tongue planted on my clit.

I leaned back, holding myself up with my hands planted on the bed behind me as I looked down to see her head moving between my bare thighs. The skirt was sort of in the way but at the same time, I thought it added an element of eroticism more so than had I been nude. My breasts were rising and falling as I tried to breath despite the incredible sensations that jolted me each time Beth used her tongue and lips to nail my clit and pussy in just the right way. My poor nipples were so hard they almost hurt as they poked out. Once again I was amazed at what an incredible pussy-licker Beth was. It's not like she and I did it together all that much so I figured she must have gotten lots of practice at her sex parties she loved so much.

"Oh yeah, just like that!" I moaned loudly as I felt my orgasm rising in me.

It rapidly consumed me and my arms were simply too weak to hold me up so flopped onto my back as Beth held my thighs down with her hands as she continued to play with her mouth on my pussy.

"Oh god!" I groaned as I felt like I was going to explode but in a good way.

My hands gripped the comforter as I tried to keep from pushing her head away. It was such a crazy feeling, like I had to make her stop before I went crazy but at the same I would have died if she HAD stopped with me feeling like this. I could feel myself cumming on her face, almost like I was peeing on her, covering her face with my pussy cum as she lapped it up like a thirty kitten at a bowl of warm milk.

As my orgasm began to dwindle, Beth straightened her back, gripping her right breast in her hand as she leaned forward and rubbed my wet crotch with it. Damn... when her hard nipple would touch my clit it was like I was ready to cum all over again! After rubbing that one for a while, she switched to the as she lifted the first breast to her mouth, sucking on her now pussy cum-covered nipple. With her face all wet from my pussy and now her boobs covered as well, she looked like such a slut!

Beth stood up and I was hoping she would get in bed next to me so I could return the favor. We both still had our heels on like two sluts in some cheap porn movie and other than that, it was just whatever we still had around our waists. I guess I should have taken off my skirt but it just seemed naughtier somehow to leave it on. Beth must have felt the same about her dress as she was making no moves to taking it off either.

"OK boys, she's ready... so who's gonna fuck my best friend first?"

So much for THAT idea. Beth was indeed making sure this was a night I would remember! Seeing the look on the two guys' faces, I had a pretty good feeling that it would be one they wouldn't soon forget either.

8. Everyone Finally Gets What They Want

So after a night of teasing and fooling around, it was finally time to get serious and do what we all wanted - fucking. Sure I loved blowing Tim on the way over to the hotel, but in the end what I really wanted was his dick in me - and I'm sure he felt the same way. As for Beth, it wasn't even worth debating as I knew she wanted it badly - and probably just wished there were more guys to do her. As for the guys... silly question.

For a moment I almost laughed as the two guys debated over who was going to fuck me first. Tim was claiming that I was "his" girl", even though we'd never even seen each other until a couple of hours earlier. Matt was taking the position that since Tim had already gotten off once from me sucking his dick in the truck that it was his turn to even the score.

Evidently who I might want to fuck me first wasn't anyone's concern. I suppose so far as I was concerned it really didn't matter as I had little doubt that both of them would before the night was over - probably more than once. Neither of them meant anything more to me personally so what difference did it make who fucked me first? Well, from the way they were going at it, it must have made a LOT of difference to them!

"Will you guys just shut up and strip?" Beth finally broke in sounding quite exasperated, "Whoever doesn't fuck her is going to fuck me so what the hell difference does it make?"

For a moment I couldn't help but be a little curious now as to how this would settle out. Who would want which of us first? If you were after big boobs and heftier ass, Beth was your girl. I wasn't exactly perky like my cousin, but closer to her than Beth when it came to bust size and shape. I was pretty proud of my ass as well but I guess that depended on a guy's taste. Some guys go for the small tight ass while others seem to prefer something more substantial.

Somehow I missed what they had determined or else they just quite debating it because they were now stripping off their clothes as fast as they could. I was a little pleased to see that Tim was the one to walk towards me. I guess I had a bit of a soft spot in my heart for him compared to Matt seeing how I'd just sucked his cock and all.

Matt started to approach Beth but she motioned for him to get on the other bed where she practically tackled him and pushed him on his back so she could get started on his dick. It was like she was somehow starving for his cock from the way she devoured him! Not that he was complaining.

Meanwhile, Tim was climbing on the bed and I just laid there as he moved between my legs and assumed a classic missionary position. Interesting... most guys seem to watch so much porn now they expect the girl to start out on top and then finish in this position. Personally, I sort of like that myself as it allows me to take control at the beginning until I get use to his cock and then have him drive himself in to me as he reaches his own orgasm.

"Ummmmm, are you sure this is OK?" he asked me as he held his dick in his hand, seeming to hesitate before he put it any closer to my pussy.

Sheesh, what a stupid question! After everything so far did he somehow think I might still be some virginal school girl who he had to ask before he fucked her?

"Will you just shut up and fuck me," I replied, trying not to laugh at his hesitation.

I noticed he never mentioned a condom, nor did I see any indication that he intended to use one. Well, it wasn't like I thought he was the type that slept around a lot. If anything, I was beginning to wonder if the poor guy was getting any pussy at all! At his age, I was figuring around thirty maybe, he surely had to be somewhat experienced yet here he was acting like a teenage boy about to get laid for the first time.

I glanced over and saw that Beth was finally get her own pussy licked as she had moved into a 69 over Matt's face. He had both hands on her ass, spreading her butt cheeks apart so he could lick between her thighs as she rocked back and forth over his face while she sucked his dick. I then felt something pushing between my legs and I looked down over my boobs and stomach where I could see Tim trying to get his dick into place. As wet as I was from Beth's earlier ministrations, it wasn't that hard for him to get it started into me.

"That's it... push it in me... fuck me Tim, fuck me good."

"Damn you're so tight," he groaned as he pressed his dick harder against my pussy hole, "It won't go in."

"Just push harder dammit, fuck me!" I said, raising my hips off the bed a bit to give him a better angle at my pussy.

That seemed to help because suddenly it was like he just popped into me, about half his dick just disappeared inside of me. Another thrust and he had most of it in me and then one final one drove him all the way in. I could feel his thick pubic hair smashed against my bare crotch and I knew he was in me as far as he reasonably go.

"God your pussy feels so good on me," he groaned as he just twisted himself in me, rotating his hips to run his dick around inside my pussy.

"Fuck me... fuck me Tim... fuck me," I chanted over and over again as I closed my eyes and focused on nothing but his hard dick which he was now stroking in and out of me like a stream-driven locomotive piston.

Damn, it seemed like it had been ages since I'd felt this way. This was sex for the sake of sex. There was nothing personal or intimate between me and the guy fucking me. It was just pure sex where all I had to worry about and think about was

MY pleasure. Beth had been so right in that this was exactly what I'd needed so badly after everything that had been going in my life lately.

My legs suddenly went up and I felt his hands around my ankles as he lifted them high overhead, keeping them straight as he rocked me back onto my shoulders with my ass off the bed as he rammed his dick into me even deeper than before. I would roll back and forth as he pushed his cock in and out of me, never stopping for even a moment to catch his breath which I could hear loudly now as he gasped for air.

I turned my head to see Beth was riding his dick, her ass facing his face as he had his hands planted on her ample butt as she pumped his cock. She had her feet flat on the bed beside his hips with her knees bent, bouncing up and down on his cock, landing hard on him each time and rebounding upward again. She had her hands on her thighs, trying to keep her balance on the soft bed. Her face was red and I wondered how long she could keep it up before she was exhausted.

"Shit, you wouldn't believe how tight this cunt is," Tim replied loudly.

I assumed he was referring to my pussy and not me when he used that word. I don't know why, but there is just something about the word "cunt" that turns me off. Whores have cunts, sluts have pussies. At least that's how I like to think about it.

"Will you look at this ass?" Matt came back, "God damn, this bitch can really fuck!"

Why do guys think they have to call girls names to appear macho, assuming that is why they do it? Beth may be a slut, a nymph, a lez or just easy, but she wasn't a bitch. Oh well, from the looks of things she didn't care so why should I?

This went on a while and when Tim pulled out of me and started to get me to roll over, Matt must have seen him and asked, "Hey, ready to switch yet?"

Tim seemed to hesitate but then he looked at Beth and her evil grin as she motioned for him to come on over. She rolled off Matt's dick and got on all fours, her bare pussy revealed in all its splendor between her legs as she faced away from us.

"Come on Tim, you can fuck me in the ass if you want," she teased.

For a moment I thought maybe Matt was the one who was going to veto the swap idea but Tim was already off my bed and on his way, leaving me on my stomach with my legs stretched out behind me. The skirt was starting to feel uncomfortable now so I used the opportunity to pull it down and kicked it off onto the floor.

Matt was now next to me and I felt his hand between my thighs as he felt for my pussy. He found my asshole and for a moment it seemed like he might give it a try but I twisted my butt to give him a clear message that it was off limits.

"Not an ass girl like your friend, eh?" he chuckled as he went down lower to find my pussy, pushing his finger in easily.

I didn't reply but instead I just let him go on with what he was doing. He seemed to have gotten the message so there was no need to dwell on it and spoil the mood.

My arms were crossed under my head to support me and I watched as Tim got up on the bed and on his knees behind Beth. She wiggled her hips rather obscenely for him, using one hand to pull her butt cheek over to expose her asshole to him. I knew Beth was more into anal than me. Well, for that matter if she did it at all then she would be automatically more into it than me. Oh well, if she liked it then more power to her.

Matt seemed content for the moment to feel me up as he watched the little show going on next to us. I have to say, it had caught my interest as well. Beth had spit into her hands and was rubbing it into her pink asshole, letting her finger disappear inside of it as she lubed herself up with her own spit. I knew there would be some lotion in the bathroom but she seemed to be satisfied with her own means of preparation.

"Fuck my ass," she demanded as Tim crawled on his knees in closer to her butt.

He lined his dick up as Beth leaned down on her forearms to give him a better view of what he was doing. As hard as his dick was, it still managed to bend a little as he pushed it hard into her asshole. I could have sworn I heard a "pop" then as he entered her, driving his dick into Beth's ass. She buried her head into the pillow in front of her, her hair falling over her face as she groaned and moaned while Tim fucked her ass.

With the initial show over, Mat turned his attention back to me again. He grabbed the pillows and stuffed them under my belly, lifting my bottom up and off the bed so he could get to my pussy better. Pushing on my butt to lift my butt cheeks out of the way, he easily entered me now that my pussy had been stretched out a bit by Tim's earlier invasion.

"So how's my dick compared to Tim's?" was the first thing Matt said to me after he had his cock inside of me and started stroking it.

Really, what can a girl say when a guy asks that question. It's like asking a guy which girl he likes better, you or your girlfriend. Well, if he wants to get laid there's only one right answer to that one! Same goes for a guy asking a girl. Every guy likes to hear that he's the best lover in the world, that his dick is special and makes a girl feel better than any other cock in the world.

Matt fucked me a little while this way but he seemed impatient to switch. Tim was still banging Beth's asshole when Matt pulled out and rolled me over on my side so I was facing the couple fucking in the other bed. He tossed the pillows aside and moved in close to me from behind. Lifting my top leg up, he reached down and guided his cock into me again, this time giving the other two a great view of his dick pumping my pussy.

"Now THIS is how to fuck a horny bitch," Matt said to his friend, "Look at her, she loves being fucked... don't you babe?"

I just grunted and nodded my head as I felt myself being pushed around on the bed as hard as he was thrusting his steel-hard shaft against me.

Meanwhile, Tim was rolling Beth over her back and once again rammed his dick into her ass, only this time being on top of her. Well, it appeared both of them had found something they liked. Matt seemed content to be fucking my pussy though, which was perfectly fine with me as well.

"I'm gonna cum soon," Matt hissed into my ear as he started to thrust even harder than before, as if that were even possible, "I gonna cum on you face... you want that, don't you?"

Actually, that was about the last place I DID want it. Why not stay in my pussy and give it to me where it belonged? If not that, then at least let me take in it between my lips so I could enjoy the feel and taste of his cum as he shoots it into my mouth. Heck, cum on my boobs or stomach or anywhere else besides my face and hair. Is that asking too much?

Apparently so as Matt pulled out and scrambled to get his dick to my face before he couldn't hold back any more. One stream after another of his ropey sperm shot out and landed on my face and head. Oh well, so much for my hair as if it had a chance in hell of surviving the night intact anyway. Fortunately, some of it landed in my open mouth and on my tongue so at least I got to taste and swallow a little of it. Better a little than none I guess.

Matt swung his leg over me and straddled my chest, pushing his dick into my mouth so I could suck whatever remaining cum he might have left. I could feel him shudder as my tongue ran over the back of his slowly dwindling dick, right at that sensitive place most guys have, especially after they've just cum.

"Damn you're good," he complimented me as he involuntarily convulsed as I sucked him clean.

I kept Matt's dick in my mouth, not wanting to let go out of, as I turned just enough to see what was happening a few feet away. Tim was pounding poor Beth's asshole, driving his dick into her like he was trying to find oil or something. She didn't seem to mind as she groaned and moaned herself, reaching up under herself to play with her pussy as she got drilled. I wasn't sure if she had cum before or not as I'd sort of lost track of things while Matt was fucking me.

Suddenly Tim thrust his hips forward and buried his shaft into Beth's ass, holding it there as he seemed to shiver with cold, his ass clenching and then releasing and I knew he as cumming in her ass.

"Oh yeah, fill that ass all the way up," Matt cheered him on as I continued to suck his cock.

It had softened up a bit but wasn't going to go flaccid from the looks of things. If anything, I would swear it was starting to respond and maybe even harden up a little more. Perhaps it was the sight of his friend cumming in Beth's butt that helped, who knows?

After he was finished he pulled out and Beth twisted around to suck his dick clean. Now I may have let my ass be violated a few times in my life when there wasn't much other choice, but I had NEVER sucked the guy's dick after he had fucked me that way. I guess the idea was just a little too gross for me but Beth obviously had no qualms about it as she sucked every drop of cum off Tim's dick. As I sucked Matt into another erection, I felt a little relief that he hadn't done any of that to me.

It took a little while but eventually we both had out man "standing at attention" again. It wasn't as easy had they been ten years younger but then at that age most boys don't even go soft between the first couple of times. This time Beth came over to my bed and laid down on her side to face me as I turned away from Matt and we started to kiss. I tried not to think about where her mouth had just been, hoping that as long as she had been sucking him afterwards that nothing would be left that I wasn't interested in.

This time both guys spooned us from behind as Beth and I kissed and fondled each other, eventually even rubbing each other's clit and nipples as the two of fucked us, and then after a while swapping around.

This was perfection! What more could a girl ask for? My best friend was naked up against me, kissing me and fondling me as I was being fucked b some guy I'd never met before a few hours before? Even when they traded it really didn't matter all that much as I couldn't tell much difference between them anyway. All I cared about to be honest was their dicks in me. They groped and touched the both of us as well, but it as Beth's hands that I enjoyed the most.

After having cum just before, the two of them were lasting longer than before. Heck, for Tim it was actually twice already so it was a small miracle he was even as hard as he was. I guess the situation was enough to keep his dick in the game longer than I would have expected. Eventually the wanted to change positions so Beth and I laid side by side, our inner legs intertwined as the two of the fucked us in standard missionary style. Again, the traded off frequently but just as before, my thoughts were more on the incredible sensations I was feeling than on them as real people.

OK, before anyone asks. I have no idea how many times I came that night in the hotel room. Between Beth's starting round and then the couple of hours of fucking after that, followed by yet another classic Beth pussy licking to finish things off, I must have cum at least six or seven times. Some of them ran close together so whether they were classified as two shorter ones or one longer one I'll leave to those who keep score of such things.

As I mentioned, the night finished with Beth going after my pussy one last time. The two guys were totally spent and had fallen asleep on the bed, actually snoring at times. Beth and I moved over to the other bed where she insisted I had to cum one last time before she would take me home. All I can say is that my pussy must have certainly tasted a lot different than the first time she'd licked me when we first got started! Still, that last time seemed even more special than any the previous ones. It was my best friend finishing off what had been one of the craziest nights I'd had in ages.

Getting up off the bed, I almost fell over as my legs felt wobbly after all they had been through this night. We went into the bathroom to clean up a bit. God, we looked like whores! Well, maybe not whores but like two well-fucked sluts. Well, neither of us would argue THAT. Fortunately we had brought our jackets so even thought our clothes were not in the best of shape, we didn't have to worry about someone wondering what had happened to us. Besides, at 2:00 in the morning, there's not that many people floating around to see you anyway.

It worked out great that Beth had driven over. As we drove off, we looked back at the hotel and Beth said something whimsical about maybe going back for another round. We both laughed as we knew it would be awhile before they were ready to go at it again. What the heck, we still had each other.

9. Back Home Again

Beth just dropped me off at the curb when we got back to my place. I tried to convince her that she should come in and spend what was left of the night with me in my bed. She giggled and for a moment I knew she was tempted but we both knew had she done so that neither of us would get any sleep at all. Not that there was anything wrong with THAT, at least not under the circumstances, but it had been a great evening so there was no need to push it any further. We were both exhausted and frankly, I was feeling pretty satisfied as well, at least sexually.

Despite everything, I still somehow woke up fairly early in the morning. I debated church... for about ten seconds, and then realized there was no way I was going this morning. God, I was SOOOOO tired and sore as well. Heck, it was like doing an evening of exercise when you think about it and I was out of shape. Instead, I just checked out my mail, chatted with a few guys, and spent the rest of the day just being lazy.

Sometime in the afternoon I called Beth to thank her for the "present". Apparently she had found sleep easier than me because she claimed to have slept in past noon! We both giggled and laughed like young teenagers comparing notes after a high school date. She asked me if I was ready to head out again that night and for a scary moment I thought she might be serious but then she burst out laughing.

"God, my ass is SOOOO sore I don't think I could do it anyway," she moaned melodramatically.

I reminded her about why God made pussies but she just laughed at me and I knew she didn't listen at all to what I was trying to say. To be fair, my pussy was a little sore as well from the pounding it had received last night as well but I wasn't about to admit that to Beth.

Kristen, needless to say, was hovering all day, trying to get the details out of me but I found it more fun to tease her with little snippets. Poor girl, she just wanted to get off but then when I thought about how much sex she was getting on a regular basis, "poor girl" didn't seem to apply anymore. Oh well, usually it was her that was doing the bragging about some crazy thing she had done so it was nice to turn the tables for once.

Randy called me later as well, wanting to know how my night with Beth had gone. We had originally been going out together last night until Beth stormed in with her agenda so I had to tell him SOMETHING. It's not like he thinks of me as some virginal school girl but then again, he IS a guy and no matter how promiscuous you know your girlfriend may really be, they always like to think they are the only one. I was king and told him we had just teased boys all night. There was no mention of the hotel room but I think he suspected something. Heck, he knew Beth and that alone was enough for him to think the worst.

After the events of the past few months - and lack of them, it was good to go out and just do whatever came natural again. I doubt I'll do anything like it again, at least not for some time. Still, I smiled when I looked at a photo of Beth and I that I keep on my nightstand. Yep, she's my best friend... forever, and I love her.

(Mar 26) Chapter 210: Randy Gets Greedy

Me (25)
Randy - boyfriend (24)
Kristen - cousin (22)

What do you do when your boyfriend tells you that he wants to have sex with another woman? Well, if you've agreed that you're on in an exclusive relationship you might say why even say anything. However, when the "other woman" is your mother's sister, then things take on a whole new perspective.

1. Dating Randy

Randy and I have been dating since October of last fall, starting back when he surprised me by showing up in church one day out of the blue. He was back home after having been laid off from some sort of computer programming job he'd had somewhere in southern California. We had dated briefly back in high school when he was a junior and I was the older senior girl. One of the reasons I remembered him more than other guys I dated back then was I'd been his "first" girl - a "first" for me as well. After the newness wore off we quit dating and after high school we went our separate ways. I never expected to see him again until that day I practically ran him over as I made my way out after church. Wow, he had certainly grown up - on more areas than one as it turned out!

From the start we agreed that we weren't going to be "exclusive" and never in all the time we've been "dating" have I ever even once considered the possibility of marriage. We've just been the perfect stereotypical "friends with benefits" and so as long as the relationship is mutually beneficial to both of us, I guess that it will continue in one shape or another. When people ask if I have a boyfriend, my typical response is, "Yes, but nothing serious".

Even though we've agreed that seeing other people was ok, the reality is that we pretty much stick with each other and even when we don't it's not something that tends to come up in casual conversation. I've heard a few things from my friends that they've seen Randy messing around with other girls now and then, but so long as he's available when I need him, I'm not complaining. It's not like I don't take advantage of an opportunity when I get one.

Actually, for the most part I've been "faithful" to Randy, whatever that means. There have been times, like a recent night out with my best friend Beth, where I've done some other guys but it's typically just something spur of the moment for fun and nothing "serious".

In some ways, dating Randy today is not all that much different from when we were back in high school. Back then I was the older girl, a senior while he was just a lowly junior. Normally I didn't go out with guys younger than me but Randy was a bit of a nerd back then so it was sort of a challenge for me I guess you could say. Then when I found out he was a virgin that made it even more special since I'd never had sex with a virgin before.

Randy's parents were ultra-conservative and would've undoubtedly had an aneurism had they known some of the things their son was doing with me behind their backs - literally in some cases. I'll never forget the time I coerced him into fucking me out on their porch while his parents were watching TV in the next room. Then there was the time we fucked on his parent's bed while I wore his mom's nightgown. THAT time was especially hot since his older sister caught us but fortunately she didn't tell their parents.

Thus my relationship with Randy is really more about sex than anything else. When we went out it's pretty much a given that we will fuck - or at least that I'll give him a blowjob. Heck, why else go out? We don't share much the same tastes in music, hobbies or much of anything else. I'm sure that if it wasn't for the great sex we would've split apart long ago. The question now is, how long can a relationship last when it's based purely on sex? Well, give me a little more time and I'll tell you! For the moment I don't know but I'm enjoying it while I can.

2. Trying to Understand Men's Needs

There are times when men are so obvious and transparent that it's almost embarrassing to take advantage of them... almost. Men have three basic needs - sex, food and sleep and in that order. A typical guy will sacrifice sleep for food and then food for sex but don't ever expect him to forego sex for food or pass up food just for some sleep.

me, I want him to be focused on ME and not even hint at who else he wishes he was with.

3. Randy Lusts For My Aunt Linda

"You want to fuck who?"

Unbelievable! Here we were laying on his bed, taking advantage of his parents being out for the night, fucking like horny rabbits and out of nowhere my so- called boyfriend comes up with the craziest question he'd ever asked me. Suddenly I went from being engulfed with lust to being so pissed off at him that I just lost it.

"Fuck it, get the hell off of me asshole," I huffed, pushing him with both hands over to the side.

His stiff dick slipped out of my pussy as he flopped over on his back, leaving the two of us panting on the bed on our backs as we lay beside one another.

Sheesh, one second I was just about to orgasm and now the last thing on my mind was sex. I say my mind because apparently the memo hadn't made it to my pussy yet as it continued to throb but I just ignored the traitor. Dammit, I was mad at Randy and even if my body still instinctively craved him, I wasn't about to let him know that.

"You know, it's not that I really care one way or the other that you want to fuck my aunt, but why in the world would you tell me that NOW?" I asked him angrily.

Randy took a breath and slowly let it out before answering. Glancing down, I noticed his dick hadn't gotten the memo yet either as it was still fully erect, all nice and wet from being buried in my horny pussy just moments before. God it looked incredible!

"I don't know... I guess I just thought you would think it was hot for me to say that about her," he finally replied lamely.

All I could do was sigh with frustration. Damn, it was really hard to see his dick all nice and hard, coupled with the unquenchable tingle between my legs, and not want to just jump on it and start grinding on him. Randy was definitely towards the upper end of the scale when it came to the size of dicks I preferred and when he was this stiff and fully extended, it made my whole body quiver just to see it. It was beautiful... nice and wet from having just been in my pussy, the smooth head all enlarged, his pubic hair all thick and curly.

Still, as much as I wanted to pounce on Randy's wonderful cock like a cat on a mouse, there was a principle involved...

"Like I said, I really don't care... that's between you and her. Shit, you're supposed to me fucking ME right now you dope, not thinking about my aunt."

"Well I'm sorry I mentioned her then... c'mon, let's forget I ever said anything and get back to fucking," he suggested, turning on his side and placing his large hand over my warm crotch.

As much as I wanted to pull it into me even tighter, somehow I managed to push it away, trying not to respond to his touch despite the monstrous surge of pleasure I felt when his fingers pressed on my swollen clit. Damn, I really HAD been SO close to cumming and even now, it still wouldn't take much to set me off.

"It's too late now, you've already spoiled the mood," I whined, crossing my arms over my bare breasts like a virgin trying to hide herself.

That may have been what I was SAYING but it certainly wasn't what I was FEELING. It's not like you can suddenly turn these sort of feelings off like a lamp but I knew I could get it any time I wanted it from him so it gave me a little more leverage at the moment to deal with his infraction.

"Soooooo, what is all this about fucking my aunt anyway?"

Randy rolled his eyes and then he grinned at me like a kid eyeing a candy store window. "C'mon Kelly, she's HOT."

"Yeah but what makes you think she would want have sex with you in the first place?"

"Why not? Or am I too old for her?"

Randy chuckled at his lame attempt at humor and this time it was my turn to roll my eyes. It was somewhat my fault in that I should've never told him about my aunt's fondness for the younger boys (matched only by her daughter's similar obsessions). It was probably a good thing I'd never actually told him HOW young they went for but it was enough for him to get a pretty good idea. Still, at 23 he wasn't much more than half my aunt's age so it wasn't like he was some old geezer yet.

"Oh you're horrible!" I came back, trying to sound exasperated with him.

"Hey, I was just saying..."

"That's enough of that, OK?" I broke in before he said something we might both regret.

To be honest, this line of talk wasn't my favorite subject. Sure, I could appreciate a younger boy, or even girl for that matter, but it was more an intellectual exercise for me than sexual attraction. People confuse that all the time about me. Just because I TALK about underage sex and tease men about them doing it doesn't mean that I'm interested in having sex with them myself. The reality is that I've never in my life had sex with a boy under sixteen and even that was when I was fourteen. OK, so there was one time with a sixteen year-old when I was older but that was something special at the time and not really relevant.

Bottom line is that since I turned eighteen I've focused more on men older than me - some significantly older. I've also not been with anyone under eighteen. Sure there have been a few times when I was sorely tempted - my cousin certainly hasn't helped in that regard, but the consequences for my teaching career and my family have always overridden any short term enjoyment I might have had so I've always said no.

Just because I admit to being tempted is no reason for me to feel any shame or remorse. If anything it just shows I'm human. Hey, you can't control your thoughts and feelings. You can't control how your body instinctively responds in every situation which is part of why I say that it's OK to fantasize about ANYTHING.

What really matters, and what people SHOULD be held accountable for, is how they ACT. If a guy gets an erection watching young girls at a playground, he can't stop that from happening but he CAN stop himself from exposing that erection to them or otherwise doing anything inappropriate. If I see a cute teenage boy and find myself wondering what it would be like to be a teenage girl again, so what so long as I don't ACT on those thoughts? So long as I keep my hands off of him and don't do anything else I shouldn't, what's the big deal what I THINK?

Simply put, I didn't want to get into a conversation with my boyfriend over my aunt's sexual partner preferences, especially the ones that most people didn't know about. Randy only knew because he was privy to some family secrets of mine of which he was the first boyfriend I'd ever had who knew them. Then again, he's also the only boyfriend I've ever had that is personally involved in incest - in his case meaning that he fucks his older sister. There was one time a LONG time ago where I had a boyfriend who I watched doing his mom but that was only a one-time thing and I had no idea what, if anything, happened after that. I wasn't having sex in my family at the time anyway so it didn't really matter.

"So tell me Randy, why do you want to fuck my aunt more than me?" I asked, trying to change the subject, "You do know that she almost twice as old as you are, don't you?"

"Now just wait a minute... I never said MORE than you," he countered quickly, trying once again to get his hands on me as if to emphasize the point.

Again, I brushed him away again as he wasn't forgiven, at least not quite yet. "I just thought it would be hot to do her and figured you might like to help."

There he goes making stupid assumptions again. Why do people think that just because my dad fucks me and my aunt that she and I have sex together? Sure, we've done it a few times over the years but it's not like it's something we go out of our way to do. In fact, I can probably count on one hand the numbers of times that we've done anything like that. People forget that incest, when practiced as it SHOULD be, is not all about sex and orgies. Just because you CAN have sex with a relative doesn't mean you DO. In any case, I wasn't about to debate the point with Randy at this time - not with that handsome dick staring at me like a one-eyed pleasure snake.

"So if that's so, then why don't you just ASK her?" I asked him, "She knows that you know about everything anyway so it's not like she'd be giving away any special secrets."

"What do you mean Kelly, that I just walk up to her and ask her if I can fuck her?" Randy said flippantly. "Yeah, I can just see me doing THAT!"

"Why not?"

That made him pause for a moment. Then he looked at me with his eyes narrowed, like he was trying to determine if I was being serious or just teasing him.

"Seriously," I continued, "I think you'd have a better chance if you were just up front with her rather than having me act like some kind of lewd matchmaker."

"So are you saying that you wouldn't care if I fucked her?" he asked, as if NOW was the time to ask me that! Seemed like the sort of question he should've asked at the start of this conversation.

"Damn Randy, you know me better than to ask something stupid like that," I huffed, "I've always told you that you can fuck anyone you want... and I meant it."

Technically that was true as we'd agreed from the beginning that either of us could go out and have sex with whoever we wanted, whenever we wanted, without saying anything to the other. Still, I could tell from the hurt expression on his face that he was more than a little disappointed that I appeared to be so flippant with my lack of "concern" over who he had sex with. Actually I DID care and I guess maybe that's why I was trying so hard not to show it. Even if I had no intentions of ever getting "serious" with Randy, it's still a boost to your ego to know someone feels pangs of jealousy when you're having sex with someone else.

"So are you sure that you won't ask your aunt for me?" he tried again after a pause.

Good grief! I sighed loudly and grinned at him. "Well, I guess that depends on how well you fuck me now."

OK, so I'm human, shoot me. Laying there naked with him pushing his stiff rod into the side of my hip, how could I NOT want him? Any thoughts like I'd had when I pushed him away had long since disappeared and my natural horniness was firmly back in control again. Reaching down to my side, I gathered his warm dick in my hand, wrapping my fingers around its firmness and tugging on it gently. God I loved the feel of him in my hand!

"I think we've said enough about my Aunt Linda... now fuck me."

Well he did... and quite well I might add! However, I did have to wonder when he finally came inside of me if he was thinking about Aunt Linda's pussy instead. I can't say I was comfortable with the idea of him thinking about her while he fucked me...

4. Getting Kristen Interested

When I finally returned home the house was empty so I was able to take a shower and get ready for bed without being pestered by my cousin for a status report. At least living with my cousin I could just tell her to get lost and ignore her so it wasn't like back when I was in high school when my mom or dad would be waiting up for me, anxiously waiting to hear all about my date - especially the juicy details (sorry, pun intended). As a teen I could hardly say no to my parents but when it came to Kristen that was a different matter entirely. She could just wonder what had happened so far as I was concerned and usually I'd give her a sly grin to let her think it was even naughtier than it typically was.

Suddenly hunger struck so I wrapped a towel around my wet hair and used another around me, tucking it in my cleavage to hold it in place. It was a large bath towel so it was almost like wrapping a blanket around me it was so huge. Being so heavy it was sort of a pain to keep on but it was still better than running around naked.

I was in the midst of peeling an orange when in walked Kristen with her usual grin on her face. In and of itself, the grin meant nothing since it seemed to be permanently etched on her face. Now had she NOT been grinning, THEN I would have wondered what was going on - and been worried as well.

"So cuz, get laid?" she greeted me.

Typical Kristen in that I didn't even get a "hello" from her before she went straight to what mattered to her the most - the sex. The girl had a one-track mind, that was for sure. Well, at least you always knew where she was coming from.

The grin on my own face told her all she needed to know so she took a seat across the table from me and asked, "So where'd you guys do it this time?"

All I got to tell her was that we did it in his bedroom when she cut me off saying, "Shit Kelly, I keep telling you to do it on his sister's bed... that would be hotter, don't you think?"

There she goes again trying to push my buttons. I just shook my head at her, hoping she would remember what I'd told her a dozen time before if I told her once. Sheesh, how many times did I have to tell Kristen that Randy's sister didn't live at home anymore and hadn't in years? Kristen, as usual, didn't pick up on the hint and barged right on ahead.

"Ya know, I think it would be cool if you did it on her bed AND she was on it at the same time. Really, I can't believe you won't do it with his sister. I bet you do and you just won't tell me... is that right?"

There were so many misconceptions there that I hardly would've known where to begin, had I chosen to. First, as I already said, she didn't even HAVE a bed in the house anymore as her bedroom had long ago been turned into a sewing room for her mother.

Next, it wasn't MY decision not to do anything with her. From the first time she'd caught me with her brother back in high school, she'd hated my guts. I guess seeing me wearing her mom's nightie hadn't helped. Since then time hadn't done anything to heal our rift. She thought I was a slut (which I couldn't argue with) and in her book that meant I was unfit to be her brother's girlfriend. End of discussion so far as she was concerned.

"So anyway, where did you go today?" I asked her, trying to deflect the conversation away from me and Randy - and his sister.

"Oh the usual... just an open house," she said but the look in her eyes told me that she wasn't telling anywhere near the entire story.

She was clearly taunting me, waiting for me to rise to her bait and beg her to tell me all the lurid details of how she undoubtedly slept with some potential buyer, probably while another couple was looking around the home if I knew her by now. Sometimes I felt like she was embellishing things a bit but then I knew from my own experience "helping out" her mom that indeed, sometimes truth was stranger than fiction,

Seeing I wasn't going to play along with her little mind games, Kristen gathered her things and left for her room, finally leaving me in peace to finish peeling my orange. As she walked out and I glanced over just in time to see her tight little ass wiggle in an impossibly tight skirt, suddenly an idea flashed into my head.

"Hey Kristen, Randy told me that he wants to fuck your mom!" I called out after her.

Now THAT stopped her in her tracks! Kristen turned around and looked at me, like she was trying to determine if I was just teasing her or if there any truth to what I'd just said. Something like the look Randy had given me earlier when I told him it was OK to fuck my aunt. Apparently convinced I was at least not totally messing with her, she dropped her coat on a chair and came back into the kitchen.

"MY mom?" she repeated, as if she wasn't sure she had heard me right. "Are you sure he wasn't talking about ME?"

Another classic Kristen move - making it all about her. Heaven forbid that some guy might not ask for her but express his desire for her mother instead. I assured her that she'd heard me correctly and she appeared to be a bit miffed. It didn't help that Randy had been with her a few times in the past so it must have seemed like a slap in the face to her for him to express desire for her mom but not her.

"Yeah, he even asked me to help with asking her."

Kristen may have had a body most girls would kill for, but I've never claimed she was the sharpest knife in the drawer. With her fixation on sex and herself, it made her almost as easy to manipulate as your typical guy. Case in point, all I had to do was lob out a little softball of a statement and she was instantly all over it.

"What do you mean?"

"I was just thinking maybe if you helped me set things up between them, then maybe we could arrange for a little unexpected fun beyond what they think they're getting."

Hook, line and sinker. Kristen swallowed it all without even a blink of her eye. Actually the idea had just popped into my head a few minutes earlier, but she was so easy to manipulate that all I needed was a few seconds to figure out the right approach. Kristen may not catch every nuance I tossed her way but not even she could miss this one.

It took maybe an hour or so but we eventually came up with a plan I had to admit was quite devious - not to mention hot as hell. There were a few details that would have to be dealt with when the time came but I was sure it wasn't anything the two of us couldn't handle. Now if we could just pull it off...

5. Prepping Randy

"So... do you still want to fuck my Aunt Linda?"

Randy and I were laying laid together on my bed after another evening of sex for the sake of sex. He'd just cum in me (finally) and his dick was still inside of my pussy while his arms were wrapped around me as he spooned me from behind. After he'd cum we both kept quiet for a few minutes, laying perfectly still except for the occasional quick push as he tried his best to keep his slowly dwindling cock buried inside of me.

God... I loved the feeling it gave me as his dick moved ever slightly inside of me while his sperm drained slowly out of me onto my thigh. For some reason I started to try and figure out how many times I'd been fucked over the years. Hundreds for sure. Was it more than a thousand times if I counted back to when I first did it at the age of fourteen? Yet no matter how many cocks, how many times, how many positions, no matter where or when, this was one of those moments of which I never grew weary.

In a way, having him behind me like this with his hairy crotch pushed into my bare butt and his large hand cupping my tender breasts, it was even better in that it wasn't really all that important to me WHO he was. That may sound a little weird so let me explain. When it comes to sex, how I react depending mostly on WHO I am with. Well, "who" in terms of what my relationship is with that person. There are three basic categories: total strangers, guys I am close to (like a boyfriend or long-time friend) and then those in my family (incestual relationships).

With a total stranger, like when I have sex at a party or I just go out and get picked up by some guy I've never met before, it's not just all about the physical aspect of sex as you might think it would be for me. In fact, the idea that he IS a total stranger is a large part of what turns me on. Just think about it and it should make sense to you.

First, when you meet a stranger there's no guarantee that you WILL have sex yet at the same time, it's assumed because I know he's horny and he probably figures only a slut would be doing this sort of thing in the first place. Here's a guy whom I've never met before and don't even know his name, and I'm letting him literally mate me like some dog in heat taking whatever hard dick comes her way. He doesn't care about ME, he doesn't want to know anything about ME, all he wants is to fuck me and when it's over, never see me again. You gotta admit, that's all pretty hot.

When it comes to sex with my friends and boyfriends, I refer to that privately as "comfort sex". You both know each other, what you each like and don't like, what turns each other on - and off. You know when you get together that you WILL have sex, so it's how you get there that makes it interesting.

With "strange" sex it's basically right to the sex, be it oral or full fucking, and when it's done it's done. With a friend, I like to snuggle and have lots of foreplay. Sometimes we won't even have sex and all I'll do is maybe suck his dick or let him grope me. Afterwards, like now with Randy, I like to stay tied together and feel him inside of me as he throbs and jerks uncontrollable at times. Like I said, it's just comfortable, perfect for those times when I'm horny but don't want to have to go through a lot of games to get laid.

Incestual sex is totally different from "strange" and "comfort" sex. First, when it comes to my uncles and cousin, it's more like something you do because you're a family and it's expected. The fact that neither of my aunts knows that I fuck their husbands makes it more of a turn-on yet at the same time, it makes it a pain because we have to keep it a secret at family gatherings and such.

I know my dad loves to fuck some of my cousins, Tammy in particular as she is the youngest, so it's important that I let her dad fuck me so my dad can fuck his daughter. With my dad it is totally different but I discuss that relationship enough in other stories and articles so I won't get into how I feel about being intimate with him other than it is unique and unlike sex I have with any other man.

With Randy, sex had become VERY comfortable. Frankly, it was about the only reason we even HAD a relationship as we didn't share much else in common other than we'd dated a bit back in high school and I was his "first". Sure we went out to movies and dinners and such, but that was more to provide something different than anything. Usually I never saw much of the movie or ate the whole dinner anyway before we both got too horny to care. I guess there's something to say about being able to just call a guy up and be honest about what you need instead of having to play coy and talk all around the subject you BOTH want to discuss.

Randy's cock was barely in me now, giving me a moment to reflect on how I was going to put the plan in motion that Kristen and I had concocted. It was really pretty basic but then aren't all the best plans simple?

"So... do you still want to fuck my Aunt Linda?" I'd just asked him.

"Well, yeah," Randy replied, "I didn't think you were too crazy about the idea though the last time I mentioned it."

Wiggling my butt just a little to make his dick move in me, I felt him shudder as his hypersensitive dick automatically reacted to even the slight movement of my warm pussy around it.

"It seems you have a way of convincing me," I teased him.

"You know, if you got busy I could convince you again," he teased back, thrusting his crotch into me harder as if I hadn't already gotten the hint.

True, I was pretty sure as horny as he was tonight that with just a little work I could suck him back into an erection in no time. Still, before I did that I wanted to talk about him and my Aunt Linda little more.

"So tell me again, why do you want to fuck her? I'd of thought you'd rather have Kristen."

Randy laughed a little at that one. "Well, who wouldn't want to fuck Kristen... and who hasn't for that matter?"

As much as I tried not to, I giggled a little myself at that one. He was right in that I didn't know of too many guys who had NOT fucked Kristen. IF it was hard for me to figure out how many guys had done me and how many times, I could just imagine trying to keep score for Kristen - and that doesn't even count when she was whoring herself out.

Back in our high school days I guess you could say that I had a bit of a reputation in that if you were going on a date with me, odds are you went home with a BJ at the very least. So far as I was concerned, anything more than that wasn't anywhere near as certain but not so when it came to my cousin Kristen. In fact, it would have been big news had she NOT been fucked by a guy she went out with. That was her way though, and while it wasn't how I handled myself, it was her decision and I respected her decisions.

"Well my aunt's not exactly a virgin either you know," I pointed out the obvious.

"Yeah but I've never fucked an older woman."

"Oh? What about your sister? She's older than you."

Randy huffed at that one. "Gimme a break, that's not the same and you know it Kelly. Your aunt's like what, 45?"

I pointed out to him that she wouldn't even be 42 for another week as her birthday was April 2nd.

"Oh well, 45, 42... close enough," Randy sighed, "I just can't help but imagine that fucking someone that old would be really hot, not to mention she's Kristen's mom too."

The implied reference to a mother-daughter tryst got my attention. "Oh? Is that it... you want to do a mother-daughter thing?"

"Shit Kelly, you know better than to even ASK that," he said firmly, "Like what heterosexual male would NOT?"

"Well, up until now you've just asked about my Aunt, nothing about her and Kristen together. Besides, you've already fucked Kristen a few times so what's the big deal?"

Indeed he had, but that was back when we were first getting reacquainted with me. Since we'd been going out more Kristen had left him pretty much alone, in no small part because I'd threatened her dearly if she didn't keep her distance. It wasn't that I was jealous of her, just greedy. From bitter past experience I knew that if Kristen get involved with Randy that she would want to be involved ALL the time. I wanted Randy for "comfort" sex, not 3-somes with Kristen.

"So tell me what turns you on about my aunt," I pushed him.

"She's just so fucking hot I guess. Most women her age start gaining weight and their boobs and arms get all saggy. Your aunt still look like she's barely thirty."

There were a few good reasons for that but I didn't mention to him that her youthful looks were in part thanks to an excellent plastic surgeon but he didn't need to know those details. Besides, because of some medical issues she hadn't gotten implants, just a lift so her boobs looked almost as perky as her daughter's and still felt natural. As for her arms, the sorry truth was they WERE starting to sag a little but she watched her weight and exercised which seemed to be staving off the inevitable flabby arms all older women eventually have to face sooner or later.

Looking at Randy I got the feeling that he was thinking about my aunt in ways a whole lot naughtier than he was talking about her. When I say "feeling", I mean that literally. His dick was starting to respond to all this talk about my aunt and cousin and I could feel him starting to swell once again inside of me. Oh yeah, he WAS a horny boy today, that was for sure. Not that I was complaining...

"So what do I get if I somehow convince my aunt to let you fuck her?" I asked as I started to instinctively move my hips slowly, grinding my ass into his crotch as his dick continued to grow inside of me. I hadn't even realized I was doing it at first as it was more a reaction than something I consciously decided to start doing.

Mmmmmmm, just like I enjoyed feeling his dick stay in me after he had cum, this was another sensation I looked forward to - the feel of his cock as it grew inside of me. Usually when I felt his dick growing it was in my mouth as he couldn't get it into my pussy when he was soft. I loved that as well as his dick would swell and lengthen inside of my mouth like some magical balloon. The only time I got to feel it grow in my pussy was at a time like this, when he got all worked up and horny after he'd already fucked me once. It was a sensation almost impossible to describe as it was like a warm balloon being blown up ever so slowly inside of me. Rather than pushing in and forcing me apart as his thick shaft violated me, this was more subtle and oh so much more erotic!

"Mmmmmmm, I think someone's horny for my aunt," I murmured as I felt him beginning to slowly stroke his now almost totally erect dick in and out of me.

"God Kelly, you can be such a fucking tease, you know that?" he asked rhetorically.

"Why don't you just shut up and fuck me again," I sighed, closing my eyes and focusing on nothing but his wonderful his dick in me. Reaching down, I started to play with myself, feeling his dick sliding in and out of my over my fingertips as my fingers pressed against my clit, putting just enough pressure on it that the natural movement of me against his thrusting dick was enough to drive my clit crazy.

Well, I asked him to fuck me and thankfully he did just that. After we were done, he quickly gathered his stuff and left, leaving me sweaty and cum-filled on my bed. Again, not that I'm complaining! After he had left, Kristen walked into my room and laid down next to me without asking or even saying a word beforehand.

"Hmmm, sounded like he fucked you pretty good today," she teased me, trying to rub my pussy as I brushed her hand away.

"Not now Kristen," I sighed. If I gave an inch I knew she would take a mile and as much as I knew I'd probably enjoy it, I had other things on my mind that I needed to talk to her about.

"So what else did you hear?" I asked, knowing she must have been listening outside my room while Randy had been fucking me.

"Well... what was this about a 3-some with me and my mom? Sounds hot!"

"Why not?" Kristen whined, trying to act like she was hurt. "Mom would love it... I know she would. She thinks Randy's hot!"

"I would've thought he was a little old for the two of you," I teased. It really wasn't that much of a tease though in that the two of them DID seem to prefer the younger boys - and I mean a lot younger than Randy

"He's not THAT old!"

"Well, he's not in middle school either."

This time it was her turn to try and spank me but I pushed her back and we both cracked up.

"Seriously Kristen, he DOES want to fuck your mom so what do you think, think she would?"

Kristen just rolled her eyes with a classic "duh" expression. "Trust me... I KNOW she would. Quit worrying, our plan will work out perfectly."

There was something about the way she emphasized the "know" in her response that told me there was more to that than she was sharing but I wasn't about to fall into her little trap.

"Tell you what Kelly," she said, turning over on her side to face me while holding up her head on her arm and hand. "Tomorrow there's an open house my mom and me are doing, why not tell him to stop over... maybe when it's just finishing. It would be a great time to do what we talked about."

True, the conditions were perfect. It also brought all sorts of ideas to mind, none of which I'm sure the owners of the house would have appreciated nearly as much as I did.

"So do I get to be there too?" I asked. We hadn't quite worked out every detail as it had been more fantasizing than actual planning. Now that we were looking at actually DOING it, a few details needed to be worked out. Kristen may not be the sharpest took in the shed, but when it came to planning anything sexual she was at the top of the charts. Years of experience as a high-priced whore didn't hurt either.

"OK... we'll both be there but he won't know... at least not at first," she replied, winking at me after she said the last part.

I started to ask her about it but she just held up her hand and shook her head. "Just show up early and you'll see... OK? Now just get him over there and I'll take care of the rest."

I shrugged my shoulders and smiled. Why not? One good thing about this so-called plan - it really wasn't much of a plan as it was a general outline leaving open all sorts of possibilities. I started to lay back down again but she poked me in the side.

"Soooooo, are you gonna call Randy or not?"

"Don't you have to check with your mom first?" I asked.

Kristen just grinned. "Noooooo, we already talked about it. Besides, it would take half the fun out of it if she knew everything, don't you agree?"

I wasn't quite sure just how much she had told her mother but apparently it was more centered around Randy than anything to do with her or me. I just nodded but she wasn't about to let it go at that.

"So call Randy... now!" she insisted, "Besides, I want to listen."

I reached over to the nightstand where my cell phone was and hit the speed dial button for Randy. Kristen motioned towards the phone with her finger. I got the hint and hit the speakerphone button so she could listen in on us.

It only took a few minutes to tell Randy about the open house and how my aunt would be "available". He never even hesitated and I wondered when I hung up if he was already getting hard again thinking about being with my aunt. He'd been so horny earlier it wouldn't have surprised me.

"This is gonna be SOOOOO cool," Kristen murmured as she snuggled up against me.

Well, sometimes you just have to accept the inevitable so I turned to her. Damn, we were both horny as heck now at the idea of what we had set in motion so why not deal with it like two mature women - make that two really horny women!

After all, there ARE benefits with living with your cousin...

6. Randy Finally Gets What He Wants

The open house started at 1:00 Saturday afternoon and was scheduled to end at 4:00. Kristen drove me over with her to meet her mom. It was nothing spectacular but still upper middle class with an asking price of over $400,000. Still, that much money didn't seem to buy as much as you would think in these neighborhoods, recession or not. Her mom was already there when we arrived and so Kristen parked her car next to her mother's in a turnoff from the main driveway.

As we walked to the house, I couldn't help but notice that Kristen was dressed quite professionally. Granted, the girl would've still looked hot had she been wearing a feed bag but that's beside the point. She had on one of my favorite black dresses of hers that was a little longer on one side than the other, creating a cut look across that front that showed off more leg then what you would have thought it did at first. The top was cut low to reveal plenty of cleavage but not so much as to be embarrassing should anyone bring in their kids. A tasteful silver necklace and watch with a couple of small rings provided a nice accent. Damn, my cousin looked pretty darn good if I should say so myself! Professional but feminine, not like some of those women who think they have to dress like a man to work.

As for me, I was just in simple jeans and a pink blouse with some modest brown heels. After all, it wasn't MY open house and if anything, I planned to stay out of sight most of the time anyway.

Inside my aunt greeted us and I smiled to myself as I imagine what Randy would be thinking later when he first got his eyes on her. First, it would be hard for anyone who didn't know them to accept that she and Kristen were mother and daughter, primarily because my aunt looked at least ten years younger than the calendar claimed she was. With her 42nd birthday just a week away, I bet some carnival guy would have guessed her age as at least five and maybe as much as ten years younger. The tight dress and stiletto heels didn't hurt either - especially since she had a figure to match. Small wonder she sold so many homes - and had the reputation to go with it.

With the market where it was, the traffic through the house was light, leaving us with plenty of time to chat amongst us and check out the house. Upstairs in the master bedroom, I was impressed by the large king-sized bed and huge master bath.

"So where are the owners today?" I asked my aunt as I bounced on the edge of the bed to check it out.

"Oh they've already moved," she explained, "The husband got a new job in Houston and so now they have to sell this house. They aren't in any hurry as his new company will buy it from them if they don't sell it in six months."

Sounded like a pretty sweet deal for them - and for us as well only my aunt didn't know about the second half of the equation, at least not yet.

My aunt left to greet a couple that had just arrived, leaving Kristen and me to check out the bedroom a little bit more. Of special interest to me was the huge master closet that opened to the side of the entrance to the bathroom. It has slatted doors and for a moment I was reminded about Randy's parents' bedroom and how I'd watched him fuck his sister from a closet with doors quite similar to these. Damn, I was becoming quite the voyeur lately it seemed.

Had Randy wanted to fuck Kristen, I probably would've wanted to join in as well but since this involved my aunt it created a different feeling for me. Maybe it was because of her new relationship with my father or something else entirely. Whatever it was, I just didn't have any drive within me to want to share Randy with her. On the other hand, I WAS curious as hell to see what my so-called boyfriend wanted so badly to do with my aunt and maybe even get a glimpse at that elusive male attraction to MILFs. Who knows, maybe I might even learn something in the process.

As you might be understanding by now, Kristen and I had planned up something where Randy would come on over and fuck my aunt in the house while she and I watched. I hadn't told her this but my biggest concern wasn't about what was going to be going on in front of us, it was whether the two if us would be able to keep quiet while we watched! Thinking back to what we'd done the other day after Randy had fucked me, it was going to take a miracle!

The time flew by and before we knew it, it was the end of the open house but still no Randy. I was about to get on my cell phone and call him. If I'd thought about it I would have realized that I had no idea how I was going to explain that I knew he wasn't here but fortunately I saw his car pull up into the driveway before I dialed.

For a moment I panicked as I realized that Kristen's car was out there too and would Randy notice? Fortunately, my mom's old age about two heads competing for blood seemed to hold true yet again as he never even took a second look at the cars parked in the driveway. Then again, even if he had, Randy knew Kristen worked with her mom so I guess it really wasn't a big deal after all.

We were all in the living room when Aunt Linda saw him approach the house. She turned to the two of us, seeing the both of us grinning like cats who had just eaten a canary.

"Ok girls... now what's Randy doing here?" she asked the two of us rather accusingly.

Of course we both looked as if we had no idea what she could possibly be talking about. Then Kristen evidently decided something was needed to get everything off to a good start.

"Now mom, you gotta listen... just trust us," Kristen started to say quickly.

"What are you talking about girl?" her mom cut her off. Randy was now walking up the sidewalk so there was little time for anyone to be cute.

"Aunt Linda, Randy told me that he wanted to fuck you so Kristen and I set this up so he could come over and do it here," I explained lightning fast.

"He wants to what?!"

"Mommmmmm!" Kristen whined, "Randy wants to FUCK you, get it? You told me before you thought he was hot."

Aunt Linda looked at me as the doorbell rang, her eyes practically boring through me but at the same time there was a slight lift to the corner of her mouth, like she wanted to grin but was fighting to hold it back.

"Don't worry, you won't even see us!" I assured her as Kristen and I turned to run up the stairs to the bedroom before she could answer the door.

The last look I had was of my Aunt peering up the stairs, her face a mixture of amusement and something else I couldn't quit identify -maybe a touch of horniness? Unlike my clueless cousin, my aunt was really a sharp cookie and I was sure she had already put two and two together by now.

Kristen and I quickly hurried into the closet and shut the door tightly behind us. The slats were perfect in that I could see through them over to the bed almost like they weren't even there. The two of us were on our knees next to each other, trying to keep from giggling or even talking between us. Leaning as far forward as I could, I struggled to hear what was happening downstairs but other than some muffled sounds, I couldn't make anything out.

"Did he ask her?" Kristen whispered.

"Shhhhhh... with all your yakking how the heck do I know?" I hissed back.

"What if they don't come up here?"

"Your mom figured it out when she saw us come up here, she knows what to do," I assured her, trying to sound more positive than I felt.

There were a lot of gaping holes in our plan but none bigger than the basic premise that they would come up to the master bedroom to have sex. What if they just went at it in the living room or the dining room, or who knows, even the kitchen? I knew what Randy was going to ask her and if I knew my aunt, she wasn't going to turn him down to the sex was a given. It was WHERE they would fuck that had me worried.

Like I said, my Aunt Linda is pretty sharp - make that REALLY sharp. Considering what was dumped on her at the last second, I could see it in her eyes that she knew exactly what Kristen and I were up to. Now it was up to her - to teach us a lesson for setting her up this way behind her back, or to show her gratitude for providing her with such a hunk to have sex with. Time would tell I guess.

The sounds of footsteps coming up the stairwell made me sigh with relief. I felt a little chagrined as I realized that I should've trusted my aunt more. Why did I even doubt her in the first place? Sure enough, in she came, followed close behind by my grinning boyfriend.

"So Randy, you're SURE that Kelly is OK with this?" she asked, turning around to face him. I could only imagine that by her saying "this" that Randy had already posed the big question to her - and she had at least tentatively accepted.

"Hell yeah, in fact it was her idea for me to come to this open house today," he responded eagerly.

"You know it was pretty bold of you to just walk in and ask a woman to have sex," she said demurely, licking her lips just the right amount to show her interest.

"Well, Kelly said that this is what I should do," he replied, shrugging his shoulder slightly.

My aunt glanced over at the closet and for a moment I could have sworn she saw the two of us watching but she turned away before Randy got any ideas.

"Well that's awful sweet of her to let you do this, don't you think?"

"Oh we're not exclusive.. I can have sex with anyone I want," Randy said. Then his face dropped and I think for a moment he was afraid he'd said something wrong. "She can do other guys too you know," he said lamely, trying to patch up his gaff.

"So how old are you Randy?"

"Twenty three," he said softly, so low I could barely hear them.

Was he embarrassed at his age compared to hers or was he worried he would be too old for her?

"Do you know how old I am?"

Randy bit his lower lip before responding, saying, "Kelly said your birthday is this weekend coming up. She said you would be 42 then."

"That's right Randy... old enough that I could almost be your mother," Aunt Linda said, "Would you like to fuck your mother Randy?"

She was teasing him mercilessly. I almost burst out laughing when she said that as I knew the answer ever before he grimaced. Randy's mother was about as sexy as a cold wet blanket. I think about the LAST person Randy would ever want to fuck would be his own mother. Then again, maybe because his own mother WAS so undesirable was part of why he was attracted to other women close to her age.

"God no," Randy burst out before he even thought about how he should react. My aunt smiled at his sudden outburst.

"That's OK... so do you want me to be your mom today or what?"

It was an interesting question with the potential to put an even more interesting twist to the plans Kristen and I had now set into motion. I hadn't even considered a scenario where she would role-play as his mother. Pretty kinky.

"Na, I think just being Kelly's aunt is hot enough," he said in a surprisingly firm voice. Wow, I hadn't expected anything from him like that. Maybe Randy wasn't as immature as he liked to let on that he was.

"Have you ever had your dick sucked by an older woman Randy?" my aunt purred as she stepped forward and started to undo his belt and jeans.

"Nnnnnn...no," he stammered as she dropped his jeans and boxers to his ankles.

Mmmmmmm, there it was, my favorite dick, at least mine for the moment. My guy was making me proud as his cock stuck out from his shirt tails, fully erect and ready for action. It was enough to make me almost jump out and want to suck it myself! Yesssssss, the things he'd done to me with that dick...

Kristen poked me in the side and I saw her grinning at me in the dim light. I don't know which of us was more turned on as her mother kneeled and started to suck my boyfriend's dick right in front of us not more then maybe six feet away. Randy put his hands on her head and pushed it into his crotch, his knees buckling slightly as my aunt took his dick deep into her mouth and throat like a pro.

"Oh my god that feel so fucking good!" he exclaimed and for a brief moment I was sure he was about to lose his first load right then and there.

Fortunately he managed to get himself under control as Aunt Linda held onto his firm ass with both hands, bobbing on Randy's dick like she was going for apples in a bucket of water.

She was still fully dressed as Rand took off his shirt and tossed it on the floor over by the door. Aunt Linda pulled his jeans down as he used his feet to drag off his shoes and then step out of his jeans and socks. My pussy was really starting to tingle now as he stood there naked while she worked on his dick. Randy LOVED to have his dick sucked but then, what guy didn't?

As she crouched down in front of him, my aunt's dress pulled up and she grabbed it in back and lifted it up off her ass. Damn, she wasn't wearing any panties! Now when had she lost those? For that matter, had she done the entire open house without them? It wasn't like her dress was all that short but still, it was pretty erotic so far as I was concerned. Had she slipped them off between when Kristen and I had come upstairs and Randy ringing the doorbell? If so, where had she stashed them? I was going with the "she left them at home" option myself.

Sucking dick was obviously in the family DNA! I nudged her to keep quiet but I had to admit to myself that her mom was doing quite a number on my boyfriend's cock.

Neither of them seemed to be in any hurry. I don't know if it was my aunt's skills or Randy's determination that kept him from shooting off in her mouth but somehow he didn't as she sucked and licked his wondrous cock. Actually, it was the first time I'd seen his dick sucked by another woman except for that one time I watched his and his sister doing it. Personally, he seemed to be enjoying it just a little TOO much for my tastes!

Aunt Linda was completely in control, that much was obvious. Whenever Randy would try to move or position her differently than she wanted to be, he either pushed him back or took her mouth off his dick just long enough to tell him to be still. Finally she seemed to have enough of his dick, at least for the moment, and must have decided it was her turn as she stood up and lifted her dress up and over her head, laying to over the back of a chair.

I think Randy must have thought he'd died and gone to heaven as he stared at her naked form, standing there in front of him with nothing but a pair of heels on which she then kicked to the side. Like he had said, she had the figure of a woman ten years younger. With her boob job she didn't need to wear a bra and it was never more obvious than now as her boobs stood up proudly on their own without any support, her nipples pointing out nice and hard. OK, so her thighs weren't as taunt as a teenager and maybe she had a little bulge her and there but a first glance she looked incredible.

"So what do you think Randy?" she teased him, putting her hands on her hips and her weight on one leg to push her hip out to one side. Then she put her arms out and twirled around like a ballerina, showing off an ass a women half her age would be proud of.

His eyes looked like they were about to pop out of his head and his hand went to his dick automatically, tugging at it as he continued to stand there and stare at my aunt who was obviously relishing every moment.

Sitting on the chair, she leaned back with her ass barely on the edge, spreading her legs apart to reveal her hairy pussy. It was trimmed a bit so it wasn't totally wild but what was left was pretty long, certainly a lot more pubic hair than he was accustomed to.

"Just don't stand there and stare at me, get over here and show me how good you lick pussy," she commanded him, motioning him to come over with her hands.

Randy kneeled between her knees and put his hands on each thigh as he tentatively leaned forward. Aunt Linda helped him a bit by using her fingers of each hand to spread the hair away from her pussy, parting her pussy lips enough to show off her wet pussy and clit. It wasn't like Randy had never licked a woman's pussy before - I knew THAT for a certainty, but still he hesitated like it was his first time all over again.

"What's the matter boy, never pushed your face into a bushy cunt before?" she taunted him mercilessly. "This is a WOMAN'S cunt, with hair like it's meant to have."

Randy leaned forward and went to work. As I saw her pubic hair brush against his cheeks I couldn't help but think of when my own face had been in exactly that same place and how it tickled me to feel it caress me like a stiff hair brush. My mother has trimmed her pussy almost exactly the same way and I had to say, I sort of enjoyed the feeling of it against me. It wasn't so great when it got into your teeth but otherwise I sort of liked it myself. Still, most guys today seem to go for the shaved look and with the outfits I liked to wear, pubic hair was just a pain to deal with which is why I keep my pussy shaved.

As I said, Randy knew his way around a pussy and I saw my aunt was quickly realizing it herself as she gasped and moaned while he worked on her. Her hands were both on his head, pushing him into her crotch firmly as she gasped and talked to him, imploring him to lick her faster and faster. When he pushed his fingers into her it was all she needed and she cried out as her orgasm struck her. Kristen jabbed me with her elbow and in the dim light I could see her grinning as we watched her mom in the throes of what seemed to be a string of orgasms as Randy continued on, relentlessly licking her as he fingered her pussy.

You can't watch another woman having an orgasm and not want to feel it for yourself, be it for real, in a movie, or whatever. Both Kristen and I were working our own pussies as we watched her mom enjoying Randy's ministrations. His tongue had to be getting tired but he was a trooper and never even appeared to try and slow down or relax until finally Aunt Linda pushed his head back and leaned forward, gasping for air.

"Fuck! Now I know why my niece hangs on to you!" she said, uttering each word between a pant. "Where the hell did you learn to lick pussy like that?"

Randy just grinned, wiping his face with the back of his hand. Mmmmmmm, I would have loved to be able to kiss him now and taste my aunt's pussy on his lips and tongue.

"Well, let's see if you're as good with your dick as you are with your tongue," Aunt Linda said as she stood up and directed him towards the bed.

My aunt pushed him onto his back and he scooted back until his head was on the pillows as he laid down the center of the bed. Aunt Linda took a quick suck on his dick and mounted him without saying another word, practically jumping on his cock as she faced him and planted herself firmly on his cock.

"Oh yeah, now THAT'S where your cock belongs," she moaned as she ground her hips into his crotch, rubbing her thick thatch of pubic hairs against his.

At the angle we were watching, when she would lean forward I could see my boyfriend's dick moving in and out of her pussy from behind, disappearing from sight when her ass pushed down on his crotch. It was pretty obvious that my aunt was enjoying this - a LOT.

7. Randy Gets More Than He Asked For

"Fuck it, I can't take this anymore," Kristen murmured to me in a soft voice.

Of course I knew what she was referring to when she said that. Actually, I was a bit surprised that she'd held out for as long as she had. Backing up so I wouldn't be seen, Kristen opened the doors just enough to let herself out, closing them back behind her again to leave me alone inside the closet.

"Mind if I join in?" she called out to the surprised couple.

Well, at least one of them was genuinely surprised while the other did a pretty good job of faking it. Of course her mom knew she'd been watching so while she had an expression of disbelief, she didn't even flinch. Randy, on the other hand, looked like he'd seen a ghost or something. I couldn't really blame the poor guy. Regardless of their fantasies, how many guys his age would NOT react in this way if they were fucking a forty-something woman and her twenty-two year-old daughter walked into the room, especially when the first thing she says is to offer to join in? When you come right down to it, how many guys at ANY age wouldn't be stunned?

"Hey, I didn't say for you to stop fucking my mom," Kristen teased poor Randy.

Kristen quickly stripped while her mom resumed rocking on Randy's dick, showing no signs of willingness to share it with her daughter. Can't say I blamed her. In fact, I was wishing dearly that I was next to Kristen now, undressing myself and getting ready for him to fuck me too. I'm sure randy wouldn't have minded if I had, at least he better not mind, but a three-some wasn't on the menu today so far as I was concerned.

"It's been a while, hasn't it?" Kristen said softly to Randy as she got up on the bed and laid on her back next to him with her knees up and her feet flat on the bed. She started to rub herself as Randy looked like he was watching a tennis match, switching his eyes back and forth between looking at his crotch where he was fucking Aunt Linda, and then over to Kristen as she masturbated for them both to watch.

"I take it that means you've been fucking my daughter behind my back, eh Randy?"

Randy looked up at my aunt but then he saw her grinning and it took the edge off her apparent accusation. He just grinned like a fool, probably thinking he was watching my dad fuck me, something she always seemed to enjoy even if she wasn't into participating the way Aunt Linda was when it came to her daughter.

"Oh yeah!" Kristen moaned as his dick slipped into her soaking wet pussy. She glanced my way with a look of triumph, knowing I was watching and wanted to be in her position - literally.

This time it was Aunt Linda's turn to masturbate as she laid off to the side and watched as her daughter rode my boyfriend's dick. Whether it was the buildup from having been fucked by Randy, watching Kristen as she took his cock now, or a combination of everything, but whatever it was she didn't take long to make herself cum, her orgasm making her stiffen beside them as she closed her eyes and moaned loudly. I couldn't really see her all that well as she was on the opposite side from me and so Kristen was blocking the view but from the sounds of it, she must have been cumming pretty hard.

Unbeknown to Randy, Aunt Linda wasn't the only girl in the room masturbating and soon she wasn't the only one in the room cumming as I was rubbing my own clit madly until that familiar feeling started to build inside of me. God I wanted to be fucked SOOOOOO badly right now. I imagined Randy's dick was in me now as I started to cum, struggling to keep from crying out with the pleasure that was exploding inside of me. I wanted to close my eyes to concentrate more on my pussy but I couldn't take them off the view in front of me as I watched my boyfriend realizing one of his biggest fantasies - to fuck a mother and a daughter at the same time.

What is it with men anyway about mother-daughter pairing? I get the fact that men love to watch two girls doing it and I guess I can't blame them for wanting more than one girl for themselves at the same time, but there is something about the girls being related that really seems to set guys off. Sisters seems to be another fantasy I hear about a lot with twins being the "ultimate" fantasy in that category. Even so, from what I've gathered I think most men would take a mother-daughter fuck over just about anything else.

What gets them off the most - fucking the daughter while the mom watches or the mom while the daughter watches? I can't tell you how many guys on-line have asked me if I would fuck them with my mom joining in. I have to say that while the idea of fucking my mom seemed to turn them on, I usually get the impression that they want to fuck me in front of my mom even more. Actually the same concept even applies to my dad - not that they want to fuck me dad (although I have had a couple of guys with that fantasy!), but they want my dad to watch as they fuck me in front of him. I guess it's something in the male psych that gets them off to have sex with the daughter of a parent while the parent watches - be it the mom or the father, or both.

Randy obviously was one of the typical guys in that he seemed to be loving fucking Kristen while her mom watched. Soon they had switched to where he was spooning her from behind while her mom laid in front of them watching. It wasn't the greatest so far as I was concerned as most of what I saw what Randy's butt as he pumped Kristen, but I could see Kristen's mom caressing her daughter and even kissing her and sucking on her boobs while she was being fucked.

As I watched I found myself wondering how it was going to end. Who would he fuck and in what position? Where would he cum? Would he cum in one of their pussies - and if so, whose? In the mouth? Again, if so, whose or would he maybe do them both at the same time? So many possibilities yet it would eventually have to be one or the other as there was only one dick involved.

My own orgasm had faded mostly by now but my pussy was still craving his dick something fierce. Hmmm, maybe there was another alternative where he could fuck me last and cum in me? After all, he was MY boyfriend so shouldn't I be entitled to his cum?

The temptation was almost more than I could bear as I watched Randy pull out from Kristen and start fucking her mom missionary style this time. From the way he was pumping away at her I knew he was getting close to the point of no return. Was he going to cum in her? I guess it would be appropriate in this case given she was the one he wanted to fuck to start with. Kristen was an added bonus but the reason he was here right now wasn't her, it was her mom. Maybe he was also thinking he'd never cum in a woman her age - or a mother for that matter. Was that something he was hoping to add to his "resume"? When would he ever get the chance to do something like this again, at least at his age now?

Sure enough, that's what happened. Randy groaned and he pressed his crotch hard into my aunt as I saw his butt clench as he dumped his hot load of cum inside of her. She was saying something to him but it was too soft to be heard over his groans and Kristen's squeals of delight as she urged him to cum in her mother's pussy.

Randy appeared to be exhausted as he flopped over onto his back after he'd given up his load. Kristen quickly jumped over to suck his cock, licking off whatever remained of his cum and her mother's pussy juices. He jerked as her tongue ran over his hyper-sensitive cock and then pushed her away, telling her he couldn't take any more. Kristen didn't hesitate as she moved from Randy to her mom, burying her face in my aunt's pussy as she licked her and gulped down the cum that leaked from her freshly-fucked pussy.

Randy was finished, at least for the moment, but Kristen and her mom were just getting started. After she had cleaned off her mom, it was my aunt's turn to get her daughter off, reversing positions and hungrily licking Kristen as Randy seemed to be too dazed to even pay much attention.

It was a little bittersweet for me to watch as Kristen enjoyed her mother's attention as I was reminded of how much I missed my mother doing that very same thing to me. I've been licked by quite a few people but nobody can make me feel the way my mom does when she is licking me. I suppose it's similar to how my dad makes me feel when he fucks me as compared to anybody else.

It's not that it's so much better from a purely physical perspective (although my mom was incredibly talented in that area), it was the emotions that it creates in me that make the difference. There's just something special about having sex with your own mother or father that can't be duplicated with anyone else. Maybe someday I'll experience something similar to that when I am married and my husband makes love to me, but even that will be unique and not to be compared to incest with my parents.

Randy have been missing it but I got to watch it all as Kristen and her mom celebrated their time together. I suppose having both just been fucked by the same guy lent an extra element of eroticism to the moment as well. It was too bad that Kristen didn't have Randy's cum in her as well so they could both lick it out of the other but they seemed to be happy with things the way they were.

After they'd finally had enough, at least for now, Aunt Linda poked Randy and told him he needed to leave. A shower would have probably felt great for all of them but it was going to have to wait until they got home instead of messing up the one in this house. I wondered how the bed covers looked as it was!

Once Randy was dressed, he started to say something about whether he could do them again like this but my aunt shushed him and told him to be happy with what he had and not be so greedy. She reminded him that he had a girlfriend and that he should go now and call her and fuck her good. Well, hopefully he wouldn't call me now as I couldn't remember if I'd put my phone on vibrate. It would have been a bit funny I guess if he called me and my phone started to ruing in the closet! It was a sweet gesture on the part of my aunt but then Randy ruined it all.

"Seriously, I'd rather fuck you two any day."

With that my aunt shooed him off, leaving me fuming in the closet. So that was what he thought of me? Second place to my aunt and cousin - or did that make it third place? Well, he had better hope he can convince them to do it again because it was going to be a long time before he got to fuck me again, that was for sure - if ever. Stupid asshole.

Reluctantly he left but with a little extra spring in his step. Well just wait until he tries calling me and we'll see how much of that spring is left. Once I heard the door shut downstairs, I came out of the closet, looking a bit frustrated undoubtedly.

"Don't be upset Kelly, what would you expect him to say to us after all that?" my aunt tried to console me, "He didn't know you were listening."

That was precisely the point - he didn't know. What that told me was he was probably being a lot more truthful than if he had known I was listening in on his every word.

"You know, we don't have to hurry off or anything," my aunt said in a sultry voice. Whether she was just trying to make me feel better or just still horny I wasn't sure, but then did it really matter?

I took the hint and quickly was laying between them, the three of us naked and horny. It had been a long time since I'd been with them both together like this. Since I was the only one that hadn't been fucked in the last hour, they were kind enough to make me the center of attention for the next couple of hours. At least I wasn't thinking about Randy anymore!

(Apr 04) Chapter 211: Easter Uncle

Me (25)
Uncle Paul (53)
Tammy - cousin (17)

Easter is family time, when aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews and cousins get together to celebrate the season and to just enjoy being together.

1. Family Relationships

I suppose most people reading this have already read other stories on-line about families that claim to be "open", where everyone is sexually involved - even the youngsters. Some of these people supposedly include their neighbors and friends, making the combinations and permutations almost endless. Are any of these true? Who knows. In many cases I have to hope they are NOT as fantasy is one thing but to actually DO some of the things these people describe, especially with young children, is just not right.

When considering the pros and cons of incest, it's good to keep in mind that incest is definitely NOT for everyone. In fact, I feel incest has the potential for being "good" in only a very small percentage of family situations. My fear is that in too many cases the potential benefits of incest are used to rationalize child abuse, something I abhor and am 100% against. I also believe that incest is best when both parents are actively involved. It's not just the secrecy aspect but by having both parents involved the chances of something perverted happening are lessened.

Given my own experiences and views, you might think that I would approve of families where "everything goes" and I guess I would if I believed they actually existed in the way they claim. If some of them actually do then I am glad for them. Still, in most cases I can't help but feel everything falls into place a little too easy without any of the pitfalls and traps that await such a potentially difficult family relationship.

I say "potentially difficult" not because I think incest is bad, but because society does approve of incest and as such it has to be kept secretive. This can put that brought them together. I'd always felt guilty that I had not given myself to my dad for my first time (although to be fair, I had no idea at the time he wanted such a thing). Thus by arranging for him to take Tammy's virginity when she was fourteen (the same age I was when my boyfriend took mine), it helped me to assuage a little of my guilt, although I doubt it will ever completely go away.

In a perfect world, Tammy would have done it with her dad first, as I think nobody is more suited to such as task as a girl's father. In this case I suppose that I was being selfish and looking to my own needs more than hers. Still, I don't apologize for my actions although I suppose it wasn't quite right of me. In any case, her dad got to do her the next day anyway so it wasn't like my dad was fucking her behind his back for any extended length of time.

Once Tammy had passed that milestone, it didn't take long for her to take advantage of her brother's teenage horniness - and that of a number of his friends as well. Still, keeping things secret from her sanctimonious mother and sister wasn't something I envied her. Life would have been so much easier if we could have gotten together as families and just avoided all the melodrama and secrecy. Then again, unlike the fantasy stories that's life in the real world and you have to play the cards you're dealt.

My dad also has an older brother who has two daughters. Ginny and Laura are both older than me by several years and I've never really been all that close to them. Actually, our family and theirs don't see nearly as much of each other as we do with my dad's other brother as they lived on the other side of town.

Although I enjoyed teasing my Uncle Paul at family events, it was just innocent flirting and I never really expected anything to happen. He and my dad weren't nearly as close as my dad was with Uncle Jim due to the age difference between them. My dad use to tell me all sorts of stories about the crazy things he did in high school with his younger brother, but never anything that included his older brother. I knew my mother and Aunt Linda had fucked both my dad and Uncle Jim in high school, but so far as I knew Uncle Paul was never with them.

That changed a bit about a year ago when I learned that my Uncle Paul had been doing my mom for years without me or my dad knowing. It was quite a difficult thing for me to accept. Technically they weren't cheating since it was incest (by marriage) and incest isn't adultery. Still, to not tell my dad about it just didn't seem right to me. In any case, he WAS my uncle and as such he had a right to fuck me since I was his niece (plus he wouldn't be cheating on his wife) so I went along with it. I did manage to get back at him a little a while later. After that we hadn't done it again so I sort of figured that chapter was over, especially now with my mom having divorced my dad and so now she no longer doing it with my Uncle Paul..

So that explains my family situation heading into Easter, 2010. We were going to be meeting at my Uncle Paul's place on the north side if Pittsburgh, being his turn in the annual rotation. I would be there with my dad as my mom still was out on the west coast somewhere. Aunt Linda and Kristen were supposed to be there as well my Uncle Jim's family. My dad's parents may or may not be there as it was quite a drive to get there from Grove City and they were not traveling as much as they use to. Odds were almost zero my other grandmother would attend as she lives way out in Illinois and doesn't drive hardly at all

My expectations for the day weren't all that high so far as anything happening beyond a traditional Easter family meal and gathering. As I mentioned, I hadn't been with my Uncle Paul in a while so I figured that wouldn't be going anywhere. Tammy was focused on high school and the boys there, ignoring even her brother these days from what I'd heard. My dad hadn't been with her in ages which isn't surprising as it's hard to find an excuse for an uncle to be alone for any length of time with his seventeen year-old slutty niece. So far as I knew, she wasn't even fucking her dad which didn't bother me in the least as he is pretty much an asshole in my book. Speaking of Rick, he and I hadn't done it either in ages and with my mom out of the picture, that pretty much took care of anything there so far as I was concerned.

After the events of the past few months it wasn't like even me and my dad were doing it much so if you're keeping score, there weren't even that many options for something to happen even if it WAS possible. I wasn't about to do my cousin Rick or Uncle Jim, at least not if I had anything to say about it. Rick may have had the biggest dick in the family but that wasn't enough to overcome the same crappy attitude his father had about women and so I wanted nothing to do with him.

Knowing Tammy, she would probably flirt with my dad and Uncle Paul just because it was her nature to do so, but the odds were heavily against that going any further - although I was pretty sure my dad wouldn't turn down the opportunity. I didn't even know if my Uncle Paul knew about Tammy's "family" relationships but I sort of doubted that he did. Even if he did, a house full of relatives is not the time to be fucking your youngest niece for the first time.

In the end, as I headed to my Uncle's house after church with my Aunt Linda and Kristen, if anyone would've asked I would've told them there was no way I would what she was doing. Needless to say, none of the guys in the family were complaining!

Once my dad and her dad started fucking Tammy, it made the playful teasing all the more erotic, at least for me. What made it even hotter for me was that most of the others in the room had no idea what she was doing with the two of them in private. For that matter, they didn't know what I was doing either!

Thus over the years we had developed the teasing "tradition" where me and Tammy would playfully tease my uncles (along with Kristen whenever she was with us). We teased all three brothers although not so naughtily when it came to Uncle Paul. Back then Uncle Paul wasn't fucking any of us and so far as I knew, he wasn't aware that his brothers were either. Still, it made feel slutty and naughty to see my aunt's lips purse when she came in the room and caught her husband with his hand on my rear end. She didn't say anything but I had no doubt she had a few things to tell him later!

As for my older cousin's, their husbands were there as well but I never got into teasing them like I did my uncles. Maybe it was because I just had this feeling that nothing would ever happen with them that made it less thrilling for me. They were both very nice men and I doubt they, or my cousins, would agree that incest was not adultery, regardless of the biblical principles supporting it. If anything, they seemed to avoid being in the room when the teasing started to get a little too far for them. It's not that we ever stripped or masturbated or anything over the top like that, but as we got older the panties became thongs and the bras tended to become either less in terms of coverage or nonexistent.

With me being 25 and Tammy approaching her eighteenth birthday, the teasing tradition was starting to become more difficult. It's awful hard at our age to pretend like it's just innocent fun and we are somehow too naive to realize what we're doing. Besides, my relatives all had a pretty good idea of my reputation back when I was in high school - and what Tammy's was now that she was nearing the end of her reign as class slut. With my mom no longer there to bitch at, my aunts tended to keep their mouths shut but I could see by the nasty looks they would give me that didn't approve of me or ho I dressed or behaved.

As if I cared.

If there was one major difference this year from last to consider, it was that I'd been fucked by Uncle Paul since last Easter. Now when he looked at me, it would no longer with the eyes of a man wondering what it would be like to have sex with me

– , it would be a look that said he wanted more of what he'd already had! Sure enough, when he greeted me as we walked in, I saw his eyes stripping away my Easter dress and for just a moment, that look appeared that most guys get when they want to fuck me. We hugged and his hand briefly touched my ass – not enough to catch anyone's attention but mine. He didn't say anything but hello but I had to wonder what I would do if later he told me he wanted to do it with me. Until I saw that look I wouldn't have thought he would have the nerve to do it with everyone here but now I found myself wondering...

Uncle Jim and his family arrived last. I caught my dad eying Tammy as she walked in wearing the cutest little Easter sundress. It was strapless and showed off some nice cleavage which made me wonder how she'd convinced her mother to let her wear it – or even buy it in the first place. True, the hemline was lower than most of her dresses, so I guessed she must have compromised with her mother – less leg and more cleavage. The peasant top did little to hide the fact she wasn't wearing a bra.

I noticed that my Uncle Paul seemed to take a special interest in Tammy as well, making me wonder what, if anything, he'd been told about her. Odds were nothing and he was just reacting as any heterosexual male would in his shoes under the circumstances. Still, if his wife had even a clue as to what I knew he must have been thinking I doubt she would've let him hug her as tightly as he did.

Another pain of growing older is that it's harder to get out of work at gatherings like this. As a young girl, I may have been asked to set the table or such, but in general it was mostly up to me to just stay out the way, leaving me with plenty of time to have fun with other things. Nowadays I was expected to help in the kitchen which made little sense since my cooking skills aren't exactly anything to brag about. Kate, of course, was in there like the little dweeb she was. Tammy and Kristen just ignored their mothers and headed for the living room where the guys were gathered to watch something on TV.

As a way out of the heavy-duty cooking, I volunteered to handle the snacks which had the added benefit that I had to deliver them as well. Trying to balance a tray of various snacks, I entered the living room to find Kristen and Tammy up to their old tricks. To someone not familiar with the players, it may have appeared a little odd but it was certainly nothing obscene or even questionable for that matter.

Tammy had made herself at home on my dad's lap as he laid back in the Lazy-Boy chair with the footrest up. She had her feet hanging over the side with one arm around his neck and her back against the other armrest. Her cute little sundress was barely long enough to cover herself but it WAS just long enough so there wasn't anything anyone could make a federal case out of. With her sitting back like that I had no doubt my dad had a nice view down the front of her dress should he choose to look down but if he was enjoying himself he wasn't being blatant about it. He had one arm laying over the top of her legs and the other around her back with his hand on the armrest. That sort of surprised me as I would have figured he would use the situation as an excuse to plant it firmly on her bottom but then that might have been a little over the top what with everyone else running in and out of the room.

Kristen was planted on the couch right next to Uncle Paul. He was pressed against the arm of the couch on one side, leaving two thirds of the couch open so Kristen had curled up next to him with her legs tucked underneath, leaning up against him. At least they each had their hands to themselves. Uncle Paul had one arm on the armrest with the other behind Kristen lying on top of the couch's back cushion, making it easier for her to rest her head against his shoulder.

Now so far as I knew, the two of them had never had sex but when it comes to my relatives, especially my Uncle Paul, I had learned the hard way (as in a hard cock) that you can't always judge a book by its cover. Heck, he'd been doing my mom for years and I hadn't known it so it wouldn't be all that surprising to find out he was doing Kristen, and maybe her mom as well.

Poor Uncle Jim was sitting all alone, his eyes darting between his two brothers and their young nieces snuggled up with them. No doubt he would have love to have me sitting on his lap about now but that wasn't about to happen. The last time I'd let him fuck me was just so he would let Tammy be with my dad. Well, Tammy was old enough now to make her own decisions about her sex partners so he couldn't hold that over my head any more. He was such a jerk, not to mention his chip-off-the-old-block son. It was their loss as neither would probably ever fuck me again if I had anything to say about it. Family obligations or not, I had to draw the line at some point and when it came to the two of them, I finally had to make some tough decisions and now I intended to stand by them.

"Chips or pretzels Uncle Jim?" I asked cheerily, leaning over far enough to let him see down my dress.

It was a bit bad of me because I had no intention of going any further than that with him. I just got a kick out of raising his blood pressure a little by showing him what he had before - but now would never have again.

What can I say? As much as I knew deep down he wanted to say something to me that wasn't repeatable in mixed company, his male genes took control and his eyes drifted to my breasts, just as I knew they would. Men are so predictable!

"Watcha looking at Uncle Jim?" I said innocently, as if I had no idea his eyes were glued on my exposed breasts.

Knowing the others must be watching, he just shook his head and pushed me away, his eyes blazing at me as I knew he realized what I was doing to him.

Bill and Alan, my older cousins' husbands, took a bowl each, trying their best to keep from staring at my boobs as I leaned over where they were sitting on the floor with some pillows around them. Still, I noticed they each couldn't help but glance just a little bit. Frankly, no matter what they thought of me or what their intentions may or may not be, it would've disappointed me greatly had they NOT looked even just a little.

Heading back to the kitchen, Aunt Linda asked me how the guys were doing. The others looked at me as I just smiled and said everyone was doing fine, just wanted more snacks and that if dinner wasn't ready soon they would be full from potato chips and pretzels. No matter, I refilled my tray and headed back in to the family room. This time it was my dad's turn and as I leaned over to serve him I softly whispered to him, "I think she wants you daddy."

Tammy was the only one besides my dad who even seemed to recognize that I had said anything at all and she just grinned. I don't know whether she actually did or not but the effect it had on my dad certainly was noticeable. He shifted around and I knew why - his dick was probably growing and he had to make room for it to expand in his underwear with Tammy's weight pushing down on him.

"Now behave yourself Kelly," was all he said, in an equally soft voice.

I appeared to be shocked that he would even THINK of such a thing which only made him grin all the more. He knew better than to believe that line of crap.

Next was Uncle Paul's turn. Kristen reached for a bowl of chips but in her position it was difficult to reach and she spilled a few on his lap. Before he could do anything she was picking them off his belly and crotch, not exactly trying to avoid anything in the process. One chip was rather strategically placed right over his zipper and it was funny how much work it took for her to collect that one as she dig and pressed into his dress pants to retrieve it.

My cousin just grinned at me and winked as she gave his cock one last push down with the palm of her hand as she pretended to lose her balance in getting back into position.

Back in the kitchen, I felt sort of left out of things having to be in here instead of in the living room having fun with the guys. I had no interest in the idle gossip between my aunts and older cousins. All I could think about was what I could be doing if I was in the living room, even if it meant having to sit by my Uncle Jim or my cousin Rick. Of course teasing him wasn't the same as letting him fuck me so if anything, I thought it would be fun to tease and taunt him and in the end, give him nothing.

On my next trip I noticed that Tammy had disappeared. I asked my dad where she had gone and he just shrugged. It wasn't until I was within close earshot of him that mentioned something about her having to go to the restroom to "take care of something". I smiled at my dad as we both knew what that "something" was. Oh to be seventeen and horny as a tom cat again. It's not like I'm not horny and such all the time. Rather it's that I'm eight years older than her and I've learned to deal with those urges over time, even if they still get the best of me now and then. Obviously Tammy was still at the stage where her feelings and desires controlled her life.

3. Horny Cousins

I asked my dad where Tammy had gone and he mentioned something about the guest bathroom upstairs so off I went. I knocked on the door and heard her call out that she would be out in a minute. This time I called her name through the door and I was rewarded with a click as she unlocked the latch and let me in.

One sniff and I didn't even have to see her flushed face to know what she'd been doing. The room smelled like pussy and from the grin on her face I'd no doubt whose pussy I was sniffing.

"Couldn't wait until you got home?" I teased her.

"Give me a break Kelly," she whined in response, "Besides, it's your dad who's REALLY horny today. I thought his dick was going to burst right through his pants!"

"Well what do you expect?" I sighed as she sat back down on the toilet and lifted her dress back up.

Her panties were on the floor next to her so she had instant access to her pussy and wasted no time in getting back to it. "I mean like, when was the last time you let him fuck you for goodness sakes? It's sorta cruel to tease him this way, you know?"

Tammy wasn't paying any attention to me. She had a hairbrush in her hands - I didn't know if it was hers or one she'd taken from one of the drawers in the bathroom. It had a nice smooth handle on it and she soon had it deep inside of her as she fucked herself with the hairbrush while she rubbed her hard clit.

Anyone who can say that watching a high school girl masturbating with a hairbrush did NOT make them horny is either a liar or dead. God she looked so cute her dress bunched up around her waist, her legs spread apart as she leaned back against the toilet tank and closed her eyes as she stroked the hairbrush in and out of herself with one hand while she rubbed her wet clit with the other. If I had been a guy I am sure my dick would have been out and hard as a rock already. As it was, my pussy was practically screaming for attention as I watched my little vixen of a cousin getting herself off without even so much as looking over to see how I might be reacting.

Suddenly my thong felt like it was strangling me and I just had to get it off. Reaching under my dress, I quickly slipped it down to my ankles and then stepped out of it, leaving it on the floor next to the sink. One touch was all it took to confirm how horny I'd become watching Tammy masturbate in front of me. God she looked so hot. I think what got me off the most was how self-absorbed she was. She never once even glanced in my direction or acknowledged my presence in the slightest. It was all about HER, all about pleasing herself. Whether I watched or not seemed to be of no consequence. It was the perfect picture of total narcissism on her part.

At first I was just thinking about leaning back against the sink and masturbating by myself, the two of us just doing ourselves. Well, that just wasn't going to happen. It had been ages since I had fooled around with Tammy and there was simply no way I could stay this close to her and just WATCH her.

I stepped in between her legs and kneeled down on the rug in front of the toilet. The seat was down fortunately, making it a little easier for me as she was sitting on the very edge. It wasn't until I put a hand on each of her knees to steady myself as I started to lean forward towards her crotch that she finally opened her eyes to look at me.

"Lick me Kelly... PLEASE lick me... I'm almost there," she begged me breathlessly.

Oh my god... she tasted incredible! Sure it was much stronger and potent than when she was thirteen, but that's only natural and if anything, I preferred it this way. I LOVED the taste of pussy, especially my own, and Tammy's was no exception, especially when she was as worked up and horny as she was now.

Tammy moved her fingers out of the way to let my lips and tongue get to work on her clit. She was right in that she had been close to cumming as it seemed I was only licking her for less than a minute before she started to orgasm. Tammy wasn't a squirter or a gusher, but she WAS a moaner and I had to shush her a couple of times to keep her from bringing up the whole house to see what was going on.

It would have certainly been easy to keep going for Round 2, or even switching places and let her return the favor, but I was quite conscious that people would start wondering what was going on with the two of us if we went missing for two long. A few of them would likely have a pretty good idea and leave us alone but for the rest of them, it might make them curious enough to look for us to be sure everything was OK.

"Oh Kelly... I needed that soooooo bad," Tammy sighed as for the first time she made eye contact – and kept it.

The lazy smile on her face and the way she would subconsciously lick her lips told me she was feeling pretty good about now. Personally, I was a little jealous and cold have used a little more myself but we HAD to get going – and soon.

Reaching down for her thong, Tammy held it up to me with a grin. "Think I should put this back on or just stay bare?"

God, she was getting to be more like her older cousin Kristen every day, I swear. Then again, Kristen wouldn't have been wearing any in the first place and even if she had, she wouldn't have asked before stuffing them in her purse.

"You mother would have a heart attack of she caught you without them today and you know it," I gently chastised her.

As if to make my point, I pulled my own thong back on again, reaching into the side with my hands to pull it out so it covered my pussy instead of bunching up between my pussy lips.

"Ahhhhhh, you're no fun anymore," she groaned – but she put them on as she did.

I hesitated for just a moment. God, was I really getting to be that old? She was right. A few years ago I would have left my panties off, the heck with the consequences. Now it was like I was becoming some old maid afraid to take any chances. Damn, maybe I should leave them off just to show I wasn't becoming a fuddy-dud. Common sense gained control once again and we left the bathroom with our thongs firmly in place.

4. Uncle Paul

"Something wrong?"

Just as I walked out into the hallway, I heard a voice behind me. I instantly recognized it as my Uncle Paul's and when I turned, sure enough he was standing there. He looked at the two of us with a leer and I had a pretty good idea that he wasn't going to buy any story about us adjusting our makeup. Well, why not just go for it then? I may be wearing panties but that didn't mean I was a complete failure.

"It's OK, we were just masturbating."

Tammy looked at me with her eyes wide, undoubtedly not believing she had heard what she had just heard.

"Kelly!" she exclaimed softly, nudging me as if to remind me that it wasn't one of our dad's I was talking to. Then again, Kristen didn't know the history between me and our Uncle Paul.

"Well, you could have just asked and you could have had the real thing," my uncle came back, not letting my bluntness scare him off.

"Uncle Paul!" Tammy burst out, unable to contain herself.

"It's OK Tammy," I said, trying to calm her down, "Uncle Paul and I have done it before."

"And your cousin was one sweet piece of ass, I might add," he added, "I hear you're quite the little slut as well."

Tammy seemed uncertain whether she should smile or appear shocked.

"Well, dinner is ready so I was sent on a search mission to find the two of you," he explained. Then he leered at us again saying, "Too bad we didn't have a few more minutes... I could have helped you both with your problems."

I was about to say something like "in your dreams" when Tammy showed her true colors.

"Kelly, why don't you go down and tell them me and Uncle Paul will be right down."

I looked at her like I was seeing someone I'd never seen before. Maybe I'd underestimated her "slut factor" just a little bit - maybe a whole LOT of bit. I could see it in her eyes as she locked in on her uncle's crotch like a laser guided missile. She had the look of a cat as it was hunting a mouse and about ready to pounce. Talk about a picture being worth a thousand words, it would take more than that to describe the animal like lust on display all over her face. It was just the way she carried herself, her posture, the way she held her arms and hands. Damn, she wanted to be fucked and I hoped Uncle Paul was ready for what he's unleashed.

"You sure?" I asked her but she wasn't listening to me.

"Just go," she said to me, pushing me aside as she moved in closer to our uncle. I wasn't sure who wanted it more - him or her. Well, I KNEW he wanted her but what man his age wouldn't? It was the way she seemed drawn to him, like steel to a strong magnet, that fascinated me. Maybe I should have made her cum again before we left the bathroom. It was like all I had done was light the fuse and now she was about to explode.

I turned and went down the stairs to the first floor where everyone was moving in towards the dining room. I could see from the looks I to that they were all wondering where my uncle and cousin were. There were two distinctive sets of eyes though. One was wondering where the two of them were with genuine concern, the other was obviously wondering what shenanigans were taking place.

I took a seat next to my dad. I was suddenly aware that I had not washed up before leaving the bathroom. I guess I was too caught up with everything to think about it. My dad certainly noticed but I couldn't tell if anyone else did.

"They aren't..." my dad started to whisper to me.

"Yep, they are," I whispered just as quietly back.

"Unbelievable," was all he could say back but the look on his face told a different story. I would have bet my next paycheck (little that it would be) that he was wishing he had been the one to go off looking for us when dinner was declared ready to serve!

It must have been ten minutes later and still no Uncle Paul or Tammy. Her mother and my other aunt were both visibly curious - turning more into concern as the minutes went by along with the food. Suddenly the two of the appeared in the entrance to the dining room, my uncle apologizing to everyone for being late. He went on about Tammy dropping an earring down the sink or something like that. My aunt asked why it couldn't wait until after dinner and he said that Tammy needed it right away. I thought my dad was going to choke on his food at that one!

Tammy sat across from me and for a brief moment our eyes met and she grinned at me. The little slut! I couldn't wait for dinner to get finished so I could ask her what happened. Did she just suck him or did her fuck her - or both? Ten minutes wasn't very long but still, you could do a lot in that amount of time if you rushed it. I saw Kristen down at the end between her mom and one of my older cousins. She obviously had deduced what was going on and I could see she was also practically bursting with curiosity.

Nobody seemed to want to comment on the flushness in Tammy's face. I guess either they assumed it was due to the concern over her "lost earring" or they knew why she was all red and knew better than to say anything. Still, I caught her squirming now and then and I had a feeling her pussy must have been practically screaming still.

Dinner lasted almost an hour with everyone talking and taking their time. By the end, everyone seemed to have forgotten all about the Uncle Paul - Tammy drama at the start and went off to their appointed locations. The guys went to the living room to watch TV - and likely fall asleep while the women took on the menial task of clearing the table and doing the dishes - NOT my favorite activities by a long shot.

"Well?" I said softly to Tammy as we gathered silver ware together.

"Well what?" she said, acting like she had no idea what I was talking about. What a tease!

"You know perfectly what," I hissed back at her, jabbing her with my elbow.

"Ohhhhhh, you mean THAT!" she giggled, "What do you want to know?"

Kristen came up to us about that time and quickly caught on to the conversation. I could see she was just as curious as I was as to what Tammy and Uncle Paul had been doing.

Just then her mom walked in and told us to get going so we didn't take all day cleaning up. That sort of ended the conversation until a while later when we managed to sneak off to a corner again.

"So spill it kid," Kristen said with a grin, poking her between the boobs with her finger.

"No big deal really," Tammy said offhandedly, "I mean he just fucked me quick and that was about it."

Yeah, and the Titanic was just a little bump into an iceberg. Neither Kristen or I was buying it.

"Well, you've fucked him before so what's there to say?" she said, raising her hands like she didn't know what more to tell us.

"No we haven't," Kristen came back, "Sounds like you're the first he's done." Then she looked at me and caught my eyes and her he mouth hung open in surprise. "Damn Kelly, you mean he's fucked you and you never told me?"

I held up two fingers and she rolled her eyes saying, "Twice? Damn, when was all this going on... and why didn't you tell me about it?"

This wasn't the time or place for this sort of conversation so I tried to direct attention back to Tammy. Out of the dark I sprang a question on her.

"So where's your thong?"

It was a bluff on my part and had she been ready for it I'm sure she would have said they were on her and let it go at that. But I'd caught her off-guard and before she could recover her expression told me everything.

"So does HE have them?" I grilled her.

Tammy just nodded, biting her lower lip a little before she grinned yet again. She certainly seemed proud of herself, that much was for sure.

"Damn, so now I'm the only one of us he hasn't fucked then?" Kristen whined. As usual with her, it was all about her. The heck that her oldest uncle had just screwed his youngest niece, all Kristen was concerned about was that he hadn't drilled her pussy yet. She wasn't use to being the bench player and being left out like this seemed to really gall her.

The way her eyes were narrowing and the furrows on her forehead, I could see her little blond mind starting to work overtime and I had a bad feeling I knew what she was plotting. It was time to nip this one in the bud before our luck for the day wore out. It was lucky enough that Tammy and I were able to masturbate together without raising suspicion, it was lucky that nobody but my dad notice I smelled like pussy when I sat down at the table, and it was REALLY lucky that my uncle Paul fucked Tammy so quickly without getting caught. So with all this luck in one day, why push it just to salvage Kristen's fragile ego?

"Down girl," I commanded, trying to smile to disarm my comments somewhat, "Don't you dare think of doing anything more for today."

"Why not? Who's going to notice?" she came back.

"Didn't you see the way Aunt Sheri looked at Tammy an Uncle Paul when they came back downstairs. I think she might be wondering if something was going on more than they said. We need to be careful my horny cousin."

Kristen looked ruefully at me and then glanced back at the living room where we could hear the guys watching TV. I knew what she wanted but it wasn't like she didn't get laid enough or anything as it was. She could wait for another day and a better opportunity.

Truth be known, they weren't the only ones with such thoughts. All I could think about was how stupid I had been for leaving them alone upstairs instead of staying with them and joining in. Even if he hadn't fucked me, seeing my uncle fuck Tammy would be almost as hot as watching my dad fuck her - something I hadn't witnessed in like forever it seemed.

"Watcha guys talkin' about?" Kate said, suddenly appearing next to Tammy. For a moment I panicked, thinking she might have overheard parts of our conversation that have been better now heard by her. Obviously she hadn't or I am sure she would have gone running off to their mother.

I would have loved to have said something like, "Oh, nothing much, just about Tammy getting fucked by Uncle Paul before dinner." Oh yeah, now THAT would have been delicious, at least for about two minutes which is all the time it would have taken for her to go screaming to their mom.

That pretty much ended THAT conversation. As much as I would have loved to have had a shot at Uncle Paul myself, just for pride if nothing else, the opportunity never arose and soon it was time for everyone to go home.

5. The Ride Home

"Mom! Did you know Uncle Paul fucked Tammy right before dinner today?"

We hadn't even pulled out of the driveway before Kristen was leaning over the front seat to blast her mother with the news. She and I were in the backseat while her mother drove.

"Can't say the thought hadn't crossed my mind," she called back as she backed into the street and put the car in drive to head home. "Seemed pretty obvious to me that SOMETHING was going on between those two and knowing Tammy that doesn't surprise me in the least."

"Well... then did you know he has fucked Kelly not once but TWO times?"

Now THAT seemed to get her attention and I saw Aunt Linda's neck crane up as she looked in the rear view mirror at me.

"Is that true Kelly?"

"It was a while ago," I said rather lamely. The truth be known, while I had fantasized about fucking Uncle Paul again this afternoon, it was more the heat of the moment than anything as since the last time he had done me I had pretty much decided it would indeed be the LAST time. It was a rather complicated situation, more than I cared to get into right now.

"Well, he's your uncle so I guess it doesn't matter anyway," Aunt Linda went on. "So what's this about Tammy?"

Kristen looked at me as she hadn't heard the entire story herself yet. I shrugged and went on to explain about how we started masturbating and how that led to meeting Uncle Paul in the hallway and how I had left them alone to do whatever.

"Hmmmmmm, so you don't actually know for sure that he DID fuck her, do you?"

THAT made me think for a moment, like I was a witness on this stand that had just been presented with evidence that countered my testimony. She was right. I didn't really know for sure that anything had happened at all. Maybe they were just both trying to make it sound like something had happened. Then again, HE had never told me that he fucked her, it was just her word. What if she was just trying to show off for her older cousin?

"Well... she was REALLY horny and he had that look too. I think they did it," I decided finally.

"So is Uncle Paula good fuck?" Kristen was already bored with the subject as it looked like there weren't going to be any juicy tidbits to share so she changed the topic back to something she was interested in.

I shrugged and frowned slightly. "He's OK I guess, nothing to write home about."

"So how did it happen with you two? Why didn't you tell me about it?" Kristen asked.

I gave her a quick rundown, including how he had been fucking my mom for years before that. Again, THAT seemed to draw my aunt's attention yet again. "He was fucking Mary?" my aunt asked back over her shoulder. "Are you sure about that? I know she would have told me if she had been doing him and she never even hinted at any sort of thing like that."

I assured her that my mom had confirmed his story which just made my aunt seem a little distressed. Meanwhile, Kristen was doing what Kristen did best - play with herself for the truckers to se. Damn, she had the attention span of one of my six grade boys! Just then a big truck honked next to us, startling my aunt.

"Damn it Kristen, if you're going to expose yourself to truckers you could at least warn me so I don't run off the road when they honk!"

I wasn't really all that interested in putting on a show for the highway community at the moment, but I WAS still horny as hell. After all, I hadn't gotten to cum when Tammy masturbated and then she was the one who got laid afterwards. Talk about unrequited lust! Now seeing Kristen stripping and exposing herself to anyone who would look, those feelings I was having watching Tammy earlier were coming back - and in spades.

By now we were crossing the bridges and gong through the tunnel to get home so it wouldn't be much longer before we were home. I guess I could have waited ten more minutes but why bother?

It had been a better Easter than I had expected, that was for sure. Now if I could just get myself off before we got home...

"She doesn't know much of anything which is why I told her she could just watch and then make up her mind about things," Aunt Linda explained. Then she gave him a more stern look as if to say, "That's enough... just shut up!"

My dad shrugged and then reached over so he could give me a long warm kiss. As out tongues met I felt his large hand on my bottom as he grabbed my ass and pulled me unto him. Mmmmmmm, I knew he wanted me and with all the other talk going on it still thrilled me to know he could be turned on by just a kiss from me.

"Hey, hey... that's enough you two, save it for later. You better get ready John, they'll be over in less than an hour. Can't you EVER be home on time?"

My dad pulled his head back and I loved the look in his eyes as he licked his lips quickly and then gripped my ass even tighter. He pulled me against him and I could feel his dick pressing out from his slacks, forcing it's way against my stomach. Oh yeah... he wanted me! It had been weeks since he'd last asked me for sex and it wouldn't have bothered me a bit if he were to ask me to come upstairs with him now and take care of him but my aunt would have none of it.

"Come on John, I said to save it for later!" she teased him but at the same time firmly pointing him in the direction of the steps leading to the second floor where the bedrooms were all located.

Reluctantly my dad followed her "orders" and headed upstairs to get cleaned up and ready. As soon as he was out of earshot my aunt turned to me with a bit of a quizzical look.

"I thought you weren't all that thrilled about incest with your father these days?" she asked, "yet you seemed like you wanted to jump his bones right then and there. What gives anyway?"

Well, what could I say? Sure a lot of water had run under THAT bridge in the past few months but in the end, no matter what happened or was said, he was my dad and I loved him and I would still do anything for him. OK, so maybe I wasn't throwing myself at him anymore but it wasn't like I was going to start turning him down now for the first time in my life. Besides, he WAS my father and in the end, incest always adds a little to the thrill no matter how often you do it or how much a part of your life it has become. The idea that it was my DAD's dick in me never failed to excite me!

"So what about you?" I asked my aunt, looking her over rather critically.

"Oh it will only take me a second to two to change clothes," she replied, "One advantage of young boys... they don't get all uptight about my hair and makeup!"

couldn't hide his lust for me. On those days when my self-confidence was low and I was feeling down, seeing his approach me in that simple outfit, seeing the burning look in his eyes and the flushness of his face was exactly what I needed to feel good about myself again. Then to feel his cock growing in my mouth, telling me that I was turning him on, and to hear him sigh as I sucked his stiff dick, made me feel even better.

Finally, when he was inside of me, pumping his incestuous cock in and out of his daughter's tight pussy, it was like everything was perfect in the world and all I could think about was the feeling of my father mating me, of him cumming inside of me as he gave me the ultimate gift of his love and respect for me.

But today was completely different. Today he wasn't dressed like this for ME but rather some other girl that he would soon be fucking. When he was dressing it wasn't me that was on his mind but some nameless young girl that he had never seen before, except maybe in photos. He greeting me with his wonderful smile but there was something missing in the way he looked at me. Something special was gone. He wasn't looking at me THAT way, at least not the way he did when I was younger. It wasn't even the same hungry look he'd had before going upstairs a few minutes ago. It was like something else was on his mind now - or should I say, someone else.

"Hey baby, Linda told me all about what was going on. Damn, I can't believe you're staying but I have to say that I'm glad you are."

I didn't say anything but instead just rose to hug him and we kissed. For a brief moment that closeness that only a father and daughter can experience flashed as our tongues met and he pulled me in tight to him. Just as I thought maybe he was about to surprise me and take me, my Aunt Linda showed up and the mood evaporated like water on a hot griddle.

"Hey you two, they're going to be here any minute so no funny business!" she teased us, slapping my dad on the butt playfully.

I saw Aunt Linda had changed into a pair of loose shorts that while short, were nothing indecent yet managed to show off her legs quite nicely. She had on a blouse that actually seemed to be her size, nothing fancy with a button-down front that she left undone to not only show off her cleavage, but also as proof that she wasn't wearing a bra underneath. She was barefoot and wasn't wearing any jewelry except for a simple gold anklet on her right foot. Her hair was pulled back into a ponytail which seemed to take ten years off and gave her more of a girl-next-door type of look - or mom next door. She wasn't going to pass for twenty by any means but she certainly didn't look like a women in her early forties.

Just then the doorbell rang and my dad let go of me to go and answer. Not quite sure what to do, I stayed back in the kitchen as my aunt followed him to the door. It was now or never if I was going to leave but it was like a moth being drawn to a flame. I may end up being burned for what was about to happen but I couldn't find the strength of will to pull myself away! If I left now, I knew I would always regret it.

3. A Close Encounter of the Strange Kind

I don't know what I was really expecting to see when the door opened but whatever it may have been, it wasn't what I saw. For all intents and purposes, the neighbors from next door could have been at the door for a visit. Standing in the doorway were four people - evidently the mother and father with their two kids - a boy and what must have been his younger sister. My dad ushered them in and closed and locked the door behind them.

The adults exchanged rather bland hellos and the men shook hands as I sat back and looked on. The parents, while not dressed formal, were wearing what could be called "dress-casual". The father, who looked maybe five to ten years younger than my dad, was wearing black slacks with a blue dress shirt and black dress shoes. If anything he looked more like an accountant than a swinger. The mom was wearing a rather simple floral summer dress which came below her knees and was quite modest overall. Anyone seeing the two of them might have thought that they were heading for a PTA meeting or something like that.

As for the kids, I was especially curious about them. The boy looked to be in his mid-teens, maybe fifteen or sixteen at most. He seemed a bit shy and hung back for the most part, shaking my dad's hand when my dad offered his but otherwise not saying a word. He didn't seem so much apprehensive as rather more like any other teenage boy going out with his parents. He had on jeans and short sleeved shirt with black sneakers. He DID look quite cute, I had to admit, with thick black hair that looked like it could use a comb. The dark hair served to enhance an almost olive complexion which he must have inherited from his mother.

The daughter was definitely the youngest sibling, maybe thirteen or fourteen at most. It's so hard with some girls at that age to guess how old they are so she relationships. Indeed, from the start the brother had his hand resting between his sister's bare thighs, gripping the smooth soft flesh in his hands and gently massaging it slowly. At the same time she had her hand resting on his crotch, almost imperceptibly moving it in small circles over what I could tell was already an erect dick. It wasn't anything TOO outrageous but enough that had they done it in public people would have looked at them more than a little oddly.

"Oh, and by the way, I'm Martha, this is my husband Simon, my son Mark and my daughter Elisa," the mother finished.

I noticed she did not state their ages as most mothers would have in such an introduction. It was also quite clear from her tone that this was ALL she was going to tell me about them.

Now that they'd addressed their concerns about me, the two of them seemed to ignore me after that and went back to talking to my parents. It was sort of surreal as they just talked about the local news, politics, weather and whatever else typical parents chat about when they are forced together socially but don't know each other.

In the meantime Mark and Elisa seemed to be getting bored which only made them more interested in each other. Elisa had scooted back into the couch and spread her legs provocatively, allowing Mark to move his hand up her thigh until the side of it was pressing against her crotch. As for Elisa, her hand was still on her brother's crotch but now she was gripping his dick though the jeans as best she could, squeezing it and rubbing it. Meanwhile, the conversation continued between the parents as if nothing was going on at the other end of the couch.

Needless to say, I was totally clueless as to what the protocol was for this sort of occasion so I just sat there motionless in my chair. Since nobody was addressing me, I didn't join in on the conversation. For all sakes and purposes, I might as well have been invisible. On the one hand it made it easier as I wasn't sure what I would have said in the first place, on the other it was a bit awkward in that I WAS there but they just ignored me.

The adults were saying something about the latest news about the Middle East as things continued to heat up between Elisa and her brother. Mark had taken his hand from between her legs and moved up to lift up the cami up and over her small boobs. They were barely a handful for him but her nipples were incredible hard and stuck out between his fingers as he caressed her breasts. I looked over and saw my dad may have been talking to Simon and Martha but it was clear where his attention

"Now Mark, you're not being a very polite guest. Can't you see Linda needs some attention? Why don't you let her enjoy that incredible dick of yours?"

Somehow I got the idea Mark would have preferred his sister enjoy his dick more but he did as his mother told him and stepped over in front of my aunt. He seemed uncertain, waiting for her to make the first move. I was curious myself what she wanted from him first - to suck his dick or have him eat her horny pussy? It didn't take long to find out.

"Oh my god, it's so beautiful," she whispered but loud enough for us all to hear.

Just as Simon was proudly watching my dad being blown by his daughter, Martha was practically beaming as Linda reached out for Mark's cock with both hands. Even with both hands she was barely able to cover the entire shaft.

"Soooooo, do you like your dick sucked Mark?" my aunt asked, smiling up at him as she gripped his erect cock.

Mark hesitated and looked back at his mom as if he wasn't sure how to answer.

"Now stop being so shy Mark and answer the pretty lady," his mother admonished him.

Mark licked his lips and looked down at Linda. "Yes ma'am, I love it to be sucked."

"I bet your sister suck you good, doesn't she?"

Again Mark looked back at his mom who just nodded and so he answered, "Oh yeah, she's great!"

My aunt nodded over to where her brother-in-law was finding out for himself just how good Mark's sister was when it came to blowjobs and she grinned. "From the looks of things, I would have to say you're right. How about I show you what I can do? Would that be OK with you?"

Without waiting for an answer she leaned forward and licked Mark's dick from the tip to the base and then back up again. She kissed the tip of his bulging head and then gently took it between her lips, sucking on it softly. It was almost like she was caressing it and loving it. Then she surprised everyone by suddenly pushing it into her mouth in one quick motion until her face was buried in the thick covering of hair at its base.

"Oh wow!" Mark couldn't help but exclaim as his eyes bugled and stared down at where his cock had disappeared from sight, now wholly engulfed in my aunt's mouth and throat.

Meanwhile my aunt had pushed Mark back and down to the floor on his back with his head almost at his father's feet. She quickly straddled him and used her hand to direct his dick back into her pussy which was hungry for more of his teen cock. Sitting on him now, she could practically reach out and touch his father.

It amazed me how he could just sit there and watch a woman as beautiful as my Aunt Linda ride his son's dick right in front of him yet act like it was the most ordinary thing in the world. From what I could tell, he didn't even have an erection! I mean, didn't he want to fuck my aunt too? Could he be so into little girls that a woman the age of my aunt, even as hot as sexy as she was, didn't turn him on?

My dad was back to fucking Elisa again. He didn't seem interested in changing positions, seemingly perfectly happy with what he was doing. I wondered if fucking her right next to her mom, so close he could have reached over and played with her pussy, was what was turning him on as well. Martha wasn't encouraging him to change either so maybe she was getting to watching this close up and personal just as much as my dad was. While Simon just watched the show in front of him and didn't say a word, Martha seemed to enjoy being more involved, at least verbally.

"Are you ready to cum yet John?' she teased, "Where do you want to cum? Her mouth?... In her pussy?... maybe you want to cum all over my daughter... is that what you want John... to spray your cum all over her tiny little body?"

I got the idea that SHE wanted to see his cum spraying all over Elisa but then she didn't know my dad. If she had asked me, I could have told her exactly where my dad wanted to cum - IN her pussy. My self-congratulatory feeling was quickly struck down as my dad surprised me yet again.

"I want to cum all over her... cover your slutty daughter with my cum," he managed to get out in short bursts between thrusts.

As he said it, he was looking at Martha more than Elisa and I then realized what was going on. Maybe had he been fucking Elisa alone upstairs he would have stayed and cum in her pussy, but this was for her mother. My dad was seeing how much his fucking her daughter was turning her on and he also quickly took the hint as to where she wanted to see his cum.

"Oh FUCK!" my dad exclaimed as he yanked his dick out of Elisa's abused pussy.

I have to say I was a little disappointed in that the parents didn't show any sign of being anything but the perfect chaperones. Suddenly the conversation was struck back up between the adults, almost like nothing had happened in between their previous conversation and now. Now my dad and aunt were naked but my father no longer had an erection and my aunt was beaming with some of Mark's cum still on her cheek and chest.

Mark got up and sat back down next to Elisa, the both of them still naked as well. They both were looking at their parents expectantly and I wondered what was going on. Obviously they were expecting something from their parents and it didn't take long to find out what it was.

"Ummmmm, I hate to change the subject like this but don't you guys think it's only fair that we let the kids have some fun for being so good to you?" Martha asked.

Really, what was my dad or aunt going to say? After all, they WERE teenagers, or at least one was and the other would be in a year or two so it was only natural that they would have more need for sex than their older partners.

"Sure... but we get to watch though... right?" my dad confirmed.

"Of course," Simon replied, "Besides, they love to be watched, don't you kids?"

Both Elisa and marked smiled and nodded eagerly. They didn't need to be told any more as Elisa laid down on her on the rug in front of the couch, her leg spread apart and her arms outstretched towards her brother. This was obviously something they were quite accustomed to as Mark quickly climbed on top of his sister and without further ado pushed his dick into her freshly fucked pussy. Given she had just being fucked by my dad, he was able to enter Elisa a lot easier than he might have otherwise and they immediately began fucking one another.

"Awwwwww... don't you guy agree that they look so sweet together like that?" Martha cooed, "I think it's so wonderful that they get along so well, don't you Linda?"

"Well, I guess sex is better than fighting and arguing," my aunt agreed.

"I mean... just look at the way he does his sister," their mother continued, the pride practically bursting from her, "and she loves it so... I just love seeing her being so happy."

It was killing me. Why didn't anyone say anything more about them? How long had they been having sex? How did it get started? Who else did they fuck? Did they really not do it with their parents? My dad could see I was about ready to burst and all it took was one sharp look from him for me to keep my mouth shut.

he gave me in a moment of complete submission to his love and authority over me as his daughter.

While I can't say I approve of everything my father does, how can I be mad at him when he can make me feel like this?

on him. He had the most incredible blonde hair, was good looking and had a super-hot body.

Not only did Sharon's brother LOOK good, but he was just fun to be around. Steve also enjoyed quite the reputation with the girls and it was pretty well known that if you wanted to date Steve it meant you put out or you wouldn't get asked out again. It really didn't matter so far as we were concerned as he only dated girls his age or older. Steve certainly had an eye on us all weekend, even peeking at us through the trailer screen windows when he thought we didn't know (the consensus was that he was masturbating) but he didn't show any real interest in any of us so far as getting more personal , or at least that's what we all thought.

To be sure, it wasn't like we didn't TRY our best to get his attention. All of us pretty much spent the entire weekend in our bikinis, even his mom. For a women her age she was pretty hot and I couldn't help but think what a jerk their dad must be to cheat on someone like her. Even Steve's sister got in on the teasing but if he didn't respond to the rest of us and totally ignored her. I wonder what he would have said if he knew that Sharon was as interested in her brother as the rest of us! Actually at the time I wasn't aware of her interests in her brother although I DID think it was a little weird the way she would flaunt herself in front of her own brother.

Needless to say, I was astonished when Steve called me later to ask me out. Somehow I managed to get the words out to accept without screaming. I've written all about our first date in an older diary entry including how I gave Steve my first blowjob[5] so I won't go into more detail about that now. It wasn't long after that when I gave Steve my virginity[6] and learned how wonderful sex could be. I was hooked!

For the next six months or so, Steve was the only boy I dated and the only boy I had sex with. At the time I would've said that I was in love with him but looking back it was probably more like a typical teenage crush. I mean, what girl would NOT say she was in love with the boy she first had sex with – and then had it virtually every day after that? Steve doted over me and did his best to meet my demands. Besides the fact I LOVED sex, the last thing I wanted was for Steve to dump me for an older girl who would put out more for him.

As I said, Sharon was also interested in her brother back then and she was always after me to tell her about what me and Steve did – the more detail the better. Still, so far as I knew she never realized her dreams. Oddly enough, it was his mother that provided the biggest surprise for me. Again, I've written about what happened in another diary entry.[7]

[5] 1999 (Jul 16) Chapter 4: My First Blowjob

[6] 1999 (Aug 02) Chapter 5: Losing My Virginity

In short, she once caught me and Steve doing at but rather than fussing about us she joined in and I was truly shocked when she had sex with her own son. So far as I know, it was a one-time thing but it was the first time I ever had any dealings with incest. Little did I know at the time that a couple of years later I would be having sex with my father and eventually a number of other family members, but back then incest was something totally foreign and unimaginable to me.

When Steve told me they were moving because his mom had taken a new job on the west coast, I thought my world was coming to an end. Needless to say somehow I survived and life went on but Steve always had a special place in my heart. The only time I ever saw him again was at his wedding. Based on what happened there between us, we agreed it would be best not to stay in touch so it had been several years now since I'd heard anything from him.

So now it's mid-2010 and I'm no longer that starry-eyed teenager that practically threw herself at an older boy. My high school slut days are behind me and at twenty-five, I've becoming quite "domesticated" according to my younger cousin Kristen. I now have my teaching degree and teach fourth thru sixth grade at a small Christian school. The pay sucks but I love my job. There are times it's tempting to try for a job at the local public school with their high salaries and incredible benefits. Still, my classes are small and I have great support from the parents so what I lose in salary I get back in job satisfaction. How many people can say they love going to work?

The down-side of my job is the salary. Most teachers there consider it to be a "ministry" and have husbands that bring in the primary salary. For me, it means living below the poverty line so far as the government is concerned which is why I moved in with my twenty two year-old cousin Kristen who was now living alone in her mom's house since her mom was now living with my dad.

While I may be living with my cousin, at least I'm not one of those mid-twenties people that still live with their parents. My social life is busy for the most part and there are plenty of guys that like to keep me happy - and I have to say I am not afraid to take advantage of their generosity. Hey, a BJ in exchange for dinner out is a pretty good deal if you ask me.

[7] 1999 (Oct 05) Chapter 8: My Boyfriend's Mom Joins In Overall I guess you could say that life is good for me although at times I wonder when "Mr. Right" is going to finally show up. True, I was almost engaged once but if anything, the experience only made me more wary of relationships, at least those that go beyond the "dating" phase. Still, I have the same hopes and dreams that most girls share, to meet Mr. Wonderful, get married, have a house that we fill will two kids and a dog... the typical American Dream. I have it all planned out - now I just need the guy!

2. Memorial Day Surprise

It was Memorial Day and as usual my plans were to spend the day at my dad's house. Kristen would be joining me as her mom would be there too. As I mentioned earlier, my Aunt Linda had moved in with my dad after my mom left after their divorce.

Speaking of which, my parent's divorce was probably more of a surprise to me than anyone. Maybe I was too close to see this signs but whatever it was, it caught me totally flat-footed. It was confusing to me at first but at least I as old enough to know that it wasn't anything to do with me. While there may be some women who would have a hard time dealing with their husband having sex with their daughter, my mom wasn't one of them. My parent's marriage was a bit complicated when compared to more "traditional" marriages, but once you understood their love for one another and their family backgrounds, it actually made a lot of sense.

First, if there was one thing my parents both believed in, it was the sanctity of marriage. Of course, their definition of marriage was not exactly what most people would describe, but it worked for them for over twenty years. When my parents took their marriage vows, they promised to be faithful to one another until death and they both took their vows before God as being firm and unbending. My parents never cheated while they were married in that they never had sex with anyone outside of their marriage family. There had only two "exceptions" over the years and they both involved close family friends who were "virtual family".

Knowing how seriously my parents took their marriage vows, you can see why I was totally blind-sided when they told me about their impending divorce. It wasn't until the papers were finalized were finalized and my mom was preparing to leave that I learned the truth about how my mother simply couldn't deal with my father's addictions any longer. It wasn't drugs or alcohol, but sex that he couldn't control and to make things worse, it was sex with younger girls that he craved. .The signs had all been there had I bothered to recognize them. It also explained to me why my father really had desired sex with me as a young teenager.

For a while things were pretty tense between my father and me. I explained this all in more detail in previous diary entries and the good news is by this time things had been worked out between us. So now I was once again looking forward to visiting my dad and aunt for the holiday. Some things would never be the same, of course, so there was little chance of anything sexual happening while my cousin and I were visiting, but we didn't need to have sex to have a good time together. After all, most families don't have sex and they get along just fine!

Just because we wouldn't have sex didn't mean we became Amish or anything so after I'd done my usually morning routine of masturbating and showering, I returned to my room to lay out my clothes for the day. The weather lately had been pretty crappy but the forecast for today was sunny and hot so they left me with a number of options.

Of course at some point I would be wearing my bikini and since the deck at my dad's house was private that meant I could wear my most revealing one. That made the selection easy since it meant I would wear the one my dad had bought me for this year. Since I was twelve my dad had made it a tradition that he would buy me one swim suit at the beginning of each year.

I can still remember the first one he bought me and my mom's reaction. I'd been wearing two-piece swim suits since I was a little girl but never anything like this one. It wasn't a thong by any means but it was certainly more revealing than what you would see girls at that age wearing at the city pool. My mom made a firm rule that I could only wear it at home - which I made sure I did whenever my dad was around since I knew he loved me to wear it (even though at that age I didn't understand the real reason why he did).

Needless to say I couldn't wear my latest bikini back and forth from my dad's house as it was little more than a few small triangles of thin clothe held together by some strings that tied at my side for the bottoms and behind my back and neck for the top. It would have been just my luck to be pulled over by some cop with no appreciation for the human body and be cited for driving while indecent (is there such a crime?). Actually, again the decision was pretty easy as I picked out my favorite summer outfit - denim cutoffs and a tight tank top.

All set now to go, I tucked my bikini in a bag along with a hairbrush and some makeup, quickly slipped on the shorts and tank top, and headed downstairs to see if my cousin was ready. So silly of me. If Kristen HAD been on time it would have been one for the record books so I sat in the kitchen and drank a Diet Coke while I waited impatiently. Surprisingly, only five more minutes passed and I heard her bouncing down the stairs. I slipped on my flip flops and went out to the living room to join her.

"Hey cuz, ready to go?" she asked in her typical chipper voice.

Kristen and I may have been cousins but we differed in a number of ways. Mornings were one of those in Kristen was the ultimate "morning person", ready to go full throttle from the moment she got out of bed. In contrast, I was the night owl and if I could sleep in until noon every day I would be thrilled.

"Um, aren't you gonna wear something over that?" I asked. Indeed, Kristen was all but naked in her thong and what could be loosely called a bikini top. Granted, it barely covered her nipples but that was about it. Lower down, had she not been shaved totally it would have been revealed as about all it covered was her pussy slit and barely at that. From behind, the strings were so thin they pulled in between her butt cheeks and left her looking from behind like all she had on was a piece of multi-colored string around her waist.

"What?" she whined, as if she had no idea what I was talking about. Seeing the look of frustration on my face, she got defensive.

"Like we're gonna be wearing even these when we get there, so what's the big deal?"

I just rolled my eyes and gave up. Years of experience told me that this was a losing argument so why even bother. Besides, she was right in that odds were she'd be nude most of the time on the deck. I actually liked to have a few tone lines as to me, it was more sexy to look like I was somehow revealing something that I usually didn't when I undressed for a guy. Kristen was again different from me in that she was all for the "all-over" tan look.

In the end it didn't matter as we drove over without incident and soon were sitting on the back deck of my dad's house around the glass-topped table in the corner near the hot tub. My Aunt Linda had served us some cold drinks and my dad was getting the grill ready for his traditional holiday cookout. For a moment I couldn't help but think we were missing someone and my heart strained for my mother whom I hadn't heard from in so many months. All I could hope was that someday she would be back together with us for these family get-togethers, even if she and my dad were no longer husband and wife.

For most of the afternoon it was just your typical holiday family get-together. My cousin has earned her realtor license and was working as a team with her mom so they had plenty of stories to tell about clients and buyers. My aunt's specialty was more exclusive homes which was always a cutthroat business even in good times. With the home market these days, things were even tougher so it helped to have a mother-daughter team. When a potential buyer was wavering between one of their homes or a competitor's, or a stubborn seller needed convincing to accept an offer that wasn't what they'd been hoping for, between the two of them they could often "convince" their client in ways competing realtors couldn't - or at least wouldn't. Thus you can imagine some of the stories they had to tell and we all had a good time, eventually ending up in the hot tub.

Since I was a little girl I'd never worn a bathing suit in our hot tub unless we had relatives or guests over. It was just something my parents preferred and since I grew up that way, it was just natural for me and I never even gave a thought as I dropped my clothes and stepped in nude. My family were definitely NOT nudists but at the same time, I was raised to not be ashamed of my body. Thus if I was showering or dressing, my dad was comfortable being around me and vice versa. There was nothing sexual about it, at least not until I was sixteen and started having sex with my parents. On a day like this, we all were nude together but there was no hint of anything sexual, just four adults enjoying a good time.

To all our surprise, while we were in the tub the front doorbell rang. My dad got out to answer it, pulling on a pair of gym shorts before leaving the deck and wrapping a towel around his shoulders. The rest of us stayed as we were, assuming it was just someone trying to sell something, even thought it was a holiday.

A few minutes later my dad poked his head out the door from the kitchen to the deck and called to me. I have to say I was a little surprised when he said there was someone at the door wanting to see me. Well, I didn't think he meant ALL of me so I grabbed my shorts and wrapped a towel around me before heading through the house, trying not to drip too much water on the hardwood flooring. I wasn't worried about how I was dressed as whoever it was, it had to be one of my friends as who else who know to look for me here?

Passing by my dad, I started to ask who it was but he just shushed me and grinned, Hmmm, now I WAS wondering who it might be. Must be some prank or something to make him smile at me like that. In any case, he returned to the deck while I went down the hallway to the front door.

Of all the people I would have guessed it might be, I never considered for a moment that it would be who it was. Oh my god, it was Steve! Sure he was a few years older but I would have recognized him anywhere.

"Hey girl, long time no see," he greeted me as my mouth suddenly seemed unable to function.

All I could do was stare at him and then I became acutely conscious of the fact the only thing I had on was a pair of ultra-short cutoffs and a towel around my top.

"Did I catch you at a bad time?" he asked, seemingly sincere although I noticed his eyes were giving me the once over.

For some reason, seeing him check me out somehow relaxed me. Yep, same ol' Steve, always interested in looking me over whenever he had the chance.

"Oh no... not at all!" I finally blurted out, lying through my teeth. Like duh, the rest of my family was naked in back and here I was dripping wet and barely covered and he was asking if he caught me at a bad time?

"Ummmmm, can I come in then?" he asked, smiling at me now in the same cocky expression he always use to get when he seemed to be able to read my mind.

What could I say? No, my dad and aunt and cousin were out back naked so why not come again later? There were a lot of things Steve didn't know about me and among those were my more intimate relationships with my family. I didn't start having incestual sex until over a year and a half after Steve moved away and for the brief time we were together at his wedding it didn't seem to be something to bring up in conversation.

So I invited him and when he looked around to see where my dad had gone, I mentioned to him that everyone was out on the deck. He seemed to be expecting me to invite him back so I headed towards the back of the house, my mind racing as I tried to think of how I was going to explain what he was about to see. I slowly opened the door leading to the deck, holding my breath and almost afraid to look but then I was reminded once again how wonderful my father was.

"Hey Steve, great to see you again, been a long time!" my father called out as we entered the deck.

He was seated by the table, my Aunt Linda and Kristen on either side of him. my dad was still in his gym shorts while my aunt and cousin were wrapped in beach towels. Their wet hair indicated they had just been in the hot tub so it wasn't any surprise that they would have towels around them. What Steve did NOT know was that underneath those towels there was nothing but bare skin.

"Steve!" my cousin called out, waving to him but staying seated. Kristen was been only twelve when I was dating Steve but everyone in my family knew him.

Steve hadn't seen her since then so I was amused to see his eyes widen and take in what he could see of her. At twenty two, she looked a LOT hotter than the little twelve year-old he had known.

I introduced Steve to my aunt who claimed to remember him but I think she was just being polite. No doubt they'd met a few times over the time we had been dating but it wasn't like he had ever interacted with her in any way. My dad had pulled up another chair for Steve and he sat down next to me with my cousin on the other side of him. I glared at Kristen, telling her with my eyes in no uncertain terms to lay off of him. The last thing I needed right now was for my slutty cousin to start flirting with Steve.

Naturally we all wanted to know why he was here and he explained that his mom's company was transferring her back to Pittsburgh again so he was moving back with her. Needless to say I was confused since he was married but then I took a closer look at his hand and saw there was no sign of a wedding ring. Seeing me looking at his hand, Steve chuckled and explained.

"I suppose you're wondering about why I'm living with my mom and not wearing a wedding ring," he started out, sitting back in his chair like it was going to be a long explanation.

Actually it was relatively brief. The marriage turned out to be a hasty mistake and they had sought an annulment after just a few weeks so technically he was never married, at least not legally, As for living with his mom, he just shrugged and mentioned some off-hand comment about the economy and left it at that.

It was my turn then so I filled him in on the highlights of the past few years. Of course I left out a lot of things but he learned about my graduation and my current teaching job as well as my parent's divorce and my current living arrangements. His eyebrows sort of twitched when I told him that my aunt was now living with my dad but other than that he didn't say a word.

It was getting hot so my aunt asked if we all wanted something to drink. When she stood up her towel barely covered her ass and I saw Steve taking a quick peek. Well, it was more than a quick peek but I didn't say anything to him and I was left wondering if it was a deliberate act by my aunt or just an accident. I would have probably given her the benefit of the doubt and gone with the "accident" scenario if Kristen hadn't volunteered to help. In her case the towel didn't quite cover her butt and Steve got more than an eyeful this time as she made her way off the deck to help her mom. Oh yeah, accident my ass!

With just the three of us left, my dad asked Steve what he was doing for work. Actually, I had no idea what Steve did for a loving these days so I was interested in his answer as well. For the first time, Steve seemed a little nervous and then he confessed he was "between jobs" at the moment which was why he was living with his mom. He was hoping the job market in Pittsburgh would be better which was why he had decided to move back with her. For some reason he was being cagey about his actual line of work and neither me or my dad pressed him further on it. I figured sooner or later he would tell me so why push him now.

My aunt and cousin returned with trays of drinks which were more than welcome with the hot sun shining down on us. Steve mentioned something about the hot tub and how he wished he'd brought his swimsuit with him. Kristen about choked on her drink and I couldn't help but grin just a little myself. Kristen was undoubtedly thinking about her state of undress and from the way she was looking at Steve, probably was wishing he would just strip and join her - in more ways than one. For me it was sort of ironic in that I don't think Steve had ever worn a suit in the tub before, at least not for long, but then that was when it was just the two of us.

Naturally we had a ton of questions for each other's and so for a while it was just catching up on what we'd all be doing the past few years. I couldn't help but notice Steve was keeping a close eye on Kristen but then who could blame him. My slutty cousin was all but baring herself for him, letting her towel "accidentally" slip now and then and acting as if she was embarrassed. That didn't really surprise me knowing my cousin. In a way, I was just thankful she wasn't already on his lap - without the towel. It was her mom that drew my ire.

My Aunt Linda is now in her forties but you would have been hard pressed to guess it if you didn't know Kristen was her daughter. Even then, you might have guessed younger as Kristen inherited her mother's youthfulness and looked more like she was seventeen or eighteen than twenty two. The same for my Aunt Linda in that she could have easily passed for ten years younger than she was. Steve certainly was making sure to get an eyeful as his eyes kept shifting back between mother and daughter. Aunt Linda wasn't being naughty like Kristen, but just the way she looked with her legs crossed and most everything showing was plenty for Steve to all but drool over.

Things were starting to get dangerous now and I knew if I didn't do something that it could turn into an afternoon Steve would not soon forget. It's not that I would have been so terribly upset about it per se, it was just that here was my long-lost boyfriend and now my aunt and cousin were practically putting on a show for him and they had never even had anything to do with him before. It was like it just came natural to them to try to turn on guys and tease and flirt. Well, that may work in the real estate sales business, but not with my ex-boyfriend, at least not if I had anything to say about it.

Standing up, I took Steve by the hand and thanked him for stopping by and made some lame excuse about dinner being almost ready. My dad started to say something about how there was plenty of food if Steve wanted to say but one glare from me was enough to stop him in mid-sentence. I wasn't sure if Steve fully understood what was happening. In fact, I was sure he was quite confused but he took the hint and mentioned he had to be somewhere himself and that he had just stopped by to say hello. I told him I would show him out and led him back into the house without looking back.

At the front door, Steve turned to me and my heart started to race as I was sure he was going to kiss me. Then my hopes were dashed as he leaned over and gave me a peck on the cheek instead, saying it was good to see me again and that he hoped we could get together some time soon. Trying not to appear TOO anxious, I told him I would love to and so we made plans for the following Friday night. Steve left and as I watched him go, I almost felt like I did so many years ago when he first asked me out. If anything, I was looking more forward to it now than I even did back then.

3. Fathers Trump Boyfriends

By the time I got back to the deck, things had indeed gotten out of control. Apparently all their teasing and flirting had driven everyone to be horny or maybe it was just waiting for the right moment and now it had arrived. Whatever the case, I saw my the three of them had made it back into the hot tub where Kristen was licking her mom's pussy as she sat on the edge of the tub. My dad was seated on the opposite side, stroking a considerable hard-on as he got an eyeful of the action in front of him. From the looks of things, I doubted Kristen's pussy was going to be empty for long the way she had it sticking out at my dad with her legs apart.

Ordinarily I would have joined in but today something held me back. All I could think about now was Steve and how he made me feel just talking to him again. Without saying a word, I went back in the house and made my way up to my old bedroom. Looking out the window, I saw in that short time it took me to go up the stairs my dad had indeed positioned himself behind Kristen and now had his hands on her hips as he thrust himself in and out of her while she kept he head firmly in her mother's crotch.

A flash came to mind as I recalled seeing my parents making love for the very first time from this same window when I was sixteen and how it led to me ultimately having sex with first my father and then my mother. Oh yes, the things that had been seen out of this window over the years. I remembered my mo0ther watching from my bedroom as my dad had sex with my best friend Beth, one of only two girls outside our family that he had ever had sex with while he was married. I wondered how many times my parents had watched me having sex with a boyfriend, who of course had no idea the parents of the girl he was fucking were observing everything from right above him.

As hot as the scene was below me, my mind was preoccupied with memories of Steve. I looked around my bedroom and at my bed, remembering all the time Steve had fucked me here. At first it had been hard to get him to have sex with me while my parents were home as he was naturally afraid that my parents would "catch us". It was hard to make him believe that my parents actually encouraged me to bring him home for sex as they preferred I do it somewhere private and safe than in the backseat of some car parked who knows where. What he never knew was that often my dad would check in on us and watch as Steve fucked me.

Oh they can take care of themselves," my dad said, waving them off as if they didn't matter, "I figured you probably needed some special attention about now and from the looks of things, I was right."

Well, it could be debated WHO really needed the special attention but I wasn't going to argue. Did it really matter anyway? My dad obviously wanted me so what difference did it make why, it was my biblical duty as his daughter and pleasure as a woman to please him.

Without saying a word, I reached out to him and he stepped forward so I could grasp his cock. He had been stroking himself as he looked at me so he was back to being rock hard once again and I loved the feel of my father's dick in my hand. Using his dick like a leash, I pulled him closer until I could turn on my side and take him in my mouth. Mmmmmmm, he had indeed been fucking someone as I tasted the unique flavor and smelled the scent of a pussy on his dick. He must have gone straight from Kristen's pussy to my bedroom. As hard as he was it meant he hadn't cum in her so I image she couldn't have been too happy about that! Oh well, her loss was my gain.

"God that feels so good Kelly," my dad sighed, pulling my head into his dick with his hands, "You've always been the best."

I'd like to think he wasn't just saying that in the heat of the moment and that I was indeed the best to ever suck his dick. In fact, I was quite proud of my cock-sucking skills which I'd honed over the years. Sheesh, how many hundreds of dicks had I sucked since I first did Steve's over eleven years ago? All I could say for sure was that it was a LOT. Many guys told me how good I was and more than a few claimed I was the first to ever get them to cum using just my mouth. I hated it when men would use their hand to finish themselves off so I took it as a matter of pride and principle to see to it that I was the one to make them cum.

My dad was horny, that was for sure. Not long after I started sucking him he was thrusting his dick in and out of my mouth like he was fucking my mouth. All I had to do was hold my head still and he was doing all the "work".

"Oh fuck, I love it when you do that with your tongue," he gasped as I flicked my tongue over his shaft as it passed over it.

I have to say, I first learned to use my tongue more from watching my dad's porn flicks, especially the older ones with the professional whores. Ginger Lynn was my idol and many of the techniques I used were borrowed from watching her incredible blow jobs. Now there was an actress who truly loved her work! She may have been a whore, but she obviously did it for more than just the money.

My dad was stroking pretty fast now and it was here that I had to make a decision as to whether to just please him or to satisfy my own needs as well. Well, why not kill two birds with one stone as they say?

"Fuck me daddy," I whispered hoarsely to him, stroking his dick as I looked up at him and our eyes met, "Please fuck me daddy."

If there were three words that were guaranteed to get a response from my father, they were, "fuck me daddy". There was something about me saying that to him that just seemed to get to him more than anything else I could do or say. This time was no exception. My dad's eyes locked onto mine and I could almost feel them boring into me. It wasn't long before they weren't the only thing boring into me as he pushed me over on my side and climbed on top of me, spreading my legs apart as he held his dick and positioned it at the entrance to my pussy.

"Here you go baby... here's what you wanted," he almost growled at me as he thrust himself into me, burying his incestuous dick deep inside of me, "That's it baby, take what you know you want."

"Oh daddy, yes... fuck me daddy," I moaned as he began to thrust his stiff dick slowly in and out of me, "Love me daddy... show me you love me!"

Then it was like he tried to push it up into me as far as he could and then held himself there in me, leaning over me on his elbows as I felt his hot breath against my face.

For a few minutes we just laid there that way, coupled together as a father and daughter should be on my bed. It was like everything else in the world disappeared and the only thing that existed was my father's dick deep inside of me, filling me as he kissed me and told me how much he loved me. It wasn't love as in husband and wife or boyfriend and girlfriend. This was a love only a father and a daughter can share and perhaps, only truly understand.

It's my personal belief that it's only natural for a father and daughter to want to have sex together. Look at how many men want to have sex with their daughters and those are just the ones who will admit it. Likewise, I know a lot of girls who would secretly admit to wanting to be with their fathers but suppress their feelings because of how incest is viewed by our culture. In my opinion, this isn't just lust driving these feelings, it is a natural attraction of a father and daughter to one another, completing their relationship in the most intimate way possible.

When my father is in me, it is like nothing else I can even begin to describe. It is like I am complete, like something missing in me has been recovered. It is a feeling of security and safety. It also makes me feel immeasurable happy to see the pleasure that I am giving my father, in a way no other woman on earth can. As his only daughter, having sex with me is a unique experience that he can never enjoy with anyone else.

As we laid there, I felt him slowly moving in me, just small movements rather than full thrusts. He would grind his crotch against mine, rubbing his thick pubic hair against my bald pussy like as soft brush. His lips covered my nipples, sucking on them and tugging on them while his fingers were in my hair, pulling on it just ever so slightly.

"I missed this," he sighed as he kissed my breasts.

Indeed, he wasn't the only one. It wasn't just the pleasure he gave me, any man could fuck me and make me feel good. It was the emotional fulfillment that I felt when my father had sex with me that made it so special. Just as I was the only woman that could make him feel this way, the way only a daughter could make her father feel, so it was with him for me. He was my father and as such, only he could satisfy the hunger of emptiness within me that he did.

"Oh daddy!" I cried out as he started to cum in me.

I could feel him jerk and push into me with each ejaculation. Each time he did I could imagine the stream of incestuous sperm shooting from the tip of his cock deep inside of my pussy, filling me with the ultimate expression of his love and respect for me.

How can I explain how special it feels to have my own father mate me? Well, at least cum in me but the idea is the same. Of course I would never want to actually have him impregnate me, but the act of him cumming in me made me feel so special in so many ways. Had he just fucked me and then pulled out and cum on my face or breasts, it would have just been an act of lust, no different than what most men would want to do to me. No, from the very first time my father fucked me he had cum in me without even asking, as if he instinctively knew it was the right thing to do. It was what a father SHOULD do.

"Oh baby, I love you," he groaned as he finished himself in me.

We just laid there like that, my father's spent dick still buried inside of me. If it were up to me, we could have stayed that way all night. I was sure with a little encouragement he would soon be hard again in me. It was an incredible feeling to feel his dick harden in me and grow!

Alas, my aunt and cousin WERE waiting for him in the tub so he had to pull out and leave me. We kissed briefly and then he waved goodbye as he returned to the deck. I closed my eyes and hugged my crotch with both hands, missing the feeling of him in me.

After that I really wasn't in the mood to get back together with everyone again so I stuck my head out the door and announced I was leaving. No doubt they knew what had happened so Kristen just said she would have her mom drive her home later. As I drove home, I thought to myself what a crazy day it had been. Yet as much as I was thrilled to see Steve again and the anticipation was already growing within me regarding our upcoming "date", the one thing that made me feel the best was the memory of the expression on my dad's face when he was cumming in me.

4. Preparing for My "First" Date

It was crazy. Really, it was absolutely insane. Here I was, twenty-five years old yet feeling like I was fourteen again about to go out on my first date. Since that night out with Steve over eleven years ago I'd been on hundreds of dates, if not thousands, had sex with hundreds of men and dozens of women, including a number of married men - and women. I'd worked briefly as an escort, having sex for money with men I'd never met before and never would again, been to parties where I had sex with multiple people in inventive ways, and could pretty say, "been there, done that" to most things about sex so long as it wasn't anything too kinky or hurtful. Heck, I'd even had sex with a dog twice (but never again)!

So with a resume like that, why was I pacing my room like a tiger in a cage, fretting over my hair, what I was going to wear, and all the other things that I shouldn't be worrying about. After all, this was Steve, not some guy I'd never been out with before. This was the guy to whom I gave my first blowjob, given my virginity, and done a number of other "firsts". This was the guy I had sex with literally hours before he was married. If there was anyone I should be comfortable with, you would think it would be Steve. So why was I practically shaking with nerves?

Whenever I get really nervous or worried about something, there is one thing that never fails to get my mind off whatever it is that is bothering me. I'm speaking of course of masturbation. When you're playing with your pussy and fantasizing about crazy sex, it's hard to be uptight about much of anything! I still had a couple of hours before he was supposed to pick me up so even if I had to shower over again, it would be worth it if it helped me get over the biggest case of nerves I'd had in a long, long time.

Dropping my towel which I'd wrapped around me after my shower, I pulled back the bedspread and top sheet on my bed. Piling a few pillows on each other against the headboard, I laid back in my bed with my head and upper back supported by the pillows, my legs spread wide apart. At first I just put one hand on each of my boobs, just holding them and gently squeezing them with my nipples between my fingers. Closing my eyes, I remembered how it felt so long ago when Steve first held them in his hands. It was the first time anyone other than me had held them this way and I shivered as my nipples reacted, hardening between my fingers as I slowly rubbed them between my fingers.

Releasing my breasts, I let the tips of my fingers trace slowly across my upper chest and boobs, just lightly touching me as they ran up and down and around the bottoms of my boobs. The slowly, ever so slowly, I let them wander down further, moving down a few inches and then returning back to my upper chest before making another move. It was just like Steve had done the first time I'd let him undo my blouse and remove my bra. I remembered his one arm around my neck, cupping my boob with his hand as he reached around me while his other hand wandered all over my upper body, just touching me ever so softly. Like back then, I had my eyes closed and just leaned my head back, taking it all in.

Unlike back then, I was naked now so it was easier for my hands to move down past my stomach and towards my legs and crotch. Actually, the first time Steve groped me he didn't even get into my shorts but that didn't matter now. Each of my hands made their way down the sides of my torso, fingertips running along my sensitive skin over my hips and down to my upper thighs as far as I could reach. Then I laid my hands flat pressing against my legs and then letting my hands drift inwards to my inner thighs as I lifted my knees up and flattened my feet on the bed.

When a guy touches me, there are lots of places where I can be stimulated besides the obvious. Most guys tend to go for my breasts and crotch. While I would never say I didn't like to be touched there, they are missing out on other places that can stimulate me in other ways. First, I LOVE my hair to be played with. The feeling of a guy's fingers running from my scalp to the tips of my hair, pulling on it ever so gently, makes me shiver all over. I can practically orgasm just from this alone under the right circumstances.

Working down, I'm not a big ear person but I don't mind the lobes being gently touched. Keep your tongue out though, it makes me feel creepy! Anywhere on my face and neck can feel good so long as it is soft and gentle. Using the backs of your fingers, letting the nails gently stroke across my forehead and then down my cheeks and neck, is SO relaxing.

When it comes to my boobs, attention guys - there are more to them than just the nipples and you don't have to try to pop them like a pimple when you touch me! Cup them in your hands, gently massage them and run your fingers under the curvature of my bosom and you'll stimulate me a lot more than just yanking and twisting my nipples.

My stomach is ticklish so while I like it to be touched, don't make me giggle as it spoils the mood. The best thing to do is go on the other side where I LOVE the feeling of my ass being touched. I do NOT mean my ass HOLE, I mean my butt in general and hips. When I say kiss my ass, I mean it in a nice way as I like the feel of a wet tongue running over my cheeks.

Then there is the one place that really drives me nuts - my thighs, especially the inner portion. You can run your hands and fingers along my legs and work your way between them and you'll know I love it when I spread them further apart for you. Don't make the usual mistake guys do and think I'm trying to hint to go for my pussy. The truth is I probably just want my legs touched all the more.

So it was at this point now as I laid in my bed. I had my feet flat on the sheet with my knees wide apart, each hand between my legs, rubbing myself gently. Slowly, ever so slowly, it was like my hands had a mind of their own as they drifted down and met at my bare crotch. God my pussy felt so warm!

Using my fingertip, I probed my pussy hole and felt the wetness there. Wetting my finger, I dragged it upwards to my clit, gasping slightly when I first touched it. At first I just pressed down on it, applying pressure without moving my finger. Oh yeah, it wanted more and so I started to make small circles around it, teasing it now and then by crossing over it and then circling it again. With my other hand I pushed one finger into me up to the second knuckle, imagining it was a cock seeking the warmth and security of my pussy.

It didn't take much longer for my orgasm to finally arrive. I wanted it so badly by now, NEEDED it even more. It's not like I always had an orgasm every time I masturbated. Often just the act of masturbation was enough for me but not tonight, not in the mood I was in. I groaned out loud as my hips rose up against my probing hands. It was like my entire body started to tingle, like every hair on me was standing on end. Holding my breath, I stroked my pussy with my fingers quickly until I couldn't hardly bear it anymore and released my breath in a single loud whoosh! Oh god, it felt SOOOOOO good I never wanted it to end!

I couldn't stay on my back and twisted over onto my right side in a fetal position, my hands firmly imbedded between my legs as my head rolled from side to side. "Fuck me... Fuck me...," I begged my imaginary lover, thrusting a second and then a third finger into my pussy. God I wanted a real dick in me so badly at this moment, to feel it cumming inside of me, feeling the thrust of his hips against me as he ejaculated and released himself deep inside of me.

It's not like it ended so much as it slowly dwindled away. Finally I was left gasping, trying to catch my breath as I brought my pussy fingers to my mouth and sucked myself off of them. Mmmmmmm, I loved the taste of my pussy, especially right after I'd cum. I know a lot of girls say they don't like to taste their pussy but I consider them a minority. How could anyone NOT love the taste of a hot pussy?

Glancing at the clock, I saw I'd less than an hour before Steve arrived. For a moment I considered not showering and seeing if Steve noticed the odor of sweat and sex on me. Would he say anything? Would he realize WHY I smelled the way I did or would he think I just smelled bad? In the end, I showered anyway. With any luck, I'd be smelling this way again before the night was out.

5. First Date Relived - 11 years Later

The doorbell rang and I fought the temptation to go running to the door and flinging it open. Of course I'd seen his car pull up and could have gone out instead of making him come to the door but I wanted to make this a special night so having my date come to the door was a natural first step.

"Hi Steve," I greeted him after I opened the door.

Steve started to say something and then he looked closer at me and hesitated. I just stood there, trying not to smile too broadly or act like I was some overly-excited teenager about to go out on her first date - which was exactly how I was feeling.

"Wow, you're looking really good Kelly," he finally blurted out, reaching out to take my hand.

THAT brought a smile to my face as I'd gone out and bought a new dress just for tonight... just for him. In fact, everything I was wearing was brand new. The dress was pure black and actually hung a little lower than my usual, almost to my knees in fact. Being strapless, it clung tightly to my breasts to hold itself up, emphasizing my boobs and cleavage. It was a wrap-around style in that while the top was tight, the lower portion was made such that it wrapped around more like a toga and was held in place by a tie on my left side. The result was while it was a little longer than what I usually preferred, it opened easily to the side where it was tied to reveal most of my upper leg when I walked or crossed my legs.

Underneath the dress all I had on was a new pair of black lace panties. They were too broad to be called a thong but by no means boy shorts. The side were high cut so when I sat down and crossed my legs, even though the dress opened up (assuming I didn't pull it over), you wouldn't know I was wearing anything under it. As low cut and strapless as it was, there wasn't a bra in the world I could wear which didn't bother me. Actually the dress had some built-in support which pushed up on my boobs enough to exploit my cleavage to its best.

I'd been out in the sun enough that my legs had lost their winter pale although still not as tanned as I would be in a few more weeks. It was enough not to wear hose and still look good. Of course I'd shaved them just a few hours before - along with a few other areas of my body, so they were smooth to the touch. I'd also splurged on a new pair of black heels which also helped to make my legs look good.

So yes, I was pleased that Steve seemed happy with what he was seeing waiting in the doorway for him. It had cost me everything bit of extra money I had, not to mention some help from a credit card my dad still let me use, but seeing him staring at me the way he was made it all worth every penny.

Taking Steve's hand, I let him walk me to the car, my small matching black purse in my other hand. When we go to his car, I waited and he took the hint and opened the door for me like a gentleman. I noticed the car was a little older but seemed well-maintained. As I sat down, I let my dress pull up and didn't reach down to keep it down, thus allowing more leg to show for him. The split was on my left side so it wasn't like TOO much was showing, but enough to get his eye.

Getting in the driver's seat, Steve started the car and then turned to me and finally said something. Up until now we had just walked together without a word and I had been waiting for him to make the first move so far as conversation went.

"God it's great to see you again Kelly," he said, "I have to confess, I feel a little awkward tonight."

"Oh? Why is that Steve?" I replied, feeling the same myself but ready to admit it.

"Well... I mean... it's just we have so much... history I guess you could say. Now it's been so long and I don't know with everything that's happened since where to pick things up."

Actually I'd thought a lot about this very same thing. We hadn't dated in almost eleven years yet at the same time, when we HAD dated it was one of the most intensely emotional periods of my life. So much in my life changed in the six months or so that we were together. The entire course of my life had been altered and the man now sitting next to me had been responsible for it. Not "responsible" in a bad way, but rather I mean as the guy who helped shape me into what I became. It was his encouragement, his patience and support, his open-mindedness, his willingness to do anything I wanted that made sex such an integral part of my life from that time forward.

So indeed, were DID we go from here? All I knew was I wanted tonight to be special, something to always remember. In my heart I knew exactly what I wanted but hesitated in telling Steve as I was unsure of how he would react. What if he thought it was silly? I mean, it wasn't like he was sixteen anymore and I was fourteen I had changed a lot since those days and I was sure he had too.. Heck, he'd even been married, if only for a short period. Would it be even possible to relive something that happened when we were both so much younger and innocent?

I twisted in the seat to face him. "You know what I would like Steve? Let's do our first date all over again... do you remember it?"

Now THAT brought a smile to his face. "Of course I remember, how could I ever forget?" he replied with that smile I'd always loved so much.

"I know it sounds silly Steve, and I hope you didn't have other plans for tonight."

"Hey, that sounds like a GREAT plan Kelly. It was just seeing you in that incredible dress, I thought you might want to go somewhere... I don't know... somewhere more public I guess."

True, I was a bit overdressed as compared to our first date but it didn't matter to me. I'd gotten my money's worth just seeing the look on his face when I opened the door and stood there in front of him.

"I just want to be with you tonight Steve," I said softly, "I just want it to be special, you know what I mean?"

He just nodded and started up the car, heading down the street without another word. It only took ten minutes to get to the theater which we filled with some small talk about the town and local politics and gossip, nothing really personal. I don't either of us was quite ready to open up to the other yet. THAT was going to take a little more time so in some ways, tonight was indeed a "first date".

As Steve bought the tickets at the kiosk, I looked around and couldn't help but feel a bit overdressed but it didn't bother me. It made me feel good to see other men with their wives and families looking me over when they thought I (and their wives) wouldn't notice. It wasn't just the older men that I was getting attention from. Some of the teenage boys were a little less discrete and it made me feel good to see them looking at me while their date was distracted by something else.

"Here we go, two tickets to the worse movie in the house," Steve said, bringing my attention back to him again.

We both laughed as I knew what he meant. Back when we dated we would pick out the least-watched movies as we both knew we had no intention of actually watching it. We just wanted to be sure the theater was as empty as possible so we could find a pair of seats that weren't right next to somebody else. We didn't want the theater to be totally empty - that would have taken the thrill out of it as it was the risk of being seen that made it fun.

We bypassed the lines at the food counter and headed straight for the theater as it was already a few minutes past the official start time. Of course, there was no fear of missing any of the movie with all the ads and preview these days, but then again, we weren't exactly worried about the movie anyway. If anything, it worked out better this way as anyone who was going to come in the theater was most likely already there so we could pick out seats without having to worry about another couple coming in later and sitting next to us.

Opposite the entrance to our theater were the restrooms and I told Steve I needed to make a quick stop. Actually, I had no need of the facilities, I just needed someplace private for a few seconds. Stepping in, there were a couple of other women and a young girl already there so I stepped into a stall and turned around. Reaching under my dress, I put my hand between my legs and felt the warmth of my crotch through the thin panties. Oh yeah, I was ready!

I pressed my fingers against me, pushing the fabric into me slightly and rubbed my panties against my wet pussy. As good as it felt, getting myself off wasn't my intention, at least not this time. Using both hands now, I grabbed my panties on each side and slid them down to my heels and off. I sniffed the crotch and smiled. Yep, smelled pretty good to me! Hopefully Steve would think the same. I bundled them up into a ball and hid them in my hand as best as I could. Flushing the empty toilet, I stepped out and hurried back to Steve who was waiting patiently for me outside.

"Sorry, I needed to do something for you," I said as I approached him. I reached out with my closed hand and put it against his. Then I opened it up to reveal to him what I was hiding.

Steve grinned when he saw what I was offering him. "Hmmm, now THIS is interesting."

"I just didn't want anything in the way tonight," I whispered as we headed into the theater, "I hope you don't mind keeping those for me."

The smirk on his face told me more than anything he could have said. Once through the door and out of sight from the crowd outside, he put them up to his nose and sniffed.

"Mmmmmmm, now THAT's the way all panties should smell," he whispered to me.

The theater was dark as the movie had just started. As our eyes adjusted, I could see there were a few people spaced out throughout the theater, maybe a total of twenty or so in all. I grinned as I noticed a few couples had already staked out the more remote seats. No doubt we weren't the only ones with more than the movie on our agenda for the evening.

Steve stood there for a few more seconds, scouting out the theater and then made his selection. With the upper portion of the theater pretty well occupied, we headed for the second row and then down almost to the wall. The theater was one of the smaller ones so there were steps on only one side. When I say second row, I meant the row in the upper portion of the theater, not the lower section where you were right on top of the screen. It wasn't exactly the usual location for us but there was nobody else in the row and with the high-back seats it wasn't like anyone could see us all that well. Besides, from the looks of things I doubted many of the other couples would be looking around all that much anyway.

Taking our seats, Steve pulled the armrest up and out of the way. I loved the seats in this theater. With the arm rest up I could sit right next to him almost like we were on a couch. It certainly made things easier - as I'm sure the designers knew when they dreamed them up.

I made sure to sit on Steve's right as that was the side the opening in my dress was on. I crossed my legs and this time I scooting in my chair just enough to ensure that it opened up wide for him. Our eyes had adjusted to the light buy now and there was enough light from the screen for him to see my exposed leg.

"Like my new dress?" I whispered, "I bought it just for you."

Steve smiled again and nodded, his eyes telling me everything as they looked at my leg. The movie was now going but he never even glanced at the screen, keeping his eyes on me the entire time. He put his arm around my shoulder and pulled me up closer to him.

"I missed you so much Kelly," he said ever so softly, squeezing me against him.

"Oh Steve...," I sighed.

What more could I say? How many times had I dreamed of being in his arms again, of feeling him against me again. No other man had ever made me feel the way Steve did, not even my almost-fiancé Duane. Perhaps that's why deep in my heart I think I knew Duane wasn't the one, because he had never made me feel the way I felt at this moment being with Steve.

Then we kissed. God, it was like I was kissing him for the first time all over again. Our lips parted and tongues met, just going on and on for what seemed like forever. It was like now that we were finally kissing again, neither of us wanted to be the one to pull away. I wanted him SO badly. Maybe it hadn't been such a good idea to come here. Then again, maybe it WAS a good idea as had we been anywhere else at this moment, I know neither of us would have been able to control ourselves. As much as I wanted exactly THAT, there was something in me that wanted this as well. There was something special about just kissing him and feeling his arm around me. The sex would come later, there was no doubt about that at least in my mind, but tonight this was perfect.

Steve's free hand was on my knee. I put my hand over his and pulled it up onto my exposed leg, almost trembling as I felt his hand against my bare skin. He didn't waste any time once I gave him the green light, reaching over my leg under my dress and pulling it towards him. I knew what he wanted and so I uncrossed my legs, giving him access to what I knew he wanted - and what I wanted as well.

In my mind, I recalled the first time Steve had touched my pussy. I had been so nervous at the time. Nobody had ever touched me there besides me, at least not with any sexual intent. At fourteen I was certainly touching it a LOT, but Steve was the first otherwise. Sure there had been times when my dad might have accidentally put his hand there when I was in the hot tub on his lap and he was trying to maneuver me around, but that was just incidental and he never kept his hand there or tried to do anything.

It had felt almost weird when Steve's fingers first pressed between my legs. It was like I was exposing myself in a way I'd never done before. With my legs open for him, it had been like I was giving away something private that I'd never shared with anyone else before. It felt odd to have my clit touched and it wasn't my own fingers. It was exciting in a way, not knowing what he would do next, where her would explore and how he would touch me. Of course Steve had played with plenty of other pussies before mine which actually helped in that I didn't have to tell him everything to do, even if I had been so bold to do so in the first place.

Now, eleven years later, my pussy was well-explored territory yet there was something about knowing it was Steve's fingers that were making their way up my legs that was different in some way I couldn't quite explain. I guess you could say it was something like when my dad feels me up. It's not so much the actual touch that makes it special, it's knowing WHO is touching me. If I was blindfolded, I wouldn't be able to tell who was touching me and under those circumstances, it would have still felt good but it wouldn't have meant anything special to me. Now it was different. Of course I loved the feel of his fingers as they started to work their way between my wet pussy lips, but it was looking down and seeing Steve's hand between my leg that made me quiver with excitement.

I must have been holding my breath because when his finger started to probe inside of me I let out a long slow sigh, trying not to be too loud such that people would hear me. He didn't push it in far but rather just up to his first knuckle or so, moving the tip of his fingers in small circles around inside of me. Good boy, he remembered how I liked it. The most sensitive part of my pussy was the first inch of so, as if that area was just jam packed with nerve endings just dying to be stimulated. I didn't need his finger deep in me, just far enough to make those nerve endings scream out as he touched them. Mmmmmmm, it felt so damn good.

"Somebody's horny," he whispered in my ear and I tried not to giggle.

Of course I was! Who wouldn't be sitting in a dark theater with your boyfriend's forefinger up inside of you while your bare ass was on the seat?

"Oh Steve," I sighed again ever so softly, the words barely audible even to myself.

With that he pulled his finger out and for a second I wondered what I'd done wrong to make him stop. Then he moved his hand up to my face and put his pussy-wet finger on my lips which parted to let him push his finger into my mouth. I suckled on his finger, tasting myself and smelling the odor of my pussy on him hand. Once again I thought, "Good boy." He remembered! I LOVED to taste my pussy and to smell and taste myself on his finger was even better than on my own.

Steve chuckled at my response. "I see you still love this... damn, some things never change, do they?"

Indeed, some things never did - and never should.

As much as I would have loved him to resume fondling my pussy, I had other things on my mind. Well, make that one big thing and two smaller ones. Reaching over, I rested my hand on his crotch and was thrilled to feel the hardness of his erection that was ready to burst out from under his jeans. Hmmm, something needed attention and who better to give it some than me?

Steve hadn't worn a belt and I wondered briefly if that was because he just didn't always wear one or because he wanted it to be easier for me to gain access. I have to admit, when it comes to men's belts I can get totally confused and distracted trying to figure them out. Did Steve remember all the times I fumbled with his various belts and how it had almost ruined the mood in more than a few cases? I was hoping that was the case.

The button was easy to deal with and I zipped down his zipper, startled at how loud it seemed in the theater as the movie just happened to have silent moment right at the same time I pulled down on it. Damn, everyone HAD to have heard it but a quick glance around proved otherwise. It seemed that everyone else was either making out and didn't care about us or too engrossed in the movie to notice.

With his zipper down I had another pleasant surprise - no underwear. Once again I had to smile as I knew Steve must have remembered how I hated to deal with underwear. Instead of the usual boxers or tightie-whities, all I had in front of me now was his erect cock, springing free and clear of his jeans like a jack-in- the-box. I could just make it out in the light from the screen, enough to make my mouth water at the sight of it.

What a difference eleven years can make. I remembered when I was in almost the exact same position and I saw Steve's cock out for the first time. No matter how much I had talked about it with my mom before, I still wasn't ready for the reality of an actual cock in my hand. It wasn't like I'd never seen one before. Heck, I'd seen my father's cock untold times growing up, even erect when he would masturbate. THIS, however, was totally different. My dad's was my DAD's cock, at the time not something that particularly interested in except when I was trying to get my way and I knew when his dick got that way I was sure to get whatever I wanted. This cock was my boyfriend's dick and it was hard because of ME.

Sometimes I have wondered how my life would've been different had I not been so naive when I was younger. It was true that I had no sexual interest in my father's dick back then, and I innocently assumed that he wasn't interested in me that way either. It was almost two years later before I learned differently. What would I have thought had my dad told me the REAL reason he got hard when I was around? What if HIS dick had been the first I'd touched with sexual intent instead of Steve's? Oh well, it didn't happen so it's all conjecture in any case.

I held Steve's hard erection in my hand, just gripping it firmly to feel it's hardness and warmth against my hand and fingers. Steve had never been exactly small and while not huge either, I use to think of it as "comfortable". That's my way of saying it was the perfect compromise between not being too big to be uncomfortable when I blew him and yet being large enough to stretch me out just enough when he fucked me to make me feel full without hurting me. I would be hard-pressed to be too critical of ANY dick so long as it responded properly, but

It was uncomfortable twisting as I was to hold his cock. For a moment I contemplated repeating my performance from the first time we did this in a theater and kneel on the floor between his legs. Well, some things we DO grow out of and kneeling on a filthy theater floor was one of those, at least for me. Instead, I took advantage of the modern seat design and lifted the arm up on the other side of me. Now I had almost the equivalent of a couch so I laid on my stomach across the seats with my shoulders and head over his lap. My legs were stretched out straight behind me but as high as the seat backs were I was confident nobody could see us. Besides, the only ones who even had a chance were going at it themselves the last time I glanced their way.

Steve put his hand on my head and pushed me into his crotch firmly but not too hard. His fingers were in my hair with his palm against my scalp, keeping me firmly in place over his quivering cock. God he smelled so good! I loved the heavy odor of his crotch and the slight aftertaste of his dick in my mouth. It was just so... manly I guess you could say.

As I slowly sucked his dick, not trying to make him cum but rather working more just to make him feel good, Steve's other hand worked its way down to my hips and moved my skirt over and out of the way, baring my butt. I could feel the cool air against my exposed ass and then the warmth of his hand as he cupped my butt and squeezed me.

Laying there with his dick in my mouth, I wiggled a little until I could spread my legs further apart. Steve quickly took the hint and his hand moved down from my butt to between my legs until I felt his finger probing my pussy hole. As wet as I was he had no problem pushing it in me and I loved the feel of him penetrating me. It wasn't the same as his dick but it would do for now!

As I sucked him and he toyed with my pussy, my thoughts wandered back to that first blowjob I'd given him in a theater much like this one so many years ago. The setting might be the same but my how things can change. I wasn't a runt of a year-old anymore, a virgin whose boobs barely gave my boyfriend something to play with.

One thing was different for sure - Steve HAD to be enjoying this BJ a whole lot more than the first one I gave him. Oh sure, there must have been a thrill knowing he was the first guy I'd sucked, but my skills were light-years ahead of my feeble efforts back then. My mom had tried to teach me some techniques and had talked to me about a boy's needs and expectations, but there's a huge gap between talking about something and doing it, between pretending to give a blowjob to a dildo and actually sucking on a real dick.

Now, eleven years later, my mouth had hosted hundreds of dicks, many of them numerous times. I pretty much felt like an expert when it came to sucking dick and technically I was a professional given I'd be paid more than a few times for my efforts. Still, right now at this instant I wasn't sure who was happier - him or me. My ego certainly was siding with him as I always wanted a guy to remember me as his best blowjob but you can't compete against some girls these days.

For a moment I considered getting up and straddling his lap and riding his dick. My pussy was certainly pushing for it! As much as I loved the way he was playing with it using his fingers, nothing beats a real dick when it comes to pleasuring your own pussy.

In the end common sense won out. Even though it was possible that some people had noticed a bit of what was going on between Steve and I, they couldn't possibly have a compete view so most of it had to be conjecture. I mean, it's pretty obvious what is happening when a girl has her head buried in a guy's lap and bobbing up and down. But bouncing on his lap would have eliminated any assumptions and would be going a step too far, at least I was sure someone would object - someone always did it seems just when things got fun.

After a while, as much as it pained me to admit it, another pain developed in my neck and mouth from having to keep my head in a rather awkward position with my mouth stretched open to accommodate his dick. I needed a break but I couldn't bear the thought of being separated from Steve's wonderful dick so I laid my head on his lap and just laid there with the head of his dick in my mouth, sucking on it ever so gently like a baby suckling a bottle.

Looking up at Steve, I saw he was staring down at me, a weird sort of smile on his face and a distant look in his eyes as he watched me work on his cock. I tried to smile but it's sort of hard when you have this thick piece of flesh between your teeth!

"Don't stop," he mouthed to me more than spoke.

From the way he was biting his lower lip and rolling his eyes and head back, I knew I could make him cum any time that I wanted. In fact, it was now up to me to see to it that he did NOT actually cum - at least not yet. I just held myself still, feeling his dick pulsing in my mouth as he calmed down and regained control slowly.

Oh yeah, he was there now, right where I wanted him. At any time I could make him cum, all I had to do was suck a little extra hard and he was mine.

From the look on his face, I knew Steve was ready to cum. In fact, I had no doubt that's exactly what he wanted - to cum together with me. he looked almost panicky, like a lost boy hunting for his mother. It was like he didn't know what to do as his lust consumed him and all he could focus on was his dick in my mouth. Even his hand was still in my pussy as he seemed to be focusing every thought on just my pussy.

Steve humped under me, pushing his dick into my mouth as if he was fucking me. Oh yeah, he wanted it and he wanted it all right now. My neck was feeling a little better so I went down on him again, this time taking every bit of it in me until my lips were pressed against the base of his dick

This time he didn't just hump up against me, he literally jerked himself into my mouth, driving his cock into me as he pushed my head down on him. He couldn't contain himself as he gasped out much more loudly than I think he thought he was and then he came... and came... and came!

Each spurt of cum went straight into my mouth. He could hardly miss as I had my lips encircled around him, forming a cum-tight seal around his shaft. I tried to swallow it as quickly as he was shooting it into me so I wouldn't gag on it as yet another rope of sticky cum literally exploded in my mouth.

Finally he finished, leaving me a substantial mouth of cum still in my mouth but it was hard to swallow with him still in my mouth. Reluctantly I pulled my head up and looked at him, smiling and then opening my mouth and sticking out my tongue to show him what was left inside. Like every guy I'd ever blown and then done this, he seemed to have loved cumming in my mouth and then watching it in my mouth as I opened it for him to see inside.

Twisting around, I sat back up again as he removed his hand from my pussy and laid it on the back of the seats over my shoulders. I dropped my head on his shoulder, licking my lips and using one finger to push some of the cum that had managed to try and escape onto my chin back into my mouth. I wasn't about to let a single drop go to waste if I had anything to say about it.

It was then I realized the movie was about over. Wow, time really does fly when you're having fun! There was maybe ten minutes until the closing credits during which I just snuggled up to Steve and let him fondle me and touch me wherever he could reach. It was kind of erotic to have him just explore me wherever he had the urge without even asking me if it was OK with me.

When the movie finally ended, we stood up and I tried to straighten out myself and be as presentable as possible. My hair and makeup must have surely taken a hit and I told Steve on the way out that I needed to visit the little girl's room for a few minutes to clean myself up.

Scurrying across the hall to the restroom as quickly as possible, I realized I wasn't the only one with needs right after a movie. The stalls were already almost filled and there were several women and girls washing up. One looked to be the girl who was with a guy a few rows above us, the ones I mentioned had not been paying much attention to anyone else during the movie. We glanced at each other and I saw she didn't look a whole lot better than I did. Then we smiled at each other, more a knowing smile between colleagues you might say.

On the other side of me was a mother with what looked to be a four or five year old daughter. She took one glance at the two of us next to her and you could almost feel the disgust in her stare as she looked us over like two whores. She didn't say a word to either of us but that look said more than she could ever have put in words. I wonder how she would have felt if she knew her reaction actually was turning me on?

Back in the hall, Steve was waiting for me and he put his arm around me as we left the theater. We went out to grab some desert and then he took me home. We never mentioned one word about what had happened in the theater and neither of us made any sort of move on the other. It was like what had happened was exactly what SHOULD have happened that night and neither of us wanted to spoil the mood by pushing it any further than what it was meant to be. When Steve kissed me, I DID finally feel like I had to say SOMETHING.

"Next time you're gonna fuck me... right?" I whispered in his ear as we hugged.

Steve pulled back enough to look me in the face and grinned broadly. "Well, now THAT wasn't exactly what you said the first time we dated, now was it?"

I giggled a little before I responded, "But it WAS what I was thinking, didn't you know?"

We kissed again and I returned to my home without looking back again. Mmmmmmm, talk about the perfect evening!

6. Reminiscing

Stepping inside, I closed the door behind me and suddenly it was like this huge weight had been lifted from my shoulders. My legs felt weak and I quickly sat down in the living room before I lost my balance. What could I say? Everything I could have hoped for had come true. Talk about the perfect first date... now I could say I had been on TWO of them, both with the same guy. The fact that they occurred eleven years apart was just part of what made everything so surreal.

One thing WAS different this time. On the original first date, I'd come home full of energy and feeling a mixture of wonder, love and amazement. After all, it was the first time I'd ever even held a man's dick, let alone suck it until it came in my mouth. On my new "first date", I think I can say without bragging too much that I'm a pro when it comes to blowjobs. I doubt there are many girls my age who can say they've sucked as many dicks as I have without being a hooker (which leaves my cousin Kristen out of the running for the title). Certainly I had impressed Steve with my skills!

SO now what? As I laid my head against the back of the couch, staring up at the ceiling, I thought about what had happened after our original first date. It hadn't been long afterwards that Steve took my virginity, although it wasn't like I wasn't anxious to give it to him. Everything in my life changed after that.

Wow, what would have my life been like had I NOT had sex with Steve? What if I had done it with someone not as special and not enjoyed it as much as I had? What if instead of finding that the thing I wanted most at the time was to be laid by Steve as soon as possible after the last time, I had instead been turned off by the experience and kept away from a sexual lifestyle?

All I could say was that I was happy things had turned out as they did. I remembered how hungry I had been for sex back then. Sure I still craved it now and then but back when I was fourteen and could still count on my hands and toes the number of time Steve had fucked me, it was entirely different. It was like sex was all I could think about. In school, at church, at home with my parents, it was like I was constantly thinking about Steve's dick and how much I loved having him fuck me with it, how much I loved to hold it and suck on it.

So once again... now what? What could compare to the weeks and months Steve and I had spent as young teens, exploring each other and trying out new ideas every day? I remembered when we were out bike riding and he felt me up while we were waiting to cross traffic. His hand was under my ass with his finger working its way into my shirts to rub my pussy while a soccer mom and her kids were right behind us! God it had felt so naughty yet I loved it. Then afterwards we stopped at an old school playground and had sex while on the swing, his dick pumping in and out of me almost automatically as the swing rocked back and forth in the air with me planted on his lap.

Yes indeed... now what? Was it fair trying to compare events that had happened over a decade ago when we were such different people to anything that might happen today? Could anything live up to the memories I had from that time, no doubt "enhanced" with age, like a fine wine. Was it fair to expect the same sense of thrill and wonder to infuse me when I was with him like it did when he had been the only boy I'd ever had sex with?

Oh my god, tonight had been so wonderful, so perfect. As much as I would have loved to have invited him and taken him to my room, it just seemed right for it to end this way. I was sure there would be plenty of opportunities in the near future for us to be more intimate. Tonight was just two old friends, two lovers from the past, reunited once again. I remembered the last time we had sex before he moved away, and how it felt to have him pull out of me for what I was sure would be the last time ever. To think that I was worried I might not have sex with another boy again now that Steve was gone. Now THAT certainly didn't prove to be a problem, that was for sure!

Then I remembered the oddest date we'd ever had, when I was over at his house thinking we were all alone without a clue that his mother was watching us. I couldn't help but shiver even after all these years at the memory of the shock I'd felt when she walked in the room while Steve was on top of me, fucking me hard. I couldn't help but smile to myself as I remembered that even though we both were horrified to be caught in such a situation, neither of us had made a move so far as separating and Steve's dick never shrank a bit even with his mother standing there watching him.

What happened next made me wonder what would happen in the upcoming days now with Steve. Imagine how incredulous I had been back then when it ended up with Steve's mom masturbating as she watched Steve fuck me, and then push me away so he could do her as well. It had been my first introduction to incest. Of course at the time I had no idea that I would have an incestuous relationship with my parents and relatives a few years later.

Thinking of watching Steve doing his mother, I wondered if they had ever done it again? SO far as I knew, it was a onetime thing where his mom lost control, never to be repeated again. At least that's what she said when it was over. Steve had no idea of my own incestuous lifestyle and I struggled with whether I would tell him anything or not. So far in my life it had never turned out well to let a guy I knew know anything about the secrets of my family. My almost-fiancé Duane only knew about my aunt and cousin but that was enough to make him pull away from me, ultimately making my life hell for a period.

My most recent boyfriend was the only guy I'd ever told the entire truth to and all he could do was push to have threesomes with my dad and me, like incest was some sort of on-going orgy. No... for now I would keep it a secret and wait to see how his relationship with his mom had turned out. Then there was his sister Sharon as well. I knew she always had the hots for her brother but he never showed even a smidgeon of interest in her. Given what happened with his mom, had anything ever happened with Sharon? SO many secrets... so many things to think about.

So yet again... now what? Was Steve interested in anything more serious than just casual sex? Did he have feelings for me like I had for him? I had always assumed he loved me when we dated but he had never said so. Was I just an easy lay for him or did her really have feelings for me? He must have felt SOMETHING or why would he have been so ready to fuck me just hours before his wedding?

Hmmm, I wondered what happened to his younger brother? Steve hadn't mentioned anything about him. I recalled how I use to tease the poor boy terribly. Sure I'd let him fuck me once but it was more with the intention of giving him something to want more of - but he couldn't ever have rather than fulfilling any fantasies he may have had about me.

God, the more I thought about things the more memories kept coming back to me, like I was in some sort of therapy session. We'd had so many fun times together. There was the time he fucked me in the basement during his sister's slumber party while his mom was in her bedroom right above us. That time was extra special to me because I had kept a mouthful of his cum afterwards and hurried upstairs to his sister's room and kissed her with his cum still in my mouth. It was hilarious when she realized what she was tasting, not to mention the reaction of the rest of our friends when they found out.

Yes, when it came to Steve it was like the memories just kept surfacing more and more as I thought about him. The question now was still the same... now what?

7. Going Forward?

How many people can say their first love was their true love? Not many I would bet. In fact, I would have been among those that say it was probably all but impossible to find your true love at such a young age. Still, it wasn't like Steve had been my ONLY love. Guys had come and gone over the years, just as girls had come and gone in his life. Heck, he even married one so there had to be a time when he thought SHE was his true love. Even I thought I had found my true love when I was with Duane.

For both Steve and I, it seemed that every time we thought we had found the love of our life, something had happened to steer us away. I was lucky enough, although at the time I wouldn't have thought so, to have split up with Duane before making a commitment that I would have not been able to break. Steve, while having taken the big step, at least learned early enough that it was wrong for him to have the marriage annulled.

Was fate trying to tell us something? In a way, was this perhaps why I was so driven to sex all these years? Was it all some cosmic plan by God to show me that no matter how many guys I was with, no matter what I did with my life, that my true love had been there all the time for me from the start?

Personally, I have never agreed with the "save yourself for marriage" concept and now I would say I disagree with it all the more. How can you know someone is really the one for you without having something to compare against, something on which to base that decision?

Even though we'd only been on this one date since his return to my life, even though we didn't have sex, I KNOW deep in my heart that Steve is the one for me. Perhaps it's because we did NOT have sex that I'm all the more convinced that my feelings are true. If I can feel this way about someone and NOT have had sex with them, then I know it's got to be something really special.

Chase - Steve's friend (27)
Phil - Steve's friend (26)

I love weddings so who cares if I didn't know anyone in the wedding party. My boyfriend was going to be the best man and we had a week on a lake so of course I said yes when he invited me along!

1. Weddings

Really, who doesn't love a wedding? I mean, what happier time is there in two people's lives than the day they get married. OK, so I am sure a few cynics out there would answer, the day the divorce is finalized, but I just can't bring myself to think that way. All I know is that seeing two people madly in love exchanging their vows and promising to be faithful to one another for the rest of their lives is one of the most awesome scenes imaginable.

Like just about every other girl, I've been dreaming of my wedding since I was old enough to know what a wedding was. Long ago I nailed down what dress I want, where I'll be married, how the ceremony will be conducted... basically everything. In fact, I even posted a story about my dream wedding. So that just leaves one missing element... the groom. Well, I feel hopeful that THAT detail will work itself out eventually so I'm not letting it rain on my wedding parade of fantasies.

As anyone who loves weddings the way I do will tell you, it doesn't matter WHO is getting married - it's the drama and pageantry of the event that's so exciting. Of course there is also the fun and potentially naughty side as well. What I mean is in addition to what most people think about when they go to a wedding, there are so many other possibilities to consider... will the bridesmaid get laid by the best man (who cares if either of them are married)? Did the groom get laid at his bachelor party? What did the bride do at her party? When will they consummate the marriage...

and where? It doesn't have to be about actual sex to be fun. Just flirting on the dance floor can be almost as much fun depending on who you're doing it with.

So in case you haven't figured it out by now, I'm a wedding junkie. If there's a wedding - I want to be there! The "always a bridesmaid and never a bride" must have been written with me in mind but I don't care - it's a day of fun, even if you have to wear some ridiculous looking dress. I have several of them in my closet if anyone's interested!

Given my love of weddings, it should have been no surprise to anyone that when I learned that my new boyfriend Steve was going to be the best man at his best friend's wedding, of course the first thought to come to my mind was when were WE going? Seemed like a logical question to me at least but I think I caught Steve a bit by surprise. According to him the whole thing was going to be a pain in the neck as the wedding would be in northern Arkansas and even in June the weather there can be stifling hot combined with oppressive humidity. Well, that's what bikini's, halters, sundresses and short shorts are made for.

At first Steve tried talking me out of it, trying to convince me that he was only thinking of me and not wanting me to be too bored or to have to travel all that distance just for a wedding. Then he made the fatal mistake of telling me the rest of the plans for the week...

It turns out that the bride's family owned a summer house on a lake where the guys would all be staying. Steve had met his friend out on the west coast where his mom had moved him and his sister back in high school. His friend and his girlfriend hailed from Arkansas which is why that was where the wedding would be held. All of the groomsmen, except for the token brother of the bride, had to travel and needed someplace to stay so the parents had offered the house for a few days.

Hmmmmmm, I was getting suspicious now. Oh sure Steve vigorously claimed there would be no girls there as the guys were all single and none of them would be bringing their girlfriends but still... men are men and I could only imagine the potential debauchery. Well, if any of THAT was going to be happening then I wanted to be in the middle of it.

In a way, I guess I may have been acting a little unfairly in insisting he take me. It wasn't like Steve and I were exclusive. Heck, we'd only been seeing each other for less than a couple of weeks. Still, it wasn't like we were total strangers. Steve had been my first real boyfriend back when I was just getting ready to start high school. The brother of Sharon, one of my best friends back then, he was sixteen at the time although when he first fucked me he seemed even older and more experienced than his years.

For over six months after we started having sex Steve was the only boy I dated and had sex with but then his mom got transferred which meant Steve and Sharon had to move with her of course. Being only fourteen and in love for the first time, you can imagine how crushed I was at the time but I soon learned to make do with other boys. It wasn't like it was hard to find someone to fuck me. Steve and I lost touch with one another until his marriage. Well, that was one marriage I knew would never last given that he fucked me the very day of his own wedding. I mean, what did THAT say about how he felt about his new bride compared to me?

When Steve's mom was transferred back to the Pittsburgh office he came back with her although his younger sister Sharon stayed behind to live on her own. When Steve surprised me at church a couple of weeks ago, it was like all my pent up feelings and desires for him suddenly came rushing back to the surface. I'm not so sure that he feels as emotional about us as I do but his dick certainly seems to enjoying the situation. Still, we HAD been apart for eleven years for the most part so I may have been a little unreasonable to think he would want me to come spend a week away with him. Oh well, that's too bad!

"You DO know Kelly that you'll be the only girl staying in a house with four guys... right?" I remember him saying, as if THAT would bother me. Heck, he may as well have been offering steak dinner to a hungry wolf and asking if it really wanted it!

Let's see now... four guys, one girl (me), a house right on a lake in the middle of a hot summer. Well duh!! Why in the world would ANY girl in her right mind NOT jump at such an opportunity?

Then Steve REALLY screwed up (if you could call it that) and mentioned there was also a boat which I assumed would mean waterskiing - my specialty and ONLY athletic ability. Well, that sealed the deal, I was going whether he realized it yet or not.

Besides, if there's one thing I've learned since giving up my virginity it's that there are always ways to convince a guy to do anything I want...

2. The LONG Trip to Arkansas

Over the years I've been accused of a lot of things but there is one thing nobody has ever called me - a "road warrior". In fact, anything over thirty minutes in a car and I start going stir crazy. In my nightmares I still remember driving back and forth to college in Ohio. Sure it was only four hours (three when my dad drove) but it sometimes seemed like days. If it wasn't for a finger (or two) between my legs I don't think I would've survived some of those trips.

Growing up, the very worst trip in the world for me was when my parents took me with them to visit my grandmother (my mom's mother) in Illinois south of Chicago. It was a nine or ten hour trip at best and I hated every minute of it. Fortunately as I got older I learned new and better ways to make the time go by. Even though it was nice having the entire back seat to myself to stretch out, I remember thinking at times how much better it would've been to have had a brother or sister to pass the time with! Sometimes my cousin Kristen would come with and then the trip went a LOT faster!

When Steve mentioned Arkansas, I naturally assumed we'd be flying there and even though flying isn't one of my favorite activities either, it beats the heck out of driving long distances. Thus when Steve told me that he was driving to Arkansas and that it would take maybe as long as sixteen hours to get there, I almost backed out... almost. Oh my god, I just knew my ass would be hurting so badly by the time we got there! Going to Chicago was bad enough. I'd NEVER spent sixteen hours in car in one day before and the very thought of it made me cringe.

Still, I wasn't going to let one day of misery deprive me of a week of fun. The day finally arrived and by the time Steve stopped by to pick me up I was ready and waiting for him at the front door. He kissed me as soon as he stepped in and then backed up to give me the usual once-over. It pleased me when he smiled but then again he should have. Pittsburgh may not be Arkansas but the weather was still hot so I was wearing not much more than a tight pair of denim shorts and a thin cami that clung to me like Saran Wrap with enough cleavage showing to add further proof I wasn't wearing a bra. A pair of flip-flops was the only other article of clothing I had on I circumstances which seemed to meet Steve's approval.

"God I really love your tits" he said huskily as he groped me while we kissed.

I looked up at her over Steve's shoulder and saw that she was grinning with her arms crossed. Knowing my always-horny cousin, she wouldn't have minded had the "room" been her own bedroom but so far I hadn't shared Steve that way with anyone in my family and we didn't have time to deal with that sort of thing today even if I'd wanted to.

Steve's eyes widened and I caught him catching his breath a bit as he looked back up at Kristen. The little slut knew perfectly well that Steve would be stopping over yet there she was standing at the top of the stairs topless in a pair of loose boy short style underwear with a towel around her neck that did very little to cover her perky boobs.

"Don't even think about it," I hissed in his ear as I squeezed his ass just a little bit too hard with my hand.

"Who... me?" his expression practically shouted out as he tried to act all prim and innocent but he didn't fool me.

Actually, had he NOT stared at my hot little cousin I'd have been far more concerned than anything. After all, I had to admit that she did look pretty damn hot this morning. He could look all he wanted so long as I was the last one he looked at.

Ignoring my cousin's blatant flaunting of herself, I pointed to my suitcases lined up in the hallway, fully expecting Steve to pick them up and take them to the car.

"Damn girl, we aren't moving down there," Steve whined, "Shit, how could you possibly need all this crap for just one week?"

I just shrugged and walked toward the door, leaving him to pick them up. It was only two suitcase and a smaller one for my makeup and toiletries. I carried my purse and iPad so it wasn't like I expected him to carry EVERYTHING. Guys just don't understand women's needs. Like, I didn't know for sure what the weather would be like or what people would be wearing at the wedding and other activities so I had to be prepared for anything. Sure, odds were I would actually wear only a fraction of what I brought, but it's always better to have too many outfits than not enough.

Steve grunted and groaned, putting on quite a show as he carried my things to his car. When he opened the trunk I tried not to smile as inside was one little suitcase which was then dwarfed by the three of mine. Oh well, guys may be willing to wear the same thing more than once but I would be dang if I'd be caught dead wearing the same outfit the next day.

As I got in the car I waved goodbye to Kristen. She had the front door opened and was standing there on display for the whole neighborhood to watch. Sure technically she was mostly covered by the towel around her neck but try to explain that to the old biddy across the street or the jealous wife who lived next door. Oh well, I was sure she would have plenty to do while I was out - or should I say plenty to do her.

Getting in the car, I was relieved that at least Steve had rented a comfortable car to drive instead of trying to use his monster pickup truck that rode like it had iron bars for springs. He was always bragging about how it was heavy duty and tried to explain to me that it rode great when it had a load. Well, it seemed to me that he never had a load in it when I was with him so it was always a teeth-rattling experience. Now riding in THAT would have made for a really long trip today. My only complaint with the car he'd rented was that it didn't have a bench seat in front meaning I couldn't snuggle up next to Steve as he drove.

"Well, we're off!" Steve said as we pulled away from the curve.

As Steve pulled away from the curb and the rumble of the brick street grew louder, I turned to look at him and admire the view. God he was such a hunk! Even in plain old jeans and a white polo shirt he looked hot. At time like this I could have easily been talked into just spend the entire trip staring at him the while time.

Soon we were on the expressway heading southwest more or less through and into Ohio with Kentucky on the horizon. According to my iPad app it was 828 miles from Pittsburgh to Cherokee Village in Arkansas and supposedly a little more than thirteen hours.

Well, it took less than three hours for me to get in my "Are we there yet?" mode. God... three hours which meant at least ten more to go. This was NOT looking good. Stupid AT&T's 3G coverage sucks in Ohio so I couldn't even amuse myself with my iPad. As we passed Columbus I was fidgeting in my seat like a little boy in church that desperately has to go to the bathroom.

"Hey, don't say I didn't warn you," Steve finally said as I readjusted my butt for the umpteenth time in the last thirty minutes. "You were the one who insisted on coming along."

That sort of irritated me so the next time a semi-truck passed by, I turned my head towards the window and pulled my cami down to expose my boobs to the driver. Steve was paying attention to the city traffic and so he didn't realize what I was doing until the trucker let out a loud honk and practically scared Steve off the side of the road.

"What the fuck?" Steve complained as he regained control and then he turned and saw what I was doing. "Shit Kelly, you have to warn me before you do something crazy like that!"

That's one of the things I love about Steve, he doesn't mind me flirting and showing off for other guys. If anything, he encourages me to do it all the more. One time he explained it to me by saying, "Hey, they just get to look and go home and jerk off WISHING they could fuck you. I'm the one who gets to do you later so why not brag about it?"

I guess it made sense from a guy's point of view. At the same time, I'm not so sure I'd want him pulling out his dick so a woman in a car next to us but then I guess that's one the differences between men and women. We live in a society where if a girl exposes herself in public people cheer and egg her on but if a guy does the same type of thing he's labeled a pervert and gets arrested. Go figure.

In any case flirting was fun for me too and in the end what did it hurt to give a few lonely truckers something to break the monotony? Besides, I enjoy the looks men give me and it turns me on to know they'll be masturbating about me later.

For the next hour or so as we made our way towards Cincinnati I occupied my time flirting with more truckers. Even Steve was getting into the swing of it as well, pointing out potential "lookers" ahead of us and then pulling up alongside of them so they could get a good view of his girlfriend as I flashed my boobs.

I turned to him and cupped them with each hand and wiggled for him. "Well, you don't seem to mind when I do and neither do those guys."

Steve chuckled and shook his head. "You've really changed since we first did it. You never seemed to like being topless back then. You were more the bottomless girl as I recall."

Well duh! When I was fourteen I didn't have much of anything to show off on top. It was a never-ending source of frustration for me at that age, especially when friends like his sister Sharon and my best friend Beth were well into their B-cups or better. It was embarrassing going out with them as I was always the girl with the smallest boobs. Now as a solid 34C I was proud of my boobs and yes, I DID like to show them off.

"Does it make you horny to let strangers look at you like this?" Steve asked. From his tone of voice, I could tell he was generally interested in the answer more so than leading me on to something else.

"Of course, how would you feel jerking off in front of a bunch of girls and seeing them get turned on?"

"Well, it's not like you're masturbating in front of anyone so that's different. Besides, I don't think I could even DO such a thing!"

I couldn't help but laugh out loud a bit at that. Men are SO predictable. Sure they masturbate all the time and seem to like nothing to do more than talk about it, but just try to get them to actually DO it in front of people, especially other guys.

"Well... I COULD do that too. Would it turn you on to watch me?"

Steve turned his head to see if I was just teasing or what. I was dead serious and trying my best to appear so.

"You're not joking... are you," he said as he continued to shake his head in disbelief, "Well I don't believe you... prove it."

Steve knew full well that if he wanted to get me to do something, all he had to do was dare me. It went back to our dating days. Even at fourteen I was a bit of an exhibitionist as I'd learned early on there was no better way to get in someplace free than to be a slut.

Without saying another word, I laid the seat back all the way and undid my jean shorts. After unzipping them I pulled them down and off my feet, dropping my flip-flops in the process. It left me naked except for my cami top which I had pulled down under my boobs so it was more like a large bandage around my waist.

"Well, is this what you wanted to see?" I teased him as I rubbed my bare mound between my legs.

It felt really smooth as it should as I'd just shaved it an hour before Steve had picked me up. It also felt warm and moist as all this talk about showing off and such had been "motivating" me. In any case, I just like touching myself.

"Fuck... you look so hot," Steve said in almost a growl.

I noticed it was his turn to start shifting in his seat but in his case I figured he was trying to readjust his cock as it tried to grow in his pants. Poor boys, they have to deal with all this stuff between their legs. I can't even begin to imagine what it would be like to have this thing growing from my crotch!

Steve started to reach over but I brushed his hand aside. "Sorry, not while you're driving," I admonished him.

Part of it was to tease him but I genuinely was concerned about his driving as well. It was one thing to blow a guy in downtown traffic where things weren't moving too fast but we were heading down a highway now at seventy miles an hour and there was lots of traffic as we approached the city. There would be plenty of time later so for now he could just watch and listen.

"Oh yeah...," I sighed as my finger pushed into me just enough to wet the tip.

I pulled it out and started to rub my clit slowly with my moist fingertip and it sent sharp feelings of pleasure throughout my entire body. "God I'm so damn horny!" I sighed as I rubbed myself. Indeed I was and after all the fun with the truckers and now the feeling of my fingers on my pussy I wanted to be fucked more than anything. Unfortunately, THAT was out of the question, at least for the moment, so I was going to just have to make do with my fingers.

"Shit you look so hot doing that," Steve said in a barely audible whisper.

He was rubbing himself though his jeans now and from the size of the bulge I would say he was pretty erect. Come to think of it, I don't think I had just masturbated for him like this before, at least in recent history.

The more I rubbed myself the more I got into it. Soon I closed my eyes and imagined that my fingers were Steve's fingers and then they morphed into his dick as he pushed it deep inside of me. God I wanted him in me so badly right now! Didn't he have any idea of how horny I was at the moment? Sometimes I think guys believe that girls can't get as horny as they do. Well, just because this thing doesn't pope out from between my legs doesn't mean I'm not just as much in need of sex as any guy.

Then again, maybe he was aware... Just then I about had a heart attack when right in the middle of some naughty thoughts about how his dick would feel inside of me a horn blew from the lane next to me. I looked over and there was this trucker leering down at me from his cab. Obviously Steve had maneuvered his way alongside and was now showing off his girlfriend as she jilled herself in the car!

Well, if Steve thought he could embarrass me or shock me he was going to find out it took a lot more than some pervert in a truck. I wasn't about to give him the satisfaction of thinking he had surprised me so I just closed my eyes again and went back to work, only now I was arching my back so my hips rose up to give the guy in the truck a better view.

Well, who was I to argue? I sat up and worked the cami up over my head and pulled it off, dropping it on the console between me and Steve in case I needed it in a hurry. Oh my God, I was 100% nude now in the car in the middle of downtown Cincinnati traffic! It was enough to earn me another honk and I peeked out and grinned as the trucker waved and then pumped his fist up and down as if to say he was jerking off. Hmmmmmm, maybe he was? Now THAT would be cool!

As horny as I was I wanted so bad to cum but at the same time, my pussy was practically screaming for a dick. As much as my fingers felt good, nothing could compare to the sensation of an actual hard cock as it slipped inside of me for the first time that day. Something told me that my voyeur trucker wouldn't mind giving his to me!

"Oh God Steve... I need to be fucked SOOO badly. I mean, I NEED it."

This wasn't just dirty talk to turn him on. No, I really did want him to fuck me and I really did want it NOW.

"Baby, there's a rest area in twenty miles.. think you can you hold out until then?

Like, was he crazy? Did he have the slightest idea of what it felt like to be so horny you would let just about any dick in you at that moment, just so long as it was warm and hard? Did he even begin to comprehend how it made me feel to masturbate while two guys watched me - one of them a total stranger? Evidently he didn't or he never would have even suggested such a stupid idea.

"Next exit... NOW!" I gasped as I rubbed my clit furiously with one hand while I pinched my nipple with the other.

"Ummmmm... you're just kidding me now... right?"

Enough was enough. I turned my head and glared at him. "Tell me Steve, do I LOOK like I'm kidding? Now pull over and fuck me... NOW!

We'd just crossed into Kentucky and fortunately for Steve we were right at an exit so he slowed down and pulled off onto the ramp. My latest trucker "fan" gave one last honk of appreciation. I wondered if he was still jerking off about me as he drove down the road?

As Steve slowed down on the exit ramp, I quickly pulled on my cami and slipped on my shorts and flip flops. God, the pressure of the tight shorts against my horny crotch was enough to make me practically scream with desire. It had been a long time since I'd felt this ridiculously horny and whether it was the truckers or just me playing with myself it didn't matter. At times like this there is only one thing I care about or want - to be fucked.

"Ummmmm, where are we supposed to do this?" Steve muttered as he pulled up to the stop sign at the head of the ramp.

Sheesh, did I have to take care of all the decisions? Looking around I spotted a MacDonald's... perfect. I pointed to it and although Steve gave me a look as if he didn't quite understand what I meant, he wasn't about to question me again!

Steve pulled in the parking lot and found a rather isolated spot and then turned to me. "So what, we just do it in the middle of the parking lot or what?"

I was starting to have some serious concerns about Steve. Sheesh, he had more sense when he was sixteen!

"No silly, not out here, let's go inside."

Now he was really looking strange but I knew what I was doing. One of the things I like about MacDonald's (besides their incredible French Fries) is that their restrooms tend to be clean and they always have a nice big handicapped stall in the men's room. Trust me... I know from experience so enough said about that.

"Go see if anyone's in there," I whispered to him when we got inside, nodding my head towards the men's room.

It had to be the men's room because if we got caught in the women's restroom Steve might get arrested but in the men's room nobody would care. Sort of like what I was talking about before about the difference between men and women exposing themselves. If anything, someone catching us in the men's room would want to watch! Still, it was better NOT to be discovered in the first place so Steve went in and came out shaking his head, holding up two fingers.

Once again the image of that small boy squirming in church came to mind. It took all I could do to keep my hands away from my crotch as I wiggled and squirmed. We stood off to the side and waited impatiently and finally one guy left but it seem like an eternity until the second one came out, wiping his hands on his pants. Thankfully nobody had gone in while we were waiting so I took a quick glance to see if anyone was paying any attention to us and then ducked inside, followed close behind by Steve.

"You've GOT to be kidding!" he said as the door closed behind us.

"Hurry up, in here." I said, taking his hand and pulling him inside the large stall. God, it was HUGE with lots of room, enough to have a regular gangbang. It even had stainless steel bars on the walls to help hold yourself up. It's almost like someone designed it for sex!

"Well, what are you waiting for? Undo your pants dammit, and hurry up!" I chided him as I slipped off my shorts and hung them on the hook on the back of the door.

This time I kept my flip-flops on. Sure the place seemed pretty clean but it was still a public restroom and I wasn't about to walk around barefoot. Ewwwww!

Steve unbuckle his belt and undid his jeans, pulling down the zipper as I stood there impatient and bottomless. There was no point in taking off the cami, I just wanted sex, not to play around. Steve could l0ok at and play with my boobs anytime he wanted on the highway. Right now all I cared about was his dick.

Once Steve had his jeans off and hanging on the door hook, I reached down and pulled his hard cock out of his shorts as I licked my lips in anticipation. God how I loved his dick! Talk about karma... here I had in my hands the very same dick that had been the first to fuck me so many years before. Sure it was a bit bigger and thicker than when he was sixteen, but it was still the same dick. When Steve's family had left I thought I would never feel it in me again and except for that quick interlude at his wedding, indeed I hadn't. It was like so cool to have it in my hand again!

"God I need this so bad," I sighed as I bent my knees to lower myself to his waist and then ran my tongue up under the length of his erect dick. From the way he shuddered I knew he was just as horny as I was. Well, maybe not quite as much as I was but enough.

Any other time and I would have spent at least five or ten minutes sucking his cock. I LOVE sucking cock and even that length of time would be barely enough to make me satisfied. Still, like my boobs I could suck Steve's cock anytime I wanted while he drove so why waste any more time when you're as horny as I was. I was more than ready for Steve to fuck me... I wanted him SOOOOO badly my pussy was almost cramping like I was starting my period.

Just then the outer door opened and I heard people entering the room. From the sounds of their footsteps it was two people, one larger and the other smaller. My deductions were confirmed when I heard what had to be the father telling a young boy to "go potty".

Steve seemed preoccupied with our new "guests" but they didn't deter me. As far back into the stall as I was they would have had to get down close to the floor to see who was in the stall at the end of the restroom. In any case, it was surprising that we had the place to ourselves as long as we had so we couldn't let such interruptions get in the way of the big picture.

"Fuck me," I mouthed silently to Steve.

Steve's eye glance back at the door, clearly trying to signal to me that we had guests and should hold off for the moment. Ignoring him, I turned towards the outer wall, grabbed the hand rail and pushing my bare butt out at him with my legs spread apart. There could be little doubt in Steve's mind when I assumed such a position what I am expecting to happen next.

Steve may have had worries about the guy and his kid but once he got a good view of my willing pussy between my legs it was like he didn't even think about them anymore. A big grin came to his face as he stroked his dick and licked his lips while I touched myself, reaching down between my legs and spreading myself wide open for him.

Steve couldn't help but grunt softly as he plunged his cock into my waiting pussy. I almost giggled as imagined the guy on the other side of the door probably thought Steve was constipated or something. I'm sure he would have been grunting too if he knew what was happening just a few feet from him. It was all I could do keep from letting out a huge sigh of relief myself as finally I had what I'd been dying for - Steve's dick inside of me.

As Steve began to thrust himself in and out of me in a steady, rhythmic motion, I closed my eyes and dropped my head, just concentrating on the feeling of his dick as it moved. God it felt so good! It wasn't just the physical feelings that made me so happy, although those were great to say the least. It was knowing he was in me, like he was a part of me. It was a feeling I've had with so few other men in my life. Actually Steve was the first to make me feel this way back when I was fourteen and had such a crush on him. When he would put himself inside of me it was the most awesome feeling to have a part of him actually inside of me.

It wasn't until my dad fucked me a couple of years later that another man was able to generate those emotions inside of me when he fucked me. After Steve, I loved sex because it felt good and I liked the way men treated me when they knew I would let them fuck me. With my dad it became special again because I knew I was more than just another pussy to him - I was his own flesh and blood, his daughter.

Though when I look back I hate to admit it, the only other man to make me feel this way was Duane, the asshole who I thought was going to marry me but then almost ruined my life. Although it kills me to think about it now after what he tried to do to me, I DID love him at the time and I really did think I was going to marry him at one point, which is when the sex became more than just another fuck.

Even though Steve had been back in my life barely even a couple of weeks, it was like He'd never left me. I knew from the first time he fucked me after he came back that it was going to be something special and at times like this those feelings were reinforced.

Of course, it didn't hurt to be fucked just three feet from a guy and a his kid. I wonder how young he was - maybe six or eight from the sound of his voice. Although the idea of a kid that young seeing me being fucked didn't do all that much for me, the thought of his father's reaction should the stall door accidentally open about now DID bring up all sorts of delicious thoughts.

As Steve fucked me from behind, I thought about how else he might do me. One thing I KNEW - there was no way I was going anywhere that toilet seat! Instead, I lifted myself up which effectively pulled Steve's dick out of me and turned around with a nasty grin on my face. Steve looked at me with a "what the fuck?" look on his face, like he didn't understand why I had pulled away but then I moved to the corner and lifted one leg up onto the bar while I supported myself with both hands. I looked down at my freshly fucked pussy and then up into Steve's eyes but her was staring at my crotch, lining up his dick without wasting any more time.

Steve practically lifted me off my feet as he drove himself into me, pushing his duck all the way in me until the base of his dick pushed up against my pussy, lifting me up onto my toes. God it felt so good when he shoved it up in as far as it would go and I could feel him against me that way. I loved to look down and watch as his entire dick disappeared, knowing that filling sensation inside of me was that same dick that was now hiding out of sight.

"Fuck me Steve... oh god fuck me harder," I whispered into his ear.

I'm not sure how he COULD fuck me any harder then he already was but I knew he loved it when I said that to him and it made me feel a little dirty, even though our "audience" had washed their hands and were now leaving the restroom. The door banged shut behind them and Steve liked at me and grinned.

"Think they had any idea?"

I just shook my head, trying to keep my breath as my boyfriend's dick consumed me. Even if they did, nothing was said so cared about them anymore?

I was almost there, just a little bit more... Then the door opened again and it was like the local basketball team entered. Anyone, it was at least three guys, teens from the sound of it, screwing around like teenage boys always seem to be doing.

"Crap, someone's in there!" one of them said after pushing on the door. For just minute I thought it was going to open but fortunately the cheap little lock held its own.

"Hey man... I gotta take a crap!" the kid called in through, knocking on the door.

"Hang on... almost done," Steve called back over his shoulder.

Steve and I must have had the same thought at the same time. What if this kid tried looking under the door. Had he been an adult I wouldn't have worried but when it comes to teenage boys, all bets are off.

Steve grabbed me under my bare ass and lifted me up. I sort of jumped with him and wrapped my legs around his waist, locking my heels and grabbing onto him as I put my arms around his shoulders. I was literally pegged on Steve's dick as he shuffled over to the toilet and turned around so I wouldn't be hanging out over the bowl. At least now if anyone should look under the door they would see his feet with his pants around his ankles up against the toilet seat.

"Shit, what's he doing in there anyway?" I heard the kid complaining to his friends, "God, I gotta take a dump NOW!"

Oh well, he wasn't going to take a dump until I had my orgasm and Steve filled me with cum, not necessarily in that order but it would be nice if it worked out that way. For once things worked out as I'd hoped and I could feel my orgasm rising up inside of me. With everything happening I was a little conflicted so I knew it wasn't going to be one of those "take me to the moon" kind of O's but hey, an orgasm is an orgasm and I wasn't going to complain.

Steve grunted as my legs gripped him like a vise as my pussy exploded all over him, drenching his crotch with my cum as my pussy squeezed down on his dick.

"Damn, sounds like he's having a hard time in there," another voice joked. Yeah, like he had no idea just how HARD of a time Steve was having!

Later I swore to Steve that I didn't mean to and I really couldn't help myself. Low moan slipped out of my mouth as if felt like my entire body was tingling. Not that bad feeling you get when you hit your elbow but something wonderful, like goose bumps were rising all over me. It lasted for several seconds before I caught myself.

"What the fuck? Has he got someone in there with him?" another voice exclaimed. Someone knocked on the door again and said, "Hey buddy, what's going on in there?"

It was just another kid so I didn't care. Steve certainly didn't. If anything, it seemed to set him off as right afterwards he started to cum in me. I buried my head in his shoulder as I pulled myself into him as hard as I could while I felt him humping under me, shooting another load into me with each grunt.

"He's got a girl in there I bet!" a voice exclaimed.

"No way!" another countered.

"I'm telling you, he's screwing some bitch."

"Nahhhhh, probably just jerking off."

Steve almost exploded and I saw his face turn red as he held his breath trying not to laugh. I was still mounted on his dick like a marshmallow being roasted. We were done so there was no sense in trying to hide anymore. I quickly grabbed my shorts and pulled them on while Steve yanked up his pants and fastened his belt. A quick run of my fingers through my hair and I nodded to him to say I was ready.

No sooner did Steve open the door than I saw the three guys (kids actually, they must have been maybe fifteen or sixteen) staring at me as I walked out. I just smiled at them and didn't say a word as their mouths dropped open like they were catching flies and they stood there speechless. All the bravado was gone now that the real thing was there in front of them. For all their talk, I don't think they REALLY thought whoever was in there had a girl with him.

Normally I would've let Steve go out first and make sure the coast was clear but in this case I thought whatever was waiting out in the lobby was better than staying in here. I doubted that the stunned silence was going to last much longer so the sooner I got out the better.

Once outside sure enough, there was a guy about to head in and he looked at me with a curious glance but I just smiled sweetly and headed straight for the side exit door just a few feet away. In the booth next to the door were a couple of women, maybe in their thirties, and I saw them staring at me with what could only be described as disgust. They obviously knew what I must've been doing in the restroom and it appeared neither of them was very adventurous. Oh well, I don't let sanctimonious mothers bother me. Never have, never will.

Steve beeped the car with the remote and we both jumped in and took off before anything could happen. Not that I really expected any trouble but then you never knew. As Steve drove off we both started laughing so hard I almost choked.

"Did you see the look on those kids facing when I walked out?" I asked, tears streaming from eyes as I laughed.

"Jerking off eh? Well, I hope THAT showed 'em," Steve huffed, obviously still a little miffed at one of the commentaries.

"God that was so hot... don't you think Steve?"

"Well, I hope you got THAT out of your system for at least a little while," Steve sighed, trying to act as if he had done it all just for me, "We'll never make it tonight if we keep pulling off every time you get horny."

He had a point and I knew I had to try and control myself so I did my best. For the rest of the trip I stayed on my side of the car and other than just touching myself now and then mostly absentmindedly, I was a pretty good girl.

There was one thing that I couldn't pass up. I'd never seen the Mississippi River before as it was cloudy the couple of times I'd flown over it in the past. We were in Tennessee and I saw the sign saying what river it was as we started across the bridge. I hadn't really thought before but suddenly a thought came to my mind.

Steve looked at me like I was crazy. There was construction on the bridge and so one lane was closed but there was plenty of room for us to pull over as all the work was being done at the other end of the bridge. The traffic was light and Steve only had a few seconds to react so he pulled over without giving it much thought.

"Ok, so what the hell is this all about?" he asked me.

"I just want a picture of me standing over the Mississippi River," I explained. That was all actually, it was just something I'd never done before so I wanted something to remember it by.

Steve rolled his eyes and I handed him my iPhone. The traffic was almost non-existent so it was easy for me to stand by the railing with nothing behind me but the massive river. I posed and then he looked up and down the road, checking for traffic. Nothing was coming as far as I could see.

"Get naked," he dared me.

Why was I surprised? Then again, it was a GREAT idea so I quickly ditched my clothes, tossing them to him so if someone should suddenly appear we could quickly run for cover in the car.

Standing there naked by the rail out in the middle of this huge bridge was SO cool. Actually, I wouldn't have minded if a few cars would have passed but it would've been just my luck it was a cop or somebody with a camera. Steve snapped a few of me in various poses and then we rushed back to the car. Just as I got in and closed the door it was like an entire lane of cars behind some slow semi-trailer passed us. I guess I had the trucker to thank for giving me the chance to do something fun.

Steve started the car again and I put my hand out for him to give me back my clothes.

"Uh-uh, not yet," he teased me, "You look way too good that way."

We were out on a relatively small road now rather than an interstate so it didn't seem to be a big deal so I just shrugged and laid back on the seat nude. I'm not normally the type to run around naked but for Steve I'd do it just for him.

"So how long are you going to make me stay naked?"

Steve put a finger to his chin as if in deep thought. Like I bought THAT act. He already knew the answer, he was just playing me.

"Hmmmmmm, how about you stay that way until you make yourself cum again?"

I giggled a little at that and replied, "So I guess you don't want me to be naked for very long then, eh?"

"God you're such a slut," Steve sighed, faking his despair. Steve was one of those guys who could call me a slut and make it sound like a compliment.

So now we were in Missouri in dimming light with me completely naked in the car seat next to him, driving down some lonely two-lane highway. Missouri! How the heck do you go through Missouri to get to Arkansas from Pennsylvania? I pulled out my iPad and checked the map and sure enough, I'd missed this little piece of Missouri that hung down in the southeast corner where we were crossing.

For some reason, I decided to myself that I was NOT going to cum while were still in Missouri. There was no real rhyme or reason to my decision, it was just something that popped into my head as I slowly twiddled with my clit.

"You don't seem to be in much of a hurry," Steve observed, "I guess you must like riding in a car naked."

"What's the big deal, not like I'm driving," I responded light-heartedly.

"You know, I've never seen a girl that likes to masturbate as much as you."

This was getting interesting. Although we loved HAVING sex, Steve and I really didn't TALK about it all that much. It wasn't like we were embarrassed or afraid, it just didn't seem to come up in conversation.

"What can I say, I like it," I said, "Doesn't your mom masturbate?"

Ooops, I don't know how THAT slipped out but Steve got this weird look on his face and it seemed like he was going to say something but then he stopped himself and just drove down the road silently for a few minutes. I wasn't sure if I'd said something bad or what. In the back of my mind I always wondered a little about Steve and his mom, especially given what had happened between them eleven years ago, but I never had the nerve to bring it up with him. It wasn't like I was asking him if he had sex with him mother, but then how many guys knew the masturbation habits of their mom?.

"Well, just so you know, MY mom use to do it a lot and she even let me borrow her toys now and then."

Steve looked over at me with that same weird expression like he wanted to say something but yet I knew he wasn't.

"Do you normally talk to your boyfriends about your mom's masturbation habits?" he asked softly, "And do they usually tell you about their mom's?"

For some reason I was having a really hard time reading Steve. Normally I could always figure out whether he was serious or not but this time it was like we were playing high-stakes poker and he wasn't giving me any tells. I decided it would be easier to avoid the subject than finish it so I changed the subject to something I knew he was more comfortable with.

"So tell me Steve, do you like to watch ME masturbate?"

Whether he was glad I changed the subject or not, Steve didn't let on but he picked up on my cue and went with it and neither of us made any further mention of our mothers for the rest of the trip, at least nothing sexual. Instead, we both did the things we loved. I masturbated while he did his best to watch while he drove at the same time. Talk about a "win-win" situation!

Steve pulled over to get gas just before we crossed into Arkansas. I hadn't told Steve about my resolution regarding staying naked until we left Missouri so it wasn't like he was doing this to see how I would react. If anything, he started to hand me my clothes as he pulled off into the station but I pushed them away.

"You know, there ARE other cars here and the lights are pretty bright," Steve said as he stopped the car off to the side before entering the brightly lit pump area. "You sure you want to do this?"

There's a fine line between teasing and flirting and getting yourself arrested. Steve had a big road atlas between the seat and the console (why I don't know as I had my iPhone and iPad with) so I grabbed it and held it up to my chest while I rested my iPad on my lap. It would still be obvious to anyone taking a close look that I was naked but at least they wouldn't actually SEE anything.

"You're going to get us in trouble yet," Steve huffed as he just shook his head and pulled in, taking one of the most outer pumps.

As it turned out, it was much ado about nothing as nobody else even came close to the car. In fact, I even put everything to the side and rolled down the window so Steve could watch me masturbate as he pumped gas. It wasn't until we left and were back on the road that he suddenly started to laugh.

"What's so funny?" I asked.

"You DO know that all these stations have security cams these days, don't you?"

That's all he said. All he NEEDED to say. Oh crap!

"I bet the kid behind the counter steals tonight's tape. Better keep an eye on YouTube tomorrow!"

Now THAT wasn't funny. Oh well, what could I do now? We couldn't go back and ask for the tape. Maybe it hadn't caught me. Even if it did, what were the odds anyone would notice? Most systems like that record over themselves after a period of time so hopefully I was in the clear. God, that would NOT be cool. The one thing that would save me is who would know who it was in a gas station in Missouri. Not only that, the car was a rental and didn't even have PA plates.

It was only a few more miles until we were finally in Arkansas. Time to get down to business. Having been playing with myself for a while now, there had been several times I'd had to back down to keep myself from coming so it wasn't like I was starting from scratch. Indeed, once I started to seriously work my clit we weren't past the third AR mile-marker before I'd earned the right to put back on my clothes.

"Damn, do you have like this little switch you turn on and off to cum?" Steve whistled after I'd calmed down again, "I can't believe you could do that to yourself so fast!"

What can I say, practice makes perfect.

Once into Arkansas it was only like an hour and a half to get to Cherokee Village where we'd be staying. I have to say I was thrilled to finally get there. Sure there had been a few memories made along the way, but I still hate being a car for THAT long in one day.

It was now late Saturday night and it was dark so there wasn't much fanfare on our arrival. Steve had the security code to get in the house and it was seemed empty so we checked things out quickly and chose a bedroom. We were so tired and sore that we just went straight to bed without even having sex. There would be plenty of time to check things out in the morning.

3. The Wedding Day

Most people don't like to get married on a Sunday just because there are so many complications with churches and people's schedules but the couple being married must not have cared. It worked out good for Steve because he didn't have to take another day off work, especially since he was so new already to the job but he had told them when he was hired that he had this wedding planned for some time now and they allowed him to take the week off.

I woke up early Saturday morning next to Steve. He was lying on his side away from me with the sheet half covering his naked body. Funny, he said he was never into sleeping nude before but I guess I convinced him to change his ways. For me it's never been about sex, just that I feel better without being all bound up in bed. I like the feel of fresh sheets against my bare body although most of the time, even in winter, I tend to toss them off as well.

As tempting as it was to see Steve lying there asleep and available, Mother Nature had other plans and so I scurried off to the bathroom for a quick pee. It was right across the hallway and I didn't even think before I opened the door and hurried into the bathroom. Again, habit came into play so I didn't even think about shutting the door. It wasn't something I was raised to do and though I know better when I am at someone else's home, when I'm alone I figure what's the point?

Well, imagine my surprise when I was finishing up and reaching for the toilet handle when I heard something behind me. My heart went to my throat and I spun around to see what the intrusion was. There in the hallway standing there staring at me was some guy I'd never seen before. He was wearing boxer shorts and his hair was all tussled. Apparently he'd just woken up and was answering his own version of the call of nature.

"Ummmmm, sorry, I didn't know you were in there... the door was open you know."

He may have been sorry but that wasn't keeping him from getting an eyeful. I had no idea who he was and I was too shocked to even think about anything else so I reached for a towel and quickly wrapped it around me.

"You know, if you take a picture it lasts longer," I said with a bit of a snide attitude.

Really, this guy didn't even know me and yet instead of excusing himself he just stood there with this silly grin on his face staring at me without even at least trying to act like he wasn't.

"Sorry...," he answered though not very convincingly, "You must be Steve's girlfriend, right?"

I didn't say anything but rather just stood there waiting for him to act with a little bit of modesty. This wasn't like being seen naked in the bathroom at home, this was more like voyeurism. Now there is a time and place for THAT but I like to be the one who determines when and where, not to have some Peeping Tom doing it on his terms. In other words I'm OK with being looked at when I flirt but NOT when someone does it without me being OK with it (whether or not I tell them so doesn't matter).

"Pervert!" I hissed as I edged by him and headed back to our room. As I did he reached out and tried to grab my ass. I twirled and I could feel my face flush with anger.

"Try that again asshole and you won't be jerking off with that hand for a long time."

I didn't wait for him to respond but just rushed back into out room and slammed the door behind me which then woke up Steve. He rubbed his eyes and looked at me.

"OK... now what the hell was THAT all about?" he groaned.

"One of your pervert friends stared at me while I was going to the bathroom and then he tried to grab my ass."

Steve looked rather amused - which did NOT amuse me.

"And what's so funny? Don't you care what your so-called friend did to me?"

Steve rolled his eyes and flopped over on his back. At the moment not even the sight of his morning wood was turning me on.

"What the fuck Kelly, I just don't get you sometimes. Yesterday you're flashing every trucker on the highway and now this morning you're peeved just because some guy sees you naked? I mean, seems sort of a double standard to me."

Men! Sometimes I could swear off of them I get so mad at them but then that beautiful dick wiggles in front of me like a worm beckoning to a fish and... well so much for that. Still, how could Steve be so insensitive?

Dropping the towel, I opened my suitcase to get my toiletries out and some clothes, fuming while doing my best to ignore Steve which wasn't all that easy with him looking delicious by being nude and oh so fully erect. God his dick looked SOOOOOO good. As I dug through my things I started to think more and more about how to deal with assholes like his friend. OK, so maybe he wasn't really an asshole but still, we didn't exactly get off to a great start.

It was right then that a stroke of brilliance hit me and I knew exactly what I would do this week. Assuming the other guys, how many there were I wasn't sure, were of the same mindset as Asshole #1, then I would teach them all a lesson. I'd have them going home with the bluest balls this side of Smurf Town. I was going to tease them, flirt with them, and do everything in my power to make them so horny and miserable that they'd be jacking off in their sleep. I'd show them not to mess with me... I'd show them good.

Actually the rest of the morning was quite uneventful. As it turned out, there were two other guys staying with us. I was already thinking of them as Asshole #2 and Asshole #3 before I even met them. Maybe that wasn't being fair but once I met them I didn't feel guilty about it at all. Whoever this guy was that was getting married seemed to have a common sort of guy when it came to his wedding party. They were all good looking, late twenties or so, and totally full of themselves. Every one of them thought they were God's gift to women, or least to me. Only problem was they LOOKED so hot and I could just imagine what was under those boxers.

Only one problem... With the way his friends were turning out I actually found myself starting to worry a little bit about Steve. If all his friends were like this, was I now seeing a glimpse of Steve that he hadn't shown me yet? After all, I really didn't know him ALL that well. Sure the sex was great but when it came to personal issues we really didn't know everything about each other, not even much of anything when you really came down to it. After all, there was a whole side to my family life that Steve had no idea about and I wondered sometimes about him and his mom. So if these were the guys he hung around with, did that mean this was how he really acted when he wasn't around me?

Once we were all up, everyone kind of just milled about, the guys talking and such about guy things. Steve introduced me and I learned their names finally. Asshole #1 was Ryan, Asshole #1 was Phil and Asshole #3 was Chase. All three of them were from California, at least they were now. Ryan was originally from somewhere in Indiana while Chase was a Boston refugee with a thick accent. Phil was a California boy. They all worked for the same company which is how they met I guess, the same one Steve worked for when he was out there before he got his paramedic license.

During the course of the conversations I learned that the groom was named Fred, making him the first "Fred" I'd ever known. I hate to admit this but the first thing that crossed my mind when I heard his name was wondering if his parents were Flintstone fans. I don't know why, it just sounded funny to me. Was his sister named Wilma? Fred was marrying Mary-Anne, his high school sweetheart who he met in church being part of the same youth group (how sweet!) She was a local girl and most of her and Fred's family lived in northeastern Arkansas which was why the wedding was taking place here. Duh.

It was all well and good to know such details but frankly, I didn't care much about WHO they were as I didn't know anything about them and would never see them again anyway. It was the wedding itself that I was looking forward to and who was in the dress and tuxedo wasn't all that important.

After I a while I was thoroughly bored and went up to the room to get dressed. As part of my new resolve, I made sure this time that I was fully dressed BEFORE I left the bedroom. Steve took one look at me and this strange expression appeared on his face, almost like he was seeing me for the first time.

"Ummmmm, that's not exactly what I was expecting to see you wearing this weekend."

Well, I'm sure it wasn't and it just goes to show why a girl has to pack so many clothes for every eventuality. Had I been forced to pack light I never would've included this outfit which would've made my plans for this morning significantly more difficult. At first, my outfit sounds like my typical hot weather gear - shorts and a t-shirt. The difference was that unlike most of my shorts which are cut REALLY short, these were almost Amish in that they extended down my thighs about two-thirds of the way to my knee. They weren't even all that tight, if anything maybe a little loose on me. The t-shirt was a simple pink one without anything on it and hung down to my shorts without revealing anything in between. It was about a size too large and so sort of hung over my boobs rather than clinging to them and outlining them as I normally preferred. Underneath I had on a white bra and panties although neither of them were visible except for the bulge the bra strap made in back where it snapped.

"What's the matter with what I'm wearing?" I asked, trying to sound as if I didn't already know the answer.

"Well, I just sort of figured you'd be showing off a little more I guess," Steve mumbled, sounding a little disappointed actually.

"So... I take it that you would PREFER that I dress like a slut in front of your friends?"

That was sort of like asking if a dress made my butt look big - there was NO good answer so Steve wisely kept his mouth shut for once and opened the door for us to leave the room. He couldn't resist pinching me in the rear though.

"You know, I didn't even know you HAD clothes like these," he chuckled as I swatted his hand away playfully.

I didn't mind if HE played around with me. It was his friends that I was going to be dealing with in a different way.

Actually, dressed as I was together with a little play-acting as a shy girl rather than a slut, the guys all looked at me but they didn't LOOK at me the way guys usually do. I mean, they certainly seemed to appreciate the way I looked but they didn't have that expression on that practically shouted that they were thinking of how to ask me for sex. It was funny because Steve still seemed a little disappointed. Somehow I was getting the feeling that he'd been planning to show me off like some sort of trophy girlfriend but now I wasn't playing along like I was supposed to. Oh well, that's what he gets for having asshole friends.

I wasn't really surprised to learn that Fred the Groom had arranged for the guys to go out and do whatever it is guys do the day of the wedding - something about old cars and beer... whatever, it didn't interest me in the slightest and I wasn't invited in the first place. The wedding wasn't until 5:00 but Steve needed to get there early since he wasn't able to be at the rehearsal. Steve told me to be ready by 2:30 which didn't leave a whole lot of time anyway so it wasn't like I would be spending the entire day alone.

No sooner did the guys leave and the door was shut than I was stripping out of my silly clothes into something more comfortable. Needless to say the bra and panties went into the suitcase first! Then I slipped on a pair of comfy boy-cut shorts that were cut high which made them really cool in this sort of weather. On top I just wore one of my bikini tops, nothing all that special, just a plain pink version that tied behind the neck and back. After all, it was just me for now.

With the place all to myself, I did a quick inspection. The house was built right on the lake which also looked pretty nice with a few boats out and several pontoon boats as well. Several of them wear towing people on tubes but I didn't see anyone skiing. The house was built up on a hill so there was a long series of stairs leading down to a dock where there was a boat docked with a cover built over it. From what I could see at this distance, it looked pretty nice. It seemed to be bigger than my parents' boat but with the cover over it I couldn't be sure. It was a long hike down what looked to be a hundred stairs to get to the pier so I figured I would just wait until later when we actually used the boat to get a more close-up look.

The rest of the place was OK but nothing all that special. There were two stories although from the front it looked like there was only one. With the steep hill the second story was mostly underground, almost a half-basement I guess but it was completely finished and you would never know it was surrounded on three sides mostly by dirt. It was furnished sort of circa 60's and 70's and probably hadn't been updated since the original furniture was bought. Overall everything was clean and at least it had a great big-screen flat TV in the family room with cable.

In the process of checking things out, I poked through the guys' rooms well, more out of morbid curiosity than anything. It was sort of like when I use to baby-sit and I would check out the various bedrooms. In one of the rooms (I wasn't sure who was in which room) I found several DVD's that looked homemade that were labeled with various porn movie titles. Hmmmmmm, maybe they were from the bachelor party the night before or whenever they'd held one. Most of them didn't attract my interest until I saw one labeled, "Where the Boys Aren't". Hmmm, I could make pretty good odds on what THAT one was about.

What the heck, why not? I took the DVD down to the family room and plugged it in. Sure enough, it was one of the "classics" where a bunch of girls do it for the entire movie without any men in the film at all. Porn doesn't usually do all that much than they'd seen up until now. I had on my favorite pink dress with the thin ties that went back behind my neck. It exposed a lot of cleavage but at the same time wrapped against my boobs such that not a lot of breast was revealed. Underneath I had on a pink thong to match but the skirt came down nearly to my knees so the odds of anyone actually seeing it weren't all that great. With my legs crossed as I sat on the stool, it pulled up nicely to reveal a generous amount of thigh but without crossing the line into slutdom.

Everyone was in a hurry so there wasn't anything else said or done. I just waited until they'd all cleaned up. They would change into their tuxes at the church so everyone was wearing jeans and t-shirts except for me. We all piled into Steve's car with me in the front seat with Steve and the other guys crammed into the back seat and it was only a ten minute drive to the church.

As we drove I watched out the window as this was the first time I could see things in daylight. I'd read a brochure at the house describing the area. Apparently this was some 15,000 acre resort and retirement community on the edge of the Ozarks. Ozark It had two eighteen-hole golf courses, six swimming pools, a private beach, tennis courts, recreation centers, fitness center, senior center, horseshoe pits, two nature trails, and seven lakes for boating. It seemed nice as we drove around although the temperature readout in the car said it was 100 degrees outside!

The wedding was held at the Cherokee Village Lutheran Church. As we approached it seemed a little older with a worn stone exterior. I'd never been in a Lutheran Church before but once inside it seemed pretty much like any other. The sanctuary was simple and small, maybe seating 150 people at most I guessed after a quick count of the pews. It was mostly empty now except for people doing the flowers and whatever else needed to be done in the hours before the wedding.

Steve and the guys headed straight for where the "dressing room" was, leaving me all on my own. I stayed indoors in the air-conditioning to avoid the oppressive heat and humidity. The air-conditioning in the church seemed to be barely keeping up with it as it was so I didn't want to go and get myself all hot and lose whatever bounce was left in my hair.

Sitting in one of the back pews, I read through the wedding program and learned a little more about the bride and groom. In all it seemed like a pretty classic wedding with one of her close childhood friends singing a solo. Since nobody knew me I guess everyone assumed I was with the opposite side of the bridal party as they were and so sort of ignored me. It was just as well since I didn't have anything in common with anyone and really wasn't in that talking mood.

After about a half hour or so of boredom - you can only read the literature in the pews so many times, my mind started to wander. Thoughts of how good it felt to touch myself earlier crept back into my head and I caught myself just in time before I unconsciously reached between my legs. Damn, I was horny again! As tempting as it was to find the nearest restroom, I kept myself in check. The last thing I needed was to sit in the pews next to who knows who while I smelled of sex!

Another fifteen minutes and I'd read through a couple more pamphlets in the back of the church about the church itself and doctrine. Boring! I started to question the wisdom in my decision not to seek out the privacy of the restroom. Now THAT would have made the time go back quickly! Unfortunately, people were starting to trickling in now and no doubt the bathroom would be getting busy. Not that such things had stopped me in the past, but there's just something about not knowing people and then knowing you won't have anything to do with them at all that sort of takes the fun out of such activities.

Thirty minutes to go and still no sign of Steve. Had he totally forgotten about me or what? I wasn't sure what all he had to do before the wedding but surely he could have taken two minutes and at last checked on me. Now I really DID need to go the little girl's room - but for good reason!

Looking around, I soon found what I needed down a hallway from the sanctuary. Sure enough, it was filled with women doing last minute makeup retouching and hair checks. Fortunately one of the stalls was open! Ever notice the closer you get to the restroom the more urgent the need? What had seemed like a mild urge a few minutes ago had suddenly turned into something quite more urgent.

When I'd finished dealing with Mother Nature, I started to pull up my panties when something struck me. What the heck, why not at least do SOMETHING a little bit fun, even if nobody knew about it but me? Instead of pulling them up, I dropped the panties to my ankles and then stepped out of them, trying not to catch them in my heels. Stuffing them into my purse, I smoothed out my skirt and exited the stall.

There's just something about being bottomless that has always made me feel good. It's not just the voyeuristic tone or being naughty, I enjoyed it even when I was home alone. I almost never go around the house nude, not even when I was growing up, preferring to wear either a t-shirt or maybe one of my dad's shirts. Anything loose and baggy on top with nothing on the bottom was my definition of the perfect at-home outfit. With nobody there, it wasn't to be naughty that I went bottomless, it just felt better that way. I love the feel of the air against my exposed crotch and butt and the light tracing of my top against it as I moved.

Being bottomless at home is all about feeling good and so it is when I'm out in public. The thing is, being out in public adds another element to the overall experience - being naughty. I would bet that 99.9% of the time I'm bottomless in a dress or skirt in public nobody ever knows about it. Of that small percentage almost all of them know because I make sure they do. It would be extremely rare that anyone would see my bare bottom in public by accident.

So it was today. As I maneuvered through the crowd of women and girls I could feel my light dress flowing against my bare butt. Not that it was a lot different from when I was wearing a thing, but there was just something intangible about knowing you were naked under the skirt and not just being revealing. I wondered if anyone else in there was going sans panties as well. Who knows, maybe some were. Like with me, nobody would know about it but them. What would they say if they knew about me? Really, it's not like I was flaunting my pussy but still, there are a lot of women who really get uptight at the mere mention of going out without bottoms.

I saw that my seat in the pew had been taken when I got back. It didn't matter as there were now ushers doing the seating. I was asked the usual, "bride or groom" and answered that I was with the groom. Considering I wouldn't have recognized him if he walked by that was a bit of a stretch but still, I was closer to him than the bride.

The usher took me about half-way down and seated me next to another girl who looked to be about my age. She was dressed somewhat similar to me except her dress was a light yellow version and the shoulder straps went over to the back instead of behind her neck. She was a blonde and VERY good looking. I introduced myself and she told me her name was Janet. She also made it a point to note that she was the groom's EX girlfriend.

Actually that's what started up the conversation between the two of us - talking about ex-boyfriends and being left high and dry. Apparently she had been seeing Fred in college and even though she knew he was with Mary-Anne, he had led her on (her words) to think that he was tired of her and wanted to be with Janet. Well, that was fine and good but eventually she learned that while Fred enjoying sex with Janet, he was proposing to Mary-Anne.

It was an interesting story so I asked her why she was at the wedding. She smiled at me and grinned, "There's always hope and besides, I don't think it will last based on this morning."

Janet knew that she had my interest and she whispered in a conspiratorial tone in my ear, "He did me this morning."

I almost choked and she asked me if everything was alright. I whisper back to her that I'd done the same thing with a boyfriend in the past on the morning of HIS wedding. Then I nodded up front where the guys were getting ready for the wedding to start. I pointed out Steve to her and she looked at me and smiled. It was like we were best friends in less than ten minutes!

The music started and so we sat quietly while the remaining people were seated. Eventually the mothers and grandmothers were seated and the wedding was off and running. As I had surmised from the program, it was pretty traditional and everything went off without a hitch. Her girlfriend turned out to be quite a singer, even if it was yet another rendition of the "Wedding Song". Steve did his part well, although a trained monkey could have probably done it.

When it was all over I said goodbye to Janet and she smiled at me and gave me a hug. I told her good luck with her "quest" and she understood immediately what I was referring to and grinned.

"Mary-Anne will never give him what I gave him this morning," she smirked, her eyes blazing, "I give him a month before he's begging me for more."

Well, it took me a few years before Steve saw the light and left his first wife and was now with me again. I hoped for Janet's sake that in her case she didn't have to wait so long. I suppose it was rather cruel of me to wish such things on a bride's wedding day but then I like to root for the underdog, especially when it seemed we had so much in common.

After the bird seed throwing it was time for photos so I had to stick around and wait for what seemed forever until all the wedding party photos were done. Finally Steve came out to get me and we met the other guys at the car and drove to where the reception would be held.

It was only a few minutes from the church to the Cherokee Village Omaha Center which boasted three swimming pools, a fully equipped health and fitness center, a stage and auditorium, meeting rooms, miniature golf, kitchen and spa facilities. Some of the rooms could be combined which is what was done today for the reception. There was a disc jockey already at work when we arrived but once again Steve warned me I would have to be on my own since he would be sitting up at the head table with the wedding party.

As much as I love weddings, this day wasn't exactly going over all that well for me. I guess I should've expected it to be this way but I hadn't really thought it all the way through before. Fortunately who should walk in but Janet - and she was still alone. The two of us met up and we found a table to sit at, even if we did have to rearrange the seating cards just a tad but nobody seemed to mind. Being I wasn't a family member or close friend, I'd been assigned to one of the tables in the back. It had a few empty places so Janet just moved her seating card next to mine.

"Love your dress" we both said at the same time to each other.

We giggled and started talking about our boyfriends some more - although in her case her "boyfriend" was the groom. Nobody else was sitting at our table so we didn't have to whisper the way we did in the church although we still kept our voices down.

"So you really got laid by Fred this morning?" I asked her, making my voice sound like I couldn't believe she had done such a thing.

Actually I thought it was pretty cool as I knew exactly how she must have been feeling. Memories came flooding back of how I recalled the day Steve had gotten married and I sat at his reception with fresh reminders of him inside of me. I knew his marriage wouldn't last and now here I was with him as his girlfriend again.

"I hope you don't think I'm some sort of slut," she said, frowning a bit.

"Oh course I do... we sluts have to stick together you know," I teased her.

That seemed to ease the tension that was starting to build and if anything, opened the floodgates to us each telling the other during the dinner some of my more memorable experiences with the groom and his best man. At times I noticed Janet seemed to be eying me a little closer than her just being friendly would warrant. My mind began to wander, as it seems it does in such situations, and I started to wonder if maybe Janet was interested in more than just my stories and chatting.

Who knows what might have happened had I been there by myself. Instead, Steve eventually made it my way after the dancing started and for the first time that day actually paid a little attention to me. When I came back to the table to get my drink I noticed that Janet was gone without even leaving me a note. Oh well, maybe I'd misread the situation or she just wasn't interested in a one- night fling. Too bad, it might have been fun!

As the night wore on and the open bar flowed, the people began to loosen up. I can't say I'm much of a dancer so when the traditional chicken dance and other ridiculous songs started I stayed off to the side and watched Steve as he made a fool of himself but it was funny and I didn't mind. If anything it endeared me all more to him to watch him get out on the dance floor with everyone and look like an idiot without worrying about what others thought about him.

Now that Janet had gotten my imagination going, it was pretty much stuck in high gear for the rest of the evening. Sometimes it would shift up and down, but I could never entirely keep from having at least few naughty thoughts running around in the back of my head. Seeing Fred as he reached under Mary-Anne's wedding gown for the traditional garter ceremony made me wonder if she was wearing any panties. Undoubtedly so from the looks of her but it didn't stop me from wondering about it all the same. One thing I knew was that when I eventually got married my hubby would be getting a pretty good view of his new wave's crotch when he got under my dress! The thought of exposing myself to my husband in front of both our families, even though they wouldn't know it, was quite erotic.

As the evening wore on the usual events took take - the traditional father-bride and mother-groom dance and so forth. I didn't catch the bouquet which was fine with me. Probably helped that I tried my best to stay away from it! Granted, sometimes when I daydreamed I wondered about me and Steve in the future but I wasn't ready to even think about marriage yet so no sense in setting any expectations.

It was getting late and starting to look like Steve wasn't going to make any moves which made me wonder a little more about him yet again. Heck, wasn't it a pretty solid wedding tradition for the best man to get laid at the reception? OK, so according to strict tradition he's supposed to screw the maid of honor but at this wedding she was married and not all that good looking. Not to mention I wanted him to fuck ME, not some other girl. Hmmmmmm, so it was going to be left up to me I guess if anything was going to happen to make this a more memorable evening.

He already had his arms around me with both hands planted firmly on my ass - a carefree attitude that was one of the benefits of the more than few drinks he'd been downing. Steve pulled his head back from my shoulder quickly and looked me in the eye as if he hadn't heard me right. "Like NOW? Right here in front of everyone?" he said half-jokingly.

Maybe as drunk as he was getting with a few more drinks he might actually DO such a thing but that really wasn't my intention - although it was an interesting concept.

"I'm serious Steve... I need you to fuck me."

"OK, so you mean like here and now?"

"Well, not HERE silly, but yes NOW!"

Steve looked around as if he thought somebody might be listening to our exchange. Between the loud music and everyone moving around it was highly unlikely but then I guess you never know these days who has their little cameras. Maybe it was the look in my eyes or the way my voice came across as demanding, but for whatever reason he seemed to get the message that I was dead- on serious and indeed, I would have loved to have him do me right here and now.

"OK then, I'm game. So let's go find someplace."

As it turned out, THAT was the most difficult part. The place wasn't all that big and what there was wasn't all that private. The only place that seemed viable was the kitchen as all the food had been catered in so the kitchen hadn't been touched. The only thing that made be second-guess the idea was that it looked pretty dark from the outside and I immediately noted that the double swinging doors didn't even have handles, let alone locks. Oh well, any port in a storm as they say. It would have to do as I wasn't going outside in the miserable heat.

"C'mon, let's go in there," I urged him, pointing at the kitchen.

"Yeah but what if someone walks in on us?"

"So what? I doubt anyone would care, do you?"

Indeed, so what? It wasn't like anybody there knew me and what was the big deal with a couple having sex at a wedding reception. Like, didn't someone ALWAYS get laid at the reception? Assuming that was true, then why not me this time? After all, it's not like this would be the first time I had sex at a wedding - and it had been with Steve at that. Even better, it was at his own wedding and I was NOT the bride.

Although the fluorescent lights were out there enough light streaming in through the door windows that once my eyes adjusted I could still see fairly well. Without wasting any time, we moved over to the left side where the sink was along with a large table with a stainless steel top. As far away from the door as we were, someone would have to come in and deliberately look to the side in order to see us.

OK, so as much as I would love to suck his dick tonight at the same time I wanted to be fucked - badly. So far today I'd masturbated and fantasized plenty but hadn't had a real dick in me. It was sort of hard to believe that I could be on vacation all day with Steve and hadn't been laid once and it was getting closer to midnight with every passing second.

Given this horrible situation I wanted to rectify it as soon as possible. In this case I'd probably been happy had he just stick his dick in me and fucked me without any foreplay. It wasn't like I wasn't wet enough already! In the end, what choice did I really have? It wasn't like I was going to debate it with him or anything so as he stood there with his dick in his hand, I squatted in front of him and grabbed it out of his hand. I spit on it to get it a little wet and started to stroke him slowly. His dick felt so warm and stiff against my palm.

"So you'd rather me suck your dick than the Maid of Honor? Where's your sense of tradition?" I teased Steve.

"That fat cow? C'mon Kelly, give me some credit," he sighed as I worked his cock faster with my hand, "Now as for the bride... THAT would be a different story."

I gave his cock a little jerk at that and he got the message.

"OK, OK, I get it... you don't have to pull it off!" he cried out.

He was probably telling the truth about his desires for the bride but now I wanted him thinking of me so I took him in my mouth and started to suck his erect cock.

Steve sighed as my lips enveloped him, "God I love the way you suck my dick... you've always been a natural you know."

Well, I don't know about being a natural but I sure enjoyed practicing! If it's true that practice makes perfect then by now I should be pretty darn close to being spot-n when it comes to sucking cock.

It didn't take long to get him REALLY erect as he was already more than half-way there by the time I first held his dick in my hand. Mmmmmmm, he tasted so good! I loved the feel of his thick pubic hair against my cheeks as I took his dick down into my mouth and throat. There was nothing like having his cock all the in my mouth with my face pressed against his hairy lower belly.

Steve was getting into it and instead of just standing there letting me do all the work, he had his hands holding my head as he pumped his dick in and out of my mouth like he was fucking me. God, I thought he was going to push it down to my stomach! Now and then instead of just thrusting back and forth he would hold me head into his crotch, his hips quivering as he held his dick down my throat and wiggled my face against the thick pubic hair of his crotch.

"Oh fuck that feels so good!" he moaned and for a moment I was worried he was going to cum.

It wasn't that I didn't want him to cum in my mouth, I was more concerned that he hadn't fucked me properly yet and with all his drinking it would be hit or miss as to whether he could keep his erection once he came the first time. After all, he wasn't that sixteen year-old I use to know that could cum over and over and never go soft.

Then there was the issue of not wanting to stain my dress. Steve had a habit of starting to cum in my mouth and then pulling out and spraying my face with it. This was NOT one of my favorites when it came to his habits but he seemed to love it so I went along so long as he kept it out of my eyes. Unfortunately, guys don't spray cum any more accurately than they pee which means often I would get it in my hair and clothes. The dress I was wearing would show off any bit of cum that might make its way there and as much as that could be sort of cool at times, I didn't think it would go over well tonight.

Pushing against his hairy thighs, I dropped his dick from my mouth and pulled his hands away from my head so I could stand up. I hopped up and sat on the top of the table, feeling the coldness of the stainless steel against my bare butt. When I lifted my skirt, there was just enough light for Steve to see I wasn't wearing anything else under it.

"Wow, you didn't wear panties today?" he asked incredulously.

I shook my head with a grin and he just shook his in turn saying, "You mean all through the wedding and reception you've been dancing and everything without anything on underneath... god you're such a slut!"

The way Steve referred to me as a slut made me grin as I fully realized he meant it as a huge compliment and that he liked it when I acted that way. True, my dress wasn't so short that I'd been in any real danger of exposing myself but then there was always that possibility of a trip or fall where everyone in the room might've had a quick glimpse of my bare pussy - at least enough to answer the question, "Does she shave?" nothing like that had happened of course but the risk was all part of the thrill.

"Well, are you going to fuck me or just stand there staring at my pussy?" I teased him, leaning back on my hands and spreading my legs even further apart for him. My dress was bunched up around my waist leaving me wide open for him.

Just then I heard some voices outside the door. Someone was talking right outside the door but I couldn't make out what they were saying. There was no indication they had any intention of coming into the kitchen or that they had any idea what was going on just a few feet away from them. Still, Steve seemed distracted so I sat up and reached out with one hand to grab his hard dick and pull it towards me.

"Don't worry about them, it's OK... come on and fuck me dammit," I whispered to him.

Now what guy with a full-on erection after just having his cock sucked would turn down such an invitation from a horny girl sitting on the table in front of him with her legs spread apart and her bare pussy beckoning? Well, I know of at least one who wouldn't! Steve took one last look at the door and grabbed his dick with his hand and started to rub the head of his dick up and down my pussy slit. Each time it slid over my sensitive clit it was like someone shocked me with a Taser which seemed just to egg him on all the more to tease me with his dick.

"You want it in you.. don't you?" he whispered in a husky voice that betrayed his own lust.

Steve was teasing me but I knew he wanted it in me just as badly as I did. One thing about a guy, he can't hide his true feelings when his dick is about ready to burst it's so engorged. It was OK, I was willing to play along so long as he didn't waste TOO much time with his little theatrics.

"You know I want it... give it to me... fuck me with that hard dick... fuck me!"

OK, so I was laying it on a little thick but Steve loved it and somehow by saying this and a whole string of others it made me even hornier than I was before.

"Yeah, you've been wanting some of my dick all day... haven't you?" Steve continued.

It was all more to stroke his own ego but it was OK with me. Regardless of his macho talk I could tell he was having a hard time holding back as his dick was starting to press a little into me each time it moved down to my pussy hole. It was like he wanted to push it in me but somehow he was finding the willpower to slide it up one more time. I could have probably just waited him out and sooner or later he wouldn't be able to hold himself back anymore but what was the fun in that?

"God I need it SOOOOO bad... I want it Steve.. give it to me... fuck me with your big hard dick."

During sex every guy likes to hear that he has a big hard dick, regardless of the actual dimensions. Why men are so phobic about dick size I'll never understand but if it helped him fuck me better, what was the harm in massaging the ole' male ego a bit more?

Then without any warning he just shoved it in me. The first thrust got it about Half-way in and he pulled back a bit and pushed again, this time burying himself all the way in me such that the base of his dick pressed up against my bare crotch. He had my legs up with my knees bent over his elbows and as he leaned forward it lifted my butt up off the table as I leaned back on my elbows.

"God I love your pussy!" he groaned as he moved his hips around to rotate his cock inside of me like he was making a cake or something in me. "I love... fucking you."

There was a pause after the "I love" and even as much as I was concentrating on his dick in me I still felt my heart skip a beat. In the few seconds he paused it was like time stood still and a million thoughts poured through my head. Was he going to say it? Was he going to use the "L" word? Then it was like he had second thoughts and finished his sentence more crudely. A felt a little let down but it didn't take much more of Steve's dick to make THAT feeling go away.

"Get down," Steve gasped as he pulled out of me and let my legs down.

On command I slipped off the table and he grabbed me by the hips and twisted me around so I was facing away from him towards the table. His hand pressed against my upper back and I leaned over and held onto the edge of the table as he pulled my hips back so I was leaning over all the more.

"God what a fucking ass!"

Steve was massaging both of my butt cheeks, one with each hand, spreading them apart so he could get a better look at my wet pussy and ass. That didn't last too long though as he soon was back in me again, fucking me from behind as he tugged on my hair to pull my head back like he was riding some horse. The sound of his hips slapping into my bare butt was deafening in the room, or at least that's how it sounded to me but I'm sure nobody could have heard anything outside in the hallway.

I just stood there on my tip toes and let my boyfriend do all the work while I just focused on the wonderful feelings being generated within me by the continuous invasion of my pussy by Steve's hard dick. I reached down with my right hand and started to play with my clit while he fucked me, rubbing myself as best I could with him banging into me with an almost rhythmic cadence. Wow, talk about the perfect wedding...

"Almost there... where do you want it babe?" he groaned as his thrust became harder and more sharp.

They were less a stroking motion now and more like he was trying to ram it through me using a hard sharp thrust followed by a slow withdrawal only to be followed by yet another hard fast thrust.

Turning my head over my shoulder, I replied, "You know better than to ask, you'd damn well better stay in me if you know what's good for you!"

Then it happened, that marvelous moment when that first load of cum first bursts from a man's dick and explodes inside of me like a geyser suddenly erupting. Sure the subsequent eruptions are nice but it's the first one that has the most force and substance.

I tried to imagine what it must look like to have the tip of his dick deep inside of my body while his sperm shot out of the end like a hose suddenly spewing water. With all the jerking and groaning it was hard to actually feel it inside of me but I was sure that there was a sensation of warmth in me that had to be his cum filling me.

Even though I didn't cum myself it was still a wonderful feeling to have Steve do me just as he had done so many times before. For a brief moment I remembered the very first time he'd cum in me back on the day he took my virginity. Eleven years later it was still special.

Steve pulled out and I knew what he wanted. I guess there's something to be said for knowing your partner's whims and I knew after Steve orgasm he LOVED his dick suck and cleaned off. Some guys shied away from it as their dicks seemed overly sensitive and it was too much for them to deal with while other just wanted to get dressed, as if all their sex drive had left them along with their sperm. Steve's dick was one of those that craved attention so I quickly turned around and crouched again in front of him, taking his tasty cock in my mouth and sucking off all the left-over cum that coated it. The mixture of his cum with my pussy juices was intoxicating.

"Oh shit that feels so good," he groaned as I sucked as hard as I could on his dick.

Then I held just the head in my mouth, letting my tongue work its way around it, under the ridge and then over the tip. I was rewarded by one last small burst of cum and then he was done.

Standing up, I kissed him. Again, this was another area where Steve was different from so many men I'd had sex with. I don't know it's a homophobic issue or what, but almost every man who has ever had his cum in my mouth refuses to kiss me later. Do they even know how it tastes or is it just out of principle? In any case, Steve never even said anything about it one way or another, we just kissed as if nothing was different.

"I love it when you fuck me like that," I whispered in his ear. He just hugged me tighter and then we kissed again before finally separating.

Looking around, I didn't see any towels or tissues. The dim light didn't help so as soon as Steve had his pants back up again I told him to turn on the light. Once the kitchen was lit I quickly found a roll of paper towels and pulled off a few sheets. Reaching under my dress, I wiped myself clean as best I could although I knew it would be a while before all of Steve's cum was out of me. Still, it was better than dripping onto my dress the next time I sat down.

I was holding my cum-soaked paper towel in one hand and the roll of towels in the other when the door suddenly opened and in walked some older woman. I had no idea who she was. She looked at me and her face brightened.

"Oh, just what I needed," she said as she walked over to me.

As she did, she finally noticed Steve standing off to the side. She paused, then looked at my other hand and her nose wrinkled. Then suddenly her eyes opened wide and her face reddened as she put two and two together.

"Oh my, I hope I didn't disturb anything," she said, turning to leave.

I called back to her as I tossed the used paper towels into the trash and handed her the roll, telling her everything was fine and she wasn't bothering anyone. She took the towels without a word and left without making eye contact with either of us.

Steve started to laugh. "Do you have any idea who that was?"

I shook my head and he laughed again saying, "That was the pastor's wife. I can only imagine what she'll be telling all the other gossips. Too bad she didn't come in five minutes sooner. Then she would have REALLY had something to tell them."

We turned off the lights and left the kitchen to go back to reception. All in all I have to say today went great. I love weddings!

4. The Boat

The next day we all slept in late. Steve woke up especially horny for reason and insisted on fucking me before I could even go to the bathroom or brush my teeth. Whatever he had been dreaming about must have been pretty hot because he woke up with a major hard-on and didn't waste any time sticking it in me. No foreplay whatsoever but fortunately mornings are my natural time of day to be the horniest myself so I was ready for him.

After I'd cleaned up I put on a short cotton robe that hung down just far enough to cover my ass and went down to the kitchen where all the guys were. They were eating cereal and some donuts someone must have bought, breakfast of champions it was not.

"Hey Kelly, we're gonna take the boat out in a bit, do you wanna join us?" Steve called out to me as I approached the table.

Well duh! If there was one thing I LOVED it was to go out on a boat and hopefully I would get to water-ski and show off a little for Steve in front of his friends.

Sitting down on one of the bar stools, I crossed my legs which "accidentally" allowed my thin cotton robe to inch further up my thigh until it was almost all the way up to my ass. Sure nothing was showing that they wouldn't be seeing later when I was wearing a bikini but it still attracted a lot of attention which was fine with me. Indeed, I hoped they all got super horny looking at me until their cocks hurt. The only problem for them was that I wasn't going to putting out for them but then they didn't know that... not yet at least.

After some breakfast I went back to our room and debated which bikini to wear. I'd brought several with as I hadn't been sure who I would be wearing them for. Face it, a girl doesn't wear a bikini for HER, she wears it for other people to SEE her. Depending on who and where that was what guided my decision.

Speaking of choosing bikinis, had I been home on the back deck, I would have probably chosen the type that my dad likes to refer to as "Kelly's Slutty Bikini". Over the years they'd come in various styles and colors but they all had one thing in common - they were all VERY small and they all exposed just about everything. There was no way I could wear something like it to a public pool and my Aunt Shari would've had a stroke had I ever worn it around their pool. Even so, it was the perfect choice when I wanted to show off to someone special like a boyfriend or my dad. As much as I would've loved to see the reaction from Steve's friends had I worn it today, it was entirely too revealing. I don't mean to sound full of myself, but assholes don't deserve to see that much of my skin!

For those times when I was required had to be more subtle and discrete, like at a church picnic or over at my aunt and uncle's house, I had several what I could call "standard" bikinis. The one I'd brought with me was pink for the most part with some white trim and pretty much covered my ass and boobs. There were times when I'd get out of the pool that some readjustment was needed, but overall it wasn't all THAT revealing. It showed more cleavage than anything else but the bottom was really tight such that when I sat down with my legs open it would pull up and reveal a nice camel toe. Usually I crossed my legs when I wore this one though. If I where I could put on a show I wouldn't have been wearing that one in the first place.

Then there were days like today. The bikini I chose was probably the type that I wore the most like when going to a friend's house or a public pool. Unlike most suits, the top didn't have a liner which allowed my darker nipples to show through just enough to make their existence known - as if the nipples poking through weren't enough. What I really liked was that in between the cups was a stainless steel ring rather than the usual material running between. The ring pulled the two cups together but still managed to do a great job of exposing about as much cleavage as I could get away with in public without being arrested. The top then tied being my back which made it all that much easier to take off plus I liked to think that when boys see the strings that they envision pulling on them so my top would fall down. Like I said, bikinis are for the people who watch me!

The bottoms matched the top and similar to the top, the sides were held together by two smaller stainless steel rings. Being my pussy was shaved smooth, it was smaller in front than it would have had to be if I were only trimmed. There were no ties but it didn't take much for them to come off when necessary. If anything, there were time I wished they DID tie as they didn't fit as tightly as they could have around the waist and I always seemed to be pulling them back up as they worked their way down my hips.

Being we would be out on the boat, I pulled my hair back into a single ponytail. Normally I liked to wear a gold ankle chain or something on my wrist but the odds of losing such things in the water were too great to risk. A pair of flip flops rounded out my outfit. I had brought along a beach towel which I draped around my neck and over my front.

"Awwwwww, I'd hoped you'd put on that other bikini," Steve sighed with obvious disappointment when he came in and saw what I was wearing, "you know the one I like... the one I can't hardly tell you're wearing from the back?"

Oh I knew which one he was referring to. I may as well be naked and from behind, I did indeed look that way as the strings were so small and there wasn't any material covering my butt.

"What's the matter, your girlfriend's not showing enough skin for your friends?" I teased him.

"Well, there's not much you aren't showing as it is but it WOULD have been a lot hotter to see you in that other one. God Kelly, you look smokin' hot when you wear it I swear. C'mon, change into that one."

"Well they'll just have to happy with this one," I retorted and then paused before adding, "So are you saying I DON'T look 'smokin' hot' now?"

Steve quickly made a strategic retreat but I wasn't letting him off the hook THAT easily.

"So tell me Steve, just what do you expect from me when I'm with your friends? Am I supposed to dress all slutty for them? Do you want me to suck their dicks and let them fuck me too? Are you my pimp and I'm supposed to be your little whore, like some kind of sex toy for your friends to play with?"

I think I surprised him by being so blunt as for a moment there his expression totally betrayed him. Oh yeah, I knew that was EXACTLY what he wanted but even as horny as he seemed to be right now he knew better than to say that to me.

"God no Kelly, I would NEVER ask you to do that."

Yeah, he might never ASK me but he sure as hell was THINKING it. It wasn't like I was mad at him or anything, just having a little fun. Who knows, maybe under different circumstances I wouldn't mind doing such things for him but not with this group. Maybe it's because they all just seemed to EXPECT it that turned me off. If I was to let them all do me then it wouldn't be a surprise to them, they seemed to think it was a done deal from the way they talked and looked at me. Yet again I wondered a little about Steve. Had he given them the idea that his new girlfriend was going to put out for them? Well, I don't mind being a toy but I have to be in on it and not just used like I was a walking pussy.

In the end I just rolled my eyes and sighed a bit melodramatically as we left to head down to the pier. The others were already there and even as modest as this bikini was (well, not THAT modest as modesty is a relative term) they all couldn't help but give me the once over - more than once.

Ignoring their blatant stares, I checked out the boat as this was the first time I'd gotten a good look at it. I have to say I was impressed. For some reason today it seemed a lot bigger than yesterday when I saw it from a distance with the cover on. I'd been a little concerned that with five adults it was going to be overloaded but we all fit in easily. It didn't hurt that the bow was open for seating with a horseshoe of cushions lining it.

The only thing about the boat that disappointed me was I didn't see any skis. There was a large tube but that seemed to be it so far as toys were concerned. Concerned, I asked Steve about the skis and he passed the question on to Chase who seemed to be the one in charge of the boat. Chase just shook his head and made some snide comment about who skis these days anyway. Oh well, so much for THAT idea. It was a real disappoint as I'd been dreaming about showing off on a slalom ski since Steve first mentioned the boat back in Pittsburgh.

Given the silence, I didn't have to look out to know that the lake was pretty much empty at the moment, at least at the end we were on. I'd seen a map of Thunderbird Lake in the house and saw that it was oddly shaped with several large fingers going down from the main body. We were at the end of one of the outer fingers so I imagined most of the boaters were up at the larger, more open area.

The guys eventually got in the boat and as I followed Ryan tried to give me a hand but I ignored him as if I hadn't seen him and just jumped in on my own. Without saying anything I made my way up to the bow where I claimed the seats to myself.

Chase easily started the engine after which Steve and Phil released the lines and we were off and running. As the boat picked up speed I loved the feel of the wind in my hair, pulled back was with my ponytail flying behind my head like a real tail. I was stretched out on my stomach over the cushions on my elbows so I could see ahead of us, but well aware that I was giving the guys in back a pretty nice view of my bikini-covered ass. No doubt about now Steve was REALLY wishing I'd worn my sluttier bikini. I kept my legs together on the narrow seat so it wasn't like they could see up between them. According to my plans, THAT sort of thing would come later... if at all.

Once out in the middle of the lake, the guys started taking turns on the tube. I have to say, when you're use to riding a slalom ski a tube seems pretty tame but then again, my dad didn't drive our boat the way Chase was abusing this one. I guess it was a macho thing with the four guys egging each other on to see who could stay on the tube the longest despite whatever devilish tricks Chase was doing with the boat. Thank goodness they were only a few other boats out and they stayed well away from us!

When it was Steve's turn I finally sat up and turned around to watch. Leaning back into the niche at the forward part of the seat I put my arms out to each side to stabilize myself and then turned just enough to let me put my left leg up on the seat beside me while bringing my knee up close to me. I put my arm around my calf and pulled it in close to me. Nobody could accuse me of flashing as my bikini did a pretty good job of covering everything between my legs. Even so, without looking down I could feel the bottoms pulling in tight and knew I must have been providing a nice camel-toe for them to enjoy.

Rocking back and forth slightly with the waves, I smiled to myself as I imagined what view they would be having with my sluttier bikini. It was so narrow in the crotch that sitting in a pose like this would've drawn it up deep inside my pussy until it was well out of site. Still, even now Steve couldn't keep his eyes off my crotch as he struggled to adjust the life vest. Chase was trying to look like he was keeping an eye out for boats but it seemed he was mostly concerned with the ones directly behind me for some reason.

Finally Chase took off again with Steve in tow. Seizing the opportunity now with Steve out of the boat, Phil moved up to the bow area with me. He was the first to be brave enough to come into my little lair and I smiled sweetly at him but kept my pose.

"Aren't you gonna tube?" he asked, leaning in close to me so I could hear him over the din of the huge motor.

Shaking my head, I dropped my knee down and held on tight as suddenly we started bouncing over other boat wakes. I almost lost my balance and was heading for the deck when Phil grabbed me and pulled me back up to the seat. In doing so his hands were under my boobs and once I was up again he held on for what most people would've thought to be much longer than necessary as his hands pressed up under my boobs and against them.

"Thanks Phil," I mouthed as the boat shuddered as it crossed one wake after another in Chase's efforts to unseat Steve from the tube. The I couldn't resist leaning over and saying in his ear so nobody else could hear, "I guess you know now that they're real."

Phil actually seemed a little embarrassed as he knew exactly what I was referring to. I really didn't mean that he was checking to see if they were real or not. My boobs aren't all that bad but nobody would waste their money buying a boob job to look like mine! I may fill a regular C cup rather well most of the time but I still wore a B-cup now with certain brands. Sometimes I wore a smaller one to make it look like I filled out a bra totally. Phil knew I was teasing him about how he had pressed his hands up under my boobs. Any harder and he might have pulled my bikini top over them!

Soon Steve had taken a tumble into the water and now the guys were all were encouraging me to take a turn. I really didn't want to go out there the way Chase was driving the boat. I prefer to have fun on the water and not get all bruised up. It wasn't until Chase promised me over and over that he wouldn't be mean to me that I finally relented.

Moving back to the rear of the boat, they had to dig out another life vest as the one they'd been wearing was far too big for me, even with all the straps tightened all the way. Unfortunately, the only other one in the boat was more for kids but I was able to squeeze into it finally although there was quite a gap in the center where it should have pulled together.

Looking down, I realized why they kept staring at my chest. Talk about a Wonder-Bra effect! The life vest was pushing my boobs together and up to create the most marvelous cleavage shot imaginable. God, it looked like my boobs were double D's given the Grand Canyon that the life vest had created between them! The only thing that would've been better would have been to not wear my bikini top at all... which gave me an idea.

At first it went right over his head as Steve tried to change the straps again but I whined a little more saying, "It's not so much it's tight as it bunches up my top and cuts into my boobs."

Actually it wasn't a complete lie but a little overblown to say the least. The ring in the center, which normally gave it that just barely over-the-top look, WAS cutting in between my boobs a little given the way they were being squeezed in. Sure it wasn't all THAT bad but it provided a perfect excuse for my intentions at the moment. Thankfully Steve FINALLY fell right into the trap I'd laid without even realizing it.

"Well, why don't you take it off while you ski then? The life vest will cover you up."

Ha! I couldn't have said it better myself, which I probably would've had to do if Steve hadn't been thinking like a typical guy. Any excuse to get the girl to take her top off!

Needless to say, none of the other were arguing against it and at first I pretended to be too shy but I realized I wasn't fooling anyone with THAT line so finally I shrugged and took off the jacket. I started to untie the top but then thought better of it and turned around so I was facing the back of the boat. Taking off the top, I clutched my boobs and turned my head back to Steve.

Steve put the jacket against my back and I handed him my top over my shoulder, leaving me temporarily topless but facing away from everyone so at most they got a slight view from the side. Putting my arms through the jacket, I lifted them up so it slid down my arms and onto my shoulders. Once I had the first buckle snapped I turned around and let Steve help do the rest.

"Well, how do I look?" I asked everyone, putting my hands on my hips like I was posing the latest fashion.

"Nice... but would have been better without the jacket," Ryan smirked. Yeah, he was still Asshole #1.

"Hey, that's my girlfriend you're drooling over," Steve said, smacking Ryan on the shoulder playfully. It wasn't like he was protesting all that much if you asked me.

"Well you're fucking her so the least you can do is let us look," Ryan came back. God, the nerve of this guy!

Ryan did a high-five with Phil, as if he'd just made some fantastic comeback. Yep, Assholes #1 and #2. Well, they were sealing up whatever chances they may have had left to do anything more than watch.

"And don't you wish you could too Ryan," I couldn't help but say to him, patting him on the head like my pet dog.

Before things got out of hand I jumped overboard and swam over to the tube. It was a pain getting up onto it and I swore as I pulled myself up and over that I was NOT going to do this again. In doing so I was facing away from the boat so in my scrambling to get into the tube I was confident there were four pair of eyes taking in every inch of my ass and open legs. No doubt a few prayers were being said in hope my life vest would pop off but as tight as it was on me there was little chance of that unless the buckles snapped off.

Finally I was in place and I gave a thumb-sup to Chase who, true to his word, took off gently and gradually built up speed. Even as slow as he was going it was a rough ride as the lake was starting to get busier and the wakes were everywhere. I'd could have chosen to lay flat on my stomach which probably would have been the safest position but instead I was on my knees leaning over to grab the handles. Of course this gave the best possible view down the front of my life vest but as far back as I was there was little chance they would see much more than their imagination.

Kneeling also had the effect of putting my ass up in the air more and as I bounced about my bottoms gradually worked their way down. Of all times for them to be doing THAT again. True, there was never any danger they would slip off entirely but they definitely went down low enough to expose my butt crack and a healthy portion of my ass to whomever we passed by.

Just then I heard the motor surge and to my horror I saw it turn sharply, doing a 180 degree turn. The rope between me and the boat slackened and then as the boat passed me the rope tightened back up again. With a SNAP the tube was pulled around to the opposite direction and I felt the left handle rip from my hand as the tube took off like a rocket, leaving me behind in the dust, so to speak. Well, Chase had just earned his "Asshole #3" full accreditation.

A cry burst from me as I was literally hurled into the water and then dragged by one hand before common sense kicked in and I let go. Unfortunately by then with my bottoms already loose, they were pulled down by the rushing water and off before I realized what was happening. Trying to get my bearings, I was left floating all alone, choking on lake water and feeling quite bottomless all of a sudden. I twisted around, trying to see where my bikini bottoms had gone to but they were nowhere in sight. Crap, they must have sunk and now I was out an expensive bikini.

As the boat turned and approached, I could hear everyone's laughter, Steve included. Then it finally struck me that not only had I lost half of an expensive bikini, but I had to deal with four guys who so far had no idea what the situation was. The lake water was brown and you couldn't see more than a couple of inches below the surface so they had no idea I was floating there stark naked except for my life vest.

"You asshole!" I yelled at Chase.

He just shrugged as if it wasn't his fault but I knew better. The jerk couldn't resist the temptation to take advantage of my trust. Well, if I couldn't trust him to even pull me on a tube, why would I trust him enough to such his dick? Of course, on second thought HE would have to trust ME to put his dick in my mouth between my teeth! Maybe that wasn't such a bad idea after all... NOT!

Steve called to me again and I shook my head. He looked at me, obviously wondering why I was having such problems getting back in the boat.

"Tell your friends not to look."

Steve cocked his head and if anything, the other guys were now looking all the more. I guess it's sort of like saying don't touch the paint, it just makes people want to do it all the more.

"I'm having... problems," I said in a terse voice, "I lost something when your jerk of a friend took off like a bat out of hell and dragged me in the water."

"Oh? What did you lose?" Steve asked, missing the obvious.

I just cocked my head and frowned. Finally it dawned on him. Like, how many things did I have with me to lose in the first place?

"Hey that's cool, you made her lose her bottoms," Phil said to Chase, "Nice job bro!"

"Not funny... not you guys just turn around and don't you dare look!"

Like lost puppies, the three of them dutifully turned away as Steve put out the ladder and helped me up. Trying to climb the ladder as Steve pulled up on the back of the vest, I was acutely aware of my bare ass as it came out of the water for all the world to see. There weren't any boats nearby and the shore was far enough away that someone would have needed binoculars to see me, but I still felt exposed at the same time.

I was just pulling one leg over the transom when I heard, "Now THAT'S what I call a nice piece of ass!"

I had my head down then as I as pulling myself up and over the side but this made me pause to look up and sure enough, the three stooges had turned around and were taking in all they could while they had the chance.

"You asshole, I said not to look!" I practically spit out, trying to make them think I was madder than a hornet's nest.

Of course I'd known all along that they would be looking - what guy wouldn't under the circumstances? It was a chance to let them think they had "accidentally" see my bare ass and pussy without me appearing to be letting them get away with anything.

Steve didn't say a word. If anything, he looked prouder than peacock as I stood up and reached for a towel to wrap around me. Steve started to unsnap the buckles but before he could take the vest off of me I turned away from the guys so they wouldn't think I was trying to let them see my boobs. Of course, I was only twisted a little so they must have gotten quite a peek but again, it wasn't as if I was telling them it was OK to look at me.

That left me with my bikini top and a towel around my waist for an outfit. Another time and place and I wouldn't have bothered with the towel but it was necessary at this point of the game. Hopefully they'd all seen enough that later when we got back they'd be masturbating about me before they went to bed. It probably wouldn't hurt if I was a little louder tonight when Steve fucked me!

5. Tubing

The next morning was pretty much a repeat of the previous. Steve woke up horny as usual and needed a quickie, followed by breakfast with the guys only this time I had to endure a series of jokes about my bare ass and tight life vests. Of course I acted as if they all offended me but at the same time I had a suspicion that they'd gone to bed last night with the image of my bare crotch burned in their brains as they jerked off about being in Steve's place.

This was to be our last day as we needed to travel back tomorrow for Steve's job. He was still new at the company so he didn't want to push it and thought if he showed up a day or two early it might make a good impression on his boss. I had other ideas about he could make a good impression on his boss, or at least how I could. Hmmm, maybe something to talk about when we got home.

Steve handed me a small brochure and asked me if I was interested in spending a day on a tube. Before I looked at the brochure, images of my tube ride the day before flashed through my head and I shook my head vigorously.

"Noooooo, I mean tubing down a river... see?" he explained, pointing to the front of the brochure.

The other guys all suddenly perked up but Steve motioned for them to back off, telling them that this was just for him and me. They all seemed disappointed and in a way, so was I as I had assumed that today I would REALLY tease them. All sorts of scenarios had been running through my head and I was wondering just how far I would go to tease them. I'd even considered fondling them until they begged me to suck their dicks and then turn them away! Yep, after yesterday the gloves were going to be coming off. If they thought I was a cock teaser now, they would REALLY think so after what I had been planning but now it looked like Steve had other ideas.

What could I say as Steve seemed set on it so once again I had to pick out another bikini. It was a good thing I'd brought extras along after losing my bottoms the day before in the lake. The one I chose wasn't nearly as bright as the pink one, being almost jet black. The top for this one didn't have straps and was more like a tube top than a traditional bikini top. That meant there was no cleavage this time but at the same time it was cut so low and tight that my dad had once marveled at how it managed to stay on me! Well, with him around it usually didn't stay on for long anyway so the point was moot.

As for the bottoms, they were cut totally different than the ones I'd lost yesterday. These had very high hips and came down at sharp angles to my crotch. The back was cut more like a thong than a bikini but with just enough material that it didn't disappear between my ass cheeks the way a good thong does. All in all, it gave me a totally different look. Yesterday wasn't the right time to wear it in front of the three assholes but today would have been OK after yesterday's little show I gave them. Just upping the ante a little...

We had to drive into a nearby town to get to the rental place so I threw on some loose gym shorts so I wouldn't be bare bottomed on the seat. As hot as it was out, I didn't want to burn my bare butt on the hot leather! It also had the effect of hiding what I was wearing from the other guys. I'm sure they had to be wondering as we left what I was wearing that I needed to cover myself with shorts.

The little town of Hardy was about a fifteen or twenty minute drive. We'd passed through it on our way in but it was late then and dark so everything had been closed. It seemed a little dirty to me for a tourist town but there were still a few cars lining the streets filled with tourists. The rental place was up behind a MacDonald's in a log building. It would've been hard to miss the monster sign outside in front of the building or the run-down van towing a trailer of canoes.

Steve parked in the gravel lot behind the place and as I got out, I saw other girls there with their guys. I noticed that several of them had on bikinis as revealing or more than mine. Not wanting to be totally outdone, I slipped off my shorts and pulled up on the sides, drawing the bottoms tight into my crotch. It's fun to show off for guys but when it came to girls, it's more like a Roman gladiator match. Guys might look at girls in bikinis but it's nothing like how girls look at other girls. The main difference is that while guys are looking and imagining taking off the bikini and who knows what all else, girls are judging and analyzing every fault and extra ounce of fat that the bikini reveals.

Once inside, we waited while the first group made their decisions and paid. It looked like a bunch of college kids with four guys and four girls. All four of the girls were in revealing bikinis although only two of them should've been. While two of them were amazing, their wannabe friends should have been a little more discreet. The third wasn't all that bad, nothing ten pound off wouldn't have cured, but the fourth was a complete disaster. Her boobs were huge and saggy and it looked like her poor bikini top was going to burst out at any moment. Her fat ass was WAY too big for her bottoms and her stomach almost hid the front of the bikini as is it sagged down and over it. A large t-shirt to her knees would have been far more appropriate but then SHE was the one who had to endure the looks and comments so who was I to say anything?

I was towards the back of the store looking at the souvenirs and such when I felt Steve behind me. I mean that literally - I FELT him behind me as he put his arms around me and planted his hands over my boobs, squeezing them playfully.

"Steve! Someone will see." I whispered over my shoulder.

At the same time I wasn't exactly pushing his hands away, something Steve took notice of as he got bolder and started to lift the top up and over my boobs.

"You're such a naughty boy," I said softly, my tone hopefully reflecting the fact that I was glad that he WAS. In fact, the naughtier the better as far as I was concerned.

"And you're a naughty slut," he whispered, his hot breath in my ear as he massaged my now exposed boobs.

I quickly look up but didn't see a security camera. Oh well, you can't have everything!

We were effectively hidden from the group at the counter although had someone come in the door and turned to the side they would've gotten a pretty good view of us. I was starting to get horny and thoughts of blowing him right then and there with all the others just a couple of aisles away began to go through my head. No doubt I would've acted on those ideas has not they concluded the sale and the woman at the counter called back asking if we needed help.

The others started to walk out the door just as I was straightening out my top. Although they didn't see anything I had no doubt they knew exactly what had been going on. They all had that look that said they hadn't been virgins for quite some time. What made me smile was that the guys all smiled while the girls just pretended not to notice - a sure sign that they had.

Steve discussed the various float option strip with the woman while I just leaned over the counter and listened. She seemed to be about sixty years old but that didn't stop her from trying to look twenty. Really, there comes a time when a tight bikini top just doesn't look sexy anymore! The bird or whatever it was tattooed on her left boob should have been out of sight if you ask me.

The woman warned Steve that it was going to be VERY hot today (god, like it wasn't already?) and that the water levels were lower than usual for this time of year thanks to the drought. As a result, Steve chose one of the shorter routes that would end not far from where we were now. She estimated it would take about two hours for us to complete the run which seemed more than enough to me to spend sitting in a silly inner tube with my poor ass bouncing off rocks.

The others must have taking the kayaks as the van was gone when we were back outside. Some acne-covered teenager pulled up in another beat-up old van with a couple of tubes stuffed in the back and motioned for us to get in. Ewwwww, it was filthy and I was tempted to run back and get my shorts before sitting on the grimy seat but the guy seemed to be in a hurry so I gingerly sat down. Of course the van had no air-conditioning other than the windows being rolled down so I was already sweaty hot by the time we got to the drop-off point. It didn't help that the road wasn't paved and the dust had filled the van, leaving me coughing and rubbing my eyes.

As I got out I noticed that we were below some old dam near an area where the water pooled to the side of the main waterway. The zit kid helped me with my tube while Steve grabbed his. They both tossed them in the water and I started to walk in gingerly when I froze - literally. Damn it was cold!

The kid just laughed at my reaction and informed us for the first time that all the water came from a spring a few miles north of use that was a steady 57 degrees year-round when it came out. Hence the name of the river - the Spring River. Well, even as blistering hot as the sun was, the water hadn't warmed up all that much by the time it got here!

Damn, this was like some stupid winter polar bear swim. What happened to the nice warm lake water? This was really ridiculous but Steve somehow seemed impervious to the cold and quickly flopped down in the middle of his tube. He motioned to me, encouraging me to get in while trying to convince me it wouldn't be so bad once I got used to it. Yeah, and the tax guy is here to help you.

It took a while but I was finally sitting in the water in the middle of my tube, goose bumps and all. If nothing else, my nipples were now like little mountain peaks poking through my top. I pushed off a rock with my feet and we started our slow trek down the river. Emphasis on the SLOW. We had to pass by some fishermen to get to the main part of the river and they didn't seem all too happy at first at being disturbed but I smiled and waved at them and they didn't seem to mind so much after that.

What's more boring - watching grass grow or tubing down a slow freezing cold river? The sun was blaring and as good a tan as I had I was getting this bad feeling about it. It wasn't like we'd brought anything with us other than the tubes and our swim suits. As I floated next to Steve we chatted about this and that, nothing serious. In a way, this wasn't so bad as we rarely got a chance to talk like this. Usually sooner or later one of us would get horny and then one thing would lead to another and next thing I knew we wouldn't be talking anymore.

Surprisingly, for most of the trip we were by ourselves. Maybe it was the heat of the sun that kept sane people from doing this sort of thing. Sometimes we passed by homes but even then generally nobody was out and about, at least not on the river side. A couple of the campgrounds we passed seemed pretty busy but people were usually fishing so we tried to stay on the far side as much as possible so as not to get in their way or get snagged.

We must have been about half-way done when Steve turned the conversation to yesterday's boating affair. Like a guy, he seemed particularly enamored with me losing my bottoms.

"You know Kelly, I didn't even realize that you were bare-ass until you said something," he pointed out.

"Well I certainly did," I replied rather sternly, then lightened up and grinned saying, "So did it turn you on for your friends to see me naked?"

Steve laid his head back and sighed, "God you know it, I loved it. Seeing them look at you that way and knowing I was the one getting to screw you later... it was perfect."

"It WAS kinda cool floating out there without anything on down there but nobody knowing it," I said rather absentmindedly. As I was saying those words a thought came to my head and I grinned to myself. Maybe this trip didn't have to be so boring after all!

"What in the world are you doing now?" Steve asked as I started to squirm in my tube.

I almost fell through the middle as I reached under and worked my bottoms off my hips and then up to my thighs in plain sight. Steve saw my bikini bottoms and then just stared as I pushed them off my feet and held them in my hand.

"There... now THAT is so much better," I sighed as if they had been the bulkiest and heaviest thing I could have worn.

In reality, there wasn't a hell of a lot of difference between how I was now and before except for a couple of square inches of strategically placed material.

"You know, you are really something else," Steve said, shaking his head as yet again he couldn't believe what I was doing.

It was the same look he had given back when I was masturbating for the truckers on the trip down.

"But you love it and you know it," I teased him. Then I held my bottoms over my Head, twirling them like a little flag and turned to him. "Here, now don't you dare drop them!"

He almost missed them as I flipped them over to him but thankfully he grabbed them out of the air with one hand and then held them up to his nose. I know a lot of guys make stupid fish jokes when talking about pussies but this time they probably DID smell like fish!

"Pervert," I teased him.

Steve just shrugged and tucked them into the front of his shorts. At least he wouldn't lose them. We didn't even have a towel with us so it would've been pretty interesting to try to get out of the water bottomless in the middle of town.

Like I said, physically there wasn't a lot of difference after handing over my bikini bottoms to Steve, but psychologically it made all the difference in the world. When I wore a thing I may as well be bare ass, at least from behind, yet somehow that was ok at most places so long as I wore something. With my butt hanging down in the cool water I was showing off as much to the fish as I was before but now I was bottomless, naked, nude, whatever else you wanted to call it. I couldn't just stand up because people would notice in front I wasn't wearing anything.

"Now you take yours off," I taunted him. Steve just shook his head. No way was he going to do that! Sure, it was OK for a girl to expose herself but not a guy. Didn't seem quite fair...

"I've got a better idea," he said slowly, as if he was trying to warm me up to the idea, "Toss me your top."

My initial reaction was a big "no way"! It was one thing to be floating along with people watching me without my bottoms on so long as my ass was underwater or at least hidden by the tube. While I was fully aware of the state I was in - they didn't. The fun for was in knowing they didn't know and to think about what they would say if they DID know. But still, they didn't know.

That said, going topless would be a lot harder to hide, especially since I had nothing else with me, not even a towel. All I needed was some overzealous cop waiting for us at the next bridge to arrest me for public indecency. Some people simply have no sense of humor.

"Oh come on Kelly... it's not like I can't see most of your tits now anyway," he pleased with me like a little boy begging for his mother to give him a treat.

Steve was right in that without any straps and as low as it hung on my boobs, when I was hunkered down in the middle of the big tube my chest was almost entirely covered by the dark river water such that someone couldn't see my top hardly at all unless I pulled myself up a little. I thought about it some more as Steve kept on about how much wanting me to do it and how chicken I was. Yeah, like who was the one who was half-naked already? HE wasn't going to be the one floating down past who knows who stark naked!

"Oh alright," I finally sighed, pretending I was giving in under great duress.

In reality, the idea excited me. It was sort of like when I stand in my living room during the day naked and look out at the people going by. I know with the way the light reflects off the living room window that they can't see me inside but I still get a kick out of standing there nude virtually right in front of them.

As it turned out, this was a little harder than with my bottoms. My other bikini would have been easier since it tied in back and I could have just undone the ties and slipped it off. This one was all one piece so I had to get pull it up and over my head. In the process of doing so it was almost impossible not to fully expose my boobs for a few seconds. Still, there was nobody in sight at the moment and it was only a brief moment of exposure before Steve had my top tucked in his shorts along with my bottoms.

For better or worse I was now completely at his mercy, floating totally naked down the river in full view of everyone on shore and floating by us with just the tube to hide me while he was responsible for not losing my bikini. There really wasn't any choice as all I could have done was hold onto it and surely at some point I would have slipped and dropped them.

Looking down, I noticed that if anything my boobs showed more now than they did with the top on. The black material had blended in with the dark river water like camouflage. Now my lighter colored breasts stood out in stark contrast to the colored river water but at least my nipples were underwater. That is, most of the time they were. When we were away from civilization and nobody else was near I would pull myself up in the tube so my boobs were visible to Steve. I knew he was dying for me to do that and I loved the way he looked at me - or at least my chest.

"You know, you really look so damn hot like that," he said one time when I practically was sitting up on the edge of the tube. "God.. imagine if some kid was looking through the trees right now at you... he'd be wacking it like crazy!"

Indeed it felt sorta naughty to be sitting there with just my legs dangling in the center of the tube, totally naked should anyone be looking through the woods on either side. I didn't dare stay like that for long as people were always coming by in canoes and kayaks or fishing in some unexpected pace along the river but still it was an erotic feeling.

The idea of some secretly watching me expose myself and getting off made me feel all the more horny. Unlike Steve, I preferred to imagine some older teenager or college boy rather than a boy but hey, whatever gets you off I guess. I looked over at Steve and wondered how he was doing down in that department. Given as cold as the water was could he even get it up? Probably not or no doubt he would've been showing it off by now.

There was the sound of a splash just around the corner ahead of us and I slipped back under the water just in time as we started to float by a campground with what looked to be some kind of kids camp in progress. There must have been fifty or more rug-rats along with at least a dozen teenagers and a few adults. None of them paid us any real attention, no doubt seeing us as no different than the hundreds of other people that probably passed by each day. Still, my pussy tingled a little as I wondered how many of those people had been nude when they passed by. Not many I would have bet.

At one point we passed under a low bridge. The water was pretty wide and shallow and there were some rocks in the middle. As we passed by, Steve stood up in his tube, the water only coming up to his knees. His head barely cleared the beams of the bridge. Wow, I hadn't realized the water was THAT shallow. Good thing there hadn't been anything to bruise my ass!

Well, it was fine for him to stand up, he had his shorts on. So what did he expect ME to do? At first I held onto the rock and stayed inside the tube. Steve saw that I wasn't getting up and finally it dawned on him why.

"Oh Kelly, get up! Who's gonna see you? There's nobody in either direction for like forever and the bridge hides us from everyone else."

"Easy for you to say, you got your clothes on!"

"So what? Nobody wants to see a naked guy anyway but I doubt anyone would complain getting a good look at you."

"Oh, like the parents in that last group that went by would've been pleased for their little kids to see a naked woman?"

"Well, maybe not the mom but I bet daddy sure would have."

Spoken just like a guy. Then again, odds were he was right. Still, I needed to be a little careful so I checked both directions. This stretch was pretty straight with the bridge towards the end before the next curve so there should be plenty of warning that someone was coming before they got too close to realize what was going on.

"Oh what the hell," I mumbled, as if I was doing this only to please him. Well, maybe that was partly the reason but it made me tingle a little to stand up inside the tube and feel the warmth of the air against my naked body.

A car passed overhead and nearly scared me to death, followed by more. It must have been a busy highway and I grinned as I wondered what the drivers would say if they knew what was going on right below them.

Steve was stretching, his muscular arms reaching high over his head until they practically touched the road bed above him. I could see my bikini poking out over the top of his shorts. Thank goodness he hadn't lost them! His soaking wet shorts clung to him, nicely outlining his manhood. Mmmmmmm, it was hard to be there naked while my favorite part of him was hiding away from me.

"You know, it's not really fair that I'm here naked and you have your shorts on."

"Well, life ain't fair, is it."

Smart ass! Well, I wasn't going to leave it at that.

"Hey, you wanna get laid tonight or not?"

Steve looked at me a little narrow-eyed. "Is that supposed to be some kind of threat?"

"No... a promise."

"So you're saying that if I don't take my shorts off you, you're holding out on me tonight?" Steve laughed, which sort of surprised me until he said, "Yeah, like YOU of all people can so no to sex. You'll be begging for it by midnight."

"There's always Phil... he'd fuck me in a heartbeat and you know it."

There was something in my voice that made Steve have second thoughts. It was all bluff on my part - all of it. First, he was right about me not being able to say no. After everything today, I was going to need to get laid BAD tonight. Heck, I wanted it right NOW for that matter. Second, there was no way in hell that I would EVER let that asshole Phil fuck me but Steve didn't have to know that.

"Screw it then, you win."

To my surprise, Steve started to undo his shorts. I gasped as he forgot about my bikini until it started to fall but thankfully he grabbed both parts before they were lost, his shorts falling to his knees as he did. He laid the bikini on the rocks and then stepped out of his shorts, placing them next to my bikini.

"There, happy now?" he said, stretching his arms straight out to each side to show off his nudity.

To be honest, I hadn't thought he would go through with it. There were times when I could goad Steve into doing all sorts of crazy things in public, but I also knew that he was more worried about it than I was, even though he tried to put on a nonchalant air. Oh sure he loved it when I was the one stripping in public, but when it came to HIM being nude, unless it was to have sex with me he pretty much had some sort of phobia about it.

"Mmmmmmm, now THAT is MUCH better," I said, licking my lips like a hungry lioness. With his public hair matted down by the water, it just made his dick look all the bigger. He was fairly flaccid now but I knew it wouldn't take much to bring it back to life.

"I want you to fuck me Steve."

The words came tumbling out of my mouth before I even realized what I was saying. It was a spontaneous thing, like my inner desires just took control and made me say it without even knowing I was doing it. Steve seemed to be just as shocked as I was.

"OK, this time you've GOT to be kidding," he protested. "It's been long enough now as it is, someone is sure to be coming along soon."

Well, since I'd broken the ice so why not go for it?

"I don't care, I just want your dick in me now, even if just for a little bit. C'mon, you know you've been wanting to do me since I took my bottoms off."

Steve grinned replying, "That's not exactly true... I've been wanting to that since I saw you in that bikini!"

All the while he was stroking himself so I knew that no matter what bluster he might be giving me now, he wanted it just as much as I did. Indeed, it was like someone had an air hose attached to him as his cock swelled up as fast as I'd ever seen it grow.

"See... you want it so get over her and let's hurry up," I said, keeping a close eye upstream the whole time.

Actually it was the logistics, not the will, that proved to be the problem. We didn't dare lose the tubes yet it was impossible to get anything done standing in them. It was like having a giant pneumatic chastity belt on! Steve positioned his tube on the rocks until it seemed stable and then he moved over to me. I wasn't sure what he was going to do until he stepped inside the tube with me, standing behind me. I could feel his now erect dick poking me in the back. I don't know why, but there's something about a hard dick poking against me that makes me shiver every time! It really doesn't matter WHERE, just that it does.

"OK... now lean over and grab the rock," he said as I felt his dick starting to poke me lower, searching for the Holy Grail - my pussy.

Steve wasn't wasting any time. No sooner was I bent over than I felt the head of his dick sliding down my ass and then before I could even think about it he was in me.

"See, I knew you wanted it," I teased him as he started stroking in and out of me.

"I can't fuckin' believe you talked me into doing this. This is crazy."

"Oh give me a break Steve, I know why you stopped under the bridge - and it wasn't to stretch!"

His silence confirmed my theory. Just then it was like one car after another rolled over us. I don't know why, but it just made it all the better to listen to all the people right above us while Steve was doing me.

"Oh shit, I knew it!" Steve gasped, pulling out of me and jumping out of the tube, leaving me bent over with an unsatisfied pussy.

I looked upstream and it was like a flotilla was heading our way. Well, make that at least five or six canoes or kayaks. They were faster than tubes so we only had a couple of minutes before they got close enough to see us with any detail.

Steve grabbed his shorts and tossed my bikini to me. In his hurry he almost missed me but I just managed to grasp the bottoms before they headed for the river. Steve had his shorts on in a flash while I hesitated and then just got back down in my tube, holding one part of the bikini in each hand. I pushed off from the rock with my feet as we started to float slowly down the river again. Steve was soon right beside me.

"You little slut; you really do like being naked when people go by, don't you?"

I shrugged my shoulders as if to say, "Of course!" A few minutes later the party went by us. It was a couple of families out for a vacation ride. Moms were with the daughters and dads with the sons in their own canoes making it six in all as there must have been an extra couple of boys somewhere in the mix. All the kids looked to be in the six to twelve range and none of them gave me a second look as they paddled by. They all had deep red sunburns and looked more ready to just get to the end than worry about a couple of people floating along in the river.

I waved hello and the mothers waved back. The dads, probably worried more that their wives would wonder if they got too friendly with some girl in the water just looked instead, which was fine by me. The water covered me just to the top of my breasts, leaving just a little cleavage. It was just on that fine line where it was hard to tell if I was wearing a low-cut swim suit or nothing at all. If any of them wondered, they certainly didn't ask but I liked the way one dad in particular kept looking down at my chest. Hmmm, too bad he wasn't canoeing by himself. Things might have gotten more interesting!

After they passed we turned the next corner and it was like the whole world changed and we were back in Hardy. The take-out point was only a hundred yards away so I worked my way under the tube and tried to put on my bikini without making it look like I was putting on my bikini. Steve was watching me whole time grinning.

"At least you kept your bottoms today," he teased me.

I playfully splashed him a little as we stepped out of the water and handed our tubes to some kid with a bald haircut. We all got into a bus that took us a few blacks back to where we were parked and soon we were on our way back to the house.

"So... do I get laid tonight?" Steve teased me as he drove along.

He didn't have to wait until tonight...

Did I say I love weddings?

Once again it was the Fourth of July, a day filled with tradition and memories. Unfortunately, this was also the day when my mom's absence was felt the most. Would we ever be reunited as a family again?

1. My Parents' Marital Problems

For most of my life I've told people (OK, so I bragged a bit as well) that my parents had the most wonderful marriage imaginable and in my heart I believed every word of it. How could I not? They had been inseparable since they were high school sweethearts and each of them obviously loved the pother totally and completely. They were the model of the perfect marriage so far as I was concerned and I wanted nothing more than to someday meet a man and have marriage even half as good as theirs.

The foundation of my parent's marriage was the total trust my parents placed in each another. Whether it was the check book, a car fender bender, or whatever, they never kept any serious secrets from one another. Mom and dad took their wedding vows EXTREMELY seriously, especially the one about "Thou Shalt Not Commit Adultery." Indeed, adultery was something neither of them ever even thought about seriously, let alone take part in.

It's an important point to make because in some ways, it was their commitment to their marriage that eventually broke it apart. Going twenty five years having sex with the same people is quite an accomplishment when you look at today's society. Of course, one thing my parents had going of them that most marriages don't was that while they didn't believe in sex outside of marriage, they DID believe in incest assuming it was properly done. It was sort of like alcohol – there's nothing wrong with drinking so long as it is done responsibly.

It was same with incest so far as my parents were concerned and given their background, it's not that hard to understand. My mother had been raised by an incestuous father who took the virginity of both his daughters although her mom stayed out of it. Although my dad was not raised in an incestuous family, he was quickly was on board with the concept after he met my mom and her younger sister even though he didn't know about their dad and them until much later.

The key is that my parents taught me that incestual sex was NOT adultery. In their eyes, sex within the marriage family was sex within marriage. This sisters, brothers, aunts, uncles and cousins were all fair game without breaking their marriage vows. In reality, there is a limited number of such relationships in our family tree but it certainly helped to relieve the strain that some marriage have where sex is confined to just the husband and wife. For instance, my dad dated both my mom and her sister in high school so it made it much easier for him to continue having sex with both of them after marriage than it would have been had he been forced to cut things off between him and his sister-in-law...

As much as I like to brag about them, my parents aren't perfect but it's those times when people fail and how we respond to them that defines who we really are. For instance, there have been two cases where my dad has had sex outside of marriage which technically qualified as adultery. Interestingly they both involved the best friends of his wife and daughter which made it different than had he gone out and had sex with some old girlfriend or a secretary at work. In each case the person was so close to our family that for all practical purposes they WERE family, at least that is how my dad rationalized it. Perhaps I should've seen the warning signs back then but it's hard to see such things when you're so closely involved yourself.

Indeed, looking back there were obvious signs of impending problems over the years that either I failed to see or perhaps chose to ignore. I guess I was so convinced that my parents' marriage was so perfect that I couldn't allow myself to acknowledge anything that would contradict my views.

In every marriage there are gives and takes and nobody is perfect so again, don't think that I thought my parents were some sort of aliens that committed no wrongs. My mom WAS a perfectionist and she could be pretty downright anal about things at times – well, make that a lot of the time. Our house was always ready for a Martha Stewart inspection and she could be counted on to be dressed perfectly for beloved teaching position. I think at that period I was at about the lowest point in my life. No job, no family, no boyfriend.

One of my first reactions was to take down the web site and never have anything to do with it again. I know I made a lot of people anxious at the time and so finally I decided to start it up again. Although I never had said much about my mom in the past, I couldn't just completely ignore the new situation so I made up a story about her being killed in a car accident. I felt bad about lying to people but at least it got her out of the picture quickly and I didn't have to say much about her.

When my parents split they didn't tell me all the reasons, just that they were doing it and it was between the two of them and had absolutely nothing to do with me. I guess technically that could be taken as true but that would be a bit misleading. It may not have been me personally that was an issue, but it was problems regarding my dad and his daughter that did. It wasn't for almost a year and a half later that my father finally told me more details - at least the ones he wanted to tell me and from his point of view at that. Even so I was dumbfounded and for a while things were very tense between us.

My dad and I eventually made up of course, I love him too much to stay mad at him for very long no matter what, but our relationship has never been quite the same since. In some ways that's a good thing as I think it is a more mature relationship. I now understand my father much better than I ever have and while some things about him are hard to deal with, at least there are no more secrets.

Still, it was now July of 2010 and I still hadn't heard anything from my mother, not even an e-mail, twitter or text message. My Aunt Linda told me that she knew my mom was staying near her best friend Tammy out on the west coast but she claimed that it was all she knew - or at least she said she knew.

The night before all this took place I'd had a great time with my boyfriend Steve, reliving a silly prank that we'd done way back when we dated as teenagers. I had come home in a great mood only to remember that the next day was the 4th of July which immediately soured everything. You see, the 4th has some special meanings to me and with my mom gone, it was like a stab in the heart just to think about it.

When I left for college the first year it was traumatic for everyone. Selfishly, I thought I was the only one having a hard time dealing with the lack of sex at an extremely strict Christian college. What I didn't realize how just difficult it was for my father not having me at home. Even when I DID find out, I didn't realize the full

2. Carrying on the Tradition

I woke up the next morning in my bed with that usual feeling in me. Part of it was the need to use the bathroom but most of it was just plain horniness. For someone who has never claimed to be a "morning person", it's weird that the one time of day when I'm always the most natural horny is when I wake up. I hate about anything else in the early morning but sex is the one thing I seem to crave. Go figure...

When I lived at home my dad use to take advantage of my little quirk and his favorite thing was to come to my bedroom while I was still asleep and have a little fun with me to get himself off before he went to work. Sometimes he would just masturbate and cum on me so that when I woke up later I had a reminder of him all over me. Other times he would push his dick against my lips until my natural female instincts took over and I sucked him even though I was still mostly asleep.

Then there were the times when he was really horny and he would try to fuck me without waking me. No the last thing was normally not something he got away with unless I was especially tired from the night before but I had to say it was my favorite when he was successful. There's something unique about waking up with a dick already in you - especially when it's your father's.

Not surprisingly my first instinct was to put my hand between my legs and take care of the "problem" that was most pressing at the moment. Then I started to gather my senses and suddenly my hand froze in place. Then I pulled it back hurriedly. Oh god, it was that day. It was the 4th of July.

Suddenly feeling totally "un-horny", I went off to the bathroom, showered and threw on a t-shirt before going to the kitchen to grab some milk and cereal for breakfast. I was reading the news on my iPad when my cousin Kristen came bouncing down the stairs from her bedroom to join me. As usual, she hadn't bothered with a T-shirt, or anything else for that matter. It wasn't that she was a nudist so much as she was just lazy in the morning! She look great nude but still, as my mom always said, there's a time and place for everything so why she found it necessary to be nude at breakfast with me was a question she never answered.

That last thought about what my mom had said stunned me and I suddenly lost my appetite. Kristen must have noticed something was wrong.

Ha! If she only knew. Well, she would as I would tell her all about it at some point but I wasn't into that sort of thing at the moment. I just shook my head and stared at my iPad. Kristen poured herself some cereal and sat down across the table from and started to eat.

"So what time are we supposed to go over to their house today?" she asked. I was more like she was just trying to make conversation than anything else.

"Oh I don't know for sure, maybe around noon I guess for lunch," I said rather morosely.

"Hey, it looks great out so it should be fun today. What's with you anyway?" she pestered me. I just looked at her with a "you've got to be kidding" expression and the light bulb suddenly lit over her head. With Kristen it may have been rather low wattage but it at least was lit.

"Ohhhhhh, I get it, it's your mom, isn't it?"

"Like DUH, you think?"

"Hey, don't yell at me. I was just trying to be sociable." With that she sulked off to her room, leaving me to drown in my self-pity.

My iPhone buzzed and I saw it was Steve calling me. At first I didn't want to answer. It wasn't anything to do with him, I just I didn't want to talk to anyone right then. Still, he knew my phone was always with me so I couldn't just ignore him, especially after last night!

Steve and I talked for the next half hour or so. He sounded horny and I could tell he was trying to get me to do a little phone sex but I just wasn't in the mood. He asked if I was interested in getting together today since he had the day off work. I reminded him for the umpteenth time that I was spending the day with my family. I got the distinct feeling he knew that and he was just fishing for an invitation but that wasn't about to happen, not given what I knew would be happening before the day was over.

To the best of my knowledge Steve had no idea about my family's incestual tendencies and if he did, he wasn't giving any indication. For the time being at least, I wanted it to stay that way. It wasn't that I was embarrassed about it, I just wasn't sure how he felt about the whole incest thing. Sure there that one time back when we dated as teens where he and his mother did it but that was a one-time thing so far as I knew. His sister Sharon had the hots for sure for her brother but he never showed any interest in her that way - just her friends. With all that AND my issue with my mom, it just wasn't a good day for him to be with me and my family.

In the end I promised to make it up to him and he seemed to accept that as he knew what THAT meant! When he hung up I felt all the worse.

Things were already bad enough as it was and now I was turning away a good fucking by my boyfriend!

I put my dish in the dishwasher after having rinsed it out. Yet another reminder of my mother as she was the type that washed the dishes BEFORE she put them in the dishwasher. It seemed everything I did today just reminded me of her all the more. Feeling more than little sorry for myself, I returned to my bedroom where I shut the door and laid in bed doing nothing for the rest of the morning.

Noon time was fast approaching and I knew I had to get my butt in gear and moving. Lord knows my dad would be very disappointed if I didn't show up today and the last thing I needed was to make my life even worse than it already was by making my dad unhappy. I'd spent a good portion of my life trying to please him in any way I could and it was just ingrained in me by now such that it wasn't even something I consciously thought about. It was really quite simple. My dad wanted to have sex with me this afternoon so it was my duty as his daughter to go to his house and deliver. PLEASE, don't get the wrong idea. I don't mean it to sound like it was a chore or anything for me to submit to my dad. Indeed, I LOVE my dad fucking me. There's something special about your own father inside of you that can't be duplicated by anyone else.

Looking at my closet, it didn't really matter what I wore as I knew I would be taking it off as soon as I got there. After all, it was Family Orgy Day, right? I've never been a nudist and I have always felt better wearing SOMETHING. Of course during sex or other special times it was different and at those times I loved being naked. It just wasn't something I did around the house under normal circumstances.

In the end I chose the standard uniform of girls everywhere for summer – short denim shorts and a light blue cami that exposed most of my tanned midriff and was so tight it may as well have been Saran Wrap around my boobs. Even if it hadn't been a special day I would never have worn panties or a bra so there was certainly no reason to do so today. A gold ankle chain, pair of flip flops and I was ready to go. One last thing, I pulled my hair back in a ponytail. With everything that would most likely be happening it was just easier to have it pulled back and out of the way.

All done, I finally went downstairs where Kristen was waiting impatiently. She hadn't even bothered with shorts and was just wearing one of her sluttier bikinis. Hopefully we wouldn't be stopped by the police on our way! Then again, maybe it would help, who knows? In any case, it didn't matter as I knew she would be dropping it all the moment she stepped in the house anyway so why even bother?

"Why do you even bother? Just go naked," I teased her, referring to her all but invisible thong bikini.

"God, somebody's still grumpy I guess," she huffed as she grabbed her bag and we headed out to her car.

On our way to the curb I saw our neighbor was out raking grass on his lawn. He was just your average middle age guy and I didn't even know his name and normally wouldn't have even noticed him except for Kristen.

"Cool, horny George is out today... watch this," Kristen giggled.

With that she waved to him and stood for with one hand on her bare hip and called out to him. The poor guy didn't know whether he should crap or go blind. He tried to look away but what man could NOT stare at a girl like Kristen standing out across the street from him all but nude? Actually, from behind with just the thin strings hiding nothing she was as good as nude.

"Poor George... he's so easy!" she giggled again as we got into the car. "I bet he'd fuck me in a moment if I let him, what do you think Kelly?"

It was just a few minutes to my dad's house. I guess I still call it that even though Kristen's mom moved in with him not long after my mom had left. The move created a bit of a scandal amongst some of the family who didn't quite go along with the idea of my dad living with his sister-in-law so soon after the divorce. Then again, it could have been a lot worse given the majority of our family didn't have a clue about the true nature of their relationship over the past thirty years. Heck, even I had a little bit of a hard time with it all at first when my mom finally told me about it but since my dad seemed happy, I figured it was no big deal and frankly, none of my business even if it was. Like, did it really matter if she drove over every day or just stayed there permanently? Besides, I had my own ulterior motives. When my Aunt Linda moved out it made room for me to move in with Kristen and save on rent. I LOVE teaching but the pay at my small private school is crap and I get zero benefits so anything that helps the Kelly budget is OK with me.

As usual the basement door in the garage was open so we just walked right in. Sure enough, just as I'd predicted Kristen took less than two steps in before the so-called bikini was already off and tossed aside. I just rolled my eyes as she stood there naked with her hands on her hips, looking at me expectantly.

"C'mon Kelly, you know the rules for Family Orgy Day, take 'em off!"

Technically she was right even I didn't really care a whole lot for the term "Family Orgy Day". It was a phrase of her own making as nobody had actually officially christened the day as such. Personally, I hated it because it just seemed to cheapen the whole experience. When I think of orgies I think of porn movies and people having cheap sex solely for the sake of sex. Sure when we did this it wasn't with the usual sense of intimacy that I normally have with my family, but it wasn't like we were trying to recreate some crazy Taboo orgy scene either. Ever since Kristen coined the term a few years back I had avoided using it but she seemed to never pass up a chance to throw it out into the conversation.

So anyway, I DID finally strip, leaving my clothes and flip-flops on top of the old white Maytag washing machine. I don't know why it caught my attention but it just the way it was when my parents had bought it a long time ago. In fact, I couldn't even remember the one before it.

The two of us quickly scampered up the creaking wooden stairs to the kitchen where we found my Aunt Linda preparing hamburgers and hotdogs for the upcoming barbeque. My dad had a long-standing tradition of cooking up a big barbeque meal and he was bound and determined to do it every year. It made more sense back when other family members use to join us. Since we added sex to the menu the only family remembers invited had been my aunt and cousin but he still insisted on making this huge meal. Oh well, at least my Aunt Linda wouldn't have to cook for a week afterwards!

As tradition dictated, my aunt was nude but she DID have on an apron while she was working in the kitchen. Still, it wasn't like it covered anything important. Seeing her standing there once again I marveled at my Aunt Linda. Even thought she was now in her forties, she could have easily passed as my older sister. In fact, some people claim that I look more like her than my own mother. It's not like she lived a nun's existence and I knew she wasn't afraid to use her "assets" to sell homes (she was a realtor). For whatever reason she'd never shown any signs of wanting to get married after her husband left.

As for me and her, we'd had a few sexual liaisons over the years but nothing that intense, certainly nothing like Kristen shared with her and nothing at all like what I'd shared with my mom. She'd always been more interested in my dad which was fine with me. Actually, that was yet another thing I had learned on that first 4th of July when I came home from college. I knew my dad and aunt spent a lot of time together, but until that day I had no idea he liked to fuck her! Yes, it had been quite an eye-opening day back then!

I peeked out to the deck behind the kitchen and saw my dad was out there getting the gas grill prepped. He was also nude which didn't surprise me in the least as the "rules" applied to him as much as anyone. Instinctively my eyes went straight to his crotch where I saw his dick was flaccid, just hanging there like a limp rag but I knew it wouldn't take long once he saw me and Kristen for THAT to change.

Actually, that was one of the things I loved to do with him - make him grow and get hard. I'd always loved the feeling of his dick growing in my mouth, knowing it was ME that was making it react like that. Hmmm, maybe I would get to do that today? For the first time today I started to feel a little optimistic about the afternoon.

Kristen was busy talking to her mom and catching up on things so I went out on the deck to say hi to my dad. When he saw me exit the kitchen a big smile came over his face.

"Hey baby, been a while!"

It had been a while when I thought about it. I actually had to think for a moment as to when the last time I'd given myself to him. In a way I felt a little guilty about that. My dad loved fucking me - I was his daughter after all so of course he did, and he knew he could always count on me for that. It was a little disheartening for me in a way though as I knew I no longer satisfied a different need within him - the need to fuck young girls. Face it, at the ripe old age of 25 I wasn't quite a little teen girl anymore. Still, now that I understood his needs better it didn't hurt as much as it would've had I not known about his addictions. Well, not as much...

Looking around I saw that the deck was already all set up for the party. The hot tub was churning and the table and chairs were all cleaned off. I even think he'd power-washed the deck, something I knew he hated to do. OK, so maybe he hired someone to do it but it still looked nice and I liked it when it was clean because it didn't get my feet all dirty.

Such memories! All my life I'd always loved being out on this deck. Even though the house was located smack in the middle of a congested neighborhood, out here on the deck it was like we were all alone in the middle of the country. The house, like most in Pittsburgh, was situated on a hill and so with the security fence that surrounded the deck there was no direct line of view for any of our close neighbors. They would have had to get on their roofs to see anything and then I think we might have noticed them.

God, the memories I had from being out here. I looked up at my old bedroom window on the second floor which overlooked the deck and recalled how I'd first seen my parents making love below me at night in the hot tub. Even though I was sixteen at the time and had been having sex with boys for over two years by then, it was the first time I'd ever seen them having actual sex. Seeing the intensity of the love that it brought out between them was what led me to wanting to have that same relationship with my father.

God, how many times had I been fucked on the deck and in the hot tub? Even if I put aside all my boyfriends, how many times had just my dad done me? It was right out here that my cousin Rick had first fucked my mom. My dad had fucked my best friend Beth for the first time right in that very same hot tub. This was where I first had sex with my cousin Kristen and her mom - and first saw my dad do my cousin. So many first times, so many memories. God I missed my mom!

If I kept up with this line of thinking I was going to bring myself really down so I knew I had to snap out of it. Well, there's one way that ALWAYS works for me - sucking a nice warm dick. My dad had turned back to the grill but I could still see his dick hanging there all soft and flaccid and I knew what I needed right then and there. Quietly I snuck up behind him and then quickly reached around him with both arms and grabbed his dick in my hands.

"Hey, that was quick... somebody horny today?" he chuckled as he looked down to see his daughter's hands gripping his cock.

Since I wasn't about to tell him the REAL reason I wanted to suck his cock, I figured why not just let him think whatever he wanted? Actually, feeling his soft dick in my hand WAS making me more than just a little horny. Mmmmmmm, I so wanted to feel a dick in my mouth - any dick. The fact is could be my father's cock just made it all the better.

"Mmmmmmm Daddy, I'm going to suck your dick until you cum in my mouth," I declared almost defiantly as I moved around to the front of him, keeping one hand on his cock the entire time.

I needed to hurry as he would surely start to react soon and I wanted to feel him as soft as possible in my mouth when I took him between my waiting lips.

"Whoa girl, take your time, we've got all afternoon," he chuckled as I practically lunged for his dick, taking it all easily in my mouth as it was so soft and small - for now that is.

Damn I loved the way, my dad's dick felt in my mouth. Granted I LOVE and prefer hard dicks but the soft ones can be nice too - at least so long as they don't STAY soft for too long. They just feel so different when they're soft, nothing at all like after they stiffen and get all long and thick.

"Seems like you've been missing your dear old dad's cock, haven't you?" he teased me, "What's the matter Kelly, isn't Steve giving you enough lately?"

Sometimes fathers just don't know when to shut up! Here I was sucking on his dick and he had to mention my boyfriend who I would've loved to have fucking me right now. Not that I didn't appreciate being with my dad, but I WANTED Steve to fuck me and that was different. Sure I wanted my dad to fuck me too but that was because I wanted to please him more than the sex. With Steve, I wanted ME to feel good and for him to please ME, something different entirely.

I just ignored him and continued to work on his dick and I was soon rewarded with that incredible feeling of his dick starting to grow in my mouth. No matter how many dicks I eventually suck I don't think I'll ever grow tired of the feeling of a man as he grows in my mouth. It's like nothing else in the world when you think about it. What other part of the human body responds to sexual stimulation as dramatically as a penis does? Sure my pussy gets wet and my clit hardens when I'm stimulated but they doesn't grow to be several times larger! For instance, my nipples respond and harden when fondled but they stay about the same size. Only a penis goes from this small, limp feature to a firm, hard, long member that then protrudes out from a man, a clear and undeniable demonstration of his true desire and lust for me.

That is another reason I love cocks - they show me the TRUE feelings a man has for me. He can sweet talk me or bash me all he wants, but his dick never lies. He either lusts for me or he doesn't and in general he can't control his dick so that makes it all the more significant to me, much more than anything he says. Heck, a man can be sound asleep and his dick will still respond to me. Yes, that is what turns me on - that it's responding to ME.

As my dad's dick started to grow in my mouth, I started playing with myself with one hand while I carefully worked his hairy balls gently with the other. Mmmmmmm, my dad wanted me, that was for sure. His dick was practically leaping in my mouth as it required me to take more and more of him in order to get it all out of sight. When he was rock hard and fully grown he started to rock his hips, driving his cock in and out of my mouth as I just stayed still and let him fuck my mouth.

"God Kelly, your mouth feels so damn good on me," he groaned as his hands went to my head and he gripped it tightly, pushing men on and off his dick.

"Hey, you guy get started without us?" I heard Kristen whining.

Nonetheless I kept sucking on my dad but I turned my head just enough to see her and her mom standing a few feet away watching us. I turned back to my dad and ignored them. This was for me, not them! They would get theirs later, I wanted this now!

If anything I think the audience, even if it was only two people, helped stimulate my father even more. I was working it really hard now, pulling out every trick in the book to get him to cum as quickly as I could. It wasn't like my dad was some sixteen year-old teenage boy anymore so I wanted him to cum now so he could be ready to go again after lunch. More selfishly, I wanted to feel him cum in my mouth and satisfy that primal urge in me that had started this whole thing off in the first place.

"God... that's enough of that," he sighed, pulling head away from his swollen dick. "I've got to have some of that pussy now."

Letting him take the lead I stood up and he put his hands on my bare hips and spun me around so I was facing away from him. Like a good dancer being led by her partner, I knew where he was going and so I leaned over the table top and supported myself on my forearms and elbows, spreading my legs apart to make it easier for him.

"Mmmmmmm, did I ever tell you that you have an incredible pussy?" he almost groaned, rubbing each of my butt cheeks with one of his hands.

I giggled and just waited for him. He knew the answer already anyway - maybe a thousand times, probably more?

"Fuck me daddy," I said, saying those words I knew he loved so much to hear, "Show me how much you love me."

Rather than answer verbally my dad chose another method of responding - doing just what I'd asked of him. My heart was pounding as I felt the head of his hard dick brushing up against my welcoming pussy as he used his hand to rub it up and down my slit to get it all nice and wet. Now and then he would hit my clit and it would make me jump but he didn't stop.

"Oh god...!" he moaned as his incestuous cock penetrated his daughter's pussy.

When he was all the way in me he pushed himself up against my exposed bottom so hard I was forced up onto the tips of my toes while trying not to slide across the slippery glass-topped table.

For the first time I looked over at my aunt and cousin but they weren't paying us any attention. Oh well, I couldn't blame them. Why watch when you can have your own fun? They were in their favorite position - what a surprise! Now I like a good 69 now and then but it was like that was all my aunt and cousin did when they had sex! As usual, Kristen was on top - her favorite position even when she was doing it with me or one of our friends.

So far as my psychological issues of the day, what I was doing with my dad was definitely working as I don't recall thinking about my mother even once while my dad was fucking me. Indeed, I was so sharply focused on trying to make him cum that I didn't even pay any further attention to the two other women having sex just a few feet away from us. Even if I HAD been interested it wasn't like it would've been anything I hadn't seen so many times before.

Kristen and her mom have what could only be described as a "unique" relationship. I guess it wasn't too hard to understand considering how Kristen had grown up alone with her mom without a father-figure other than her uncle. They seemed just so natural together, nothing forced or pushed or artificial in any way. I would never call them lovers, it wasn't like that at all. More like best friends I guess you could say. For them to be together and NOT have their hands all over the other would have been worthy of a newsflash.

Sometimes I wondered how they got away with it in public as they did. It's not like they hid their affection for one another. People must just think it's sweet that a mother and daughter can be so close. I'm sure had Kristen been a boy that a lot of eyebrows would've raised!

As much as I loved my mother, sometimes I envied Kristen for the way she seemed so comfortable around her mother. It's not like I was dominated by mine, it's just my mom was always MOM. The only time that changed was when we were having sex and then it went way past best friends and more to the "lovers" side of the scale. Indeed, sex with my mom was something special in that she DID become my lover - in every sense of the word. Still, it would have been nice to be more "touchy-feely" with my mom the way Kristen was with hers.

All these thoughts were going through my mind as my dad rhythmically fucked me, a steady in-out-in series of penetrations followed by almost total withdrawal, only to do it over again... and again... and again. I sort of enjoy it this way at times as it allows my mind to wander while at the same time I was practically shivering with lust as my pussy is being fucked. It was also the method by which my dad typically could last the longest which was another good reason for loving it now and then. It was like I was in some sort of dream world with my eyes closed and my mind totally focused on the wonderful sensations I was feeling between my legs as my dad fucked me slowly over and over again.

My reverie was abruptly brought to an end when the table rocked violently for a moment. When I opened my eyes what did I see but my cute cousin sitting on the table in front of me, her legs spread wide apart as she scooted up so her bare crotch was just inches in front of my face.

"Quit being so selfish," she teased me, "besides, you need more than just your dad's dick, don't you?"

Actually I was quite happy with the ways things were going with my dad at the time but I couldn't tell her that. Kristen's pussy glistened with wetness, no doubt some of it from her while some was probably from her mom's mouth. She reached down and rubbed her swollen clit just a little, enough to make her jump like she'd touched an electric fence.

"C'mon cuz, gimme some tongue," she pleaded with me.

Maybe she wasn't just teasing and really WAS as horny as she was making herself out to be? With Kristen you could never be sure. It was like being with a Hollywood actress and wondering what was real and what was an act. Kristen may not have been a movie star but she WAS a semi-retired prostitute so sometimes even I had a hard time figuring out when she was faking it. Something just told me now that she wasn't faking a thing, not one iota.

Then I had to wonder what happened to her mom. It wasn't like the two of them to split up until they had both cum several times so what was going on here? I took a quick look around but I didn't see her on the deck anywhere. Kristen must have noticed my glances.

"She went inside... said she would be right back," Kristen answered my question without me even having to ask, "So quit stalling and get to work girl!"

My dad wasn't saying a thing but I noticed his thrusts were getting a little stronger since Kristen had mounted the table in her usual slutty and wide-open manner. While I knew my dad loved fucking me as his daughter, it wasn't hard not to notice who turned him on the most if you took incest out of the equation and that would be Kristen. Then again, that was the case with just about every boy I'd ever met. One look at Kristen's hot little nude petite body and I don't stand a chance in comparison. She just has this "girl-next-door" innocence in the way she looks but when you see her in action she is anything but innocent.

I reached forward and put my hands under my cousin's firm thighs and around to the back of her tiny butt, pulling her forward on the slippery glass until her wet pussy was right at my mouth. God her ass felt so good in my hands - firm and smooth and oh so warm! Leaning forward as best I could, I put my face against her smooth hairless crotch and felt my tongue running over her already soaking-wet pussy slit. Mmmmmmm, I loved the taste of her pussy. It was almost like mine actually and I've always loved mine the best!

Kristen kept her pussy shaved perfectly clean and there wasn't a blemish on her. Her lips were full and swollen, a definite "outie". At one time she had thought about getting her clit pierced which I was glad she had finally decided against. I loved to suck on it between my lips and run my tongue over it without some piece of metal interfering.

"Oh yeah... now THAT'S what I wanted," she groaned, leaning back and supporting herself on her hands behind her.

She thrust her hips forward and up, driving her horny crotch into my face to make it easier for me to lick her.

"Fuck her harder Uncle John," Kristen encouraged my dad, "I love it when you push her face into my cunt."

"Your wish is my command," I heard my dad reply as he gripped me by the sides of my hips and drove his next thrust into me like he was trying to push me right into her pussy.

My face was smashed against her crotch and then he pulled back and suddenly rammed it in me again, driving me into her even more. Sticking out my tongue, I pushed it into her pussy hole and then let my dad do the work, pushing me into her and then relaxing again only to push my tongue into her pussy yet again as he drilled me with his incredibly hard dick.

Suddenly I came, like out of the blue. It was rare for me to do this but it happened at times, typically when I was being distracted as I was now by my cousin's pussy. Usually I can feel my orgasm building up and then exploding but in this case it was like somebody had planted a bomb inside of me and suddenly, without warning, had set it off.

"Oh fuck!" I gasped, exhaling my warm breath onto Kristen's sensitive pussy.

Then it was her turn, as if my orgasm somehow pushed her over the edge and she gasped and cried out with pleasure.

Even with his daughter and niece both in the throes of their orgasms, my dad never missed a beat. If anything, he sped up and was fucking me as fast and hard as he could. It just made me cum that much harder. Now THIS was the way sex was meant to be!

Suddenly my dad pulled out of me, NOT what I was exactly hoping for at the moment but then his intentions became obvious. He stood by the side of us and pushed Kristen's leg down, allowing his dick to reach over her smooth thigh and almost touch her pussy where my face was still planted like a perennial.

"I'm cumming," was all he said but then what more did he need to say?

I turned my face just in time to see his dick spurting its first load of incestual cum onto Kristen's wet pussy. The next load sort of hit both her pussy and my face and after that, the forcefulness decreased to where he could control it better and the rest was shot into her crotch.

"Now lick it all up," my dad demanded, standing there stroking his now spent cock in his hand as he waited for me to comply.

He didn't have to ask twice - or even once for that matter. The only thing better than my own dad's cum or my cousin's pussy was to have both of them at the same time!

As I was lapping up my dad's cum like a hungry kitten at a bowl of milk, something changed. It was hard to put my finger on it but I could sense a tenseness in Kristen that was more than just her reaction to me licking my dad's cum off of her. At the same time my dad made this funny sound. Not a grunt but something more like he was surprised by something.

Yep, something was definitely up. My Aunt Linda must have had something up her sleeve (had she been wearing them) when she went into the house so now what had she done? With her it could have been most anything so I lifted my head from between Kristen's thighs to see what was going on.

Well, my Aunt Linda was certainly back but she wasn't the surprise. I almost choked on my dad's cum when I realized who was standing next to her... my mom.

3. An Unexpected Visitor

"Well, well... looks like some things never change," she said softly. Her first words were spoken with a sly grin, as if she was amused at the stunned reaction by all of us.

Well, my aunt wasn't so stunned as obviously they had met in the house first but as for the three of us that had been left on the deck, it was a jaw-dropping moment for sure.

Oh my god, my mother looked drop-dead gorgeous. She was wearing her dark hair a little shorter than before but it still reached her shoulders. It was a hot day so she had on a khaki pair of shorts which were relatively modest but a bit tighter in the ass than most women over forty would have dared to wear but damn if she didn't look ten years younger than her 44 years. Her legs, always a vanity point for her, still looked like a woman's half her age without any sag and nary a wrinkle. A fitted white blouse that was extremely low cut and three inch open-toed white heels rounded out her outerwear. Everything she wore looked all the more stunning thanks to an incredible tan. God she looked so beautiful!

Damn, if a jet had crashed into the hill across from us I couldn't have been more surprised. Holy crap, my mom was back! This was the first time in almost two years that I'd seen her. Ever since she left to move out west to be near her friend Tammy I hadn't so much as exchanged an e-mail or text message, let alone a phone call or a face-to-face conversation. For all intents and purposes she had died and indeed that's almost how I had come to think of her.

How many times in the past two years had I thought about a moment like this? Well, I have to admit it was never quite like THIS but still, I mean about how I would react should my mother ever return. Depending on my mood at the time, my little fantasies ranged from a joyful reunion to a sullen acceptance. When I was REALLY feeling down I even imagined where I would walk away, just to hurt her the way she'd hurt me. Childish? Yes. Can you blame me though? I don't think so.

All that didn't matter now though. There in front of me was my own mother, my closet friend and confidante in the world and the woman I loved more than any other. Under the circumstances there was only one way I could react...

"MOM!" I cried out and started to rush towards her.

Then I tasted my dad's cum in my mouth and realized what a mess my face must be so I quickly grabbed a towel from a chair and wiped my face before rushing to my mom. Turning back to her, I wrapped my arms around her neck and just hugged her, my eyes overflowing with tears as I didn't trust my voice to say anything more. After a long return hug my mom pushed me back so she could look me in the eyes and then she gave me that sly grin I knew so well.

"Well I take that back, some things DO change," she practically chuckled. I looked at her with questioning eyes, wondering what she meant as she continued, "Since when do you wipe your face off before you greet me?"

It was probably the best thing she could have said under the circumstances as all of us were a bit on edge. It broke the silence and everyone started to laugh. It was true although I hadn't even thought about it that way when I did it. In the past had she walked in while my dad was cumming on my mouth and face I wouldn't have bothered wiping it off before giving her a welcoming kiss. After all, it was her husband's cum so she always liked some for herself whenever she could.

"What the... why... what are you doing here?" I stammered, still not quite sure I hadn't passed out while my dad was fucking me and now I was just dreaming all of this.

"We'll get to all that soon enough," she said gently, stroking my hair with her fingers behind my head, "My goodness... you look so beautiful."

The tears began flooding from my eyes again as this time instead of just hugging her I moved in close to her and kissed her. God, it had been so long since I'd felt her warm lips against mine, her long tongue exploring my mouth and playing with my own tongue. As for everyone else, they didn't even exist at that moment as all I could think about was my mom's arms around me and the feel of her full breasts as they pressed against mine while we kissed like two lovers meeting again after a long separation - which was exactly the case.

"OK you two, get a room," my Aunt Linda finally said as neither my mom or me wanted to be the first to pull away. She was just teasing of course - at least she had better be!

"Oh wow... I can't believe you're here," I finally gasped, trying to catch my breath after such a relentless kiss.

"Well, I can't quite believe it either but here I am," she replied.

"Hello Mary," my dad said from behind me, the first words he'd spoken since my mom's unexpected appearance.

My mom looked over at my shoulder and gave him a closed lip smile, "Hello John, been a while. You're looking pretty good - and horny. Looks like you're enjoying yourself today as usual."

My Aunt Linda took charge at that point, probably sensing that things could get ugly if they weren't kept under control.

"Hey girls, why don't we let John and Mary have some time together in the house... without us," she added in, looking at me as she said it.

Naturally I started to protest but she gave a look that I rarely got from her, sort of a "Don't even think about it," type of stare. Well, if anyone knew my mom and dad, it was her so I backed down but it didn't mean I had to look happy about it.

"Don't worry Kelly, I'll be here a little while so we'll get a chance to talk... ok?" my mom assured me.

With that my dad took his cue and reached for my mom's arm to guide her back to the kitchen door. My mom pulled away from his touch, nothing dramatic but it was a positive statement all by itself.

"Put some clothes on John for god's sake," she said rather sharply.

As they left the three of us standing there, I felt almost like I'd been stunned. What the HELL was going on? For almost two years she disappears from our lives and then when she DOES return she treats my dad almost like she had the day she left. What was the point in all this anyway?

Kristen hadn't said a word yet and so I looked at her to try to read the sphinx-like expression she was wearing on her face. While she and my mom had always got along pretty well, it wasn't anything even remotely close to what I shared with my mom. In fact, it didn't even begin to resemble the relationship I had with her mom, as limited as THAT was. Other than when my mom was with my dad and Kristen, I can't remember ever hearing even one time when Kristen and my mom had sex alone together.

Suddenly it was like a revelation struck me. How could I be so blind? With my mom out of the picture, Kristen's mother was now living with my dad almost as if they were married. How did she REALLY feel about that, especially since it meant that her and her mom no longer slept together each night as they had for almost twenty years? Was she happy to see her mom with a man again, even if it was her uncle? Was she upset because of how she'd been left all alone at first. It wasn't long before I'd moved in but then Kristen and I never shared the same bed - at least not on a regular basis.

What was Kristen thinking about my mom's reappearance? Was she thinking what I was thinking, that maybe my mom was going to try and reconcile with my father? Did that please her because it would mean her mom would move back home or was she worried that her mom would be separated from my dad? God, it was all SO complicated and in the space of just a minute or so it wasn't like I could do a full-blown situational analysis!

"C'mon girls, let's take our minds off what's going on in there... what do you say?" my aunt said, finally breaking the dead silence.

Aunt Linda started to reach for my boobs, playfully running her fingers across them and then down my stomach to my crotch. "C'mon Kristen... what the hell are you waiting for?"

Although it was really sweet of my aunt to think of me that way, there was really no point in her even trying to cheer me up. If she thought she could take my mind off what was going on inside between my mom and dad she was kidding herself. Heck, we may as well been in the middle of a hurricane have her try to get me to take my mind off the wind. It just wasn't going to happen. No way, no how.

"Sorry Aunt Linda, I just can't," I said apologetically.

Any other time and place her offer alone would've been more than enough to get things started but not this afternoon. Kristen, on the other hand, didn't seem to be having any issues, at least not so far as sex with her mother was concerned. Then again, she never did.

"Oh mom, just let her do her thing. If she wants to pout then let her. Let's get in the hot tub," Kristen giggled, suddenly her eyes bright again and a smile back on her face.

Shaking my head in mock amazement, I put a heavy beach towel over the chair cushion and then dragged the chair into the shade of the umbrella before taking a seat. Considering I was still naked and the chair had become pretty hot in the bright sun, I didn't want to burn my poor butt!

Meanwhile, Aunt Linda and Kristen had lowered themselves into the hot and slowly churning water of the hot tub. The powerful jets weren't on yet so all that was moving the water was the tiny circulation pump but it was more than enough to keep it from being still. I looked back at the house, wondering what in the world my parents could be talking about. Missing mom and dad in the house, horny cousin and her mom in the tub in front of me. Yep, the whole afternoon had suddenly become quite surreal to say the least.

"Oh Mom... don't you dare!" Kristen cried out playfully, pretending to be annoyed as her mother move in swiftly between her wide-spread legs.

Aunt Linda supported herself using one hand on each side of her daughter on the edge of the tub as she lowered herself onto her and they started to kiss sloppily. Kristen put her arms around her mom and pulled her in tight, wrapping her wet legs around her mom's waist and crossing her ankles.

Any other time and I would've immediately started masturbating as I watched the two of them going at it like two teenage girls in heat. I knew the answer from past experience as how many times had something like this played out whenever I was over at their house before her mom had moved in with my dad? The two of them seemed to find any excuse to make out, no matter where they were at the time. My mom and I were true lovers and as such almost always confined our sexual trysts to her bedroom. In sharp contrast, Kristen and her mom were more like dating teenagers who were just out to have a good time anywhere or anytime they could.

Watching them now I wanted to just yell out at them and ask, "What the hell are you guys doing? Don't you realize what's going on in there?" Sheesh, the most traumatic thing to happen to me in years had just occurred and yet here they were just playing around together like nothing had happened.

Ignoring me totally, Kristen backed herself up and took a seat at the corner of the tub, raising one foot up and onto the edge of the tub while the other hung into the water. Her mom didn't waste a moment putting her head between her daughter's open legs and licking her bare wet pussy. Neither of them even looked my way to see if I was watching which was unusual, to say the least. Both of them were hard-core exhibitionists and I knew they got off as much by being watched as anything. Still, this time it was like it was just between the two of them, as if they were not even aware I was watching.

It was crazy, to say the least. Where was my old Psychology 101 professor when I needed her? In the space of less than half an hour this whole afternoon had become nothing short of bizarre. Nothing was playing according to the usual scripts. My parents were talking - at least I assumed they were but then again I didn't know for sure what was happening between the two of them. My aunt and cousin were making out without seeming to care who was watching. I was sitting on the deck totally naked while two of the hottest women I know were having lesbian sex and I wasn't even close to masturbating. What next, flying monkeys landing on the deck?

As I sat there, my thoughts returned yet again to my parents. What in the world could they be possibly talking about? Why in the world had my mom just dropped in without even giving us any sort of warning? Then again, maybe she had. Was it just sheer coincidence that my aunt had disappeared in the house right about the time my mom had showed up? It seemed just too much for there not to be some sort of connection.

Was there something between my mom and her sister that I didn't have a clue about? Now THAT wouldn't have surprised me given how many others times in my life the two of them had managed to keep things secret from me. Heck, I was eighteen before I knew my dad had been fucking my aunt nonstop since she was in eighth grade! How do you miss something like that?

A loud cry of ecstasy interrupted my thoughts and I turned my head to the source as if I didn't already know what was going on. Sure enough, Kristen was obviously in the midst of yet another orgasm. She'd never been one to be quiet about such things and she wasn't about to start now from the sound of things.

"Oh Mommmmmm!" she cried out as she pulled her mother's head into her crotch, tightening her legs around her mom's body like she was trying to squeeze the life out of her.

Watching intently, I understood just how she was feeling at this moment having been there myself a time to two. The few times that my aunt had licked my pussy had been incredibly intense. As much as I loved the way my mom licked me, when it came to pure pleasure and technique her sister had her beat hands down. Of course, Aunt Linda and her daughter had been having sex since Kristen was old enough to know what she was doing (which wasn't very old) so it was no mystery they each knew exactly what it took to bring the other to a screaming orgasm – just as Kristen was enjoying now.

Then I felt it. My pussy started to tingle and despite my best efforts to focus on what was going on in the house, I couldn't tear my eyes off what was going on just four feet away or so. Kristen had that perfect tanned figure and "innocent" look that men (and women) just loved. To see her now crying out and moaning like a slut in heat was such a contradiction that it made it all that much erotic to watch.

My tongue passed over my lips. Mmmmmmm, I loved to lick Kristen myself, just as her mom was doing now. Sure her pussy tasted great but the real reason I really loved licking Kristen was because she just seemed to LOVE it so damn much. I mean, every girl I know loves to have her pussy licked – even the ones who claim not

I couldn't take my eyes off of the two of them as I continued to masturbate only now in earnest. It wasn't so much that two of the most beautiful women I know were fucking each other just a few feet away. It wasn't that they were mother and daughter. It wasn't that they were my aunt and cousin. It wasn't even that I had personal sexual experience with both of them. What was turning me on was the sheer erotic nature of what they were doing. It was the total and complete sensuality that seemed to just ooze from them both. What I was witnessing was better than any porn scene I'd ever seen because this was honest and REAL.

God, my pussy was SOOOOOO hot. It felt like it was on fire and the flames were spreading through my veins to every inch of my body. I was so close to cumming, just a little bit more... I closed my eyes and concentrated completely on my fingers as they touched me exactly the way I needed to be touched.

OMG! My eyes flashed open as both of my nipples suddenly were tugged and licked. My aunt was on my right while Kristen was on my left, each of them planting their mouths on one of my boobs, looking up at me with the biggest grins. Damn, they must have seen me doing myself and snuck up on me while my eyes were closed. Then they each ran their hands over me, up my legs, over my thighs, and then up my stomach until they were cupping my breasts and then back down again. As for me, my hand was cupping my pussy, momentarily pausing as I tried to take in what was being done to me.

"Don't stop now sweetie," my sexy aunt said to me in a gentle, encouraging tone, "We just wanted to help."

She put her hand over mine and pressed my fingers into my pussy. For a moment I thought she would take over but clearly she wanted me to finish myself.

"Noooooo, you do it sweetie, make yourself cum for us," she said in a voice now husky with lust.

Well, talk about something that didn't need to be said! Actually, it didn't need to be said from the standpoint that I was going to do it anyway with or without her encouragement. At the same, it was quite erotic to hear her say it which only helped me on my never-ending quest for the perfect orgasm.

God, what would the neighbors have thought if they could see through the fence and shrubs that surrounded the deck? Did they have a clue what was going on just a matter of a few yards away from them? Years ago I'd sat in this very same hot tub and masturbated as I watched them having sex after a party in their back yard, blissfully unaware the horny teenage daughter next door was getting quite the eyeful. They'd since moved away and I wasn't familiar with the new people at all but it was still fun to imagine the looks on their faces if they saw what was being done to me by a sexy middle-aged woman and her hot daughter - not to mention what I was doing to myself at the same time.

Did I orgasm? That's like asking if the sun rises in the east. How could any normal girl NOT under the circumstances? It would take a frigid, make that cold-as-ice zombie to ward off the impending results. When it finally DID come, it was intense and felt good - as it always does. Yet somehow there was something not quite right. As good as I felt, maybe I thought it should've been even better given the buildup and execution. In the end I was left exhausted and feeling as good as I had all day yet my eyes couldn't help but looking over my cousin's bare shoulder to the entrance to the house over at the opposite corner of the deck.

Had my mom looked at all to see what was going on? Growing up, both she and my dad would often keep an eye on me from my upper bedroom window. Most of the people I was with had no idea they were being watched but I certainly knew and that's what made it special. I knew why my dad looked - no different than any other man would do given the opportunity. With my mom it had always been something special though, more like it was like she watched to see me enjoying myself.

My mom seemed to get her own pleasure from seeing me enjoying MY pleasure more so than touching herself while she gazed down at me. It was especially true when my dad would have sex with me on the deck. Rather than sit out there practically on top of us, she would usually watch from my bedroom instead. Had she done so this afternoon or what was she doing inside with my father anyway?

"Happy 4th of July," my aunt said to her daughter and me, practically jolting me out of my deep thoughts. "You know, sometimes I think we need to do this more often, just us girls, you know?"

Now THAT was a first. I'd never heard my aunt make such a suggestion before. Usually when she wanted me and Kristen involved, there were others involved as well - unfortunately usually young boys. Typically I stayed away from those times but she still tried now and then to convince me to join them.

She and Kristen started talking but my mind was distracted with thoughts about what was going on in the house. I was never going to be satisfied until I found out so finally I got up and grabbed a towel.

"Hey, you guys have fun... I'll be back in a few," I said to my aunt and cousin.

Wrapping a dry towel around me, I headed for the house. This one was just a regular bath towel and I was having a hard time keeping it from falling down on me and it wasn't until it almost fell off completely as I reached for the screen door handle that I finally realized what I was doing. For whatever reason, it certainly wasn't a conscious decision on my part, I'd wrapped a towel around me as if to hide myself. Granted, I've never been much on nudism in general, but to even bother with a towel just to run in the house a short distance away didn't make the least amount of sense - yet that was exactly what I'd done.

Anyway, I kept it around me even though I could feel the bottom edge coming only about half-way down my butt and my pussy couldn't have been hidden very well either. I'd tucked in it at the top in my cleavage which was the only thing keeping it from falling off me again. Still, it was SOMETHING to wear and I just felt better because of it.

Walking through the door, it was like entering an office for a job interview. I felt confident but at the same time nervous and wondering what was waiting for me on the other side. In this case I wasn't hoping to get job. Instead, I was dreaming of getting a mom again - MY mom.

4. Now What?

Making my way through the small kitchen, I saw my mom and dad sitting on the seats on opposite sides of the dinner table. They seemed to be OK and there weren't any outward signs of an on-going argument yet there was something about it all that made me feel uneasy. Then I remembered, it was almost the exact same positions for all of us the time I'd walked in on them and they first told me they were getting a divorce. They even had on similar expressions - nothing mean or argumentative, but still more on the serious side than normal as if the weight of the world was riding on their shoulders.

My mom turned her head to look at me. I saw her eyes go to the robe I was wearing and her tight lips curved a bit until she was finally smiling.

"Seems you're full of surprises today Kelly," she said softly, a full grin now on her face, "When did you start wearing a towel when coming in from the deck?"

I could feel my cheeks warming a bit as suddenly I felt a little embarrassed. I'd never been ashamed of myself in front of my mom before and I wasn't now either but I could see where she might think I was. Crap, not exactly the good first impression I was hoping to make. Then again, what impression HAD I been hoping to make? God I was SO confused!

"Take a seat Kelly, I guess you should be hearing this," my dad said.

From the look my mom gave her ex-husband, I wasn't so sure SHE agreed but she didn't say anything which left me to my next big decision - sit where? I could have sat next to either of them as they were on opposite sides of the table. My dad had made the offer so did that mean I should sit next to him? Then again, my mom was the "guest" so should I sit next to her? Did it matter to either of them or would it be taken as some sort of signal" by me as to whose "side" I was taking?

Then again, maybe I was reading way too much into a simple question - not exactly as if I didn't already have a solid reputation for reading too much into most every situation. He just asked me have a seat, not which parent I was feeling the closest to. Which gave me the idea as to how to make up my mind. My mom was closest to me at the moment, at least physically, so I sat down next to her. As I did the towel rose up such that my bare ass met the cool seat, causing me to let a little involuntary "oh!".

My mom poked me playfully in the arm saying, "How many times did I tell you that would happen when you use to run around bare-ass all the time. Well at least SOMETHING hasn't changed!"

It was just the right thing to say as it broke the rather solemn atmosphere and we all grinned and laughed together. It was true, growing up I loved to wear t- shirts and my dad's shirts around the house, especially at night, and always with nothing else underneath. It didn't have anything to do with sex or teasing my dad. It was no different even when I was alone. It was sort of like why I started sleeping nude back when I was twelve. Sure my parent's sleeping nude was an influence but once I started doing it I found that I just enjoyed it and slept better without anything to constrict me. In a similar manner I simply felt better being bottomless whenever possible. What can I say? That's me.

It was always interesting to me that even in our small household there were many views on this subject in general. My mom, for instance, NEVER ran around with nothing on - top or bottom, except maybe a quick scoot to the bathroom from the bedroom or on the deck to get a towel or something. On the other hand, her younger sister was all but a raving nudist, running around naked whenever she could get away with it. I say all but a nudist as sometimes I really wondered if she did when she was alone as well or just to tease everyone around her? Then there was my cousin Kristen, who was the complete opposite to me. Whereas I felt better with something covering my top and leaving my bottom free, she preferred to wear a thong or panties and nothing else. Sometime she would wear shorts or a bikini bottom, but usually it was a thong of some extremely meager proportions. It wasn't that she was trying to hide anything, but rather like me she just felt better with something on, even if it WAS almost nothing at all.

In the middle of all the women there was the man of the house - the only man of the house for that matter, my dad. Although the women closest to him had pretty well-established "dress codes", he was never one that I could pigeonhole quite so easily. For him, it was more like he adapted to who he was with rather than have his own "style" - clothed or not. Like when it was just him and me, he usually wore loose boxers at a minimum and depending on the weather something on top like a t-shirt or a sweatshirt. With my mom, he was more conservative, his shorts better fitting so his dick wasn't always "accidentally" falling out of them. With my aunt and cousin he definitely liked to be nude, especially with his hot sister-in-law. In fact, one of the first things I noticed after she started living with him was that he was nude just about anytime I came over to visit, even when it was unexpected. My mom would have never tolerated that.

Given my dad's past, was my mom reading anything into my dad's attire at the moment, or should I say his LACK of attire? He hadn't bothered putting anything on since she took him from the deck after he'd fucked me. It was almost like he was telling my mom that he was "dressing" for my aunt, not her. Then again, was he? Or was I once again reading way too much into someone's possible purely actions? This time I would've bet the farm I was right, that he WAS sending my mom a signal, even if it was one he didn't even realize he was giving her at time.

My hand went to my chest where I tugged at the towel and pushed it in deeper between my boobs to keep it from falling off yet again. All, my life I'd never been very good at this little maneuver and my mom must have noticed my discomfort.

"I hope you're not making yourself all uncomfortable for MY sake Kelly," my mom said softly, putting her hand over my free one on the table.

It was just a touch but it was like electricity for me, like that feeling I got as a young girl when horny boy my age would first start touching me.

"So what's going on anyways?" I finally had to blurt out.

Neither of them looked too inclined to be the first to answer although they both seemed amused by my typical lack of patience.

"Oh nothing earth-shattering, I just felt like it was time to come back and see what was going on here. What better day than today?" mom said being the first to answer.

My face brightened at which she shook her head and said more ruefully, "Now don't get me wrong, I didn't mean I came to take part or anything like that, I just knew I could count on you all being in one place for at least this specific day.

God, there so many questions I wanted to ask. Since she'd left I was filled with hurt and worry. How many times had I played this very conversation over and over again in my mind? You would think by now it would all come out automatically like an actor doing the same play for the 100th time. If anything, it was just the opposite. I forgot my lines like a rookie actress on opening night and there was this uncomfortable pause as I think she was waiting for me to say something profound - or anything at all for that matter.

"So... are you guys... ," I started to ask but my dad was the one to answer this time promptly.

"Please don't go there Kelly. Your mom is here now but don't do your usual thing and read anything more into it than an afternoon together with all of us... OK?"

My mom didn't say anything but I noticed her eyes weren't meeting mine now when I looked at her. Was she embarrassed? Was she afraid to tell me for herself?

My dad then suggested that I might be better to go get washed up and such while he and my mom talked some more. I took the hint - not that it was exactly subtle. I went upstairs, took a shower, and started to lay in my bed when something came to my mind. Walking over to the window, I looked down at the deck. Sure enough, they were at it again! God, did they ever quit?

Normally I might have watched and under the right circumstances, even masturbated a little but not this time. I was feeling dejected at my mom's aloofness. What had I expected? For her to come home and everyone act like nothing had ever happened? After all, my parents WERE divorced, not just separated. Legally they weren't man and wife although so far as I was concerned, in the eyes of God they always would be

I threw on one of my favorite men's shirts from my dad's collection and laid on the bed, trying to close my eyes and relax a little but that was pretty stupid idea when my long-lost mother was almost right below me in the kitchen. Usually when I was bored with nothing to do I would masturbate, even if it was just a light touch. At this moment, though, the LAST thing I felt like doing was touching myself.

Somehow or another I must have dozed off. I guess all that stuff on the deck earlier had worn me out more than I'd realized. I woke up with me laying on my stomach and something was lightly running up the back of my shirt over my bare back, then back down again until it was playing playfully with my bare bottom. My first instinct in the haze I was in was that it was my dad but then the touch was too soft for it to be him. My eyes popped open wide when I realized who it had to be...

"Mom?" I said softly, hoping like heck I was right.

"Shhhhhh, just relax... I missed this so much," I heard her voice saying so low I could hardly hear her.

I laid there for what seemed to be the longest time with my head still turned away from her and my legs slightly apart, hoping her fingers would work their way down a bit between my thighs. While they DID manage to tease my inner thighs and the backs of my legs a bit, she never came dangerously close to my pussy at any time. It was more like what my dad use to do when I was little before we started having sex.

Eventually she took off my shirt so I was naked on the bed. There was no sexual intent, it just made it easier for her to touch me and rub my back with some lotion. As she did she asked me about my teaching, Steve, and a host of other questions she must have had about me. We talked for what must have been an hour or so before I finally sat up and then we hugged and kissed.

"Are you going to stay?" I asked, my voice filled with hope but it was only to be dashed just as quickly.

She explained that this was just a short visit, that she was in town for some unexpected business and had to get back to the hotel where some conference was going on right now.

My heart was broken and I could feel the tears in my eyes as we hugged yet again. I was still naked but she had every stitch of clothing still on but it didn't make any difference. Finally we parted and we both stood up. My mom went over to the window and looked down.

"Oh my, some things just never change," she said, shaking her head slowly.

I moved past her to look down and not surprisingly, my dad had gone out back with my aunt and cousin and they were playing on a seat cushion covered with a towel in the middle of the deck. My dad was sitting down with his legs stretched out in front of him while my cousin was seated on his dick, her legs and arms wrapped around her uncle as he turned his head to lick her mom's pussy which was right in front of him as she stood there next to them. It was amazing what lust can do for you! Even with his sexy "ex" finally home, he couldn't keep his cock to himself. Then again, I wondered if he was the one to start things or had one of them gone in to fetch him?

I wanted to ask my mom how she felt seeing her husband like that. It wasn't that he was fucking her niece, THAT she had seen plenty when they were married. It was more that he was doing her NOW, when she was home after n9ot so much as a peep for so long. Was she a little jealous that he could so easily blow her off and go back to what her had planned for the day? They may be divorced but they HAD been married for over 25 years so it wasn't like they could just split up and never think about the other again.

Just then it hit me – did she know before today that her sister had moved in with her ex-husband? I had no idea what, if any, communications my mom had with our family. She certainly didn't talk to me but who knows when it came to her sister.

They shared everything after all, even boyfriends back in high school, including my dad and his brothers. Still, had Linda told her about her new living arrangements?

I didn't ask. OK, so sue me - I chickened out. I figured if she wanted to say anything to me that she would have already so why rock the boat? We both went downstairs and out to the deck where my dad had evidently just finished cumming in his niece judging from the satisfied look on his face and the broad grin on hers - not to mention the cum dripping from her pussy.

"Would you guys mind if John and I spent some time alone now?" my mom asked the three of us.

What could we say? We all gathered our things and headed back to their house. Even though I lived there now I still referred to it as "their house", force of habit after 25 years I guess.

Before we left, after my aunt and cousin had walked away my mom took me by the arm and without a word, we kissed yet again. Then she held me by the upper arms and looked me straight in the eyes, telling me she loved me and that she would be getting back in touch with me soon. It was then I realized she was saying goodbye and tears once again began to flow but she kissed me and hugged me and said not to worry and that she would never do it again - by it I took it to mean she was referring to cutting off communications with me for so long.

And so I left them. They were and always would be my mom and dad, even if legally they were no longer man and wife. It didn't matter to me, I loved them both.

Before long we were back at my aunt's house. It wasn't long before I wasn't thinking about my mom all that much anymore!

PS - Although my mom left shortly afterward, we promised to stay in touch and she even invited me to come out to Oregon in a bit to visit! I can't wait!!!!!

Mary - my mom (44)

After the divorce, my mom needed a fresh start so she moved out to Oregon to be near her best friend Tammy. It had been ages since I'd seen her so you can imagine how anxious I was when she offered an invitation. How had she been handling life as a single woman again?

First, I have to say that during this past week with my mom I saw a side of her that I never have before. Until now, she's always been a mother and a wife and even though I knew she had a bit of a wild side of her back in high school, she's always been relatively conservative, at least from my perspective. Well, I don't know what else to say other than my mom is now an outright slut! You know I mean that in a loving way, it's just I never saw her before in sexual situations with people other than my dad and a few times with my Aunt Linda and Uncle Jim. Sure there was my cousin Rick but that was just her having some fun, nothing serious. My eyes were opened, that's for sure!

1. The Pain of Divorce

All my life I'd grown up in the most loving household any girl could ask. My parent's marriage was always something that I admired and hoped to model in my own life. My mother was especially important when it came to teaching me ethics and morals, always with careful consideration of our religious beliefs. Even when it came to sex, she emphasize that while sex can be fun and fulfilling, there are also lines that are never to be crossed. She emphasized the importance of safe sex, being respectful of other people, and taught me the duties of a proper daughter and wife when it came to sex.

My father didn't so much talk to me about such things, leaving that to my mother, but rather demonstrated by his own actions the role of a loving father and

In some ways it was almost like my mother HAD died. Soon afterwards she had moved out to Oregon to be with her best friend Tammy. She stayed with Tammy for the first few weeks but that started to get to be uncomfortable for everyone. Having another woman in the house for a short time with a husband and two teenage boys is one thing but for her to stay for any length of time is pushing the envelope. Tammy's family is VERY straight and none of them know anything about what she has done during her visits to Pittsburgh with me and my dad.

My mom had no desire to cause any problems for her best friend - she'd had enough of her own at the time, so she found herself her own apartment where she still lives today. As I saw later, it's REALLY nice though - my dad must be paying BIG bucks in alimony! My mom found a job at a local clinic that didn't pay much but she found the work satisfying and she didn't have to work long hours at weird times of the day as she did when she was a nurse at a hospital.

2. I Finally Visit My Mom

For almost a year after the divorce I sort of lost touch with my mom as she adapted to her new life. At first I resented it as I had come to grips with the fact that it wasn't my fault yet it seemed I was the one being punished. Over time we gradually got back together though e-mail, phone calls, and even a few on-line chats and Skype. Eventually I talked my dad into financing a trip for me to go out and visit her. As I said, I know my dad still loves my mom so he didn't want to hurt our relationship.

I had flown once before to Oregon to visit Tammy and her family with my mom but that was one of the few times I'd traveled any great distance so I can't say I wasn't nervous about the trip. The funny thing was that with all the sexy stories and fantasies about sex on a plane, I didn't even come close to getting laid. Not that I didn't think about it! In fact, I even dressed a little slutty just in case the opportunity arose. I chose a nice pair of cutoffs that didn't show TOO much of my ass but plenty of leg. A tight cami under an unbuttoned blouse was suggestive without being whorish. I even got a window seat next to two guys traveling on business. They were both married and traveling together. If anything, I think it was the fact that their buddy was with them more so than being married that stymied anything. Sure they LOOKED a lot, especially at my legs but nothing more happened, not even an "accidental" brush against my boobs or legs.

So far as sex in the airplane toilet, I don't how people do that! Damn, it was almost too small to even fit me in it let alone having sex with someone. I have to assume that the scenes in the movies use a fake room that is a lot bigger, or maybe some planes have larger restrooms. In either case I had a pleasant trip but beyond some suggestive conversation it was pretty tame.

My mom met me at the airport, shaking her head when she saw me.

"Looks like someone was trolling," she teased me as we waited for my luggage.

It was a favorite term of hers to describe when I would dress up and go out looking to get picked up. Well, she was the one who taught me so she should know!

We went straight to her apartment where she showed me around. It was really nice, with two bedrooms - a master bedroom with its own Jacuzzi bath along with a guest room. When she showed me around she had this little wicked smile when we got to the guest room. She explained that she didn't allow anyone in her personal bedroom so when she had "guests" they did whatever they did in the guest bedroom. Needless to say, I got the picture right away that things were different for my mom these days! She didn't enlighten me at the time as to who these guests were, but I had the feeling there would be some interesting stories later on.

After I'd freshened up and came back out to the kitchen, we sat down and my mom set up a few "rules" to start with. It's not like she read off a list or anything draconian like that, they just sort of popped up as we talked. First and foremost, I was to call her Mary instead of mom. She hinted that we would be going out a lot during the next week and it would better for me to get use to calling her by her name from the start. Second, I was NOT a guest so I could sleep with her in her bedroom although I could use the guest room to store my things. This was more significant than it might seem as growing up I almost never spent an entire night in bed with just her, let alone a week straight.

One other thing we discussed was that the week ahead was about US so she didn't want to talk a lot about things back in the 'burgh with regards to my dad and ESPECIALLY nothing about her sister Linda. This was the one that took me most by surprise, especially the way she practically spat out her sister's name. Well, more about that another time... We went out to get something for supper which seemed long overdue as my wasn't use to the time change and I was starving. At the same time I was feeling more tired and again, I realized that I was mentally three hours ahead of the local clock. By the time we got back I was sleepy from the combination of a full stomach and jet lag.

It felt a little odd undressing with my mom and slipping into bed naked with her. It had been a long time since we'd been together and I think we both were a little bit nervous. As tired as I was, I was anxious to be with her again, to feel my mother's naked body against me. It was something unique with my mother that I never shared with my dad. When I slept with my dad, I was ALWAYS his daughter and he was ALWAYS my dad. We never even role-played as anything else. If I was wearing a naughty nurse outfit, it was me as his daughter being the nurse. I had duties and obligations as his daughter and I always did my best to fulfill them.

With my mother it was different. Out of bed there was never any question as to our roles. She was the mother and I was the daughter. I was certainly no angel growing up and there were times we disagreed on things, but there was never any doubt as to what our relationship was and in the end, her authority as my mother trumped everything else. It was when we were in bed together that things changed.

With my father I NEVER considered myself to be his lover yet with my mother it was just the opposite. It's really hard to describe but it was like I was with my truest lover in the most equal and shared relationship possible. There was no hierarchy of parent-child or even older-younger. Each of us did everything we could to please the other yet at the same time, we were not afraid to please ourselves as well.

So it was that when my mother slipped under the sheets with me in bed that it was like nothing had changed and no time had passed since our last time. In the darkness I felt her warmth against me as we took each other into our arms and kissed. Our tongues met and I felt the passion ignite between us. My leg slipped in between hers and I could feel the warmth of her hair pussy against my thigh as at the same time I felt the pressure against my bare pussy as she pressed her bare smooth leg in against me. Our breasts pressed against each other's and my arms reached around her and pulled against her naked back. It was like heaven on earth as we laid there like that for what seemed to be hours, just enjoying the feel of each other until I fell asleep in her loving arms.

The next morning I awoke to an empty bed. Throwing on a t-0shirt, I made my way to the kitchen where my mom was fixing breakfast for us. Without a word I took her in my arms and we kissed, not breaking apart until my mom had to flip the eggs before everything burned. I told her how much I had enjoyed the night before and she just smiled, a twinkle in her eye.

Later we dressed and went to visit Tammy. Her husband was at work and the boys were out so we had the day to ourselves and just traded stories and such over drinks. My mom had warned me earlier than she and Tammy were still very close but it was strictly platonic. Anything she may have done in Pittsburgh stayed in Pittsburgh, to borrow a phrase. That was fine with me although I remembered how Tammy and I had been together a few times and to be honest, had been looking forward to doing it again but I respected my mother's and her wishes and didn't even approach the subject.

Tammy invited us to stay for dinner but my mom said we had other plans. She hadn't shared those plans with me so I was curious what she was cooking up but from Tammy's expression I got the feeling she had some ideas of her own. As curious as I was, I somehow restrained myself from asking anything. On the way home we picked up some takeout which we ate when we got back. It was killing me as to what my mom had planned and she seemed to be taking great enjoyment out of tormenting me, even if it was all in fun.

3. A Night on the Town With My Mom

After cleaning up from our quick supper, my mom finally spilled some of her plans. SOME of her plans mind you. She told me to dress slutty as we were going to a club which surprised me. In any case, I had come prepared with a black dress that hugged my body like Saran Wrap and barely covered my ass when I sat down. It was one of those that just came over one shoulder, crossing down to expose plenty of cleavage and about two-thirds of the boob apposite the shoulder that was covered. I wore a black thong underneath that covered my crotch but not much else. My mom nodded when she saw me in it, giving me a thumbs up approval.

As for her, my mom had on one of the shortest skirts I'd ever seen her wear, even in her old high school photos. I had to say, for a 44 year-old she had some of the sexiest legs my could ask for in a women ten years younger than her. Obviously she'd been working out! She wore sheer black hose with the tops barely under the hemline and I knew once she sat down the tops would be clearly visible once she crossed her legs. On top she had on a white satin blouse which while completely opaque, hugged her tightly enough to outline the white floral bra she wore underneath. The bra was plainly visible as she had the blouse unbuttoned about half-way down. Damn, my mom looked hot!

"One thing though," she warned me as we drove, "Do NOT call me mom, got it? I'm your older sister tonight, OK?"

I cheerfully agreed. I knew what she was driving at as being my mom would place her at her true age but by saying she as my sister she could pass for being ten years younger, especially in the darkened light of a typical club. In any case, guys would be just as turned on by the possibility of having two sisters as a mother and daughter. Well, maybe not quite as turned on but it would be fun enough as it was. In any case, while I think a lot of guys fantasize about being with a mother and daughter, it's usually more a younger mother and a teenage daughter (or younger) that fills out most fantasies. With me being 25 and her in her forties, the "thrill" of doing a mom and daughter might still be there but in real life I think the sister act was more promising.

Now I've never been much of a "club" girl but obviously my mom has become one judging from the greetings she got when we arrived. As we had planned, she introduced me as her younger sister which got us a lot of second looks, as if we weren't getting them already. What can I say, my mom is now a major slut! She flirted shamelessly with anyone who was willing to play along.

Needless to say we attracted quite a crowd, especially when she leaned over and have me a quick kiss. Nothing TOO much but enough to be more than a quick peck between friends. Sisters kissing is such a male turn-on. Kristen and I use to have lots of fun teasing guys and we were just cousins. We stayed at the a couple of hours, sharing a few drinks and dancing.

At first we just danced with each other but then the sharks started to circle and guys would ask us to dance. One side benefit was that we never had to buy another drink! Even I had some wince as it seemed a little wrong to order my normal Diet Cokes. As the night went on, the dances got more erotic and intimate and I could feel hands starting to get more and more "personal" as they realized neither of us seemed to have the word "no" in our vocabulary. I got a kick when I was dancing with one guy and saw my mom in a booth with a guy next to her, his hands literally all over her as he fondled her boobs and groped under her skirt shamelessly like some high school boy at a dance. She certainly seemed to be enjoying the attention! I'd never seen my mom doing such things, not even with my dad in public, so it was almost more interesting to watch her than to enjoy what was happening with me.

As the night wore on guys came and went but over time there seemed to be two of them that were really interested in us. They both looked to be in the late twenties or early thirties, not brothers but alike in many ways. Both were about six feet tall with dark hair and perfect teeth. They were dressed sharp and well groomed, both appearing to be professionally employed. My mom was getting more attention from the taller one who looked to also be the younger of the two while I was being handled (literally) by the older one although I thought he was actually a little more handsome.

"So you two are sisters?" my mom's guys asked once when we were all seated in the booth.

By now it was getting late and the hands were getting more personal. He had one hand covering one of mom's breasts, squeezing it through her blouse and bra.

My mom explained that I was her "little" sister and the guy next to me laughed, moving his hand to my breast now and saying, "There's nothing 'little' about your sister Mary." I just pretended to be embarrassed but did nothing to move his hand which just encouraged him all the more.

"We like to go out and have fun together," I said, emphasizing the word "fun" and leaving it to their imaginations as to what that might be.

That just led my guy to drop his hand down to my crossed leg. At first resting it on top and then quickly moving it to the inside of my thigh and up within inches of my thong.

"So you say the two of you are close?" the guy groping my mom asked.

The way he said "close" left no doubt as to where he was leading. My mom just smiled naughtily, again leaving it to his imagination to interpret her meaning.

"If you're going to rub my pussy the least you can do is tell me your name." I tease my guy.

I think I surprised him a little b being so forward but it wasn't like he wasn't about to do it anyway as by now he was only about an inch away.

"Ryan," was all he said as he apparently took it to mean that by telling me he could do just that.

I smiled at my mom as I felt his hand press against the outer fabric of my thong.

"So if I tell you my name, can I rub yours?" the other guys asked my mom. I couldn't help but think how crazy this was becoming, doing all this with my own mother! She shrugged but her smile told him what he wanted to know.

"I'm Michael," he continued and I noted that his hand went straight to her leg once he said it.

Then I almost laughed as I saw her take his hand and literally pull it into her crotch. Like, my own mom couldn't wait to get groped!

As Michael started playing with my mom's crotch, Ryan was getting more bold and he started to push my thing to the side but that was where I drew the line.

"Now Michael, just what do you think you're doing?" I asked him, keeping a grin on my face to disarm anything he might take from my push-away.

Meanwhile, I saw my mom stiffen slightly as Michael explored further under her skirt which led him to tease his partner saying, "Looks like the older one doesn't mind a finger up her cunt... sorry Ryan."

I half-expected my mom to protest over his coarse language but she seemed happy to tolerate it so long as he had his finger in her. God, I couldn't believe my own mother was letting a guy finger her pussy in public! I mean, it WAS in a booth and it was under her skirt but still!

Not to be totally outdone by my own mother, I turned to Ryan and put my hand on his crotch where it was obvious he was totally turned on by everything. "Unlike my slutty sister, I don't let guys finger my pussy on a first date... at least not until I get to suck their dick."

"Wow!" Ryan gushed as he looked at his friend who must have been doing a number on my mom's clit from the way she was sighing and rolling her eyes. "What do you say we go somewhere and you can do just that."

My mom was paying any attention at that point and I caught myself just as I was about to call her "mom". "Mary... c'mon," I said, reaching across to poke her.

Both guys looked like they had just won the lottery. As we left the place together they wanted to take us to their place but my mom insisted on a hotel room. She made up some story about it being more fun but I knew she was just making sure we were safe. You never know what you are getting into when you go to a strange guy's house! I would have been happy splitting up between our cars but again, my mom looked out for us and told them we would meet them at the room if they gave us one of their keys. They reluctantly agreed and so we got in our car and headed for the hotel with the guys in the lead.

"Damn mom, I can't believe you let him actually finger you in there!"

"You mean you can't believe I let him or you can't believe the old gal still has it?" she laughed.

"Oh mom, you know better than that!" I protested.

For the rest of the trip we discussed the relative merits of our "partners" as well as agreed upon a few things that we might do... and not do. The key was that we agreed to stay together and not allow ourselves to be split up between two rooms. This could be a lot of fun but at the same time, you never know when it comes to strangers so better safe than sorry.

We let the valet park the car and as we walked in, I could literally feel the eyes of the hotel staff boring holes in us. Granted, I imagine we looked like two street walkers entering the hotel but who cared? If anything, that turned me on all the more to think that people saw us that way. Me and my mom... can you imagine that!

We had told the guys to wait for us in the room and thankfully they had apparently followed directions as they were nowhere to be seen. We took the elevator up to their floor and soon we were standing outside the room.

"Ready sis?" my mom teased me.

I just nodded and she put the key card in the slot. The door lock clicked and we entered the room to find the two of them sitting on a couch together, waiting for us. I wondered if they thought we might be setting them up and not show up as they actually looked a little surprised at first but that look was quickly replaced by unbridled lust. Still, we weren't whores so they had to respect us a little bit.

"So where were we?" my mom asked quietly, almost more a muse than a direct question. "You know Kelly, I don't think they quite believed me when I said we were really close, what do you think?"

Once again I caught myself just before saying "mom" but then I answered, "I don't know sis... why don't we show them?"

Up until that moment, the only man ever to see me and my mom together sexually had been my dad, and even then it was always with him in the middle. We looked at each other and I think both of us were thinking the same thing but then I saw her lick her lips and I knew she was ready. If anything, there was a hunger in my mom's eyes like I'd never quite seen before. It was like she WANTED to do this in front of them.

Without another word my mom turned to me and we embraced, then kissed passionately while the guys watched. At first I glanced at them to see their reaction as they sat still, like they were mesmerized by what was happening before them. Well, I couldn't blame them!

My mother quickly took the lead. It was like she couldn't wait to take me. This was different than anything I'd ever experienced with her before. In a way, it reminded me of times when my father would come to me all horny and needful, taking me and fucking me without speaking a word. Well, I was use to my dad having such needs but never my own mother!

"I love you mom," I whispered to her, low enough for the guys not to hear but at the same time, I wanted her to know it was NOT her sister that was ready for this but her own daughter.

With that my mom practically tore my clothes off of me! In literally seconds I was standing there nude with nothing on but my heels. I was quite aware of the stares I was getting from the couch but my attention was more focused on my mother who seemed to be overwhelmed with a lust I'd never seen in her before. I laid back on the bed as my mother stripped, also leaving her heels on but otherwise totally naked.

A quick glance over at the couch and then she as on top of me, her breasts pressed into mine as we kissed and touched one another. Then she rolled over on her back and I knew what she wanted. Spinning myself around so I was now facing the guys, I put one leg over her and we were quickly into a mother-daughter 69, although from their perspective it was two sisters.

I buried my face in my mom's thick bush of pubic hair - at least she hadn't shaved. Although a bare pussy like Kristen's is nice, there's something about my mom's lush pubic hair against my face as I lick her that has always turned me on. At the same time, I could feel her tongue exploring my pussy, liking up between my pussy lips and finding my clit.

"Oh Mary!" I moaned, remembering to use her name as it was as much for the guy's than anything.

From my position I could see the guys and I sort of expected them to pull out their cocks and start jerking off but I guess the guy thing about masturbating in front of another guy was even stronger than their desires for us right then. Too bad as I would have loved to watch them jerk off. It would have been even hotter to see them jerk each other off but that was NOT something I would have honestly expected.

I loved the way my mom licked me. God I'd missed this so! Of all the women I've been with, nobody can make me feel better or cum faster than my own mom. Whether it's just her skills, the fact she is my own mother, or whatever, she's always been my favorite when it comes to having my pussy eaten.

"Oh Mary!" I cried out yet again as I quickly came to my orgasm.

With everything that had been going on tonight it didn't take much to push me over the edge and my mom was going at it as best she could. I tried to keep my face pressed against her wet pussy but it was impossible as she relentlessly licked and sucked on my clit, driving me higher and higher into the upper reaches of orgasmic pleasure. It would have been enough had we been alone but to have the two guys watch just made it all the better.

Once I had cum it made it all the more important for me to get my mother off. She took a little more work than I'd expected but soon she too was moaning and writhing under me. My mom has always been what my dad calls "a moaner" and she was certainly keeping to her reputation!

Once I'd achieved my goal I turned around laid to the side of her, one leg draped over her so my pussy was pressed up against her hip and one hand on her heaving breast. She turned and we kissed and I loved the way her face tasted and smelled from having been covered by my pussy.

"Oh Kelly..." she sighed as I put my lips on her nipple and suckled like I had so many years before as a baby.

Finally the guys seemed to sense it was their turn as they got up and started to strip. For a moment I thought about how cruel it would be for my mom and me to get up and leave them now all horny and lustful. To be honest, I was feeling so good I could have done just that but I saw my mom's eyes move to their crotches and I could see from that look that she was far from being ready to leave.

Ryan reached out and pulled me back from my mom so I was a the side of the bed. He stood there and pushed his dick against my lips.

"I believe you said something about sucking my dick before I touched your cunt," he said with a smirk on his face.

Well, if there was one thing I was NOT going to do, it was turn away an erect cock right in front of my mouth! I opened my mouth and he immediately shoved it in and pushed himself in until he hit the back of my throat. Well, if he thought THAT was going to surprise me then he had another thought coming! I relaxed as best I could and let him slide down into my throat until my face was pressing against the base of his dick. I stayed that way for a moment and then pulled back until just the head was in my mouth.

"Damn Mike, she took it all!" Ryan crowed as he started to fuck my mouth.

I had no idea what was happening behind me but I heard my mother moaning and that meant her mouth was empty but I would have bet a lot that something else wasn't!

"Fuck me harder!" I heard my mom cry out and I knew then for sure what was happening.

As much as I would have loved to have sucked dick a little while longer, I wanted even more to share this with my mom so I rolled back on my back and spread my legs open for Ryan. Fortunately he took the hint and climbed on the bed and got between my welcoming thighs.

"Fuck her Ryan... fuck her good," my mother managed to get out between moans.

She had her legs wrapped around Michael as he humped her like a dog in heat. Her hair was a total wreck and he was sucking hard on her large breasts. It was at that moment I realized I was seeing my mom being fucked by somebody besides a member of her family for the first time!

Ryan was soon in me as well, filling my pussy with his hard cock as I too wrapped my legs around him and pulled him into me. It was soooooo crazy, laying her in bed with my mom right next to me, both of us being fucked by two guys we'd never met before like two whores.

"I want some of that pussy," Michael said to Ryan after he'd fucked my mom a while.

He pulled out of my mom and Ryan did the same. This time, though, they wanted us on all fours and I kneeled next to my mom as they entered us both from behind at the same time.

"Oh god yes!" my mom sighed as Ryan fucked her. I was feeling pretty good myself as Michael thrust his cock into me as deep as he could.

Before long it was out turn to be on top. My mom took some of the initiative this time and had them lie head to toe. Then she mounted Michael while I straddled Ryan and felt his dick in me again. We did it reverse cowgirl so our asses were facing their faces but it allowed us to see each other and she leaned over to kiss me and fondle my boobs as we rode our respective dicks.

I had to give the guys credit as they hung in there without cumming too soon. I found myself wondering how my mom wanted to finish them off, like where would they cum? Would she let them cum in her pussy, in her mouth, or shoot it all over her? Well, I figured it was going to have to be decided soon as both of them seemed to be getting close.

One last position change and we were on our sides in the middle of the bed facing each other. The guys spooned us from behind, Ryan back in my mom this time while Michael was in me. I felt Michael push especially hard into me, holding himself deep inside of me and I knew he was about to cum. Then he did, ramming himself even deeper into my pussy as he released his sperm into me.

"Oh yeah, that feels so good!" I moaned as I looked into my mother's eyes as he came in me.

My mother smiled and then I saw her smile even wider as Ryan began cumming in her, groaning out load as he shot his load into my mother's pussy.

When they had finished they pulled out and fell onto their backs, exhausted by their efforts. My mom, however, wasn't finished. Much to their delight, this time she got on top of me and once again we 69'd, only this time licking out the cum the guys had left in out pussies. Another first for me in that the only man's cum I'd ever licked from my mother's pussy was my dad's!

Once we'd finished we got up off the bed and quickly dressed. I suppose a shower would have been nice but neither of us wanted to stay there any longer than necessary now that we'd gotten what we came for. A quick brush through our hair and we were off to retrieve my mom's car from the valet. The kid who brought out car back couldn't help but star at us as we got in the car. I suppose it didn't hurt that we'd left out panties in the room as presents for the guys!

Neither of us said hardly a word on the way home until we got into her apartment.

"I love you so much Kelly," were the first words out of her mouth.

We kissed briefly and then hit the showers before nesting next to each other in bed. Nothing more needed to be spoken or done. I fell asleep again in my mother's arms, feeling closer to my mom than I'd ever felt before.

pedophile. She compensated by allowing my father to maintain an extensive porn collection which she hoped would provide sufficient outlet for those desires and urges he found so difficult to control.

As a result of my mother's influence, until recently the youngest boy I ever had sex with was sixteen - and I was fourteen the first time. Of course when I was a teenager I had sex with numerous teenage boys but they were all sixteen or older.

As I got older, my tastes began to shift to older men and other than a couple of flings, I pretty much stayed with "legal" aged partners. Even the couple of exceptions were with boys that were quite mature for their age so it wasn't like I trolled the grade school yards or anything like perverted like that. Certainly I've never done anything like my aunt and cousin have done with the local boys in the neighborhood!

Until a couple of years ago I would've said that these principles were the bedrock of my religious and sexual morals. No matter how slutty or naughty I might be, there were still lines meant not to be crossed and looking forward to my married life, I naturally expected those principles to continue. Then a few things happened that changed my life in many ways - and shifted that foundation somewhat in the process. I don't think anyone can really point fingers at me. After all, who can blame me changing a bit when my parents' divorced, something I never would have thought possible before it happened.

My parents' divorce triggered what was probably one of the most intense periods of my life so far as examining my core values and beliefs. It wasn't so much the fact that a marriage of over 25 years came to an end, although THAT certainly was a blow to me as I was always one to brag about how rock-solid their marriage was and how I wanted to pattern my own marriage after theirs. What hit me the hardest was WHY they divorced. It took a couple of years for me to fully understand all that went down and even now I still can't believe how naive and starry-eyed I was not to see what was obvious to so many other people.

The irony is that many of the very same things I use to believe were the reason for their strong marriage turned out to be the very things that split them apart. My mother's "no adultery" rules were so strict and restricting that my father was held back from doing the very things that would have actually made their marriage stronger. It's like when I have sex with a married guy now and then see his marriage rebound afterwards once he has let those desires come out and be realized.

almost too much to bear at times, like my pussy was finally complete with him filling it but now empty and in need of his love once again.

I have told many girls that if they really want to understand their father, if they really want to please him in a way no other person can, that if they want to fulfill their biblical duties to their father, then they HAVE to let him fuck them. There simply is no other way to reach that level of a relationship with their dad. Some have followed my advice and it melts my heart to hear them tell me, sometimes with tears of joy in their eyes, how special it was to feel their father that first time he entered them. Indeed, it is like losing your virginity again, only this time 100% pleasurable and so much deeper in meaning.

So why have I bothered to say all this? It's because I don't want people to get the wrong idea as to why I eventually did some of the things I did with my dad. I want people to understand how badly I want to please my father and how far I am willing to go to accomplish that goal. It is essential that anyone who has followed me through the years and thought that they knew my principles and this understand why I changed. To know that I did so only after careful consideration and with a desire to please my father at the forefront.

After all, when you make a commitment to please your father no matter what he asks, there are certain risks involved as fathers are still men and they have the same flaws and hereditary urges that all men must deal with. So when my dad approached me with his latest request, did I have any choice but to say "yes daddy"?

3. My Aunt Linda Gives My Dad What He Wants

Last year my Aunt Linda went to live with my dad. It was close enough after the divorce that tongues still wagged but long enough to be respectful to my mother. Of course most people didn't know the whole story. Even those who knew my dad back in high school and were aware that he and his brother had dated my mom and her sister, often trading partners, had no idea that the relationship continued after the marriage. Indeed, I think my dad had sex with my mom's sister more than her! Overall it was probably a better marriage for my mom and him than it would have been had he picked the younger sister instead, but now at their age and with their kids grownup it seemed to make more sense for him and Aunt Linda to be together. Let's just say my aunt was much less restrictive!

Under different circumstance I might have been tempted to just lay back and let he do me for his enjoyment but there was a serious question on the table that couldn't be ignored.

"Dad... you know how I feel about that," I somehow managed to blurt out as my aunt shoved a finger deep into my pussy while using her thumb to rub my swollen clit. She quickly pulled it out and put it in her mouth, licking it clean.

"Mmmmmmm, nothing like a little of your daddy's sperm mixed in to give it flavor," she giggled, looking over at my dad who was now stroking himself before pushing it back in me between my open thighs.

It really wasn't fair but what could I say? My pussy was still feeling good after being fucked by my dad and now my aunt was stimulating it all the more, reaching down with her head to suckle on my nipple as they waited for me to respond. A chill ran down my spine as her lips pulled on my hardened nipple, he tongue teasing the tip as she did.

"Oh alright... I'll go," I gasped but then I grinned at my dad and added, "But you have to fuck me again... now!"

Now who wasn't being fair but I knew he wasn't about to complain. He was erect again anyway, his hard dick being caressed by his own hand. God I wanted him back in me again so badly! As he approached me, naked with his hard dick pointing at me like a spear, I opened my legs even further as my aunt reached out to guide him into me.

"Fuck me daddy... fuck me again," I whispered hoarsely to him. Of course I wanted him to do just that but I also knew it turned him on tremendously for me to say it out loud to him.

"Yes daddy..., just like that!" I gasped as my aunt directed his stiff dick back into the welcoming warmth of my pussy. I looked down and watched as inch by inch his shaft disappeared inside of me, feeling him filling me with his fullness.

"Fuck her John... fuck her good," my aunt encouraged him, as if he needed any further encouragement.

Aunt Linda kept her hand in my crotch, playing with my clit as my father established his rhythm, stroking himself in and out of me at a slow but steady pace. Once again my aunt's lips locked onto my nipple, pulling on it a little harder now as she teased it all the more with her tongue.

My dad grabbed my ankles and pulled my legs up to his shoulders such that my butt was elevated off the couch a few inches while his dick fucked me slow and

Well, I most certainly did NOT know for myself so I would have to take her word for now. Now that I'd settled down I was starting to have second thoughts about what I'd signed up for. There are some things in life you should never do and one of them was to make major, life-altering decision in the heat of lust and passion. Going to one of these parties was a pretty major decision as it was something that could never be undone once I did it. Had anyone other than my dad asked me I never would have one along with it. Indeed, how many times had I automatically refused similar offers from my aunt and cousin without a second thought or regret?

Sometimes being a daddy's girl meant I had to do things I might otherwise never do and this was one of those times. I had always trusted my father and he had never betrayed that trust so in this case I just had to allow my instincts to guide me. As I said before, I've regretted doing anything sexually so why should this be any different? No doubt if I refused then I WOULD regret THAT so the best course of action was to follow my instincts and submit to my father's will, even if a the moment I wasn't so sure about things. After all, isn't that what a father is suppose to do - make the hard decisions and guide his daughter's path? It was time to walk the talk!

4. The Party

From the time I agreed to do one of the infamous family parties and it actually happening was a lot longer than I'd expected. I guess in my mind it was like once I agreed then the next day it would happen but that was not at all what happened. Indeed, it ended up being another two weeks before the subject even came up again and then another week before the party.

When my aunt called me to tell me to set aside the next Saturday morning on my calendar, I was a little surprised but then it made sense when I took into consideration who half the participants would be. She told me not to worry about what I would wear as nudity was the standard dress code. Aunt Linda ended by saying that she and my dad would pick me up at 8:30.

While teaching the rest of the week I couldn't help but look at some of my students and think that it wouldn't be long and I might be having sex with someone their age. Indeed, imagine if some of them just happened to show up! Granted, most

"Just go and have fun and quit worrying that you're contributing to the delinquency of a minor or anything silly like that," she said as she started to leave my room. "Believe me when I say whether you go or not, nothing is going to be different in the end for them so why not participate and enjoy yourself?"

With that she left me to my own thoughts once again. Fortunately it was almost time for me to be picked up and sure enough, by the time I got downstairs I looked out the front door and saw my dad's SUV pull up with my aunt riding shotgun. I put on my coat and called up to Kristen's room to say I was leaving. There was no response but that didn't surprise me. I had a good idea of what she would be doing for the rest of them morning now that she was up and about.

It was only a few moments later and I was in the back seat with my dad pulling away from the curb. My aunt turned around in her seat to greet me good morning and for the next thirty minutes or so we just talked about the weather, work and anything else that came to mind but nothing about the upcoming party. The traffic was heavy, even on a Saturday morning but that was normal for the area and my dad seemed more focused on not hitting the guy in front of us than engaging in light conversation.

As we drove on, I realized that I had no clue as to where we were going - a small detail I'd neglected to ask! All I knew was that we were heading south, away from the city which sort of surprised me. I don't know why, but somehow I'd expected it to be in one of the affluent neighborhoods on the North or South side, not out in what was increasingly becoming the middle of nowhere.

We turned down a small road with a sign advertising a retreat center that's I'd never heard of before. It didn't say what sort of retreat center so I assumed it was not a church-sponsored one but what type other than that I had no idea. Soon my dad turned in front of another sign for the center leading down a small narrow road into the woods which then opened up into a gravel parking bounded on three sides by various log-cabin style buildings. The largest was at the far end and was where all the cars were parked so I assumed that it must be our destination.

"Well, we're here," my dad announced, finally looking back at me for the first time. He smiled at me but there was a look of concern in his eyes when he asked, "You sure that you're OK with this baby?"

"You know I'll do anything for you daddy," I said, trying to sound positive. I knew he loved it when I called him "daddy" in sexual situations more so than just "dad". Yeah it sounds corny when I write it but at the time it felt appropriate.

"Now stop right there," he said, putting up his hand like a policeman in traffic, "You know that I don't want you to ever do anything you don't want to do no matter what you may THINK I want. Trust me, I would never WANT you to do anything you didn't want to do."

A little late for THAT I thought but I just shook my head and smiled even more. "I didn't mean it that way daddy, I know... I love you."

"Well can we get going?" my aunt chimed in, "Looks like we're the last to arrive... as usual," she said looking pointedly at my dad who was notorious for being late to most everything.

I did a quick look and guessed that there were maybe a dozen cars or so. Assuming they were all here for the same reason, that meant a reasonable size crowd. Not TOO small that it was overly intimate but not so big that it was impersonal. It was sort of the same way I felt about my friend Beth's sex parties. Up to about twenty people and you felt you got to know everyone without it being overly one-on-one with the same person all night.

The air was still pretty cold this early in the morning so we hurried inside to the main entrance where to large doors seemed to be the main entry. They opened to a small gathering area with racks for our coats. A couple was seated behind a table with what looked to be some sort of list. On each side of them was a son and daughter, the son next to the mom and the daughter next to the father. The boy looked to be older than the girl but I would have guessed that neither of them were in high school yet. They were all dressed quite conservatively and had I not known the intent of this morning's gathering you would have thought they were welcoming us to a church retreat. Then again, if THAT had been the scenario then normally you would have found the boy next to the father and the girl next to mother.

"Hey, it's John and Linda!" the mother greeted us.

The dad had the list and I saw him checking some names off. I couldn't read the list from where I stood but I could see that everyone else had a check mark by their name so my aunt had been correct in that we must be the last to arrive.

My dad and aunt shook hands with the couple while the kids sat quietly. I noticed the boy was eying my aunt and smiling – as did my aunt.

"There's my Johnny," my aunt said to him, smiling sweetly at him. Again, they may have been saying hello at any event. That is, until she said, "So is my favorite young man going to screw me today?"

At first I didn't realize someone was talking to me so I didn't respond but then I felt a poke on the shoulder and a nudge in my butt. I turned and saw a boy about my height looking me in the eye. Glancing down, it was apparent what I'd felt against my butt.

"I SAID, sit on my dick," he repeated himself, a little more firmly this time.

It was like he felt I owed it to him and for a moment I felt a little flush come to my face but it wasn't from any embarrassment. Crap, he could at least ASK! Then again, I'd gotten the idea that while this event may have been staged by the parents, the kids ruled!

"Well, sit down so I can," I retorted, slapping his erect cock with the palm of my hand playfully.

He sat on the matt, resting his head on the chest of some woman who was being fucked by someone else's son. She didn't seem to mind! He didn't seem the least bit interested in foreplay so I straddled his hips and squatted down until his dick was pressing against my well-lubed pussy. I rotated my hips, letting my pussy rub against the tip of his dick but not quit pushing down enough to press it into me.

The boy suddenly lifted up his hips which pushed him into me. To be fair, I wanted it in me as much as he did by that time so when his hips dropped back down again, I was still sitting on his cock.

"Nice pussy," he complimented me, finally saying something nice to me.

I lowered myself down until my full weight was on his crotch and then ground my pussy down against his pubic bone. Reaching down, I started to play with my clit as I rotated around on his stiff shaft. It was an adult-sized cock and felt pretty damn good!

I was only on him for about five minutes before he tried to sit up.

"Not bad... thanks for the fuck," he said abruptly.

It was like he was some sort of sexual buffet where he was just trying to sample all the available dishes - or should I say pussies in this case. I wondered if he even knew that I wasn't a mom? Well, I wasn't going to tell him. I stood up, letting his cock flop out of me and then he just turned away without another word and left to look for a new mom to fuck.

For the next hour or so the only ones who wanted to fuck me were the fathers. It seemed that there were fewer boys than any other age group so they pretty much had their pick of the moms, with some of the moms having to get together with just one boy if they didn't want to just wait their turn. As such I doubt I would have made

Yes, I understand that it can work under certain circumstances, but in the general interest of children it can't be assumed that such control is always exercised or that the kids are benefiting in the way I witnessed.

Now if EVERY situation was the way I was involved, where I saw young boys and girls mature years ahead of their peers and truly enjoying what they were doing, then maybe I would feel differently. Unfortunately that's not the world we live in.

Finally, I just want to say something that I have always said regarding incest and it applies to child sex as well. You don't have to have sex with your kids to show them that you love them!

thoughts, I quickly stripped, laying my clothes on the bed, and quietly made my way back to the study in my bare feet.

"Hi daddy, horny tonight?" I said just loud enough to get his attention.

My dad jumped at the unexpected interruption and twisted around in his chair to see who it was. A smile came to his face as he recognized his only daughter standing in the doorway, wearing nothing but a smile.

"Hey baby, wasn't expecting you tonight... as you can see," he said with a chuckle, glancing down at the erection in his hand, "Wow, you look great tonight. Something going on I need to know about?"

I quickly got to the point, explaining that with Kristen going out tonight I was feeling horny and I knew my aunt would be out so I thought that maybe he might like some attention. My dad stood up, kicking off his shorts and pulling his T-shirt up and over his head so that he was now nude as well.

"Well you know I'm always happy whenever my favorite daughter stops by to Visit... especially when she shows up naked as the day she was born," he said as he walked across the room and hugged me. I could feel his erection poking me in my stomach as he pulled me in tight to him and grabbed my bare butt in his strong hands.

"Tell me what you want daddy," I whispered in a husky voice as he kissed my neck and ear, "Tell me how to please you. I want to make you happy."

My dad sort of growled and picked me up in his arms, carrying me into his bedroom and laying me gently on the bed. He stood up and looked down at me, stroking his erect dick as he looked me up and down.

"Did I ever tell you that I have the most beautiful daughter in the entire world?"

Maybe a few thousand times but I never tired of it! I smiled at him and my pussy began to tingle but I resisted the impulse to touch myself as I watched him stroking his cock which had magically moved to within inches from my face.

With that he moved in even closer and I turned on my side to face him, taking his dick in my hand at first, replacing his as I slowly stroked him. Then I put my mouth up close, reaching out with my tongue to gently lick the tip of his dick before taking the head in my mouth and sucking on it.

"Oh God... that feels soooooo good Kelly," he groaned, "You look so sexy with my dick in your mouth."

As I sucked him I ran my tongue around his shaft and used my hand to gently play with his hairy balls. I could smell the strong odor of his male musk as I took all of him in my mouth and pressed my face against his thick pubic hair that surrounded his hardened dick like a forest. As I sucked on him I looked up at him and our eyes met. I could see the terrible desire he had for me, the unquenchable urges that were in him to fuck me and mate me. It made me feel so sexy and hot to see how badly my own father wanted me. I knew at that moment he wanted nothing more in the world than to have sex with me.

"I REALLY need to fuck you," he finally said, stepping back just enough to pull his dick from my mouth.

I looked up at him expectedly, waiting for him to take the lead. My dad pushed me on my back and then grabbed my legs, twisting me around so they hung off the side of the bed and then he lifted them up and over his shoulders so my ass was right on the edge of the bed, lifted up a couple of inches as he put his hands under my ass and supported me. I reached down between my legs and grabbed his dick, guiding it to my hungry pussy.

"Fuck me daddy," I said in a stronger voice this time.

Of course he didn't NEED me to say it but I knew that no matter how many times I'd said those exact same words to him in the past, he never tired of it. It was like that between us; he called me sexy and beautiful and I asked him to fuck me. Neither of us could ever hear those words enough it seemed.

"Here you go baby... daddy's going to fuck you now... just the way you like it," he said as he pushed himself into me.

The feel of my father's swelled cock head as it penetrated me, pushing my pussy open and stretching me out as it entered, made me gasp with pleasure. Oh my god, the feel of his dick as it first enters me is something I can NEVER get enough of. There's just something special and unique to have your own father pushing his erection into you that's like nothing else imaginable. Sure it feels good when ANY dick first enters me but it's extra special when it's my own father. Part of it may be that I love seeing the expression on his face as he fucks me, to see how much he enjoys it, how much he craves my pussy. I love seeing how much I please him, knowing that I'm doing something that nobody else in the world can - give him his daughter's pussy.

"Yes daddy... just like that," I sighed as he began to thrust himself into me.

Soon he pulled out and flipped me over so my feet were on the floor and I was laying on my belly on the bed. I could feel his hands reaching under my ass and spreading me apart again for his dick to enter me and then he fucked me from behind.

Finally we both got up on the bed and my dad moved over me, his body between my spread legs as he lay on top of me and we kissed as his dick moved in and out of his daughter's welcoming pussy. I could feel my breasts pressing against his hair chest, my legs wrapped around him as his butt moved up and down to drill me with his dick. His hand were wrapped in my hair, tugging on it gently and then running his fingers through it as we both cried out with pleasure.

He was the first to cum, releasing his incestuous sperm in my pussy as he thrust himself deep inside of me, holding himself there as his dick erupted and have me his seed. The faint feel of his cumming in me, the realization that he was giving me something only my father could give me, was enough to push me over the edge and my pussy clamped down on his cock as my own orgasm arose within me.

"That's it baby... cum for your daddy," he whispered hoarsely in my ear as his tongue ran over my face, neck and ear lobes.

Well, cum I did as my orgasm went on and on until I lay limp under my father's embrace, his dick still in me as we remained coupled together as one body. My legs dropped and I just laid there, unable to move, reveling in the afterglow of my orgasm, loving the feel of my father's dick in me.

"I love you so much daddy," I said in a barely audible voice, overwhelmed by the erotic and loving experience.

"I love you too Kelly... more than I can ever say."

"I know daddy... you just showed me," I sighed and indeed, that was exactly how I felt at that moment.

Like, what better way for a father to express his love for his daughter than what my dad had just done to me? For a moment I felt guilty that was about to tell him something that he wouldn't want to hear. How could I tell him I wasn't going to go to any more family parties after what he had just done to me? He had just given me the most precious gift he had and now I was going to crush his hopes and dreams?

I almost changed my mind but in my heart I knew it was the right thing to do. After he pulled out of me and dropped on his back next to me, I moved down and pressed my cum-filled pussy against his leg as I took his sperm and cum filled dick in my hand, leaning over to clean him off with my mouth. Mmmmmmm, I loved the mixture of my father's sperm and my on pussy cum! He jerked involuntarily as my tongue worked over his still ultra-sensitive cock.

Taking a deep breath, I finally came out and did my best to explain to him how I felt about the parties. Of course the prepared speech that I'd practiced a hundred time completely escaped me but somehow I made it through. Fortunately my plan had worked... when had my dad EVER refused me anything right after I let him fuck me? He pretty much accepted what I told him without protest although I could see the look of disappointment on his face. I tried to make him feel better by sucking on his dick again for a while and assured him that I'd do anything to please him and that if he really wanted me to go then I would. Of course he said that wasn't necessary and I smiled as best as could while I held him in my mouth.

Yep, that was my loving dad, the most incredible man in the world. As much as I knew it meant to him to take me to that party, he would never force me to go now that he knew how I felt about it. It was like anal sex. My dad LOVED anal sex but he knew I hated it so he never pushed me to do it.

Eventually I got dressed and headed back home, feeling much better about everything. Indeed, it had been a perfect evening. I'd pleased my father and at the same time, worked out an issue that had been bothering me greatly. Isn't it wonderful how incest can help to make everything work out?

Well, my dad's a pretty good lawyer and so when it comes to reading between the lines and using technicalities to make a case, there's none better. A couple of days later I was surprised to see him at my front door. Actually, except for back when I'd first moved in he'd never been to the house so I figured something Really important must be up. I just didn't know what... My heart jumped as I thought maybe it might be something to do with my mom! Was she coming back to him? Well, it turned out to be nothing quite so dramatic.

"Hey baby girl... Ummmmm, can your dear old dad come in?" he teased me as I stood there speechless for a moment.

I mean like I was REALLY surprised. Again, my dad NEVER came to visit me, I ALWAYS went to him. There wasn't anything in writing that required this arrangement, it was just the way things were. I was the daughter, therefore I go to my dad, it was just that simple.

As luck would have it, I was wearing one of his dress shirts that I'd "borrowed" some time ago. When I lived at home they were some of my favorite things to wear around the house and even though he pretended to grumble, especially when I would swipe one of his newer ones, I knew he really enjoyed seeing me in them. It just shows how NOT dressing ultra-sexy at times can actually be more appealing to guys. I could wear one of his shirts that hung down to my knees and completely covered my boobs and that seemed to turn him on more than seeing me in nothing but a tight t-shirt that I'd outgrown, displaying everything from my belly button down and outlining my boobs and nipples.

"Nice shirt," he teased me as I closed the door behind him.

Actually it WAS a nice shirt, light blue with long sleeves that I kept rolled up to my elbows. I had it about half-buttoned but it was so large that I probably could've not buttoned it at all and it still would have kept me covered, at least most of the time. The important thing for me was that it was loose and cool and I just enjoyed wearing it around the house.

"So daddy... Ummmmm... something wrong?" I asked, filled with curiosity.

My dad looked a little uneasy but he smiled at me and replied, "No baby, can't a father just stop by to see his beautiful and sexy daughter without an ulterior motive?"

I looked at him with my eyebrows furrowed and shook my head. "Well, not really." We both laughed and I continued, "You have to admit dad, this is not the norm for you."

My dad looked up at the sky and sighed. Then he stepped forward and hugged me. As we kissed, his hands pulled up the shirt behind me, exposing my butt to the air and then he grabbed one ass cheek in each hand and pulled me in to him as out kiss went on.

"Maybe I just wanted to show my baby girl how much I her," he murmured in my ear, squeezing my ass tightly in his large hands.

As much as I loved hearing him say that, I knew that he was still holding something back so I decided to bargain and break the ice.

"I tell you what daddy, if I suck your dick will you tell me why you came here?"

My dad laughed so hard he almost choked. "Maybe THAT is why I came over."

I looked more sternly at him a I reached down and started to unbuckle his belt. "I know better daddy... you know you can stop by anytime for that but you don't."

By then I had his belt undone and was working on the clasp of his dress pants. It came apart finally and I unzipped his pants, letting them drop to his ankles as I worked on lowering his striped boxer shorts to join them. Holding his semi-erect dick in my hand, I licked my lips and stared him straight in the eyes. "So do we have a deal?"

Again he laughed but he nodded his head and said, "Deal... You know that's the easiest contract I've made all day!"

I kneeled in front of him and stroked his dick which was just an inch or so from my face. I could feel it begin to stiffen in my hand so I took the head in my mouth and let my tongue play along the sides and bottom of his cock. As I did I kept my eyes on his, waiting for him to keep his end of the bargain.

"God I love watching you do that," he said in a deep voice, the lust definitely beginning to come out.

"You promised," I said quickly, momentarily letting him out of my mouth so I could talk and then taking him right back in again.

"OK, OK," he chuckled, "But you can't blame me for being distracted."

As I slowly sucked his dick, my dad started to tell me about the offer he'd just been made. As soon as he mentioned the party last weekend my heart went to my throat. Immediately I jumped to the conclusion that he was going to give in to his more perverted urges and tell me that I had to go with him to another family party. I felt a bit of panic as I knew I couldn't say no to my father yet at the same time I couldn't believe my dad would even think to ask me knowing my feelings about the matter. Then he described the actual event and I was a little confused at first but then I started to get the bigger picture as he went on.

"So Kelly, I know I promised that I would never ask you to go to another FAMILY Party and I would never go back on a promise," he rationalized, "But this one is just for dads and their daughters so it's really not families, is it? What do you think? Will you come with me?"

Have you ever tried to work through a complex issue while sucking on an erect dick, especially when it's your father's cock in your mouth? I just kept still for a moment, holding him in my mouth without moving while my mind raced. No wonder my dad was such a good lawyer! He was correct in that our agreement had been about families, not fathers and daughters. Without the moms and brothers then you couldn't say it was a family event. I was caught in his logic. Under the circumstances, how could I refuse my father's request since it was perfectly valid?

To stall for some time, I turned my attention back to his dick and started to suck him in earnest. I didn't just suck and bob my head but licked it up and down, sometimes using my lips on the side of it almost like eating an ear of corn. I loved the feel of it against my boobs and face as well. Still, the place it felt most natural was in my mouth. God I love the feel of a man's erect dick in my mouth. Well, make that any dick, erect or not!

"Don't stop Kelly," he groaned, putting his hands on my head, grabbing my hair at the roots and pulling me into his hairy crotch, "Oh god... just like THAT! Don't stop... PLEASE don't stop!"

I was stroking the base of his dick with one hand, cupping his balls with the other, while sucking with as much force as I could on his cock head with my tongue running over the tip. From the way he was involuntarily thrusting himself in to my mouth and the pressure of his hands on the back of my head, I knew he was about to explode.

"Oh Kellyyyyyyyyy," my dad groaned as I felt him jerk and then the first shot of cum spewed into my mouth, shooting all the way to the back of my throat where I swallowed it while trying to keep his dick in my mouth. It was followed by several more loads, each staying in my mouth, each swallowed in turn until he had finished.

When he was finally done, I looked up at him and licked my lips, opening my mouth to show him that I'd swallowed everything he had given me.

"Yes daddy," I said softly, submitting to my father's wishes, "I'll go."

My dad grinned and pulled me up to my feet and kissed me, even after having just cum in my mouth.

"You're the most wonderful daughter a man could ever ask for," he whispered in my ear as he licked and ran his tongue around the outside of it.

"Oh I already know THAT," I joked flippantly and we both laughed.

We sat down on the couch and spent the next hour or so talking about life in general with no further mention of any parties. He seemed about ready to go but I wasn't about to pass up this opportunity. If my dad was only going to visit my house just once a year, then I was going to make the most of it.

"You know daddy, you haven't fucked me in my bed in a LONG time," I purred, reaching down to play with his cock.

He did!

3. Getting Started

The father-daughter party was only a couple of days away so it wasn't like I had as much time to dwell on it as I had the family party - which was probably for the best. Kristen was SO jealous when I told her about it. It was too bad really and I had to feel sorry for her. She never knew her dad as he'd divorced her mom when she was barely two years old. I guess this sort of thing just hit a nerve over her not having a REAL father at times like this. My dad had always treated her more like a daughter than a niece since she was little, but it was never quite the same as being his real daughter no matter how much they tried.

The party was scheduled for Saturday afternoon at 2:00. My dad didn't tell me where it was going to be, just that he would pick me up about 1:30 or so which told me it had to be closer than the place where the family party was held. With only eight people total it could be done about anywhere so I wasn't sure if it would be someone's home or where. I guess it really didn't matter, I was just curious. Who wouldn't be?

My dad had told me earlier not to worry about what I wore but at the same time he sort of hinted that he wouldn't mind showing me off a little so I took that to mean nothing conservative. As hot as it was that day, I made the easy decision and went with my standard slut outfit - short cutoffs and a tight cami with heels. I debated putting my hair back in a ponytail or letting it hang to my shoulders. In the end I went with the ponytail. Assuming these girls came from the same stock as the ones at the last party, they would be about half my age so anything I could do to make myself look younger was a given.

For once my dad was right on time, his SUV pulling up to the curb just as our living room clock chimed the half hour. Considering his reputation for always being late, I guess all he needs is the right incentive to be on time! I called out goodbye to Kristen who was moping in her bedroom and ran down the steps to join my dad. I climbed into the SUV and closed the door behind me, reaching to put on the seatbelt.

"Damn, you look hot!" my father greeted me.

I just grinned and pretended to be a little embarrassed at the attention but I loved every bit of it. No girl can EVER be told too many times that she looks good, especially by her father!

With that he took off and headed south until we reached a Holiday Inn near the mall. I was already familiar with it because it had a Sunday Brunch that was pretty good and my family had eaten there a few times in the past. We parked near the front entrance and my dad held my hand as we walked in together. Rather than checking in at the front desk, we stayed in the lobby until the other men showed up with their younger daughters in tow.

With the eight of us together in the lobby I sort of stuck out like a sore thumb. I felt a little funny as I to be at least ten years older than the oldest other girl. Even though I had been expecting exactly this, it still was different when it became real. Indeed, I almost felt like I could have passed for a couple of their mothers! At least one of the guys didn't look all that much older than the guy I was dating!

I looked around the lobby through which a mixture of businessmen, families and hotel staff came and went. None of them seemed to pay any special attention to our little gathering although I couldn't help but smile at some of the second glances a few of the men were giving us girls. Guys can be so silly sometimes, like they think we don't notice. Still, while no doubt more than a few of them had a few naughty thoughts in their heads (both of them no doubt), I doubted any of them had even an inkling of why we were gathered together or what we'd be doing in a few minutes. Besides, I really couldn't blame them as all of us were dressed rather scantily, even keeping in mind the summer weather.

As we sat on some couches in the lobby, each girl next to her father, the fathers made introductions. One thing I noticed that was different right from the start was this time was everyone mentioned their names and ages. This was quite a change from the family party last week where most personal information was kept as just that - personal. Still, no last names were used nor did anyone mention specifically where they lived. I also noted that nobody said anything about who else was in their family, not even their wives.

The oldest girl was Maggie. She was fifteen and her father Jeremy was 38. Then there was Kalin who was twelve with her 37 year-old father Matthew (he said to call him Matt). Finally there was Jessi who proudly announced that she had just had her tenth birthday two weeks earlier. He father was Sandy and was only 29 - just a few years older than me! Obviously he and his wife had Jessi when they were in their teens, I wondered for a moment if it had been planned but then what did it matter? A couple of eyebrows raised when my dad introduced me as being 25 but nobody said anything.

periodically and then going back and forth about something or another. I figured they must have been debating who was going to start out with who or something like that. Meanwhile, we just sat on the bed, with Jessi and Kalin crossing their legs under them Indian-style while Maggie and I sat on the edge with our feet on the floor.

While the fathers talked, I twisted around and looked a little closer at the girls. Maggie was obviously the sexiest and most mature, at least from the traditional definition of sexy. Like me, she'd chosen to wear cutoffs which were every bit as short as mine if not more. Instead of a cami she had on a tube top that barely covered her boobs which I would have guessed to be at least a solid B cup. The ridiculously short shorts showed off her legs which were long and tanned which helped disguise her height - or lack of it. She had jet-black hair that was straight and hung down to the small of her back. Her olive skin complexion and facial features made me think she must have some Italian or other Mediterranean blood in her, probably at least from her father who was the darkest of the men. In a way I felt a little jealous of her as she looked exactly like the girls I use to be so envious of at school when I was her age!

Kalin was more of an enigma to me. A blazing redhead with pale skin who probably avoided the summer sun like the plague, she was dressed in shorts that came down half to her knees with a cute tank top that while not the least bit loose on her. In fact, it was difficult to judge her development unless she was leaning back and stretching it out. She seemed oblivious to everything that was going on, just sitting there in her own little world looking down at her bare feet without talking or even looking at the others in the room. My first thoughts were to wonder if she was here voluntarily? It almost seemed like she was "conditioned" to be here and if that turned out to be the case then I was going to have a VERY hard time dealing with it. Oh well, it was hard to judge anything so far so I wasn't going to say anything until things got started in earnest. I DID know I was going to be keeping an eye on Kalin though.

Then there was cute little Jessi. God, she was soooooo adorable. It was like she was a little doll baby more than a live girl. Her dirty blonde hair was cut short, almost like a boy. She was wearing the cutest little denim skirt that was more like you see a skating professional wearing with pink underwear with little bears on it. Sitting as she was, her skirt was pulled up and her panties were on full display. She didn't seem to have any sense of modesty but at the same time it wasn't like she was trying to

(Nov 26) Chapter 219: Prelude to a Proposal

Me (25)
John - my dad (46)
Steve - boyfriend (27)
Rick - cousin (22)

Sure, I knew Steve was getting close to proposing to me. All my friends kept buzzing about it and he was seeming to be a bit more anxious lately. So the big question now was how would he work himself up to get the courage for the big moment? More importantly, before he asked I had to make sure he knew what he was getting involved with when it came to me and my family. Would it scare him off? What better time to find out then at a family gathering?

1. Family Traditions

If there is one thing my family's big on, it's traditions. That applies to both my mom and dad's side although my dad's family is a lot bigger. My mom had only one sister and each other them had but one daughter - me and my cousin Kristen. In contrast, my father had two brother, Jim being just two years younger while Paul is eight years his elder. My Uncle Jim and Aunt Shari had three kids, two girls and a boy while Uncle Paul and Aunt Julie had two daughters. Both Ginny (30) and Laura (28) were married years ago, each with two kids now themselves. It worked out that Ginny had two boys (six and four) while Laura got the girls (four and three).

Of my other cousins, Rick is 22 but still living at home, or should I say bumming at home. Kate has just turned twenty and studying to work in marketing of some sort while my youngest cousin Tammy is in her senior year of high school. So all told on my dad's side there was fifteen people compared to my poor mom who had just her sister and niece (my Aunt Linda having divorced when Kristen was just two years old.)

As a rule, we all get together at least three times a year - Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter. As the families have gotten larger this has become more difficult to manage, especially as my cousins married into other families with demands of their own, but as a rule most if not all of us kept making it every year. Usually we met at someone's home, trying to rotate it so no one family got stuck with all the work. This year someone got the bright idea of gathering at a "neutral" location and it was hotly debated as to where, with Pigeon Forge winning out.

Why Pigeon Forge? Heck if I know. Well, I DO know that my Uncle Paul owns a timeshare which he was able to trade in for a really nice cabin in the mountains outside the main city area. But then he could have done something similar at just about any place we chose to meet but someone had this big idea that it was the place to meet. Nobody asked me, I guess I was just expected to go along with the group decision.

So back to traditions...

As I started to say, all my life the concept of the sanctity of family has been drilled into me. It's the classic "We may not always get along but we are always family." Another way to put it is, "You can pick your nose but you can't pick your relatives" or something like that. No matter how we might fuss or who is arguing with who, it's just a given that when it comes time for one of our family gatherings that you show up and be nice.

Each family also has its own traditions. I know my Uncle Paul and his family have always had this big Christmas Eve Santa Claus routine where he dresses up as Santa and brings in the toys. It started when the girls were little and now that their grandchildren are here it's like it's been renewed. Uncle Jim and his family go on a big fishing trip every Memorial Day weekend up to some cabin by Lake Erie where they have stayed every year since I can remember.

Some traditions are publicized while others are kept more private. For instance, almost none of my father's side of the family is involved in incest and indeed, if most of them knew, especially my aunts, all hell would break loose. In contrast, my mom, aunt and cousin Kristen have been in incestuous relationships since my grandfather started things out by taking my mom and aunt's virginity within days of each other back when they were fourteen and twelve years old.

For my immediate family, the 4th of July became a tradition back when I was eighteen and first learned that my dad had started having sex with my cousin Kristen while I was away as a freshman at college. Since then we always get together on the 4th and it's one of the few times that we all enjoy one another together as a family.

So in the grand scheme of things there are overall family traditions, then the individual family traditions, and finally the more personal ones. For instance, my Uncle Paul and Aunt Julie spend every wedding anniversary at the same cabin in the Pocono Mountains where they spent their honeymoon.

When I was still in high school and living at home, one of my favorite traditions was having my dad stop by my room each morning as he got ready for work. Now that I no longer live at home I can't please him in that way very often so that's been replaced by our Sunday morning tradition where whenever possible I stop by his house just before church and we have sex and then go straight to church immediately after. We've been doing it for so long now that it's like I feel bad all week when we miss a week.

So now it was time for the annual Thanksgiving gathering. As I said, plans were for us all to drive down there and meet at the cabin. I HATE long car drives but with my Aunt Linda and Kristen joining us that always helped the time to go by more quickly. There WAS one big difference this year - my boyfriend Steve and his mother would be joining us.

Steve was actually my first boyfriend back when I was just fourteen and still a virgin. He was the older brother of Sharon, one of my best friends and I had a major crush on him. I never dared dream that he would ever ask me out but after flirting with him at a weekend camping trip with Sharon and some of our friends, I was thrilled when he called to ask me out. Making a long story short, I wasn't a virgin much longer and for the next six months or so, Steve and I had sex as often as I could get him to give it to me. During that time he was the only boy I had sex with and I even dreamed that someday he might marry me.

It crushed me when Steve's mom was transferred to the west coast. His dad had dumped her for some young bimbo at work and so she had to pretty much do whatever her work required. We tried to keep in touch but over time that faded and the next time I heard from him was years later when I got a wedding announcement in the mail. If I had been crushed when he moved away, all those feelings reemerged and if anything I felt even more devastated. No matter how many guys I'd had sex with after Steve left, not to mention my own father, I never fully forgot my first love. Yes, I DID go to the wedding just to see who he was marrying. By the time it was over

I had a pretty good idea it wouldn't last for long. Face it, it's not a good sign when the first girl the groom fucks after he says his wedding vows isn't his new wife!

Despite myself, I felt a little guilty when I heard their marriage was soon annulled but not THAT guilty. It was years later before I heard from him again and then it came as a shock when out of the blue someone tapped me on the shoulder just after a church service. It was Steve! As it turned out his mom had been transferred back to the 'burgh. Steve had just finished his paramedic training and was looking for a job so he moved back with her and was now living with her while trying to get his feet in the ground. His sister Sharon and younger brother stayed in California with their friends and careers.

It was like all those years apart had never happened as Steve and I reunited - in more ways than one. We tried to keep open minds and didn't go "exclusive" but in my heart I knew he was "the one" from the first time I laid eyes on him. I'd had a number of boyfriends over the years and there was one I even thought I might marry but he had betrayed me and left me bitter and distrustful. Steve was the best thing to happen to me in years!

As we dated and got together whenever possible, I found myself wondering if Steve felt the same about me. I think from the day he first found me in church had he proposed to me I would have said YES without hesitation and every day since then I just felt it all the more. I like to think that the reason he moved back with his mother was to see me again although he has never admitted it. My girlfriends all loved him and even my dad approved - a MAJOR plus for Steve. Now all he had to do was ask the right question.

As anxious as I was for THE question, I was always worried about one thing. My Aunt Linda had married a man who thought he understood what it meant for his wife to have an incestuous relationship with her family but he never really was exposed to it until after the wedding. Although they hung together for almost three years, he never accepted it. Their divorce served as a constant reminder to me that whoever I married had to be fully accepting of my lifestyle. As I said from the beginning, I've been raised such that family is my number one priority. My aunt was forced to choose between her family and her husband and I never want to be placed in such a horrible situation myself.

Back when I thought Duane was about to propose to me, I didn't tell him everything, but just enough to see how he might react. What I found was that just knowing my aunt and cousin had sex was enough to push him over the edge to where he actually turned on me and betrayed me, threatening to expose me to my church and school. Had not my dad stepped in, I don't know what might have happened. What my dad did exactly I've never been told but I never want to have to ask him for that sort of help again.

One thing I had going for me was I knew Steve was not a TOTAL stranger to incest. His sister Sharon had a crush on him and she was insanely jealous of me when she learned I was having sex with him. Steve never had any such interest in his sister though, no matter how she tried, but it wasn't like he didn't know about it. The real secret was one we didn't even talk about these days. Back when we dated his mother had "caught" us having sex in their house. She even took pictures. The shocker was that before it was over Steve and her did it as well, right in front of me! It was the first time I witnessed an incestual act and it was between my boyfriend and his mother! Now he swore that it had never happened again but at the same time at least he has been exposed to the concept in a positive manner. Well, it seemed VERY positive at the time.

Even though we'd been dating now since June, so far as I knew Steve was still totally in the dark when it came to my family relationships. Heck, if anything Steve was far more intimate with his mother than I was with my father when Steve was around. My quandary was, how do you tell someone you love that you have been having sex with your father for more than nine years?? It's not like some porn novel where you just go up and say it and suddenly everyone gets horny and a family orgy ensues. This was real life and I knew from past experiences that it simply doesn't work that way. What if I told Steve and he was repulsed and broke up with me? Sure in the long run that would be the best for both of us but it wasn't what I wanted to happen no matter what. All I knew was that I'd better hurry as my cousin and friends were started to kid me that Steve was getting ready to pop the question. If they were right, then I had work to do because I wanted to say YES when the time came!

2. Road Trip

When I was little, if there was thing that drove me nuts it was being locked in a car for hours on end. Maybe had I been raised differently it would've been different but our family rarely drove long distances. Going to Grove City north of Pittsburgh to visit my mom's parents was considered a TRIP and that was less than two hours. The absolute worse was our annual pilgrimage to the Chicago area to visit my Dad's them look and wish all they wanted. It just made him feel all the better being the one I turned to when it came to really having sex.

This would be the first road trip with Steve joining us as a family so I wasn't really sure how it was going to go down. To make things complicated, his mother would be traveling with us. To further muddy the waters, she was well aware that her son and I were having sex. In fact, she made it a point to watch us whenever she had the chance. I have to admit that it was more than just a little bit weird at first for her to come in the room and just sit in a chair and watch as her son had sex with me. Over time I learned to ignore her as she never showed any interest whatsoever in joining in or even saying anything. When we were done she would leave without even once so much as touching herself. Of course I had no idea what she did when she returned to her room, but when she was with us she was the model of self-control.

What made it interesting was that while she had no idea of anything going on within my family, everyone in my family knew everything about her, including her little fetish about watching her son and girlfriend having sex. I wasn't sure if she would be mortified or titillated had she known everyone knew so for the time being I just kept my mouth shut about it when I was with her.

Before anyone gets the wrong idea, I want to reiterate that there is nothing going on between Steve and his mother today. I'll admit that at first I had some hefty suspicions that they were doing things when I wasn't there. Face it, how many mothers enjoy watching their sons having sex? That said, how many boys are OK with their mothers watching in the first place?

While they never did any really sexual together, Steve and Marlene were quite touchy-feely so when he came home and kissed his mom, it wasn't your typical mother-son peck on the cheek but more like my dad would have given my mom after a long day at work! Sitting together with us on the couch, she wasn't shy about cuddling next to him and while she kept her hands away from his crotch, pretty much everything else as fair game. She also didn't have any problems with his roaming hands either, even when they were on her breasts. It was always over something but sometimes that "something" was not much more than a thin cotton t-shirt or a silk robe. It was a rather unique thing they had going but at the same time, they each seemed to know where the line was and so far as I'd ever seen, they never crossed it.

While his mother certainly saw HIM nude plenty, she never was naked in front of him, at least not that I've ever witnessed. When it was just me there, like when I was waiting for him to get home or work, she wasn't shy about being nude and if anything she might have been eligible for being called a nudist except that when Steve was home she always wore something on top with her panties, even if it was just a bra.

The reason I say all this is I had NO idea what was going to happen on our long drive coming up but I got the idea it would be interesting if nothing else. My dad's SUV had three rows of seats so it was to be my mom and dad up front, Steve, his mom and me in the middle, and Kristen would get the third seat all to herself in back. The last seat really was meant for kids as it had very little leg room so although it supposedly held two people, it really was only large enough for one and Kristen was the smallest of us all anyway.

Had it been summer things might have been even more interesting but with the end of November arriving, shorts with a cami or bikini tops were NOT the dress code. That didn't mean we needed to be dressed in parkas while in the SUV, but we still would need to get out now and then so a little concession had to be given to the weather. Most of our luggage was piled on top of the SUV on the luggage rack as there was just a little space behind Kristen and it was rapidly filled with a couple of overnight bags. It probably would've been better to take two vehicles but nobody wanted to split up and besides, it would've doubled the gas costs.

My school let out the entire week of Thanksgiving so my schedule was open for whatever was needed. Steve wasn't eligible for any vacation days yet so he just had to arrange for his shifts to be covered and take the pay hit for missed work. Marlene didn't say anything about her work much but she didn't seem to have any problem getting off. Kristen and her mom's realty work was practically zero during a holiday week so it want like they were missing anything. The only person with schedule issues was my dad but as one of the senior partners nobody would give him any flack about taking whatever time he needed. It's not like he didn't work ridiculous hours normally anyways.

As such, we decided to leave early Wednesday morning which should get us there sometime late in the day. Our plans were to return home Sunday which gave us three solid days to relax and enjoy. I'd never been to the area but I heard it was pretty and mountainous so I was looking forward to the trip.

***************

"So is Stevie going to pop the question this weekend?"

I just huffed in response. It was only about the one hundredth time my cousin had asked this past week so the joke was getting a little stale. Besides, I hated it when she called him "Stevie" like he was a little boy. Steve might be a lot of things but he was NO little boy!

We'd been packing for the trip in the morning. How I was supposed to fit everything into one suitcase was beyond me. My dad should have just broken down and rented a trailer if we weren't going to take two cars.

My frustrations with having to choose between outfits and my cousins incessant nagging had me about ready to snap!

"Oh c'mon cuz, just teasin' ya," she said, slapping me playfully on my bare butt which I'd unwittingly exposed to her from under my T-shirt as I leaned over in yet another vain attempt to force my suitcase closed.

"Well, he'd better pretty soon if he wants to get any," I grumbled, putting my hand to my cheek as I tried to figure out what to leave behind. It ALL was so necessary!

"Yeah right, like YOU are going to hold out on anyone," she taunted me.

"I can say no," I came back to her with my arms crossed on my chest.

"Oh yeah? Like when?" she teased me even more. Well, maybe some other guy but I had to admit, it Would be hard to say no to Steve, especially when he was hard.

"So anyway, how's this gonna work with his mother coming along and all?" she asked, getting more serious for a moment. "Like, is she gonna freak or what if we start having fun on the trip?

"I turned to her and wagged my finger at her. "Now listen Kristen, we talked about this. I really need you to behave."

"Don't I always?" she said, trying to act all sweet and innocent, "Your dad never complains."

"You know what I mean," I warned her again.

"All I got to say is that it's gonna be a LONG trip if we just count license plates," she fumed, "If you're not going to do anything then don't go blaming me for what happens."

"DAMN!" I hissed under my breath.

Kristen's eyes widened but it wasn't her I was pissed at. I thought I had the suitcase conquered but just then the damn clasp came undone again.

"Why do you need so many clothes anyway? It's not like anyone will care what you're wearing."

She was technically correct but it was the principle. In any case I didn't care about my relatives, I wanted to look good for Steve this weekend. It was like she was reading my mind.

"The only thing Steve will want to see you in your birthday suit anyway," she giggled, reaching out to run her fingers between my legs quickly before she scampered out as I reached to slap her hand.

What could I say - she had a point. If it been just me and Steve, then I probably could have brought nothing but a small night bag with my toiletries. Although on my own I rarely, if ever, ran around naked, I knew Steve loved nothing more than for me to be nude around him so I tried best I could to make him happy. THAT wasn't going to work this weekend though! Although I'm sure the men wouldn't have said a word, I knew a couple of aunts that would have been mortified if came out in even a T-shirt in front of their husbands!

Finally I worked things out and got the damn suitcase closed. I'd actually worked up a bit of a sweat so I stripped off my T-shirt and went in to the bathroom take a quick shower before flopping in bed naked to go to sleep. As I laid there on my back with the covers over me, I slowly masturbated, drifting off to sleep with erotic visions of my hot boyfriend fucking me in front of my family.

The alarm went off minutes later, or at least that's how it felt. I only had barely a half hour before my dad was picking us up so I had to hurry. I didn't even have time to masturbate which frustrated me and I knew it wasn't a good omen. I slipped on some tight jeans and was about to put on a blouse when inspiration struck me. I dug through my drawer and picked out a skimpy white lace half-cup bra that clasped in front and slipped it on. It pushed up and pressed in my boobs, making them look really good in the mirror. Then I put on a blouse but left it unbuttoned such that it hung mostly closed but when I moved it showed off my bra clearly but wouldn't get me arrested for indecent exposure. A pair of heels would have looked better but I knew they'd be pain in the ass in the SUV do I just grabbed a pair of sneakers and put them on without socks.

My hair was a bit of a wreck from sleeping in it wet and I really didn't have time to do much with it so I just pulled it back into a ponytail. A gold ankle bracelet, my watch, and a diamond cross on a gold chain around neck completed the outfit. I looked in the mirror and smiled. I thought it seemed appropriate for the company I'd be in today. A little slutty yet publicly acceptable - if barely.

I lugged my stuffed suitcase down the steps to the entryway where Kristen was already waiting. It was just in time as my dad pulled up with Steve and his mom right behind them. Steve was helping transfer their suitcases to my dad's SUV while my dad came to grab mine and Kristen's.

"Damn Kelly, did you bring your pet rock collection?" he groaned rather melodramatically as he hefted my suitcase up with one hand while he grabbed Kristen's in the other.

"It's ALL necessary," I said defensively, crossing my arms as if daring him to debate me.

Steve just shook his head and somehow managed to get everything tied down for us to leave.

"Good morning Marlene," I greeted Steve's mom. "You've met Kristen before I think."

Steve's mom turned to Kristen and reached out her hand. "Actually it's been a long time dear. But I HAVE heard so much about you."

Kristen grinned and Steve's mom had that twinkle in her eye so I didn't know if she was teasing Kristen or just being polite. Either way she had already charmed my cousin.

I introduced Marlene to my dad and aunt. I'd been trying to remember if my dad had met her back when I was dating Steve but unless it had been around town I couldn't recall any time that he might have. In any case, they shook hands and she thanked him for inviting he AND for driving her down.

"Thanks so much John," she went on, "I really had no idea what I'd be doing all alone this Thanksgiving. With the rest of the kids so far away we just couldn't work anything out. This is all so considerate of you."

My dad assured her that it was his pleasure and indeed it was as I watched him give her the once over without trying to hide his interest. Steve's mom wasn't exactly a Playmate of the Year but she was not bad either. She kept her weight in check and had a pretty good figure and overall looked like one of those mothers at the PTA meetings that all the other husbands couldn't stop staring at. Now that my dad wasn't married, she wasn't off-limits anymore. Hmmm, I had really thought about THAT! Evidently I wasn't the only one to notice his wandering eyes as my Aunt Linda moved in and poked him in the side with her finger, reminding him we needed to get on the road.

As planned, we all got in our seats with me in the middle as I was the smallest. Steve sat behind my Aunt Linda as he was the tallest and she moved her seat up as far as she could to accommodate his long legs. Marlene was stuck behind my dad who needed his seat all the way back when he drove. Still, it wasn't one of those wimpy new SUVs by any means so we all had plenty of room. Whether we still felt that way six or nine hours from now could be a different story...

As I got myself situated, my blouse shifted and opened a bit. Marlene nudged me and whispered in my ear, "Kelly, I think you forgot to button something."

I grinned at hear and whispered back, "I don't think Steve will mind, do you?"

She smiled at that but then nodded towards the front seat. "Yeah but what about your dad and aunt?"

"They won't see anything... don't worry, it's all OK."

Marlene shrugged and my dad called back, "Hey, no whispering, if you're going to say something share it with everybody."

"Marlene was asking me how my period was going," I teased him. My Aunt poked my dad and said, "That will teach you to mind your own business John!" Everyone laughed and we got off to a good start.

It was Steve's turn to whisper this time. "Ummmmm, you're really not..."

I just rolled my eyes and grinned, shaking my head. Silly boy! Now THAT would have complicated matters but fortunately there was no danger of that happening. On nice thing about being on the pill so long was my period was like clockwork.

My dad had the GPS set and the sexy voice said we had eight and a half hours to go before we arrived at our destination. The trip was supposed to be all highways so knowing my dad, he would probably trim at least an hour off of that estimate. Still, it was going to be a long trip not matter how many speed limits he broke and my butt was already starting to feel sore before even the first hour had passed. Things had quieted down after the initial conversations so I turned towards Steve and put my head on his shoulder as he draped his strong arm around me. Before long his hand wandered down to my breasts and he brushed aside my blouse to reveal my bra.

"A bra?" he whispered, "Shit, I didn't know you even OWNED one!"

"Well I DO but at least it's an easy one," I said softly back, moving his hand to the single clasp in front.

My boyfriend took the hint and unsnapped me, freeing me from its confines. It felt soooooo much better to have it loosened. His hand quickly moved to my exposed breast and at first he just held it such that my nipple was between his fingers. I sat there with my arm wrapped around him, just enjoying the feeling of being close to him.

With my head on Steve's shoulder I couldn't see the other side of me but I heard a little cough as his mother cleared her throat. Steve shifted so he could get a feel of my other boob and the mysterious ailment afflicting his mother caused her to cough again. I looked back over my shoulder and she was clearly looking at my open blouse. When she saw I was looking at her, her eyes moved towards the front, obviously trying to tell me that my parents were there. Yeah, like I didn't know that.

"It's OK Marlene, let the two lovebirds do their thing," my Aunt called back.

Evidently she had heard the coughing fit and must have checked things out in her visor mirror. "From what I've heard I didn't think it would bother you."

Marlene's face immediately went beet red and I could have killed my aunt. To be fair my aunt didn't say exactly WHAT she'd heard but in a way that was even worse as it left Marlene to worry as to just how much I'd told everyone. It was one thing to watch your son having sex with his girlfriend, another to have her father and aunt know about it. Well, it would've been cruel to keep her in suspense so I turned and sat up for a moment, my blouse hanging open with my boobs both open to the air.

"I'm so sorry Marlene, I didn't mean to embarrass you," I apologized, "Don't worry, you're not the only one who likes to watch."

Marlene looked at me with a puzzled expression as she tried to process what I'd just said. Then she looked up front to see my Aunt looking back in her mirror with grin.

"You mean she does too?" she asked me softly.

I nodded and then she took a breath as if she needed a moment to get the courage to continue.

"And your dad?"

"Sometimes," I said nonchalantly, as if every dad did it.

Technically I wasn't lying. Back when I was in school my dad use to watch me and my boyfriends through a crack in the door when I brought them home. Although he hadn't ever seen Steve fuck me, I didn't have to tell Marlene that, just as I didn't tell her that my dad preferred fucking me himself rather than watching me get it from someone else.

"Well... THAT'S certainly interesting," she said as she sat back in her seat, taking it all in.

My initial irritation with my aunt passed and I had to admit I owed her one from bringing it out and getting it over with. I might have wasted away the entire trip working up the courage to say anything, if ever. Now it was pretty much open season for me and Steve and he seemed to get the same understanding that I was. I snuggled back up to him again and his hand returned to my exposed breast, cupping it and gently squeezing it.

About then my dad announced that we'd be stopping for breakfast at the next exit. He leaned his head back but kept his eyes on the road as he called back, "You might think about snapping things back together Kelly." I knew he was just saying that to tease me but Marlene's eyes widened a bit as the nonchalant way he said it, like he was just telling me to put my shoes on or something.

I sat up, pushed my boobs back in place and clasped the bra back together again.

"That's a pretty bra Kelly, where did you get it?" Marlene asked.

I had to catch myself as I almost told her the truth but I wasn't sure if she was ready to find out that my dad did more than watch me but also got a kick out of buying me lingerie. Perhaps the buying part wouldn't have shocked her as much as how I liked to model it for him and then show my appreciation. In any case, I told her it was from Victoria Secret which was the truth, even though I hadn't been the one buying it.

"Yes, they have such nice things but they're so expensive," she went on, evidently trying to strike up a conversation when she didn't know what else to say.

"Well, it helps when you get someone else to buy it for you?" I grinned. She glanced over at Steve, obviously thinking her son had been the one to buy it and smiled.

"Of course, nothing's really free, is it?" I joked and she smiled but not as much as me since I was the only one who knew who I'd actually "paid" for the bra.

My dad pulled into a Bob Evans and we all got out and fortunately didn't have to wait long before we were seated at a large booth. We all squeezed in with Kristen between my dad and her mom and me between Steve and his. The waitress was an older lady and I noticed a quick glance at my semi-opened blouse together with a slight pursing of her lips but she ignored me after that. The restaurant was packed and we were lucky to get the booth but it was barely big enough to hold six.

My hand drifted over under the table and rested on Steve's crotch, rubbing his slowly as we looked through the menu's. I felt him shifting in his seat and respond through his jeans and wished we were alone back in the SUV. God I was so horny! We had maybe six or seven hours left before getting to the cabin and I couldn't even masturbate.

Back in the SUV, things pretty much resumed as they had been prior to breakfast only everyone was now full and even less talkative. Steve quickly opened my bra back up again but it still was a pain so I sat up and worked the straps through the sleeves of my blouse, then down over my hands and pulled it off, dropping it in his lap for safekeeping. It felt so much better to have it off and Steve seemed to appreciate my consideration for him as well.

I had my arm around his waist as he fondled me, closing my eyes as I enjoyed the attention he was giving my breasts. Actually this was sort of nice as typically Steve was the type that quickly moved on to other territory. I mean that while he liked playing with my boobs as much as the next guy, he was usually too horny to forego what he REALLY wanted.

There was just one thing that was bothering me. While I kept my hand on his crotch, there was a heavy layer of denim between the palm of my hand the warm hard object hiding underneath - my favorite object. Had we been traveling alone, or even without his mother for that matter, I would have had those jeans off of him hours ago. It was sort of odd in that EVERYONE in the SUV knew we had sex and several of them had actually witnessed it, yet his mom had no idea just how much of an exhibitionist his son was dating.

I was starting to think maybe I should have been more open about sex with Steve. Sure I never protested even once about her coming in to watch us, but I never had hinted at how I liked to allow others in my family to watch as well. If anything, she would be the type that could understand as she never joined in while watching so why wouldn't it be the same for other family members who watched. Even in my own past I use to have sex with my dad watching and I never even thought about having sex with him later, at least not until I'd been having sex for a couple of years.

My pussy was so wet I felt like I peed myself. Something had to be done... and soon. We still had just under half the journey left so it wasn't like I could just be patient and we'd be there soon. I didn't see where going a little bit farther would hurt anything. It wasn't like I was going to hop on his lap and ride his dick. I just wanted a little bit more.

I looked in the back seat at Kristen who was staring out the back window, looking about as bored as possible. She was nodding off, not paying any attention to anyone. Up front, my dad was driving with his left hand on the steering wheel, holding hands with my aunt using his right. She looked like she might be napping as well, turned sideways in her seat facing my dad with a small pillow under her head. I couldn't really see Marlene and I didn't want to draw any unnecessary attention by twisting around to look at her. Besides, what difference did it make? If she was nodding off too, then she wouldn't even notice and even if she was paying attention, what could she do, assuming she even wanted to?

Steve was turned towards me, his one arm round my neck with his hand reaching down to play with my left boob while his right hand was holding the one on the right. I looked up at him and he smiled, leaning over to kiss me. Mmmmmmm, he tasted so good! It reminded me of when we use to make out on the couch in their old living room, him groping me as we kissed, making my small boobs tingle in his grasp.

Enough was enough. I took my hand and started to work on his belt buckle. Steve shifted slightly, but it was to make it easier for me to reach his waist than to deter me in any way. With one hand it wasn't the easiest thing to undo but Steve wasn't taking his hand off my boob to help me. I'd had plenty of practice before so I worked it out and then worked on unzipping his jeans before undoing the snap, a little trick I'd learned with him a long time before when I first dated him. Soon his jeans were accessible and I reached underneath, down under the elastic band of his boxer shorts.

As erect as he was, I didn't have to reach in very far to find the tip of his dick. It felt so warm and smooth against my finger tip as I ran it down the length of his stiff shaft. Once my hand was in further I grasped the shaft with my fingers wrapped around it and held it. Mmmmmmm, I'd been waiting for hours for this. Steve's hand on my boob tightened as I held onto his dick. For the next half hour or so I just enjoyed leaning up against Steve with one leg tucked under me, my head on his shoulder with his gripping my breast and me with his dick in my hand. Now THIS was the way to travel.

I was starting to nod off myself when my dad called out that we were pulling over soon for gas and a nature call. My bladder was OK so I didn't pay any attention. Steve didn't seem to be looking for anything to change but Kristen was rustling around behind me. I swore under my breath at miss peanut-bladder. The issue was that for her to get out meant Steve and I had to move so the seat could be folded down to let her out.

As my dad slowed down at the end of the ramp, I reluctantly pulled my hand out of Steve's pants and sat up. Steve zipped up his jeans and redid his belt, hiding away his wonderful dick again. When he pulled into the station, Kristen was anxiously hoping in the seat, mumbling about how bad she needed to use the bathroom. I wasn't feeling sympathetic. I scooted over in the seat closer up against Marlene as Steve got out and lowered the seat back and tilted the seat forward for Kristen. She hurried out and literally ran into the station.

My dad was out putting in the gas and talking to Steve so Linda turned around in the seat and looked back at the two of us remaining in the SIV with her. "You two hanging in there? We should be there in a couple of hours now or so."

I just nodded and Marlene said she was fine. My aunt looked at me with my blouse hanging open and my bra nowhere in sight – safely tucked in Steve's pocket I hoped.

"You know, you might want to pull that around you a bit while we're here. It's pretty busy."

Since when was my aunt worried about such a thing? I almost laughed as she was obviously saying it for Marlene's benefit. Still, why bother? In any case, I just frowned a little and made a perfunctory effort which did little but barely cover my nipples.

Eventually everyone was back in the car and we resumed our drive. I was back in position again within minutes, not wasting any time this time. Steve had dwindled during the stop but it didn't take my hand long to coax him back to a full erection. God I wanted it so badly! I used my wrist to pull back the elastic so his dick stuck out over his boxers and more in view. Mmmmmmm, it looked so delicious. I pushed it down even more until his pubic hair showed up and ran my fingers through it while he looked down and watched.

It was Steve that pushed me on. I had been hesitating as to whether to go further or not but evidently he already had made his mind up. Putting his hand on the top of my head, he gently pushed it down. Well, there's only ONE thing THAT means when a guy does it. I wasn't about to protest, that was for sure!

Leaning down, I took the tip of his dick in my head and sucked gently on him. After holding him for hours and wishing for this, it was like a dream come true. I wasn't sure if his mother was watching or not but it didn't matter. Heck, she'd witnessed a LOT more than this before. It wasn't like I was doing it right in front of my dad and aunt. In their mirrors it was more what they could NOT see at this point that what was on view - my head. No doubt they knew where THAT was.

The more I held Steve's dick in my mouth, the more I wanted. I slowly let it in inch by inch, licking it and tickling it with my lips as it slide into my mouth. I could feel Steve shudder when I had it all in, moving my head around to stimulate it further. We had a ways to go yet so I wasn't in any hurry. I raised back up enough to grip the shaft with my hand and I rested my head back against his stomach as I allowed the movement of the SUV to do the work.

I would have loved to have looked back over my shoulder at Marlene but I didn't want to give the impression that I was doing this just to see what she would think. If anything, it was what I was NOT doing that was because of her. As horny as I was right then there was no doubt in my mind where I would have been had it just been Steve and me in the back seat!

"Oh Kelly...," Steve groaned and he pushed my head back down again. I knew what THAT meant as well and prepared myself for the inevitable.

It didn't take much longer and he groaned yet again, louder this time and I was sure everyone had to know what was happening as he began to cum in my mouth. Well, at least I was the lucky one getting his cum! Poor Kristen had to be so horny sitting back there all alone having to just watch me enjoy myself. I wondered if she had been doing anything about it but only for a second and I focused more on Steve's delicious cum filling my mouth.

Steve helped me to sit up right again after having been bent over for so long. I wiped my mouth with the back of my hand and looked at Marlene with a smile. The look on her face was a mixture of incredulousness and concern. I was tempted to open my mouth and offer her some of her son's dick but that would have been a little over the line, well more than a little.

To their credit, none of my family said a thing. It was like nothing had happened and everyone pretty much ignored me. At the very least I was half-expecting a sarcastic remark from my aunt but even she held her tongue which I found pretty decent of her. Steve just zipped himself back up again once he could get his dick back into his boxers.

"I can't believe you did that," Marlene finally said in a voice so low even I could barely hear her from just a few inches away.

I looked at her and shrugged, as if I didn't understand what she was talking about. She looked up front where my aunt and dad were talking about the exit coming up, totally ignoring us in the back.

We were soon off the main highway onto a smaller road for the rest of the trip. There were now lots of signs and things to see so everyone was looking out and talking. So far as I was concerned it all looked like one giant tourist trap. The traffic was miserable, lots of stop lights, and it seemed the last ten miles took half an hour or more. Finally we turned and headed back out of town again, into the mountains where the GPS directed us to turn onto a small side road. We wound our way upward on this crazy road until the cabins came into view. Well, they weren't really cabins so much as large log buildings. The insane part was that many of them were built hanging out over the edge on stilts. Ours was near the top and even the parking area was at a crazy angle so that just getting out took a little balance.

"Ummmmm, Kelly," Marlene said as I started to get out, motioning with her hands at her bust but looking at mine.

Ooops. I quickly pulled my open blouse together, buttoning it enough to cover my boobs enough to be public. Seeing the other cars reminded me that we weren't the only ones here so I reluctantly buttoned one more just to be sure.

3. Blackmailing Cousin

The four of us girls went in while the guys handled the luggage. Inside it looked like we must have been the last to arrive and I spent the rest of the evening introducing Marlene and Steve to everyone. Poor Steve, the "when are you going to make an honest girl out of her" jokes started to wear thin after a while. I noticed my uncles taking a closer look at Steve's mom and teased her about it later, just to see how she would react. She just brushed it aside, telling me I was seeing things that weren't there.

As big as the place was, it was not a hotel so the sleeping arrangements were a bit cramped. There were five bedrooms, enough for my aunts and uncles, married cousins and my dad and Linda have their own. Marlene had been a last minute addition which sort of through a kink in the plans. There were two larger rooms, one with a couple of bunk beds and the other with pull-out couches where the "kids" were expected to sleep which meant by definition anyone without a spouse - including me.

The intent had been for the girls to take the bunks with the boys on the couches and the floor. Steve took the news well although he did claim a couch over the floor. My cousin Rick took the other couch with the youngest boys on the floor which they was just cool. In the bunkroom, I claimed a lower bed while Tammy was above me. It was without question that Marlene would have a lower a lower bunk and my cousin Kate took the third lower bunk. The young girls took the two remaining upper bunks. Not exactly the best accommodations but with so many people trying to cram in one 'cabin" it was the best we could work out.

The place had three stories, with two bedrooms adjoining each of the living areas and one bedroom in a loft. My married cousins each took one of the ones outside where their kids were sleeping, Uncle Jim and Aunt Shari too the other room outside the where the girls were sleeping leaving my Uncle Paul to work it out with my dad as to who got the more isolated loft. It would have been a LOT more convenient for my plans had my parents gotten the loft but my dad's older brother pulled rank and took the prize, leaving my parents to sleep in the remaining bedroom on the lower floor outside where the boys were sleeping.

One of the things that I had crammed into my suitcase was a couple of nightshirts. Needless to say, sleeping nude wasn't an option. I also had a pair or workout shorts and a couple of t-shirts as an alternative, depending on what everyone else was wearing. As bedtime approached, couples disappeared to their bedrooms and the rest of us settled down. I changed clothes in the bathroom, I debated on what to wear but to be a bit cautious on the first night since I hadn't seen what everyone else was wearing I went with the shorts and t- shirt. The t-shirt was a little small and didn't cover about an inch or two of my belly before the shorts took over. The shorts were actually quite comfortable, quite short and loose enough that I had to keep my legs together when sitting down.

Kate and Tammy changed together after me. Kate was wearing something from the Little House on the Prairie collection - a flannel high necked nightgown that went down to her ankles with long sleeves. Tammy was also in a nightgown but much lighter and only coming down to her knees. Marlene was the last to change and she came out in sweatpants and a sweatshirt. It was a far cry from the panties and t-shirt she usually wore when I saw her at home. We all said goodnight and tucked ourselves in. I thought of Steve up above me and wished there was some way I could be sleeping with him. Really, I didn't think anyone would say anything even if we weren't engaged - at - least not yet. Well, my Aunt Sheri would certainly have had something to say about it but I really didn't care one way or the other what she thought about me.

I tossed and turned for a while and then finally headed up the steps to the kitchen to grab a glass of water. The adjoining living room was dark and I couldn't tell which couch Steve was laying on. As I filled my glass at the refrigerator, I saw someone getting up from one of the couches and my pussy tingled as I figured it had to be Steve. Then he stepped into the light and it was like a light switch was thrown and any feelings of that nature disappeared.

"Hey slut," my asshole cousin Rick greeted me softly so as he wouldn't be overheard, "So you gonna put out this weekend for me or what?"

And he wondered why I hadn't let him touch me in years.

"Go jerk yourself off," I brushed him aside but his hand reached out and tried to slip down the back of my shorts. I stepped away quickly and turned to face him.

"Do that again and I'll tell Steve," I threatened.

"I'll tell Steve," he mimicked me in a high voice, taunting me, "Does your boyfriend know how many men here this weekend have screwed you?"

I moved up close to him and tried to get up on my toes to whisper in his ear as best I could. "Just stay away from him... got it."

"Or what?" he said menacingly, "If you want me to keep my mouth shut, it's gonna take some incentive... a LOT of incentive."

I felt a panic in my stomach and I looked over to see if Steve was hearing any of this. I couldn't see anything but I could hear a slight snoring, the same as Steve did whenever he was really tired. Damn, this was the last thing I'd expected when I came up to the kitchen. My intentions had been for STEVE to be the one wanting sex, not my jerk of a cousin. "Well, I guess I'd better go over and wake him up. Do you want to come with me to tell him?"

My face felt like it was on fire as it flushed - more from rage and anger than embarrassment. How dare he threaten me? My dad would have killed him if he knew anything about what was going on right now. Damn, why hadn't I told Steve everything before we got here and then this wouldn't be a problem. But if Steve was going to find out about me and the men in my family, I wanted it to be on my terms under conditions I dictated, not from my foul-mouthed, unemployed, asshole of a cousin.

"No wait," I hissed at him, feeling helpless, "But it better be quick... OK?"

Rick grinned but there was nothing nice about it. It was the look of some foul animal about to consume it's next victim.

"And this is it... got it? No more threats... no talking to Steve... nothing. Am I clear?"

Rick just grinned all the more. He was getting his way for now so what did he care about the future. It had been years since he'd last fucked me and now he had me offering myself to him but it wasn't enough.

"Don't give me that crap. You want it. I bet your boyfriend's cock isn't even close to being as big as mine, is it? You want your cousin's big fat dick - I know it and you know it. Go on... tell me how bad you want it. Beg for it slut."

Could anything Steve say be any worse than this? Well, if it meant he might not propose to me then yes, it COULD be worse - a LOT worse. The worst part was Rick wasn't entirely off base. He DID have the best cock in the family by a significant margin. When erect his cock was at least eight to nine inches long and as fat as a large sausage. Even when flaccid he was longer than most guys were when they were erect. My mom was infatuated with it and when he first started fucking me, I loved the way it stretched me out and filled me. Normally cock size wasn't something I cared a lot about one way or the other unless it was at one extreme. Well, Rick's dick was indeed one out of a hundred. If only it wasn't attached to such a jerk! God, now if Steve had a dick like Rick's...

"I want your dick," I said softly and slowly but there wasn't enough feeling in it to make Rick happy so he told me to say it again.

I wasn't going to play this game so I just got it over with saying, "Oh my god Rick, I want your big fat cock in my wet cunt soooooo bad... fuck me good Rick."

It was so corny I almost laughed but he ate it up like Shakespeare. There weren't many options and I wasn't about to do it right in the middle of the kitchen so I led him to the bathroom and closed the door, making sure it was securely locked once we were both in.

"Strip... I want you naked," were the first words out of his mouth.

I wasn't going to argue; anything to speed this along and get it over with. I slipped off my shorts and then lifted the t-shirt up and over my head, tossing them in the sink as Rick took off his shorts. We were both naked in front of each other for the first time in years and I couldn't help but feel a bit of a chill up my spine as his incredible dick hung out in the open for me. Well, it certainly hadn't shrunk any with age!

"You're looking good Kelly," he said, staring at my naked figure, "I bet all those boys in your classroom wish they could see you this way, don't they."

I wasn't about to go there so I dropped to my knees and took his dick in my hands. Even with both hands I was still able to leave enough of his shaft exposed for me to suck on it. I couldn't help but think of Steve's dick and how it had felt in my mouth earlier in the day. Damn, Rick's cock was so much bigger. It had been a long time since I'd blown a dick this big and I wondered if I'd be able to take him all in without throwing up.

"Yeah, you want it, don't you?" he chuckled, "You always couldn't wait to get my dick in your mouth. Just like your mom."

He was swelling in my hands as I worked on the massive mushroom head and then kissed his dick up and down licking one side of it on my way in and then other on the way back. His balls hung loose and his crotch smelled thick with a mix of sweat and sex. Slowly I worked him into my mouth, taking a little bit more each down I dropped my head down onto him until I had half of him in. God, only halfway there and already he was filling my mouth!

"All the way slut... you can do it, I know it... oh yeah do I know it," he taunted me. I almost gagged for a moment when it started to push down into the back of my throat and he just laughed, saying, "Maybe you've lost your touch, eh? Sucking that boy cock of your boyfriend has spoiled you and now you can't handle a REAL dick, can you?"

Well, I wasn't about to take that insult so I relaxed my throat and let him push down into it. Once I got past the gag reflex it was easy and soon my lips were locked on the very base of his dick where it joined his crotch.

"Damn girl, I'm impressed," he got out between groans.

I couldn't stay that way long so I pulled back and caught my breath before repeating the process, and then a third time just to prove it wasn't a fluke.

He was erect by now and I wasn't interested in prolonging this any longer than necessary so I stood up and put my hands on the sink. Spreading my legs apart, I raised up my butt to expose my pussy and ass to him. Knowing his penchant for anal sex, it was a bit of a risk but I was banking on him being so horny he would go straight for my pussy. Fortunately I was right about at least one thing that night.

"Now THAT'S the Kelly I remember," he said softly, massaging my butt with his hands as he poked his dick against my butt. "Can't wait for a fat dick to fill that cunt of yours, can you?"

"Just fuck me," I said, looking at him in the mirror.

I think he thought I was begging for him to fuck me but the reality was I just wanted him to do it and get this over with.

"Hold your horses, I'm getting there," he said teasingly, pushing a finger up into me first, "Damn girl, you're ready, aren't you?" Then he laughed and spanked me playfully on the butt. "Oh yeah, you miss my dick in you, your pussy can't hide it."

I lowered my head and tried not to look at him in the mirror. He was right, I DID want him in me and my pussy was dying to be filled by that fat dick. So what if he was an asshole; just once wasn't going to kill me. Now if he would just get his damn finger out of me and stuff me with that hard dick that was poking me in the butt.

Oh my god! I thought I was bring split in two as he pushed his cock into me. The head felt huge as it parted my pussy lips and forced its way into me. God, I didn't remember him feeling THIS big before but then it had been a long time since I'd had a cock much larger than Steve's in me. Steve was no slouch in the dick department but Rick's was a freak of nature. OK, so he wasn't like some of those freakish dicks on porn sites, but compared to your average guy that fucked me, he was at the far end of the scale.

"You like it, don't you slut," he said, pulling back on my hair with his hand, "Tell me how good my dick feels in your cunt."

I didn't have to lie or make anything up at this point. All I had to do was tell the truth and as he pushed each inch into me, it became easier to tell him. I indeed felt like a slut as I told him how good it felt, how full it made me feel, how I loved the way it stuffed me. At that moment all I could think about was my cousins big fat dick inside of me. I forgot about Steve, I forgot about my dad, I forgot about everyone outside. I didn't care that Steve was a total jerk. All I DID care about was having his dick in me - ALL of it in me and I wanted him to fuck me with it more than anything else at that moment.

I fingered my clit as he thrust himself deeper and deeper into me. It didn't take much to bring me to an orgasm and Rick didn't let me forget the source.

"Damn, your cumming already? I knew you wanted me... I knew you would love me in you again."

As I reveled my orgasm, it was Rick's turn and he unloaded a massive load of cum inside of me, pulling out about halfway through and releasing the rest on my ass, rubbing it all over me with his dick like a squeegee.

"NOW it's a perfect ass," he said with a sense of satisfaction.

Rick stepped back, letting me stand up and turn to face him. My ass felt all wet from the cum he'd spread over it and my pussy was throbbing as his cum dripped from it. He put his shorts back on, his still swollen dick poking out like a tent pole.

"Well, you know where to come to get more of that," he said with a smug smile.

As good as I was feeling the realization of what I'd just allowed to happen hit me like a ton of bricks. God, what had I done?

"You promised... once time only," I reminded him sharply.

"Yeah but that doesn't mean you can't beg for more," he reminded me all full of himself.

Yes, he HAD fucked me well but that didn't mean I was going to let him EVER fuck me again. I loved Steve and a few moments of pleasure weren't enough for me to want to go out and do anything stupid. I did what I had to do, but now that it was over, I had to figure out where to go from here. So far things hadn't gone as planned, even though I can't say I exactly had anything planned out to start with.

4. Steve Learns the Truth

I slept well after that, surprisingly well in fact such that when I woke up Marlene and my cousins were already up preparing the Thanksgiving meal. The worse thing about being up last was that I had to wait for a turn to use the bathroom. My aunts were making breakfast and the guys were out on the deck that overlooked the valley. The scenery was breathtaking and then I noticed there was a hot tub outside as well. Hmmmmmm, now there was an unexpected surprise! I made a mental note to check it out later.

After the events of the previous evening I was more determined than ever to tell Steve the whole truth. It seemed no matter how I thought about it, nothing seemed just right and I was so worried about messing things up with him. Still, I couldn't have anyone else pulling a stunt like Rick had done and I didn't trust him not to go running off to his dad bragging about his "victory". As much as I despised Rick, it was his father who I really couldn't stand. My ass still puckered whenever I thought of the jerk!

The place was so crowded that there wasn't any hope of having a private conversation with Steve, at least for very long. I guess I could have dragged him into my parents' room but that might have drawn attention. I was desperate to tell him now before my jerk of a cousin said anything. It didn't matter what he supposedly promised the night before. If there was one thing you could count on when it came to Rick, it was a total lack of discretion.

Finally I decided the only way was to get away from everyone for a while so I suggested to Steve that we take a little walk. He seemed a little surprised but went along with me and we got our coats. I told my aunt we would be gone for a little while and she just winked at me but wagged her finger and told me not to take too long as they needed my help getting things ready. I realized she thought I was looking to get laid and that wasn't exactly a bad idea but I had other ideas on my mind... at least for now.

Walking down the steep road with my arm through Steve's, I felt as nervous as a virgin about to do it for the first time. Steve already knew most of my past history and while there were a few times I think I even managed to shock him, he didn't seem to care. I was HIS girl now and that was all that mattered to him. It just made me love him all the more as many guys would be intimidated to even date a girl with my past but Steve had enough self-confident to put that all aside without the self-inflated ego that too often goes along with such a trait. Even as we walked, I still wasn't quite sure how to open the discussion but then Steve provided me with an opportunity I hadn't anticipated.

"So what's with your cousin... Rick I think is his name?" Steve asked, "He was acting pretty odd this morning."

My stomach tightened but at first I wasn't sure how to respond so I just asked him what was wrong.

"Well, I guess I just wasn't ready for some it or maybe your family is just different, but he asked me if I was 'sticking it' to you today. Like I said, a little odd coming from someone I don't really know."

I agreed and tried to explain that Rick was sort of a jerk. He never even tried to go to college and was still living at home, sponging off his parents. Steve cut me off then to say, "Yeah, I sort of got that impression but then he said something else just before we left that I didn't understand."

Red alert, the hair stood up on the back of my neck and my mouth felt dry but I just kept walking, waiting for the next shoe to drop.

"He said something like 'Hope I didn't soil her for you last night.' What the heck was he talking about?"

My mind raced as I tried to think of how to handle damage control. The idiot, I KNEW I couldn't trust Rick. Kiss and tell is one thing, fuck and tell is going over the line, even for him.

Then it was like a gigantic light bulb suddenly flashed over my head. I knew instantly how to handle the Rick problem AND deal with the rest of what I needed to tell Steve. Maybe... just maybe... fucking Rick hadn't been such a bad thing.

"Steve, please don't get mad at me but I have to tell you something," I said slowly. Steve paused and turned to me, holding my hands between us and looking down at me with those big blue eyes I loved so much.

"You had sex with him last night, didn't you."

It wasn't so much a question as a statement of fact for which he was expecting confirmation, not denial.

"What makes you say that?" I stammered, caught a little off balance and looking for anything to stall as I gathered my thoughts yet again.

"C'mon Kelly, I saw the way he looked at you when we arrived last night and then again this morning. But what REALLY made me think was how you seemed to be avoiding him this morning, especially when you saw me around. I wasn't going to say anything but with you acting so funny I just knew."

"Are you mad at me?" I asked softly, feeling guilty now.

"I just don't get it... why? He IS your cousin after all. Somehow I am getting the feeling that wasn't the first time."

I shook my head, confirming his suspicions.

"So how long have you been doing it with him? Have you two been doing it since we met? When did it start? Does anyone else know?" The questions came at me like a machine gun and I was feeling overwhelmed. At the same time, some of the later ones might actually help me to move this conversation towards my true intentions.

I explained to him how we had started years before but then I also told him how I had put a stop to things when he got too carried away. I also emphasized that we had NOT been doing anything since Steve had returned.

"Still, with your cousin?" Steve asked again, sounding a little incredulous yet at the same time it seemed to be more that he just was surprised, not that he was condemning me. "Who else knows?"

The moment of truth had arrived and I knew that now was the best opportunity I'd ever have to widen the scope of this conversation. Taking a breath, I answered, "Well, a few people... my dad, Aunt Linda, Kristen, Uncle Jim and Tammy."

Steve's eyes widened and I could see his mind was working out the possibilities.

"Your DAD knows your cousin fucks you?"

I found it somewhat interesting that of all the people I had named, it was my dad that seemed to draw his interest. Oh well, in for a penny... But before I dropped the big one, I took a smaller step.

"Well, he does my cousin."

For a moment Rick look flabbergasted and I feared maybe this wasn't going to go over well when he gasped, "You dad and Rick do it?"

The irony of it almost made me laugh. If anything, I felt relieved as nothing could be worse in Steve's mind that THAT so whatever I said would be an improvement so far as he was concerned.

"No silly, I meant my cousin Tammy."

"Your dad fucks Tammy?" he repeated and then he grinned a little for the first time since this started, "She IS pretty hot."

I hit him in the shoulder playfully and he just shrugged. The he rolled his eyes and said, "So let me guess, if your dad is doing your cousin, does that mean your uncle is doing you too?"

The way he said it I got the feeling he was teasing me more than expecting a positive response so when I just lifted one shoulder and gave him a look to confirm him, he whistled under his breath.

"Whoa, you're not pulling my leg are you? Next thing you'll be telling me is your uncle fucks Tammy too."

Again I just shrugged one shoulder and smiled and again he whistled. We stood there for a moment, both of us knowing the next question but neither of us ready to ask. Finally he looked me directly in the eyes and asked, "Are you trying to tell me that you have sex with your father too?"

"I love you Steve," I said in response and then he turned around once and laughed.

"Yeah right... good one Kelly, you had me going there."

So he didn't believe me. Could I blame him? What would most guys say if they were suddenly presented with that sort of information?

"Steve, it's true," I said gently, pausing to let it sink in, "My dad and I have been doing it since I was sixteen."

"But that's incest!"

"Hey, you were the one who fucked your own mother if I remember correctly," I reminded him and then immediately wished I hadn't brought it up.

"That was ONE time and it was twelve years ago," he came back. "I do NOT have sex with my mother... or my sister by the way."

"Do you hate me now?" I asked, almost afraid to hear the answer. The genie was out of the bottle now and nothing could put her back in. It was all up to Steve now.

"God no Kelly, I don't hate you," he said, pulling me against him with his arms around me. He kissed the top of my head and lifted my chin to look at him. "I love you Kelly... more than anyone I have ever met. I just don't understand why you would do this with your dad?"

I steered him over to a large tree that was felled and we sat down on the trunk. For the next half hour or so I told Steve everything - and I do mean EVERYTHING. Well, not every little detail but at least the highlights. From the first time my father came to my room to our Sunday morning rituals, he heard it all. I tried to emphasize the WHY more so than the WHAT and WHERE and WHEN. I wanted Steve to understand that this wasn't threatening to him at all, that HE was my lover, not my father. I so wanted Steve to understand my duties and obligations as a daughter and how important it was to me as a Christian to honor my father and submit to him. At the end, I also told him that it was a relationship that I would always honor so long as my father wanted me - regardless of what else happened in my life - explicitly implying marriage but not using the word.

When I was done, or at least as much as I could say at the time, Steve sat there for a moment as if he was stunned. Then he turned to me and without a word he took me in his arms and kissed me - a long passionate kiss.

"I can't even begin to fully understand everything but I want you to know I love you and anything this important to you is important to me," he said as our lips parted.

We got up and started to head back to the cabin. Just before we got there, he paused again and turned to look at me with that mischievous smile I so loved.

"OK, you really aren't pulling my leg, right?" he said with a hint of seriousness I his voice. I shook my head and swore every word was true.

"I want to see it."

I looked at him, unsure of what he meant so he repeated himself saying, "I mean... I want to see your father fuck you."

He didn't explain why and I didn't want to ask. Still, in the back of mind I couldn't help but think he still thought that maybe this was some sort of practical joke and so he was raising the stakes to flush out my bluff.

"I'll have to talk to my dad," I said, unsure of what to say, "Maybe next week when we're back..."

"I mean now," he cut me off, "I want to see your dad fuck you NOW."

I started to protest, saying how everyone was here and how it would be impossible, not to mention I was expected to help out with the meal.

"If all of what you told me is true, then I'm sure your dad would never say no to you if you asked," he said firmly, not budging an inch on his demand, "I mean, if you asked ME I'd do ya right now."

Now THERE was a thought but I knew it was more important to settle this thing about my dad, as much as I would have loved to sneak off with Steve and have him do me.

"So you just want to watch him fuck me the same way your mom watches you and me?" I asked, not sure how to proceed.

Steve shook his head responding, "Noooooo, that's her thing and don't even try to ask me why she does it. I'll hide in the closet and watch. I don't want him to know I'm watching - got it?

Well, the plot was thickening. This was getting more interesting by the moment. Fortunately my aunt was in the kitchen with the other women and my dad was on the back porch with his brothers and Rick. My Aunt Linda huffed at me, asking where I'd been so log and that I was needed to help out. I tried to explain to her that I had something important to do. She pulled me aside and said, "You can screw your boyfriend later... there's a lot of work to be done if you want to eat later."

I really couldn't explain what was going on under the circumstances so I just nodded but then went to the back deck to find my dad. I ignored Rick's leers and pulled my dad over to the side. Meanwhile I noticed Steve had disappeared.

"Daddy, I need your help," I started.

It always helped when I called him "daddy" instead of dad" or heaven forbid, "father". Of course he was well aware of my ploy, even if he always played along.

Even though I had promised Steve that I wouldn't tell my dad, there was no way this was going to work by tricking him. Heck, just to get him into the bedroom would be hard enough even with him knowing the reason given the crowded building. I gave my dad the reader's Digest version of this morning's events and then he grinned at me.

"So Steve likes to watch, eh?" he teased me, "Well lets go give him a show, what do you say?"

It didn't surprise me that my dad was so quick to accept the situation. If there as one thing I knew he loved, it was to have people watch him fuck his daughter. In actual practice, that was not as easy of a fantasy to fulfill as you might think. Other than with family, every other time had been when the other people didn't know I was his daughter like the time I posed as a prostitute that he had hired to entertain some of him clients. As horny as he was to do me, he also knew the potential ramifications and so no matter how horny it made him, he always maintained the proper relationship between us in public, at least most of the time.

We didn't want to draw any attention so I went first and quietly sneaked into the bedroom and close the door behind us. I saw the closet door was partially open but as dark as it was inside I couldn't see anything - or anyone.

"Anybody home?" I called out softly into the closet.

"So is he coming?" Steve answered, moving his face into the light. I nodded and he stepped back again, motioning me to get away from the closet so as not to draw any attention to it. I sat on the edge of the bed just as the door opened again and my dad came in, quickly closing it behind him and ensuring t was locked.

"So what's got you so horny this morning?" my dad asked, playing along with the game.

I just hoped he didn't get TOO carried away and cause Steve to realize that he was just fooling around.

"You always do me Thanksgiving morning," I answered, spreading my legs apart and then closing them again, then spreading them wide apart again.

"Well usually we're home and not right in the middle of a family reunion," he answered. Then he started to unbuckle his jeans. "We have to hurry though - get undressed baby."

My dad dropped his jeans to the floor and stepped out of them. Then he pulled his boxers off and lifted one leg at a time out, dropping them on his jeans once they were off, leaving him in just his socks and polo shirt which he seemed to want to leave on. Meanwhile I had quickly stripped so I was naked on the edge of the bed. I wanted to look over at Steve but somehow managed to play my role perfectly.

As I sat there with my hands on my bare thighs, my dad stepped up to me, his dick now hovering just inches from my face. I knew what he wanted...

It was exiting to suck my dad's cock knowing Steve was watching. I wondered if he was as turned on as I was, maybe even stroking himself as he saw his girlfriend taking her father's dick all the way in her mouth? I tried to give my dad an extra special one, not that I don't always do my best with my dad, but I wanted this one to be EXTRA special.

"Damn that feel so good baby," my dad gasped in the dim light of the lamp on the dresser. "Take it all in... all the way."

Although I would NEVER have told my dad, after Rick's dick last night my dad's was a piece of cake. Actually, it was more enjoyable to able to take all of my dad's cock in without feeling like I was being stuffed full at the same time.

As fun as it was, I DID have to move things along before people started to look for us so I took my dad's cock in my hand as I scooted back on the bed, pulling him along like a puppy on a leash. I reached behind me and grabbed a pillow, lifting my butt up and stuffing it underneath me. My dad dropped down over me, holding himself up with his arms while I positioned his cock at the entrance to my pussy. Then he waited for me to say those words he always wanted to hear...

"Fuck me daddy," I said in a firm voice, making sure Steve could hear me but not loud enough for anyone outside the door to hear - or so I hoped.

"Yes baby... anything for you," he whispered as he kissed me, letting his hips drop and driving his incestuous erection deep inside of me.

I'd deliberately positioned myself so Steve had a good view right up my open legs to see my dad's dick as it buried itself deep inside of my pussy.

"Oh daddy!" I moaned as he started to thrust himself in and out of me. I wondered how he felt to be doing this while my boyfriend was watching from the darkened closet.

We both were aware of the time constraints and since the whole point of this was to prove to Steve that my dad really DID fuck me. Well, THAT point was certainly being made as my dad drove himself into me to me after time. Finally my dad was ready and I heard his breath start to quicken and the pace of this thrusts become less rhythmic and more jerking.

"Cum in me daddy... I want you to cum in me," I begged.

For once it not just for my dad's benefit - it was for Steve's as well. I found myself wishing that Steve would come out and "surprise" us and maybe fuck me along side of my dad. Well, it wasn't looking like THAT was about to happen so this was the next best thing.

"I'm cumming baby...," my dad groaned as his back arched and he drove himself as deeply into me as he could.

He jerked and I felt his crotch push into me as his dick erupted and filled his daughter's anxious pussy. God it felt so good and to have Steve watching at the same time just made it all the better. Indeed, this was one of those moments that I would always remember.

Once he was finished he kissed me and then pulled out of me. It would have been nice to cuddle for a while and enjoy the feel of him in me but he seemed anxious to leave. I was still laying on my back with the pillow under me, my father's cum oozing out of me and dripping down my ass as he finished dressing and then came over to kiss me goodbye. He cracked the door open and checked to see that the cats was clear before stepping out quickly, closing the door behind him with a click as the lock stayed engaged.

No sooner was he out than the closet door opened and out walked Steve. I had half-expected to see him with his shorts off and his dick in his hand but that wasn't quite the case. Instead he was fully clothed and didn't even seem to have much of an erection.

"So it's true," he said shaking his head in disbelief. "I have to say, I really thought this was some big practical joke."

Well, seeing me laying on my back stark naked with my dad's cum filling my pussy certainly put THAT rumor to rest!

"Do you want to fuck me now?" I asked him, hoping that he would want to take me as his own now after everything that had happened in the last twelve hours.

It wasn't like he had never fucked me right after another man before but then this wasn't just one of his friend's cum or that of a stranger at a party, this was my father's sperm draining out of me and that seemed to have an impact on Steve.

"Later, OK" he said hesitantly, "You'd better get cleaned up before someone asks for you."

Steve seemed a little stand-offish at first but as the day wore on he seemed to become more at ease with me. I suppose it didn't hurt he was probably getting horny as hell not having fucked me in a couple of day now. Late that night we sneaked into the hot tub where he fucked me as we looked out over the mountains in the crisp night air and bright moonlight. Although we didn't talk about what had happened in the morning, I felt so much better having it out in the open. As Steve's dick filled me with cum, it was the best thing that had happened to me this entire trip as it confirmed to me that he still loved me and that no matter what, he wanted me.

I was sure there would be a million questions later but at least now I felt like I'd cleared the air for the most important one. Now if Steve asked me to marry him I could say YES without any reservations.

Now he just needed to ask!

Accepting Steve's proposal was something I will never forget. Telling my father afterwards proved to be memorable as well. After all, how many girls get to show their father that they still adore them and are willing to submit to them even though she's agreed to be married to someone else?

1. The Luckiest Girl in the World

Am I the luckiest girl in the world or what? First, I'm now engaged to the most wonderful man in the world. How many people get up in the morning and can't wait to go to work? My parents love me and support me in everything I do. Who could ask for better friends? Overall, what more could a girl ask for? OK, let's not talk about those five pounds...

Nowadays it seems all I can look at is the engagement ring Steve gave me. It looks PERFECT on my finger, like it was made just for me. I suppose every girl dreams about the day a guy proposes to her and I was no exception. Now it's more than just a dream!! Now it's a memory... one I'll treasure for the rest of my life.

OK, so there are a few nitty gritty things I need to work out - like affording my own place and health benefits to name a couple. I wish my parents would remarry but at least they talk to each other now. My dad's happy living with my aunt but I wish he could control some of his urges at times. Then there's my fiancé's mother and how I'm going to deal with some of her quirks. Like, how many women enjoy watching their son having sex with his girlfriend (now fiancé) yet maintain a totally platonic relationship with them both? It's really almost too weird at times but I'm getting accustomed to it.

Back to the proposal... How Steve managed to hang on until after our family Thanksgiving get-together in Pigeon Forge is beyond me. With everyone teasing him mercilessly about making me "an honest woman" it would have been much simpler for him just to drop down on one knee in front of them all and get it over with. Well, I can't say in words how thankful I am that he didn't! It was so much more romantic the way he finally proposed.

It wasn't until after I had accepted that Steve told me how he had approached my dad about a week earlier asking permission to marry me (wasn't that so sweet?). I have a suspicion that during Thanksgiving most everyone knew what was going to happen eventually - except me. I mean, I suspected that he was getting close but I was thinking he would wait more towards Christmas. Not that I'm complaining!

So anyway, after we got back home from Tennessee, Steve took me on a drive up north to a beautiful state park where they still offered horseback riding this late in the year. Thankfully we were having abnormally warm weather and it was a beautiful sunny day. Still, it wasn't like it was summer and I was wearing jeans and a warm coat so wasn't anything like Lady Godiva riding off naked on horseback!

Steve ked me on this trail to a spot where we could stand on some rocks that overlooked a small river far below us. The horses were tied up and we kissed there out in the open. I don't think there was anyone near us and besides, it was just kissing and not like I kneeled down and blew him although I have to admit the thought DID cross my mind. Actually, in such a situation he normally would have been hinting about wanting one so I was starting to think something was up - and not just in his pants!

Then that magical moment happened... Steve kneeled down, took my hand, and pulled the ring box from his coat pocket. He opened it to show me the ring, said he loved me and then asked me to marry him. In some of my fantasies I've imagined being coy and hesitating or maybe even teasing the guy in some way but when my eyes saw that ring sparkling in the sunlight all I could think about was wanting to scream YES! We kissed for like forever and I felt like I was floating as he hugged me and wrapped his arms around me tightly.

Well, I HAD to tell people so before we even left the overlook I'd texted a message to most everyone about the good news. Then I called my mom out in Oregon as I wanted her to be the first I actually told. I suppose I don't have to say how excited she was. Of course she knew it was coming since my dad had told her but there's a difference between knowing something will happen and then it actually coming to pass. Wow, her only daughter is engaged! Then I called my dad and told him how much I loved him and thanked him for giving us his blessings.

I don't hardly even remember the rest of the day, it's all blurry like some wonderful dream. All I could do was stare at my finger and look at Steve. By the time we got back to Pittsburgh it was late so we decided to wait until the next day to see our parents and tell them about it all.

After I got home I showed Kristen my new ring and she of course was thrilled for me. She mentioned something about now that I had the ring would I finally start sharing him but I just ignored her. God, it's all about sex with that girl! I guess you can take the girl out of the whorehouse but you can never take the whore out of the girl.

2. Telling My Dad

Calling my dad on the phone was fine at the moment but I had to tell him in person and show him my ring so the next day Steve picked me up drove us over to my dad's house. Aunt Linda was the one to come to the door first and gave me a big hug and then demanded to see the stone! All she was wearing was a plain pale yellow T-shirt that clearly showed she wasn't wearing a bra and it barely covered her bare ass when she was standing. Well, at least she was wearing SOMETHING! I'm sure Steve got a nice view when she was leaning over to hug me but that's more in hindsight as I wasn't worried about anything like that at the moment. The only thought on my mind was how I couldn't wait to show my new ring to my dad!

When I looked up I saw my dad standing behind Aunt Linda with this huge smile on his face. Arms outstretched, I rushed to him and showed him the ring and then we hugged and kissed while Steve and Aunt Linda stood back and just watched. Then I told them both all about how Steve had proposed to me. My aunt wanted every detail and she seemed so happy for me.

With the initial rush out of the way, we sat down in the living room with me next to Steve, holding hands on the couch while my Aunt stood behind my dad who was in his favorite leather chair. Immediately my aunt and I started talking about wedding plans. I wanted to be married in the summer so my Aunt Linda immediately began to go over all the things we needed to get started on right away. It's hard to book places with even a year's notice and we had less than nine or so months to work with. My dad and Steve just rolled their eyes at all the girl talk, both of them looking totally bored. Finally my dad stood up and announced, "Enough of all this girl talk. It's time I celebrated this occasion with my daughter if you all don't mind."

With that he took my hand and pulled me up from the couch away from Steve. He didn't say another word but I'd seen that look in his eyes and the curve of his lots of other "fun" and "interesting" sex along the way, but those two times are probably the closest to my heart.

Now I was about to add a third - my dad fucking me for the first after I became engaged. I knew it would be special because it would be all about him showing his love and respect for me in a while new way. My father would be showing his daughter that even though she was now promised to another man and not just his own little girl anymore, that she was still special to him and he wanted to show it in a way only her father can.

My dad undressed me ever so slowly, telling me how beautiful I was as each piece of clothing was removed. Finally I was naked and he just stood back and stared at me from head to toe, telling me over and over how much he loved it when I was totally nude just for him. Then he undressed himself quickly and we stood there together in the bedroom, his strong arms around me with his hands planted firmly on my ass as he pulled me tightly into him and kissed me passionately. I could feel his stiff erection pushing against me and I started to lower myself to suck him but he wouldn't let me, saying he just wanted to pleasure me this time.

My dad told me to lay back on the bed and then he got in between my bare legs and started to lick me and kiss my pussy while he ran his large hands all over me. God, I thought he would never stop! After I came the first time I felt myself losing control and I actually tried to push him away but he wouldn't stop until I'd had my second orgasm. God it was incredible! Then he worked his way over me, kissed my hardened nipples and then my mouth. Mmmmmmm, I could taste my pussy and I loved the smell of me on him. He whispered to me that he loved me as he ever so slowly entered me. It was almost like the first time all over again. While he fucked me I felt my ring on my finger while my pussy was slowly filled with my dad's incestuous cock. It was such a beautiful thing. Honestly I can't think of anything more intimate and sensual than a father fucking his daughter? Maybe a son fucking his mother but you get the idea.

It was like heaven on earth as my dad fucked me ever so gently, making it last as long as he could until finally he told me for what must have been the hundredth time that he loved me. Then he stiffened and came inside of me. I know other girls who have told me how it feels to have their own father cum in them but this time was extra special for me. It was something that would never happen again - my dad fucking me after I was engaged to be married. Sure there will be other times in the future when I will have a special time (my wedding day comes to mind!) but this was something I am sure every father dreams about - celebrating the engagement of his daughter in the most intimate way possible.

After he had finished cumming in me we remained coupled together as he told me yet again how much he loved me. Then he started to reminisce about all the things he felt while having sex with me as I was growing up. I was surprised at the number of events he recalled and how he seemed to remember the most minute details about each time like how we did it and how he felt at the time. It was like "this is your life" except it was focused around our incestual relationship. I suppose that it was only natural at the time as his spent dick was buried in his daughter's pussy the entire time!

Afterwards I dressed and when I went downstairs I saw that Steve and Aunt Linda had already finished with whatever it was they did. Steve was dressed and sitting on the couch with my Aunt Linda sitting stark naked next to him with her arm around his neck and her hand planted squarely on his crotch. I guess now that Steve was officially part of the family she didn't feel it necessary to fool around with the t-shirt anymore. Steve smiled at me and then looked at my Aunt and thanked her - yes he THANKED her! I love my fiancé!

3. Steve's Mom gets the News

From there we went to Steve's house to see his mom. During the trip neither of us talked about what we'd done at my dad's house. It's not that we avoided anything, I think we both realized it was a special time for us both. We each had done something that was intimate and personal and frankly didn't NEED to be shared. What I did with my dad was between him and me and whatever Steve did with my Aunt Linda was between them. No doubt he would be fucking her a lot more in the future from the looks of things so I wanted to get started off on the right track and not make him feel he had to explain himself or share everything he did with the women in my family.

Steve's mom was thrilled to hear the news although apparently he hadn't told her ahead of time. God, how had he spent the entire night at home without telling his own mother that he was engaged? Even so, she didn't go all bonkers like my mom and aunt but I guess it's different when your son announces his engagement than a daughter. Instead, after I told her about the proposal her first question was whether we had "consummated" our engagement which seemed a little odd as I thought that applied to marriages, not engagements. Steve and I looked at each other and I'm sure he was thinking about what had just happened at my dad's house just as I was. However, his mother didn't know anything about THAT so she mistook it for meaning we hadn't. Actually, technically she was right in that we had not had sex together since he'd proposed to me. Seeing us looking at each other, Steve's mom said something like, "Well, what are you two waiting for then?"

Now had just about anyone else been so bold I would've been taken aback but these days I was getting pretty accustomed to her begin forward about wanting to watch us so I didn't even flinch. There was no mistaking her intentions and Steve certainly didn't seem opposed to the idea so we went off to his bedroom and he fucked me as his mom watched from a chair by his desk. Frankly, it wasn't exactly how I had imagined having sex with my fiancé for the first time (at least the first time after he proposed) but then again, I guess you could say it added a twist.

Steve certainly seemed to be happy about doing it for his mom. He even made sure we were positioned so she could see him in me as he fucked me and when I sucked his dick, he would pull my hair aside so she could always have a good view. It was almost like being in a porn movie with him directing and his mom holding a camera. As always, she didn't say a word but just sat there and watched us. After he had cum in me she just stood up and left without a word.

4. Final Thoughts

One thing that made me happy from the start of our engagement was that Steve felt comfortable having sex with my aunt even when my dad wanted me for himself. It worked out well in that Steve had no told me he had no desire to ever see me and my dad together after that first time in the closet so at least he wasn't left all alone.

No doubt my cousin Kristen would be wanting her share soon. While we had been dating I had been sort of protective about Steve being with Kristen but now that we were engaged what right did I have to keep her from him? Someday when she got married I would expect to be able to do her husband so for the time being, fair as fair.

The only fly in the ointment so to speak, was that my mother wasn't the first to have Steve after we got engaged. Well, I knew she would be at the wedding so hopefully we could correct that after the ceremony. My mom had waited so very long for me to get engaged and eventually married!

Speaking of my Aunt Linda and Steve, this was the first time he'd fucked her and it wasn't like it was planned ahead of time – or at least not that I know of. Afterward I reminded him that I wouldn't be hurt if he fucked her – or my cousins for that matter. He couldn't help by smile a little when I mentioned Kristen and Tammy so I figured that I might need to do something about that soon! Again, now that we are engaged I didn't mind sharing him with them. After all, he may be fucking them soon but I will be the only one with his ring on my finger!

Yes... I am VERY lucky girl!

Christmas has always been a special time in our family and this year was no different except now my "family" was one member larger with my new fiancé Steve joining in on the celebrations. Older traditions are nice but it's fun to start new ones as well.

1. Christmas Traditions Old and New

Anyone reading my diary knows I'm really big when it comes to family and traditions. Other than God, my family comes first in my life. A big part of family life are the traditions and the memories and relationships that come as a result. It may not seem like a big deal, but seeing my dad put up the angel at the top of our Christmas tree as the final decoration brings back memories I'll always cherish of our family being together and celebrating the holidays. Sure, anyone could have placed it there but HE was the one who always did. It just wouldn't have seemed right had anyone else done it.

While there are some "enlightened" parents, AKA "I know better than anyone else" parents, who think that teaching their kids about Santa Claus is somehow a terrible act of subterfuge, my parents had me sitting on Santa's lap at the mall every year and I have the annual photos to prove it.

The funny part is that when I got older I became "too old" for such supposed nonsense but then in my later teen years I started going to see Santa again. As a result, today I have an album of "Santa" photos going back to when I was just a baby to today, albeit with a few year missing in the middle. The people at the mall think I'm a little "touched" when I ask for a Santa photo but when I explain it to them they think it's wonderful that I've maintained such a tradition. It also doesn't hurt that I bring my album with to prove to them my story is real so they don't think of me as some sort of weirdo. I should also say that the Santas never seem to complain when I ask to sit on their laps!

Christmas is that time of year when I think most families celebrate the most traditions. For us, it's always been a time of gathering for everyone on my dad's side of the family. My mom's side is much smaller and with my mom's parents living so far away in Illinois, it's not like we could just grab our coats on Christmas morning and run over to their house. We usually try to make it at some point during the holidays, but it's not the same as with my dad's family who all pretty much live within an hour or so of each other.

Any time you get so many people together over the course of so many years, there's bound to be those times when tensions are raised due to events during the past year. Still, the family rules no matter what. Even if they don't speak to each other much during the day, everyone shows up and for at least one day a truce is declared.

A recent example was when my Aunt Linda started living with my dad after my mom divorced him and took off to live in Oregon near her best friend. My other aunts were aghast and refused to talk to her but nobody said anything bad - at least not to her face. Of course there were a few quiet discussion in the kitchen about the "nerve of that women" and a few less kind thoughts but at least for that one day, we all sat at the same table and at least pretended to be nice to one another.

Christmas was also the one time of the year I was glad to be an only child. During the rest of the year I use to wish for a brother or sister at times but Christmas morning was the perfect time to be the only kid in the house. My parents are not exactly rich but they are pretty well off and yes, I was more than a little spoiled - not that I ever complained.

One of the things that every kid learns early on is who gives them the "good presents at Christmas. While the parents might be happy to see them, what kid wants clothes? Which favorite aunt and uncle gives the best toys? Which grandma gives out the little envelopes with the crisp twenty dollar bills in them? Ask any kid and they'll tell you whose present they want to open first.

It was the same with my parents. Once a friend told me who Santa REALLY was, I started to notice that the gifts from mom were different from the ones from my dad. Of course, 90% of them were bought by mom and just as naturally, most of those were "sensible" gifts, in other words things I "needed" more so than the things I wanted.

one I never could wait to open was his. Each year was something new and special. Sure there was the traditional French Maid outfit, the nurse, the catholic schoolgirl but sometime it was something he picked out and put together himself. When I would model for him most of them were deliberately too small for me as well as being too "naughty" for public consumption.

The key to all this is it wasn't like I was showing him anything he hadn't seen before. We'd used the hot tub nude as a family since I was old enough to remember and bedroom doors were more for when we had guests than everyday usage. I use to see my parents masturbate, well mostly my dad, since I was eight years old - or at least that's my earliest memories of it, and when I started at age 11 I was encouraged to do it when needed and not worry about running off to hide when I did. It wasn't at all like I "performed" or anything like that for them, it was just a natural act that any of us did when needed, no different than scratching an itch.

Just as my Christmas gifts changed once I started masturbating, so they did again when I started having sex with my boyfriend. I would come home from a date and tell my parents all about it - and I do mean ALL. So I guess it was only natural that the Christmas morning modeling should turn more erotic as well with me posing in more sexual poses. It was just posing and I wasn't stripping so my mom went along with it.

The next dramatic change to the Christmas morning modeling tradition came when I was sixteen and had been having sex with my dad since that past summer. Why just pose and keep your clothes on Christmas morning when you're having sex every other day? Now it was like I would pose, then pose naughty, then strip, and finally have sex with my dad while my mom took over the video camera duties.

2. Getting Ready for Christmas

I spent most of the week before Christmas this year at Steve's place. Unfortunately he worked all week so I had to spend the nights alone but at least I was in his bed and I could smell him on the pillow case and covers. As I'm sure you know, I love to masturbate but I think I set a record even for me in terms of how much I played those nights alone in his bed wishing he was there!

His mom and I got along great while I was there but when Steve was out we were no different than most mothers and their future daughter-in-law. We talked about the wedding mostly. I tried to steer the conversation at times to her other kids but she didn't seem anxious to go there. I was curious about Sharon as she and I had been best friends back in school. Indeed, she was jealous of me when I started dating her brother as she had a major crush on him herself. So far as I knew the feeling was NOT mutual so far as Steve was concerned but I wondered at times if anything had ever happened there. Well if they had, then I wasn't going to find out from their mother, that was for sure.

The conversation pretty much stayed away from anything sexual regarding Steve. Marlene WAS interested in some of the things I'd been doing since they'd moved away. I told her a lot as sooner or later I figured that she would hear about most of it anyway and who better to hear it from than me. Even so, I didn't tell her anything about my escorting days or when I would go out with Kristi back when she was whoring. Marlene doesn't even know that Kristi was heavily into prostitution for years and I guess I figured that was something Kristi or her mom could tell her rather than me.

One nice thing about being a teacher is getting lots of time off during Christmas. I spent most of it shopping although on my pitiful salary there wasn't much left after my monthly expense for expensive gifts. Indeed, as much as I had loved having my own apartment, it was a blessing to be able to live with Kristi and not have to pay rent. Once Steve and I were married we would find a place of our own but for now we were trying to save up as much as possible so he stayed with his mom while I stayed with Kristi.

One thing I did do with Steve was to go to the mall and get my annual photo with Santa. Steve didn't have any idea about my tradition so you can imagine his surprise when I joined the line with all the moms and kids. He wasn't the only one surprised as the girl taking orders looked for my kid and then seemed unsure of what to do when I said that I was the one to sit on Santa's lap. She had to check with her boss but they were pretty good about it. Steve thought it was hilarious. When we got back to my place I pulled out my album and added the new photo at the end. Steve seemed surprised that I had such a collection and then I mentioned something about how maybe someday our daughter would have her own to add to the album. Now THAT certainly quieted the conversation!

People ask me all the time if I plan to practice incest with my kids someday. My answer is always the same - I have no idea. I certainly am not against it and neither is Steve. We just haven't discussed it a lot and even when we do, the main issue is always around how it would get started. What age? Would it make a difference if it was a boy or a girl? Is oral OK sooner or do you wait to do everything? Do you leave it up to them to make the first move, the way my mom had insisted be done with me, or do you encourage them earlier? Well, we don't have the answers and really, why is it so important at this time anyway? I don't want any kids until we've been married a year or two and then it will be a long time after that before anything has to be decided one way or the other.

3. Christmas Eve

Christmas Eve day I went back home and got my presents wrapped and ready for the tree. Kristi and I both went over to my dad's place and then he and her mom joined us and we all went out to eat - not as easy a task as you might think. Finding a restaurant open on Christmas Eve can be quite a challenge! After dinner we went back to their house and still had a couple of hours before the service which didn't start until 11:00 PM. We always go to the late service on Christmas Eve as they still do the candle-lighting which I love. Yes, it's another tradition.

So anyway, we needed to change into something more formal for the service and so I went up to my old bedroom with Kristi. We didn't even have time to pick anything out to wear before my dad appeared at the door. He had undressed and was naked under an open robe which didn't quite cover up his crotch. It was quite obvious what was on his mind! Both Kristi and I were expecting that he would want us both so we were a bit surprised when he asked Kristi if she would mind letting us be alone. He explained that this was the last Christmas Eve before I was to be married and he would have to share me with another man. He didn't mean anything bad by that, just that it was a transition that we all would be making.

I could tell that Kristi would have rather stayed but she went off to her mom as my dad fucked me on my bed, just as he has done so many times in the past. It had been a while though since he had done me on my own bed so it was sort of special. Neither of us had any doubt as to how it would end - with his dick deep in me, filling my wet pussy with his incestuous sperm. I always like it when a guy cums in me but there's something special when my dad cums in me and he knows it.

My dad took his time with me so by the time we were finished it was almost time for the service. Aunt Linda just grinned and shook her head when I came down in my new red Christmas dress and lifted it up to show her my bare bottom and freshly fucked pussy. Kristi was right next to her and teased me, asking me whose

So anyway, when I had my dad good and hard I carefully mounted him. I had to nudge my cousin over a bit but she wasn't paying me much attention. Using my fingers I lined him up with my pussy. Just I started to lower myself onto him and thought I was going to get away with this and not wake him, his eyes popped open and for a moment he was confused but then as he his mind cleared he realized what was happening and just smiled at me.

Well, that started off Christmas Day and what a nice way to start! Kristi saw what I was doing and she got a little demanding so I traded with her and eventually my dad came in her while I was enjoying my aunt's hairy pussy. Actually, I think that was the first time he'd fucked her in quite a while so I couldn't blame her for being a little pushy. She may prefer young boys but when it comes to her uncle I think she gets a kick out of how he gets off fucking her.

After my dad came in Kristi I got a little possessive and ate his cum from her pussy even though her mom was trying to get it for herself. I did share it with her after, swapping it back and forth a couple of times before swallowing it all down. I had already swallowed before I thought about Kristi but I didn't feel TOO sorry for her. After all, she had gotten it in her pussy first so she didn't have any right to complain.

We'd REALLY slept in late - or least we stayed in bed late and it was almost 9:00 AM by the time we got up, used the bathroom and finally made our way downstairs to the tree. Just then Steve arrived straight from work. He must have been so tired but he wasn't going to miss Christmas morning with us. I felt a little bad his mom was home alone but he said he would be going over there after we were done with presents. Steve saw how flushed we all were and I kissed him and told him not to worry - I still wanted him and badly at that. He sort of grimace when he tasted my mouth. One thing I can say about my guy - he doesn't have a bi cell in his body!

Steve quickly undressed so everyone was naked but me. I was wearing a cute little t-shirt with glittered letters announcing I'd been a bad girl for Santa which everyone laughed at. It didn't even come down to my hips but I felt better having something over my top at least. The others were comfortable being nude but I was happier this way.

Although I'd been a bad girl (LOL), Santa was pretty good to me. Steve bought me an Apple iTouch which I love. My dad bought me this absolutely stunning sheer bra and thong set. It was pure black but so sheer it was almost more like a light shadow on me than actually covering anything. It really showed off my boobs to their best and the thong was almost an afterthought in that it really didn't cover anything, especially in back. Of course I modeled it, just as I always do when he gives me an outfit for Christmas. What made it all the better was that this year I had a fiancé to show off in front of as well.

Steve was a pretty good sport and he even fucked me in front of the others while I was wearing my new outfit. Of course I had let my dad be the first since he gave it to me, not to mention he had seniority rights to my pussy. I warned them both sternly not to get cum all over my new outfit but you can imagine how well they listened to THAT, LOL. Oh well, I guess that's the whole point in the first place, isn't it? Not like it's anything I would wear to school, even under my dress.

Steve didn't ask me but I knew he wanted me to go with him back home to be with his mom so I offered. My dad didn't say anything but his eyes said it all – his little girl was moving on. Normally I would have spent the rest of the morning showing him my appreciation for his gift but today was the start of a new chapter in my life. I felt my heart wrench a little but then again, I had Steve now and it's not like I hadn't made my dad happy for Christmas. So he only fucked me once, at least he got that!

5. Christmas With Steve's Mom

Compared to the morning, Christmas afternoon at Steve's house was much more subdued. First of all, nobody was naked although his mom was wearing just a short robe that seemed more like something for summer than cold winter.

We exchanged gifts with me acting as Santa's elf, passing them out one by one. Steve and his mom sat on the couch next to one another. I felt bad for her that she had been alone all morning so it seemed only fair that I let her get the attention – at least for the time being.

Watching Steve and his mom together on the couch the way they were acting, most people would probably come to a conclusion that would be 100% wrong. So far as mothers and sons go, they were probably the most "touchy feely" of any that I'd ever known but it wasn't like they were stepping over any lines. The robe was pretty short and with her legs crossed it pulled up high enough that I could tell she wasn't wearing much, if anything, under it but at the same time she kept it closed such that it couldn't be verified.

Steve kept one hand on her bare leg most of the time, running up and down her upper thigh and even pressing in between her crossed legs at times but never actually reaching her crotch. She did more or less the same with him though he was wearing jeans. Her hand would wander up his leg and even brushed against the bulge underneath but it wasn't like she dwelled on it.

I handed Marlene a present from Steve which she gleefully opened. It was a gold ankle bracelet, similar to one that I liked to wear and I knew Steve always seemed to notice when I was wearing it - especially when it was all that I was wearing. She was thrilled and leaned over to give him a kiss - not the peck on a cheek you typically see on Christmas mornings but a full on the lips version along with a bit of tongue as well.

As she leaned over her robe opened, exposing her bare breasts but they were covered up again when he reached over and cupped them in his hands - over top of the robe of course. As Steve squeezed his mother's boob she pressed down on his crotch with her open palm, rubbing it in small circles over his jeans. Finally they broke apart and she thanked him once again for the beautiful bracelet. Then they turned and sat back again, as if nothing had happened.

This wasn't by any means the first time I had witnessed something like this between the two of them so I wasn't shocked or even surprised. The first time I had seen Steve groping his mother I thought for sure it meant that there was more going on between them than they had let on but he assured me later that it was nothing like that. It was just innocent play between them and while I was suspicious at first, as time went on I came to realize that he was telling me the truth.

Never once did I see his hand slip under her clothing or into her pants. Everything was always over her clothes, even if it was only a thin t- shirt and gym shorts or even just a bra and panties. Steve tended to be more forward, cupping her breasts in his hands and rubbing her crotch while she usually stayed away from anything too close to the line although at times, such as now when she was especially emotional, her hand would slip to his crotch for a few brief moments.

Thus as I said, if anyone had seen what I had just watched for the first time, no doubt they would think that Steve and his mom had an incestual relationship but now that I'd watched them for the past six months or so I can say conclusively that it is simply not the case. Granted had they done in public what they had just done on the couch it would have attracted a lot of attention, but I saw it now as just a mother and son playing around together. If anything, for them to do it in front of me made me feel part of their family.

Seeing Steve's outward displays of affection for his mother, I wondered at times if he did the same with Sharon, his sister. Still, anytime I brought up anything close to that subject he would change the conversation to a different direction. It wasn't that he didn't want to talk about her; he told me all the time about what she did and such. He just never seemed to want to discuss anything more personal.

At first I thought maybe he was covering something up, just as I suspected more was going on between him and his mother than they were letting on. But just as I came to accept his rather complicated arrangement with his mother, I also came to accept his reluctance to discuss his sister was more because he didn't feel anything sexual about her and as such didn't want to talk about it.

After Steve's present to his mother, I was almost reluctant to give her mine as I couldn't afford anything like that. In fact, I had to wonder how Steve did but then I guess when it comes to your mom you sometimes spend beyond your means. She was more than polite when she opened mine and I even felt that she was genuinely pleased. It was a small bible that would fit into her purse. I'd debated heavily over whether or not to give it to her as she rarely went to church but that just made me feel all the more that it was something I wanted to give her. She knew how religious I was even though I tried not to preach. I just hoped that maybe it might be a small reminder to her.

To my surprise, she handed the bible to Steve and moved off the couch and down to her knees in front of where I'd been sitting on the floor in front of the couch. She put her hand on my legs which were crossed underneath me and then leaned forward to kiss me. It was the first time she had ever done such a thing and for a moment I was too surprised to react but then her tongue touched my lips and I instinctively opened my mouth and let my tongue reach out to hers. I had to balance myself from tipping back with my hands as she pressed herself into me as we kissed. After a minute or so she backed away on her knees, looking a little embarrassed.

"I hope you don't mind me doing that Kelly," she said softly, looking back at Steve for a moment and then back to me, "I just feel so lucky that my son found a girl like you and I really appreciated the thought behind your gift and I wanted to show you how I felt."

I assured her it was perfectly fine with me and for a moment I almost got up to give her a kiss in return... and then who knows what after that but she quickly resumed her place next to her son. Realizing that I had misunderstood her intentions completely, I felt a sense of relief that I had not done anything foolish to break the mood. While I may have felt something stirring, I could see clearly that now that I was betrothed to her son she was treating me no differently than she did him. It was a kiss - and just a kiss. In that moment I came to understand even more the relationship between them. His hand may have quickly found its place again between her legs, but he wasn't looking to have sex with her, he was just enjoying being with his mother.

Later when I was back in my bed alone, I thought a lot about Steve and his mother. It reminded me of something I have said to many people in the past that write to me about wanting to start an incestual relationship with their son or daughter. I usually discourage such thoughts as I don't believe most families have the structure and support system necessary for such a relationship, followed with the statement, "Remember, you don't have to have sex with your daughter to show her that you love her."

Indeed, Steve and his mom were the living embodiment of that statement. They loved each other as much as any son and his mother could but they didn't need sex to convey that love. It made me wonder what might have happened if I had never started having sex with my dad. I have never doubted for a moment that even without sex we would have still been close and I have never felt for one moment that his love for me was conditional on me submitting to his sexual needs. I've also felt that by giving myself to him we have taken our relationship to a different level and I have never regretted for one moment what I have done with him. Still, seeing how Steve and his mother have managed to work it out between them to where they come CLOSE to the line but never cross it, I have to wonder how it would have been had I done the same with my own father.

Then it was Steve's turn to give me his present. Imagine my surprise when I saw that he had picked out the exact same ankle bracelet for me that he had given his mother! Now it was my turn to kiss him and I made sure to at least match his mother's kiss. One big difference was when he reached for me his hands went inside my blouse and I felt his fingers touching my bare breast. My nipples were already quite hard from everything so far so it felt wonderful for him to play with them as we kissed in front of his mother.

I turned to Marlene and suggested that we show off our matching presents. I traded places with Steve, sitting next to his mother as he put the bracelet on his mother's ankle first, and then mine. I noticed that he made sure to feel up both of our lower legs equally in the process. Smart boy!

Finally it was her turn to hand out presents so Steve traded places with her, finally sitting next to me. She brought out only one present and handed it to me, saying it was actually for the both of us. I did the honors and unwrapped it, opening the box to find a beautiful leather bound photo album. Inside were some pictures of the two of us starting as babies up through our teens and even some recent ones.

"Your dad helped me out with yours," she explained, answering my question before I could ask it, "I know it's a little old-fashioned these days but I hope you keep it up in the future."

Now it both our turns to kiss her again so for the second time I got to kiss my future mother-in-law. This time it was more comfortable and we stayed together a little longer before parting.

I smiled at Steve and whispered in his ear, suggesting to him that we needed to do something special for his mom. He grinned and turned to me, unbuttoning my blouse without saying another word. Marlene realized what we were doing and moved back to an overstuffed chair across from the couch. Soon Steve had me naked except for my new Christmas present and was eating me out as I laid back against the back of the couch.

While his mom watched, we fucked right there in the living room on the couch. Normally when she watches we don't make a big deal out of it and do our best not to pay attention to her so she doesn't feel like she is interfering. Not today. This time we fucked for HER and I even tried to talk to her while her son fucked me. She seemed to enjoy me saying how I felt but she remained stayed quiet herself. From the way she was smiling though I knew that she appreciated the special effort we were making for her.

At one point we were spooning on the couch, facing her so she could see her son's wonderful dick as it thrust in and out of her future daughter-in-law's pussy. Marlene shifted in the chair, ticking one leg under her bottom and straightening out her robe. For a moment I thought she was going to start playing with herself, maybe even masturbate finally for the first time as she watched us. But it wasn't to happen, she was just getting comfortable. The closest she came to any response was to run her fingers through her hair, twisting it around her middle finger and then tugging on it.

Steve groaned and started to cum in me and I saw Marlene lean forward just a bit as her son emptied his load inside of me. Her eyes were fixated on where his dick was entering me and for a brief moment I saw her lick her lips but then she caught herself and settled back into the chair again.

When Steve had finished we just laid there with his arms around me, holding my boob in his one hand while the other was under my head and reaching back to stroked his fingers through my hair. I felt his head rest on my bare shoulder as we just laid there coupled together, my pussy throbbing with the feel of his dick remaining in me.

Marlene quietly got up and left the room without a word, leaving the two of us to have some private time. I was so turned on by her watching us that I wasn't ready to quit so I pushed Steve away and kneeled at the side of the couch so I could suck his dick back into life again. It didn't take much effort as it turned out and this time he fucked me on the floor, me laying on my back against the rug with one pillow from the couch under my head and another under my butt. It was just the two of this time with Marlene nowhere in sight - or so I thought.

Steve was still fucking me missionary style when I realized that Marlene was back - and this time with her camera. I wasn't sure whether I should say anything or not but I also knew that the last thing I wanted was for Steve to stop fucking until I came. Well THAT was soon to arrive and any thoughts of her camera disappeared as my orgasm racked my sweating body.

It wasn't until we were done and I struggled to get back on my feet that Marlene said anything. She handed her son the camera saying, "Here, something for your new album to remember your first Christmas together."

Now all I had to do was see if she could dig up those photos she took of us back when we first dated. My dad certainly had some of me growing up that I knew Steve wouldn't mind adding. I had a feeling our new album wasn't going to be out on the coffee table when the pastor visited!

6. Christmas Afterglow

As incredible a day as it turned out to be, one thing kept it from being a perfect Christmas - my mom didn't make it. With the bad weather and resulting flight problems it was probably for the best but still, I was disappointed as I was looking forward to finally giving her the fiancé she has been waiting for so long! I always thought we would have to wait until after I was married because my mom doesn't believe in adultery but now that she and my dad are divorced there's nothing stopping her from enjoying Steve right now.

Putting that aside, I can see now that with two families there will be some new traditions going forward. Just as my dad always gives me a special outfit each year, would Steve be giving both me and his mother the same present? Just as I always let my dad fuck me in appreciation for his gift, would Steve and I be doing it in front of his mother every year in appreciation for hers?

Yes, family traditions can be fun!

(Jan 01) Chapter 222: New Year's Eve

Story codes: MF FF oral group
Me (25)
Steve - my fiancé (27)
Beth - BFF (25)

It was to be my last New Year's Eve as a single girl so I wanted to make the most of it.

1. Making Plans

This was to be my last New Year's Eve as a single woman. I fully intend to be 100% faithful to Steve after I marry him which means no sex outside the family. Granted, that still leaves a lot of options given my definition of sex, but it will still be pretty big life-style change for me. On the other hand, I love Steve so much that I'm not the least bit hesitant or reluctant.

My mother was the perfect role-model for me and while her marriage may not have lasted "until death", it WAS a wonderful marriage for over 25 years and I feel in large part it was due to her being so faithful to her husband. I know other couples that have sex outside their immediate family and claim that it works really well for them and I would never criticize them, no more than I would want anyone to find fault in my beliefs. This is simply how I think it's best for me.

All that said, I still felt a little bit like I needed to have one last fling for the holidays! I'd been talking about it with Steve and he was OK with it. Actually, this was one area where we had to come to an agreement early on in our engagement. As it turned out I hadn't really discussed adultery and infidelity with him before he proposed so I was a little surprised that he seemed to assume that I was going to want us to be swingers and do some swapping after we got married. I can't say I entirely blame him for having that thoughts as no doubt others who don't know my feelings about the sanctity of marriage could also think that way given my history. Funny thing is, I think he was actually looking forward to it.

Although Steve seemed to be a bit disappointed regarding my feelings about swapping, it all worked out when I explained to him that incest isn't adultery so he could continue to fuck my relatives all he wanted even after we got married without me seeing it as an act of adultery. I knew this appealed to him as he had already fucked my aunt a couple of times and my cousin Kristen once. I knew he would love to fuck my youngest cousin Tammy although that was a bit of a long shot given her current boyfriend situation. Still, being told he could continue with my aunt especially after we got married was a pleasant surprise for him.

Steve didn't know it but I was still debating about my best friend Beth and him after we get married. My dad had fucked Beth a couple of times while my parents were married, even though she was outside pour family. My parents (or at least my dad) rationalized it then that as my BFF she was virtually one of the family so it was OK. At the time I thought his line of reasoning was a little shaky so I'll have to think about that one some more. Beth can always suck his dick as that's not sex so is it really necessary for him to fuck her? Personally, I suspect that Beth really wants to fuck my fiancé more to get back at me a little for seducing her father years ago but maybe I'm seeing more than I should and she just wants to get laid by him. Can't say I blame her for that!

Being engaged to Steve was changing a lot of things in my life and New Year's was yet another. In the past I had a tendency to stick with my cousin and girlfriends on this night rather than seek out a party. While I am not a lesbian, I do enjoy being with a girl now and then but those times tend to be with my friends and family more so than with strangers. It's different with guys where I can just get laid and enjoy it without having to worry too much about anything above his waist. With girls sex tends to be more intimate and personal for me so as a rule it is almost exclusively with people I already know and am close to. New Year's Eve is one of the few times when I get together with just a group of girls for an evening of sex.

Now that I am engaged I wanted to spend the evening with my fiancé - a rather drastic departure from past tradition. Still, it WAS New Year's Eve so just sitting home alone with him wasn't my idea of the ideal evening. Any other night was fine but not this one. It didn't take much to find a couple of parties for us to go to as I was always being invited to them but in the past had always turned them down. Needless to say Steve was all for it, especially when I told him that it would be our first and only New Year's Eve together being single so I planned to make the most of it. Steve knew me well enough by now to understand what THAT meant so I didn't have to spell it out for him. Of course, that meant he was free to do the same.

Thankfully it warmed up for the weekend, or at least the New Year's Eve part. You could almost go out without a coat on Friday! I wanted to wear something slutty for Steve and while I would have no matter what the weather, it was nice not having to worry about freezing my butt off! We made our plans regarding the parties I had picked out although I intended that we make our way back to his place before midnight. That meant a lot of traveling and getting in and out of his pickup truck so the warmer weather was much appreciated!

Anytime I went to a party it was always a major decision as to what to wear and this night was no exception. If anything it was even driving me all the more crazy knowing Steve was taking me so I wanted to make him proud of me. I debated for the entire week what to wear - or not. When I thought it would be colder had I toyed with the idea of wearing nothing but my winter coat which hangs down to my knees. I may still have done that had we just gone to his house but with the parties now on the agenda I didn't want to start right out being nude at them. Granted, it wouldn't surprise me if I ended up that way before long but sometimes the fun is as much getting naked as actually being nude.

My final decision was a little different than I started off with but it was based more with the parties in mind than just Steve. As a general rule the less I wear the more Steve loves it but he would just have to wait until we got to his house for me to run around nude. My final choice was a pair of ripped jeans that hung low on my rear and so tight that I had to lay on my bed and suck in my belly while I pulled them on. Of course there were no panties underneath but that's a given for me most any time. The only thing I decided to wear on top was a REALLY tight ribbed tube top that showed off my boobs really nice - and was easily moved out of the way without having to take it off and maybe losing it somewhere. All in all it wasn't all that dressy and maybe not as slutty as I'd originally intended but under the circumstances it seemed appropriate as well as functional.

Thankfully Steve somehow managed to get New Year's Eve off. I guess since he worked Christmas Eve that he got to have the next holiday. I tried to get some extra sleep during the day but was far too excited for that to happen. It had been a while since I spent an entire afternoon masturbating but I don't think anybody would prosecute me for it as horny as I was that day. The strange thing was that even after spending hours in my bed I was STILL hornier than ever by the time Steve picked me up just before 9:00 PM. I had made it a point NOT to shower after my afternoon "workout" so when he kissed me at the door he could smell the strong scent of sex on me like a dog on the hunt!

If I had let him I am sure Steve would have dragged me up to my bedroom and just fucked me all night but I was actually looking forward to the parties so before he could get carried away I pushed him out the door and we were off to the first party. As compensation I lowered my tube top during the drive over and let him see me playing with my boobs for him. No doubt he was hoping that I would suck him off on the ride over but I wanted him firm and hard for the party. No doubt the other girls would appreciate my restraint!

2. Party #1 – Just a BJ or Two... or More

Party number one wasn't that far from where I loved so soon he was finding a place to park on the street while I put my tube top back in place. Inside were a bunch of people I'd partied with before so I pretty much knew everyone, one of the reasons I picked this one. Steve didn't know hardly anyone though so I had to introduce him. I have to say we got a lot of stares and comments when I introduced him as my fiancé!

Before I go into any details, let me just say this about my fiancé... Steve is the most wonderful guy I've ever known and I love the way he is so possessive at times yet he is proud to show me off at the same time. I also have to say I love the way the other girls look at him and it makes me feel really good to know he is MINE! I found it really hot seeing how the other girls all wanted Steve I think Steve felt pretty much the same about me when the other men all flirted with me. There's something about being the one he ultimately turns to even though he's been fucking another beautiful girl that shows me how much he loves me! While I love being fucked by other guys, it's just physical and it makes me feel good again to give myself to Steve when it's all said and done, like I am saying, "OK Steve, they did me good but YOU are the one I want!"

The first party was not what I would call a sex party but then it wasn't like it was discouraged either, just more subdued. Looking around, nothing much was being done openly as people pretty much broke off and used one of the other rooms when they wanted sex and then returned when they were done. There might be a quick blowjob and indeed there was plenty of groping but as a rule, sex was done more privately with the party scene acting more as a "dating service" than anything else.

Since not everyone there knew I was engaged I loved to show off my engagement ring. A few of the guys I use to have fun with at past parties seemed a bit disappointed which I thought was pretty funny. One of them asked if that meant I wasn't going to be "a party girl" anymore. Like duh, what did they think I was there for, the drinks and chips? When he asked I just looked at Steve and he grinned and nodded, knowing exactly what was going on in my head.

I didn't have to say another word as I got up and undid the guy's pants in front of everyone. A crowd quickly grew as I reached inside and pulled out his dick. When I started sucking him everyone cheered me on. I guess that showed him - and anyone else who thought I might somehow be "converted". Heck, I wasn't married yet! Being engaged didn't mean I had signed up to be a nun after all.

Once the ice was broken, so to say, I must have sucked at least half a dozen more guys, all right in front of Steve. After the second one, some of the girls took it to mean he was available and soon he had a couple of them working him over as well. Like me, they just sucked his cock but I am sure had he wanted they would have been happy to have moved things to one of the open bedrooms but Steve seemed to be enjoying watching me as much as what he was getting so we kept things out in the open.

After I'd gotten my share of cum and Steve had shot his load into two girls open mouths, we were ready to leave when one more guy stepped up for his turn. I looked up and was surprised to see that it was someone I hadn't seen in ages from back in my high school days as a school slut. If my memory served, he had such a crush on me but didn't ask me out until almost graduation when he finally worked up the nerve. As it turned out he was a pretty good fuck but after graduation he went off to college out of state and I hadn't seen him since. I introduced him to Steve and gave him a brief synopsis of our history.

Steve had his jeans zippered up again but evidently the idea of watching an old flame of mine do me was too much to resist so whispered in my ear, asking me if I was still horny for the guy. Well duh! He was even more handsome than he was as a teenager. Steve just gave me that look he does when he knows I want something but haven't asked for it. At first I thought we was going to stayed in the room while I led my old flame to one of the back bedrooms, but just as I was about to close the door he stepped inside, along with a few other guys and a couple of girls. So much for privacy!

I think the guy was a bit surprised at how quickly he found himself with me in bed. Most likely he had assumed that at best he would just be in line for another BJ from me after seeing me sucking off the other guys. Still, it's not like he resisted. Wow, talk about some old memories as he fucked me! Having the room lined with on-lookers didn't hurt either, especially with my fiancé front and center among them. Indeed, I could hear him bragging to the people around him, telling them that I was his fiancé and that we were going to be married in August.

In all it didn't last too long as the guy couldn't help but cum faster than perhaps he wanted but I wasn't exactly trying to stretch it out either. It was just a party fuck so once everyone got to see the show then there was no sense in dragging things out so as soon as he was about to cum I wrapped my legs around him and made sure he finished promptly.

The guy came inside of me and I have to say, it was like half the crowd like it while a sizable number were calling out for him to cum on my face or boobs. I call it the "porn effect" where people seem to think that real sex is supposed to be like what they see on the internet. As a result you have the "cream-pie" lovers who want to see his cum dripping from my pussy and then there is the "facial" lovers who are more instead in seeing a guy jerking off at the end and then spraying his cum all over a girl's face and if she's lucky, some of it ends up in her mouth. You might call it a subset of these that want him to cum on her boobs or ass, but the majority seem to go for the face.

Personally, I'll take it in my pussy over my face and hair any day but at the same time I know that guys get off doing it on me so if I am in the right mood I can go along with it. The issue I had at the moment was I knew I had another party to go o and I really wasn't thrilled to have my hair filled with sticky cum, at least not so early in the evening. If I could take a shower right away and wash it out then it wasn't so bad but getting dried cum out of your hair is a nightmare!

When he was finishing dumping his cum in me he pulled out and Steve then moved in and proudly help my legs up while I squeezed down and pushed the guy's cum out of me as best I could. One of the girls, someone I'd never seen before, move in and licked it up as it dripped out of me which served two purposes. First, it was nice just to be cleaned up but the best part was she also made sure to pay some attention to my clit which really felt good after being fucked so well.

Steve was so cool about it all, even helping me to find my clothes and get dressed when it was all over. We moved back out into the meeting area and said out goodbyes. A couple of the guys were trying to talk us into staying, no doubt wanting their own shot at spending some time in the bedroom with me, but so far as I was concerned it was "mission accomplished" so far as this party was concerned and so we left and headed for the next party.

As we drove Steve was grinning from ear to ear. I asked him what he liked the most - getting blown by the girls, seeing his fiancé sucking a line of dicks, or watching be getting laid by an old boyfriend from high school. My expectation was that he would say seeing me being fucked was the best part but he surprised me and claimed he liked seeing me sucking the dicks the most. When I asked why he just shrugged and said it actually looked sluttier for me to do it out in the middle of the party than hiding away in a back bedroom like some sort of whorehouse. Well, if that is what turned him on then I filed that away for future reference.

We had left before I thought about grabbing a drink so I had him run through a McDonald's drive through to order me a Diet Coke to rinse out my mouth. There's something about cum that just stays in your mouth and even though it was now over a half hour since I'd taken the last load I could still feel it in my mouth. It wasn't so much that it bothered me - I actually liked the lingering aftertaste. I just knew that Steve was about as homophobic as they cum and he had been avoiding kissing me since I'd done the blowjobs and so I was hoping the soft drink fizz would help erase the majority of the taste. It wasn't that he didn't kiss me after I took a load like some men would refuse to do - just so it was HIS load that he was tasting, not that of a bunch of other guys.

3. Party #2 - Swapping With Beth

The second party was smaller, consisting of some of my closer girlfriends and guys we both knew from high school including my best friend Beth. This was the party I had been looking forward to the most - as was Steve. The only reason I chose the first one was to see how Steve would react to seeing me in full "slut mode" whereas this one was more to be with friends.

We were both disappointed that Kristen had pulled out at the last minute. She had been planning on attending but then my dad and her mom had called just the way before imploring her to go with them to a party where bringing your daughter or son was required so she agreed to help out ended up going with them instead. I couldn't complain as it kept them from asking me and it would have put me in a bind had they asked me instead. Not only would it have meant passing on a night I really wanted to spend with my new fiancé, but it would have also meant engaging in an evening where I wouldn't have been nearly as comfortable with the age group that was involved. Fortunately Kristen was more than willing to deal with that type of scene so we would just have to get along without her for the night.

Beth was not only attending but she was also acting as the host. It wasn't at her house but she when it came to organizing parties it was her "gift" in that nobody organized and arranged such events better than her. She'd already hijacked my wedding plans and heaven knows what she had planned for my bachelorette party. Once again I got to show off my ring as while most everyone at this party knew about my pending nuptials, not everybody had seen the ring other than a photo I'd put on my Facebook page showing it on my finger.

Even though these were all friends that knew me well, it was a little funny how many of them said they are surprised I am getting married. Then again, maybe it was because they knew me so well that they were surprised! Still, I'd never said I wanted to stay single forever and they all know how much I adored Steve so there shouldn't have been any surprise other than that Steve finally worked up the courage to propose!

Of course except for Beth and a couple of other close friends, none of them knew about my incestuous relationships. Thus while they may have wondered how I was going to be able to confine my sexual activities to just Steve after we were married, what they didn't know was that Steve and I would continue to have other "options" eve after we said our vows. It's just another benefit to incest if you ask me.

We'd only been there for maybe five minutes and were still greeting everyone when Beth pulled me into the kitchen, all excited about something or another. As it turned out, I'd mentioned to her in the past something about my on-line relationship with Deni M.'s teenage twins but I never thought she really listened all that much to it as she knew nothing I did on-line ever led to anything other than a few fantasies. Frankly, Beth never did seem to understand my infatuation with on-line chatting and such and in her mind my web site was just a disaster waiting to happen. She was always trying to talk me into removing it and so when I finally did take it down, leaving just the story files but removing everything else, nobody was happier than she was.

You would think by now after knowing Beth all these years that when it come to my best friend I should never be surprised by anything yet once again I found myself amazed at her. We left the kitchen and went to the dining room where she introduced me to two guys standing over by the dining room table and then proceeded to ask them point blank right in front of me if they would like to fuck me! Well, that's my best friend for you! Of course they said yes and then she dropped the other shoe and informed me that they were brothers! Granted, they weren't identical twins and both were a least a decade past their fourteenth birthday, but I knew what she was up to. She even told me I could call them Tom and Ted, the names of Deni's horny fourteen year-old sons that I had been corresponding with since they didn't offer up their own names.

I figured what the heck, why not? I turned to go tell Steve that I'd be busy for a bit but before I had a chance Beth pulled my tube top down to my waist to expose my boobs, saying something about Steve already being "taken care of". With that she left abruptly and I had to wonder if she didn't really mean he was GOING to be taken care of. So far as I knew, Steve had never fucked her, not even back in high school when Beth was already doing guys in school while I was still a virgin. Steve had certainly been no virgin when he started dating me, not by any means, but for whatever reason he'd never done Beth before he started fucking me. Once we started having sex he stopped doing other girls so he never got to her before he moved away with his mom. So maybe tonight she would finally get him. Oh well, who was I to complain? After all, he was marrying ME, not her. Heck, I'd seen her fuck my own father - twice, so why not my fiancé?

The evening was flying by so there wasn't all that much time which meant we didn't fool around with a lot of flirting or even foreplay. The guys were already undoing their jeans by the time Beth had exited the room and I soon was lowering mine. I purposely left the tube top around my waist as it wasn't in the way and that way it wouldn't get lost. We moved back to the kitchen where one brother fucked me first as I leaned over the counter by the sink. Before he came I got up on the counter with my legs hanging over and spread wide while the other one took his turn at drilling me. He didn't have as much control as his sibling and he came in me quickly so I got down and bent over to suck him while his brother got in behind me and fucked me again, this time finished himself off in me.

It was pretty cool to be fucked by one brother while sucking the other - a first for me! The only other brothers I'd ever done were Steve and his younger brother but that was back when I was fourteen and in any case they didn't fuck me at the same so it wasn't anything like this. Now if my "Ted and Tom" had just been twins and fourteen, my on-line fantasy would have been realized. Still, I wasn't complaining. When we were done I grabbed some paper towels and wiped myself up a bit before pulling up my jeans. The guys got dressed and left without saying anything to me. Oh well, typical guys - fuck her and leave her.

When I was dressed I looked around for Steve but it took me a while to find him, Sure enough, I checked out one of the bedrooms and there he was with Beth, fucking her doggie style - her favorite position as I knew from past experience at her sex parties. There were a few guys and a couple of girls in the darkened room watching so I blended in with the crowd without him noticing. It was pretty hot to see my new fiancé fucking my best friend right in front of all our friends.

A couple of people noticed me and I think they were a little surprised that I would be watching but I just flashed my ring so they would know who he belonged to when the night was over. Actually I was pretty proud of Steve and the way he was fucking Beth. Damn, my guy was doing her really good! Not to mention he looked like a stud all naked and sweaty as he banged her with everything he had.

Some guy I'd never seen before was standing next to me and must have noticed me showing off my engagement ring. He leaned down to ask me if I was really Steve's fiancé. The ring flashed again and I mentioned that Beth was also my BFF. He grinned at that and then nodded towards Steve and Beth and asked me if I wanted to get laid right next to my fiancé and best friend. Of course he meant that HE would be the one but he was pretty hot so I figured why not put on a good show? I agreed to do it which I think surprised the dude a bit. No doubt he had assumed I would refuse and hadn't actually expected me to go along with it and now I'd gone and called his bluff. It's funny how many guys TALK a big game but when it comes down to actually DOING anything they get all flustered and embarrassed. I had to give him credit as he recovered his composure quickly and took me by the arm, leading me up to the bed where my fiancé was screwing my best friend as if nobody else was watching.

Steve and Beth were both totally naked so this time I undressed completely and before anyone realized what was going on the two of us were on the bed next to them and I was sucking this guy's dick. I never even asked him his name but it didn't matter, I had all I needed to know about him in my mouth! Steve saw me as soon as I started climbing on the bed and gave me a thumbs up. Damn, he has to be the most wonderful fiancé in the world! I can't wait to be his wife!

It didn't take long for my guy to go from a partial erection to full bore hardness after which I dropped him from my mouth and laid down just under Beth such that her knees were on one side of me and her hand holding her up on the other. Her large boobs hung down and grazed across mine as she moved in rhythm with Steve's cock thrusting in and out of her pussy. It had been quite a while since we were in this position but I didn't have much time to think about all that as my guy was on top and pushing his dick in me immediately.

Fortunately my pussy had been pretty well fucked already by the two brothers so he didn't have any problem just pushing it in me all the way on the first shove. Even before we had arrived I knew the night was going to be fun but I'd never anticipated anything quite like this. Here I was laying naked on a bed under my nude best friend while my fiancé fucked her and some guy I'd never seen before was burrowing his dick deep inside my pussy. As hot as that all sounds, what made it complete was the room was now getting packed as word must have spread about what was going on.

Looking around, I knew almost everyone in the room and indeed, most of the guys in the room had fucked me at least once in the past. Even the brothers who had just fucked me were now watching. I felt like a princess – a fucking princess at that!! Steve groaned as he started to cum in Beth and it wasn't all that much longer before the guy doing me did the same. Once he was finished he got up and left the three of us on the bed. Steve have Beth a quick kiss and moved over to me, filling me with his still erect cock. I couldn't help but feel proud of him for staying hard given he'd already cum several time this evening already. For whatever reason, that seemed to excite the crowd as they cheered and urged him on.

Meanwhile, Beth was kneeling over my face, pushing her pussy onto my face as Steve's cum dripped out of her and into my open mouth. It had been ages since I'd licked Beth's pussy and now to have it AND have it filled with Steve's cum, while at the same time Steve was ramming his dick in my own pussy... well do I have to say anything more?

Poor Steve, his heart was in it but his poor dick needed some time to recharge, He was exhausted and finally just flopped over on his back on the bed. Whether he realized it or not, that effectively left Beth and me "available" and it didn't take long for the guys in the room to take advantage of the situation. In a way I felt a bit of disappointment as it had been a long time since Beth and I had had sex but then, if I had to be separated from her then what better way than this?

Seeing what was heading our way, Beth laid down right next to me, putting her arm through mine as we both spread out legs and waited for the inevitable. God, how long had it been since we had done anything like this together? Sure we'd both had sex at the various parties she was always trying to get me to go to with her, but to just lay back side by side and let ourselves be used by a bunch of horny guys took me all the way back to high school when we use to compete for title of the biggest slut in school.

One by one we took on all comers - or should I say cummers? It was sort like what I'd done before at some of Beth's sex parties but in this case rather than having them pull out and cum in my mouth while the next one fucked me, this time we had them stay in is and cum inside of our pussies. It was probably best that Steve was too tired to join in as I knew he hated "sloppy seconds". He had told me plenty of times before that feeling his dick surrounded by another guys cum was about as big as turnoff as anything. Now WATCHING other guys doing it was a different story and I saw he was now sitting up so he could get a better view.

We each took four guys before it over, not counting Steve and my first guy so I guess that made for a total of five loads of sperm for each of us. My pussy felt like it was flooded and I could feel the cum running down my butt onto the bed. I could only imagine how it must have looked to Steve to see his fiancé's pussy overflowing with the cum of so many other men but if anything, Steve's dick seemed to be recovering even faster at the sight. That left just one thing to make it complete...

The crowd literally cheered as Beth got on top of me as we 69'd, each of us licking out the cum from the other's pussy. Beth was dripping cum and my face was a wreck but I had to imagine hers was no better from the way I was feeling down there. The best part was that I had been focusing so much on them fucking me with Steve and the others watching that now I was finally getting my first orgasm. Damn, Beth knew how to lick a pussy, I had to give her that!

Not to be outdone, I worked on her until she also came, gushing all over my face yet again as she moaned with pleasure. Any other time I would have been happy to hang around for a while and maybe do a few more guys but then I saw a clock by the bed and it was getting too close to midnight for comfort. I had this big idea for how to celebrate the new year and it wasn't like it could ever be done again so I didn't want to miss the opportunity. I gave Beth a kiss and hurried to the bathroom to clean myself off for Steve later. Then we got dressed and left the party for his house, getting there with only about twenty minutes to spare. Damn, we were cutting things close!

4. Midnight Finale

Once at his house. Steve and I headed straight for his living room where his mom had Dick Clark on the TV with the countdown. I hadn't told Steve my idea yet as I wasn't sure we would make it back in time but when I told him he was just as excited about it as I was.

My plan was to go from the old year where I was single and so much had happened to me to the new year with the world's best fiancé and so much to look forward to. I wanted to celebrate being with Steve and show him how much he meant to me and how much I wanted to be part of his life as his wife. Well, what better way than to have him inside of me as the ball dropped in Times Square and then have him cum in me just as it turned midnight? Granted, the timing would be tricky as it's not like his dick had a button on it to make him cum on command but I figured he could give it a good try if nothing else. Hopefully between the time he had to rest and the show that Beth and I had put on for him he would be ready to go by now.

In the end it worked out almost just as I hoped. Steve gave it a really good try but he couldn't help cumming about ten seconds early which I actually thought was pretty darn good. His mom gave us both a kiss, wishing us happy new year as she left us to go to her bedroom. Finally alone for the first time that night, we laid there for almost a half hour with him in me as we just kissed, hugged and loved each other. Somehow we made it to his bed but I really don't remember much of the rest of the night. God I was so tired but it was in a good way. Damn, it had been a while since I'd been fucked so well in one night and then to end it with my incredible fiancé... it had been a fairytale evening from start to finish.

Overall all it was the perfect way to end the new year and start the new one. I realize that as a married woman I'll never have another New Year's Eve quite like this one but at least I'll have the memories to treasure forever.

(Mar 03) Chapter 223: My Mom Meets My Fiancé

Me (26)
Mary - my mom (44)
Steve - my fiancé (27)
Kristen - cousin

If there is one thing I know my mom regrets in life, it's not having a son. It's not that she didn't WANT one, she just couldn't. It wasn't her fault. In fact, in a way you could say it was MY fault as she was unable to bear children after I came along. As such I knew she has been looking forward to the day I got married so she could finally have a "son" of her own. Now that she's divorced she doesn't even have to wait until after the wedding as we had always discussed. Indeed, she was ready and anxious to check out Steve's marital "qualifications" the first chance she got!

1. A Mother's Dreams

As I mentioned in the summary, ever since I started dating and having sex my mother has told me about her fantasies of having a son. Who could blame her? I mean like her husband had a daughter to satisfy his needs so why shouldn't a mother have a son for hers? That's not at all to say the only reason she wants a son is for sex, no more than my dad only thinks of me that way. But when it comes to her fantasies, this one near the top of the list.

Considering we are talking about MY husband, people might think I would have some say in the matter. For me the question is not whether or not I would allow my husband to have sex with my mother as that's not my call to make. By virtue of him being my husband he becomes a part of my family and as such he has the right to have sex with anyone in my family that he wants, provided they agree of course.

It's not like we are cavemen and the guys go around taking whatever female they desire. My "permission", as if it's needed in the first place, will be given when I say, "I do." In the same way that Steve effectively agreed to MY family relationships when he proposed to me. In a civilized society if both parties are part of the same family and consent, then who has the right to tell them they can't have sex?

One question that lingers for me is would I really want to watch Steve fuck my mom? It's one thing knowing what is going on in the bedroom but quite another to witness it. For that matter, would ANY girl want to see her husband fucking her mother? Oh sure, every porn movie and erotic story would lead you to believe that the new bride just can't wait for such a moment but since when do these sources reflect reality about anything? These are the same scum that would lead you to believe that every woman wants her face covered in cum, that girls walk down the street ready to jump at the chance to have sex in a moving van with strangers, or that ugly guys with video cameras can talk girls into have unpaid sex under the guise of "auditioning". Yeah, right. Enough said.

If there's one thing I've learned since being engaged is that it's easy to THINK about things and discuss them when you don't have to actually DO them. Ever since I started having sex my mother would tease me about how she hoped that I would marry soon so she could have my guy for herself. It was all just talk. My boyfriends were safe as my mom's strict morals forbade her from committing adultery so she couldn't actually DO anything until I married someone.

Growing up I never gave any thought to my fiancé as until we said our vows he would be off-limits. The only reason this has become an issue now while I am engaged is that my parents divorced a couple of years ago meaning now she can have sex with anyone she wants without the limitations and restrictions of her marriage vows getting in the way.

With my mom living way out in Oregon now, the distance factor also came into play. She has rarely visited Pittsburgh since she walked out on my dad, actually not having returned since the divorce was finalized. So far I've visited her once so I was looking forward to her next visit. I'd thought she would be home for last Christmas but with the weather and her work she wasn't able to make it so now it was a couple months later before she could arrange another time.

So back to the issue at hand... When I called my mom to tell her the good news that her daughter was engaged, her first words were "Finally, what took him so long?" Not long after that she asked when she would get to meet him to which I replied that she needed to come back to Pittsburgh! Actually my mom HAD met Steve, but it was twelve years ago back when I first started dating. Steve was my "first" and my mom was the first person I gave the news to after giving him my virginity. It is sort of ironic that he was also the first boy she would kid me about marrying so she could share him with me. Granted, it was 100% joking as my mother would have never had sex with a boy his age, even if he WAS sixteen (which seemed SO old to me at the time), but it's funny how these sort of things work out in life. Now I WAS marrying him and I WAS prepared to share him with her. Who would have ever predicted it?

When my mom called me to tell me she was finally going to make the trip I was thrilled. My mother has always best my best friend, the person I could always confide anything and never have to worry about her judging me. It wasn't until she hinted that she was looking forward to seeing "all" of Steve that I realized that this was not something I had really discussed with Steve yet. Ooops.

Oh to be sure Steve knew all about me and my dad - I made sure of that before he even proposed. And yes, he was already enjoying being with my Aunt Linda and cousin Kristen. I had mentioned this to my mom and when she heard that he actually preferred my aunt over her daughter, I sensed a bit of tension even over the long-distance connection. I could have kicked myself for running my mouth as I knew that my mom and her sister weren't exactly on the best of terms. My mom still blamed her sister for being a large reason for the divorce. It had nothing to do with my dad having sex with her - they'd been doing that since high school, grade school for Linda. What made my mom mad was her supporting my dad's addiction to pedophilia - a long story for another time. It certainly didn't smooth things over when she moved in with my dad, especially considering some of the kinky scenes they started getting involved with.

So anyway, in all the talk about the women in my family, we had somehow avoided my mother. Perhaps avoided is the wrong word - make that we simply didn't think about her in that way. That was most likely due to her being so far away. Heck, Steve hadn't even seen her since her returned to Pittsburgh. Another factor may have been Steve's mother. While Steve had fooled around with his mother once back when we were dating and she watched us having sex, since then there was nothing between like that. Oh sure they were close and enjoyed kissing and groping but it was always over their clothes. On reflection, maybe the fact that he never considered sex with his own mother that he avoided thinking about sex with his soon-to-be mother-in-law.

I knew I had to deal with this before my mom arrived, and the sooner the better. The where and how was easy to decide. If there's one thing I've learned over the years, if you want to get a man to talk and agree to anything, ask him during sex, especially right after he cums. It's like all his hormones are raging and any inhibitions are flushed away along with his sperm. It almost always worked with my dad and I found that Steve was just as easy.

So the next time we were having sex, I waited until Steve had cum in me and while I was still on top of him I lifted myself up and looked him in the eyes, or at least as best I could with his being half-shut after his orgasm.

"My mom's going to be here next week," I said off-handedly.

"That's nice," he sighed. I had to wonder if he'd even heard what I said!

"She wants you to fuck her."

Now THAT opened his eyes. Well, at least he was listening which was better than many times after he'd just cum as hard as he had. Men! How many times have I laid in the bed while they go to sleep and masturbate myself because I'm still ready to keep going while they pass out?

"Your mother wants me to have sex with her?" he said in a hoarse voice.

"Well duh," I teased him, wiggling my bare butt on his crotch trying to revive his cock while it was still in me. "Doesn't every mother want to have sex with their future son-in-law?"

Steve just laughed at that but I liked it as it made him jump a bit in bed, pushing his dick into me again. To my delight he was hardening up again. Was it my pussy around his dick or the thought of my mother's pussy around it that was arousing him?

"C'mon... you got to admit Kelly, not many do."

"Well... don't you think your mom would like to have sex with me?" I teased him.

Steve's eyes rolled up in his head and then he shook it. "First, my mother is NOT a lesbian and second, she would never have sex with you."

Now what was he so certain about that? Anyway, I pretended to pout, sitting up more straight which had the added benefit of driving his now stiffened dick even deeper inside of me. I leaned back over and kissed him, feeling his tongue exploring my lips and mouth. We separated with our faces barely inches apart, my hair hanging over us like a tent.

"Seriously now Kelly, does your mother REALLY want to have sex with me?"

"Well, you fuck her sister don't you?"

Steve laughed again and again his dick jumped in me at the thought of my aunt.

"Don't tell me she's jealous," Steve sighed.

It was getting harder and harder to maintain a conversation. I mean that literally as well as figuratively as his erection was filling my wet pussy once again.

Mmmmmmm, I wanted him to fuck me again... and again. God I love him!

Quickly I told him how she had teased me about him back when we first dated and then assured him that it was OK with me. I was starting to bounce on his dick a little, unable to fully contain myself any longer.

"Can I tell you a secret?" he whispered conspiratorially. I nodded and he continued, "I always wanted to fuck your mother back then... she was HOT!"

With that we both laughed and the conversation ended as Steve pulled me into him and then rolled over so he was on top, keeping his dick in me along the way. For the next fifteen minutes or so, there was no further conversations about my mother!

After he had cum in me again, this time he DID pass out, or at least he fell asleep awfully quick. We could have gone for a third time and it would have been just fine with me but he'd been working a lot of hours so I knew I'd have to wait a while before he was ready to go again. I laid next to him, feeling his warm body against mine as I slowly rubbed myself, his sperm oozing out of me and lubricating my clit as I played with myself.

At least it seemed that Steve didn't have any issues with me asking to have sex with my mother. Not that I ever had much doubt in the first place of course. Now the ball was back in my court in terms of how to get it done. The key question that dominated my thoughts was would I want to watch?

When I first told Steve that my dad fucked me, he naturally thought I was pulling the biggest practical joke ever on him. It wasn't until he watched from the closet as my dad fucked me in the cabin that he couldn't dispute the facts any further. After that he made it clear that while I was free to keep my obligations concerning my dad, he preferred NOT to be involved in any way. It seemed a little funny at first considering this is the same guy who loves to watch other men fuck me - at least all other men but one. He insisted it wasn't because he didn't like my dad doing me or that it bothered him, but that it was just something he wasn't turned on by.

Actually it was probably best that he didn't want to join in. My dad may be a huge pedophile but he is NOT a homosexual in any sense of the word. While he has fucked me with his brother, that was with his brother, not just some other guy. Steve may be his daughter's fiancé but he was not my dad's brother.

So now the shoe was back on the other foot. Certainly I didn't need to watch for confirmation. I had no doubt they would do it. The question was did I want to see it for myself? OK, so maybe I would the first time just because I'd be curious to see her reaction to Steve. It's not like Steve has an eight inch dick or anything but he is pretty good in bed from a technique standpoint. He also licks pussy better than most guys as well - but I may be biased!

Remember, I haven't hardly seen my mom fuck anyone else besides my dad all my life. When I last visited her we went out and fucked a few guys but they were just strangers we picked up for sex, nobody that meant anything. The guy who I've seen fuck her more than anyone besides my dad is my cousin Rick and he was Always just a "boy toy" for her. She seemed to enjoy the way he drooled over her and begged her to let him fuck her as much as the sex. So when it comes to Steve, I sort of look forward to see how she reacts to him and how she approaches him - as a MILF, a slut, a mom, a mother-in-law, or what. Well, hopefully I'd had my answer soon.

2. My Mom Meets Steve

One of the reasons my mom chose this week to take off and visit was to be here for my birthday - March 1st. Damn, I couldn't believe I was going to be 26! Like, that meant in four years I'd be thirty and that just sounds WAY to old.

So anyway, she arrived Monday night, my last day as a 25 year-old. Steve and I picked her up at the airport and so she got to see Steve right away. She marveled at how he had grown up which only made sense since he was 28 now and the last time she'd seen him he was sixteen! He immediately got on her good side by saying she hadn't changed a bit. She was 44 now with her 45th birthday coming in early June so it wasn't like she was the 32 year-old mom he'd known when he was dating me. Still, I have to say I think my mom has done a great job in keeping her figure and she's always been a sharp dresser. Just ask my poor dad who has to pay the credit card bills!

Steve drove on the way home and my mom sat in the front seat with me in the back. He'd borrowed his mother's car so we wouldn't have to put her luggage in the back of his pickup truck. At first mom thought it was HIS car and she commented on how nice it was that he could afford a Lexus but Steve quickly reset her expectations when he corrected her and said he'd drove a ten year-old truck. Although he kept it in good condition it definitely was not an almost- new Lexus. Oh well, it has paid for so that was something. I guess we could have brought my car which was actually my mom's old car. Still, the Lexus was newer and nicer than my older Avalon.

My mom had originally made reservations at a downtown hotel. She obviously didn't want to spend the week with my dad and aunt and there wasn't a lot of extra room at our house. Still, once I heard she was going to have to pay a hotel to come to visit I insisted she stay in my bedroom. Unfortunately I only had a twin bed so that meant I would either sleep on the couch in the living room or share Kristen's queen bed.

Well the answer was obvious and if anything, Kristen teased me earlier in the week that she might be bringing home someone to share it with us. That was just an all-around bad idea. Knowing how my mom felt about my dad dabbling in underage sex now with her sister, the LAST thing I need was for my cousin to bring home some boy toy to play with while my mom was staying with us! She claimed to be just teasing me but I'd learned a long time ago that when it came to Kristen, nothing is beyond belief.

Steve helped carry my mom's luggage up to my room like a gentleman. I was so proud of him! Kristen was home and she greeted her aunt with a hug and a kiss. She mentioned something about my dad and her mom coming over tomorrow before my birthday and I had to admit I was a little relieved that they had decided to wait a day for my mom to settle in. Over the past year my mom and dad had reconciled a lot of their differences. I don't mean they would ever get back together again but just that they came to some understandings.

My mom asked for a few moments to freshen up after the long flight so the rest of us went back down to the kitchen for some snacks. My mom joined us soon and we spent the next hour or so catching up on most everything, especially the upcoming wedding. It was starting to get late and I mentioned to my mom that Steve would have to leave in a while to get to work. I hated his schedule but as the junior paramedic he was stuck with the midnight shift until he got more seniority.

"Oh, then I guess we had better get going then?" she said with a sly grin as she looked over at Steve. I wasn't quite sure where she was going with this so I asked her what she meant.

"Well let me see if I have this right... Steve here has been fucking my daughter since she was what, fourteen? Now he's doing my favorite niece as well. On top of everything, he's also having sex with my sister. Have I got this right so far?"

Steve seemed a little surprised by my mom's straightforward approach but then that was my mom. She never has been one to mince words. Still, I saw his cheeks redden a little bit. It was funny as I imagined in his mind she was still my mother just the same as she was back when he was dating me. Back then he was more than welcome to come over to our house to fuck me and while he knew my parents were well aware of what we did in my room, it wasn't like she talked about it so frankly with him.

"Well technically mom, there was like a twelve year gap for me," I corrected her.

She just flipped her hand at me, dismissing my point as being irrelevant.

"My point being, who is the only female at the table right now that he has NOT been fucking lately?"

Kristen was obviously quite amused at Steve's reactions to the new direction our conversation was taken, She sat back and folded her arms, making it clear that she was NOT the one.

My mom looked at me and then at Kristen, finally turning her attention back to Steve. "Well young man, looks like that leaves me, doesn't it?" she said in almost a parental tone. Steve shifted in his seat, obviously a little uncertain with where this was going.

"So what are you going to do to correct this problem?" my mom asked Steve, smiling at him naughtily.

Steve looked over at me. Yeah, like I was going to help him out of this situation. Poor guy, but I just sat back and waited for him to respond. I only wished I had this on video as the expression on his face was priceless. Finally Kristen couldn't contain herself anymore.

"Oh for Christ sake Steve, are you gonna fuck her or not?" she blurted out, "Crap, do you need a written invitation?"

Steve looked at me as if he didn't know whether to crap or go blind. Well, I couldn't let the poor guy dangle like this any longer so I stood up and motioned to them to get up as well.

"Steve. I've been listening to my mom complain to me for years that I need to get married so she could have my husband. I think we're close enough to that so just do me a favor and do her, for me."

My mom smiled at me and then turned her attention back to Steve.

"I don't bite... at least not hard," she teased as she took his hand and led him up the stairs. About halfway up she turned back to me and asked, "Wanna join us girls?"

Kristen started to speak up and I knew she was going to jump at the chance but I elbowed her hard in the side to shut up. She whined at me but at least she didn't say anything.

"You guys just go have fun, OK," I replied for the two of us. Still Kristen wasn't about to be turned away that easily.

"Yeah... you two use Kelly's bed. Kelly and I will be in mine if you need us... right Kelly?"

Why was I surprised? This was my ex-whore Kristen next to me, the only girl in school who ever out-slutted me, the only girl I knew who had fucked more guys and done nasty things I would never even dream of in bed - and out. For her to just stay downstairs and watch TV while her aunt and future cousin-in-law had sex just wasn't in her DNA. Besides, I can't say the idea didn't appeal to me. Kristen made a ton of money as a prostitute because she looks incredible and she knows how to use her body.

With that my mom and Steve disappeared into my bedroom although they left the door open. I really wasn't sure if my mom was serious about us joining or if she was just teasing us a little. In any case, I was pleased it was working out this way. We all would be getting what we wanted and I wouldn't have to worry about how I would react seeing my fiancé screwing my own mother.

3. Kristen and Me Together

As I undressed in Kristen's room, I watched her strip down and once again marveled at her delicious body. God, now wonder guys would do almost anything to have sex with her. All her life, at least since she entered puberty, she had made the best of her God-given assets. For someone who never studied or cracked open a textbook unless absolutely necessary, she somehow managed to graduate from high school and I don't think it was any secret amongst the faculty as to how she did it. In college she couldn't fuck her way through classes as easily and left after just a year for a "career" more suited to her.

With us both naked, we pulled back the covers and climbed in bed. As I reached for her I realized how long it had been since we had done anything like this. You might be surprised at how little Kristen and I do much together since I moved in. It's not like we ever did all that much to start with but we did a lot more before I moved in with her than after. Maybe we are just together too much that spending a night together too is not something we feel that we need. Now when we get together it's more like we're comfortable with each other like wearing a favorite outfit.

We laid on our sides, facing each other and she pressed her warm smooth body against mine, pushing her leg in between mine and pressing her thigh into my crotch while she pushed her own into my leg. I could feel the warmth of her pussy against me and I knew she was horny as hell - which describes her condition 90% of the time but this was still special.

Not a word was spoken as we kissed, our hands reaching over to the other, running up and down our nude forms. I reached for one of her perky breasts and put my palm over it, letting her nipple poke out between my fingers. I gasped as she reached down between us, running her hand between my legs and cupping my shaved pussy in her hand.

"Mmmmmmm, been a while cuz," she whispered as she started to rub me.

As I fondled her breast and she rubbed my crotch I laid there thinking about our relationship. God this felt so good to do with her! Although at times it's like Kristen is more my sister than my cousin, I wondered what it might have been growing up with her as my actual sister. Would we have shared a room - or even a bed? Kristen grew up sleeping with her mother and indeed, until her mom moved in with my dad they spent every night together. In contrast, when I was growing up I rarely spent the night in bed with my parents and almost never with just my mom. Would it have made either of us any different had we shared a bed instead?

Kristen slipped her finger into my moist pussy pushing it while using the palm of her hand to stimulate my clit. I sighed softly as I squeezed her breast in response and lowered my head to suck on her nipple.

How many times had we been like this over the years? Not anything overtly sexual, just lying next to each other and gently touching and kissing? Usually it was like this - with her hand between my legs and mine on her breasts. Many people when they see us together and remark at how similar we are which I find almost silly.

Anyone who REALLY knows us knows that we are actually total opposites in many ways.

Take us at this very moment. When it came to sex with girls, if I was a guy people would call me a boob guy. I appreciate the curve of a woman's legs, the eroticism of a cute pussy, but what draws my attention is her breasts. Maybe it goes back to when I was just a teen struggling to deal with my own late-bloomers but I can tell you that the first thing I see on a girl is her boobs... and Kristen's are perfect. I could touch them and lick them all day - and often have just about done that.

Kristen, on the other hand, goes straight for the crotch. It's like when I am next to her she can't keep her hand out from between my legs. She knows I appreciate my boobs to be touched and kissed and she does pay attention to them but I think if she had her choice she would camp out between my legs. The ironic thing about all that is, or perhaps it's a result of, is that running around I tend to hide my boobs and expose my bottom while Kristen, if she wears anything, wear panties and nothing on top.

We were also different in many other ways. I was near the top of my class in high school and college whereas Kristen fucked her way through school. In fact, I never once had sex with a teacher while Kristen claimed to have done a number of them. Personally I think she is exaggerating a little but then I saw her graduate which told me some of it had to be true! I hate anal sex whereas Kristen loves it. Given that both of our mothers are also into anal, I'm not sure where my feelings evolved but that's the way I am.

Kristen is a whore, willing to do just about anything if you pay her enough. By comparison, I am a slut which means I may not charge money for sex but I am not afraid to use sex to get what I want. Also, I only have sex with people that I want to have sex with, not because they have a fat wallet. Kristen is much more outgoing and less inhibited than I am. I prefer more the subtle approach, teasing and flirting to attract attention and drawing the man to me. If Kristen wants a guys she has no problem just walking up to him and asking for it!

Kristen also is much more into girls than me. I mean, I enjoy sex with a girl As much as anyone but it needs to be someone I have a relationship with. Perhaps that's because for me sex with another girl is much more intimate and personal than with just another guy. I've been laid by literally hundreds of men over the year (if you count party gangbangs) whereas I can still count the number of girls I've been with on my fingers - and a few toes.

Perhaps our differences are what keep us close in that we really don't compete with other but rather complement one another. For example, when we're with a guy together I LOVE to suck dick while Kristen can't wait to jump on board. Of course I love to be fucked but I am just referring to how quickly we get there!

Kristen put a second finger inside of me and my thoughts immediately came back to the business at hand. She pulled them out of me and put them in her mouth, sucking on each finger and running her tongue around them like she was cleaning off a beater after making a cake.

"Mmmmmmm, you taste so good tonight," she whispered wickedly, putting her hand back down between my legs once more.

Then I felt her shift and move her leg, then bringing her hand back up and rubbing the wetness she had gathered from her own pussy on her boob and nipple. I reached out with my tongue and licked it off, the strong scent of her pussy filling my nose as I ribbed it against her wet breast. "Not so bad yourself girl," I responded back and then stiffened involuntarily as she thrust her fingers back into me once again.

Kristen pushed herself up on her elbow and then pushed on my upper shoulder, signaling me to get on my back. She reached up and grabbed a pillow, pushing it under my butt. Working her way around to between my legs, she reached out and ran each hand up the inside of my thighs, meeting together in the center and then lowering herself down to start licking me in earnest. Damn she was good!

"Oh God Kristen... that feels so good," I whimpered as I lifted my hips up to meet her talented tongue.

She didn't say a word but just looked up at me to meet my eyes with her, the edges of her mouth curling up a she tried to smile while she had her face planted on my pussy.

As horny as I was, not to mention the incredible job my cousin was doing, it didn't take long and soon I was having my first orgasm. First in that if I knew Kristen it wouldn't be the last! I could feel myself cumming on her face, almost like I was peeing as she licked and ate my cum. I just closed my eyes and lifted my head back, arching my back to just let the wonderful sensations pour through my body.

As it dwindled down, Kristen licked up the length of my pussy kips and then slowly up to my belly, past my bellybuttons and then to my boobs. She kissed each one in turn, then tugged playfully on my nipples with her teeth before moving up to kiss my neck and then my lips. I loved the taste and odor of my pussy on her mouth as we kissed long and slow, her laying on me know with her boobs pressing against mine.

I figured it was my turn to repay the favor but to my surprise she jumped off of me and reached over to the nightstand drawer, pulling it out and rummaging through it. She giggled as she grabbed something and then twisted back around to show me a massive double dildo. It was jet black and somewhere between one and two inches thick, flexible but solid. The ends were molded like a cock head. Damn, it looked really hot!

"Been a while," she giggled as she sat down opposite me and then scooted up with our legs intertwined.

I sat up and watched as she licked on end and then reached down to push it up inside of her. Her eyes sparkled as she worked it in, twisting it and moving it back and forth until almost half of it was in her.

"Your turn," she invited me, holding it still inside of her by the base just where it entered her pussy.

I grinned and spit on my hand, then wetting the end just enough. I wouldn't need much help as wet as I was after that orgasm! The I took it from her hand and pushed myself in close to her until the head of the dildo was at the entrance to my pussy, then pushed it in a I worked myself close to her so as to keep as much in her as possible. It felt a little cold at first but that sensation quickly faded away as my pussy warmed it up.

Looking down, it was a sight to behold as our pussies were now only a couple of inches apart, linked by a black shaft between us, the ends of which were each buried at least five or six inches in us both. Normally I am not a dildo girl (another difference between me and my kin), preferring my fingers over an artificial dick. This was different though. Every time Kristen moved the least little bit I could feel it inside of me. It was almost like she was fucking me! I guess you could say it was like a strap-on (another thing I don't like - if I'm with a girl I want to be with a girl) but it was different in that we were both doing the other at the same time.

With us joined, we started to rock slowly forward and then back on our hands, letting the dildo slide between us, in her while out of me and then reversed. For a moment I wondered if my mother was feeling Steve's dick in her like this at this very moment. I'd been so absorbed in Kristen that I hadn't really thought about my mom and Steve!

Kristen had one hand on her boob while she supported herself with the other. I was working with the dildo, shoving it back and forth between us to enhance the movement of our rocking. Then she dropped her hand to her clit and started rubbing it furiously, sighing and moaning as her hips began to thrust harder and harder against the artificial dick inside of her. Her orgasm caused her to cry out but then she's never been one to keep quiet when she cums. Seeing her getting off was enough for me as number two took my breath away. I started rubbing myself as well, driving me deeper and deeper into the pleasure zone my orgasm was creating for me. Finally we both collapsed forward together, hugging one another, still joined together by that wonderful dick - even it was just latex.

I moved back, leaving the dildo in her as she twisted around and laid next to me again, only this time she was on her back. The dildo was still lodged in her pussy so I reached down to start moving it again for her. Her eyes grew wide as she realized what I was doing and then she just groaned a another orgasm hit. I put my leg over hers, pushing my soaked pussy against her hip bone and rubbing myself against it like a dog in heat. Finally Kristen put her hand on mine, holding the dildo still in her as she gasped for breath.

"Fuck Kelly... that was fucking good," she said in a voice made husky with her lust. Then she turned her head to me and got this naughty smile on her face. "Do you think Steve can fuck me too... God I need it so bad right now?"

Typical Kristen, always wanting more, always wanting it to be all about her. This was one time I had to tell her no as Steve couldn't stay all night and this was supposed to be about him and my mom. In fact, looking at the clock I wondered if Steve had left for work. Well, if he hadn't then he was going to be late! Then again, maybe he had called in sick. Now if THAT was the case then maybe Kristen might have an idea - only I would want some of that delicious dick for myself.

I told Kristen to hang on while I went and checked. My mom was laying on the bed all alone on her stomach with her legs spread out. She was still naked without even any covers over but then she had slept in the nude as long as I could remember so that wasn't any surprise. I pulled the covers over her and she didn't even stir. Between the long flight and then being with Steve, I couldn't blame her. I suppose the jet lag didn't help either.

Walking back out of the bedroom, I was a little disappointed knowing that Steve must have left sometime while I was with Kristen. In a way I felt a little embarrassed that we had gotten so into each other that I didn't even notice when he'd gone. I wondered if he tried to say goodbye to if he just looked in and decided to leave us alone. I learned later the next day that the latter was the case, but it still made me feel like I had put my own needs ahead of him.

When I returned I gave the bad news to Kristen but she didn't seem overly disappointed. In fact, she just reached out and whispered in my ear, "So where were we?"

It turned out that we didn't get a lot of sleep that night. The last thing I remember was laying with my arms around my cousin, her hair in my face as I snuggled up against her warm bar body, asking myself why the hell we didn't do this more often!

4. The Morning After

The next morning I checked in on my mom after I finally got up and found her Now laying on her back after apparently kicking the sheets off during the night. I pulled the covers back over her again and though she stirred just a little she didn't wake so I left the room quietly.

"Guess your mom's pretty tired," Kristen observed as we sat down for some cereal.

I reminded her about the flight and the time zone changes but Kristen just giggled. Well, at least my mom had gotten some sleep last night!

"I think it had more to do with that stud in her room last night," she teased me, "I know I get pretty worn out by the time he's through with me."

She was taunting me more than anything, like she was daring me to react. Truth be told, I didn't need to say anything. Kristen was just putting on a show to cover up her chagrin at Steve only having fucked her a couple of items whereas he'd done her mom a LOT in the past few months. If there was one thing Kristen was NOT accustomed to it was playing second fiddle when it came to sex. For me it was just poetic justice. How many times over the years had she stolen a guy from me or been the one to get the most attention when we were out? I hate to say it but I felt a little pleased to see her having to deal with those feelings herself for once.

Actually it was only a little while later before my mom trudged down the stairs to join us. She had on a long robe and house shoes and sat down at the table with us. She looked us over with still sleepy eyes and shook her head.

"I guess some things never change," she said with a rather amused expression as she checked us out, "My goodness Kristen, aren't you freezing like that?"

Her comments were obviously directed out our dress - or lack of it, especially in Kristen's case. While I had on a long sleeved shirt I'd "borrowed" from Steve's closet, Kristen was sitting there naked without even anything on her feet. Not that there was anything unusual about that. As I mentioned earlier, what WOULD have made the headlines would have been if she WAS wearing anything. Both she and her mom rarely wore anything around the house. I wouldn't say they were nudists, just that neither of them liked to get dressed at home. A pair of panties would have been considered "covering" themselves.

To be fair Kristen just took after her mom, so I did when it came to mine. While I couldn't see under the heavy robe, I would have bet my next paycheck (not that it was that much) that underneath were panties and either a T-shirt or a bra, or all even three. Exempting those times when she was heading for the hot tub or running between the bathroom and the bedroom, I could probably count on one hand the number of times I'd seen my mother run around the house nude. Why she and her sister were so different in that aspect I had no idea but they had both been that way as long as I could remember.

I guess you could say I was like my mom but a little less conservative. I am certainly not a nudist but at the same time for me it's not so much in covering myself as simply wearing something. Even a short t-shirt is better than nothing. It doesn't matter if my bare ass is showing so long as I have something on up top, even if it's just a bra although THAT would be pretty rare.

"Well?" Kristen finally had to ask. My mom just looked at her like she had no idea what she was talking about but I knew better than that.

"So are you going to tell us how it was with Steve or not?" Kristen bubbled over.

"Ohhhhhh, you mean THAT!" my mom said, still pretending as if nothing of importance had happened last night.

I just sat there and listened intently. To be honest, I was just as anxious as Kristen was to hear all about it but why not let her do the work?

"Well, if you both insist," she sighed, as if it was such a laborious chore to tell us. Still, I knew she had to be bursting herself to spill the beans.

It felt a little weird at first listening to my own mother describe how my fiancé had fucked her last night. Of all the boyfriends I've brought home, many of who she secretly watched as they fucked me or I just blew them, she had never had sex with any of them. I'd seen her with my Uncle Jim and his son but that was family. The guys we did together during my last visit to Oregon didn't really count as they were total strangers. No, this was my Steve she was talking about, the man I would soon be marrying!

I wondered if perhaps this was how she felt when she saw me fucking my dad? My mother had never once mentioned anything about not liking to watch us. Indeed, if anything she seemed to enjoy it. Unlike Steve's mother who just sat there like a stone as she watched her son fuck me, my mother would masturbate when she watched my dad doing me.

Kristen seemed totally enthralled by my mother's description of the previous night and I have to say, she didn't spare any details. If anything, it was like she went out of her way to describe every thrust of his dick and where every drop of cum came to rest. Again, I felt almost like it was a role reversal a this must have been how she felt when I would come home from dates and tell her all about what happened. It was just that I had never heard my own mother telling such tales!

In the end there was no doubt that she approved of my choice for a husband and that she had every intention of taking advantage of him whenever she could. I hate to say it but for a brief moment I was almost happy that she was living so far away as I might never have him all to myself again otherwise. Those selfish thoughts were quickly brushed aside but still, I'd never seen or heard her so enthusiastic about sex with anyone - not even my cousin Rick who she had always seemed to enjoy so much.

The rest of her trip wasn't all about sex by any means. In fact, most of the time my mom was here we spent going over the wedding. We looked at dozens of dresses and went through lots of magazines and such. It was fun to finally be able to do all this with my mom. For most of my life I've dreamed about my wedding and a lot of it had to do with my mom being involved.

One thing that was NOT discussed while she was visiting - my dad. It wasn't like anything bad was said but more like just nothing was talked about. I think we've gotten past the point where any more needs to be discussed so perhaps this is a good sign for moving forward.

My dad came over for my birthday but he only stayed long enough to be polite and then left without saying anything to my mom. I DID go over to see him the day after and that's when he gave me my birthday present - a sexy white nightie with sheer matching panties. It was the first time he'd ever given me anything pure white – read into that what you want, LOL. Of course I modeled it for him and it didn't stay on for very long but then it's not supposed to, right?

One thing that was a little surreal was having my mom and Steve's mom meet. They weren't total strangers but then they weren't ever exactly friends either. I had told my mom about how Steve's mom liked to watch me being fucked by him – which she thinks is a little weird by the way. I don't know if it's because of what I told her about Steve's mom or what, but she seemed to make it a point NOT to watch me and Steve have sex during her visit – not even a BJ.

So anyway, our moms got along OK but there was a sense of aloofness on both of their parts. Maybe it was my imagination but something was missing between them. They never got together by themselves, only with Steve and me being there with them. Any thoughts that Steve's mom might open up to my mom were quickly dashed.

Steve made a point to spend as much time as possible with us during the week. I don't know how he managed at work missing so much sleep and it couldn't have helped that he spent most of the time fucking one or the other of us. I found it interesting that while he had no interest in a threesome with me and my dad, he couldn't wait to do me and my mom together. Once we even let poor Kristen join in and I think Steve thought he had gone to heaven and died!

So all in all I had a great visit with my mom. We didn't go out and do anything crazy like when I visited her out west – no picking up guys or pretending to be sisters and that sort of thing. We DID eat out every meal and shared a lot of wine and cheese. It was just a pleasant week with the woman I love more than anyone else in the world – well maybe except for Steve but you know what I mean.

(Mar 26) Chapter 224: Steve Has Me Take Care of His Friends

Story codes: MF MMF F-solo oral
Me (26)
Steve - my fiancé (27)
Kristen - cousin (23)

Steve and I have been engaged now for several months and yet he still acts like a little boy with me at times. I can't say I really mind as it is nice to have him show me off and brag about me. Even so, I hadn't expected him to be THIS proud of me! Granted, I've taken part in my fair share of gangbangs and group sex over the years so it wasn't like this was going to anything overly dramatic for me. However, what I was expecting to be special about this time was that it was that it would the first time I would have sex with multiple partners where one of them was my fiancé!

1. Changing Attitudes

While this wasn't one of those super-intense crazy events like some I've been involved with, it WAS a significant milestone in my life which is why I decided to take the time to write and post it as a diary entry. Sometimes I think people got the wrong impression of me as they seem to think my diary reflects my "normal" day-to-day life. In reality, it's more like a Reader's Digest summary of the highlights of my life, the times when something special or unexpected happened. Thus at times I will write about situations that weren't so good as those can also be the type things that make you who you are as much as anything. My intent in choosing what is "dairy worthy" is for people to better understand what has shaped me into who I am today. Considering I've had sex probably thousands of times with hundreds of people in the past twelve years, there is no way my diary reflects everything I've done!

Now that the thing with Steve's friends is done and over, it's sort of funny to think that for years I agonized over what I would consent to do AFTER I was married, at least in terms of my sexual conduct. Ironically, with all the focus on being married it never crossed my mind to consider the engagement period. Maybe it was because I just assumed that being engaged was only a promise to marry, not a vow that meant I could not have sex with anyone else. Since announcing my engagement it's been sort of amusing to me how many people have asked me if I am still having sex with other men. Like, why wouldn't I? Last I heard I hadn't signed up for a convent!

For most of my life I looked up to my mother's example and felt strongly that sex outside of marriage was adultery and therefore something I would never do (note to Kelly, NEVER say never). Yet even then I never once said that I wouldn't have sex with anyone else when I was engaged. Of course I try my best to be courteous and respectful of Steve in that I usually tell him about everything I do and I even try my best ask him ahead of time if it's OK if I do something (or should I say "someone"). To be perfectly honest, I'm not sure how I'd react if he ever said no but then that's why I love Steve so much - he never does. Still, if something should happen where an opportunity to have some fun came around, I wouldn't turn it down just because Steve wasn't answering his cell phone.

Maybe it's another warning to myself that I've been a little selfish in the past in that even when I DID think about sex and marriage, it was almost always about ME and what I would or wouldn't do. I guess that I just assumed that my fiancé would only want to fuck me and the women in my family. Seriously, wouldn't you think that with sexy women like my aunt and cousins (and hopefully my mom) available that he wouldn't need to look elsewhere anyway? The idea that my fiancé and husband would want to see me being fucked by other men outside my family just never entered my mind.

Keeping with my policy of full disclosure, I did THINK about swinging and such but that was more of a mental exercise than anything as I never intended to actually get involved in that scene. Face it, until recently I was adamant that I would NEVER swing at all after I got married. I guess it just goes to show you how a person can change when it's necessary. So long as you are not changing your core values and principles then I don't think there's anything wrong with adapting to new things.

So anyway, you could say it caught me a little off guard when after just a few months into our engagement Steve came to me and out of the blue informed me that I was going to let some of his friends fuck me. OK, so maybe that is a little exaggerated but in my mind, that's how it came out. Like, he didn't ASK me if I was interested in being a virtual sex toy for his friends. Heck, he didn't even tell me how many or when. It was like he just expected me to do it because he said so.

OK, so maybe as he's been learning more about me (thanks to my aunt and cousin it seems) he may be getting some of the same impressions that the guys get from reading my web site and diary. Still, he also knows the REAL me so you would think he would realize that all that is a bit overblown when it comes to my actual daily routines. Even then, just because I've done some crazy things in the past, especially when my cousin or friends would drag me out with them, did that give him the right to just assume that I would be ready and willing at the drop of a hat to spread my legs for total strangers just because he said so?

In all fairness, I don't mean to sound totally negative and perhaps I'm letting my initial feelings get the best of me right now. The truth is once I had some time to think about I sort of liked the whole idea – even the way he went about it. Like, what kind of girl does he think he's marrying that he can just walk up to her and inform her that she is going to let some unknown number of his friends have their way with her? Well, the type of girl I want to be for him I guess. Still, it said something that he felt so confident in my sexuality and exhibitionism that he KNEW what my reaction would be, even though he'd never discussed it directly with me before. Besides, it had been a while since I'd been the center of attention for several guys and for someone with a hint of a narcissistic attitude (which I will freely confess to having just a little), that's much too long.

It seems like every day Steve gets to know me better than I ever realized possible. Again, I have to wonder what he's being told about me from my family and friends now that we're engaged. It's like everyone feels some need to fill him in on every minute detail of my life! What I mean now is that he seems to know just what buttons to push to turn me on.

For instance, coming straight to me and "informing" me of what I would be doing rather than asking me may have been a bit of a shock at first, but the longer I thought about it the more it turned me on. He made a point of not telling me who they would be, not even if I knew them from another time we'd gone out with his friends before our engagement. He wouldn't even tell me how many he was planning to have fuck me. For a control freak like me, holding back such vital details was driving me crazy. Yet at the same time it allowed my imagination to run rampant and you can imagine where THAT led to more than a few nights when I was alone in my bed!

2. Masturbating on a Friday Night

The night finally arrived although I didn't know it at first. Evidently Steve had forewarned my cousin because she made up some lame excuse for a late night house-showing with her mom that took her out of the house for the evening. Actually it wasn't THAT lame as it wasn't all that unusual for the two of them to meet with prospective buyers in the evening, even though such "meetings" rarely took place at the home she was showing. Still, doing so on a Friday night was a little unusual but in today's real estate market I wasn't overly suspicious of much of anything. You do what you have to do to sell a house.

So here I was, all alone on a Friday night. Unfortunately that's something that isn't all that uncommon for me these days given the insane schedule Steve works as a paramedic on the night shift. I knew I'd be seeing him the next morning and as such was getting myself good and horny thinking about how he would make it up to me for leaving me home all alone on a Friday night. If Steve has learned anything about me it's that I can never stay mad at him once he starts fucking me! I suppose it works both ways but I have to say I like it better being on the other end of the forgiveness.

Being I was home alone and nobody was coming over, I parked myself on the living room couch, turned off all the lights but a small lamp on the other side of the room, and laid back for what should have been to be a long and fruitful evening of masturbation. I was wearing just my long white Steeler jersey which I pulled up over my stomach, keeping my boobs covered and warm but allowing me free access to where my attention was most needed. It had been chilly all day so I was also wearing a pair of white socks to keep my feet warm. They looked rather silly as I stared down past my waist and legs but then it wasn't like anyone would be seeing me so why not be warm and comfortable?

At first I just laid there in the quiet. I debated turning on the TV but then there wasn't anything on that I especially wanted to watch live. The DVR would record whatever was worth watching later without all the commercials. I was feeling really horny but couldn't quite get started. Instead, I just laid there sort of squirming like one of those nights when you need to go to sleep but just can't seem to get there. God, I SOOOOOO wished Steve was with me right now.

I thought about his wonderful dick and how I loved to feel it growing in my hand or mouth. There's nothing quite like the feeling you get when a man's dick goes from being soft and limp to firm and hard, especially when I know the reason it is transforming itself is ME. People can lie, women can fake an orgasm, but a man can't fake an erection. If he's getting stiff with me then there is only one reason - he wants me because I am turning him on. It doesn't always matter whether or not he would actually ever do anything, it's the desire and lust in him that I love to see expressed in his dick. I can just be on the beach and see some guy watching me, the bulge unmistakable in his crotch, and get off from the intense feelings it causes in me. Some girls act like they are offended when a man gets an erection in public because of them but I see it as the ultimate compliment to my sexuality and desirability.

I closed my eyes and stretched my hand out from the couch, imagining it was reaching out for Steve's dick as he stood there watching me. My fist closed as I dreamed of cradling it against my palm, my fingers encircling its warmth. Reaching up to my breast with my other hand, I pressed on my boob through the jersey, placing my hand over it and just pushing it against me. It was his hand on me... his hand exploring me as my fingers parted and let my nipple pass between them. I squeezed my breast gently as my lover's imaginary hand fondled me. God it felt so good...

Bringing my other hand back in, I pulled up the jersey up under my butt and then up to the swelling of my breasts, exposing my entire body from that point downward. In the dim light I looked down past my bare torso to where my legs were parted. Grabbing a throw pillow, I pushed it under my butt to lift myself up, further exposing my pussy as my legs feel apart, letting my secret lover get a wide open view of my horny crotch.

With both hands I reached under the jersey, pulling it up higher, up over my breasts to my neck. The cool evening air felt chilly against my sensitive breasts and nipples, further stimulating them. With one hand on each, I pressed them together, dreaming of his dick in between them, stroking back and forth with the head just grazing my lips as he pushed forward, his balls rubbing along my boobs as he thrust into me. I could feel little goose bumps raising on the smooth firm flesh of my breasts, my nipples tingling as my fingertips grazed them ever so softly.

Damn I was so horny now! My legs clamped together as my pussy felt like it was going to scream with desire. My hands dropped down and I reached under myself, pushing up against my butt with one hand on each side. I loved to touch my butt and even more, I loved it when someone else did. To walk in a store with my boyfriend's hand planted firmly on my ass was so erotic - and I loved the looks we would get from the people around us ranging from firm disapproval from the moms and wives to the lip-smacking approval of husbands and boys.

A shiver ran through me as a finger touched my pussy from underneath. God, it was like just the smallest touch was amplified a hundred times. I let my finger just play along my pussy lips, running small circles around my pussy hole, gathering wetness that I then spread up to my clit. My other hand slipped out from under me and over top to rub my clit while my other hand toyed just outside my pussy hole. A gasp escaped me as I pressed down on the sensitive button. Oh I wanted it to be touched so badly!

Before long the rest of the world faded away and I was lost in my dreams of me and my lover. As I rubbed myself with my right hand and pushed a single finger in side of me, I left the fingers on my left lightly drift over my bare stomach, then reaching up to fondle my boobs again. As I did so I imagined it was HIM that was touching me, that it was HIS dick I was feeling in me, that it was my lover that was bringing me the brink of the most intense orgasm. I loved this moment when I would masturbate, my entire body starting to tingle as I neared my climax, the world around me shrinking to nothing as I focused completely on my pussy... my wonderful pussy that felt SOOOOO good right now.

When it comes to masturbating, it seems most girls fall into one of two camps - finger in or finger out. For me, I am a "finger in" girl all the way. I really don't understand why some girls feel it is somehow wrong or dirty to put their own fingers inside of their pussy. While I am no fan of "fisting", anywhere from one to three fingers works for me depending on my mood. Granted, if I am just playing with myself to keep busy or just something to do to pass time like when driving a long way, then I tend to just rub myself but when I really want to get off, I need something inside of me in addition to just toying with my clit.

Which brings up another masturbation topic, actually one that applies to sex in general. Does a girl have to stimulate her clit to cum? Well, if forced to say one or the other I would say NO but then it certainly is a lot easier and faster when your clit is involved. I mean, I have even cum from just someone playing with my hair (the stuff on my head - not between my legs) but that requires just the right circumstances and a lot of patience. I can orgasm from just a guy fucking me but not all the time and certainly not as regularly or as often as when me or him is paying attention to my clit as well. I have friends who claim they can't cum UNLESS their clit is stimulated, no matter if they are fucked or not.

So anyway, that's when I seriously masturbate I tend to use two hands whenever possible - one for my pussy hole and the other for my clit. Sometimes I cheat and put my middle finger inside of me and then use the palm of my hand to rub up against my clit as I stroke myself but it's preferable, at least to me, to just use two hands. Of course that doesn't work when you're driving!

The time passed although I really didn't pay much attention to a clock. I was no hurry as I had all night and if I was going to be all alone what better way to spend it then to just take my time and masturbate all night?

3. My fiancé's Friends Arrive

Whether he'd been spying on me or just happened to pick the perfect moment by pure dumb luck, it was just as I started to cum for the second time that the front door swung opened and I felt a cold breeze against my bare legs and bottom (at least my feet were warm) as my jersey had drifted back down over my boobs as I played between my legs for the most part by this time. Somewhere in what was left of my conscious mind I realized that I wasn't alone any more but I just ignored her. I say "her" as I assumed that it was my cousin returning home early. Whatever the reason I didn't care; she could tell me later as I had far better things to concentrate on right about then. I was SOOOOOO close to number two... just a little bit more...

My eyes stayed tightly shut as my orgasm peaked and I moaned uncontrollable, bouncing my bare hips off the couch like I was trying to ram a lover's hard dick ever deeper into me. I imagined him climaxing with me, his hot cum spewing uncontrollably inside of me like a geyser of sperm. Oh to feel his cum filling me and then draining out of me as he thrust ever harder and faster into me as he came!

That was when the "Wow!" came - and not from me or even Kristen for that matter. My eyes popped open but I was still expecting to see my cousin grinning down at me, maybe even doing herself as she watched me (which she sometimes does).

Instead, when I opened my eyes it turned out that I had a regular audience of "fans" - three of them all together. Steve was standing in the middle, flanked by two guys I'd never seen before. All three of them were grinning up a storm and already rubbing themselves unabashedly with their hands down their pants. Well at least they weren't shy! Which one had broken the silence I wasn't sure but it didn't matter - the surprise was most definitely on me.

So what does a girl do in a situation like this? Obviously I wasn't about to try to cover myself up and act like some innocent virgin caught in the act by her mother or strict father. At the same time, it wasn't like I was exactly in a rational state of mind as the aftershocks of my orgasm kept rising up even as I clamped my palm over my exposed pussy with one finger remaining stuck up in me. You just don't have an orgasm as hard as the one I'd just had and shrug it off in the space of a few seconds! Besides, even as sex-crazed as I was it only took me a few seconds more to size up the situation and realize what was going on - these were the guys Steve had been talking about bringing home to fuck me!

I have to say one thing, what better way to introduce myself, especially under the circumstances! They must have already figured I was a slut given that I was willing to let them fuck me even though I was engaged, so why not let them see just what kind of a slut I was? Soooooo, I just laid there without moving or saying a word, my hand on my crotch, a finger still in me, bare legs spread as wide apart as I could get them. The next move was up to Steve.

Over the past week or so I had often masturbated about what I expected to happen when this moment came around. Well, maybe not THIS exact moment but something like it. Most of the time I fantasized that I would start out fully dressed, maybe in a costume of some sort like my schoolgirl or naughty nurse outfits. That would be followed by a hot lap dance, some slow stripping, and gradually leading to some cock holding, sucking, and finally to some fucking. It was all calculated and followed a sensible pattern. Not once did I even begin to imagine that my introduction would be with me laying on the couch all but naked with my finger pushed up into my sopping wet pussy after they'd surreptitiously watched me bring myself to an orgasm! Like, who would ever even think of such a thing, let alone have it actually happen.

Rather than following the typical gangbang script of a cheap porn movie, it all went down rather quickly and without a lot of fanfare - or foreplay for that matter. After all, it's not like I had to be aroused and they certainly didn't need any further motivation from what I could see.

Like I said at the start, it wasn't even something I would have taken the time to write out a diary entry had it just been me and a few guys at a party. It only lasted about 30 minutes in all. Steve simply pointed at me and said something to his unnamed friends like, "Now what did I tell you... Is my fiancé a fucking slut or what?" Then he threw his hands up and acted like he was exasperated at their hesitance saying, "For crying out loud guys, does she have to have a sign posted saying 'fuck me' or what? What the hell are you guys waiting for?" Or something like that, LOL.

So Steve told them to fuck me and that's exactly what happened. There was no strip show, no teasing or flirting, not even a lap dance. They only wanted one thing – to fuck me and in my sexually-obsessed state of mind, that was perfectly OK with me. At this point I wanted a dick in me – ANY dick for that matter and now there were two of them ready and willing to do the job. The only question was what was keeping them from doing it? It wasn't like I was playing hard to get.

They quickly stripped and tossed their clothes on the floor. Then the first one to get naked simply kneeled on the couch between my legs, reached down to guide his dick into me and started fucking me as I laid there while the other watched – along with Steve. I didn't even really have time to even think about what was happening; it was like he was on top of me and then in me before I could utter a word. His dark was already solid as a tree trunk so he fit in me easily, especially given how soaking wet I was after having just brought myself to another orgasm. No doubt I was creating a wet spot on the couch cushion – again, and Kristen would once again gripe and complain about me not putting down a towel but it wasn't like I'd known ahead of time about this.

My first thought were all about how incredible it felt to have a dick in me right after having cumming twice without one. I love to masturbate but there's not a finger or a dildo in the world that can truly replace the real thing. The guy just grunted as he drilled me, never talking to me even.

After the initial satisfaction of having my pussy filled, I was a little disturbed as this was NOT what I'd been promised by Steve. He'd sworn that he would be the first to fuck me – and the last. Still, what can a girl say when a guy just moves in between her legs, pushes his dick he and starts pumping without saying a word? Give me a break. It's not like I was going to tell him to stop and let Steve get his dick in me first, sort of late for THAT! LOL

I looked over at Steve where he was just standing there with his arms folded, watching me but not making a move towards me. He had the biggest grin on his face and when he saw me looking at him he gave me a thumbs up. His other friend was standing next to him but he was naked and from the looks of his erection, he was more than a little anxious to be the next one in my pussy. I took it that not only was Steve not going to be first, he wasn't going to fuck me at all but instead just stand there and watch as his fiancé took on two of his friends.

Guy #1 - he never did tell me his name and for that matter neither did the other one, must have been really horny because he didn't last in me very long. He grunted even louder and started to cum inside me. Oh yeah, there was REALLY gonna be a wet spot on the couch now! One thing that was sort of funny. When the first guy was ready to cum he asked if he could cum inside of me. What was funny about it was that he didn't ask ME, he asked STEVE. To top it off, Steve didn't even look at me before he answered, "Of course... do her good". Not sure what Freud would say about that...

Guy #2 practically pushed his friend off of me once he'd stopped spurting in me. At first I thought he was just going to climb aboard like his friend and take his sloppy seconds with me staying on my back. He was stopped by Steve coming over closer and telling him to hold on a second and that I would clean myself off for him. I turned my head to look at him, a bit puzzled at first. Like was he expecting me to take a timeout or something to go to the bathroom to clean myself off?

Then I caught on to his drift. Reaching down with my hand, I bore down and squeezed my pussy as hard as I could to drive as much of the cum in me out and onto my waiting hand. Taking the cum I'd collected, I reached up to my mouth and licked it clean.

"Look at that! Now is my fiancé a cum slut or what?" Steve bragged to his friends. It was like he couldn't say it enough times that I was engaged to him, sort of like he was reminding them that they were only renting me but he owned the property.

With most of the cum cleaned up after a couple more runs, the second guy resumed fucking me but not until he had flipped me over and was doing me doggie style. Steve moved over to the end of the couch and bent down so he was looking straight at me.

"So Kelly, is he fucking you good"? he asked, a sly grin on his face.

I nodded and smiled back.

"God you look so hot right now," he sighed, leaning to one side to get a better view of me taking his friend's cock in my pussy.

I was still a little upset with him for not keeping his promise so I figured I might rub his nose in it a little.

"Oh god his dick feels soooooo good in me Steve," I moaned like some cheap whore, "I want him to fuck me harder and cum in me."

With that I started to push back onto him when he would thrust into me, driving his dick even deeper into me than he had on his own. Truth be told, it DID feel pretty darn good in me!

Well THAT totally backfired. If anything, Steve's eyes just stared all the more at my ass where his friend's dick was disappearing into my pussy in full view of the other two guys.

"You hear that?" he asked the guy fucking me, grinning from ear to ear now, "Fuck her harder! Shit, if you're gonna fuck my fiancé then fuck her the way she wants it."

Harder he did. I was almost pushed off my knees the next time he slammed into me, remaining up only because he had his hands under me grabbing my breasts. Meantime, the other guy was ready to go again and he stepped up to the couch and put his dick up against my face. Steve was still right in front of me so I looked at him first but he just kept grinning like an escapee from the lunatic asylum so I turned and took the semi-erect dick in my mouth.

"Now did I tell you that she's the best cocksucker in the world or what?" Steve asked him, his pride in me shining in his face.

The only response he got was more grunting. Actually I didn't have any sort of conversation with either of Steve's friends the entire time we were having sex short of them telling me what position they wanted me in next. I pretty much had one of their dicks in me at all times which was nice. Neither of them came in my mouth, just in my pussy, which was also nice under the circumstances as it made it easier to cleanup afterwards and I didn't have cum all over me. The girls out there know what I mean when I say guys usually hit my mouth with their cum about as well as they hit the toilet when they pee! Boys - take notes here. When a girl says it's OK to cum in her mouth, she means her MOUTH, not all around it and especially not her hair.

After they both had fucked me twice, they got dressed and the three of them left me laying there more or less as they found me. It was all over so quickly! Again, when I'd imagined it earlier I always assumed it would go on for at least a few hours, maybe even all day or overnight. Thirty minutes was NOT even on my radar. In fact, I was still so horny after they were gone that I just sort of picked up where I'd left off when they had arrived and spent the rest of the evening doing myself.

It certainly wasn't the first time I've masturbated after being fucked, something most guys just don't seem to understand. I suppose it goes without saying that there's a big difference between sex and masturbation, and the two don't have to be mutually exclusive. I can be fucked all day and STILL enjoy masturbating right afterwards. It's not like I only masturbate when I haven't had sex.

4. Teaching Steve a Lesson... or Not?

Steve returned in about an hour. I was still on the couch, just as he'd left me. My cousin still hadn't returned and I really wasn't expecting Steve to come back any time soon so I'd just laid there masturbating the entire time. I'd pretty much cleaned off all their cum from my crotch, licking my fingers clean. I love cum but I love it even more when I can taste me with it!

"Hey babe, still horny?" he asked when he came back. Like duh, couldn't he see that for himself?

Steve lowered down to kiss me but when his hand started to wander I pushed it away from my crotch.

"What?" he whined, "I don't get it... I thought you wanted to do that?"

Before I let him continue I made him sit down and listen to me as I explained to him how I felt about sex now that we were engaged. If he was going to be my husband then he needed to respect me as his wife and that meant if he wanted to SHARE me with other guys it was OK but I wasn't going to have him pimp me out like some prostitute.

Steve was still confused. "But I thought you LIKED being watched when you have sex."

Men!

It took a while but I think I finally got him to realize that it was one thing to go to a party and have people watch me being fucked, or even to go out in public and have strangers look at me. It was quite another to have my husband, or least my fiancé for the moment, to just parade me around like I was a prize cow at the county fair.

It was all a matter of timing and very subjective so I could understand why man would have a hard time understanding. He didn't seem to understand that had he had the two of them come over and do me while he hid in the closet and watched, unbeknownst to them, that THEN I would have loved it. But for him to just walk in with some guys, point to me and tell them to fuck me just removes any of the eroticism out of the adventure and makes it more like a bad porn movie.

Just then my cousin made her appearance, stepping in the door in one of her sluttier outfits.

"Hey Steve!" she greeted him, a smile immediately popping onto her face. Then she looked at me a little funny. I guess my hair was likely a mess and no doubt she quickly deduced from my appearance that I'd just had sex of some sort.

"So how did things go?" she asked, stepping over after kicking off her heels. God, how she even walked in them I couldn't imagine!

Just then an idea popped into my head. If Steve couldn't (or wouldn't) understand a rational explanation, then maybe he might understand a demonstration better.

"OK Steve, let's see how you like it," I said with a bit of sharpness to my voice. I looked at Kristen and then back at Steve and said, "Fuck her Steve."

Steve looked at me and then at Kristen and then back to me. Give Kristen credit where credit is due - she didn't so much as blink an eye.

"You mean fuck you both... right?" Steve said, looking quite pleased.

"Noooooo, I said fuck HER," I corrected him, "You don't get to fuck me. I'm just going to watch.

In looking back later I can't help but wonder where my mind had drifted away to. Was it too soon after all that sex to me making such decision? Whatever the reason, it certainly didn't work out as I had planned.

"If you insist," Steve finished, standing up to reach for Kristen. My cousin just stood there, waiting for him to undress her. She looked over at me and I could tell she was trying to figure me out but it didn't matter anymore at this point.

Kristen lifted her short skirt to reveal her bare crotch without even a hint of a thong let alone panties. As usual she was shaved and if she had sex earlier there were no signs of it now, not that it would have stopped Steve. Steve normally went more for my aunt than my cousin but he wasn't about to turn down Kristen at a time like this. Then again, not many men do!

Any hopes I might have had that Steve would feel even a little bit of remorse or whatever for fucking Kristen right in front of me after having refused to fuck me when his friends were over were quickly dashed. Then again, I couldn't really blame him. He may have been my fiancé but he was still a man and no man in his right mind would have turned down what I offered him.

In one last attempt to see if I could make him feel just a little bit guilty, was they were fucking I got up and went to my own bedroom, leaving the two of them alone in the living room for more fun. Again, in looking back I'm not sure what I was thinking. Like I expected him to suddenly pull out of her and come running after me?

After about ten minutes I was getting the message loud and clear so I figured what the heck and went back to the living room where Steve was still fucking Kristen. At first I thought he was doing her doggie style but then she leaned forward a bit more so I could get a better view.

Damn, he was fucking her ass! It was enough for him to just do her and ignore me, but then he has to go and take advantage of the situation for a little anal sex. Before it as over he actually came in her ass but when he looked at me I quickly turned away. No way was I gonna lick his cum off her asshole!

5. So Now What?

When all was said and done and I finally had Steve back to myself, we had a long talk. Even though the point I was trying to make got lost when it involved my cousin, he still seemed to understand what I was trying to say. He DID agree not to repeat what had happened tonight with his friends. I felt a little guilty as he looked a little dejected but then I reminded him that it was perfectly OK – so long as HE got involved.

One of the reasons I'd always sworn that swapping was bad and that sex with individuals even worse once you got married was based on the fear that just what had happened recently would happen. Granted, it would be a LOT easier just to swear off of extramarital sex but nobody seemed to be in favor of it but me, especially Steve. So if your husband is going to want to do it, then as his wife do I really have any right to object?

Well, if there was one thing that was plain to see, this was not going to be just another issue we could discuss and then have sex afterwards to clear up any issues. I guess I'll just have to move forward and play it by ear to see how things turn out.

One day after the service he pulled me to the side and asked if Steve and I would be interested in joining in with their group. While I knew their marriage had improved I have to say I was more than a bit surprised to find out it had improved THAT much! Well it didn't take a rocket scientist to figure out WHY he asked me as he'd been trying to get me to have sex with him off and on ever since the first time. Still, with everything else going on between Steve and me I thought it might not be a bad idea to at least give it a try.

These days I guess you could say we are full-fledged "members". It's not at all like the sex party scene that my best friend Beth is into where couples are highly discouraged and married couple expressly forbidden. Those parties are strictly for singles looking to be selfish and have unattached sex with whoever they want for a night. Granted they can be fun but in the end I find them rather exhausting and unfulfilling as there is no connection between anyone.

In our group everyone is either married, engaged, or in a long-term relationship and both people must attend. I find it much more enjoyable and erotic to be fucked by a guy while his wife is getting it from my own fiancé right next to me than to just be one more girl that some stranger is fucking that night. Before you even ask - absolutely NO kids (or pets for that matter) allowed. Everyone is 21 or older as they do serve alcohol. I would say 90% of the sex is heterosexual although sometimes some of the women do it together but even then it's more like a show for their husbands than anything personal between them.

Although the adultery issue was the biggest problem I use to have when it came to the idea of swapping, I have to admit that deep down I've always wondered if I could remain detached enough to watch my husband having sex with a woman not in my family without feeling jealousy or becoming insecure - especially if she was hotter than me. Well, that was all before I met Steve again and accepted his marriage proposal.

Today I feel a love and attachment to Steve that is beyond anything I ever would have thought possible. It's certainly more than anything I ever felt with Duane, the last guy I thought I might marry. Of course it's different watching my fiancé having sex with another girl compared to seeing him fucking my aunt or cousin. Face it, there's nothing threatening when he fucks my Aunt Linda or Kristen because I know they're family and I recognize that they're just having fun. Being family there's no "competition" between them and me at least not so far as competing for love. Still, when he's fucking other women there are those times I can't help but feel a little twinge seeing the ecstasy on his face as he fucks them, especially when it's someone new.

In my defense I think it would be unnatural for me NOT to feel a little bit of protectiveness. The key difference is I know that it's just sex when he is with them and at the end of the night it's ME that he returns to and it's ME he wants to fuck when we get home. That's sort of our own little ritual in that no matter how tired we may be after a party and no matter how much sex we each had, we still always make love when we get home, even if it's just a quickie.

Since we got started we've gotten to know a few couples better and sometimes we go out to dinner with them or just meet for sex. We've even gone over to the folks from church although we've never told his wife that it was ME that he had fucked when he "cheated" on her (she just knows it was another woman and not who it was). It's one of those things where so long as it all worked out in the end it was OK but putting an actual face to the woman, especially if she found out it was me after all we'd done together at various church activities, might have been a little awkward to say the least.

The one thing about joining the swapping group is it has kept any suggestions of having sex with more of his friends off the table, at least for now. It's all still pretty new so I'm sure sooner or later the topic will come up again and to be honest, I wouldn't mind so long as he did a better job of choosing his friends. I've found that I truly enjoy it when Steve watches me having sex with other men. I may be feeling another dick in me but it's Steve's eyes I lock onto.

I especially love it when the guy cums in me and I cry out to Steve to tell him how much I love him as my pussy is being filled with another man's cum. Who knows, maybe I'm starting to understand in a small way why his mother likes watching us so much. By the way - she knows nothing about her son's new sexual adventures. I don't get the idea from getting to know her better that she would be very supportive - especially about the kids.

2. Meeting Bill and Maria

Bill and Maria were a married couple that attended my church. They were just a couple of years older than me and Steve and didn't have any kids yet although she has since told me that they have been talking about trying. While Maria has no issues with me having sex with her husband today, she does NOT know that a couple of years ago Bill had fucked me back when their marriage was going through some troubles. They had gotten married really young and apparently he felt like he had missed out on things by becoming attached to just one woman so early in life and now he wanted to try out something (someone?) new.

At the time I was rather proud of myself for how easily I seduced him once I got wind of the issues he and his wife were having. That said, I am even more proud to say that I think I actually was the reason they got back together again. He had this ongoing fantasy of having sex in public (we did it at a rest area on a local highway, staring with a BJ in the parking lot and finally he fucked me in the men's room) but Maria was more the "do it in the bedroom with the lights off" type at the time. Her refusal to "spice up" their sex life was one of the biggest issues that was threatening their marriage. By giving him that opportunity he was able to return to his wife with THAT out of his system so to say. Personally, I enjoyed it too so it was a win-win for everyone.

While I knew that they had reconciled, what I did NOT know was that they also started swapping. Apparently he was able to convince her that there was more to their sex life than missionary under the covers. I know now that he even confessed he'd cheated but thankfully he hadn't told her with who. Evidently learning how close she'd come to losing him gave her the incentive to give a little and once she got started she was hooked. Can't say I blame her! Besides, Bill is not bad looking either and he's better than average when it comes to sex. While I only had sex with him once (I stick to my "one time" policy when it comes to sex and married men committing adultery), we still saw each other each week in church and so he knew full well that I was engaged.

One Sunday about a month ago after the service he pulled me to the side and asked if Steve and I would be interested in joining in with their group. Needless to say I was more than a bit surprised and I couldn't help but be a little cynical at first. It didn't take a rocket scientist to figure out WHY he asked me as he'd been trying to get me to have sex with him off and on ever since the first time. Still, with everything else going on between Steve and me I thought it might not be a bad idea to at least give it a try. If nothing else I thought it might help to do something with Steve that didn't involve people half our age!

Going to a party for sex wasn't all that hard for me but it was the first time that Steve had been to anything like it. Sure he'd been at parties where people hooked up and sometimes things happened, but never to one where the stated intent was for everyone to have sex with one another. For me it was unique in that the makeup of the crowd was a lot different than the parties Beth takes me to in that everyone was either married, engaged or in a long-term relationship. Whereas at Beth's parties couples were discouraged and married couples banned, at this one it was just the opposite in that ONLY people in a committed relationship were allowed. While you weren't really expected to have sex with your own partner, you certainly could if you wanted but then what would be the point unless you were just an exhibitionist?

The party was held at a large home in an upscale neighborhood on the north side. It was quite a large group - maybe thirty to forty people. The hosts had several kids who were staying with friends so there were plenty of bedrooms if that was what you preferred. That was another difference between this and Beth's parties where everyone had to stay in the communal areas - no private sex. At this one if you wanted to be alone in one of the bedrooms, all you had to do was shut the door and people would respect your privacy.

All-in-all I would say it was a much more relaxed atmosphere without all the competitiveness that sometimes arises at the parties where everybody is just trying to see how many times they can get laid in one night - not that some people didn't seem to have that intent at the swap party as well but it wasn't the theme of the evening. For the most, couples seemed to stay together or in close proximity. I would say almost every guy that fucked me was with Steve within arm's reach of me and the same for him and the women he fucked. There was only one guy who wanted me in private and I bet you can guess who it was... Bill. He arranged it by having Maria and Steve do it alone which left him alone with me, like that wasn't his intent all along.

Oh, one more thing different about the swap parties compared to the sex parties - no initiations. Just because Steve and I were the newcomers we weren't treated any different from anyone else. Rather than having everything get started with a bang by having the host fuck the "newbie" in front of everyone (which could be a bit of a shock for some people), when we walked in the party had already started and you just sort of joined in as you felt like it.

When the party was over, or at least so far as we were concerned, we went back to Steve's place and made love. There was something "cleansing" about having my lover fuck me after being with all those other men and we agreed that from then on whenever we went out like this we would always make sure to make love when we got home. In a way it was sort of romantic as well!

Since that first party we've gotten to know a few couples better. Rather than go to the parties where Steve wasn't all that comfortable, we've instead gone out to dinner with a few of them. Of course it always ends up at their house or a motel room for sex. Like, isn't that the whole purpose? As for location, there was no way I was taking them back to my mess of a house and I couldn't see us doing it at Steve's house with his mother looking in on everyone so unless they were willing to go to their home we just went to a motel. Most of the couples have kids which sort of restricts things at their home as well.

I suppose it should come as no surprise that the couple we first met after the party was Bill and Maria. Since they didn't have kids we ended up at their place which was rather small but then who needs all that much room for sex? Bill had made sure to tell me at the start that Maria had no idea that it was me that he had "cheated" with and he felt that it should stay that way. I could understand as it's one of those things where so long as it all worked out in the end it was OK but putting an actual face to the woman can put things in a different light. After all, we'd done a number of things together over the years at various church activities so while having sex with her husband now was OK with her, she might not have felt the same way about us doing it before she was OK with everything.

Earlier I mentioned that one of the reasons Bill had cheated on Maria was because she wasn't into public sex. Well, as it turned out that while she doesn't mind being seen at the parties or when with another couple, she STILL is extremely shy about anything sexual in the general public. Thus one of the reasons Bill wanted them to go out to dinner with me and Steve was because he knew that I didn't have such hang-ups. Heck, if anything I PREFER public sex! Not that I want to get arrested or anything, but it's the thrill of ALMOST getting caught that makes it so exciting. It's knowing they COULD see me if they just knew where to look that gets me off. In some cases it's knowing they CAN see me but can't do anything about it that makes it really hot.

Unlike Bill with Maria, I'd told Steve all about my past "accomplishments" with Bill. He just shook his head when I told him about the rest area, muttering something about how I just can't "get enough" sometimes but then he grinned and I knew he was just teasing me. Steve loves that I am a bit of an exhibitionist and while at times I think I may even scare him a little, he generally rises to the occasion - in more ways than one.

3. Going to the Restaurant

I have to say that it wasn't any great surprise to either Steve or me when Bill called to make arrangements with him and asked if we could go out to dinner first before going to their place "for fun". Indeed, HE was the one who suggested that Bill must have been hoping that I would do something for him while we were at the restaurant. Then he proved yet again why I love him so much when he teased me and asked me how far I was ready to go in public with Bill. I didn't answer but instead just gave him a smirk and told him he would just have to find out - along with Bill.

The Lemont, the restaurant we were going to, was on the south side of Pittsburgh on top of the hills overlooking the city. They call it Mt. Washington but it's Really just a big hill! While you COULD park near the restaurant, the more traditional means is to park at the bottom of the hill and ride the Incline up. The Incline is two cars connected by a cable that loops at the top of the hill such that when one goes up the other goes down, passing each other in the middle. I'd ridden the incline many times over the years as you get a spectacular view of the city. Of course there have been a few times when I didn't get to see much of the city as my head was buried in the lap of the guy I was with! Actually, sex on the Incline is a local tradition and any couple that wants a claim to sexual impropriety fame simply HAS to have their card punched for the Incline!

When we got there Bill and Maria were waiting for us and Bill had already purchased tickets for the four of us. There was a large group ahead of us and while we could have all squeezed in we decided to wait for the next round. Maria and I took a seat on a bench while Bill and Steve stood around talking about sports or something like that. I complimented Maria on her beautiful fur coat which must have set back Bill more than a few pennies. Even forgetting the beauty of the coat, with the unseasonably cold weather I was wishing I had something that warm on! The waiting area was heated but not all that much, just enough to take the chill off and my bare legs were freezing.

Maria opened the coat to show me her dress. Maria is almost 27, making her just a couple of years older than me so it wasn't like she was some middle aged woman and she certainly wasn't going to hide what she had in the dress she was wearing. She was maybe ten pounds or so over what might have been her ideal weight but I would have sworn most of that was in her boobs. It didn't hurt that she was wearing a slinky black dress that was so low cut half of her boobs were on display and what was hidden was threatening to burst out any moment. There was also little doubt as to whether she had on a bra or not as the cold air quickly raised her nipples through the thin fabric. The dress was hugging her body like it was painted on which didn't exactly help with her hips but I was sure it would be showing off her ass once she removed the coat completely.

Maria leaned over with a conspiratorial look and whispered that she wasn't wearing any panties. She even blushed when she said that so I knew it was a stretch for her. I wanted to ask her if she had ever gone out without any before but something in the twinkle in her eyes told me the answer without having to ask.

Compared to Maria I felt a little underdressed and I don't mean in terms of quantity. I had on a nice outfit but it was nothing like her dress and coat. Her fur coat must have cost thousands while my light overcoat was off the rack from Macy's at under a hundred dollars on clearance. The dress was obviously something from a designer store while mine came from the same Macy's store - and the same clearance rack. Granted, I thought it as nice but it was nothing like Maria's. It was black as well and while low cut, I didn't have the massive cleavage to display that she did. Of course I wasn't wearing a bra but I WAS wearing a thong underneath which was pretty hard to forget about when it started to wedge up my ass just as it was at that moment.

The only thing I had going for me was that my dress was several inches shorter than hers. With her legs she was smart enough to wear something that came down past mid-thigh and thus hid some of the extra weight in her thighs. In contrast, mine was well ABOVE mid-thigh and it would have been easier to measure it from my ass down than from my knees up if you get the idea. With my legs crossed it pulled up just under my ass, pretty much allowing a full view of my leg from my butt to my ankles.

Maria was making some comment about my dress "not leaving much to the imagination" but then I could have said the same for her bust as she was for my legs. Before she got it all out Bill called out that the car was almost back so we got up and buttoned our coats once again before the guys got an early preview. This time we were the only four getting on board and I winked at Maria as we got in. Her face sort of went red as I knew she understood what I meant. Just to make sure there was no misunderstanding, I sat down next to Bill before Maria could leaving her to sit by Steve in the seat next to us. The car lurched and I knew we had only a few minutes before it would be at the top of the hill so there was little time to waste.

"Mmmmmmm, let's get things started right," I said so everyone could hear. Before anyone responded I was attacking Bill's zipper and reaching in for his dick.

"Oh my god, already?" Bill gasped, trying to sound as if he was surprised but I knew he would have been disappointed if I had NOT been so quick to act.

"Hey, once she has her mind set there's no stopping her so you may as well just sit back and enjoy it," Steve called over from the opposite side.

I noticed that Maria wasn't making any moves herself but that wasn't stopping Steve from reaching into her coat and getting a handful of her boobs. Bill was wearing boxers which made it easier to get his dick out and before we were far from the lower station I was sucking his dick. Suddenly I felt this incredible sense of horniness and I wanted SO bad to be fucked but I knew there was no way we could get it done in the short time we had available. As I sucked on his dick I made a promise to myself that I would have his dick in me before appetizers, one way or another.

"Head down Kelly!" Steve called out to me and I knew what he meant.

As I said, halfway up the hill we passed the other car coming down the hill and for a brief moment the passengers would see each other. Usually people waved but I was more interested in the hard dick between my lips than being friendly. Still, it wouldn't do to have some old biddy see me sucking his cock and reporting us when they arrived so I took all of Bill's cock in my mouth and went down deep and just help him my mouth as the others waved and said hello to the people passing by.

"Clear Kelly," Steve announced a few seconds later and I resumed my work on his dick.

Given there had been no foreplay before the ride it would have been hard to have gotten Bill to cum in the short time available. In the past when I HAD gotten a guy to cum we had started before the ride started so he was almost there when we got on and all I had to do was finish him off. Still, you never know how horny a guy might be so I held out hope, though slim, that I might get a mouthful of cum before we got off. Alas, it was not to be and Steve again helped me out by warning that we were almost there.

"I need you to fuck me... BAD!" I almost growled at Bill as he put himself back into his shorts and pulled up his zipper.

I saw Maria adjusting her dress to get her boobs back in. Steve has always been a boob guy so it didn't surprise me that he had made the most of the opportunity. In fact, to this day I still wonder why he asked me out back when I was fourteen as I was barely into a training bra at the time and all the other girls he had sex with already were far ahead of me on the growth curve.

We left the station with Maria hanging onto Steve's arm and me on Bill's. Anyone seeing us would think we were married to one another which was all part of the fun as far as I was concerned. Of course it might have been different had someone from school passed by but then the odds of that were pretty small so I didn't worry about it.

4. Fun in the Restroom

The Lemont restaurant is a Pittsburgh legend and with prices to match. As such it was NOT one of our more frequented places but Bill announced that he would be picking up the tab when he had called Steve about it earlier so that took some of the pressure off of me. We were lucky enough to get a table by a window which offered a spectacular view of the Pittsburgh skyline as the night approached and the lights appeared. The only negative thing was that it was a table and not a booth and being by the window, there was absolutely no privacy. Then again, it also meant that everyone COULD see us which wasn't all that bad.

When Maria and I took off or coats and the waiter hustled the off to the coatroom, I could feel every eye in the room on us. No doubt Maria's boobs were competing with my legs for attention so it was a true contest between the boob men and leg men for who got the most attention. In the end it didn't matter as it wasn't like we were entering a wet t-shirt contest or something. If anything I think both Steve and Bill appreciated the stares we were getting.

"Wow!" was all Steve got out as he got his first good look at Maria's boobs. He may have gotten a handful on them in the darkened Incline car but this was his first good look at them in the light. I playfully punched him, teasing him about his poetic outburst.

In contrast to Steve's open-mouthed single syllable appraisal of Maria's assets, Bill was more eloquent yet still a bit on the vulgar side as he made some sort of comment about whether or not I could sit down in the dress I was wearing, the obvious question being would it cover my ass when I was sitting. Granted, sitting down in such an outfit without a coat to cover me WAS something that had to be done carefully, but that was all part of the show.

I tugged briefly at the hem and then sat down slowly, crossing my legs immediately making sure the leg facing the room was the one that was on top such that everyone could see what was covered - and not. Once in place I knew I couldn't move around a lot as there was the constant threat of it pulling up under my butt but so long as I sat fairly still it was safe.

"Your legs are incredible," Bill said softly to me as he pushed my chair under me and then sat down next to me.

Meanwhile Steve's eyes were doing all the talking as he stared down into Maria's cleavage, not even trying to be subtle.

Before long our drink orders were taken and Bill ordered some wine that I had never heard of but then it's not like I am a wine connoisseur by any stretch of the imagination. My usually criteria is white wine and cheap! We struck up a conversation, mostly centered around the view before us which grew even more spectacular as the sky darkened. There were other tables within arm reach so it wasn't like it was anything at all private where the conversation could go off into a more erotic direction. Still, Bill and Maria were pleasant company and if anything, I was just getting all the more horny with passing moment as I could still taste Bill's dick in my mouth.

I reminded myself of my promise on the Incline so now it was just a matter of execution. Still, it wasn't like there were all that many options available to us. The place was pretty packed as was usual for a Saturday evening and it would have been hard to hide even a hand in someone's lap, let alone anything more flagrant.

The wine arrived and I admired the way Bill handled the entire routine which always intimidates me, making me glad the guy is the one who has to deal with it. It was a little dry for me but I smiled and complimented him on his wonderful selection anyway. Apparently it was rather expensive from the way Bill and Steve were talking so I figured it was just my unsophisticated taste buds at work. Give me Chinese and a Diet Coke and I'm happy!

If there's one thing you can count on at a restaurant like Lemont's, you won't get out in anything less than a few hours. Everything is done slowly and you are expected to take your time. No doubt the slow turnover contributed to the exorbitant prices on the menu. My eyes widened as I surveyed the selections and I felt thankful that Bill would be the one to pay for it all. On the good side, that meant there was plenty of time between decisions and courses although the waiter seemed to somehow magically appear whenever any of our glasses even threatened to go empty.

Finally the waiter took our order and when he was gone, I turned to Bill and smiled sweetly, asking him if her remembered what I had told him I wanted back on the Incline. Bill's eyes darted quickly to Maria before he turned back to me with a smile and he nodded. I smiled back and licked my lips slowly before telling him I meant what I had said and I wanted it now.

"Now?" Bill replied, looking at the others as if to get their responses as well but both of them seemed transfixed on the two of us and never made a peep.

"Yes... NOW," I came back firmly.

Bill looked around and I could tell he was a bit confused as he undoubtedly didn't see where we could pull something like this off. I wanted to say something about how he had a short memory but then that might have peaked Maria's attention and have her wonder what I was referring to since so far as she knew, her husband had only started fucking me recently. It would have been awkward to explain why I needed to remind him of the first place he had fucked me. Granted, the restroom was in a remote rest area with few people around whereas this was a busy restaurant but the concept was the same.

"You don't mind if I borrow your husband for a little while, do you Maria?" I asked her with as sweet and innocent a smile as I could muster. There no fooling her even had I been trying as she knew full well what I wanted had nothing to do with being sweet or innocent.

"Here?" was all she said, her eyes widening a bit.

I just grinned and replied, "Well, if you would rather do it yourself then I'll understand."

Maria's eyes widened even further and I knew that dressing sexy was about as far as she was willing to go in public. Not wearing panties - something I was pretty sure Steve hadn't discovered yet, was probably one of the biggest risks she'd ever taken in public so I had to give her credit for that. In the meantime the clock was ticking, my pussy was itching, and I wanted to get laid.

"C'mon Bill," I said, standing up carefully and feeling my dress start to pull up my bottom before I could pull it back down again.

I didn't look around but hopefully a few lucky guys had gotten a quick eyeful! It wasn't like I was bare underneath in any case.

As we walked away from the table I turned to Bill and frowned at him. "What's the matter with you? Don't you remember the first place we did it?"

"Oh I remember all right," he chuckled, "Like every time I've had sex with Maria since then. But THAT was a little more private, don't you think?"

"Your point"? I countered. He looked blank so I pulled on his arm to bring him along. "I want to get laid and YOU are going to do it NOW."

I knew exactly where we needed to go - the men's room. I learned many years before that you never go to the women's room for sex. Too many women are either uptight or just jealous of a woman having public sex and as such are more than willing to complain to a manager. In contrast, I've NEVER had a situation where even if a guy knew I was in the restroom, nothing was EVER said. If anything, it was all the hotter when other men DID know what was going on, at least for me.

Evidently Bill didn't understand the subtleties of public sex as when I started to push on the door to the men's room he pulled me back with wide eyes, asking me if he shouldn't go in first to make sure it was clear before I went in. I just grinned nastily at him and replied, "Like who is going to care if I walk in?" Before he could think of a response I pushed the door open and stepped inside.

Sure enough, there were two other men in there, both looking to be in their forties or fifties, washing their hands. At first they looked at me like they couldn't believe what they were seeing and then they just stared at me, obviously confused as to what was going on. Bill was right behind me but I think he was ready to flee if anything was said.

Of course Bill had nothing to worry about, just as I knew he wouldn't. All I did was smile pretty at the two guys, pointed at Bill and said, "Sorry to barge in but I need him to fuck me." With that I opened the door to the handicapped stall and tugged Bill in with me before anyone could say a word. Poor Bill looked like he about to go into shock but I knew we were safer now than ever. No way were those guys ever going to say a word. If anything, they'd be telling their friends about it for years to come - and none of them would believe the story.

The door opened and I heard them leaving, leaving us momentarily along but I knew that wouldn't last for long so I quickly pulled down my thong and stepped out of it, hanging it up on the coat hanger on the inside of the door. In doing so my dress bunched up around my waist, leaving me naked for all practical purpose between my belly button and my ankles. Grabbing the handicapped rail I leaned over and pushed my butt up and out at him, my legs spread as far apart as I could in my heels.

"So are you going to fuck me or do I have to masturbate?" I teased him, running my finger between my moist pussy lips.

I touched my clit and a sigh escaped as I was already so horny I knew it wasn't going to take much to drive me over the edge. This was not the time for foreplay - I just wanted his dick in me and the sooner it was in me the better. I could hear Bill's zipper and then him undoing his belt to get his pants down to his ankles. He put both hands on my hips, one on each side, and squeezed my butt.

"Damn you're such a slut," he whispered as I felt his dick poke me in the butt. No matter how shocked he may have been at the start, his cock was certainly responding like it should. I wiggled my ass up against his stiff dick, wishing he would just get on with it and push it in me.

"Fuck me dammit," I said sharply, beginning to grow impatient.

His answer was simple and straightforward as his cock slid in me easily and I felt him shove me forward as he rammed his dick into me.

"Just like the first time, eh?" he said in a voice hoarse with lust as he started to thrust his dick into me.

Now that he was in me he again was holding me with both hands on my bare hips, using his arms as he pushed himself into me and then pulled out again, over and over again.

Just then the door opened and it must have been a couple of guys who knew each other as they were talking together and carrying on about some waitress that must have drawn their attention. Bill hesitated for a moment but his instincts took over and he kept fucking me even though I knew in his head he must have been worried about our new visitors. Well, why not push the limit?

"Oh yeah, fuck me like that!" I said loud enough to be heard outside the stall and then I moaned as Bill's fat cock filled me yet again. "God I love your dick in me."

THAT stopped the conversation outside and for a moment all I could hear was Bill's groin slapping to my hips, a little grunt following each time he would push it deep inside of me.

"What the hell?" someone said and there was a knock on the door.

The walls went down close to the floor so they would have had to practically get on their hands and knees to see who was inside and no doubt the idea of doing that, evening a restroom as clean as this one, wasn't an option for them.

"Go away, can't you tell we're busy in here?" I called out to them, trying not to laugh in the process.

I looked over my shoulder at Bill but he had his eyes trained on my ass, watching himself fuck me. From the rate at which he was going he must have been close to cumming and it was if he was paying no attention to anything else.

"Oh for Christ sake, you've GOT to be kidding," the voice outside said again and then the two of them started to laugh and say something about what they knew was going on inside the stall.

Just then Bill gasped and I felt his hands grip my butt hard as he pushed himself into me as hard as he could and froze in place as his cock started to spew cum inside of me. After the first couple of shots he started pumping again as if to draw out as much sperm into me as he could.

"Oh yeah, cum inside of me," I groaned again, more for the sake of our audience than either of us as we obviously knew what was happening.

By then Bill had already pretty much just done that and he was now standing still behind me, his dick motionless and throbbing in my cum-filled pussy.

Standing upright, I felt Bill's dick slip out of me and I got that empty feeling I always get when I've been nicely fucked. It's like my pussy is wondering what happened to that wonderful warm dick that was making it feel so good. Bill's face as flushed as no doubt mine was. Even though I hadn't cum with all the distractions, I still loved every minute of it and if anything, having our little audience made it so much better for me. Grabbing some toilet paper, I wiped up the sperm that was oozing out of me and tried to clean myself off as best as possible while Bill tucked his dick back into his shorts and pulled up his pants.

With my short dress I really couldn't go out without the thong so once I had myself pretty well cleaned up I pulled it back on and readjusted my dress. Bill was back together again as well and the bulge in his pants was nowhere near what it had been just a few minutes earlier. From what I could hear, our "friends" were still outside and they weren't showing any signs of leaving so I looked at Bill, shrugged my shoulders, and opened the stall door.

Immediately outside were two guys, both looking to be middle aged in expensive suits and ties. They leered at me and it was obvious what their hopes were but it wasn't to be. I'd gotten what I wanted and maybe in different circumstance I might have taken them on as well but it actually felt more erotic NOT to fuck them, although I would have bet THEY had different opinions of that.

"Hope we didn't keep the two of you from doing anything," I teased them.

Then on the spur of the moment I hiked my dress up to my waist and readjusted my thong, running my fingers along the inside edge of the front to pull it out and reposition it. Then I pulled my dress back down again and tugged it so it covered my ass. Actually it was no different than what I would have done on my own at home or in the stall but doing it in front of these two was much more fun.

"Damn thongs, be glad you don't have to wear one. They NEVER stay in place," I griped to them as if THAT was anything that concerned them.

With that I followed Bill who couldn't seem to wait to escape from the room before anyone else walked in. I turned as I left and smiled at the guys who just stood there with their mouths open like fish out of water.

Back at the table Steve and Maria were waiting anxiously for us. Our appetizers hadn't arrived yet so at least I'd met my goal for the dinner! Still, I knew that a quick fuck wasn't going to satisfy me tonight so the remainder of the dinner seemed like an eternity. I'm sure Steve would have taken me for his turn in the men's room but it just didn't seem right. What I think he REALLY wanted as to take Maria back but when I even hinted at it she glared at me and I knew that it was not something she would even discuss. Poor Steve, he was just going to have to wait until we got to their house to get his piece of pussy.

During dinner I glanced around a few times to see if there was any sign of our audience from the men's room but I didn't see them anywhere. I had sort of expected them to at least walk by and say something but evidently they either didn't want to or maybe they had wives or girlfriends that were keeping them from checking out the other women in the place.

5. After Dinner

After dinner we returned to the cars. This time there were too many people around to have fun on the Incline but I knew it was only a matter of minutes before we would be at their house so I held myself back from doing something that we all might regret later. I rode with Bill while Maria rode with Steve on the drive to their house. It was about a twenty minute drive but the traffic was miserable and the last thing we needed was to get in an accident with my head in his lap so rather than do anything to him, I opened my coat and laid back the seat and masturbated the entire way back to his house. I asked him if Maria ever did anything like this for him and he just shook his head. I almost felt guilty for leaving poor Steve with such a shy women while I was giving Bill a nice show.

Once we got to their house, we pretty much split up for the rest of the evening. I've found in the times now that we have been swapping that I actually prefer that when we are doing just one other couple. When it's a party then I love getting fucked in front of everyone with Steve around to watch as well. Yet when we swap with another couple, I find myself more comfortable with actually swapping for the night versus sharing.

In this case Maria and Steve went to the master bedroom while Bill took me to a guest bedroom. We spent a few hours in bed and then all got back together in the kitchen for some drinks before Steve and I left. It was pretty late, just as I had assumed it would be, so I ended up staying at his house rather than trying to get home on my own. It also made it much easier for us to make love before we went to sleep without having to worry about how late it was getting.

The next morning at church we ran into Bill and Maria in the middle of the sanctuary while everyone was doing the hand-shaking thing. I looked around and wondered what all the people around us would say if they had any idea what the four of us had done the previous evening, especially Bill and me in the restroom. Of course I wasn't wearing the dress from the night before and Maria had her boobs under control so it wasn't like we were giving off any overt signals. At the same time for a moment I was tempted to tell Bill to meet me in the basement during the sermon.

It was then that it struck me and I now feel even more comfortable with where Steve and I are heading. As much as I would have loved to be fucked by Bill during church, at the same time I knew it would never happen. Being single and fucking men whenever I wanted sex was one thing. Now that I was engaged and soon to be married, it was OK to have sex with other men when my man was involved with me, but otherwise it wasn't right. Maybe had Maria agreed to do the same with Steve then it might have been different but for the two of us to just sneak off and have sex while our partners stayed back and weren't even going to be doing it later just wasn't right.

Granted this is NOT how I use to feel about sex outside of marriage but it feels better now to be settling in on a new set of values that I can live by.

(Apr 24) Chapter 226: Easter Uncles

Story codes: MF inc father daughter uncle niece
Me (26)
John - my dad (46)
Uncle Paul (54)
Uncle Jim (44)

Another Easter and another family day together. We'd been gathering for as long as I remember, and undoubtedly long before that. Just as the traditions included ham for dinner and Easter baskets for everyone, so did the annual rite of passage for the younger cousins to tease their uncles. I may be engaged but that doesn't mean I still can't flirt with the best of them! If anything, nowadays it was even more fun as the flirting would go on just a little bit too far.

1. Sunday Morning Tradition

What more can I say - I had a nice Easter. No... make that a GREAT Easter!

To start the day, I stopped by my dad's place on the way to church just as I try to do every Sunday morning. One of the things my parents always stressed to me when I was growing up was to also seek out opportunities to create family traditions that would bring us together more as a family.

For example, when I was in high school one of our "traditions" was to have my dad stop by my room each morning on the way to work. Usually I was still asleep or just waking up. It typically only lasted for a few minutes but one way or another he would get to cum before he went to work. Sometimes I would be extra tired and not even realize he'd stopped by, waking up to the feel of his cum on my face or boobs. He even tried fucking me a few times when I was asleep but almost every time I would wake up just as soon as his cock started pressing into me... almost every time, LOL. I will say that he never was able to finish before I would wake up but I have to admit there's something very erotic about waking up with the feel of a dick already in your pussy!

Unfortunately that tradition faded away after I went to college although we would still try to do it whenever I was home on breaks. Now that I live with my cousin it is just one of those pleasant memories. In its place we started something new – having sex just before church. Typically I stop by his house and he quickly fucks me just in time for us to make it to the service. The idea is to do it as close to the start of church as possible without being TOO late. Sometimes we are a few minutes late but that's almost better as I love seeing people turn to look to see us come in, not having a clue why we are late or that my dad's fresh cum was threatening to leak out of me at any moment! I love sitting down in church, recalling the feel of him in me mere minutes before, wishing I could give myself to him again right there in the pews.

So anyway, THAT was how my Easter morning started. I was wearing my new Easter dress. It was more traditional, nothing all that overtly sexy but I knew my dad would like it for two reasons – the hem was really short and it showed plenty of cleavage. It didn't actually SHOW anything that would have been inappropriate for church, but it SUGGESTED that all I had to do was lean over a little bit or cross my legs just right and then it MIGHT show something that would cause a scandal.

I find that sometimes it's the outfits that do NOT show everything but rather HINT at what is underneath that draw the most looks. In this case it was just a simple white dress with a yellow tie around the waist. It had shoulder straps but they were so narrow that it was almost like being strapless. They were needed, however, in order to keep even my modest my boobs from popping out over the top of the dress. There was no way anyone could have worn a bra under it, even had I wanted to. I DID wear panties though; plain white, as the dress tended to be a bit sheer whenever there was sunlight or other bright light behind it. Also, it was right on the borderline of being too short NOT to wear panties, at least in public. It's one thing to make people wonder if you're wearing them, quite another to confirm it.

It was just fifteen minutes before the start of church when I showed up at my dad's and my Aunt Linda opened the door. She hadn't seen my new dress and I twirled to model it, letting the skirt fly up to show my panties, drawing a playful frown from her but she was just teasing. There's a time and place for everything and there ARE lines not to be crossed, at least in church.

I asked where my dad was and she rolled her eyes, gesturing upstairs with a "What can I say?" expression, telling me without a word that he was running late as usual. Just then I heard him coming down the stairs and then he was besides us.

"Nice dress sweetheart," he said with his eyes fixed directly on my cleavage.

LOL, do I know my dad or what?

"Does it show off my breasts enough for you?" I asked teasingly, clasping my hands behind my back to push out my boobs even tighter against the dress material.

"Hmmmmmm, you COULD just take it off and make me a happy man," he answered, only half teasing this time.

Another time and place maybe I would've done just that but we now had less than fifteen minutes before the service started and it was a five minute drive. "Oh daddy," I said, pretending to be embarrassed by his boldness. Even though I was 26 now, he still loved it whenever I would act like little girl for him. I also got a kick out when he would refer to me as his "little girl".

"Hey, we're running really late and the church is going to be packed," my aunt cut in, "Are you gonna fuck her John or what?"

Yeah, like there was ever any doubt about THAT! LOL I grinned at my aunt as I knew she was just teasing. Then I turned my back to my dad and pulled my dress up to my waist. As my dad was undoing his pants, my aunt reached under my dress and pulled my panties down to my ankles, muttering something about what a pain they were and why was I fooling with them anyway. She stepped back as my dad got in behind me and pushed on my back so I would lean over for him. Grabbing the stair rail, I stepped back and leaned over so my bare ass lifted up and gave my dad and aunt a perfect view of my butt and pussy.

"Damn, I NEVER get tired of seeing your tight ass baby," my dad whispered huskily as he moved in behind me and started to press his dick against me.

When he had it in position, he grabbed my hips with his hands and pushed himself into me, not stopping until he was buried all the way in me.

"Ohhhhhh daddyyyyyyyy," I sighed as my pussy reacted to the intrusion, making me shiver from head to toe as his dick filled me.

"Oh Kelly, I love you so much," he groaned as he started to stroke himself in and out of me.

It was a good thing I had a grip on the rail with both hands as he was pounding me pretty hard and fast. I understood as we didn't have much time so he needed to get off as quickly as possible. Mmmmmmm, I loved the way he gripped me with his powerful hands as he fucked me from behind. God, I wished we could do this right in front of the entire church! Then everyone could see how much my dad loved me and what a beautiful thing we shared. I hate it when people write me and say how my dad is just taking advantage of me when we have sex. If only they could see us now! This wasn't just some horny older man fucking a girl twenty years younger than him.

Well, there WAS a little of that but you know what I mean. Most fathers would never take their daughter like this, never give her something that only he can give her - her father's lust and desire. I knew he loved fucking me and there was nothing I wanted more right then but to please my dad in any way I could. "Oh baby... I'm cumming!" he gasped as if I couldn't tell for myself from the way he was suddenly burying himself to the hilt in me, pulling me into his crotch as tightly as he could.

I felt him convulse behind me and then there was that faint warm feeling deep inside of me as his incestuous sperm flooded my pussy. Oh yeah, my father was mating me yet again! I closed my eyes and focused everything on my pussy and the feel of my father's dick as it pumped load after load into me. How many times had he cum in me since that first time over ten years ago? How much sperm had he left in me? It had to be in the gallons by now!

"Of fuck, that felt so damn good," he panted after he'd had finished, pulling himself out of me.

As I felt his still fat dick slip out of me it left my pussy with that odd empty feeling I get whenever a guy takes his dick out of me after cumming inside of me. It was like when he was in me I was complete, my empty pussy finally filled with the thing it wanted most. Then suddenly it's gone, like something has been taken from me, leaving me incomplete once again.

"Let's go people!" my aunt urged us, a smile on her face that disarmed anything about her comment that implied she might actually be in a hurry.

I pulled up my panties, tugging on the sides to pull it up tight against my crotch. I knew I should have gone to the bathroom and cleaned myself off but nobody would be seeing the inevitable wetness that would be soon seeping into it. My dad was tucking his rapidly dwindling dick into his underwear, zipping his pants and buckling his belt once again.

When we were done I turned to him and he pulled me into his arms and kissed me, his hand reaching down, pulling up my dress and then grabbing my ass over my panties as he did. Our tongues touched and I wiggled my butt naughtily against his hands as he squeezed me. Mmmmmmm, I love to have my butt played with like that.

"OK you two, you'd better quit or we may as well not go and it IS Easter you know," my aunt interrupted, more serious this time.

Well, she was right about THAT and so reluctantly we split apart and headed for church. I drove separately as I was going to Steve's house right after church to pick him up and bring him with me to our Easter family gathering. I would've preferred him to attend church with me but after working the night shift I figured it better he get some sleep and miss church rather than fall asleep at my aunt and uncle's house. NOT the way to make a good first impression!

Being it was Easter the church parking lot was packed so I had to find a place to park on my own and then meet my dad and aunt at the door to the church. My pussy was itching so bad - not from anything bad but I because was SO horny. I could feel a wetness between my legs as my dad's cum soaked my panties and I had to make a conscious effort not to reach between my thighs and rub myself. For a moment I grinned as I recalled how when I was little and just learning to masturbate. Sometime I would start to touch myself in public without really thinking about it, not thinking about anything but that crazy itch between my legs.

My grin widened as I remembered how my mom would freak out and then we when we got home we would have yet another "talk" about how to behave in public.

"So what's so funny?" my dad asked as I approached them.

"Oh nothing...," I replied, my eyes flashing so he knew it WAS about something to do with sex but he just wasn't sure what it was.

The pews were packed tight with the Easter crowd so I squeezed in next to my dad on his right while my aunt took her place on his left. Next to me was a woman I hadn't seen before but with a crowd this size, I didn't recognize half the people there anyway. Between her and her husband were their two kids, two boys that looked to be maybe twelve and sixteen or something like that. I gave her a friendly hello and sat down, crossing my legs which caused my skirt to ride up high on my thighs, but not so high that it revealed anything TOO much. I saw her eyes drift to my legs and then she looked away quickly, her eyes widening just a bit.

It was all I could do not to laugh as I wondered what she would have said had I whispered in her ear that my dad had just fucked me less than ten minutes before. Hmmmmmm, maybe she would have needed to leave the service for a little bit with one of her loving sons in tow - or both! Of course the odds were highly against it but a girl can dream, cant she?

I have to admit my mind wasn't on the service. I couldn't wait get to Steve's house where I knew he would never resist fucking me before we left for my relatives. I'd like to say that like the church crowd, most of my relatives would never suspect that I was walking in with Steve's cum fresh in me, just as my dad's was when I walked into church. But then, there were a few guys there that would know better - from personal experience, not to mention a few women who would undoubtedly strongly suspect that was the case. Oh well, why disappoint them?

With all these thoughts running in my head, could anyone have blamed me if I had started masturbating right there in the middle of the service? Believe me, I actually thought about it for a quick moment, even if it was just rubbing my legs together but it was so packed and tight that somebody would have noticed - most likely the mom next to me. That's one way we girls have the advantage over you guys - we can be as horny as we want and nobody knows but guys have that wonderful thing between their legs that betrays them every time.

So anyway, after the service I said goodbye to my dad, although we knew we would be seeing each other again an hour or so later. I drove off to Steve's with one difference - my panties were on the seat next to me and my hand was between my legs as I drove. OMG, I was so damn horny after thinking all service about nothing but my fiancé's hard dick in me... and now I was just minutes away from finally having it.

2. Picking Up Steve

It took about a half hour to negotiate the traffic and roads and get to Steve's place. Actually this was one thing we hadn't worked out yet - where we would live after we got married. For the time being I was still living with my cousin while Steve was staying with his mother. There were couple of reasons why we didn't live together yet. First, neither of us was making much money so it helped not having to pay rent for the time being. More importantly, it would have meant a nasty drive for one of us as he worked on the north side of the city while I worked on the south side. In between were a maze of tunnels and bridges that confounded traffic every day. Somehow or another we would have to work something out but for the time being we just dealt with it as it was.

Eventually I made it, working my way up the narrow street to where the small house his mother rented was situated. Why she had chosen such a small home in a rather poor neighborhood I never understood. It wasn't like she didn't make good money and if anything, her Lexus sort of stood out on the street. Not only that, but the house was so small it was more like my old apartment.

Fortunately there was a space behind her car so I parked and looked back at the seat next to me where my panties remained. Oh well, not like I was going to need them while I was here! If anything, I wouldn't forget them and leave them behind and have to worry later when I was with my relatives about them.

Stepping out of the car, a gust of wind suddenly blew. My dress flew up but fortunately my jacket kept it from doing a Marilyn Monroe impersonation. Still, the jacket only came down to my hips so if anyone had been watching they would have seen just about all of my legs and who knows what else for just a brief moment. Looking around, I didn't see anyone but I can't say for just a moment I wasn't tempted to stand there and wait for another gust, just in case someone WAS watching me.

Oh well, I was due for dinner in less than an hour and it was likely going to be another thirty minutes from here with the holiday traffic so if I was looking to get laid again before dinner I had better get moving.

"Hey Kelly, Happy Easter," Marlene greeted me at the door.

Steve's mom and I had grown a lot closer since he had proposed to me. With my mother now loving so far away after the divorce, it felt good to have someone like her to confide in and just spend time with. Granted, she wasn't my mother but as a future mother-in-law I couldn't have asked for a better one. There were some things about me that I hadn't told her, and maybe never would. As open as she was about sex and as crazy intimate as she got sometimes with her son, incest was not something I was so sure about her understanding. Twelve years ago when Steve and I were dating she had "caught" us having sex and one thing led to another but since then nothing like that has ever happened between them again. One time does not make something "normal" and these days she didn't even like to discuss what had happened.

Even though Steve and his mother didn't have the sort of relationship that I had with my parents, they were still a lot chummier than most sons his age were with their mothers. I suppose her being divorced now for almost thirteen years after her husband dumped her for some babe at work had left her questioning her desirability so having a son dote over her most likely helped. Since moving back to Pittsburgh I wasn't aware of her dating much or even socializing except for work functions so it was like Steve was all she had, at least until he met me.

It took me a while before I figured the two of them out though as it was a rather complex and not exactly typical relationship between them. One of the first things I learned was that she loved watching her son fuck me. It wasn't like when my dad use to peek through a crack in the door to watch me having sex with boys in my bedroom. Masturbating and then wanting me after they had left. She just watched us and never once did I ever see her so much as touch her breasts, let alone masturbate like my mom did sometimes when she would watch my dad fuck me. It was a little odd at first to say the least but then I love being watched when I have sex and once I understood that she wasn't at all interested in joining in with us I learned just to ignore her and enjoy my boyfriend.

As we all got more comfortable with each other, Steve and his mom started to feel more comfortable expressing their affection for one another as well. It was strictly platonic - nothing sexual. Still, he would sometimes fondle her boobs or rub her crotch but always over her clothes. They liked to kiss and he would kiss her much the same way he did me, only his hands weren't groping under her clothes like they usually did when he would kiss me. As for her, she would sometimes rest her hand on his crotch, maybe even press down a little but never did I once see her grab it or even attempt to reach inside his pants or boxers.

When I first suggested to Steve that maybe they were doing more when I wasn't around he actually seemed shocked that I would even think anything like that went on between them. Indeed, seeing how Steve felt about incest made me hesitate for a long time to reveal to him my true relationship with my own father. Fortunately he understood my obligations to my father and it didn't hurt when he understood that it meant he also was allowed to have sex with my aunt and cousins once he got married. Still, when it came to me and my dad he was strictly "don't ask - don't tell" when it came to my dad fucking me. He watched me once - the day I told him about me and my dad and that was from a closet where he thought my dad didn't know he was watching. Since then he has never seen my having any sort of sex with my dad, not even a blowjob.

So seeing Marlene wearing nothing but a pair of panties and an open shirt that looked like one that Steve use to wear didn't even cause me to bat an eye. Actually, I was surprised she wore anything at all but then again with Steve home she usually was dressed in something or another. It was only when I was there alone with her that she would feel comfortable to strip down. She tried to get me to do the same but soon learned that nudity just wasn't my thing and I appreciated that she didn't bug me about it the way my aunt always seemed to do. It's annoying when someone thinks that just because they enjoy doing something that everyone else should as well. If someone wants to run around their house naked then that's fine with me - just don't try to make me feel guilty for not doing the same.

"Steve should be ready any minute," she continued as I stepped inside, "It's nice that your family gets together like this and I know he appreciates being welcomed."

For a moment I felt a slight pang of guilt. Last Thanksgiving I had brought Steve with me to our traditional family gathering and I also invited his mother with as well since she didn't have any family nearby to be with. I hadn't thought about inviting her to join us for Easter until now and for a quick moment I debated if I should. Then again, I was already going to be late as it was and she wasn't anywhere ready to go out. Sure she looked pretty good for being at home but her makeup wasn't on and her hair was pulled back, not to mention she wasn't even dressed. Then too, Easter wasn't quite the same as Thanksgiving where most families gather for large meals and such. Yes, my family had an Waster meal but for the most part other people I knew might go out for brunch or something but it wasn't any large social affair.

"That's a cute dress Kelly," she offered, smiling a bit as she looked me over. "Steve's going to love it."

I grinned and twirled around to let it float up a bit.

"Yeah, it DOES seem to lift pretty easy," she chuckled, "That was quite a display you put on for my neighbors."

I looked at her with a questioning glance and she just laughed softly, "You know if you're going to wear a dress like that out on the street you really should wear panties or people are going to think my son's marrying a slut."

Well apparently I HAD shown off a bit more than I'd realized. I wondered if anyone but her had noticed but then what did it matter?

I just grinned back at her and replied, "Your point being?"

We both laughed at that one. Steve WAS marrying a slut, and I was proud to say so. So far as I was concerned, when people call me a slut that just tells me they recognize my sexuality and exhibitionism, not that I am a whore or such. Frankly it's a compliment, even when it's not intended to be one. "I assume you DO have a pair for later?" she asked, resuming her "mom" role. I assured her that I did indeed but they were out in the car.

Marlene playfully lifted up the back of my skirt and pretended to be shocked at which she found - or didn't. We both were laughing when Steve came in to the kitchen. My heart fluttered as it always did whenever I first saw him - my wonderful fiancé, soon to be my husband! He looked so handsome and I somehow managed to resist the all but overwhelming urge to just push him down to the floor on his back and take him in me before he could say another word.

"So what's so funny?" he asked, straightening out his shirt and belt buckle.

"Ohhhhhh, nothing much... just your slutty fiancé was out there flashing the neighbors," his mother teased.

"Better be careful, there's an old perv across the street that might have a heart attack," Steve said, pretending to be concerned.

"Yeah, somehow he always seems to need to check his mail whenever I go out to the car," Marlene giggled like a young girl.

Steve rolled his eyes and added, "And it's funny how you always seem to have on something tight and showy whenever he is out there."

"Hey, if you got it... flaunt it," his mother came back rather defensively, "No different than Kelly here in that dress."

I pretended to pout but Steve came up to me and hugged me and kissed me. Mmmmmmm, it felt so good to be in his arms and feel him against me. As we kissed his hands drifted down to my bottom and then he lifted up my skirt and put one hand on each of my bare buttocks and gave them a good squeeze.

"Hey you two, get a room," his mother teased as his hands roamed over my butt.

"Sounds like a good idea," I whispered to him as he pulled me tightly in to him, pressing my boobs against his chest, "We need to get going though, I'm supposed to be there soon to help with dinner."

Steve looked over at his mom who just shrugged and then smiled at me. "I can get all I can eat right here."

Though I didn't say it, the same thought had crossed my mind. Granted, there weren't a lot of calories in the meal I had in mind but I loved eating it!

"Well, quit yakking and start fucking," Marlene huffed with a hint of exasperation, "For goodness sakes since when do you two debate this for so long?"

"Well Steve, since she insists...," I said to Steve as if it was something I had to be talked into doing.

Steve spanked my butt playfully and let my dress fall down. I blew his mother a kiss and we were off to his bedroom. As soon as we entered I immediately took off my dress and dropped the heels. It make look sexy in porn movies when a girl keeps her heels on but it's not exactly the most comfortable way to have sex! Without any bra or panties on, it left me nude in just a few seconds whereas Steve took a little longer to get everything off but he quickly was lying next to me with that hunk of a nude body pressing up against me as once again he took me in those strong arms.

"God I've been thinking about you all morning," I sighed as his hands roamed over my bare flesh.

I loved I when her just run them up and down me, groping me and fondling me like some high school boy in the a back seat of his parents' car.

OK, so maybe I hadn't been thinking of him when my dad was fucking me but I wasn't about to say that while his mother was watching. She had silently followed us in and took up her usual spot on the chair across from the bed by the desk in his room. She crossed her legs and sat back with her arms folded loosely, watching us with a slight smile on her face. Steve's hand reached between my legs and any thoughts about his mother quickly disappeared as he began to toy with my wet anxious pussy.

"Just fuck me Steve," I begged him, "I just want you to fuck me... NOW."

Usually I love foreplay, especially with Steve. Laying with him, feeling his hands all over me, stroking my hair, teasing my boobs, kissing my neck, pressing his leg into my crotch... it all felt so intimate and erotic but there's a time and place for everything. I was so crazy horny that any foreplay now was like torture as all I could think about was feeling him entering me. His finger in me felt good but all it did was remind me of how much better his dick would feel.

Steve must have been horny himself as he was already fully erect, his dick pressing into my stomach as he unconsciously humped me, making these little thrusts into me that pressed him into my belly like I was being poked by a persistent child. He didn't complain when I begged him over and over to fuck me! Pushing me over on my back, I spread my legs and he rolled over on top of me, using his elbows to barely keep his full weight from crushing me but enough that I could feel his chest against my boobs.

"I love you so much," he whispered in my ear as he reached down to position his dick.

My legs reached up and around him, trying to pull him into me but he was too strong for me. My arms were around his neck as we kissed while he let the tip of his dick tease my pussy, pressing in just enough for me to feel him but not quite getting fully inside of me. I could feel his hips rotating as he rubbed his erection up against me, somehow resisting the urge to plunge it deep inside of me.

His mother was watching us intently now and I wished she would just tell her son to stick his dick in me and get it over with. Of course that would never happen as she NEVER said a word while we were having sex. She liked to watch but she never participated in any way, not even to talk to us.

FINALLY I moaned loudly as I felt his butt clench as he pushed himself into me, letting just the head of his dick penetrate me as it forced my pussy open until it surrounded the head of his dick. It was enough to stimulate the horde of nerve endings there and I closed my eyes and pulled my head back as I pushed my hips up to him to welcome him in. It was wonderful but I wanted it all... I wanted him in me all the way!

"Give it to me Steve... give it all to me," I somehow managed to say in a hoarse voice, "God I love you in me."

With that I felt the pressure of his shaft as it worked its way into me, filling me with his manhood as inch by inch Steve relentlessly pressed it deeper inside of me until he bottomed out against me. I could feel the thick pubic hair of his crotch pressing tightly into me as he ground the base of his dick against my shaved pussy. Talk about being in heaven!

"Fuck I love feeling your pussy around me baby," he groaned as his back arched and he pressed himself tightly against me, driving as much of him into me as could.

I loved the feeling of him inside of me, the sense of fullness, the pure satisfaction of being mated by the man I loved. If only I could stay this way forever, pinned beneath him, coupled together like this, feeling his lust within me as he began to thrust his stiff cock in and out of me slowly.

"That's it Steve... fuck me... God I love you to fuck me like this."

His stroked were slow and deliberate. First he would thrust it into me like he was trying to push it right out the back of me and then he would slowly... ever so slowly withdraw from me until just the tip of his dick remained in aide of me, only to thrust himself back in again with one hard shove. A few times he miscalculated and his dick popped out and I would mew to show him my desire for him to return home again. He would quickly reinsert himself and start the process all over again.

Steve lifted my left leg upwards while pushing down on my right. He rolled to his side, slipping I behind me while maintaining his dick inside of me. One arm went under my neck where he then reached around and grasped my breast while the other drape over me and began to toy with my clit. I could feel him pressing against my ass as he resumed his stroked inside my pussy.

Whether it was my accident or deliberate act, we were facing his mother now and she had a ringside view of her sons cock as it appeared and then disappeared into his fiancé's pussy. I really didn't care as his mother was the last thing on my mind at the moment as he fucked and groped me, all the while kissing the side and back of my neck. His tongue reached out and licked my neck, going up to my ear and running around the ear lobe.

I felt so loved and so incredibly sexy at that moment. Steve was treating me like a princess, giving me exactly what I wanted. By now he pretty much know how to turn me on when we fucked. Of course I loved having his dick in me as much as possible, but it was the little things that made it more than just being fucked. The touch of his tongue against my ear, the feel of his warm breath on the back of my neck, the caress of his hand against my breast... it all was exactly the way I liked it and I loved him for every second of it.

"Oh god!" I sighed as my orgasm rose within me.

It was like suddenly my body temperature rose ten degrees as it felt like I was burning up yet at the same time I was feeling goose pimples rise as if I was freezing to death. Form my toes to my hair I felt a tingling sensation as my legs stiffened out straight and then tucked back under me, unable to remain still as my pussy gripped his firm dick like it never wanted to let it go. I held my eyes tightly closed, focusing my every thought on his dick inside of me, feeling my pussy swelling to grip it tightly, my cum pouring out as my orgasm held me its own grip.

Just as I started to relax Steve grunted and I felt him push hard into my ass as he thrust himself deep inside of me. Then he started to cum and my orgasm started yet again as that faint hint of heat inside of me signaled his the arrival of his sperm within me. I tried to imagine how it must look from inside of me, the cum spewing from the tip of his dick into my welcoming pussy. Though it was doomed for failure in terms of its natural mission, having him cum in me felt so perfect at this moment. It was like we were supposed to be this way forever.

For a few minutes we just laid there, him pushed up against me from behind with his dick still in but motionless. Well, almost motionless. It was like at times it had a mind of its own and I felt him jerk just a little behind me as his dick twitched inside of me, then going still again until it was followed by another. Slowly it dwindled in me until I finally he twitched a little too hard and it fell out of me. Instinctively I sighed as I suddenly felt so empty, so alone. It was like a piece of me was now missing. I guess in way it was.

Opening my eyes finally, I saw his mother had silently slipped away. That was her usual reaction to when her son had finished. It was like once he was satisfied she was as well. I sometimes wondered if she went back to her room and masturbated about what she'd just witnessed but the few times I'd gotten out of bed to quickly use the bathroom I peeked in her bedroom and she would just be reading or doing something else but never masturbating. It was like she wasn't getting off from it sexually but rather just seem pleased to see her son being happy. OK, a little weird but after I'd seen it enough times I'd learned to accept it.

My eyes glanced up at the clock next to his bed and I sucked in a breath.

"Shit, we have to get going!" uttering one of my few swear words at Steve as I jumped out of bed. Hey, I'm not perfect and while I try not to curse it happens. As I heard a comedian once say, "shoot is shit spelled with two o's".

Steve rolled over on his back, his dick glistening with a mixture of our cum. I saw it laying over on its side against that luscious bed of thick pubic hair I loved so much and for moment thought about how good it would taste about now. I ALMOST gave in but then common sense took over. People were expecting us and we needed to not be TOO late.

"C'mon lover boy," I encouraged him, reaching over and tugging playfully on his dick like a leash, "Let's go.

Steve rolled over on his side and lifted himself up on his elbow. "Do that again and maybe add your mouth and I'll be ready for round two in no time," he taunted me.

I just huffed and rolled my eyes to the ceiling, pretending to be exasperated with him and actually I was a bit. He knew this was important to me yet here he was, trying to get me to suck him hard again.

"Tell you what... I'll suck it on the way over, OK?" I offered as a compromise as well as some incentive for him to get his butt in gear.

THAT worked and I had to grin despite myself at how easy men could be sometimes. Offer a guy a BJ and he would do anything.

I quickly slipped my dress over my head and straightened it as I slipped my heels on and then sat on the edge of the bed so I could fasten the straps around my ankles. Looking in the mirror, my aroused nipples were poking through the fabric like headlights but by the time we got to my uncle's house they should have gone down a lot. I was distinctly aware of my cum-filled pussy when I stood up again and felt it start to drain so I hurried to the restroom and used some Kleenex to wipe myself clean. I even fingers myself a little to try and get as much as I could out of me so it wouldn't stain my panties later. In doing so my hand touched my swollen clit and I felt like I'd been shocked by a Taser. Damn, I was STILL horny as heck!

I used a wash cloth to wipe off my pussy and sprayed somebody spray his mother had kept in there against my crotch to try and hide the distinct odor of sex that I knew must have been potent. A shower would have been a good idea at the moment but there just wasn't time. My makeup wasn't too bad taking into consideration my activities of the past half hour or so but my purse was out in the car still so I would just have to touch up before we got to the party.

Back in the bedroom, Steve was buttoning his shirt and then he slipped his shoes on and tied them. He combed his hair - it was really a sorry mess, and then turned to kiss me again.

"Did I ever say I loved you?" he teased me.

I flashed my engagement ring at him and replied, "Not enough times."

"Well I love you Kelly," he said in a firm low voice and then we kissed again, longer and harder this time.

I could have sworn I felt a storing in his crotch and I knew we had better get going before something got out of control.

"Bye mom!" Steve called out down the hall as we left.

I heard her say something faintly in return but we were already in the kitchen and then out the door so I couldn't really hear what she had said.

This time I managed to get to my car without the wind blowing my skirt up. I grabbed my purse and panties and then got in Steve's truck and scooted over to be next to him. I was never a big fan of trucks but bench seats bet the daylights out of bucket seats!

Steve pulled out and I started to reach for my makeup but he put his hand on my purse, preventing me from opening it.

"I believe you owe me something first," he reminded me.

Oh yeah... I HAD promised him something, hadn't I?

"What, did you think I would forget?" he teased him, patting me on the leg and then reaching up under my skirt to rub the inside of my thigh.

With the traffic it was about a twenty minute drive to my Uncle Paul's house and as horny as Steve still was it only took half that time to get him off again. I made sure to keep his dick in my mouth with my lips sealed around his shaft when he came so none of it would get on me or my dress. That left me plenty of time to get my panties back on (something that drew a sigh of disapproval from him) and adjust my hair and makeup. Looking in the rear-view mirror I could see that I was still a bit flushed from my recent orgasm but there was nothing I could do about that but let it fade away on its own.

While I was fixing myself up, Steve started asking me some questions about my uncles and cousins.

"So let me get the scorecard straight... BOTH of your uncles have fucked you?"

I nodded so he continued, "But it's your Uncle Paul that has done you the most, right?"

I sighed. Men! How many times had I told him about my family history and he still screwed it up. With a hint of impatience I explained that my Uncle Paul was my oldest uncle and I'd only done him a couple of times. It was my dad's younger brother, my Uncle Jim, that had done me the most but even he hadn't done me in quite a while now. Uncle Jim was an asshole and that's the kindest way I can put it. He drinks too much and thinks women are all put on earth for his personal amusement. The last couple of times I'd let him fuck me was only so my dad could fuck my Cousin Tammy. Since he hadn't done her in years now that she was older and had a serious boyfriend, I saw no reason to let my perverted uncle have any part of me.

"Then Tammy is the one who fucks her brother and dad but Kate is the prude?"

I nodded again and he grinned, "You know, Tammy is hot but I have to tell you, seeing Kate at Thanksgiving was quite a sight. I think I'd rather fuck her actually more than Tammy."

I smacked him on the shoulder with my fist. He knew better than to even joke about doing anything with the older sister Kate. She somehow managed to be more shrewish and prude than even her own mother. She was twenty now and it wouldn't surprise me if she was still a virgin. In fact I would have been shocked had she not been. She reminded me of one of my college roommates that was saving herself for marriage. I wouldn't have cared but just like nudist who think everyone else should be one, she was one of those older virgins who looked down at anyone who was unmarried and not a virgin - like me.

"So what's the deal with your Uncle Paul then?" Steve queried me, "I mean, how does both of his brothers end up fucking their daughters, at least one of them, but he never touched either of his?"

I reminded Steve that my Uncle Paul was eight years older than my dad, ten years older than my Uncle Jim so he had never been as close with them as my dad was with his younger brother. In high school they use to double date and indeed, both of them would fuck the sisters who eventually became my mother and aunt. When my dad married into an incestual family and my uncle got his first taste of incestual sex, it wasn't all that hard to get him to fuck his daughter once she was taken by my dad.

On the other hand, My two cousins under my Uncle Paul were significantly older. Ginny was thirty and Laura was 28. Actually I wasn't even aware that he knew anything about the incest his brothers were engaged with until my Uncle Paul let me in on one of my mother's biggest secrets - that they had been fucking for years without anyone know, not even my dad.

"So when was the last time your relatives have fucked you?"

Wow, I had to think about that one for a moment. In a way it raised in interesting point. While there had been a period back in high school when I had a lot of sex with others in my family, once I went away to college and then especially since having graduated the amount of sex I had with my relatives had faded to almost nothing. It wasn't because I felt it was wrong but more that either it just wasn't something available or, as it was with uncle Jim and his son, they just turned into such assholes that I wanted nothing to do with them.

"So who are you going to let fuck you today?"

I laughed at my horny fiancé. Like with a houseful of people how was THAT going to happen?

"What's the matter, getting conservative in your old age? Maybe a little chicken now that you're about to take the plunge?" he taunted me.

I punched him again. Heck, after some of the things we'd done recently the last thing I deserved to be called was conservative! As for being chicken, that was just plain insulting.

"I bet you can't get them to do you today," he challenged me.

"And what do I get if I do?" I offered back, my eyes sparkling.

"Well, you get two guys fucking you to start," he laughed at me.

"That's not what I meant," I came back. Steve's brow wrinkled as he concentrated while trying to keep his attention on the road.

"I'll fuck you after the party."

I laughed again at that one. "You were going to fuck me anyway and you know it."

Steve pretended to be shocked but then he grinned and turned to me briefly to smile. "Well, I MAY have been thinking about that."

I waited, not saying another word, leaving up to him to respond.

"OK, how's this... I promise to go to church with you the next two weeks."

Now that might not sound like much but then you have to understand how I feel about God and church. With Steve's work schedule going to work was quite a problem so I never pestered him about it but I really did wish he would go more often. Heck, today was Easter and he still hadn't made it.

"You're on!" I exclaimed, meeting his challenge.

"Just one thing," he said, holding up a finger, "I get to inspect to be sure they cum in you."

"God you can be such a perv sometimes," I teased him but I agreed and so it was on.

We were almost to their house anyway so I checked my makeup one last time. Looking in the mirror I saw my reflection and wondered if my two uncle would be getting this close and personal before the afternoon was over. They would if I had anything to say about it and now I had the perfect incentive.

3. Nieces and Uncles

My dad's side of the family is pretty much on the conservative side overall. The only reason my father is any different from his brothers was because he married my mother. You don't marry a woman who fucks her father and not change your thoughts and opinions about family sex rather substantially. My Uncle Rick was just a jerk so while he may have jerked off dreaming about his daughters, I seriously doubt he ever would have fucked his youngest daughter without the help of my parents first. As for Uncle Paul, it was my mother that "converted" him and even then it was just sex with his sister-in-law, nothing to do with anyone in his own family.

As a result, I grew up in a much different environment than any of my cousins. Ginny and Laura were pretty much your typical soccer moms now. Except for a rather colorful bachelorette party many years before, I'd never seen either of them do much of anything sexual or even risque. As for Kate and Tammy, Kate had grown up a virtual clone of her mother. The only reason Tammy was as she was had more to do with being the little sister trying to out-do her older sister and rebel against her mother than anything to with incest. If it hadn't been for my influence no doubt she would have never started having sex with her father and brother.

Then there was me. I was always like the black sheep of my generation, at least in the eyes of my aunts and older cousins. While we were always careful that nothing that had anything to do with incest was ever brought up when they were around, I WAS a lot more sexually involved in my social life than was the norm in my dad's family. My mom allowed me to wear outfits that both my aunts, especially my Aunt Sheri, thought were positively disgraceful. What they didn't seem to realize was that by carping on my mother all the time about it all it did was make her mad and encourage me to be all the sluttier around them.

Of course I doing so I also grabbed the attention of my uncles. Remember, I didn't even start fucking my dad until I was sixteen and I didn't do my Uncle Jim until I was 19 and my Uncle Paul at 23. Thus for most of my teen years I had no sex with anyone beside my dad so far as our family goes. That doesn't mean I didn't tease my uncles, to say the least. Kristen was very similar to me and my Aunt Linda got her fair share of abuse from my other aunt's as well. She tended to react the same as my mom, dressing Kristen in scandalous outfits and bikinis just to push my other aunts' buttons.

The two of us loved to tease our uncles. If there is one thing a girl learns at an early age, it's when a man looks at her "that way". I mean in a way you KNOW what he wants - to fuck you. It's in the DNA and men can't help themselves so I don't understand why women get upset when their man looks at other women that way. Like, what's the harm in LOOKING? It's not until they start touching that any concern should be raised.

As Tammy got older, much to the horror of her mother and to the delight of her two uncles, she started to join in with me and Kristen when it came time to sit on our uncle's laps and grind in a little. I loved the feel of them under me and the embarrassment on their faces when I felt them reacting uncontrollably. It was funny but when my aunts would come in and demand that we get off their laps the people who protested most was my uncles. I think they figured it was bad enough that we uncles to help me out meeting Steve's challenge without having to resort to any stunts. The key was going to be figuring out the logistic more than anything else. Having sex would be fun but getting caught would have serious ramifications.

Was it all worth the risk? Well, if it wasn't risky it wouldn't be as much fun!

4. Uncle Jim Fixes Steve's Truck

We finally arrived and I saw the street was lined with cars so I knew we had to be the last to arrive. Oh well, it's not like I was the awesome cook that had to be there or dinner wouldn't get served. If anything they were probably better off NOT having me anywhere near the kitchen! If it didn't heat up in the microwave I was in trouble.

Walking in, almost nobody noticed us at first as the place was a madhouse. Laura and Ginny each had two kids and it seemed like there were twenty of them instead of just four. Everyone was talking and milling about, the men trying to sneak in the kitchen to "test" the food while the women would shoo them away. My Aunt Julie (Paul's wife) was the first to notice us and she welcomed us to her house, even giving Steve a hug. Next was my Aunt Linda and I noticed when SHE gave Steve a hug it lasted just a little bit longer. Not so much as to draw attention but I knew what must have been going on between them in their minds at least. My mom's sister was definitely my fiancé's favorite aunt! Of course it didn't hurt she was the only one he was having sex with but I could tell from the way he looked at Aunt Julie that he wouldn't mind making that two.

Aunt Seri was the next to say hello and I noticed Steve was polite but made to keep his distance. I couldn't blame him given the way she'd let herself go over the years. Small wonder her husband always wanted to fuck me and her daughter! She looked at me as I was taking off my jacket and as was usually the case, couldn't help but make a critical remark.

"I see you couldn't wear something decent even for Easter, could you?"

I was about to say, "Well, at least I put my panties on after church," but held my tongue. True, it would have been a slight exaggeration but it would have been fun to have seen her reaction. Fun but not worth the resulting aggravation. As it was I just ignored her and grabbed Steve's arm as we headed into that family room to greet the guys.

This was the first time we'd gathered as a family since Steve proposed so on the way everyone was looking at my ring and I felt so proud to show it off. Most had seen it during the Christmas holidays at one time or another but I still loved showing it off again. Having Steve standing next to me, so tall and handsome not to mention sexy as hell, and letting my ring tell everyone I was to be his wife filled me with pride and not a little bit of lust as I thought about what we'd just been doing less than an hour ago - not to mention during the ride over. Mmmmmmm, I could still taste his sperm in my mouth!

My uncles were on opposite ends of the couch, leaning into the side cushions while my dad had somehow wrested control over the LazyBoy recliner. I plopped down in the middle of the couch between my uncles and leaned over to give each a peck on the cheek. In doing so my dress would ride up and I was pretty sure it felt like it was enough to let each see my sheer panties when I kissed the other. It was just them in the room at the time along with Steve so it wasn't like anyone could see what I was doing. In any case, every guy in the room had fucked me before, including the jerk who then walked in - my cousin Rick.

Fortunately Steve's challenge hadn't included my cousin. To be fair, I probably would have physically enjoyed him the most as somehow he won the lottery and had the biggest dick of the bunch. It wasn't so much the length as it was the overall thickness combined with respectable length. It was about the perfect dick so far as I was concerned - short enough to fit in me comfortably while long enough to allow for plenty of movement without him slipping out of me. Thin enough to slide in me without making me feel like he was splitting me in two but thick enough that I didn't mistake it for his finger. His dick only had one flaw - it was attached to an absolute jerk.

I held my hand out for Steve and helped pull me up and off the couch, back onto my heels again. I was tempted to kick them off and I knew sooner or later they would be history before the afternoon was over but I figured I should leave them on at least until dinner which was only a maybe a half hour away. Once up, I straightened out my dress, making sure to pull up on the top such they could see what I was doing. I winked at my uncles as I did.

"My goodness, this darn thing just won't stay up," I pretended to complain.

I saw them both watching me and my mind raced as to how I was going to deal with them. I probably could have just gone to them both and asked them to fuck me and no doubt they would have but where was the fun in that, let alone the challenge?

Besides, though they may be brothers there were ten years difference between them not to mention very different loves and careers. In fact, if you met them on the street you would have never even guessed they were brothers.

Fortunately I'd had enough experience in such matters that I was able to come up with a plan quickly. I saw Steve looking at me, grinning at me with that subtle little smile that I knew so well. It was like when he would watch me at some party or other affair when he would ask me to go seduce a guy, just to see me do it. It was his turn to get the wink from me as I put my first plan into action.

"Uncle Jim, Steve had a question some problem his truck and I wondered if you could help him before we ate dinner?" I asked.

He was the one I looked least forward to doing this with so if I figured why not get it over with as quickly as possible. Since Uncle Jim was a self-proclaimed super-mechanic, he immediately rose to the bait.

"What's the problem" he asked Steve, sitting up on the edge of the couch.

Steve looked at me with a "what the heck?" expression but he played along saying, "Probably be easier to show you. You can probably fix it in the time it takes me to explain it."

The three of us went out of the family room and headed for the door.

"And where are you all going"? Aunt Sheri asked, spying us as we put on our jackets, "Dinner will be ready in 20 minutes."

My uncle assured her that he could fix anything in that amount of time. I just shook my head at him. God, he could be such an idiot sometimes. Well, make that most of the time. No... ALL of the time.

We had to walk down the block a little to where Steve had parked in front of a vacant lot next to my aunt and uncle's house. They were at the end of a cul-de-sac where it was only them and neighbor to the other side which was why everyone had lined up in this direction.

We got down to the truck and stood there. Steve didn't say anything as he no doubt had no idea what was wrong with his truck. My uncle finally said, "Well, what's wrong?"

I glanced around to see that nobody was around. The coast was clear so I reached under my dress and pulled down my panties, stepped out of them and held them up.

"Well, the problem is on the way over her I wanted to get fucked but we were running late so now I'm all horny. See how wet my panties are?"

OK, so it was corny and stupid but then I wasn't dealing with a rocket scientist. This was a guy who would have seen a porn scene play out just like this and be convinced the girl was a real amateur being caught on a hidden cam. The only thing that I think confused him was Steve being there. Well, Steve wanted proof so he was going to get it - live and in person.

One other little issue... I had never told my uncle that Steve knew about my "family" relationships and I wasn't sure whether my dad ever had told his brother. Judging from the flush that was rising on my uncle's face, apparently he hadn't.

"Ummmmm, is this some kind of joke or what?" he stammered. Then he looked around saying, "OK, where's the camera... very funny Kelly... very funny indeed."

I moved up closer and ran my hand up under his crotch and pressed my palm against his dick underneath his pants.

"It's OK... Steve knows everything Uncle Jim... everything," I said in as sultry a voice as possible. "In fact, it was HIS idea to have you fuck me today so you should thank him."

Talk about a man in conflict! On the one hand, literally, I could feel him reacting under my palm. It was obvious the desire was there. On the other, I could tell he was still thrown by Steve being there. He'd only met him a couple of times and they had never even talked much together and even then only in groups so it wasn't like they were best buddies or anything like that. Finally his eyes told everything as they darted all around, checking out the neighborhood and then back to the house to see if anyone was watching.

"Oh don't worry, we'll do it in the cab where nobody can see us," I assure him, opening the driver door and jumping in, then scooting across.

I twisted and sat back against the passenger door, put my feet up on the seat and spread my legs, letting the dress fall back to my waist to expose my now bare pussy.

"C'mon Uncle Jim, you KNOW you want to fuck me," I teased him, reaching down to start rubbing my pussy for him to watch.

Uncle Jim looked at Steve but seeming to know what to say. Steve just put up his hands like he was being arrested and grinned. "Hey, I learned a long time ago when Kelly wants something, Kelly gets it."

"So are you going to watch or what?" my uncle finally asked, never taking his eyes off of my pussy where my middle finger was now pressing inside of me.

Steve shook his head. "Fuck no, I'll just keep an eye out if that's OK with you."

"C'mon Uncle Jim... fuck me!" I called out merrily.

It was all I could do to keep from cracking up and laughing uncontrollably. Everything about this was so ludicrous yet at the same time it was that very element of it that made it so erotic. I mean, here I was in a pickup truck parked on the side of the street, my dress hiked up with my pussy exposed to the cold April weather, frigging myself and calling out to my uncle to fuck me while my fiancé stood outside standing guard. As I've heard comedians say when they tell a ridiculous story based on fact, you just can't make this stuff up!

My uncle finally got in and once again I thanked the gods for Steve's huge bench seat. I wonder if it was standard or something he had to special order and if it WAS a special order, was this the sort of thing he had in mind when he ordered it?

"About time," I huffed, pulling my dress out from under my butt so it wouldn't get anything on it.

I kept my jacket on as it was chilly and besides, there was nothing in Steve's challenge that said he needed to do anything but fuck me for me to win. Indeed, technically he just needed to stick his dick in me even for a moment for me to win this round but then if I was going to let my jerk f an uncle fuck me, I may as well get something out of it for me as well.

"Fuck, I can't believe I'm letting you talk me into doing this," he grumbled as he undid his belt and pants.

He pulled his pants and underwear down far enough to release his dick but like me, kept his jacket on so anyone looking in wouldn't see a bare ass. Not like it wouldn't be obvious what we were doing but at least he would spare the eyesight of any unfortunate soul that happened to look in and got a glimpse of his hairy fat ass.

"Ummmmm, I like it when you get nice and hard for me Uncle Jim," I said, trying to sound like I was thrilled at what I saw.

Truth being I tried keeping my eyes closed as much as possible so I would NOT have to look at him. So long as I couldn't see him then it was just another dick in me.

"Have it your way sweetheart," he mumbled as I felt him press against my pussy.

He had a firm grip on his shaft with his right hand and he used his hand to rub his dick over my pussy, pressing just the tip in enough to wet it and then spreading it over the rest of my pussy, followed by rubbing hid sick up and down my slit to wet it as well. Once he was lubed he held it at my opening and then with a grunt, pushed it into me until half the shaft was in me with the first thrust. That was quickly followed by another and he was buried in me.

"Bet you missed my dick, haven't you?" he bragged as he started stroking himself in me. "You're such a fucking cock hound... I can't believe even you would do this in front of your fiancé but you just can't help yourself, can you slut?"

Well, if he was trying to make me feel better about everything he wasn't exactly accomplishing the goal. If I wasn't so set on getting Steve to church I would have pulled away and sent him back to the house with his dick hanging out. Well, technically I had "won" this part of the bet as he had now penetrated me but I WAS horny and he DID feel good in me. If he would just shut his mouth I wouldn't mind so much what was happening.

As I laid on my back I couldn't see a thing outside the truck. If someone was to drive by I doubted they would have seen anything but it was still pretty hot to be doing it just down from where all my relatives were gathering for the meal. It was almost like I wasn't even there, as if I was just dreaming the entire thing as Uncle Jim huffed and puffed as he did his best to fuck me. Well, if he would lose a few pounds maybe he wouldn't get so out of breath!

"I'm gonna cum in you," he groaned as he started to thrust himself in me even harder, "Gonna fill your cunt with what you want. Tell me you want it slut... come on, you KNOW you want it."

OK, so I really wanted Steve to start coming to church with me and I was willing to do most anything to wrangle him one way or another, but I do have my limits. I was willing to let my nasty uncle fuck me but no way was I going to beg him to cum in me. When you come right down to it, no matter whose dick is in me, physically the act of a man mating me is technically the same no matter who he is. Well, that may be true in some textbook but try telling that to my pussy.

For me, it makes a BIG difference when a man comes in me depending on who he is, why we are doing it, and so forth. Heck, physically it's not that big of a deal in the first place to be frank. Most of the time the only way I really know it's even happening is from the way the man acts or if he flat out tells me. Of course afterwards it's obvious when it's draining out of me but at the moment he's cumming, I may get a slight sensation of warmth but that all depends on how much else is going on at the time. Typically when a guy comes in me it's just sex so far as I am concerned and it's more a matter of convenience and ego. First, I'd MUCH prefer a man to cum in me than all over me. Some guys try to pull out and make it to my mouth which would be perfectly fine with me but most of them wait too long and they're spurting all over the place before they get it in my mouth. By ego, I mean it's rather demeaning to have a guy fucking you and then pull out at the moment of climax. It's like he is saying my pussy is good enough to get him off but not enough to get his cum.

With some guys the act of cumming in me signifies more which makes it special to me. This particularly applies to married men who are cheating on their wives. For a husband to fuck me in lieu of his wife is erotic to start with, but then for him to cum in me is like the ultimate betrayal of his vows. This is one case where I especially get upset if he tries to pull out. Like, he wants to fuck me more than his wife but then at the last minute he tries to ease his conscience by not going TOO far. I love it when a guy is cheating with me because it tells me he finds me so sexy and attractive that he will betray the most sacred vow he can ever make just for a few moments with me. Is it any wonder I expect him to complete the act?

Finally, there are those men for whom the act of giving me their sperm is an indication of their love and respect for me. Until recently, that list was rather short - just one man, my dad. For my dad to cum in me is one of the most special moments in my life, one that amazingly I can have repeatedly as well. He's not just some guy getting off and I just want him to be neat about it. He's not cheating on his wife because she is my mom. He is my father and as such when he cums in me it means he loves me enough to give himself to me in every way. It means he respects me enough to not just love me but to stay in me when he reaches that ultimate state of ecstasy. It means I am giving myself to him totally, in every way I can as a daughter should to her father. Of course now I have Steve so that makes TWO men on my list of "special" men.

As much as my Uncle Jim disgusts me, I let him fuck me at times because I hate my Aunt Sheri so much. I only wished she could see what her husband was doing now. If she thought I was a slut before, just let her see how her husband loves sticking his dick in me like he was at this very moment. If she thought I flirted and flaunted myself too much, let her see my new dress hiked up to my boobs so her husband could fuck me. Of course I could never allow such a thing to happen in my own family, but the thought of it as my uncle started to cum in me helped me to feel better about what I was doing.

"Oh fuck!" he groaned as he drove himself deep inside of me, his incestuous sperm ejaculating from his rigid dick as deep in me as he could shoot it.

It was over quickly and he immediately pulled out and started gathering himself back together again.

"You know any time you want it where you can get it slut," he mocked me. He looked down at my pussy as I just laid there with my legs apart. "Damn, that felt good. Haven't left a load that big in ages... enjoy it slut."

It took all my willpower not to respond as I was thinking at the moment but it was over and I'd accomplished half my goal. Though I would never have admitted it to him, my pussy WAS feeling pretty good at the moment so it wasn't like it had been a total waste of time. Once he had his belt tight he backed out of the truck and headed back on his own to the house hitching his pants as he walked.

"Hey, you OK?" Steve asked, poking his head inside. I was still on my back, gathering my thoughts together.

I lifted my head up to look at him and grinned as best I could. "What's it look like silly?" I said, trying to make it sound like I was fine with everything. "Do you have a towel or something I can clean myself off with?"

Steve reached behind the seat and pulled out a roll of paper towels and handed it to me. I scooted back so I could sit up with the passenger door behind me. Pulling off a couple of the towels from the roll, I put them between my legs and did my best to squeeze as much of my uncle's cum from me as I could. Damn, he really HAD cum a lot in me! The towels were pretty soaked before I was done but at least I wouldn't be dripping all over the place and spotting my panties too much.

"Can you do something with these?" I said to Steve, handing the cum-soaked towels to him.

He took them like I had handed him a handful of dog poop but he didn't complain, tossing them into the back of the truck for now. Meanwhile I'd hiked up my panties and got out of the truck, pulling the hem of my dress down and straightening out my boobs underneath.

"Well, one down, one to go," I said as cheerfully as I could, reaching up to kiss him quickly on the lips. At least I hadn't sucked my uncle's cock as I knew Steve wouldn't have touched my lips with my uncle's taste on me.

As we walked back, Steve held my hand tightly and I could the something was bugging him. Just before we went back in I turned to him and asked him what was bothering him.

"I don't know," he hemmed and hawed but I wasn't letting him off the hook, "I guess I just don't understand how you can let guys like that fuck you is all. Your uncle is a real jerk and face it, I know I'm a guy but still, he doesn't seem all that pleasant to have sex with."

"Well, haven't you ever fucked a girl who wasn't that pretty or maybe a little overweight or whatever?" I asked.

"Not really," he answered, "I mean, I like a girl to be attractive and sexy, not just another pussy."

"Well just remember, I never would have done him in the first place if you went to church with me today," I teased.

We were late so we could hold this debate later. Back in the house I saw that people were starting to gather and as I hung my jacket back in the closet, I felt someone grab my arm and when I turned to look it was my cousin Tammy, her eyes burning a hole through me.

"Tell me my dad didn't just do you," she hissed under her breath.

"Why? What's the big deal?" I whispered back.

"Oh god so you did," she sighed, rolling her eyes back. "I could tell the minute he came back in with that look on his face and I realized you were gone at the same time. What the hell were you thinking? What if someone had seen you?"

Her mother called out to us, telling us to get seated so I didn't have time for a detailed explanation. I just told her that we could talk about it later but not to worry about it. She just huffed and went ahead of me to take a seat. I wondered what the big deal was. Heck, it's not like she never did it with her dad so why suddenly so worried about me?

At the table I sat next to Steve and fortunately was at the opposite end from my uncle and Tammy. Somehow I had a feeling Aunt Sheri had some input to the seating arrangements. Well, she needn't have worried. I doubted her husband would be fucking me again for a long time! Once was all I needed from him today – and for a long time to come. In the meantime, I could tell I hadn't gotten all of his cum out before as I felt my panties start to grow damp against me. Oh well, so long as it was just a little it wouldn't smell.

I looked across the table where my Uncle Paul was sitting with my Aunt Julie. He really wasn't paying all that much attention to me but I knew I was soon going to change that. I had a plan, it would soon be time to put it in motion and complete my challenge with Steve.

5. Uncle Paul Gets His Turn

Compared to Uncle Jim, Uncle Paul would be more of a challenge. With Uncle Jim, it was just too easy as he was nothing but a horny perverted nasty man. All I had to do was spread my legs and Uncle Jim was mine.

With Uncle Paul, it wasn't that he needed to be convinced to have sex with me, but he was considerably more mature and careful than his disgusting younger brother.

The first time I was with Uncle Paul was almost two years ago. I was 24 at the time so it wasn't like I started having sex with him as soon as I got into incest with my dad and other uncle. In fact, my dad had always cautioned me not to get too carried away with his older brother as he wasn't into that sort of thing and didn't cheat on Aunt Julie. Well, my dad is pretty smart but sometimes he doesn't know everything.

As it turned out, I learned that not only did Uncle Paul want to fuck me, he had been doing my mom for years. Now granted, my dad as technically correct in saying he wasn't cheating as it was within the family, but I don't think my dad was trying to split hairs at the time. I had little doubt that Aunt Julie wouldn't have agreed with my position either.

I really couldn't blame my mom as while my dad had several yummy options to deal with his needs without committing adultery, my mom's choices were limited to Uncle Jim and his son Rick, neither of which were all that appealing. There was a time where she used Rick as some sort of boy toy and no doubt his better-than- average dick didn't hurt either, but it couldn't have been as emotionally satisfying as it was for my dad when he fucked my mom's sister.

After the first time I had sex with Uncle Paul once more a few months later and that has been it until now. We kept it between ourselves, just as he had with my mom. Other than me and mom, there wasn't even a hint of incest in his family and some people would say that fucking the tow of us wasn't exactly biblical incest in the first place since we weren't blood relatives. So while I knew he had in interest in me in the past, he didn't exactly chase after me the way my other uncle did. In fact, since we had sex if anything he remained even more distant from me whenever he could.

As we ate and talked, I felt Steve's hand on my leg under the tablecloth. Naughty boy... but I loved it. Of course nobody could see but it still felt rather naughty as he eased his hand under my dress and up to my hips, putting his whole hand on my bared leg. I uncrossed my legs and shifted slightly in my seat to make it easier for him and he quickly responded to my offer, running his fingers up against my panties.

"So did Jim get things working?" Uncle Paul asked, breaking my concentration on where Steve's hand was groping me.

Steve nodded and said something about how he'd just needed to plug something or another up. I elbowed his gently to remind him that not everyone at the table might appreciate WHAT my uncle had plugged.

Of course it went right over my aunt's head but I say a gleam in Uncle Paul's eye. Yeah, he knew what Steve was REALLY saying.

"Sometimes you just need to treat an engine like a woman," he said as he looked at me and winked. "Seems they're never happy unless they are constantly getting attention."

This time it was my aunt who elbowed her partner but she had no idea that she was reading his comments entirely wrong. From the way my uncle was smirking I knew he knew EXACTLY where I'd been paid attention."

It was all just a game, no different than when I would jump on his lap or sit next to him and rub up against him. Harmless fun. I knew it would take a lot more than subtle hints and risque conversation to get my card punched for my second challenge of the day.

After dinner the men went off to the family room to watch something on TV while the women, of course, cleaned up after everyone. I helped to clear off the table and wrap up the leftovers, leaving the dishwasher duties to my younger cousins. The kitchen was way overcrowded so I figured it might be an opportune time to finish up my duties for the day.

I headed off to the bathroom first to clean myself off again. My panties were soaked in the crotch now and I debated just taking them off but then if any of the women noticed it would be a scandal, family or not. Still, I didn't know how Uncle Paul would react to greeting my open legs and seeing his brothers cum wetting my crotch. Even if it really didn't qualify anymore as sloppy seconds, I knew a lot of guys are NOT into sex right after another guy does me, despite what the stupid porn videos might lead you to believe.

I checked myself in the mirror and was about to leave when I thought about it yet again and decided the heck with it. So long as I had them back on again before I got together with the women things should be OK. I reached under my dress and pulled the panties down to my ankles where I carefully stepped out of them. I had left my pure with my jacket so I dug around the closet and stuffed them between a couple of bath towels. I wouldn't be all that long and I doubted anybody would be needing a bath any time soon anyway.

Heading back toward the stairs, I noticed the master bedroom door was open down at the end of the hall. As tempting as it was to check it out, it would be just my luck the wrong person would come in after me and question why I was there. No, it was better to get going and get this over with while the timing was right.

Back in the family room, I was the only female in there as the three brothers and my cousin watched ESPN. ALL of them had fucked me in the past so I could have stripped in the middle of the floor and none of them would see anything they hadn't already. The reality was that neither my dad or Uncle Jim knew their older brother had done me and I didn't think this was exactly the right moment to break the news. Otherwise this would have been as simple as walking in and flashing them , then dragging my Uncle Paul off and to the bedroom. Still, there were ways to accomplish the same ending without being so blatant about it.

"Ummmmm, Uncle Paul, somebody did something in bathroom," I said, pretending to be embarrassed.

"The other guys laughed as Uncle Paul threw up his hands in mock disgust, "God dammit, how many times have I told people not to flush everything down the damn toilet."

"I'd offer to help Paul but you know how my back has been lately," my dad chuckled, leaning over and grabbing his back as if he was in mortal pain. My other slob of an uncle wasn't even subtle, he just shook his head and waved his younger brother away. Rick, of course, just ignored everyone and kept his eyes glued to the huge flat-screen TV.

"Well, I'd better deal with it before someone else needs it," Uncle Paul griped as he got up and headed towards the hallway where the stairs were.

I told everyone I was going back to help in the kitchen and left, looking back at Steve and winking. Once out of sight of the family room I took a detour back to the stairway where my uncle had already ascended. I made my way to the bathroom where I heard the toilet flushing.

"Hey, I thought you said there was a problem?" has asked when he saw me at the doorway. "Seems to working just fine now."

I walked in slowly with a grin on my face. "Well, I just said someone did something in the bathroom... I didn't say WHAT."

"So what's the story then Kelly?" he asked, his hands on his hips as apparently he wasn't getting my intent... yet.

"Do you realize it's been almost two years since you fucked me Uncle Paul?"

Now THAT got his attention as his hands dropped down and he looked at me with a puzzled face.

"Sort of hard NOT to but I don't see what that has to do with now?" he said but I noticed his eyes were no longer looking at mine but seemed to be focusing considerably lower on my body now.

I turned and closed the door, deliberately making an act of locking it so he could see what I was doing.

"Ummmmm, you DO realize there's a houseful of people down there and everyone will soon need to use the bathroom... get it?" he asked as if I was clueless.

"Then I guess we'd better hurry," I purred as I turned, lifting my dress as I did so my bare butt was showing. I turned my head over my shoulder and smiled back at him. "See anything you like Uncle Paul?"

He was torn but then so far as I was concerned, that meant I had him, it was just going to take another push or two.

"Kelly... any other time... and I mean ANY other time we could do this if you want to so badly but not today. It's just too dangerous."

OK, so it needed to be a hard push. I pulled my dress up over my head and then draped it over the shower bar which left me standing there in nothing but my heels and a necklace. He instinctively licked his lips and I knew I was at least another step closer.

"C'mon Uncle Paul... you know you want me," I said seductively. He needed to be pushed but I had to be careful as he wasn't like my Uncle Jim. If Uncle Paul thought I was just playing him then he would probably just brush me aside and walk out alone without me.

"Shit, what the hell," he cursed under his breath. Yeah, like it was some decision to do something he didn't want to do. I knew better... a LOT better. In any case, I had what I wanted so why rock the boat?

Uncle Paul quickly undid his belt and then his zipper, sliding his pants and underwear down to his ankles but keeping his shoes on. His shirt hung down over his waist, hiding his dick from view but I had a good idea what was happening behind the curtain.

"Come here Kelly," he said, motioning for me to come closer so he wouldn't have to shuffle his feet to get to me.

He grabbed me by the waist and spun me around. "Bend over," was all he said and I followed his instructions to the letter, leaning over and putting my hands on my knees to support myself.

"God you have such a sweet ass," he murmured as I felt his hand rub over my butt. Then he said something under his breath I couldn't quite make out, followed by, "Turn around... I need some... Ummmmm, help."

Not being sure what he meant, I stood up and turned to face him. He'd undone his dress shirt and I looked down to see what should have been a lovely erection only to be greeted by a flaccid cock.

"Damn blood pressure pills," he swore, "Haven't been able to get it up in ages. I thought maybe if you...," and his voice trailed off but I knew what he needed.

Still, now that I realized the problem I wasn't sure if there was anything I COULD do, no matter how talented my mouth might be or how horny he was. We weren't dealing with lack of desire or guilt. This was medical and god only knew what it would take for him to have an erection under the circumstances. Suddenly what looked to be a slam dunk in my quest to get my fiancé to church was looking like a long shot instead.

Reaching down to his limp cock, I held it in my hand and tugged on it gently. I looked up at him in his eyes, still holding his in the palm of my hand and said, "Let's see what I can do for you, OK Uncle Paul?"

I bent my knees and squatted down until my face was level with his crotch. Putting one hand on his leg to support myself, I leaned forward and took his cock in my mouth. Any other time and I would have loved to start this way with a man. There's something about starting when a man is still soft and then feel him grow in my mouth that never failed to run me on. Under the circumstance though, it was more worrisome than erotic.

"That feel so good," he sighed as I started to work my tongue around the shaft and licking him, "Julie won't do anything these days. She hates it when I can't respond." Normally once I started sucking a man's cock it was only a short while before I would feel SOMETHING. Every man seemed to grow an erection at his own rate, some fast while others seem to be more the slow and steady responders. Still, they ALL responded at least a little but... all but my Uncle Paul it seemed. After a few minutes and absolutely no response I was starting to get seriously worried. Damn it, I'd never had a man that couldn't get hard when I was naked in front of him, especially with his dick in my mouth!

"God damn it... I'm so sorry Kelly," he sighed.

Well, if HE was unhappy then how the hell did he think I felt? I'd NEVER failed to get a man hard before and some of them had been on medication as well. Crap, what the heck was he taking anyway?

Hearing how depressed he was becoming I knew THAT wasn't helping matters either. Talk about what was becoming a self-fulfilling prophesy. The more he thought he couldn't do it, the more likely he wouldn't unless I did something... and did it quick.

I stood up and for a moment he seemed to think I had given up but I put up a finger and told him to hand on a second. I quickly rummaged through the bathroom drawers until I found what I was looking for - some baby oil. It seems EVERYONE has baby oil in their bathroom, even though they didn't have a baby. Grabbing the bottle, I turned away from the sink and then lifted myself back up onto it, my bare ass suddenly feeling cold against the chilly counter top.

Uncle Paul was watching me, stroking his dick in what appeared to be a vain attempt at generating an erection. Well, who said a guy had to have an erection to fuck a girl anyway? I spread the baby oil over my pussy, lubing myself up liberally and the motioned for him to get closer. Grabbing his cock, I did the same to it, applying a coating of baby oil over it from the tip of the head down to his balls. Holding it as best I could with the slippery covering of oil, I pressed it against my pussy, trying to push it inside of me somehow.

"This isn't going to work Kelly, I'm useless."

"Just push Uncle Paul," I urged him on.

I had him by the head and I literally stuffed him inside of me using my fingers until the head was actually in me. He tried to push but his cock just folded over on my pussy. He groaned in frustration but I wasn't ready to give up yet. With all the oil it was like trying to grab a greased sausage but I slowly was able to stuff more and more of him in me, even if he didn't dare stroke or anything.

"See? You're in me Uncle Paul," I finally gloated.

It might not have been exactly ready to burst me open or anything but it WAS in me so legally he was fucking me. I smiled as I realized that next Sunday Steve would be in the pew next to me.

Was it my imagination or did his shaft feel a little firmer than it had before? Certainly it was still flaccid but I could have sworn that there was something more there. I wiggled my hips, trying to stimulate his dick in me. He now had it in me and if a warm wet pussy couldn't get a rise out of him, the I would have to declare a truce.

There it was again, not much but definitely something. I put my hand between my leg and touched his dick with my fingertips. Mmmmmmm, there WAS something happening. Not much but definitely there was something going on in the right direction.

"It's working Uncle Paul," I whispered to him, rotating my hips even more to rub my pussy against his dick in me. The odds of him attaining a full erection were still pretty low but then I knew from past experience that a man didn't have to be like a flag pole to cum. I'd fucked my share of older men and while many of them could get just as erect as guys half their age, it wasn't uncommon for them to get only semi-hard before they shot their wad. Maybe I could stimulate my uncle enough for that to happen... it was worth a shot anyway.

Uncle Paul put his hands on me, one under my butt and the other on my breast. I felt him pressing into me, like he was willing himself to fuck me. His medications were a hurdle to but I had the feeling I could feed him placebos at this point and he still would get an erection because he was convinced he couldn't. The male mind was more powerful than any drug!

There it was. A definite movement in me. While still no piece of pipe, he was at least hard enough to move in me without flopping out and that was a definite plus in his favor. The longer this went on, the more his confidence grew and before long he was fucking me in short, small stroked.

"Fuck me Uncle Paul... Fuck me," I whispered to him, trying to urge him on.

At this point I was playing to all his senses, trying everything and anything to get him to cum in me.

When he came I wasn't sure who was more surprised - me or him. Well, most likely him since he as the first to know but he quickly told me and I smiled, pleased at my success. He quickly pulled out and it was evident that he hadn't left anywhere near the bucket of cum that his younger brother has left in me earlier. Still, it served both our purposes.

"Thank you Kelly... god it's been so long." I looked at him and for a moment I thought he was going to cry!

I couldn't imagine what it must be like to go without sex for so long. I mean, for me to go one DAY is burden but to go over a YEAR? I'm not sure I can even imagine such a thing.

I reached for a washrag and wetted it under the faucet with warm water. This was far better than a paper towel in Steve's truck! I cleaned myself off as my uncle got himself back in order. He looked at his watch and cursed.

"Shit, I'd better get back or somebody's going to wonder," he stammered. I had a good feeling that by "somebody" he meant Aunt Julie but then I didn't blame him.

"Thank you Kelly.. I really appreciated that," he said as he started to unlock the door. With that he opened it, checked to see that nobody was looking, and then slipped out into that hallway, closing the door behind him.

I sighed and rubbed the wet warm washcloth over my crotch. I was long since cleaned off but it just felt so good against me. For a moment I contemplated getting myself off but then I'd been gone far too long as well. Besides, I knew Steve would be more than happy to help me with anything I might need as soon as we got back to his place.

I retrieved my panties and slipped them on, the wet spot feeling cool against my warm pussy. The dress was next and I checked myself out in the mirror before heading back to the family room. Steve was having some debate about sports with the guys and I pushed myself into the chair next to him.

"Guess who's going to church with me next week?" I said softly to him, poking him the side.

wholesome public version is so different from their private one? Do any of us REALLY know what goes on in the house next door when the blinds are closed?

Whatever "it" may be, it doesn't have to be anything so evil as a Ted Bundy. Is that hunk next door who is always showing off for all the women really more interested in trolling the internet in search of little boys? Is the seemingly naive mouse of a housewife really a lustful cougar after dark? Is your son's basketball coach's computer overflowing with child porn? Does your daughter's teacher peek up the girl's skirts under the bleachers during the pep rally?

When it comes right down to it, although any of these might say something about a person's character, does it really matter so long as it's kept private? Just because a guy has a bigger collection of panties and pantyhose than his wife, does that mean he's any less qualified to be a deacon at his church if the only place he wears them is at home? Does having a penchant for pics of little girls or boys have anything with a guy's ability to coach children so long as he just sticks to collecting photos from on-line? Would you really care if your daughter played with the kids of that mouse of a housewife if she only prowled as a cougar for men at night in clubs?

If you ask me, it's a lot like my position on fantasies. I've always said that I believe that ANY fantasy, no matter how perverted or distasteful, is "OK" so long as it remains just that - a fantasy. Now that doesn't mean that I necessarily share everyone's fantasies or get off from them. Indeed, I find many people's fantasies downright revolting but that I still defend their right to have them - just so I don't have to deal with them.

It's when a person allows their fantasies to carry over into their real lives that problems occur. The same goes with a person's "private" life. So long as it remains private, is it any of my business - or anyone else's for that matter?

Where the line starts to blur is when other people become involved. If you think about that guy with his pantyhose collection, so long as he's the only one that knows about it, so what? But what happens when his wife finds out? Ordinarily I would say it's an issue between two adults but what happens if his kids find out? How do he explain to his teenage daughter or son when they see their dad in mommy's panties or pantyhose? So you see, it's not so easy to categorize everything.

The line gets even fuzzier when kids are involved in adult situations that go beyond mere clothing fetishes. Should children see their parents naked? If that's OK then should they be allowed to see their parents masturbating? Going even further, how about their parents having sex? If even all that's OK then what if the family his arm around me with his hand a little lower on my hip than most dad's would be doing with their daughter. At the same time I see other families and wonder if their daughter is looking around thinking the same thoughts as me (or son???).

Church is by no means the only place where I enjoy watching people and try to figure out who has a secret. Just about anywhere that families congregate gives me ample opportunities to let my fertile imagination run amok. Even when I'm teaching I sometimes look around the classroom, seeking any indication that there may be something going on that someone doesn't want me to know about.

Teaching in a small Christian school definitely has its ups and downs. On the Down side there is the low pay. It's so low that sometimes I feel more like a missionary than a professional teacher. The lack of benefits can also be a bit daunting. Then of course we don't get all the latest technology or other bells and whistles that the larger and more affluent public schools are blessed with.

On the positive side my class sizes are smaller, the parents are more involved, the rules are more defined (although bit overly strict at times, especially with regards to the dress code) and the kids in general are more attentive and motivated. Overall the positives more than outweigh the negatives so I think it's not a bad deal to be where I am, especially given that for the next school year I'll be married so the pay and benefits issues won't be as much of an issue.

Regardless of whether you're in a private or public school, teaching today is so much more complicated than it used to be. As teachers we aren't just helping kids to learn anymore; if anything that's just a small part of my job description. Today we're also given the responsibility to act as surrogate parents, even if nobody wants to put that in writing.

These days it seems any social or economic issue the kids face is somehow MY responsibility to deal with them. If they don't get a good score on a test it's not that they didn't study or that their parents are fighting every minute at home causing the kids to be more worried about an upcoming divorce than their grades. No, somehow it's MY fault they don't learn.

Perhaps one of the more touchy and hardest to define areas has to do with dealing with child abuse. When is a bruise caused by a fall on the playground or a beating by an abusive father? Is she always quiet because she's overly shy or is it because her father rapes her every night and she's afraid to say anything? Are her clothes a bit tattered because her family can't afford new ones or from her trying to escape yet another beating? When a child pulls away from their parent with fear in their eyes, is it warranted or earned?

All I know is to make the wrong call, even once, can easily spell the difference between a teaching career and the unemployment line. In some cases it could even lead to a criminal record. For many years the default position for most teachers was to ignore anything that wasn't directly connected to school activities. What happened at home, stayed at home so don't get involved.

Well, things have certainly changed. Today I'm not supposed to look the other way, no matter what my personal convictions may be. In fact, the State of Pennsylvania REQUIRES me to report even a mere suspicion of child abuse. Failure to do so can lead to suspension or even revocation of my teaching license, not to mention potential criminal charges.

Fortunately, so far in my career I've never had to face such circumstances. The twenty or so kids I have in my classes come in all shapes and sizes, mostly ranging from ten to twelve years old, but there has never any of the warning signs of child abuse. Until recently, that is... or so I thought.

Kaylyn was a girl in my sixth grade class. She was twelve years old with a birthday coming in a couple of months making her one of the older kids in my class. That's important to note because when you're talking this age group it doesn't take much of an age discrepancy to create radical differences between kids. Although age isn't always the determining factor, in this case Kaylyn was also by far one of the most developed; she'd even started wearing a training bra back at the beginning of the school year. It wasn't one of those thing I would've ever mentioned to her, but as a teacher I try to keep tabs on the growth and development of my students as often it has a direct impact on their learning. A girl dealing with raging hormones and a rapidly developing body certainly isn't paying as much attention to her homework as she did before such complications arose.

At our school the kids are required to wear "uniform clothing". By that I don't mean the classic "catholic girl" uniform of skirt and knee-highs that dominate so many male fantasies. In our case there is some variance allowed for style and manufacturer to allow for parents to manage their budgets, but essentially all the boys and girls dress pretty much the same. Well, I mean the boys dress the same as the pother boys and the girls the same as other girls.

Personally, I'm a huge fan of school uniforms in general as they minimize the differences between social classes. As a former student I know that I would've hated uniforms because I enjoyed dressing a little showier and sluttier than most of the other girls. Still, within the age bracket I was dealing with most of them weren't worried about such things - yet. To be honest, in most cases it was the mothers I worried about more than anything as they're the ones out there buying their ten year-old daughter outfits that would have had them arrested not all that many years ago.

I mention the dress code because it were designed such that girl's clothing would NOT to be revealing or form fitting. Thus as girls like Kaylyn matured, it wasn't as noticeable as it might have been had she attended a public school. This was especially true in sixth grade whereas had our school included older grades then perhaps it wouldn't have been so easy to hide the obvious.

Still, I couldn't help but notice for myself how quickly some girls matured at younger ages and Kaylyn was definitely in one of the higher percentile when it came to body development for her age. In some ways I was even a little jealous of her as I had been at the opposite end of the spectrum back when I was in sixth grade. I still have vivid memories of how some of my friends had such incredible boobs (at least for their age) while I was barely starting to show. It was so embarrassing!

Unfortunately for girls like Kaylyn, she had left most of the boys her age in the dust so far as maturity goes. As a result if anything her rapidly developing breasts and curving hips were the subject of teasing more than appreciation. I felt sorry for her at times when I would catch some little jerk taunting her about her new "titties". Unfortunately there is little you can do at that age but scold them and punish as necessary but you can never stop human nature completely. It didn't help that she was dark-skinned, a result of a black father and white mother. While we would all like to think that discrimination and racism is in the past, someone forgot to tell the kids.

I noticed as the year progressed that Kaylyn seemed to become more withdrawn and shy about her body, holding her books up to her chest whenever possible as if that would keep anyone from noticing how they were quickly pushing her dresses further out.

I also took notice that she was even doing the same when her father would pick her up from school. Her mother had some high-powered sales job so her dad was a stay-at-home father. Whether that was by choice or he couldn't find a job I didn't know for sure. All I knew was I had only seen her mother twice and even then it was just for a brief handshake and hello. I felt bad for Kaylyn and wanted to strangle the little jerks for causing her to be embarrassed of her body to the point where she seemed to shying away from any male, even her own dad.

When it came to the teasing the real shame, at least from my point of view, was that Kaylyn was transforming like a butterfly into quite a pretty young girl. Next year she would be going to a public school where I was sure that the older boys would be much more appreciative of her growing assets than the immature twelve year-olds who formed the oldest male group at our school.

While she may not realize it now, what was causing her so much trouble now would soon become her greatest weapon. I had no doubt that she would be the one calling the shots! With only a couple of weeks to go in the school year, I could only hope that she would make it through without anything traumatic happening. Though as a teacher I wasn't supposed to have favorites, Kaylyn had become one of those students I felt a special care and concern for.

3. Suspicions

It was the week before the Memorial Day holiday that I first thought there might be more to Kaylyn that I'd thought. As usual, Kaylyn's dad dropped her off at school. I was watching the kids entering the school from my window and I noticed she got out of the car quickly and started towards the front door without a word to her dad when he called out to her and made her come back to him. Although I couldn't make out what he was saying, she looked really upset. When she entered my classroom I noticed that her eyes were red as if she'd been crying. Naturally I went to her and asked if everything was alright. She just shook her head and turned away, going straight to her desk without a word.

This wasn't the first time I'd noted that something was different with Kaylyn but it was the first time it really drew my attention. In fifth grade she'd been the typical bubbly little girl that squirmed in her seat and never shut up. Throughout her year in sixth grade she had become more withdrawn and shy but I'd attributed it more to do with the teasing she was subjected to than anything else I could put a finger on. However this morning she was downright sullen, not even lifting her eyes to me as I taught. During recess she just stood off to the side, not talking to the other girls and especially avoiding the boys.

The next day was a repeat performance and I felt sure that it must be something more than just being yelled at by her parents or an argument with a friend. Finally during the morning recess I went to her and asked again if everything was OK. She insisted she was fine but her expression said just the opposite. Something was bothering her... but what?

Then I remembered how she had looked with her father the previous morning and took a shot in the dark. "Kaylyn, did your daddy tell you not to say anything about what's bothering you?"

The innocence and naivety of a young girl, even one maturing as quickly as Kaylyn, cannot be underestimated. I could've asked her yet again if everything was OK but she would've certainly continued to deny anything was wrong. By asking her if she was told not to say something, it allowed her to answer more truthfully without violating any instructions she might have against such a disclosure. Good ole' Psychology 101 pays off again!

"Daddy said if I tell anyone the a bad man will hurt him," she suddenly said so softly I barely realized she had said anything.

Whoa! I'd been expecting something more along the lines of her being grounded for not cleaning her room or something like that. It took all my self-control to keep a smile on my face and not reveal my inner shock as doing so would most certainly have made her retreat once again. Instead, all my training regarding potential child abuse kicked in and I gently probed a little more, trying to stay away from anything that would cause her to have to make a direct answer as to what was happening at home between her dad and her.

"You love your daddy, don't you Kaylyn?"

She nodded, biting her lower lip and staring at her brown shoes or something else equally interesting at floor level.

"You would do anything for your daddy to make him happy, wouldn't you Kaylyn?"

Again the nod without looking away from whatever was so important on the ground.

"I bet you're a really good girl for your daddy, aren't you Kaylyn. You do anything he asks. Am I right?"

"Yeah... Daddy says I'm his precious," she murmured softly, a slight smile coming to her face.

Just then the whistle blew and the kids came running back for class. Kaylyn turned to join them and I let her go, a million unanswered questions at the tip of my tongue. My suspicions were certainly been raised but in all fairness to her dad, nothing she'd said could be used to prosecute him assuming there was anything in wrong the first place. After all, what girl her age didn't love her daddy? What could be wrong with her wanting to please her him? Didn't most every dad have a pet nickname for his daughter? My dad always called me his "baby" and STILL does even though I'm now 26.

The key factor for me was not in the questions and answers themselves but rather in how she answered them. It's much like reading e-mails where the same sentence can be read by ten people and mean something different to each of them depending on what inflections they use when how they say it aloud. I was once her age, albeit fourteen years ago, but I can clearly remember that I would've done almost anything my dad asked me to. OK, so maybe cleaning my room was a constant sore spot but you know what I mean.

As a matter of fact, had it not been for my mother's overly protective nature, those "requests" could have been much more intimate than they were. Was Kaylyn's mother as diligent as mine had been when it came to monitoring her husband's feelings and needs for his daughter? For that matter, was she even aware of what was going on - assuming anything was in the first place? Again, was there anything she needed to be aware of in the first place or was I just letting my prolific imagination run wild?

I didn't have another opportunity to talk to Kaylyn privately until lunch at which time I asked her to stay in the classroom with me while the other kids went to the lunchroom, supposedly to help me with something or another. She seemed nervous, probably worried that she'd done something wrong, so I quickly put her at ease. There wasn't a lot of time before someone would question where we were so I got straight to the point, or at least in as short a path as I could take under the circumstances. I'd had enough training drilled into me to have a pretty good idea of where to direct the discussion.

"I just want you to know Kaylyn that it's wonderful that you love your daddy so much and that you work so hard to please him," I said, taking a seat at the desk next to hers, "You know... not every girl is such a good girl as you are."

She smiled shyly at me, then looked down at her desktop.

"Does your daddy give your presents when you're especially good?"

At that she smiled more and her eyes lit up but she didn't answer.

"What kind of presents are your favorite that he gives you?"

She glanced around then looked shy again but I just smiled at her and waited patiently for her to work it out herself.

"I like it when he buys me pretty clothes."

"Oh that's nice," I encouraged her, "Did he buy you a pretty dress?"

She shook her head but didn't answer. For a moment I thought she was going to retreat back into her shell again and I hoped that I hadn't pushed too hard.

"I bet he likes you to wear them for him, doesn't he," I said as an image starting to go through my mind.

Kaylyn just nodded again but a thin smile began to reappear. I was tempted to ask her if her mom had ever seen her in those clothes but if I was right, then I was pretty sure what the answer was already. If I was wrong, then it didn't matter anyway so I decided to not push her too much.

"You know Kaylyn, when I was your age my daddy use to take pictures of me when I wore special outfits that he bought for me. Does your daddy like to do that when you wear special clothes just for him?"

Her eyes brightened again at that. Once again I could relate to her response. Indeed, my dad DID take pics of me when I was her age wearing all sorts of outfits. I always loved wearing the ones he gave me the most when he took the photos because I could tell it made him happier when I wore those. Just as Kaylyn seemed to enjoy posing for her dad, I loved it myself when I was her age. The key was that's ALL my dad did when I was her age - take pictures. The difference was that somehow I was getting the impression that Kaylyn's dad was doing more than making it a Kodak moment.

Just then my co-teacher popped her head in the classroom door, asking me if everything was OK. I assured her that all was well and that we were just finishing up. Kaylyn took it to mean we WERE done and she rushed out to join her friends without looking back or saying a word. My co-teacher watched her fly by and I could see the questions in her eyes but she didn't press me on the issue.

The next day Kaylyn's dad dropped her off at school as always but this time I didn't see anything going on between them. Indeed, she even kissed him on the cheek when he leaned over to hug her goodbye. Any signs of tension or distress were clearly gone. Hmmmmmm, had I misread the earlier situation? Was she just being temperamental, as it seems all girls her age get to be at times? All the answers she'd given to me as far could be read a number of ways, most of which would never have held up in court. So what if she liked to please her dad? Just about every normal girl her age does. OK, so he buys her pretty clothes and takes pictures of her wearing them. We'd never discussed what kind of clothes they were. Sure they were "special" but at her age that could mean just about anything that her dad bought her. To a twelve year-old girl panties with Hannah Montana on them could be just as special as a sheer thong.

If I was to follow the letter of the law, even though I didn't have any "proof" even the mere suspicion of anything between Kaylyn and her dad had to be reported. However, doing so would inevitably end up with the police involved and could potentially turn totally innocent situation into something that could ruin their family no matter what the actual conditions were. It's the case where no matter what the final results were, nobody would ever forget the accusation and most would assume "something" was going on and he just beat the system rather than allow that he was actually innocent of the charges.

Given the potential for harm, even though it was a professional risk for me I just couldn't say anything to anyone until I had more to go on. In any case Kaylyn seemed to be in a much better mood today but I still noted that during recess she retreated off to her own little world. Thus I decided to see if she would be more talkative today.

"Hi Kaylyn, you seem happier today," I greeted her. She looked up at me and smiled, not nearly so forced as she had been the day before.

"Let me guess why you're so happy," I said in an off-hand manner, trying not to threaten her in any way, "Did you make your daddy happy last night?"

She seemed more trusting in me today and I noticed her eyes didn't avert to the ground nearly as quickly. She nodded and shrugged her shoulders a little.

"Did he take pictures of you?"

Again she nodded so I followed up with, "In one of the special outfits he bought you?"

Another nod but this time she grinned a little despite herself and then seemed to be a little embarrassed.

"Has your mommy seen you in those outfits?"

Kaylyn's eyes widened and she shook her head quickly - too quickly for my sensibilities. Obviously her mom hadn't seen her in the "special" clothes her dad was buying her. Just as obvious she didn't WANT her mom to see her so I didn't press the issue of her mother any further. At the same time her silence was becoming a little bit frustrating as well so I took a shot using a technique I often use when chatting

Option 1: I could leave things as they were and hope that nothing ever became public which would cause questions to be asked of the adults who interacted with her - such as her teachers, including me. I suppose I could always plead that she misunderstood the extent of what she had told me and I'd assumed that nothing was going on at home. That would mean not asking her anything else about what was going on at home as well as I'd already most likely crossed the line in terms of suspecting something was happening and not turning it in to the authorities.
Option 2: This one was a lot safer - at least from a strictly selfish point of view. All I had to do was to go to my school administrator and explain to him what I suspected. Then he would be responsible for contacting the authorities and launching an investigation. At best it would prove awkward if nothing WAS going on. Still, it would hold me blameless if something WAS going on. The problem was that if nothing was happening and it was just Kaylyn's overactive imagination at work, then I could be the cause of a lot of tension between Kaylyn's parents, maybe even leading to a divorce. Even worse, what if a vengeful father started looking closer into MY life?
Option 3: This one was the riskiest but also potentially the most interesting. I could continue to do an informal investigation on my own, basically continuing on with what I'd already started. Outside of the group that my dad and aunt were involved with, and ignoring the people I interacted with on the Internet, I really didn't personally know all that many people outside of my family that were involved with incest. Of course I didn't know for a fact that Kaylyn WAS involved with her father but that was what made it potentially interesting.

Three options, three very different potential outcomes. Of course the SAFEST, at least of me, was to turn this all over to the authorities as the law required. Most likely the BEST was the first option, and that was to just leave things as they were and stop sticking my nose where it didn't belong. The most INTERESTING was to continue my private investigation.

Really, if I was honest with myself, there was no reason NOT to go with the "best" option. Turning her father in might be the proper legal thing to do but the potential damage to their family was enormous making it just too risky for me. If indeed there was nothing actually happening and it was just Kaylyn exaggerating things then it would be like telling the jury to ignore the witness's last statement. Of course people would find out that I'd tuned them in so even if the outcome was nothing was wrong, nobody could ever completely erase the damage of the accusation. Could I live with myself if I was the cause of their family breaking apart just so I could keep myself in the safest legal position?

If I didn't take the "safe" option, then what was there really for me to gain by digging any deeper? It's not like I was personally attracted to Kaylyn and was looking for something that would lead to my becoming involved sexually with her. Sure she was cute but then so were many girls her age. Recognizing her sexuality, even allowing my fantasies to get carried away was NOT even close to actually wanting to do anything with her in that way. I've often said that I believe fantasies should be unlimited but that there was a line between fantasy and reality that should never be crossed.

What if I found out for certain that Kaylyn was having sex with her father? Even if it wasn't sex but just voyeurism on the part of her father, what possibly good could come from me knowing about it? Was I so curious that I would want to see for myself? The answer to that is an emphatic NO! Would it make my fantasies any more compelling to know it was REALLY happening versus just thinking about what MIGHT be going on between Kaylyn and her dad? Not really. Even if her mom knew about more than Kaylyn realized, that wasn't going to make ME get off any more than I already did now when I was home masturbating thinking about Kaylyn and her dad.

Actually, my biggest concern was more that if I pushed her further that Kaylyn might say something to her dad about it and who knew where THAT might lead. If everything was innocent, how might her parents react to her teacher asking her about her family life, especially from a sexual perspective? If her father WAS having sex with her, might it scare him into doing something, even if I couldn't imagine what that something might be?

Pushing Kaylyn any further was too risky so If I was going to find out anything there was just one person to talk to - her dad.

push inside of her? Did it excite her when eventually he pushed more of it inside of her pussy?

Wow, talk about an orgasm! I was so freaking horny by that time it was over all I could do was to stay on top of the bed and not jump up and call him to come over and fuck me. My mind was racing with fantasies as I wondered what it would be like to lick his incestuous cum out of his daughter's freshly fucked pussy? What would she taste like? Would she kiss me afterwards and share her father's cum with me, swallowing it down together with me as her father looked on?

Of course it was all fantasy but still as I paced back and forth waiting for her to show up I was being fidgety not only by my nervousness over asking her dad about things between him and his daughter, but also by my lingering fantasies of him fucking me in front of her. Of course I should never have been even thinking such thoughts at all but who can stop them? It's like telling someone NOT to think about pink elephants and then all they can do is think about them!

It was crazy to be standing out in front of school in my coat and long dress, waiting for Kaylyn and feeling horny as heck. Talk about letting your inner feelings take control! I was about one step from ducking inside to the restroom to take care of my growing "problem" when a familiar car drove up and I saw it was Kaylyn and her dad. Thank God... Finally! Then again, I almost wished they were another fifteen minutes late.

Taking a deep breath, I quickly moved to the car where it looked like Kaylyn was saying goodbye to her dad. I helped open the door for her and she looked surprised to see me, not to mention her dad as well.

"Good morning Mr. Smith," I said to him as I gave Kaylyn a quick hug before letting her go by to join her classmates. (Of course that's not his real name!)

"Well good morning yourself Miss Kelly... and you can call me Jerome," he responded, looking at me with a touch of curiosity. (Again, that's not his real first name for obvious reasons.)

I explained to Jerome that I wanted to discuss some of Kaylyn's schoolwork if he had a few minutes. He looked concerned and I felt a little guilty as he likely thought something was wrong with her homework or test scores. Actually nothing could further from the truth as she was consistently one of the top students in her class. Jerome parked his car and soon met me on the steps. It was quite 1chilly so I offered for him to join me in one of the spare classrooms. He agreed and followed me to one of the unused rooms where I quickly closed the door behind us before anyone saw us.

"OK, so what's this all about?" he asked, leaning back against the large desk in the room as he looked around the empty room.

Wow, it was like my mind went blank. I hate to admit this but I felt a little intimidated by this tall black guy who I was now facing along in an empty classroom. He was by no means ugly and looked like he spent some quality time at the gym. One thing I noted was his head was shaved which wasn't a big turn- on for me but then it was better than those guys who cut it down to a bare minimum growth and then left it that way. For just a moment I wondered if he was shaved elsewhere as well but then I quickly put those thoughts aside.

I'd rehearsed this numerous times and thought I was ready but then my nerves took control and my mind went completely blank. I stammered for a moment and then just blurted out the first thing that came to my mind.

"Are you having sex with your daughter?"

OMG, I actually said that out loud! My face immediately reddened and I realized how absurd it must sound for me to make such an accusation right out of the blue. Totally embarrassed now, I just wanted to sink right through the floor or run out of the room and never talk to him again. Instead I just stood there, waiting for him to respond as if I was frozen to the floor.

Jerome just looked at me, his eyes practically boring holes right through me. I was expecting a quick response like asking me if I was crazy or at least some sort of indignation but he just stood there staring at me with his eyes roaming up and down me and then back to my eyes again, as if he was trying to read my mind. This went on like that for almost a minute and I was starting to wonder if I'd better say something but then it was like he made up his mind and he answered my accusation.

"As a matter of fact... yes I do... and as you apparently already know about it then why are you asking me?" he answered back in a matter-of-fact tone. It was if I had asked him some simple question like what his phone number was or something like that..

Wow, did he REALLY say that? He caught me totally off guard. I'd rehearsed all sorts of responses to about every type of protest that I imagined that he might make but never once did I expect him to come right out and admit it. Heck, I wasn't even sure he WAS doing it in the first place.

"Ummmmm, really?" was all I could get out, feeling myself redden even more from the way I was stumbling around this like some amateur sleuth.

"I'm figuring that you've been talking to her and she told you or you wouldn't be asking me such a question in the first place," he said, keeping so utterly calm it was surreal. "So... now that I've answered YOUR question it's MY turn to ask a question. Why are you asking me such a question in the first place when you already know the answer?"

Frankly, I was starting to wonder the same thing myself. Now where did I take this? What had I gotten myself mixed up with? HE was the one who was supposed to be on the defensive, not me.

"Well as her teacher I have a responsibility...," I started to say but he cut me off abruptly.

"Sorry, not buying it," he said, shaking his head slowly, "If that was the case we wouldn't be talking alone in this empty classroom. No... I suspect it would be in some dingy room at the police station."

Then he tilted his head like a dog when it seems to be listening to you, staring at me intently. I was too shaken to say another word so fortunately he took over the conversation.

"Hmmmmmm, let me take a wild guess... I bet you had sex with YOUR father at my daughter's age, am I right?"

I shook my head, not trusting myself to answer verbally. His eyebrows raised as if he was either surprised at my response or disappointed.

"Alright, so be it... but I bet you have at some time or another... am I right?"

This time I didn't answer or move my head but he wasn't fooled.

"Ahhhhhh, so you did... and now I'm guessing that you're turned on because I'm screwing my own daughter like your dad did you... yes?"

He had me pegged but I wasn't going to give him the satisfaction of knowing that, or at least I wasn't going to confirm it.

"So what's this REALLY about Kelly... do you want to join in? Hmmmmmm, maybe you have a thing for young girls? Do you want some of my daughter for yourself?"

The way my eyes widened and the astonished look on my face was probably my best answer. Jerome laughed and shook his head at me.

"OK, so maybe that was pushing it a little. So what is it? Are you looking for me to do you?"

"No, I'm engaged," I responded, flashing my ring at him and doing my best to appear offended. Well, it only made him laugh all the harder.

"Big deal, so you've got a ring with a stone in it. Since when did THAT mean anything? My wife has one too but it doesn't stop her from screwing every walking dick she meets. Besides, you didn't exactly say no."

Again, it was like he knew me from my diary or something but there was no way THAT could be true. Still, it was eerie to have someone that I'd never talked to about anything really personal be able to discern me so well.

"Really, I was just curious... I'm NOT interested in having sex with you... OR your daughter for that matter," I finally said in a stern voice, or at least as stern as I could make it under the circumstances.

"Well sorry bitch but I just don't believe you," he came back at me, the smile suddenly disappearing. "We wouldn't be having this conversation if you didn't want something so spill it... what is it?"

"Alright then, how long has this been going on between you and your daughter?" I said, trying my best to deflect the conversation away from me and back to him and Kaylyn.

"You mean between me and Kaylyn?" he asked, "Since Christmas if you're asking about the sex stuff. I've been working on her for well over a year though. It's not like you can just rush into something like this."

"Working on her?" I asked with a hint of incredulity in my tone.

He just shrugged and answered, "You know, touching her, buying her things, taking pictures, that sort of stuff. I didn't rape her you know. She wanted it by the time I had her ready."

"And your wife?"

He threw up his hands and exhaled loudly. "That bitch? She doesn't know nothing. Anyways, all she cares about is work. She's always gone and I know damn well she'll let anybody screw her - male OR female, to get a sale. The only person she won't do is me. Shit, we haven't had sex in over a year now so why shouldn't I get what I can?"

The bell went off and I was late for class. At this point I wasn't sure if I was feeling relieved or turned on. Actually I was more confused than anything. This hadn't gone any way even close to how I'd imagined it might and if anything I had even more questions now than before.

"Why don't you come over some night and we can discuss Kaylyn's 'schoolwork'," he said as I started to leave the classroom, using two fingers on each hand to emphasize the "schoolwork" comment.

Obviously he had much better things to discuss than her grades or at least her grades so far as her class work was concerned. Now THAT was a proposition full of danger and my immediate response was to say no but he cut me off before the words came out.

"C'mon, we both know you're curious and turned on or we wouldn't be here in the first place. Don't worry, I won't be naughty... we can just talk to start with."

Yeah, and the check is in the mail and this won't hurt. "We can just talk" fits right in there with every other cliche and there was no doubt in my mind that "to start with" meant just that. I turned the door knob without answering but he was right behind me, pushing on the door over my shoulder to prevent me from pulling it open.

"Tell you what... 7:00 tonight... I'm sure you have our address in her records."

With that he let me open the door and I hurried down the hall to my classroom without answering, afraid to even look back at him although I could literally feel his eyes boring into me from behind.

Stepping into the classroom I couldn't help but immediately look for Kaylyn. She was chatting away with another girl and didn't even notice me until I called the class to order. My first thoughts when I looked at her was to wonder when the last time she had been fucked by her dad. Now it was officially no longer a question of "if" but more that of "when".

As much as I'd thought about it before, it was always more a crazy fantasy than anything else. Now that it was confirmed I couldn't help but imagine her sitting on her dad's big black dick. OK, my apologies for the stereotype but I couldn't help but wonder if her dad's cock really was as big as people like to say in all the erotic stories and movies.

6. Getting Advice From My fiancé - and More

As for what happened the rest of that day, well I haven't hardly a clue. I tried to concentrate on my work but my mind kept wandering off to Jerome's stunning revelations... as then his invitation. Was it really an invitation or something more sinister. Had I refused what would he have done? It's not like he could've told anyone about what we discussed as he had as much if not more to lose than me. Sure my career would be in the tank but he could end up spending time in prison. Talk about a Mutual Assured Destruction scenario...

During a break I tried to call Steve but he must've still been sleeping and had his phone turned off, or at least silenced. Then again, if I knew my fiancé he could have it on full volume right next to his ear on the pillow and still not wake up once he was asleep. There were times this trait worked to my advantage, like when I enjoyed sucking him off in the morning before he woke, but at times this I wish it had some sort of override that would blast his ears.

I ended up leaving Steve a voicemail and then texted him as a backup. Before my parents' divorce I would've sought my mother's advice but now that I'm engaged I try to go to my fiancé before calling my mother way out in Oregon. Of course I still go to my mom for a lot of things but I'm trying to go more to Steve whenever possible.

On one hand it was like the afternoon never existed and then again, it seemed as if it would never end. Talk about being confused! I kept looking at my class but it was like the only student I could focus on was Kaylyn. She didn't look all that different than she did on any other day but I couldn't take my eyes off of her. I kept catching myself thinking about her father and I couldn't imagine such a sweet thing sucking off his dick and then allowing him to penetrate her between those thin coltish legs. It just didn't seem possible.

The more I thought about it the more I started to wonder if he was telling me the truth or just pushing my buttons. I had no doubt whatsoever that he was doing things with his daughter that would have grabbed the attention of the authorities, but other than his mocking answers to my questions I really had no proof that he was doing anything more than that. Kaylyn had told me about undressing for him and him touching her but nothing at all about sex. Then again, I hadn't really posed her any direct questions about that so who knows?

"Well I think I can take care of THAT," he said in a voice even deeper now as his lust began to build even more within him.

Steve grabbed my bare shoulders and pulled me to my feet. Then he twisted me around and maneuvered me towards my bed where I leaned over until I was holding myself up with my hands on the mattress which caused my bare ass to stick out towards him.

"Now THAT'S exactly the type of thing a guy looks forward to seeing when he comes home from work," Steve said as he smacked me playfully on my butt. I shifted my weight so my legs spread further apart, arching my back so my ass lifted up even higher to let him have the best view possible of my hungry pussy.

"Fuck me Steve," I begged him, "God I need it so bad... fuck me PLEASE."

Steve was holding his dick in his hand now, using it to rub along my pussy slit and teasing me as he would push it against my wet pussy hole and then pull it away. I shuddered when he would rub it up against my clit, twisting it in tight little circles all around it.

"In me... put it in me... PLEASE PUT IT IN ME!" I finally cried out, about ready to reach back and grab it so I could push it in me if he didn't stop teasing me with it. He smacked me on the butt again and then I felt him pressing it up against my asshole. I squirmed, trying to keep him away from THAT target.

"No... not there," I whined, wanting him still so badly but not there. Not when I had another place that was designed just for his dick.

"Hey, can't blame a guy for trying."

I didn't feel one bit guilty denying him my ass. My aunt and cousin were more than happy to let him fuck their assholes any time he wanted so it wasn't like he was being denied anything. My view was that when you have something MADE to fit a rigid dick, why not use it as God intended?

"Oh God!" I cried out as he suddenly found the right hole and without an further comment just pushed himself into me. As wet and horny as I was, it wasn't hard for him to penetrate me and fill me with that incredibly rigid cock.

"Fuck me Steve... oh yeah fuck me!"

Once he got started he quickly got into the rhythm, practically pushing me down to my elbows with the force of his thrusts against my butt. It felt SOOOOOO damn good to finally have him inside of me after dreaming about sex all day. I hadn't even asked him what he was doing in my bedroom but at the moment it didn't matter. The only thing I was concerned with was the feel of his perfect cock as it filled me up.

For the next half hour or so my world was reduced to a few square feet on my bed with the emphasis on what Steve was doing to me with that perfect cock of his. We must have fucked in every position in the book until finally he was laying behind me, spooning me with his strong arms over me and his hand cupping my breast. By then we were both exhausted and I loved the feel of his warmth against me with my butt nestled in against his hairy crotch while he slowly fucked me.

"I love you so much Steve." I purred as what had to be my fourth (or fifth?) orgasm filled me with pleasure.

He kept pumping me as I came, my pussy gripping him yet again as I felt even better than before. Then he stiffened and I felt him clutch my boob in his hand as he pushed himself deep into me.

"Cum in me Steve... give it to me," I encouraged him.

Steve's sperm soon was flooding my pussy, filling me with his warmth as he pushed himself even deeper into me. When he finished we just laid there quietly for a few minutes, the soft throbbing of his dick easily discernible in my sensitive pussy.

"Did I ever tell you what a great fuck you are?" he said softly into me ear as he began to kiss my neck and gently stroke my hair.

Steve's dick was still in me and as far as I was concerned, it could stay there all night. This was like I imagined it in heaven, laying in my fiancé's arms, his cock filling me along with his sperm, kissing me and touching me all over. Yep... this was indeed heaven on earth.

"So what's the story?" he finally asked me.

For a moment my mind was still too cloudy to comprehend the question so he repeated himself and this time I finally recalled what it was that had started this whole thing today. God, how could I have forgotten? Well, a slight push by his dick in me was more than enough to remind me.

If anything, this was the perfect time to bring up the subject. One of the first things a girl learns is that if she really wants a guy to do something, all she has to do is let him fuck her and then ask him while he is still blinded by lust. It worked with my boyfriends in school, it worked with my dad, and it certainly worked with my fiancé!

If there was one thing I decided early on with regards to marriage, it was that I wanted to have no secrets from my fiancé. OK, so keeping his birthday party a secret was OK but nothing of any significance. In particular I didn't want anything that had to do with our sex lives to be kept from the other. I'd had enough experience with other people to see where that sort of thing leads to. I didn't want my own marriage to become like so many others where the husband (or the wife in some cases) goes off and does things behind the other's back. Steve knew everything about me before I accepted his proposal - all my boyfriends, all my jobs - even the escorting, all the married men I'd been with, even the two dogs - as painful as THAT was to disclose. Most important, he knew about my incestuous past - and expectations for the future.

Until I was engaged to Steve, my intentions towards marriage had always been that once I got married I would stop having sex outside of marriage, meaning no sex with anyone but my husband and immediate family. This position was a result of being brought up by a conservative mother who believed that sex outside the family was adultery and thus a sin, even if both partners were in agreement.

Well, it's amazing how a divorce can change your mind about such things, and then when Steve expressed interests in swinging that sort of sealed the deal so far as I was concerned. The key for me is that whenever possible we promised that nothing would be a secret. Sure, if there wasn't time to check with the other that didn't mean we had to decline an opportunity, but it didn't preclude the obligation to tell the other as soon as possible afterwards. I don't mean that we planned an "open" marriage but rather one where trust and honesty were the guiding lights.

While I wasn't married to Steve yet, I still wanted our relationship to be as it would be when we were married during our engagement. Thus I wanted to run by him the situation with Kaylyn's dad before I made any decisions myself. Well, what better time to bring up such a question than now after we'd just had some great sex - especially while we were still coupled together? Given I had only a couple of hours now before the 7:00 deadline, I had better get moving!

Steve's hand was still cupping my breast and so I put mine over it, pushing it against me while I wiggled my butt in tighter against his crotch. Taking a deep breath, I slowly explained to him the events of the past few days and then what had happened this morning. Steve didn't say a word the entire time, laying behind me like a statue without even moving a muscle the entire time. Trust me, if he HAD moved a muscle I would've felt it!

"So what do you think honey? Should I go over there tonight?" I finally asked as I wrapped things up.

Steve shifted behind me but he kept his dick in me and I could actually feel him hardening once again. I took that as a good sign - obviously he wasn't turned off by what I'd been telling him.

"So are you telling me that you want to fuck this guy?" he asked softly.

Wow, now THAT was the question, wasn't it. Up until then I really hadn't decided but now I had to go with an answer one way or the other. Truth be told, I had never even considered sex with Kaylyn's dad until today and the way things had gone so rapidly I hadn't really absorbed everything yet.

"C'mon, you know you do," Steve teased me after I failed to answer quickly enough for him, "He's married, his wife's a bitch, and he has a young daughter he's either screwing or wanting to. Didn't you say he was black as well? Sounds like a match made in heaven made just for you!"

Did I ever mention how much I love this guy? You have to admit, Steve's quite a catch and for him to be so understanding of me and what turns me on without getting all jealous and possessive just goes to show how deep our love is for one another. I could've easily married a man and been faithful to him as I had always expected to be and undoubtedly been happy. Never did I even dream that my husband would turn out to be like Steve and actually push me to do the things I loved to do but was willing to give up out of respect and submission to my husband.

My silence was evidently answer enough for him and I felt his dick surge in me. Obviously this was all turning him on as much as it was me and he began fucking me again with renewed vigor. I took it to mean that he was OK with it so I put it out of my mind and concentrated once again on my fiancé's throbbing member.

"Oh... one last thing," he said as I worked on his growing cock, "Do you think they would mind if I came along?"

It was enough to make me drop his dick an look at him eye to eye. I should have anticipate the question knowing Steve's affinity for girls like Kaylyn. Indeed, she would have been just perfect, at least from his perspective. Unfortunately, at least for Steve, I wasn't sure yet what was going to happen this evening, if anything. However, if I took Steve along with me then it was a pretty done deal and I wasn't ready to make such a commitment.

"Sorry... maybe next time," I replied even though I was pretty sure that no matter what happened there wouldn't be a "next time".

"But...," he started to argue but I squeezed his cock in my hand and grinned saying, "Do you want to fuck me again or not?"

He took the hint and let me get back to business without further interruption. Have I ever mentioned yet how much I love Steve? LOL

7. Doing Some More Investigating

Somehow I managed to separate from Steve long enough to get showered and dressed in time to get out of the house to meet with Jerome. Unfortunately he and Kaylyn lived way out on the east side of town past Monroeville which meant two tunnels and a bridge for me, not to mention the evening traffic. Thankfully I had my GPS. How anyone found their way around the Pittsburgh area before the GPS was invented is beyond me!

My destination was not in a part of town that I was all that familiar with so I just listened to the annoying voice and followed his directions. I was essentially lost for a while but then I saw a place I hadn't seen in years. It was a hobby shop where my dad use to take me to buy stuff for our radio- controlled model planes that I use to fly with him. I hadn't done much with that in a few years and it had been ages since I had seen this place but the memories came flooding back. The club he belonged to was mostly men his age and older and definitely no other girls my age other than their wives ever showed up at the field. Needless to say I never was waiting for someone to help me fly my planes.

So anyway, that bit of nostalgia went by and soon I was winding my way through the hills until finally the voice said, "You have reached your destination". I checked the numbers on the mail box and thankfully it was the right one as the homes were few and far between this far out of town. I could barely make out a house through all the trees through which a narrow dirt driveway twisted it's way around. As I approached the garage I saw a familiar car parked outside - the same one that Jerome drove every day to drop off Kaylyn so I figured I must have reached the right place at last.

With my car turned off it was deadly quiet and at first I just sat in my car, my mind all a blur. Really, what the heck was I doing here? No lights had come on nor did I see anyone so evidently they didn't know I was there yet. I WAS about ten minutes early but still, I would've thought they would be watching for me. Still, it meant I could turn around and quickly leave and nobody would be the wiser that I had ever been there.

Taking a deep breath, I opened the car door and the dinging chime reminded me to take my keys. For once I was glad to hear it as the last thing I needed was to lock myself out of my car this far from home! How many times had I reminded myself to hide a key somewhere but it seemed the only time I remembered it was at times like this when I wished I had one hidden away just in case.

The house was a small ranch log home; nothing rustic but rather one of those manufactured type homes that looked like a Lincoln Log set on steroids. The one thing I liked was the green metal roof. When I looked around the back I saw what looked to be a hot tub which sort of surprised me. Why it surprised me I can't say, I just wasn't expecting one for some reason. The way it was situated and the furniture around it made it difficult to tell if anyone was in it but it didn't appear to be occupied.

There was a rear entrance but I decided to go back around to the front door. Standing on the front porch in front of the door, I looked back down at the road and realized just how isolated the place was. A car passed by and I could barely hear it and only caught a quick glance of it through the trees. There was certainly no need to worry about the neighbors spying on you here, that was for sure.

I stood up straight, tugging at my skirt to flatten it down after the long drive. It was by no means one of my shorter ones as it almost came down to my knees. Still, I liked it as it was perfect for those time when I wanted to look sharp without being overly slutty but at the same time not looking like I was some sort of soccer mom. I may be only 26 but then I know girls my age with kids who ARE soccer moms so it's become all the more important for me in the last year or two to make sure nobody mistakes me for one of them!

I was wearing a new white blouse with a white bra on underneath and matching white panties under skirt. While not "grandma panties" by any means, they did cover most of my butt while fitting snugly in the crotch. My black heels were only a few inches high and rather solid, nothing like the five inch stilettos I wear when "on the prowl" as my dad likes to say. Looking at my reflection in the storm door glass I thought I looked exactly what I was - a young professional teacher.

Reaching for the doorbell, my finger stopped about an inch away as I couldn't help but think that this was my last chance to back out. I thought back to the questions Jerome had asked this morning, about what it was that I really wanted. God, it seemed like years since that we had talked about all this, not just earlier in the same day. The point was that even now I wasn't entirely sure what I DID want.

"You want it Kelly... I can see it in your eyes... you want my hard black dick in your tight little white pussy, don't you? C'mon, admit it!"

I looked up from his crotch and into his eyes. I felt like I might faint from the tremendous buildup of desire I felt in me at that moment. My tongue ran across my dry lips as I just sat there without saying a word. It didn't take a rocket scientist or a behavioral psychologist to determine that I was all but overwhelmed with sexual desire. One more push and who knows if I could hold back any further.

"Let's do it Kelly," he urged me, "Show my daughter what a slut her teacher can be... teach her to be a real daddy's girl... show her how to please her daddy the way you were taught to please yours."

Well, by the time I was fucking my own father I'd been having sex for two years with a number of boys so it wasn't like I was inexperienced and needed any instruction on how to please a man. That's not to say my mom didn't pass on a few pointers when she would watch us together or offer me some advice when we talked in private. I doubted that Kaylyn had someone mentoring her and it's not like she could discuss it with any of her friends, at least not until her sexual report card read more than just her father on it. Indeed, I was sure I COULD teach her a lot of things that were not in my standard curriculum. The question was, would I?

OMG, I was SOOOOO close to crossing the line. I don't know what more he could have done but had he found it then it would've taken just another nudge and I'd have been naked and rocking on top of him with his cock imbedded in me in a heartbeat. In the end though it was not to be. Maybe had he caught me a few years earlier it would've been different. I'd grown up a lot in the past few years if I say so myself and if there was one area I feel that I've matured more than any other it is in my ability to say NO. Being engaged really had nothing to do with anything as I already had Steve's blessings to have sex with whomever I wanted, any time I wanted. If anything I had a feeling he was going to be disappointed that I hadn't fucked Jerome. Well, maybe not so much disappointed as surprised. After all, anyone who really knows me knows that self-control has never been one of my best virtues.

Jerome was much too horny to wait forever for me to decide so when I didn't react quickly enough for him he took matters into his own hands. Looking at me he said to his daughter, "OK Kaylyn, that's enough. Let's show your teacher what you REALLY like your daddy to do to you."

Kaylyn just grinned and then leaned back, letting his dick drop from her mouth. She looked over at me and it was like I was seeing her for the first time.

SEEING her naked in her father's arms with his cum seeping out of her pussy certainly did away with any semblance of normalcy.

I left before I could change my mind. God I wanted to lick that cum from her pussy so badly I could taste it - almost at least. To have her father fuck me while I licked her clean... well THAT would have made the night just about perfect.

If there was ever a sign that I was growing older and more mature, tonight was it. I managed to leave the house in my car without giving in to my needs - something that never would have happened even a year or so ago. Yes, my panties were in a pile on the seat next to me and I drove home one-handed the entire way, but the point is I DID drive home.

Now just wait until tomorrow when I told Steve what had happened. Something told me I was about to be well rewarded for my newfound sense of control.

(Jun 04) Chapter 228: Weekend Swap

Story codes: MF oral adultery exhib
Me (26)
Steve - my fiancé (28)
Rob (42) & Eileen (40)

At 42, Rob is an Elder in his church and a respected man within the community while his forty year-old wife Eileen is well known for her charity activities. I'd never met them before but they came across as a nice couple in their bio video. I wonder if anyone at their church knows that Rob and Eileen had been swapping for most of their marriage?

1. Swapping vs. Adultery

When I was growing up my parents provided me with some pretty clear guidelines and morals regarding sex and marriage. Actually my mom was the biggest influence on me as I tended to go along with whatever she dictated. Looking back I can see how that may have contributed to their divorce after over 25 years of marriage but at the same time, it certainly helped during my teens years to have them agree upon such issues, even if behind the scenes there may have been some discontent.

For instance, so far as sex went my parents always encouraged me to basically do what felt good. At first that was limited to just masturbation. Unlike most parents who preach to their children the "sins" of masturbation while they do it themselves behind closed doors, my parents essentially made it a non-issue. So far as they were concerned, if I felt the need, then I should do it. It was really that simple. There was no need, or desire for that matter, on their part for me to put on a show and while SOME discretion was simply being polite, at least I didn't have to run off to the bathroom and lock the door behind me just because I was so turned on my some hunk on TV that I had to do something about it.

Once I started having sex with boys, rather than condemn me or preach to me about the evils of premarital sex, my parents showed more concern about my safety and well-being both physically and emotionally. If I wanted to bring a boy home for sex that was fine with them as they saw it as being better than doing it in the backseat of some car out in the middle of nowhere. My mom even took me to her gynecologist for birth control when I was just fourteen, ignoring the pointed comments from the doctor and insisting on a prescription for me. She didn't even try to pretend it was for problems with my period or the other typical excuses. She made it clear that her daughter was having sex and she wanted her protected. Seems to me the doctor should have been more impressed by her being so protective and less judgmental.

A source of constant amusement and to some extent frustration for me is how people all seem to assume that since my parents practice incest that they must be "swingers", get involved in would and crazy orgies, or otherwise have sex outside of the family boundaries. THAT never happened with my parents during their marriage, well except for a couple of times between my dad and my best friend but she WAS my best friend and practically family as it was.

My mother was always especially insistent that sex outside marriage was adultery - period. Whether both partners consented was irrelevant - to my mom sex was sex and sex outside of marriage was adultery. Because incest by definition is sex within a family and when you marry someone, you essentially marry their family, that means that incest is NOT adultery.

Many people have asked me if I will continue having sex with my father after I get married. Well, those people obviously know nothing about me or they wouldn't have to ask. Just because I marry someone doesn't make me any less of a daughter to my father. A wedding ring and vows do not somehow invalidate my duties and responsibilities as a daughter. I really don't understand why people would think that marriage would have anything to do with me and my father's relationship in the first place. It's not like he's been my lover or anything kinky like that. It's something between a father and a daughter, nothing more or less than that.

For almost my entire life I have assumed that one thing WOULD change when I got married and that was regarding having sex with people outside of my marriage. Having been raised by my rather conservative mother, I believed that sex outside marriage was adultery so once I took my vows then that meant no sex with other people. That's not quite as restrictive as it may seem at first as "sex" is defined as the penetration of a female vagina by a male penis. This blowjobs and such would still be ok, I just couldn't take another guy's dick inside of my pussy.

That was all well and good when getting married was just a dream of mine. Now that I have a ring on my finger and a wedding date all set I'm facing the harsh reality of married life. I love Steve more than I can express and it's not like I even once felt like I was making a "sacrifice" to be with him. At the same time there IS an element of risk and adventure that would be removed from my life. So you can imagine my surprise when Steve first came to me with the idea to swap with another couple. At first I thought he meant it to be like some sort of "last hurrah" before we got married but then I was surprised to find out that he intended this to be an ongoing thing with us even after we got married.

Although I was quite concerned at first, since we were just engaged I figured it couldn't hurt to go along with him in the long term. If I decided I didn't like it, then there would be plenty of time to discuss things between us before the wedding day made it official.

Although the adultery issue was the biggest problem I use to have when it came to the idea of swapping, I have to admit that deep down I've always wondered if I could remain detached enough to watch my husband having sex with a woman not in my family without feeling at least a little bit of jealousy or becoming insecure - especially if she was hotter than me. Now after having had some experience in the matter, I can say that today I feel a love and attachment to Steve that is beyond anything I ever would have thought possible.

Of course it's different watching my fiancé having sex with another girl compared to seeing him fucking my aunt or cousin. Face it, there's nothing threatening when he fucks my Aunt Linda or Kristen because I know they're family and just having fun. Being family there's no "competition" between them and me. Still, when he's fucking other women there are those times I can't help but feel a little twinge seeing the ecstasy on his face as he fucks them, especially when it's someone new and he's giving them his cum in his pussy - cum that normally would have been in mine.

In my defense I think it would be unnatural for me NOT to feel a little bit of protectiveness when it comes to having sex with Steve. The key difference is I know that it's just about sex when he's with them and at the end of the night it's ME that he returns to and it's ME he wants to fuck when we get home. That's sort of our own little ritual in that no matter how tired we may be after a party and no matter how much sex we each had, we still always make love when we get home, even if it's just a quickie.

2. Our Swapping Group

Once we tried it we both agreed that exchanging partners was something we'd to do more often. The key issue was finding other couples. It's not like you just walk up to another couple and announce you want to have sex with them. Thus in the end Steve and I got involved with a swapping group. Believe it or not we were introduced to the group by a couple I knew from church. I'd fucked the husband once a few years ago when their marriage was going through troubles. I'm sort of proud to say that I think I helped them get back together again by allowing him to live out his fantasies and return to his wife with THAT out of his system so to say. Apparently not only did they reconcile but they also started swapping. While I only had sex with him once, we still saw each other each week in church and he knew full well that I was now engaged.

One day after the service he pulled me to the side and asked if Steve and I would be interested in joining a swap group. While I knew their marriage had improved measurably, I have to say I was more than a bit surprised to find out it had improved THAT much! Well it didn't take a rocket scientist to figure out WHY he asked me as he'd been trying to get me to have sex with him off and on ever since the first time. Still, outing aside his intentions I thought it might not be a bad idea to at least give it a try.

So in the end we joined the group. First we had to go through an "approval" process to be sure we weren't just looking to cause trouble and that we really were a couple. They even ran a credit check on the both us and checked our references although of course no mention was made of the real reason why they were being asked about us.

You have to be either married or at least engaged to join our group although I think they have let in a few couples with proven long-term commitments. It's nothing again like Beth's sex parties where the rules are the exact opposite - NO couples and definitely NO married people or at least both can't attend at the same time. Those events are intended strictly intended for singles looking to be selfish and have unattached sex with whoever they want for a night. Granted they can be fun but in the end I have found them to be rather exhausting and unfulfilling as there is no connection between anyone. Sure I get off at them but the next day it's like a Chinese meal - you're hungry for more right away.

Just to emphasize the point, our group isn't a bunch of wild and crazy people looking for all-night swapping parties and orgies. If anything the group membership tends to be on the conservative side. In fact, I was told that it got started by people fed up with the group sex scene and started looking for something more personal with better privacy and security. It's just a bunch of people with similar interests that use the group as a means of contacting people and arranging dates. Think of it like an on-line dating service whose objective is to bring people together, not hold group meetings and interactions.

So rather than having "parties" with lots of people trading around like what happens when I go to one of Beth's extravaganzas, within our group it's always just two couples meeting. Even then I would hesitate to call it even a four- some. The guiding charter is for two couples to swap partners for the evening, enjoy some "strange" sex, and then return home to their "normal" lives and families. So far with one couple we all fucked in the same room but the others have all been situations where we switched partners and then went off to our own rooms for sex. In one case the other wife and I played a little bit with each other but it was more to entertain our guys. Once the men got involved then we split up from there. We've gone to dinner with one couple, a movie with another, and just met at another couple's house once.

Technically there are no rules against meeting with the same people multiple times. We haven't so far simply because we're so new to the group and there are so many options available. So far I wouldn't mind getting back with any of the ones we've met; it just hasn't happened yet.

So far the people we've met have been either around our age or older. By sheer coincidence all of them have had kids but we've never met any of them as that's another cardinal rule - no underage kids can be involved in any way. That's perfectly OK with me but as you might imagine I think Steve wished they were a little more "open-minded" about it (his words, not mine). Actually it really doesn't matter anyway as he gets all he wants of that sort of thing when he's with my dad and aunt.

The one thing about joining the swapping group is that it has kept any suggestions of having sex with more of his friends off the table, at least for now. It's all still pretty new so I'm sure sooner or later the topic will come up again and to be honest, I wouldn't mind so long as he did a better job of choosing his friends.

I've found that I truly enjoy it when Steve watches me having sex with other men. Then again, I've always been an exhibitionist when it comes to sex so that's certainly nothing new. Sure I may be feeling another guy's dick in me but it's always Steve's eyes I lock onto whenever I can. I especially love it when the guy cums in me and I cry out to Steve to tell him how much I love him as my pussy is being filled with another man's cum. Who knows, maybe I'm starting to understand in a small way why his mother likes watching us so much. By the way - she knows nothing about her son's new sexual adventures. I don't get the idea from getting to know her better that she would be very supportive - especially about the kids.

3. Saturday With Rob and Eileen

I'd never met the other couple when Steve told me about the new arrangements. I read their bio. looked at their photo and watched their video. Overall they seemed to be nice people. Eileen looked pretty hot while the husband appeared to be your typical middle-aged guy with a little bit of a belly and a receding hairline. They were 42 and 40 respectively, a few years older than Steve had thought they were when he arranged everything. Rob was some sort of engineer while Eileen sold Jafra cosmetic products and apparently did quite well. Their group bio mentioned kids from previous marriages but all of the photos were of just the two of them. Again, that was perfectly fine with me but I know Steve was more curious.

Give that they and their family were well-known in the Pittsburg area, Rob and Eileen preferred to go out of town for such things and so they suggested Columbus as Rob was an alumni of the university there and knew the city. The plan was to spend the day around the city and then the night in a hotel, returning to Pittsburgh late Sunday morning.

Steve had to work Friday night so we arranged to meet Rob and Eileen around noon or so to allow Steve to get a little sleep before we headed out to Columbus, Ohio. That turned out to work out well as I had a last-minute arrangement to visit a student of mine and her parents on Friday night.

Not surprisingly, we got started a little late. Steve didn't pick me up until almost 45 minutes after noon making us late to Rob and Eileen's house but they were running late as well thanks to some hitch getting their kids to her parents where they were staying the weekend. They didn't elaborate and I wondered if her parents had any idea why she and her husband really weren't taking the kids along with them. I also had my doubts that her parents knew who was going with them out of town either.

Rob drove which worked out best for everyone given his new Chrysler 300M was much more comfortable than Steve's extended cab pickup truck and roomier than my high-mileage Toyota Avalon that I was still driving long after my mom had given it to me way back in my college days. My only issue was his car had a large center console so while I sat in front with Rob, I couldn't snuggle up close as he drove. I can't say the same for the two of them in the back seat!

Steve and Eileen hit it off from the start and they were going at it like two teenagers in heat. Now and then I would glance in the rear-view mirror and I can't say there wasn't just a little bit of jealousy when I saw them kissing and Steve's hand up under her tank top caressing her large breasts. For a women her age they were surprisingly firm and she wasn't wearing a bra. Something told me they were the result of some surgical enhancements. Not necessarily implants but almost certainly a lift.

Just to keep things straight, from the beginning we'd all agreed that for the entire trip we would trade partners and so far as anyone else was concerned, I was Rob's wife and Eileen was Steve's. We didn't really plan to hang around together all that much outside of the car so it wasn't like people would look at us and wonder what the real story was. I suppose people would just assume Rob was dealing with some typical male mid-life crisis and Steve was being taken advantage of by a hot cougar.

It should have taken just over three hours to drive to Columbus but we made a stop in Wheeling, WV at the casino where we played the slots for about an hour. I hadn't been there in ages and I missed the loud sounds and flashing lights. Rob was really nice to me, paying for all my play and not even complaining a little when I lost it all. Then again, the only thing he really seemed interested in was standing behind me and looking down my cami as I played!

I didn't see much of Steve and Eileen while we were at the casino. At one point I even was thinking about asking Rob if they were gambling or had headed for somewhere more private but I figured whatever was going on was between Steve and Eileen was their business. It seemed a little odd at first but I started to get into it after a while as Rob would get talking to other guys and then introduce me as his wife. Since I had my engagement ring on most guys just saw the diamond and assumed I actually WAS his wife. Of course I went along with the act, hugging him and putting my hands all over him like we were newlyweds. I guess in a manner of speaking we were!

Once in Columbus Rob gave us the grand tour. Even though I'd gone to school only about an hour north of the city, I really hadn't spent much time in Columbus and what I did was pretty much focused on a few major shopping centers. Wow, I'd never realize there was so much to see and do! We stopped and did some sightseeing and a little shopping but didn't really have all that much time before our dinner reservations at some Italian restaurant right in the middle of the Arena District. It had such an unusual name even I couldn't forget it - Buca di Beppo. It had what can only be described as an "interesting" decor and I highly recommend it to anyone!

OK, you're probably wondering how many times I sucked his cock during the trip and where he first fucked me in Columbus. Well, I don't mean to disappoint anyone reading this but other than some major flirting and teasing, nothing happened between us so far as actual sex all that afternoon. It's not like we were on a church-sponsored field trip as there was lots of touching and groping but no sex. It wasn't until we split up at the hotel after dinner that I sucked Rob's dick for the first time! So I guess if anything tells you this is a different group to be associated with than most I've been with in the past, that would be it!

In a way I found it incredibly erotic NOT to have sex right away. The buildup and tension that rose throughout the day became incredibly erotic for us both. Steve and Eileen weren't as discreet but then being fourteen years younger than Rob he could afford to cum earlier in the day a couple of times and still have enough to get through the evening. I just loved the way Rob's eyes never seemed to leave me. Indeed, there were a few moments driving around town that I wished they would!

I wasn't wearing a bra and as the afternoon wore on it seemed that my blouse slowly unbuttoned itself until by dinner time it was over half-way undone. My denim shorts weren't quite as short as some I owned but they were extremely tight and I could tell he appreciated my ass from the way he would find any excuse to brush his hand up against it. They were hemmed to make them more "formal" and totally covered my butt but that was all. Put together with my heels and I thought my legs didn't look half-bad either.

After dinner we spent the entire evening at the Hyatt Regency doing nothing but having sex in some form or another. No sooner than we were in the room and it was like Rob was ready to explode. He shut the door, turned around, and there I was already kneeling front of him as I undid his pants and pulled out his dick and went to work without saying another word. I didn't undress or even touch myself as I gave my full attention to his poor dick that must have been hurting from being so hard all day as it was. He didn't last two minutes, cumming faster than a sixteen year-old boy getting his first real blowjob.

"God Kelly, you have NO idea how much I've been wanting that all day," he gasped as he caught his breath while I licked my lips. He'd cum in my mouth for the most part and it took a couple of swallows to get his load down me.

"Oh I think I have SOME idea," I giggled, standing up and using my fingers to wipe the cum from my cheek that had somehow missed my mouth.

I was curious if he would kiss me now but I have to say it didn't surprise me when he didn't. My guess is 90% or more of men have never even tasted cum and of those who have, only a very small percentage have done nothing more than a quick experimentation, let alone tasting it on their wife or girlfriend's mouth or pussy. It's always struck me as odd that men expect women to love cum so much but they never do themselves.

Rather than make him uneasy, I made the excuse that I needed to go to the bathroom to clean up which wasn't entirely untrue. I quickly brushed my teeth and rinsed my face off, then stripped down and wrapped the hotel robe around me. When I went back out into the room, Rob was sitting on the edge of the bed patiently waiting for me. I noted that he had put his dick back in his pants but other than that he hadn't done a thing. He even still had his shoes on!

"Hmmmmmm, figured you wouldn't be so... dressed," I teased him, twirling around in the robe but keeping it shut. It was rather long so it didn't reveal a whole lot.

Rob looked up at me and smiled. The room was so quiet as I waited for him to say something... anything.

"I guess I assumed that YOU would take care of that," he said rather pointedly.

OK, even I can take a hint when it hits me over the head like a baseball bat. I bent down and took off his shoes and socks, then slowly unbuttoned his shirt and pushed it back off his shoulders. He leaned back, supporting himself on his hands to make it easier for me to undo his belt again and unzip his pants. Then he lifted himself up enough for me to pull them off together with his underwear, leaving him sitting naked on the bed. Once again I got a good view of his dick only this time I wasn't in such a hurry to get my mouth around it. Also, it wasn't nearly as hard as it had been a little while earlier.

"Looks like you have your work cut out for you," he said, glancing down at his flaccid dick.

He wasn't teasing me either. It was more like he was telling me something I was expected to take care of.

"Why don't we take a shower first," I suggested.

It had been a long hot day and while I love the smell of a man's sex, body odor wasn't exactly my favorite fragrance. Something told me we wouldn't be going to bed for a while so why not get started on the right foot?

With that I took him by the hand and led him back to the bathroom where I got the water ready. He stepped in the shower and then I dropped the robe, letting him see me naked for the first time.

"Holy mother of God," he whispered as he stared at my nude body. His words were music to a girl's ears!

One thing I always find interesting in such circumstances is to note where a guy's eyes travel when he first sees me naked. For some guys it's the boobs and for others it's the pussy. That covers the vast majority although there are the ones who go for my ass or legs first. One thing that is always true - it's always something below my neck!

"So tell me Rob, how do I compare to your wife?" I asked.

Sure, I was blatantly fishing for compliments but nothing I wanted to apologize for.

Rob raised his hand as if to tell me to stop right there. "Kelly... tonight YOU are my wife and there's nobody else I want more than my wife right now."

Well, if that's the way he wanted to play it, I could live with that. In a way it was a two-edged sword. On the one hand I didn't get my ego fed but on the other, I didn't have to deal with anything regarding Eileen and Steve either. For just a brief moment I wondered what they were doing. Knowing Steve, he was fucking her already. Eileen must have been loving having someone younger like Steve ready and raring to go from the very start.

I stepped in the tub and Rob pulled the shower curtain over and started the shower. At first I tried to avoid getting my hair all wet but soon gave up and let it get soaked. Oh well, if he didn't mind wet hair, then I could live with it as well.

"Love your tits," he whispered in my ear, rubbing his crotch up against my bare wet ass as he reached around me and cupped my boobs, one in each hand.

I could still feel his hairy dick pressing in against my butt although there was still a notable lack of something poking into me.

I reached around behind me and grabbed his dick in my right hand, just holding it while he massaged my boobs and kissed my neck. I was facing away from the shower stream and most of it was hitting him in the back so it wasn't like I was getting a face-full of water.

"Shaved bare... nice," he noted as one hand moved its way down between my legs and started to play with my pussy.

I wondered if Eileen was shaved. She was just a little bit younger than my mom and aunt and neither of them shaved so I wondered if she was following the general direction of her generation or was she trying to be young? Even if she didn't shave she could be trimming it. Personally, I have always found pubic hair erotic in both men and women. I love the feel of it against my face and when a man fucks me I like to feel his coarse pubic hair grinding against my bare pussy. Of course I shaved as that was rather expected of my generation.

"I love the feel of your tits and pussy," he whispered a little louder as his index finger started to press inside of me.

His other hand was squeezing my boob and his fingers were on each side of my nipple, pinching down on it when he would press on my boob and nipple.

"Mmmmmmm, that feels soooooo good Rob," I sighed as he started to rub his fingertip on my clit.

As good as it felt, there was work to be done as well. I reached for the soap and fumbled with the wrapping which was all wet now. I turned and proceeded to wash him all over, paying special attention to his crotch of course. When I was finished he did the same to me. I loved the feel of the wet soap bar against me as he ribbed me all over with it and then allowed the shower to rinse me off.

Even after all this his dick was still hanging down without any sign of recovery yet so rather than spending more time in the steamy shower we decided it was time to get out and he then dried me off with a couple of large towels. One nice thing about expensive hotels... they have the BEST towels! My hair was wet and at first I was tempted just to let it go after brushing it out but I really didn't want to deal with a wet head all night so I took a few minutes to use the built-in blow drier to dry it off. I can't say the results were salon-=quality but at least I was dry again.

"I'm ready to be fucked now," I announced, returning the drier to its holder.

"Well if you want THAT then you'd better get busy while my little blue pill kicks in," he counter from the doorway where he'd been watching me dry my hair.

I then noticed the prescription bottle on the sink. When had he snuck those in? Oh well, it was likely going to be a awhile yet for them to help so why not give it a go on my own?

It wasn't like Rob as the first guy I'd had to deal such with issues. When you're "hobby" is fucking older married guys, such problems come with the territory. The biggest thing was knowing what I was dealing with. For guys there was nothing physical but rather it was literally all in their head - and I mean the big one. A lot of guys try to put on a big act about how they want to cheat on their wives but when the time actually comes to doing it the guilt is so strong that it overwhelms their lust. These guys were the easiest to deal with. Once I had them in my mouth it didn't take a lot to get them to put any of those guilty feelings out of their minds.

For some guys it's simply the age factor. Face it, every year that goes by is one year removed from those glory teen years when it seems they never went soft! Again, these guys weren't usually all that hard to deal with, they just needed some special care and attention coupled with a little patience. Sure they took a little while to recover, but usually it wasn't too long and besides, I enjoyed what it took to get them hard again.

By far the worst was when it was caused by medication they were taking, usually for high blood pressure. Most of those drugs work as blood thinners which have a side effect of making it more difficult to have an erection. Because it's totally a physical problem, no amount of work on my part can sometimes get them erect. Interestingly, what I have learned is that a full erection is not required for a man to cum. I have yet to find a man who, no matter what his erection issues were, couldn't eventually be coaxed to release a load for me. The big problem with those were that they couldn't fuck me. Thus I had to be content with them rubbing against me or just cumming on me. Sometimes I would use their dick to rub against my pussy and essentially masturbate using their flaccid cock like I would a dildo. It would be enough to make me cum and the guys seemed to enjoy it as well.

So now the question was, what was Rob's issue? I immediately threw out the first as he and Eileen had been swapping for some time now and if he was having issues with getting it up with new "wives" then I doubted that he would be doing it with me tonight. I also figured that the third reason was also probably not an issue as again, why would he put himself in such a situation if he knew he couldn't fuck me? So that left the age factor and fortunately I was pretty sure that I could deal with that!

"Why don't we sit on the couch for a while?", I proposed. Rob went along with my idea and took a seat at the end of the small couch. Rather than sit next to him, though, I laid down with my back to the couch and my legs curled under me, my head in his lap with one arm under me and the other draped over his hairy legs.

"So I take it you enjoy sucking dick?" he observed with a hint of amusement in his voice.

I let his dick slip from my mouth and held it in my hand. "Well I guess you could say that," I answered coyly.

"Not that I'm trying to talk you out of it," he chuckled this time, pushing my head back down on his dick rather firmly as if just in case I hadn't gotten the hint. Like I was going to miss THAT!

For the next half hour or so I nursed his dick, sucking on it gently at times, just licking it up and down at others while rubbing it against my face and lips. As my mouth did its magic I played with his hairy balls in my hand, running my fingers through his dense black pubic hair.

It wasn't like he suddenly waved a magic wand and an erection appeared. Actually it took all of the first 30 minutes just to get him to start to react. Until that time he was as soft as ever without a hint of the promise there was to come. Neither of us said anything though as I just remained patient and kept up my end of the bargain... like a good wife should.

It took another fifteen minutes or so from the time I first noticed any sign of an erection until he was fully hard again but thankfully there it was - a nice hard dick once again. I congratulated myself on my accomplishment but he never said a word to me the entire time, just a soft sigh or a groan now and then.

It was almost eleven o'clock by now so I figured the hallways and such wouldn't be as busy as they'd been earlier in the evening. Seeing how much work it took to get him back again this time, I could only imagine what it would take for a third time so I wasn't about to waste this one with just a simple fuck.

"Mmmmmmm, I think you're ready to fuck me now," I said to him, leaning back but still holding his stiff warm dick in the palm of my hand to keep it hard.

"Well have a seat then," he said, reaching out for me but then I pulled back.

"Noooooo, I have a better idea," I teased him, jumping off the coach and motioned for him to follow me. I went to the bathroom and brought out the two robes and tossed one of them to him.

"What the...," he started to ask, confused by my actions.

"Let's go out and do it," I teased with a naughty grin.

"Out?" he asked, obviously still not getting what I was driving at.

"Yeah, like out in the elevator, out in the hallway, out in the stairway!"

"Kelly, you've GOT to be kidding?" he said, apparently thinking I was just teasing him but I was as serious as ever.

"No really, I LOVE to be fucked in public and as my husband, I would think you would want to do me in front of other people."

"So you want us to do it right in front of a bunch of strangers?" he asked incredulously.

I laughed a little and shook my head. "Noooooo, not right in front of them but just where they COULD see us if they had any idea what we were doing."

I wrapped my robe around me, leaving untied so it only hung together as long as I held it closed. Rob put his on as well but he made sure it was tied securely in place. Both robes were the same size so while mine came down past my knees, his was a little more showy. Oh well, it was no worse than people going to the pool in nothing but their bikinis.

Rob remembered to grab the room key card and stuffed it on one of the pockets as I opened the door and stepped outside into the hallway. There was a guy trying to get his door opened a couple of rooms down and he looked at me in my robe and smiled. As tempting as it was to flash him quickly, I held off as Rob was right behind me.

Rob saw the other guy and he quickly looked away, sort of like maybe if he ignored him then he would go away. The elevator was quite a ways down the hall but we made it there without meeting anyone else. I pushed the UP button as we weren't that high up and besides, better to open the doors to one of the room floors than the lobby in case we lost track of where we were.

Once again luck held out and when the elevator finally arrived it was empty. We got in and I pushed the top floor, checking to see that it lit up and then turned to Rob.

"Ever fuck a girl in an elevator before Rob?" I asked him seductively, allowing my robe to fall open.

"I can't believe we're doing this," he sighed. Then it was like something struck him and he started looking around at the ceiling.

"Heyyyyyy, don't these things usually have security cameras?" he asked with a worrisome tone.

"So what?" I responded carelessly, "What do you say we let the poor rent-a-cop enjoy a few thrills?"

Rob clearly was distracted and I was worried in his tender state that he might lose that erection I'd worked so hard to restore. I bent my knees and lifted up his robe, allowing him to keep it fastened a I reached for his dick. Mmmmmmm, thankfully he still had a decent erection going! I quickly took him in my mouth, not wanting to waste any more time.

Rob wasn't exactly like a steel rod but he was firm enough to get the job done so rather than trying to get that last bit of an erection to come back I turned around and leaned over, my hands on my knees as I spread my legs wide apart.

"Fuck me Rob," I said to him over my shoulder as I rubbed my pussy with one finger between my lips, "Fuck your wife in the elevator."

It felt so naughty and hot to pretend to be his wife. For a moment I thought of his REAL wife and wondered if my fiancé was fucking her at this very moment and where he was doing her.

My thoughts of Steve and Eileen were interrupted by the wonderful feel of Rob's dick pressing in against my wet pussy. As wet and freshly fucked as I was, even though he wasn't 100% erect he still slid himself easily into my pussy. For a brief second I wondered if someone WAS watching us from some private security booth. If so, was he masturbating now as he watched this middle-aged man start to fuck his much younger wife?

Just then the elevator dinged and Rob quickly pulled himself out of me. I stood up, letting the robe fall back in place and clutched it around me just in time as the doors opened to allow three business guys to enter. One of them had this special key for the concierge level which he entered, making the floor level light shine brightly. It was the top floor so "our" floor, or at least the one I'd chosen, arrived before theirs.

All the way I could feel the eyes of the three of them practically boring through my robe. Once again I was tempted to give them a quick look but I was afraid that might spook Rob so once again practiced some uncharacteristic restraint.

The doors opened to our floor, or least the one I'd chosen so we got out and let the doors close quickly behind us. There was nobody in sight so I reached back and pushed the call button again. As we waited, I checked around once more and leaned over the table by the elevator, once again offering myself to Rob.

"C'mon Rob, fuck me. Let's not waste any time," I encouraged him.

Rob was clearly a bit distracted by being so exposed but from the way his dick was staying hard indicated to me that he wasn't overly worried. Indeed, it was only a few seconds before I felt that wonderful sensation of his cock back inside of me again.

"This is so cool, don't you think Rob?" I gasped as he held me by the hips and thrust himself quickly in and out of me.

I kept an eye on the hallway. Although I didn't say this to Rob, the reality was we would most likely not have time to hide everything away should someone pop out unexpectedly. God, what if it was a family with kids this time instead of three horny business guys?

Still, THAT was what made this so hot me... not that someone actually saw us but that someone COULD see us.

The elevator dinged, the same one we had just gotten off of so I assumed it must be the same one returning after having dropped out the guys. Unless someone from the Concierge level was returning to their room, odds were it would be empty but Rob wasn't ready yet for that sort of risk. He once again pulled out of me and we straightened up just as the doors opened. It WAS empty and for a moment my pussy tingled, reminding me that it had been unnecessary for Rob to pull out so quickly, leaving it's hunger unabated.

"You wanna fuck in the elevator or do it here some more?" I asked him, holding the door open with my hand.

Rob looked confused for a moment as he checked out the hallway and then looked at the elevator. Each had their pros and cons and frankly, it didn't matter to me which one he chose as we'd already done it in both.

"Let's finish here," he decided, suddenly acting like he wanted to take charge again which was fine with me. I liked it when a man thinks he's in charge. Of course in the end he never really is but it's nice to let him at least think so.

I released the elevator and the doors quickly shut and it was off on its way to its next destination. This time instead of just letting my robe hang open, I dropped my arms and let it fall to the floor in a heap at my feet, leaving me standing there totally nude.

"You have no shame," he teased me but I could see he was starting to get into this more. Still, he wasn't about to take his own off but once again just lifted it up to allow his cock to enter me.

I sighed loudly with pleasure as he buried his dick into me once again while I leaned back against the small table. He was having to bend his knees to fuck me so to my surprise her grabbed my ass and lifted me up on the table. I was afraid it might break as it wasn't very sturdy but he didn't seem to care. All he wanted at this point was a better angle to fuck me. I loved it when a man reached this point to where all his lust and desire for me began to override his common sense and he started to do things he never would have even an hour ago.

"That's it Rob, fuck me," I said firmly as I wrapped my legs around his robe, locking my ankles behind him.

It pulled me in tight into him such that his thrusts were more muted but I loved the way he felt pushing in against me between my legs.

"Oh Kelly, you're so fucking hot," he groaned as he rammed himself into me as deeply as he could. He was close... so close!

For a fleeting moment I wondered what we would do if a door opened in the hallway and God only knew stepped out to take a look at what was going on outside. For once we caught a break and nobody even threatened to interrupt us. What we would have done at this point I have no idea as we were both totally lost in what we were doing. I think an elevator full of people could have opened right now and he wouldn't have stopped for even a second.

"I'm cumming," he said with a grimace. He held himself tightly in me, not even moving for a moment as he closed his eyes and his head dropped back until he would have been looking at the ceiling if he opened them.

Then he jerked and I knew he was releasing himself in me. Again and again he thrust himself into me, each time I knew another load of his cum was leaving his dick and entering me. God I loved it this moment when a man was mating me, filling me with his sperm.

Another thrust, another ejaculation, and he was done. His head dropped and he let out a long breath of air and then sucked in another breath. His eyes opened and he stared into my eyes, then down at our crotches where his dick was still buried inside of me. I looked down myself and marveled at the sight of his lush pubic hair as it pressed against my bare pussy, no sign of the dick that I could feel throbbing inside of me.

I could have predicted what came next. So typical of men! It's like their lust is part of their cum and when they shoot it out, their lust goes with it. One moment he's lost in his fucking of me and the next it was like he was a totally different person. His eyes widened and he grabbed my legs, pulling them from around him so he could pull his dick out of me. His robe dropped down, covering his rapidly deflating cock.

"Shit, this is crazy," he whispered to me, as if that was going to matter after all the moaning and groaning that had been going on just a minute before. He grabbed my robe from the floor and handed it to me.

"Hurry up and put this on before somebody see us," he said quickly, his eyes darting about.

I wanted to say something about how he hadn't cared too much about anyone seeing us a couple of minutes ago but that wouldn't have helped matters.

I put on the robe and this time I tied it up. There was a mirror above the table I'd been sitting on and when I looked in it I grimaced as my hair was a total wreck. I ran my fingers through it, trying to get it to fall into place but it needed a brush badly.

Just then the elevator door opened and sure enough, a whole crowd of people came out all jabbering and talking loudly. They'd obviously been drinking but I doubted that would have mattered had they reached this floor about five minutes earlier! A couple of them gave Rob and me a second look but other than that they ignored us and split off for their rooms. Rob grabbed the elevator before the doors closed and motioned for me to get in with him.

"Damn that was close!" he gasped, pressing the button for our floor, "I hope you're happy now."

I snuggled up close to him and reached under his robe to grab his dick which was now pretty much flaccid. It was still damp though and I knew exactly where that dampness had come from. At the same time I could feel his cum start to drain from me, that feeling of wetness between my legs I get whenever I don't get to clean up right after being fucked.

"Let's wait for the room this time, OK Kelly?" he said, pushing my hand away from his dick. I was tempted to say the hell with that and start sucking it but I didn't think that would go over well at the moment. Rob seemed torn between the excitement of fucking me in the middle of the hotel versus the fright of possibly being caught.

Back in the room the robes were dropped and for the first time we laid in the bed together. Rob was on his back with his head supported by a pillow. I snuggled up next to him, my leg over his and my boobs pressed up tightly against him as I ran my fingers over his chest and stomach. His dick was flopped over and I knew it was useless to even try for a while regardless of how many Viagra pills he had taken. That was OK as sometime I find snuggling up like this to be just as rewarding.

Before long Rob was sound asleep - as confirmed by a steady snore. I flipped on the TV and laid there for another hour or so, playing with Rob's cock and even sucking on it a little now and then just to see if I could get another response. I loved the way his crotch smelled with a mixture of his lust and my pussy.

Finally I just laid back and masturbated one last time before falling asleep. Thoughts of Steve and Eileen ran through my head as my fingers fiddled with my clit and pussy. I wondered if they were asleep yet and how many times he'd fucked her so far tonight. If I knew my Steve he wouldn't have run out of gas after just two loads in her! Did they stay in the room or did they get a little adventuresome as well? God it felt so good to cum!

4. The Next Morning

After one last fuck in the morning, Rob and I met Steve and Eileen in the hotel restaurant for breakfast. It was fun to trade stories over our meal and it seemed like it was all over much too soon. I would have loved to have spent more of the day around Columbus but we had to get back to Pittsburgh by the early afternoon to pick up their kids which didn't leave a lot of time.

All the way back Steve and Eileen were going at it in the back seat. I have to say they really seemed to have hit it off well! Yes, there was just a little bit of jealousy as I heard them fucking but then I knew when things were done and over who was going to get him in bed with her later today! So let her have fun with him for now. Steve was all mine and he knew it!

After Steve and I drove away from their house I immediately attacked him! God, you would think after so much sex the previous night and early in the morning that I would've been somewhat satisfied but if anything the trip back home had all made me all the more horny for my fiancé. Indeed, we never even made it to the house. Instead he fucked me in his truck right there on the side of the street in front of my house. There wasn't really any danger of anyone seeing us but still, when I would hear a car drive by I couldn't help but want to sit up and flash my boobs at them!

Steve was like an animal with me! I was a little worried that maybe after everything he had been doing with Eileen that maybe his sexual energy might have been a bit dampened. After all, he's been fucking her all the way to the last freeway exit! It was at times like this that I realized that swapping was no threat to me or our impending marriage. Heck, if anything I think it strengthened our love for one another. It was like we both wanted to "make our mark" again on the other after someone else had been with them.

After Steve left I took a quick shower and then drove over to my dad's house for a quickie. It's not that I needed to be fucked all that much so much as I felt a little guilty that I'd missed being with him in the morning before church. Still, I figured better late than never. I know he appreciated it.

As I felt my father in me I couldn't help but think that even though mechanically he was doing nothing all that different than either Rob or Steve had in the past few hours yet it was a totally different experience. With Rob it had been all about being sexy and erotic. Pretending to be another man's wife always turns me on. With Steve it was about my love for him and my desire to please him and submit to him as his wife... even I was technically just engaged at the moment.

With my dad it was more similar to being with Steve than Rob yet it was still totally unique. I loved my dad but it was a different love than I had for my fiancé. Yes, I wanted to please my father but it was much more an act of submission than it was when I was with Steve. God tells a wife to submit to her husband but if you take the verses in context, it's an equal relationship. God tells me to honor my father and mother and as such I give myself totally to him without any expectation of the equality of a marriage relationship.

So I fucked three guys over the weekend in three locations under three very different circumstances. Yet I loved each of these experiences in their own way. As I sat at home later that night thinking about the events of the weekend, I marveled at how things had change so much in my life. Just a year ago I never would have even thought that Steve would ever be in my life and now I'm engaged to him. Not only are we engaged but we are swapping with other couples as if we were already married. It's like I'm becoming almost domesticated!

To think that in just two and a half months I'll be married. If being engaged had brought about this much change in my life, what will marriage bring?

(Jun 11) Chapter 229: My Fiancé Dreams of My Cousin Tammy

Story codes: MF oral F-solo inc cousins
Me (26)
Steve - my fiancé (28)
Tammy - my cousin (19)

Steve took the news of my incestual relationship with my father pretty well. In fact, he even proposed to me a couple of days later! Even though he's not exactly thrilled seeing me and my dad together, I suppose one of the reasons he's OK with everything is because it also meant HE can have sex with my family members - assuming they want it. While his eyes have been mostly on my mother's younger sister - Aunt Linda, like most men he can't resist my youngest cousin Tammy. Now she's eighteen, soon to be nineteen, a brand new high school graduate. Even though she has a serious relationship with her latest boyfriend, that wasn't going to deter my fiancé!

1. Dealing with an Engagement and Incest

Incest and marriage are two institutions that would be totally incompatible in The vast majority of families. Not because there's anything wrong with it but more due to the taboos and restrictions engrained in our culture and society - not to mention the legal prohibitions. Now I'm not referring to a husband and wife having incest with their children but rather what happens when the product of an incestuous family marries someone without a similar background.

Indeed, while many men tell me they lust for their daughters, nieces, or others in their immediate families, I really have my doubts as to whether most of them would be nearly as enthusiastic when it came to their wife having sex with her father or brother, let alone his own father or brother. Even those who claim to fantasize about having sex with their own daughters are quick to say they would never actually do such things with them, even if they had the opportunity - just some other guy's daughter.

fact he was so comfortable with the whole thing that he proposed to me just a couple of days later!

To be sure, Steve wasn't the only one that had to deal with potential sexual issues in our marriage. He had a few quirks of his own that I've discovered since I put on his ring. I was raised by my mother to believe that sex outside of marriage is adultery regardless of "consent". The key is, what is adultery? I was raised with the belief that your family is the more important than any individual.

Thus when you marry someone it's not just that person you are vowing to love and honor, it's their family as well. Given that sex is an important part of any relationship, it just follows logically that sex within the family is acceptable as well. Thus so long as Steve has sex only with the women in my family, that is sex "within marriage" and thus is not adultery. It also means I really have no say about who he fucks in my family as once he's my husband it's his right to have sex with them – just as it is mine.

It took me a while to explain this to Steve but through it all I emphasized to him the biblical basis for my beliefs. If nothing else he had the evidence right in front of him to see the results for himself. When it finally dawned on him that I was essentially giving him permission to have sex with the other women in my family, that clinched the deal.

Unfortunately for Steve, not ALL the women in my family are involved in incest – just my mom, my aunt and her daughter and my cousin Tammy. While Tammy has had sex with her brother, father and uncle (my dad), her ultra-conservative mother knows nothing about any of it, nor does her older sister Kate. I've always felt a bit ambivalent about the fact that not everyone in their family is involved but Tammy seems to have made the best of it and if anything she seems more mature and responsible now than her stuck-up older sister.

Steve certainly didn't take long to take advantage of the situation. In fact, he fucked my Aunt Linda the same day we told my dad and her the good news about our engagement in person while my dad was "celebrating" with me. Since then he's done my cousin Kristen a few times although much to her chagrin he shows a definite preference for her mother. However, to his frustration my cousin Tammy has been an elusive target.

I haven't really helped in that so far I hadn't even brought up the subject with her. We really don't see each other a lot but mainly because she has been dating the same guy now for a year and they seem to be getting pretty serious. In fact, my dad hasn't had a chance to fuck her in over a year, almost two. Granted, now that she is approaching her nineteenth birthday some of the lust he felt for her when she was fourteen has dissipated but she's turned into a pretty young woman that I am sure he would still enjoy being with. If nothing else, she's grown the biggest boobs of all of us in her generation!

Earlier I mentioned that I was raised to believe that sex outside of marriage was adultery and thus a sin against God – period, no exceptions, no excuses. Thus for most of my life I begrudgingly accepted the fact that when I finally got married it would mean that I would be 100% faithful to my husband. Even if he was OK with it, I planned to follow my mother's example and refuse to have sex with anyone outside our marriage. Granted, my definition of sex as the penetration of a vagina by a penis leaves a LOT of wiggle room – for instance blowjobs aren't sex technically.

Still, sex is sex and as such it would no longer be an option for me once I took my marital vows. If anything that just goes to show yet another reason why incest can be such a benefit to a marriage. Yes, I would be married but that didn't mean I had to suddenly go cold turkey and restrict myself to sex with one man. There would always be my father, his two brothers and my cousin Rick to satisfy me as the need arose. Then there was Steve's younger brother but I haven't seen him in over twelve years so who knows what's going on there.

That all said, what I hadn't counted on back when I made these decisions were two things. One – my parents' divorce and two – my fiancé's thoughts on the matter. There were a number of reasons why my parent split after over 25 years of what I had always thought to be the perfect marriage. What I didn't know was that while the marital "house" looked perfect from the outside, in fact the foundation had been rotting from the very beginning. My father had always wanted to swing but my mother steadfastly refused, citing the fact that he had plenty of other opportunities for sex within his own family and that should be enough to satisfy any man. Maybe that would've been true for most men but my father has an extraordinarily high sex drive which simply wasn't satisfied by this arrangement.

The second reason, closely related to the first, was I hadn't counted on my husband being so much like my father. Steve made it clear to me from the start of our engagement that he expected us to continue having sex with other people during our engagement and then after we got married – and that meant outside the family as well. So far I've agreed to experiment with him during our engagement but I still haven't made any firm promises for after the marriage.

When I got the invitation to Tammy's graduation party one of the first things that went through my mind was that I wanted to bring Steve and then the second thing was I wondered how he would react to being so close to Tammy. I'd told him everything about what had happened between me and her, as well as between her and everyone else in the family. I even allowed him to look through some of my dad's photo albums - including the "private" ones he kept of her that her mother would never see (or her father). It was really something to see how much she had changed while in high school.

The first photos back when she was just fourteen showed a girl with small perky boobs and a figure that was more promising than delivered. With each year it was interesting to see the changes in her hair - both on her head and between her legs, and see how she had matured into a buxom young women. From the photos it was obvious that she had a wide exhibitionist streak and I teased poor Steve about the growing lump in his pants as we would pause at various photos showing her in different positions doing different things.

"Damn, your dad was one lucky son-of-a-bitch," Steve sighed as I stopped at one of my favorites - her mounted on my dad's dick and just sitting on him with this huge grin on her face.

She was obviously enjoying herself and from my dad's expression the feeling was mutual. I could remember taking the photo with his camera like it was yesterday even though it was one of the first ones I had of her doing my dad, back when they'd only done it a few times.

"You want her, don't you?" I taunted him, rubbing his hardness through his shorts.

"Give me a break Kelly, who wouldn't?" he came back, advancing the slideshow to a more recent shot of her.

She was sitting in a chair on our back deck, one bare leg swung up and over the arm while the other was spread out to the side to give a perfect view of her shaved pussy. It was from last summer during one of her visits to our house so if anything, her boobs were even bigger now than the ones prominently displayed in the photo.

"So say it... tell me what you want to do to her."

Steve just groaned as I worked his dick out of his shorts and started to stroke it with my hand. Mmmmmmm, it WAS obvious what he wanted but I wanted to hear him say it. No matter that I knew what he was going to say, it was so much sexier and erotic for him to say it out loud to me.

I advanced the slideshow to the next one where my dad was doing her in the hot tub with her sitting on the edge with her legs and feet in the water as he fucked her with him standing in the frothy water.

"God I want so bad to fuck her like that," he finally confessed, "I'd love to drill that pussy."

"Well that was the only time my dad has done her in like forever so don't get your hopes up," I warned him. Well, his hopes may or may not have been up but something else certainly was!

"C'mon, Kelly... you GOT to get her to let me bang her," he said, practically begging me now as my hand expertly worked his cock. If practice makes perfect I had to be an A+ student when it came to handling his dick.

"Hmmmmmm, and just what do I get in return?" I responded seductively.

Steve reached over and pushed my head down to his lap. I knew what he wanted and I was only too happy to fulfill his needs as my mouth took him inside. God he tasted so good and I loved the feel of his hardness on my tongue and lips.

Obviously watching my dad's slideshow of his favorite Tammy shots had Steve worked up pretty good. I only had to suck on him for less than a minute and he started to spurt cum into my mouth. I knew he was horny but this was ridiculous!

After he'd finished I sat back up again and opened my mouth, sticking out my tongue so he could see his cum coating it. I started to lean forward to kiss him but he pushed me away.

"You know better than that," he admonished me.

He was right, I DID know better but it never hurt to tease him now and then. It was no different than when he would tease me by rubbing his dick up against my asshole and threaten to press it home. He knew full well that I hated anal but he couldn't resist his feelings sometimes. Just as he didn't actually fuck my ass, neither did I force him to kiss me with my mouth full of his cum. If there was one thing I knew about Steve, he was NOT gay. He claimed that he had never even tasted his own cum and I believed him. The funny thing is that he loves to watch men fuck me so it's not the sight of another naked man that he can't stand, it's just even the idea of in any way touching another guy where he draws the line.

I swallowed the gooey treat down and opened my mouth to prove it was all cleared out but he still wouldn't kiss me and I knew he wouldn't until I brushed my teeth. Oh well, it didn't really bother me that he had this anti-cum fetish, so long as he gave it to me!

After that I knew I had to find some way for him to at least have a shot at screwing my cousin. It was at best a long shot but how would I ever know if I didn't at least try?

The invitation to the grad party said it was to be a beach theme. It helped that my aunt and uncle had this incredible in-ground pool. So many times growing up I'd begged my parents to take me over to cool off. I loved our hot tub and used it even on hot day but the pool was certainly in a league of its own. Over the years I'd always had to listen to my Aunt Sheri bitch and moan over my choice of bikinis. She made her girls wear one-piece suits that looked like throwbacks to the twenties. Eventually Tammy would rebel and try wearing more revealing bikinis which was a constant source of disagreement between them. Fortunately my mom would defend me and if anything, she encouraged me to wear them all the more revealing because she knew it pissed my aunt off so badly. I guess it goes without saying they didn't get along very well.

This would be the first family gathering since Thanksgiving making it the first time I was wearing my engagement ring to such a group. Of course there would be plenty of other people there besides the family - friends of Tammy from school for instance. It would be pretty crowded making anything between my fiancé and Tammy almost impossible but that also meant if something DID happen then it would be all the better under the circumstances.

Steve picked me up as well as Kristen to take us over. Neither of us were ready as he showed up a few minutes early so he waited in the living room for us. Kristen was the first to head down the stairs which didn't surprise me. Steve had sort of become her own personal project. The fact that he was marrying me AND he seemed to prefer her mother over her combined to make him her personal challenge.

What made it funny was that Steve knew what she was trying to do - I'm not marrying no dummy, and he was relentless when it came to teasing her. He'd fucked her a few times when Steve and I had been dating but since the engagement he'd only done her once - and that was with me there as well. Since then she'd practically tried everything but pinning him down and jumping on his cock, without success. Steve thought it was hilarious and he would tell me all about her latest antics later when we were having sex. It was great in that I could tell she turned him on and if anything, I was the beneficiary!

Heading downstairs myself, sure enough there was Kristen sitting in the overstuffed chair across from Steve, wearing one of her favorite thong bikinis with one hand pulling the bottoms over to the side and the other with a finger up in her.

"Ummmmm, something I should know about it?" I asked innocently. Kristen just glared at me as she pulled her finger out and straightened up her bottom.

"Are you SURE he isn't gay?" she huffed, pulling on a pair of tight gym shorts over her thong.

Steve just looked at me and put his hand up as if to say what could he do about it? I didn't blame him. If anything it made me love him all the more as not many men could have sat there and watched such as show without accepting the invitation. Not to mention the fact I got a kick out of seeing Kristen so frustrated. It's not like she was accustomed to being turned down by guys!

I was also wearing a pair of grey gym shorts but I had on a loose tank top over my bikini top. My thong wasn't nearly as revealing as Kristen's but then I already had my guy whereas Kristen was constantly trolling. I didn't mind showing off a bit myself but it was a public party and I wasn't too sure who would be there. Discretion apparently wasn't a part of my cousin's vocabulary.

It was only a few minutes to get to my aunt and uncle's place and from the cars lined up on the brick street it was obvious there had been a pretty large invitation list. Outside the house was a sign that said, "Congratulations Tammy" with balloons. A few other people I didn't recognize were walking up to the house just ahead of us so the door was open when we got there.

Tammy was there to greet people as they arrived and she gave me and Kristen a big hug when we stepped inside. She looked at Steve and for a moment I wasn't sure what was going to happen but then she gave him a big hug as well although there was no kiss. I watched as her boobs crushed yup against him firm chest and I knew he had to feel them against him. It wouldn't have surprised me to see something start to protrude out from his shorts but somehow he managed to keep things under control.

We were directed to the back yard where a small tent was set up with food and beverages. Everyone was walking around, talking and gabbing. Most people were dressed in summer clothes - shorts and stuff, but there were a few in swim suits. For the most part they were like any others you'd see that local pool or beach, that is until Kristen dropped her shorts, exposing her all but bare ass to the world. It was like someone had sounded off a horn as every male pair of eyes looked her way, to be countered by more than a few pointed elbows in their sides by some of the wives who clearly disapproved.

Leaving Kristen to her devices, Steve and I made the mandatory rounds, saying hello to the people we knew, showing off my ring of course to everyone who would look - and even those who didn't seem to care. Everyone asked about the upcoming wedding and it made me realize yet again that it was barely two months away!

Tammy finally made her way to the back and I saw Steve staring at her. It was my turn to poke.

"Don't STARE for god's sake," I hissed at him, "People will notice."

"Why not? Everyone else is looking at her too?" he countered.

He was right but that was more because she was the graduate and not because she was stripping. Indeed, she was dressed relatively conservatively, most likely at the firm direction of her mother. She might have been only days away from turning nineteen but her mother still ruled the house. She was wearing a cute little sundress, light blue with a peasant girl top that showed off her large boobs to their maximum effect, aided by the lack of shoulder straps. She had her had pulled back and the color of the dress accented her skin tone. She was about to be a college girl and she looked radiant!

"Just make sure you control yourself," I warned him, giving him a quick pat on the front but not enough that anyone would notice.

Steve just chuckled and then I heard him drawing a breath again. I followed his gaze and there was my Aunt Linda helping her sister-in-law with the food. She was wearing a nice pair of white shorts, not TOO short but more so than most women in their forties would wear and they showed of her bottom nicely.

"Ok horny boy, why don't you go over and talk to her?" I suggested.

Actually I wanted a chance to talk to Tammy privately but I hadn't figured out how to get Steve to give me a few moments alone. Well, I didn't have to tell him twice and he was heading over to where my aunt was setting out more food and drinks.

Now that I had a small window of opportunity, I went straight to Tammy and when she was finished talking to some couple and moving away I grabbed her and motioned that I wanted to speak to her off to the side.

"Hey Kelly, you're looking good today. Thanks so much for coming to my party. And thanks for bringing that hunk fiancé with you too," she said in a low tone with a sly grin.

She was just being sociable but till, it as an opening and I took advantage of it.

"You know he was staring at you before," I said off-handedly.

"Oh really? That was sweet of him," he said but there wasn't much feeling behind it, more like she was just keeping up conversation.

"So how are things with you and Greg?" I asked. Now THAT brought a smile to her face and she practically lit up like a light bulb.

"He'll be over later, he has to work."

I didn't really know how to broach the subject delicately so I decided to just go for it.

"You know, Steve wants to fuck you."

Tammy's eyes widened and for a moment I think she thought I was just teasing her but then she saw I was serious and her face became more serious as well.

"Ummmmm, I don't know what to say Kelly," she said hesitantly, "Like, that's really cool but I don't do that anymore. You know, Greg and all."

"Not even Rick?"

"Not since last year... He's pretty mad about it but I don't care."

"And your dad?"

"Well you know how I feel about him."

Indeed, I didn't blame her for not fucking her dad any more. He was such an asshole that I'd stopped letting him fuck me years ago and the only time since then was when my dad asked me to so he could fuck Tammy.

"I know about Greg but Steve REALLY wants you," I tried to explain, "I showed him my dad's collection and now it's like all he talks about."

"You showed him THOSE?" she said, suddenly looking a little upset.

"Tammy, he's going to be my husband soon so I didn't think it would hurt," I said, sorry now that I'd mentioned it but all the more committed to seeing this through. "Would you consider doing him just once, just for old time's sake?"

Tammy frowned and shook her head. "I can't Kelly, sorry. I promised Greg I wouldn't do other guys. Plus he doesn't know about my family crap."

I didn't know what more I could say. She'd obviously made up her mind about sex outside of her relationship and I had to respect her for it. Still, it didn't make it any easier for me to have to go back and give Steve the news. There was one last thing I could try.

"Not even a tease?"

Tammy looked at me with her eyes fixed on mine. "What do you mean by that?"

"Well, if you're not gonna fuck him, how about at least letting him see you a bit more? I mean, how about just a BJ?"

Tammy frowned again. "Kelly, I know you claim a blowjob isn't sex but I don't subscribe to that theory. Pussy, mouth, it's still sex."

"So after all I've done for you, you won't help me out even a little bit?" I whined.

Tammy's shoulders dropped and I could see she was conflicted. Rather than push her any further I waited patiently - or not so patiently.

"I'll think about it... OK? No promises."

That was probably the best I was going to get out of her and by then the crowd had moved in towards us and she turned to greet newcomers. I made my way back to the kitchen where my Aunt Sheri was cutting up more vegetables.

"Can I help?" I offered. Inwardly I prayed she would say no as the less time I spent even in the same room as her the better.

"Thanks Kelly, I really could use the help. I don't know where Linda escaped to. She promised me she would help and now she's run off somewhere."

Damn, talk about bad news on all different levels. First, now I was stuck doing a task I hated for a woman I couldn't stand. As if that wasn't bad enough, I had a pretty good feeling as to why my aunt had dropped from sight - along with my fiancé.

For the next half hour or so it was like hell as I cut up things and tried to arrange them on the plates. Of course I could never do it the way she wanted it and everything I did she criticized and complained about but in the end we got the food ready. Just as I was carrying out the last batch my Aunt Linda appeared. From the flush in her face and the glow that seemed to radiate from her I knew she'd just been fucked - and no doubt by my own horny fiancé.

"Tell me you didn't," I said to her when my Aunt Sheri had vacated the kitchen, leaving just the two of us there.

"Do what" she asked, the grin on her face belying any innocence in her reaction.

"You know damn well what - fucking my fiancé."

"Ohhhhhh, you mean THAT!" she said, acting as though she had no idea up until then what I was referring to, "You know, that boy of yours really knows how to please a lady."

"Yes he does but then how would you know?' I teased. She acted as though she was shocked I should infer such a thing and then we both busted out laughing and then we hugged. She sneaked in a quick kiss on my lips but nothing more as we had no idea who might walk in at any time.

I just shook my head in mock disbelief. I should have known this would happen from the way Steve had reacted when he saw her earlier. As to who actually initiated everything, that would have to wait until later to find out but I knew Steve would be anxious to tell me all the details the next time we had sex.

It was time to head out to the pool where a number of guests had gathered and more than a few had already jumped in. It was mostly the kids but a few adults were in the water - including Steve and Kristen. Kristen was riding on Steve's back, her arms around his neck with her legs wrapped around him. There didn't seem to be any funny business going but then that would have been pretty hard with everyone around them. This wasn't like at the lake where the darker water allowed for more interesting things to do with people close by.

Shedding my shorts and top, I laid back in one of the lounge chairs and felt the warm sun against my skin. Memories of some of the things I'd done in this very chair came flooding back - back from days when my uncle hadn't been quite such as an asshole. I knew that my uncle hated my aunt and why they never divorced was always a mystery to me. In the end I figured he was just too greedy and selfish to take the financial hit a divorce would bring. It certainly wasn't because he was afraid of breaking up his family as he treated all his kids like crap. Sometimes I think the main reason he wanted to fuck me and Tammy was more to get back at Aunt Shari. Even if she never found out - and heaven help us all if she ever did, the act of betrayal seemed to get him off as much as the actual sex. Hence some of my memories out here by the pool where it seemed he especially liked to fuck us when she was in the house.

I closed my eyes and felt the warm sunlight drenching me. My thoughts focused on how scared I had been the first time we insisted he fuck me while just being out of sight of the kitchen window where she was doing dishes. I say scared not because I was worried she would be upset - THAT was a given. I was scared for my physical health more than anything as it wouldn't surprise me if she came out with a gun had she any idea of what her husband was doing to his niece and daughter right under her nose.

Just in time I caught myself as I realized my hand was starting to move between my legs. Now THAT would have been interesting - to say the least. Maybe under different circumstances but not with all these people surrounding me, most of who I didn't even recognize. I lifted my head and shaded my eyes with my palm and tried to locate Steve in the pool which was starting to become more crowded as the sun grew even hotter. I finally spotted him with Kristen clinging to him like a leech - albeit a sexy leech. As much as sometimes she frustrated me, one look with those brown doe-eyes and the hint of a naughty pout and she could melt the heart of the most hardened person meaning I never stood a chance.

They seemed to be doing just fine by themselves so I laid my head back down and shut my eyes against the intrusive sun. Finally it just was too bright so I rolled over onto my stomach and crossed my arms under my head to form a pillow. I was distinctly conscious that my ass was on full display but that never had been a problem for me before - and certainly wasn't today. Besides, it wasn't like I was wearing a barely-there string thing like Kristen's.

The sun felt soooooo good on my back and legs. I found myself dreaming about Steve getting out of the pool, the cool water dripping off his muscular frame as he approached me and removed my bikini - first the bottoms and then the top. God I wanted him to fuck me. Mmmmmmm, the thought made me tingle.

4. Steve's Dream Realized

"Kelly... Kelly... wake up, you're gonna burn."

For a moment I felt totally disoriented. I thought I was in my bed and if so, who was nudging me? And why was the sun shining in my bedroom? Then my sleepy eyes slowly opened and I started to focus on the people around me. Oh yeah! I was at Tammy's graduation party. I looked up and saw Kristen kneeling down next to me, her cool hand on my warm back slowly pushing on me.

"Dang it... I must have fallen asleep," I finally managed to say, my voice a bit shaky as my throat was feeling terribly dry.

"Yeah, you've been out like a light," she giggled, "How you can sleep with all this commotion is beyond me!"

"What time is it?" I asked, my eyes still not quite focused. She told me and I quickly did the arithmetic - it had been over half an hour, at least, maybe a little more. Sheesh, she was right; how DID I fall asleep with all the people and noise everywhere.

"Where's Steve?" I asked, sitting up as she stood up in front of me.

Kristen just grinned at me like the cat who'd just eaten the most delicious mouse.

"OK, what's going on?" I asked, my suspicions immediately rising. She only got this look on her when she had some major secret to tell me and she was dying to spill the beans. My cousin was never much of one to keep a secret.

"Oh I'm sure you'll be hearing all about it," she teased. I rolled my eyes at her and sighed, "C'mon, what's with all the secrecy?"

"I promised I wouldn't tell you but since you're forcing me too..."

Yeah right, like I had her arm twisted behind her back.

"Let's just say the guest of honor or your fiancé disappeared for a while... and now he's looking like some kids after getting laid for the first time."

I stared at her, my ears hardly believing what I'd just heard. Damn, what had I missed by allowing myself to drift off like that? I looked around to be sure nobody could overhear me and asked, "So what happened? Did she put out for him?"

Her smile sort of sagged at that point. "Well to be honest I really don't know," she confessed, obviously unhappy with her lack of knowledge, "I was hoping maybe YOU could find out and then let me know all the details."

For a moment I couldn't help but take a bit of delight over her frustration. It had to be killing her not to know what had happened!

"So where are they?"

Kristen nodded her head back towards the house. "Tammy's talking to some of her friends and I think your boyfriend is hitting on my mom again. Guess once wasn't enough."

"Fiancé," I corrected her.

"Whatever!" she huffed, walking away from me with that.

I grabbed my shorts and headed for the house where I found Steve in the kitchen with my two aunts, helping with the dishes of all things. Wow, he must have REALLY been horny still for my aunt as if there was one thing he was not, it was domesticated. Steve's concept of dishwashing was to run them under the sink to get the big stuff off and then overloading the dishwasher.

"Ummmmm, honey... can I see you for a moment?" I said after I stepped in the kitchen.

"Watcha need Kelly, sort of busy right now," he replied, grinning at my Aunt Linda who just rolled her eyes upward and handed him another dish to clean.

"Out here... NOW," I said a little more forcefully. My aunts looked at each other and for once they both grinned together.

"Boy Steve, looks like we know who's calling the shots in this marriage," Aunt Linda cracked, a naughty grin helping to make it not sound so intense.

Steve just shrugged at them and retorted with a grin, "The things a guy has to do to get laid."

My Aunt Linda laughed at that one while my Aunt Sheri got this funny look on her face like she really didn't know how to react. In any case, I took advantage of the situation and motioned for him to come out to the back with me. Once out there I turned to him and with as stern a face as I could muster, asked him, "OK buster... what the hell went on between you and Tammy while I was passed out by the pool?"

Steve licked his lips nervously and then the corners of his mouth started to rise in a grin.

"Would you believe me if I said I fucked her?"

"No, I wouldn't. Try again."

Steve raised his eyebrows at that and came back with, "Why do you say that? Don't you think I had a shot at her?"

Rather than answer, I let my silence send the message. Finally he broke into a huge grin, looked around us real quick to be sure the coast was clear. "OK, OK, so she wouldn't let me... not that I didn't TRY, mind you. All she did was suck me dry. Damn that girl must have an internal vacuum system running in her belly."

Great, and I had to be sleeping and miss it all.

"So where the heck did you do it?" I asked incredulously. Like the place was packed so where had they gone to get the necessary privacy.

"Downstairs in their bedroom, nobody was there," he said matter-of-factly.

"So she really sucked you?" I asked again, needing to hear it at least one more time before I could believe my ears.

"Like I said, she took it in her mouth and never let it go until I'd finished cumming and then she swallowed it all down without so much as a peep. Damn she was incredible. She even let me strip her before she did it. Shit, those photos your dad has don't do her justice, that's for sure."

"But you didn't fuck her," I asked just to be sure I had it straight.

"No but it was close. After I stripped her she let me eat her out and then I tried to get it in her but just as I started to push she backed away. Damn Kelly, I was like THIS close!"

"Well maybe next time," I tried to console him.

Steve frowned and he looked a bit rueful. "I don't know about that. She said she was doing this just once for you and to make sure I told you that. What the hell did you two discuss anyway?"

It was my turn to keep a secret so I just smiled at him playfully and let his imagination do the work for me.

"You owe me one," I informed him.

"Yeah, I guess so," he sighed, his eyes getting this faraway look in them.

With that we said goodbye to Tammy and my Aunt Linda and my dad. Kristen said she would get a ride back from her mom so that left just me and Steve – perfectly fine with me as I intended to cash in my IOU as soon as we got back to my place!

I told him that it was fine with me so long as he kept it to himself and didn't involve me. SO I guess he must have thought he shouldn't say anything to me but that was assuming of course that I wasn't going to be involve. So evidently things must have been going well and I wouldn't have put it past my dad to conspire with my fiancé to get me back in the mix again.

The one thing that didn't work out with the timing was my cousin Kristen. Surprisingly she wouldn't be coming. I say I was surprised because the sort of thing my aunt was cooking up was right up her alley. Unlike me, she was the one who was always looking for a young dick to fuck and in this case there would be two of them. The problem was that she was working with her mom now to sell homes and in summer almost every weekend they had at least one or two open houses and one of them had to be there for it. As I spoke with my aunt I could just imagine how jealous she was going to be. I can't say that didn't make me smile. It was only fitting that for once she was the one left out since it seemed all my life she was always the one I tried to keep up with.

The next time I saw Steve I gave him a bit of a hard time about letting my aunt do his dirty work. He seemed rather embarrassed – as he should have been. Like, so many times guys try to hide things from me and it turns into a mess when if they had just told me up front then everything would have been fine. It was like the time way back when I tried escorting and quite after being raped. I only call it rape because the guy didn't tell me before he tied me up that he had several friends waiting in the adjoining hotel room to fuck me and I wasn't given any say in the matter. Now if he had talked to me ahead of time about it I probably wouldn't have had any problems – it was the not telling me part that made it bad. That's also probably why to this day I hate being tied up for anything.

So anyway, we needed to get an early start as with the holiday it would be crowded. It wasn't the lake so much that my dad was worried about but rather the ramps. Sometimes you can waste an hour or more just waiting your turn to get the boat in the water if you get here too late before the crowds show up.

Steve stopped by my house to pick me up right from work. He had managed to talk his boss into letting him out an hour or so early so he wouldn't delay us. I was waiting for him with my bag and ran out to the curb to get in as soon as he pulled up and in a few minutes we were at my dad's place where he had the boat already hooked up to the SUV and ready to go. My aunt had packed some food for lunch. Steve stared at her when she came out of the house – as he always does. Of all the women in my family he can fuck, he really only seems to care about her. Maybe if my mom was closer he might like her more often but for now, my Aunt Linda was the only older woman in my family who was available and he took full advantage of the opportunity. It also didn't hurt that she was wearing tight short denim shorts that barely hid her butt along with a tied up short for a top that was unbuttoned and did little to cover her boobs from sight. Unlike me, she didn't seem to have her bikini top on underneath it - or at least it wasn't much of a bikini top if she did.

"You really don't have to stare at her you know," I teased my fiancé, "It's not like you're not going to never see her again."

Steve poked me in the side playfully and grinned saying, "What's the matter babe, jealous of your own aunt?"

THAT earned him a sharp poke in the side and I just huffed and went over to kiss my dad good morning.

"Looking good this morning," my dad greeted me after we had finished a nice long hello kiss.

My dad patted my butt and added, "Working out lately? Your ass looks great in those shorts."

I just smiled and gave him another kiss, this time making sure my tongue worked its way into his mouth. He knew better than that. While I knew I SHOULD be working out, other than an occasional workout on the elliptical machine at home I never seemed to find the time - or the ambition, to do much more than that. Someday I will probably pay for my lack of discipline but for now so long as my shorts fit me the way this pair did, I wasn't going to kill myself.

Soon we were on the road, me and Steve in the back seat with my dad driving and my aunt acting as copilot. Poor Steve, he was tied after having worked all night and from what he told me, it had been a busy Friday night on top of things so he was nodding off almost from the time we left the driveway. By the time we were on the interstate ramp his head was back and he was sound asleep.

"Looks like lover boy is sack out," my aunt remarked as she twisted in her seat to look back at us. I just shrugged. It was going to be a long day so it was probably best that he get some rest on the way down.

For the next half hour or so we just drove on silently, everyone pretty quiet with Steve sacked out. At least he wasn't snoring. My dad pulled off the highway long enough for us to drive through a MacDonald's drive-thru but other than that we stuck to the highway on our way to West Virginia. Inevitably I got bored and when I

"Will you guys be quiet... Steve needs his sleep," I returned in as quiet of a voice as I could yet still be heard over the sound of the SUV going down the highway.

"Your point being?" Aunt Linda teased me.

I knew what she was hinting at and to be honest the thought had already been running through my mind for some time now.

"You just want to watch," I teased her right back.

"Again... your point being?" she shot back with a bigger grin than ever.

If there was one thing my aunt was, if you ignore the young boy thing, it was a voyeur. She had loved watching her daughter with guys as she grew up, finally allowing one of her boyfriends to take Kristen's virginity when she was fourteen but by then she was a virtual pro at sucking cock. Whenever I would come over to be with my dad, especially Sunday mornings for our traditional pre-church fuck, she always made it a point to watch. It was not anything like Steve's mom watching us. Steve's mom just watched without saying a word or doing anything. My Aunt Linda would strip down and watch us naked (which she was 90% of the time at home anyway), masturbating and commenting the entire time.

I looked at Steve again and my pussy practically cried out for his dick. Still, I didn't want to wake him but then that didn't mean I had to totally put aside my needs. With his cargo pants being so baggy it wasn't all that hard to unzip them and work his dick out. It was totally flaccid so I guess that meant he wasn't dreaming about me!

Looking back at my aunt, I saw she has turned in her seat and was now on her knees looking over the back of the seat so she had a clear view of what I was doing.

"Bet you can't get him off before he wakes up," she challenged me.

I didn't answer but just smirked and turned my attention to Steve's limp dick. Oh it could be done, I'd proven that on other guys in the past. What I didn't want her to know was that so far I had never gotten Steve to cum when he was sleeping. Sure I'd toyed with his dick and sucked it numerous times while he was out but so far he'd always woken up just before the finale.

Reaching out with my tongue, I tentatively touched it to the tip of his dick and then put just the head in my mouth, sucking on it gently. Letting it out, I turned and looked up at him but there wasn't one ounce of movement on his part. That was a good sign as I'd learned so long ago that if a guy was going to wake up then typically he did right away as soon as I started sucking on him.

His cock was so soft it was hard to keep it upright to suck on it but I held it as low as I could and kept it in my mouth, using my tongue more so than my lips to stimulate him. I was rewarded soon by the first feeling of his dick in my mouth as it barely twitched. Not much but at least a sign that it was waking up while its owner stayed sound asleep. I could smell the male aroma of his crotch as I moved my head down further onto his slowly hardening cock. He had come straight from work with no time to shower so it was pretty strong but it didn't bother me at all. It just confirmed he was my man... all man.

Because I had to be so gentle with him it wasn't like his cock was stiffening at the usual rate but it WAS growing ever so slowly. As it began to grow it thickened and started to stand up on its own meaning I didn't have to worry so much about supporting it at the base. The head swelled and I loved the way it felt as I ran my tongue around it and under the base. Steve especially loved that and I had to be careful because I knew it really got him off to be licked there and I didn't want him to wake up - not yet at least.

It seemed like ages but finally I had him about totally erect. I was just starting to take him all the way in when my dad hit a particularly large bump, forcing Steve's dick into the back of my throat when I wasn't expecting it. I felt myself gag and I quickly pulled up my head off his dick and coughed several times. I thought for sure with all the nice that Steve would wake up but he didn't even twitch. Wow, he must have REALLY been tired. Poor guy!

I lifted my head up further and turned to the front where my aunt was watching intently but not saying a word. She knew better as if she woke up Steve then I could declare foul play.

"Dad! Watch the road, will ya?"

I saw my dad looking again the in the rear view mirror which I noticed had been angled so he could see what was going on in the back seat rather than in back of the SUV.

"Sorry babe, not like I can make any quick moves with the load in back."

I knew that but I felt I had to say something anyway just in case Steve had woke up. Giving road head could be iffy under the best of circumstances when the road was in bad shape and trying not to wake up your partner was all the more difficult.

I went back to Steve's dick and once again took it in my mouth. Normally IO would be stroking it and sometimes just licking it up and down the shaft but when you're trying not to wake the guy up it sort of limits your options. All that stuff they love when they are awake which is why it tends to wake them up when they're sleeping.

Steve was hard as a rock now and I started to take some risks to get him to cum. It was a classic compromise between working his dick too hard and wake him up or not hard enough and he never cums. If it's the first time you're doing it to a guy then you have to just take chance but I'd sucked this particular cock hundreds of time and felt I knew it's characteristics pretty well.

Just as I was starting to think I wasn't going to make it I felt his cock jerk and then the first taste of precum coated my tongue. That was quickly followed by a full load of cum and then several more. I wanted to swallow after the first couple but he was cumming too quick so I just let his dick out until just the head was in my mouth to make it easier to hold it all. Then when it was done I finally was able to swallow it all down in a couple of gulps. Looking up, my heart sank as I saw his eyes were open and he was looking at me. Damn!

"Now THAT is how a guy should wake up every day!" he said in a voice still hoarse from sleep.

I looked back at my aunt to get the referee's call. Did he wake up before, during, or after he had cum in my mouth. Even though she had an interest in the outcome, I trusted her to give me an objective answer.

"I don't know Kelly, it was hard to tell," she said with a shrug, do you say let's call it a tie?"

Had it been Kristen, or anyone else for that matter, I would have taken that to mean he had woken AFTER I had made him cum but My Aunt Linda can be honest to a fault so I had to take her at her word. I looked back up at Steve who was winking at my aunt. Now what did THAT mean?

"Are we not sharing this morning?" my aunt complained. I knew what she wanted - some of Steve's cum. Unfortunately I had swallowed it all so there wasn't any for me to give her. Opening my mouth and sticking out my tongue, she looked genuinely disappointed!

By now we were only a half hour or so from the state park so Steve started to put his cock back in his pants. For a moment I was tempted to have some more of it but then I knew he had a long day ahead of him and a lot of women would be wanting his cock and sperm so I'd better leave him be.

After I had my shorts back on I scooted over to be next to Steve and he put his arm around me with his hand cupping my boob - his usual position when he could get away with it. I started thinking and called up to my aunt asking, "Hey Aunt Linda, you gonna tell us just what is all going on today or what?"

So far she had divulged that we would be meeting with another family with three kids - two boys and a girl but that was about it. Of course under the circumstances I assumed that meant they all would be involved so I was wondering just what I was getting myself into.

"Didn't I already tell you?" she answered but then she couldn't help but crack up and laugh, "Alright then, if you MUST know."

She explained to the three of us that we would be meeting a family that she and my dad had never been with before. They were new to the area, having moved in from Arkansas with glowing recommendations from the group they were part of down there. We would be the first people they would be meeting with since having been transferred to the Pittsburgh area which I thought was pretty cool.

Basically it was a family of five. The husband and wife (Wayne and Nancy) were 38 and 37 respectively. He was a doctor and she was an RN so it was no surprise they had met at work. They had three kids: Dale was the oldest at fifteen, followed by Courtney at thirteen with Jason the youngest was just twelve. She broke out a photo of them that looked like it had been taken at a studio and from the looks of them they could have been any one of hundreds of families you see at church or school. Wayne looked quite handsome but my eyes were on Dale and Jason while I had no doubt that Steve was seeing only Courtney. She looked cute with curly blonde hair and a smile that would have charmed the spots off a leopard.

"So anything we need to know about?" I asked.

My aunt just shrugged and answered, "Nothing special I guess. Face it, people who do this sort of thing usually don't have all that many rules."

I wondered if she meant that applied to us as well. Well, I for one DID have a few rules like no anal or anything to do with potties or bondage so I hoped she had told them already so we wouldn't have to go into it when they got here.

"So what do you think horny boy?" my aunt teased Steve, "You want the mom or the daughter... or both?"

Steve just rolled his eyes and took the fifth but I knew the truth. It was only Courtney that held his interest. For whatever reason he preferred by aunt over my cousin but other than that if I REALLY wanted to get Steve horny all I had to do was talk about fucking a teenage girl. At least I mean I had learned that just a few months before as I had always assumed he was interested in the older ones.

For me, while Wayne looked handsome if I was going to do this then I was going to go for it and take both boys if I could. Normally I would have loved to have fucked a married man but in this case not only his wife but his entire family knew he fucked women besides his mother so that sort of deflated the balloon so to speak when it came to my interest in him. If I was going to do this then I wanted it to be something special and that meant fucking the boys instead of the father, or at least that was my preference.

We chatted about them a bit more and suddenly it was like we had magically made it to the entrance of the park. My aunt said she had arranged for them to meet us at the boat ramp and they knew what our SUV and boat looked like so hopefully they would be there already.

Sure enough, no sooner than we had pulled in line for the ramps (thankfully there were only six boats ahead of us), a guys walked up and I immediately recognized him from the photo.

"John and Linda?" he asked my hand, extending his hand, "I'm Wayne. Nice to meet you all."

Everyone was introduced to him and he pointed back to another SUV parked in the lot where I could barely make out his family unpacking things.

"We staked out a table by the beach that looks pretty good, figured we all couldn't fit on the boat at one time," he explained.

That was actually pretty good as there were so few tables and once they were gone they pretty much were taken for the entire day. Well, so far so good.

My dad and aunt stayed with the boat while Steve and I grabbed out picnic stuff and cooler and followed Wayne back to the beach area. Soon we met the rest of the family and introductions were made again.

My immediate reaction was trying not to let my mouth drop open. Nancy could have passed for a younger twin of my aunt with the same facial features, hair color and height. The difference was highly visible in that her chest had to be at least a DD whereas my aunt was more a solid C. Plus, being a few years younger there were a few less wrinkles although Linda was pretty well preserved still.

Wayne and the boys all were dressed in the typical long swim shorts that everyone seems to be wearing these days. Wayne was about ten years younger than my dad and was in great shape. Dale, the older son, seemed a little shy, hanging

I could see Steve and my Dad's shoulders slump as I knew they both were hungry for Courtney but they were not going to argue. We had all day and sooner or later they would be doing her.

So me and the mom went out with my dad, fiancé and her oldest son. It wasn't exactly the perfect match but to be honest, this early I was horny but I was also excited to get some skiing in before the lake got all crowded and choppy.

My aunt actually looked a little disappointed as well. I think she was looking forward to having both sons to herself with their dad their so serve as lookout or maybe even just a bigger dick if she felt the need. The other thing I noticed was that the two sons definitely looked pleased that their sister would be with them. That was interesting as the intent of this day was to be with other people yet they seemed more interested in their sister than me or my aunt. As for little Courtney (she couldn't have weighed ninety pounds soaking wet), she didn't seem to care one way or the other.

I dropped my shorts and left them at the table, revealing my bikini bottom for the first time. It wasn't anything close to being as revealing as what Courtney was wearing but it finally seemed to get the attention of Dale and his dad. Once again I noticed that Jason seemed more interested in his sister than any of the older women.

I waved goodbye to my aunt as the first group to go out on the boat started walking back to the dock.

3. Topless Waterskiing

Steve helped my dad to get the boat pushed away from the dock as my dad started the engine and backed away from the dock. Nancy and Dale took a seat next to each other on one side while Steve hopped in and sat down next to me as my dad looked back to check we were all OK and then gunned the engine to take us quickly out to the center of the lake. It wasn't long before he idled the engine and came back to help with the ski equipment.

"Who's first?" he asked but he knew better than to even ask. I may be a total klutz in every other sport but this was one thing I knew how to do and I couldn't wait to show off for Steve.

I reached for the life jacket and started to put it on when I thought better of it. Reaching behind my back I pulled off my bikini top and stood there topless. My dad and Steve just grinned and I felt a little better to see that Dale finally perked up a bit at seeing a new pair of boobs.

"Very nice Kelly," Nancy remarked, like she was passing judgment on my latest arts and crafts projects but then she was trying to be nice.

"There's a lot of boats out, sure you want to go out like that?" Steve asked although her had to know the answer already.

I pulled on the life vest and snapped the buckles together. "Like who can tell anyway?" I returned, "Now if I took my bottoms off then maybe..." as I let my voice trail off and pretended to start dropping my bikini bottom. Poor Dale must have thought I was really going to do it because he perked up but then seemed disappointed when he realized I was just teasing.

Soon I was up on the slalom ski, my dad running boat in lazy figure eights to let me cross the wake and have fun. We passed by a number of other boats and I found myself wishing I didn't have to wear the life vest as even though there was nothing underneath, there was no way anyone could tell.

Watching the boat ahead of me, I saw Dale take up residence on the stern while Steve turned his attention to Nancy. Even with my attention focused on not falling down I couldn't help but keep an eye on them. Nancy wasn't wasting any time as she was on her knees with her head buried in my fiancé's lap. I had a pretty good view from the rear but anyone passing by on either side wouldn't have seen much if they weren't really looking for it. Even then it would have just been the top of her head that was visible.

It didn't take too long for my arms to tire and I signaled to Dale who called up to my dad to stop the boat. The motor died down and the line slackened allowing me to gracefully sink into the water like a diving submarine. My dad carefully circled back and put out the ladder for me to get back in. Meanwhile Nancy still had her mouth on my fiancé's dick, not even looking back as I stepped back in the boat soaking wet and dripping water everywhere.

"Wow, you ski really good!" Dale gushed as I took off the life vest and sat down next to him topless.

"You wanna try?" I asked him.

He didn't seem to hear me as his attention seemed to be focused on my bare chest. I looked over and Steve just shrugged as Nancy kept on her assault of his dick. He gave me a thumbs up which I interpreted as his judgment of my skiing ability more so than Nancy's cock sucking skills.

later and I was mounted on his teenage cock like a corn dog on a stick at the state fair.

We were slowly being pushed across the lake by a breeze which actually worked to our advantage in that it took us out of the main path that boats were taking. From my seat on Dale's lap I had a great view of the main lake and I watched as other boats went by at a distance but none of them seemed to take any notice of what was going on in our boat. The three-some up front was pretty much out of view anyway by the sides of the boat. Even perched in Dale's lap I wasn't that much higher than the gunwales so someone would have had to drive by pretty close to see I was topless given the way I was bent forward as I bounced slowly on his super-stiff cock.

As I was being fucked by Dale I watched the three people in front of the boat as Steve was still fucking Nancy. As I watched Steve's cock moving in and out of Dale's mom, I could feel Dale's dick in me. I found myself thinking about how it felt so many years ago when Steve's dick was just sixteen years old and I would sit on him just as I was doing to Dale's right now. Back then his was still the only dick that had ever been in me and I could still remember the wonder and amazement I would feel as he penetrated me and I could feel him inside of me. I wondered if someday I wouldn't be the mother being fucked by my daughter's fiancé and my daughter might be riding some kid's dick in full view of everyone.

Steve was the first to cum which wasn't surprising given how long Nancy had been sucking him before he started fucking her. He pulled out and shot it all over her bare ass and back which sort of surprised me given he virtually never pulls out of me when he cums.

Nancy and my dad sort of traded places at this point with her sitting in the chair with one leg over each of the arms, spreading her thighs apart sand giving a great view of her trimmed pussy. That view only lasted a few seconds though as my dad quickly stepped forward and pushed his dick into her and started fucking her right off the bat.

Meanwhile it was time to get more serious with Dale so I sat up and let his dick flop out of me. I turned and sucked on him, tasting the sweetness of my pussy that covered him. Then it was my turn to take a seat. Turning sideways facing the front so I could keep an eye on things, I put on leg up on the gunwale and the other over the side onto the deck. Dale was obviously not your typical sixteen year-old in that he knew just what to do with me in this position and soon he had his cock back into me, pumping it in and out in a steady motion. He didn't last much longer now that he was doing the stroking and he started to pull out but I growled at him, telling him he had better stay in me if he ever wanted to fuck me again.

Well, one good thing about a sixteen year-old, besides a did that never goes soft, is they listen to demands pretty well, at least now that I am ten years older than them. He pushed himself in to me hard, burying the full length of his dick into me and then started to grunt as one load after another of warm cum was released inside of me.

That left just my dad although I would have bet good money that had I worked a bit on Dale he would have been fucking me as good as ever before long. There was a long day left to go yet though so why push the issue? Meanwhile Steve had pulled his trunks back on as did Dale but I sat on the seat naked and watched as my dad fucked Nancy. She was a moaner, that was for sure!

Just as my dad was about to cum he pulled out and pushed Nancy's face towards his cock. At first she resisted but he grunted, "Take it bitch." It wasn't said to be nasty, more out of lust which was fortunately how she took it. She dutifully opened her mouth just in time as my dad squirted cum all over her face and tongue.

"Like seeing your mom get it like that?" I asked Dale, trying once more to illicit something from him. He just nodded... so much for THAT idea.

"C'mon Nancy, jump in with me and wash off," I offered as I took a quick step and hit the warm water.

Nancy didn't hesitate, jumping in next to me and we treaded water until my dad tossed in a ring for us to hang onto.

"Nice way to start the day," I said to her as she rinsed her face off in the warm lake water.

I got in behind her and rubbed her back and bottom to scrub off the remains of Steve's cum. For just a moment I reached down lower and let my fingers trace their way down her pussy slit.

"Now don't start something you can't finish," she said to me slyly, not making any effort to stop me. It was tempting but then I was sort of anxious to get back to shore and see how my aunt was making out.

It WAS a nice way to get things started. I enjoyed Dale fucking me although I have to say it really wasn't all that special. Actually, what made it better was him fucking me in front of his mom, knowing he had probably fucked her himself not that long ago.

"So now what?" Steve asked, sounding a little dejected with the crowd all around us, "I can't believe how many people are around here today!"

Nancy sat down on the table with little Jason next to her. She put her arm around him and he reached around her, hugging her. They looked so cute together, so much in fact that it was hard to imagine that he was fucking her - or at least I assumed so.

I turned to Steve and kissed him. Then I looked around and whispered in his ear, "I need you in me... NOW!"

Steve grinned but then turned serious. "That's great, but where?"

I turned and pointed towards the beach. Steve looked puzzled.

"You DO realize there's like a thousand people down there?"

I huffed with exasperation. "Not the beach silly... duh!"

Steve is really a pretty smart guy but sometimes he can be totally clueless I swear. I just stared at him and he looked again in the direction I had pointed. Then he just shook his head.

"Sorry Kelly, you've got me this time. What the hell are you talking about?"

"There's a whole lake out there dummy," I finally blurted out, huffing rather melodramatically.

"Yeah but there's a thousand people in the water too," he argued. OK, so he exaggerates at times but there WERE a lot of people around.

"Yeah and so who's going to notice us then?" I reasoned.

I could almost see the gears moving in his head and then his eyes brightened.

"Oh no... you've GOT to be joking," he started to stammer.

"C'mon stud, you wanna fuck me or not?" I said, grabbing his hand and dragging him towards the beach. Nancy just sat there with Jason, running her hands though his hair. They looked so sweet together. Oh well, that was something to worry about later. Right now I had other things on my mind.

The so-called "beach" was a far cry from those beautiful scenes you see in the cruise portfolios. It was really a cleared out area of the lakeshore that looked to have had a few tons of sand trucked in. There was a large area that was roped off to keep people from swimming out into the lake where they could get hit by boats. A wooden raft was anchored where a large crowd was gathered. Other than that it was pretty much just an open area of the lake that had been cleaned up a bit to make it nicer to swim in. The trick was to find an area that was crowded but not TOO crowded yet at the same time not TOO open or we would stand out.

Steve was still holding my hand as we started into the water. He was looking around at all the people and I could clearly see that he was a little anxious.

"You're sure about this?" he asked in a low voice.

If anything, the sight of all these people had me more horny than I'd been all day. I couldn't help but notice the stress of some of the guys on the beach as I walked by, even if I wasn't wearing my naughtiest bikini by any means. I especially appreciated the looks from the dad with their kids, trying not to be noticed by their wives when they looked at me but still doing their best to get in as many looks as they could.

"Oh yeah.. I'm sure," I giggled back to him.

We slowly worked our way into the warm lake water. With all the commotion the water was murky and I couldn't see my hand more than an inch below the surface. Well, that meant nobody else could either.

Once we were in to where the water was just up top my boobs we stopped and checked out the area around us. Even though I had tried steering us to a relatively calm area, there were still people everywhere of all ages. The water was too deep for any really young kids but there were a few that seemed to be more adventurous than the others.

"Well, I guess this is as good a place as any," I declared as we came to a stop.

"Kelly... there is like a million people around us still, we can't do this here," Steve tried to say, turning to start heading back to shore.

"Oh come on, whose going to know?" I shot back at him rather sternly this time.

With that I reached down and dunked myself in the water, slipping my bikini bottoms off before I surfaced.

"Here... put these in one of those pockets and don't you DARE lose them," I warned him as I handed him my panties bunched up in a ball in my hand.

Steve took them and shook his head in amazement as he reached down to stuff them in one of his cargo pant pockets. That left me standing there totally bare-bottomed as kids and adults would pass by within a few feet of me. I felt a twinge as I tried to imagine what it would be like if the this was happening in a clean and clear pool instead of a muddy lake.

"Soooooo, are you gonna do me now or what?" I taunted him, sinking down until the water was over my shoulders and then reaching forward to fish his dick out of his shorts.

had to think, "There's NO WAY they can be doing THAT!" and so went on their way. Imagine if they knew we really were doing it!

"You like this Steve... you like fucking me out here in the middle of everyone?"

Steve didn't answer but instead just gave me an extra hard thrust so I took that as a "yes". It really wasn't all that long since he had fucked Nancy so I was starting to wonder when he was going to cum. As much as I loved doing this where we were it wasn't like it was the most comfortable position in the world. Steve has fucked me in a pool in the shallow end where I could float on my back while he fucked me and that was a whole lot easier. Doing it now submerged up to my neck was crazy because of the crowd around us but not exactly the easiest way to fuck.

"Getting close," Steve suddenly said and I could see the expression on his face as he approached his orgasm. He sighed and pulled me up to him, letting me hug him again as he started to pump his sperm into me. I looked over his shoulder and saw two boys swimming by just a couple of feet behind us without a clue that had the water been clearer they might have seen two people fucking for the first time ever - at least besides on the internet.

It felt so good to be so close to Steve. I had my legs wrapped around him while he supported me with his hands under my bare bottom. My boobs were pressed in tightly against him with just the thin fabric of my bikini top separating us. I could feel him jerk a little as he came in me and I tried to imagine how it must look inside of me as his cock shot out each load of his sperm into me.

After he came I slipped off his dick and stood there in front of him smiling. "Now how was THAT?" I said with a naughty grin as I looked around. Then I had another naughty thought and dipped down under the water and this time when I came up I had another gift for him in my hand - my bikini top.

"You are too much," he laughed as he took my top.

I moved around in the water, totally conscious that I was stark naked now in the midst of an ever-growing crowd of people, mostly young kids and teenagers. Nobody could see anything but that didn't mean it didn't get me off.

"C'mon, let's get a closer look at your girlfriends," I beckoned him as I moved towards the raft.

At first he seemed reluctant but then HE had his swimsuit on. We worked our way slowly until we were only maybe ten feet or so from the raft. The water was deeper here and I couldn't touch bottom so Steve had to hold me by the waist and support me. When we got to where he couldn't barely stand with his head above water we stopped and just watched.

"Bet you wish they were naked like me," I whispered as low as I could.

I could just imagine how hard his dick must be with me naked in his hands and all these cute girls flaunting themselves. He didn't say anything but I knew he had to be so horny again.

"We better be going back, my dad will probably be returning soon," I told him after we watched them playing for a while.

Steve grunted something in affirmation and maneuvered me back to where I could stand again. He pulled out my bikini from his pockets which calmed the one fear I had. I guess he could have gone back to get a towel had he lost it but that would have still been hard to explain. Once I had it back on again we headed for shore. Steve reached down to adjust himself so his erection wasn't so apparent and we made our way back to the picnic table where Nancy and Jason were waiting for us. I didn't ask them what they had been doing and they didn't volunteer any information.

After walking back to the dock, the boat still wasn't there but we only had to wait about fifteen minutes before I saw it approaching. As they pulled up to the dock you would have thought they were no different than any of the either hundreds of boatloads of people coming in and out. I caught my dad's eye and he winked at me with a grin and I knew then that he had fucked Courtney. I would probably have to wait until the trip home to hear about it though.

5. Couples Only Boat Ride

Even though it was now lunch time and I was starting to feel hungry, we decided to head out again. This time we all came to the agreement that it should be a "couples" time and let the kids stay behind and enjoy the beach... or whatever else they wanted to do.

As we backed away from the dock and my dad worked his way through the no-wake zone, he used the opportunity to say something before he gunned the engine which made talking pretty much impossible unless you wanted everyone on the lake to hear you.

"OK, let's just set one rule if that's OK with everyone," he started out. We all turned to him and waited for him to continue. "No sex with your own partner. Everyone OK with that?"

Everyone seemed to look around to see if someone was going to object but nobody said anything other than to nod.

"Oh... one more thing," my dad added, "no bottoms on the girls while out on the lake."

My aunt and Nancy exchanged glances but it neither of them seemed concerned. Heck, it wasn't like anyone was wearing all that much to begin with and so long as you weren't standing up nobody would be able to tell anyway. By then we passed the outer buoys and my dad hit the throttle, pointing the boat towards the other side of the lake. As agreed, all three of us promptly dropped our bottoms and tossed them in a small pile by my dad's captain's chair. I was the only one totally shaved as both of the older women were trimmed but still pretty hairy.

With all the boats that were now on the lake it was pretty choppy so everyone pretty much just was holding on as my dad sped across the water. As often as we came to this lake my dad knew all the coves and inlets and soon he was idling in to a quiet area that was mostly out of sight of the main lake. Finally he killed the engine and had Wayne help him secure us with the anchor.

"Well, we're here," my dad announced.

For a brief moment I thought to myself that the concept of water skiing had never even been discussed. Oh well, I could do that another time. Why waste time when you can be fucking strangers?

Nancy was the first to take off her top, followed quickly by Aunt Linda. I figured what the heck so I took my top off as well. We all looked at the guys and they quickly took the hint and took off their swim shorts which left us all naked. I sort of expected a pairing off to take place but apparently Linda and Nancy had other ideas. I was checking out Wayne and when I looked back there was my aunt and his wife in a 69 on the cushions! Well, my dad had said no sex between partners. He didn't say it had to be boy-girl.

"Damn, that is so hot," Wayne said to my dad, "Hope you don't mind but I'm fucking your daughter first."

It wasn't like he asked me or anything, he just expected me to let him fuck me but then why shouldn't he? It wasn't like I wasn't hoping for it anyway.

To be perfectly honest, of everything that happened today this trip out was probably the least erotic for me. Steve and I swapped with other couple already so trading places with Wayne and Nancy was enjoyable from the sex perspective but didn't really turn me on to any extraordinary extent. Of course Steve always loves seeing a new dick in me so he watched while Wayne fucked me whereas my dad was more into seeing my aunt and Nancy doing each other. Eventually Steve fucked Nancy again but I noticed he didn't cum - he must have been saving himself somewhat and I knew who he was saving it for.

We only spent maybe 30-45 minutes in the cove. Although nobody said it, I think that without the kids it wasn't as much fun for everyone. After all, weren't they really the reason we were getting together today? I DID cum a couple of times but once was from Nancy eating me out and the other I pretty much did myself as my dad did a quick fuck in me. Nobody came right out and said it but we all seemed to reach a point where my dad just put on his trunks and we headed back to get the kids.

As we bounced our way back to the dock I couldn't help but think how things had changed for me. Normally getting together like we had just been would have been enough to keep me going all day and here in just over half an hour everyone was anxious to get back! I guess it just goes to show that people always want something more than what they have and when it's available, I guess you can't blame them for desiring it more than anything else.

6. Beach Fucked by Wayne

This time there was no doubt about what my dad and Steve wanted - Courtney. My Aunt Linda went out with them along with Jason, leaving me with Wayne, Nancy and Dale. I felt a little jealous as I was hoping to get some of Jason but my aunt had her eyes on him and she used her age and status to trump my desires.

As we walked back to the picnic table I was glad we had grabbed it early. Every table was occupied and people were spread out on blankets most everywhere else. Wayne asked me how things went the last time I stayed back and I told him about how we had fucked in the water. His eyes widened and so I asked him if he was interested in trying it himself but he shook his head.

"No, sorry, but I have this thing about doing it in a lake... just not my interest I guess," he explained.

"Well, then do you want to do me or are we just gonna sit here and wait?" I asked rather pointedly. Wayne looked at his wife and son and asked, "So what did you and Jason do last time?"

To my surprise, Nancy told him they hadn't done anything because there were just too many people around. THAT surprised me as I had assumed they would figure something out.

"Any other ideas Kelly?" Wayne asked, looking around and frowning, "Damn this place is crowded."

Well, it was the 4th of July weekend so what did he expect? Still, I had never met a situation where I couldn't get laid one way or the other. I'd done it once with a guy under a blanket right on the beach but it wasn't nearly as crowded as it was today so that wasn't an option. The only thing I could see was the shower house but it looked really crowded. Well, when you only have one option you have to find a way to make it work, right?

"Follow me," I told Wayne, leaving Nancy and Dale behind.

I headed straight for the shower house, my mind working furiously as I weighted different option. I'd been in them before so I knew the layout. They were actually a combination restroom-shower house so there were stalls for the toilets and then individual showers with doors for privacy. I really wasn't thrilled with the idea of doing it in one of the toilets which left just one option - a shower. Getting Wayne in the women's side would be impossible and even if he could find a way to sneak in, if he got caught they would call the police. That meant I had to sneak into the men's side. There, even if I was seen, nobody would say anything. If anything, I would probably draw a crowd!

When we were about a hundred feet from the showers I stopped and explained my plan to Wayne. He seemed to think I was crazy but then he was horny and so he agreed to go along with my plan, although a bit reluctantly.

Wayne went in the men's side which seemed a lot less crowded than the women's side which worked to our advantage. I waited impatiently and then he reappeared and gave me a thumbs up which meant that he had an open shower for us. Now I just had to get to it. Well, there are so many advantages to being a girl and in this case I was counting on men watching too many Girls-Gone Wild videos. Had I tried to sneak in then someone might have said something but I figured that if I just walked in like I belonged there and went straight to the shower, anyone who did see me would probably either think they were hallucinating or just put it down as something to tell his friends later.

Sure enough, I went straight in without hesitating and I saw Wayne motioning me towards one of the shower stalls. There were a couple of teenage boys, maybe sixteen or seventeen, who stared at me as I walked by but they didn't say a word as I disappeared out of sight. Well, maybe they would be masturbating about me later!

"You are insane," Wayne whispered as we both quickly stripped.

He turned on the water so people would not think the stall was empty. Frankly, I would have preferred it off but then the last thing we needed was people banging on the door for it to open. It was one thing to walk in wearing my bikini and being seen, quite another if people were to see us having sex.

Wayne was certainly turned on; his dick was already erect and ready for me. I had sort of hoped it would not be so hard already so I could suck it and feel it grow in my mouth but then I wasn't complaining either.

What can I really say? It's not like we had a lot of options. I faced away from the stream of water, giving Wayne clear access to my butt. For just a moment I thought he was going to try to fuck my ass but thankfully it was just him trying to find the right hole. We fucked for maybe five or ten minutes before he started to cum after which I quickly turned around and let him finish in my mouth. I always prefer guys to cum in my pussy but under the circumstances I figured why not give him the extra thrill of cumming on my face and mouth. Since we were already in a shower it made it easy to clean off before it got too messy.

Once we were done the final step was to get clear of the shower house without raising a fuss. Wayne looked out first and shut the door, motioning to me that there were four people out there. Heck, we could wait all day for the coast to clear so why wait any longer? I brushed him aside and stepped out, walking right by the four guys without even looking at them. They all looked to be in their twenties or so and not one of them said a word. No doubt they were caught totally by surprise and later each of them would regret their momentary paralysis and jerk off imaging what MIGHT have happened had they spoken up.

On the way back to the table Wayne caught up to me. "You really are something else Kelly." I turned and smiled at him and then walked back to the table where Nancy and Dale were waiting patiently. We just sat there and talked for a while about Dale's school after I explained that I was a teacher.

"Ever fuck any of your teacher's Dale?" I asked.

I noticed Jason seemed especially interested in what his sister was doing. He couldn't seem to take his eyes off her. I couldn't help but wonder if it was just curiosity or maybe a little bit of jealousy. There was SOMETHING between the two of them, I just hadn't figured it out yet.

Finally Steve came in here and while she was still mounted on him my dad came all over her face. Without even thinking about it, I stepped up and started to lick the cum off her face. Then my dad lifted her off of Steve and laid her down on the back bench where I kneeled and licked my fiancé's cum from her pussy. She had a thin bush that was now covered with sperm and I loved the fresh taste of her pussy.

"She tastes pretty good, doesn't she?" Nancy asked me. It was more rhetorical as I got the impression she was just showing her pride in her kids.

"So what do you guys think about my daughter?" Nancy asked my dad and Steve.

Both of them sort of grunted and smiled more than anything. I could just imagine the next time Steve fucked me and I reminded him about Courtney. Damn, he'll be banging me silly!

It was mid-afternoon so time to head back. Somehow my dad managed to get just hard enough to fit his dick back in Courtney and she rode the whole way back on his lap with his dick up her pussy. Given how bouncy the ride was on the back hope I was a little envious of her!

8. The Kids Have Fun

It was starting to get late so there was time for one more rip out. Given my dad wasn't running all over the lake there was still enough gas for one more trip across without having to fuel. It was Nancy who spoke up this time.

"So what do you say let's let the kids have some fun?" Nancy proposed, "I think they've earned their reward today, don't you all?"

When she mentioned "reward" it reminded me of how they were rewards at home for doing well at their studies. The kids certainly perked up at her mentioning it though.

Nancy tried to volunteer to keep an eye on the kids but this time I took a stand. My aunt was interested as well but in this case I said it should be all kids as much as possible and since I was my dad's daughter I qualified.

(Jul 04) Chapter 231: Maintaining Family Traditions

Story codes: MF FF oral inc father mother daughter aunt niece cousin
Me (26)
John - my dad (46)
Aunt Linda (43)
Steve - my fiancé (28)
Kristen - cousin (24)

Next to God, my family is the most important thing in my life. Part of maintaining a healthy family life is the development and maintenance of traditions. That may mean Christmas Eve at the same grandparent's house, Dad carving the turkey, all sorts of things. Some are light and frivolous, others more deep and meaningful. Some are just downright erotic...

Note: See 2004 (Jul 04) Chapter 56: Our First Family Orgy for the complete details of how this tradition got started. This is just a recap for those who haven't read the full version. Also, see 2003 (Sep 12) Chapter 47: Dad's First Time With My Cousin for the details on how my dad first did my cousin.

1. Starting a New Tradition

There are some traditions that span generations, some that are just starting so as traditions go, this falls somewhere in between. I was eighteen, on summer break after my freshman year in college so that will make this our ninth year so I guess that makes it a fairly well-established one.

By the time I left for college I'd been having sex for the past four years, ever since my boyfriend took my virginity the summer before my freshman year of high school when I was fourteen. During the course of my high school education I earned a well-deserved reputation as the class slut, thanks no doubt to the fact I always put out on the first date. Well, at least I gave a blowjob.

It wasn't until I was sixteen that I first started having sex with my parents. So you can imagine what a shock to my system when I started at a VERY strict Christian pretty much had everyone else and so our 4th of July tradition expanded to become an annual family orgy.

One thing I want to emphasize is that even though we all enjoy sex with each other now and then, orgies are NOT commonplace. In fact, this is usually the only time of year that we do it. Sometimes there might be a threesome if the right opportunity comes up, but almost every other time it's just one-to-one. That's what makes this tradition so special.

Last year things were a little subdued as my mother wasn't there. I won't go into all the details here again about why my parents ended their marriage after over 25 years but the end result was my mother moved to Oregon and so our family orgy was one member short. This year, though, number-wise we would be back again as my fiancé Steve was going to join in. True, he wasn't officially a member of the family yet but with our wedding only weeks away I figured it was good enough for me and my dad agreed so it was set.

2. Steve Gets an Introduction

As I mentioned, Steve was my first but then he moved away when his mother was transferred to California just eight months after we first did it. His parent's had divorced a couple of years earlier when his dad decided to trade his mom on for a young secretary at work. The irony is she dumped him shortly after the divorce as apparently screwing a divorced older man wasn't as thrilling as being his mistress.

After they left I thought I would never see Steve again and except for his wedding a few years ago (which was annulled after a month) I didn't see him until last summer when his mom was transferred back to Pittsburgh again. One day he showed up at church and surprised the daylights out of me. After that we started dating and one thing led to another until right after last Thanksgiving when he proposed to me - and I accepted without a moment's hesitation.

A few days prior to his proposal (yes, I had suspicions he was getting close to pop[ping the question) I told him for the first time about my incestual family dealings. Simply put, I couldn't marry a man who couldn't accept my family as well. I waited until the last possible moment and I was 99.99% certain he was going to do it as I had been burned badly in the past by an asshole who I THOUGHT was going to be my fiancé and so I told him a few things (thankfully not everything) and ended up losing my job and almost my entire career over it when he freaked out.

Steve didn't believe me at first. Sure he knew I was a slut and so I could have told him I had just fucked 50 guys and I doubt he would have batted an eyelash. Yet when I told him my dad had been fucking me for the ten years his initial reaction was to laugh it off and accuse me of trying to play some practical joke on him. There was only one way to convince him - show him.

While Steve wasn't exactly thrilled seeing me with my dad, he didn't have any reservations about helping himself to my aunt and cousin! After all, if I was supposed to be free to have sex with anyone in my family, so was he. Still, after that first time he never saw me with my dad again. Well, if he wanted to participate in our 4th of July tradition then he would have to watch my dad fuck me. It didn't seem to be THAT big of a sacrifice to me.

As I said, ever since we got engaged Steve has just sort of ignored when I would go to be with my dad which is fine with me. My dad isn't the sort that likes threesomes - well, make that where two of the participants are male. I guess you could say both my dad and fiancé are super-homophobic. It's funny in that both of them love watching other men fuck me but neither of them want to watch the other fuck me. Go figure...

In the meantime Steve especially loves fucking my aunt which amuses me to no end because it drives my cousin Kristen insane. She's not use to playing second fiddle to anyone, let alone her mom, and when Steve turns to her mother instead of her she just storms off in a huff. I would never tell her this but I think sometimes he does it just to piss her off but that's fine with me. For most of my life I've had to deal with boys preferring her over me and I have to admit that I sort of enjoy seeing her put in her place for once!

3. Putting on a Show for the Guys

When it comes to our July 4th extravaganza, each year things go a little different as it's not like we have a fixed agenda or anything so terribly formal. During the course of the year people's lives change, their tastes vary, and so forth so it only makes sense that our annual family orgy would be different as well. Most importantly this would be the first year with my fiancé in attendance and thus the first year there would be two men so that certainly was going to change the dynamics a much as anything ever had.

Steve picked up me and Kristen just after noon. We both had on denim shorts but Kristen was wearing a skimpy bikini top while I had on a stretch tube top that barely stayed in place. I suppose it didn't really matter what we wore since I knew we would both be nude before much longer. That was another thing that made this a unique day for us. While my aunt was the type that enjoyed being nude all day around the house, I hardly ever just hung around stark naked. Even just a t-shirt or tank top was enough to make me feel comfortable, just so I had SOMETHING on top.

My bottom was different in that I NEVER wore panties or even a bikini bottom when I was home. My mother's theory was that I was so ashamed of my small boobs as a teenager that I would hide them and try to draw attention to my ass which I've always thought was my best "asset". She thought that it just carried over from my teens even though now my boobs aren't all that bad if I say so myself. On the other hand Kristen was more of a wild card. She would go nude with her mom but at home when she was alone with me she typically wore a thong or panties around the house and generally stayed topless.

"So you ready stud?" Kristen teased Steve from her spot on the opposite side of Steve's pickup.

I was firmly planted in the center, making sure it was ME pressing up against my fiancé and not my horny cousin. I can say she was horny rather confidently as she had been masturbating most of the morning, getting herself all worked up. Well, not that THAT was anything different I guess.

"I still don't quite get how this works," Steve said, sounding a little frustrated. "Like, is this whole thing just for sex, do you eat, or what?"

"Yes and yes," I answered, "But it's mostly for sex. You should feel honored as my dad has always been the center of attention and now he's agreed to share the spotlight with you."

Steve just rolled his eyes at the "honored" comment but I could see by the bulge in his shorts that he was ready for action. Still, I wondered if he really understood what he was in for. It's not like we'd never been to an orgy together before. While we dated we use to go to parties and get together with other couples but ever since we got engaged it had mostly been with other couples rather than the party scene. Still, it's not like he wasn't accustomed to us each having multiple partners at one party. The difference, I guess, was the other people weren't my own family.

"You know, it would've been nice to have your mom join us today," I casually tossed in but I was holding my breath while I waited for his response.

"Dammit Kelly, you know better than to say anything like that," he said rather tersely.

I knew him well enough to stop. There were some things I could tease Steve about but sex with his mom was NOT one of them.

The odd thing about it all was that Steve had actually fucked his mother long before I ever had sex with my dad. While we dated his mom had caught us having sex and before it was over he was fucking her while I watched. Since they had returned they both have sworn that it NEVER happened again and his mother refused to even acknowledge the question whenever I tried to bring it up. Steve steadfastly clung to his position that he had no desire to have sex with his mother yet at the same time the two of them would cuddle up on the couch like teenagers, hugging and kissing and feeling each other up.

True, their hands never went under the clothes but still, it didn't seem like that much of a stretch to go from that to sex. However, they claimed that the gulf between the two acts was a mile wide and never to be crossed. To make it even more surreal, she loved to watch him have sex with me but never made any indication she wanted to join in, not even touching herself while she watched. I probably shouldn't have mentioned it to Steve today but I keep hoping that someday he'll soften his position.

By then we were at my dad's house where my aunt was now living with him since my mom had moved out. Since he'd been having sex with her since she was twelve, it seemed silly for her to have to drive over every time they did it when he was now living alone. I can't say my mom was thrilled when she learned about the new living arrangements but then what could she say? She gave up any rights to telling them what to do when she filed for divorce.

No sooner did we step inside the front door than my aunt was there to greet us. Not surprisingly she was nude but she was holding a laundry basket.

"Not another step until you drop everything in this basket," she announced.

It seemed I was the only one to put up even a mild protest as Steve and Kristen quickly stripped down and tossed their clothes in the basket. Knowing it was useless to protest, I did the same. It sort of surprised me how at ease Steve was now being nude around my aunt and cousin. I mean it's easy to get naked in bed for sex but at least for me it's different just running around the house without anything on at all. I guess to be being nude is more something I do when I am flirting or having sex, not just hanging around the house. Even something as little as a bikini top makes all the difference.

We all headed for the deck where my dad was setting up to start grilling. Of course he was naked too which wasn't his norm either. Typically he wore gym shorts or boxer shorts around the house. For him I think it was more hygiene than anything else. Something about "sweaty asses" on the furniture that didn't thrill him – not that I didn't agree.

One thing was immediately apparent was the difference in numbers. Back when we first started all this it was must my dad and four women. Then the last couple of years it was him and three women. Now it was two men and three women which was a lot more balanced. While I think my dad rather enjoyed being the center of attention, it's not like he was a teenager anymore so inevitably there was a bit of competition as to who got his cum and who was fucked the most. As his daughter I usually got the most so I wasn't complaining but now with Steve we should all be getting it at least once I figured.

"Hi daddy!" I greeted my dad, giving him a big hug. He had tongs in one hand and a lighter in the other so he just held his arms out while I pulled myself into him. My boobs pushed into his chest and I could just feel his dick against my belly as he was just hanging there limp at the moment. Something told me THAT condition would be changing soon.'

My dad shook Steve's hand – no hugs between the two macho men. I almost laughed at the way they seemed to make sure they did NOT look at each other's junk. They could be so silly at times. Heaven forbid that their dicks should ever touch! It was so weird in a way. Like, they both loved watching other men's dicks when they were in me but otherwise it was like looking at the sun.

My aunt stepped up to Steve and reached down to grab his dick like a leash.

"C'mon big boy, I need help in the kitchen," she teased him, pulling him along like a pull toy on a string. Yeah, I knew what kind of help she needed!

Kristen was checking out the hot tub as her mom and my fiancé disappeared back into the house. My dad turned his attention back to the grill, using the tongs to lift the grates so he could light the grill. I asked him why he was doing it that way and he just grumbled about how the "stupid lighter" didn't work anymore. It seemed like a sore subject so I left him alone and went over to see how Kristen was doing.

"Wanna get in?" she asked, pushing the cover off to the side. I thought about it for a second and then looked at my dad who seemed pissed off all the more as the grate dropped from the tongs and he had to start over again. I thought I heard him curse something under his breath.

"You know, maybe we need to get my dad in a better mood," I suggested. Kristen looked over at him and then back at me and grinned.

"So what are you proposing?"

Yeah, like she didn't have any ideas herself. For someone who whored for a few years I bet she had LOTS of ideas on how to get men's attention.

"Well, what does every guy like to watch?"

Kristen grinned and started rattling off a list. Yeah, it WAS a pretty wide open question. Come to think of it, what didn't men like to watch when it came to sex? Of course some of her suggestions required equipment and various implements we didn't have, not to mention a few other people, but I already had an idea of my own.

"You know, it's been a long time since we had a race," I offered. Kristen knew what I was referring to. Back when we were young we use to masturbate together and sometimes we would compete to see who could cum the fastest. Over the years we still did it, although not nearly as often once we started having sex. It had probably been maybe a year since our last time so we were long overdue for a rematch. Considering the overall win-loss record was largely in my favor, it didn't take much for Kristen to step up to the challenge.

"OK, but no cheating this time!" she admonished me.

"Hey, I did NOT fake it," I protested.

She rolled her eyes and huffed, "Yeah right."

We walked over to the where the table and umbrella were and each took a seat on one of the chairs after turning them to face my dad. I put one leg up over the arm and let the other drop to the wooden deck while Kristen slouched in her chair and rested her feet on the edge with her knees spread apart. We looked at each other and then reached a silent agreement to get started.

It didn't take long for my dad to take notice of our little contest. He'd finally gotten the grill lit and dropped the lid down to let it get hot. Turning to us he put down the tongs (the lighter was already on the table by now) and started to rub himself.

"Now THIS is interesting," he commented.

Neither of us said anything. I had both hands on my pussy, one spreading my lips apart and the other rubbing my clit between two of my fingers. Now and then I would reach down further and push them into me to get them wet and then go back to my clit again. Kristen had one hand between her thighs while the other was massaging one of her breasts. She had her eyes closed and I could tell she was determined to get off before me this time.

Although I am one of those girls who usually closes her eyes when she masturbates, this time I watched my dad instead. I LOVE being watched when I masturbate. Back in high school I would go out on dates and lift my skirt and let guys watch me. It got me so off to see their reaction. While I knew a lot of other girls put out, for whatever reason not many of them had a reputation for doing themselves in front of a guy so it sort of gave me an extra mark on my resume so to say.

My dad was stroking his dick as his daughter and niece masturbated just a few feet in front of him. He wasn't really trying to get himself off, just more like absent minded stroking. I guess it was the same thing as when I get horny and without even realizing it my hand will go between my legs. I loved the way he looked at me, his eyes focused on my crotch. He also looked at Kristen but I felt that he was staring more at me which turned me on all the more. Anytime I can get more attention than Kristen it's a small victory!

Kristen was starting to moan and I wasn't sure whether it was just for show or if she was really getting close. I was getting worked up but admittedly was distracted with my dad watching me. I wished Steve was standing next to him as that would have made it perfect to see the two most important men in my life stroking themselves as they watched me masturbate.

Kristen suddenly cried out and her hips lifted up and off the chair as she plunged her fingers into her pussy and squeezed her boobs so hard I thought she was going to bruise it. "Oh fuck!" she moaned as she bounced her hips like she as being fucked and in her mind, she probably was thinking that was just what was happening.

As for me, I was horny bit not even close to cumming. Still, it felt so good to be put on a show for my dad. I remembered how I use to masturbate when I was barely a teenager - and actually as a preteen, and he would be in the room with me. Of course back then I didn't know he wanted to fuck me so I didn't put on a show like I was now. God, it must have driven him crazy to see me going at it on the couch and not be able to do anything to me. If only my mom had been more open-minded and then who knows what might have happened. If nothing else, I wouldn't have waited until I was sixteen to submit to my father!

Kristen slumped down in the chair and pulled her pussy hand to her mouth, sucking off her cum while she looked between me and her uncle.

"What's the matter Kelly, getting slow in your old age?" she teased me.

"You faked it," I accused her although I really didn't believe that. A girl has to defend her honor, doesn't she?

Kristen got up and put her hand to my mouth. "Here, have a taste and tell me if I was faking."

Well, she certainly DID taste good but I wasn't going to conceded that easily. It really didn't matter. It's not like we had a traveling trophy or anything to exchange. However, I knew she now had bragging rights and I wouldn't hear the end of it until our next rematch.

"So Uncle John, don't I get a prize?" Kristen said, looking at me with a wicked grin.

"Oh, I didn't realize there was a prize for the winner," my dad teased her but he started to move in closer as he said it.

Kristen slouched back into her chair again, assuming her earlier position such that her wet pussy was in full view. "It was fun dreaming about it but now I want the real thing."

My dad stepped up and bent his knees until his now stiff dick was even with her pussy. He held it by the shaft and used it to rub up and down her slick slit. Kristen sighed as he rubbed the swollen head over her sensitive clit.

"Fuck me Uncle John... fuck me," she moaned, raising up trying to push his dick into her.

My dad dropped his dick a little lower and then easily pushed it into her pussy, at first just going about halfway into her and swiveling his hips to move it around in her.

"Oh yeah Uncle John... just like that," she sighed.

My dad then pushed himself all the way in her. He had to hold the arms of the chair to keep his balance as Kristen wrapped her bare legs around him and locked her ankles, pulling on him to draw him in deeper.

After a few strokes, my dad pulled out, surprising both of us.

"That's good enough for a reward I think," he explained, "Got to conserve my ammo you know."

Kristen frowned and I couldn't help but smile. Then again, she DID get to have his dick first so there wasn't all that much to smile about when I thought more about it.

"What the fuck is going on out here?" I heard from behind my dad and then I saw my aunt carrying a platter of hot dogs and hamburgers.

Behind her came Steve, sporting one heck of a hard-on. Now Steve recovers pretty fast at times but not THAT fast which told me he probably hadn't fucked my aunt. Surprises never cease!

A quick look and she easily came to her own conclusions. "Damn, you let Kristen win Kelly?" she teased me. Kristen crossed her arms with a rather defiant look but before she could protest her mom told us to go to the kitchen and bring out the rest of the food and dishes.

Meanwhile my dad started cooking and it didn't take long before we were ready to eat. We all sat around the table and wolfed down the food. I felt a twinge of remorse as my mom was missing. She use to make the world's best potato salad and while her sister's wasn't bad, it wasn't mom's. I wondered if my dad missed having her for a day like this. He seemed happier with Linda but that just meant she satisfied his fantasies.

My mom always seemed to make my dad more complete, or something like that as it's hard to explain. She may not have allowed him to have his every desire but she did keep him in check. Sometimes I worried as to where my aunt was leading him and what it all may lead to someday.

4. Finally All Together

Once lunch was done it was time to get down to business, so to say. As I said, this was NOT something we typically did so it wasn't like we had a lot of experience. Sex in our family is NOT something that gets crazy like in all those stupid stories people write and post on the Internet. I have sex with my dad because I am his daughter and I believe that is what daughters should do - assuming their dad wants it. Face it, he's in his late forties and it's not like he's a super stud.

I enjoy the pleasure and satisfaction I give him more than the physical side of it. To see the lust in his eyes when he looks at me, to realize that my own father sees

So given all this, I suppose people would think we would just jump up and start sucking and fucking but that's not at all what happens when we get together. Maybe it's because we are so close that it makes it harder to get started. I've always found it easier to fuck a stranger than a friend. It's like you just do it and don't have to worry about what happens later - it's all that moment that counts. With family it's even more complex as you might imagine. I suppose that's one reason why incest is so hard for most families to deal with. It's not that the desires are there, but putting them into action takes more than most people realize.

So there we were, five people sitting around the table nude yet nobody was doing anything. Sure my dad had fucked Kristen a little but earlier but it wasn't like it was anything serious, just a few pokes that teased her more than anything. As to what my fiancé and aunt had been doing in the kitchen, I had no idea nor were they volunteering anything. I suspected he had probably eaten her out since my aunt seems to enjoy receiving more than giving when it comes to oral.

For Steve that's just fine as while he enjoys his dick being sucked as much as the next guy, he's also quite the pussy licker. He sort of spoiled me when we first dated as after he moved away most guys just wanted me to suck their dicks or fuck me. Eating me out was more something they seemed to just want to try out of curiosity or to be able to brag to their buddies more so than anything else.

Then just as quickly it was like all of us started to talk at the same time. Then we all shut up. Then everyone started to laugh and it was my aunt who took control.

'This is really stupid," she said joining in the general laughter, "C'mon, we all know why we're here and what we want so let's get things started."

Then she started pointing around, assigning partners for the opening round. "Steve, you're with me, John you do Kristen and Kelly... well you just do what comes natural I guess."

I sort of was hoping she would have my dad do me first, especially since he'd already fucked Kristen, albeit just briefly. As for her claiming Steve, that didn't surprise me. The two of them had hit it off from day one and had she not been family I might have been a little jealous at times.

Mother and daughter seemed to be of like minds as each of them quickly positioned themselves between the legs of their assigned guy. Soon both of them were slurping down a hard cock as my dad and fiancé exchanged a running commentary comparing their techniques. It was actually sorta funny to listen to them as they casually described how their dick was being sucked no different than like they were exchanging notes about a football game. If anything, it seemed to encourage the mother and daughter to be more competitive, as if they were trying to get their guy to brag the most about the BJ they were getting.

At first I wasn't sure what to do. Watching is always nice but I was horny and wanting some dick of my own but both other available ones were in use. Well, while a dick isn't available there WERE two pussies that I knew would like some attention. I still was carrying a bit of a grudge from Kristen's earlier win over me so I went in behind my aunt and laid on my back, squirming in between her legs until I could look up and get the perfect view of her hairy pussy. Once I was in place she lowered herself down until her pussy was pressed against my face and I breathed in the heavy aroma of her sex. Yep, she was horny all right!

It had been ages since I had licked a hairy pussy. Most of my friends were shaved and those that weren't were trimmed down quite a bit. Aunt Linda wasn't fully natural but she didn't trim off all that much, more like she paid attention to the edges and such so it didn't stick out of her bikini and panties. My mom kept her the same way so I put it down as a generational thing. In any case, it was like sucking on a dick with a full bush of pubic hair in that I liked the feeling of her hair brushing against my nose and cheeks. Although I wasn't as thrilled when it got into my mouth and teeth, with a little care that could be minimized. Although she wasn't saying anything with my fiancé's dick in her mouth, the way she worked her crotch into my face told me she was enjoying my tongue on her.

There was something special licking my aunt knowing that she was sucking my fiancé at the same time. Steve LOVES his dick to be sucked (really, what man doesn't?) and I knew he had to be enjoying it so to be pleasuring the person who was giving my guy so much pleasure at the same time seemed appropriate. It didn't hurt that I enjoy the smell and taste of pussy. When you think about it, I was tasting pussy years before I tasted my first dick. Granted, it was my own at the time but a pussy is a pussy. It amazes me how many girls claim they have never even tried to taste themselves, let alone admit they enjoy it. It's like guys who say they have never tasted their own cum. Personally I don't really believe them but it's not like you can prove it one way or the other.

After a while my Aunt was ready for more than just giving a BJ and so I slipped out from under her and watched as she turned around and sat back down on Steve's dick. Steve let out a low groan as my aunt leaned back onto his dick, driving it deeper into her until she was actually sitting on his lap. I was sitting Indian style on the deck with my legs crossed in front of me, the perfect spot to get an eagle eye view of my lover's dick as it disappeared into my aunt's hairy pussy.

Turning to the side, I saw that Kristen was also getting her share of a dick. Instead of having a seat like her mom, though, she was bent over the table with my dad driving his cock into her from behind. Damn, her ass looked so perfect it made me feel a little jealous - again as I almost always felt that way whenever I saw it. My dad had both hands on her, one on each side of her hips, holding her in place as he drilled her with his erection. It was hot to watch but didn't allow me much of an opportunity to do much so I took my attention back to the pair in front of me.

"Damn Kelly, you know how to pick 'em," my aunt said to me as she rocked on Steve's cock, "I just can't get enough of this guy."

Yeah, I could see that. Well, at least in the end I knew he was mine so while it might perturb me a little now to see him doing her instead of me, she was family so it's not like I had any say about it. Live by the sword, die by the sword as they say. I couldn't expect Steve to just let me have sex with any of my relatives any time I wanted without allowing him the same consideration. Of course, it WOULD help if he didn't seem to be enjoying too so damn much!

This went on a while and eventually enough was enough. It was time for me to have some dick of my own! I knew Steve would be good for at least three times this afternoon, maybe even four if I gave him enough incentive. On the other hand, even though I knew he had probably taken a good dose of Viagra earlier, my dad would be fortunate to get off twice in the same time period. Based on those statistics, it made my choice easy.

"My turn," I said to Kristen as I jumped up on the table next to where my dad was fucking her.

"Hey, he hasn't cum yet," she protested but I wasn't having any of that.

"You've had him twice now and I still haven't even been fucked once," I pointed out. My dad seemed confused, not sure if he should pull out of Kristen and do me or what.

"Daddy!" I whined like a little girl, "I want you to fuck me."

It always worked. I'd been using that line on my dad since I was sixteen and it always got the desired results. All I had to do was add in that little girl tone and he was wrapped right around my little finger. Sure enough, he apologized to Kristen, pulled his dick out of her and started to get it in me when I stopped him.

"I wanna suck it first daddy," I said.

As I said earlier, I enjoy the taste of pussy and the absolute best way to taste it was when it came served on a dick that was freshly covered. I leaned forward and took my dad's wet cock in my mouth, smelling and tasting Kristen's pussy on my dad's cock. All I wanted was to get a taste so after a few licks and then taking it all in once, I straightened up and spread my legs apart in submission.

"OK, now you can fuck me daddy," I said.

It was like at that moment a switch turned on and I was my dad's. At that moment he could have asked me to do ANYTHING and I would have said yes. And I do mean ANYTHING. The wonderful thing about it was that I knew my father loved me and respected me such that I could be this way without having to worry that he might try to do or ask me to do something that would be wrong. Sometime I play games with guys where I pretend to submit to them but in the back of my mind I know that I always keep veto power which means I'm really not submitting myself.

True submission is not some freaky or BSDM thing, it's a sign of love and respect to where you give yourself totally to someone with no reservations or outs. Of course to do that you have to trust the other person 100%. There are only two people in the entire world I have such trust in - my dad and my fiancé.

I started to close my eyes but then thought again and looked down to watch as my dad lined up his dick, just as he has so many times before. I shivered a bit despite the heat when the head slid down over my clit and then lodged in the entrance to my pussy. Then slowly, ever so slowly, he pushed it forward and I watched as it slowly disappeared inside of me. I could feel it forcing its way into me, like something was trying to split me apart but at the same time feeling so incredibly good.

"That's it daddy... fuck me... fuck me slow," I said so softly I wasn't even sure he could hear me but obviously he did. "You know how to do it."

"You got it baby, whatever you want," he replied in a voice husky with lust.

This was what I would call the perfect moment... laying back on my elbows, my dad with his hands under my bare butt supporting my legs with his arms, his dick half-way in me and ever so slowly pushing its way deeper and deeper into me. All the while I was watching it as it disappeared from view while at the same time I could feel it filling me up inside. The look on my dad's face said it all - the total concentration as he did his best to fight what had to be a terrible temptation to just thrust it all the way into me in one quick thrust. As I said, it was an act of lust for sure but also one out of love. Anyone else would have just rammed his dick in me and fucked me but not my dad. He knows how much it means to me to have him enter me slowly, allowing me to watch as my body accepts his until we become one, joined in the most intimate manner a man and woman can be. It was the closest I could ever be with my dad and I can't think of any way I'd rather be with him.

"Oh god you're still so tight," he groaned as he finally bottomed out with his dick now totally out of sight.

I may not have been able to see it anymore but I certainly knew where it was! There was no mistaking that one-of-a-kind feeling when a man is filling me with his manhood. No matter whose dick it was I loved the sensation but when it's your own father it makes it so much more special.

For almost a minute or more he just stayed that way, his crotch up tight against mine with nothing separating us as his cock was buried inside of me. Kristen was watching from the side, not saying a word as the three of us just allowed the moment to last. I swore I could even feel him throbbing inside of me. Not even the moans of my Aunt Linda as she was cumming on the other side of the table from me was enough to distract me from this moment.

"I've GOT to fuck you now baby," my dad said almost apologetically. He started stroking himself slowly in and out of me.

"It's OK daddy... that was special," I answered him softly. Even Kristen seemed to still be mesmerized by this few special moments I shared with my father bit then she perked up.

"Yeah Uncle John... fuck her," she cheered him on.

And fuck me he did. In and out, in and out. The good thing about it was how slow he was fucking me. Sure, I love to be fucked hard and fast at times no different than anyone else but at times like this, a slow fuck can be the most sensual and erotic act two people can share.

"Oh god... YES!!" I cried out as my orgasm struck.

I wasn't even playing with myself yet just the entire scenario was enough to make me cum. Everything came together and my pussy gripped his dick hard. As I came, my dad pushed himself into me as far as he could and once again just held himself deep inside of me.

"That's it baby, cum on my dick," he groaned as my pussy gripped him like a vise.

Then he reached down and put his hand on my lower stomach, letting his thumb move down until it was rubbing my clit. Damn, it was like a turbocharger kicked in and my orgasm skyrocketed!

"Oh daddy! Don't stop... oh fuck don't stop!" I cried out as it felt like the entire world had contracted and the only things that existed was my pussy - and the wonderful hard dick inside of it.

Just when I thought it couldn't get any better, Kristen must have decided the spectator role didn't suit her and she leaned over, pushing my dad's hand out of the way, and licked my clit with her tongue. OH MY GOD!

"OH YEAH!" I cried out, my eyes shut tight now.

I wanted to watch him fucking me but the incredible sensations emanating from between my legs were now all over me, like I was suddenly dipped in an overheated hot tub. I felt like I was on fire yet at the time shivering almost uncontrollably. All I could think about was the feeling of fullness inside of me as his hard dick filled pussy while my hot cousin lapped me on the outside.

Finally it started to ebb down and I opened my eyes to see Kristen looking up at me from my crotch, her tongue licking her lips.

"God Kristen...," I sighed, "That was soooooo... so damn good!"

"Well, given how slow you were cumming before I figured you could use some help," she teased him, a big grin on her face that was now wet from my pussy.

Kristen moved up and kissed me as my dad resumed his slow fuck. He hadn't cum yet and it was like he was still trying to conserve himself.

"Oh fuck! Take it!" I heard Steve cry out and I twisted around and looked along with Kristen.

Steve had his cock in my aunt's mouth as she kneeled on the deck in front of him, stroking him with one hand while she held the head of his dick in her mouth with her lips sealed tightly around it. It was obvious from the way his hips were thrusting into her face what was happening.

"Yeah go mom!" Kristen said, now cheering her mother on.

My cousin was being a pretty good sport about it all in contrast to her usual "it's all about me" attitude.

Kristen moved over and kneeled next to her mom, leaving me with my dad still fucking me although he had now stopped as he watched the action on the other side of the table. Steve pulled his spent dick from my aunt's mouth and she turned and kissed Kristen. I could see from her cheeks that she was pushing the cum into

Kristen's mouth. Then it was like she was reading my mind as she stood up and moved back to my side of the table. She leaned over my face and I knew what to do, opening my mouth wide as she opened hers and let Steve's cum drip from her mouth into mine. Mmmmmmm, I loved Steve's cum!

"Hey don't you DARE swallow that!" I heard my aunt say as she moved up and nudged Kristen out of the way, "I worked hard for that cum and I get to eat it."

I leaned up high on my elbows, kissing Linda and pushing Steve's cum out of my mouth and into hers with my tongue. With an exaggerated swallowing motion she took what remained and swallowed it on one gulp. I still could taste it I my own mouth though and I licked my lips like a cat after finishing a fresh bowl of milk.

Meanwhile Kristen was taking advantage if her mother being occupied with me. Steve was left alone for them moment and she wasn't about to leave THAT situation alone for long.

"Let's go stud, over by the tub," I heard her directing him. Meanwhile, my aunt was making her own move.

"How about giving me some of that?" she said, gently but firmly pressing my dad back away from me with her hand on his hairy chest.

I felt like something was being taken from me as he slowly withdrew in response to her insistence. Then when he flopped out of me it was being deflated as suddenly my pussy went from being warm and full to empty.

I looked over and saw that Kristen had gotten in the hot tub along with Steve. He certainly wasn't wasting any time as she was leaning over the side and he was already drilling her.

"Now that looks nice, why don't we join them?" Linda offered.

Sounded like a good idea to my dad and me and in a few moments we were in the tub ourselves. When I got off the table my legs were a little wobbly but the hot water got me going again.

"Tell you what Kelly, why don't you sit there in the corner," my aunt said, pointing like she was directing a movie. "That's it, now spread 'em girl."

With me legs parted wide, she got in between my knees and leaned over to start sucking on my nipples as her fingers worked their way into my freshly fucked pussy. At the same time she was bent over far enough that my dad knew what to do without any further need for direction. Before another minute passed he was standing in the middle of the hot tub with his dick deep in my aunt's wet pussy as she lowered her head further to lick my pussy. It was sort of funny in a way how he made darn sure not to touch Steve's bare ass as he was fucking Kristen. She was seated on the side to my left which gave me a good view of my fiancé's dick as he thrust it in and out of her like an oil rig pumping away.

My dad finally couldn't hold back anymore and eventually he came in my aunt's pussy. She had already licked me to my second "O" and was seated next to her daughter when he came, closely followed by my fiancé giving his to my cousin.

It was time for a break to let the guys recover. My aunt went in and brought out some wine and even I took a glass in lieu of my usual Diet Coke. The rest of us sat around the table, the warm air quickly drying us off.

"So this is how you guys spend every 4th of July?" Steve asked, sipping on his wine and then swallowing it half down.

"Works pretty good, don't you think?" Kristen was the first to answer.

"Nothing like a good fuck to bring everyone together," my aunt added.

"Still, not exactly what I imagined Kelly doing last year when she said she couldn't spend the 4th with me," Steve laughed.

"Oh?" I said as if I was shocked, "You mean you didn't know I had to fuck my family instead of watching fireworks with you?"

Steve almost choked on his wine. "Actually I was thinking back to OUR first 4th of July."

That brought up requests from everyone for a replay and so I was appointed as the resident storyteller and reminded them of how Steve and I had spent our first 4th of July together. He hadn't fucked me yet but there was plenty of heavy petting, not to mention the BJ I gave him. Of course I embellished it a little, especially when it came to my dick-sucking prowess. True, I felt I had a sort of in-born talent for cocksucking, but I hadn't had THAT much practice b then even though Steve certainly didn't seem to mind at the time.

By the time I was done everyone was ready for round two. We started again with a three-girl circle, each of us licking the other pussy. We would trade back and forth now and then so each of us got a taste of the other. It went on until each of us had an orgasm with Kristen managing to get in two before her mom finally came.

From there it got to be a little less formal than the first round of fucking. The guys just moved between the three of us as we laid on cushions on the deck. A few strokes in one of us and then on to the other. With three pussies and only two cocks, it meant we each had to go without for a few minutes at a time but they guys switched often which minimized the time in between. It became like a game of musical chairs in that we all wondered whose dick would be in whose pussy when they finally came.

Remarkably, or maybe not so much, it took over an hour for the first guy to cum. It was probably a combination of having cum once already together with the fact they never got any long term stimulation before taking a quick break to move to the next pussy or mouth - the girl got to choose when it came to her turn. I mostly took it in my pussy but now and then it was nice to taste either my cousin or my aunt on whoever's cock was next in line for me, especially if they had just cum. I came at least three times, maybe four if you counted the one that seemed to stop but then started again with an extra few strokes at just the right moment.

Believe it or not, Steve was the first to cum while he was in my cousin's mouth. She grinned victoriously as his cum dripped down her chin and onto her boobs. It was another five minutes or so before my dad came in my aunt's pussy, leaving me as the only one so far NOT to have a load of cum in me yet.

We were all fairy existed, especially the guys, so it was time for another break. Another bottle of wine, another tale from me about how Steve had fucked me for the first time. Of course in this version I was MUCH more experienced than I had been in real life but who was going to call me out? Certainly not Steve.

5. Keeping the Ultimate Tradition With My Dad

Finally the afternoon was starting to come to an end. Our second break turned into more like a day off as the guys were really worn out, even Steve. I suppose we girls could have gone on having fun but without the guys it took some of the fun out of it. Instead, Kristen and I spent the time trying to one-up the other with stories of our past adventures. Most of mine they had all heard before as many of them had appeared on my web site at one time or another.

On the other hand, I learned quite a bit about Kristen I had never heard about before. I don't know if it was the wine, the aftereffects of her orgasms, or if she was trying to impress Steve. Heck, maybe a combination of all three. Whatever it was, even I was amazed at some of the things she had never divulged about her life as a high-priced whore. Some of it I had suspected but this was the first time she had acknowledged a few things.

From their reactions, a lot of what Kristen revealed was new even to her own mother! Steve was especially enthralled and I noticed his dick was in his hand every time she weaved another story. When she told in incredible detail about some of the things she had done in a horse barn, even her own mother gasped and I heard her mumble "Oh my god" more than a few times under her breath. I had always suspected that she had more than a few experiences with dicks that weren't human but not to the extent that she was confessing to! This was the first time she had ever even admitted to having sex with animals, let alone provide the graphic details.

Before we knew it, it was time for dinner which consisted mostly of whatever was left over from lunch. The fireworks were still several hours away. We could see most of them from the deck although the large tree in our neighbors yard had grown over the years to where it was now more than a minor nuisance. Still, we could see at least 80-90% of them so it wasn't worth having to drag ourselves to the city park to see them. Besides, what better way to watch the fireworks than to create some of your own at the same time?

My dad turned on the new TV he had brought out on the deck and we watched some silly programs together while seated in the hot tub or around it. It wasn't like we just sat there of course. There was plenty of kissing, fondling and groping going on as we changed around periodically. There was no sex for a while but everyone seemed happy with just being intimate and friendly with one another. I masturbated now and then when I had the chance and even got myself off once when Kristen and her mom hogged the guys a little too long. The nice thing about it was with everyone having cum multiple times during the afternoon nobody felt pressured to give or take.

It grew dark and soon there was the first boom as the warning shot was fired, signaling the fireworks would soon be starting. At the time Kristen was sitting on my dad's lap while I was on Steve's, all of us just kissing and touching each other. Steve was hard as a rock underneath me and I knew he was anxious to get back into fucking mode sooner than later. Still, it was time he learned the final tradition of the day...

"Sorry Steve," I said, giving him one more kiss on the mouth as I wiggled on his dick that was poking me in the butt, "I've got something I need to do."

Steve looked at me quizzically, obviously a little disappointed as I am sure he thought I was going to ask him to fuck me. Meanwhile, Kristen was looking over at me from her perch on my dad's lap. She knew what I meant. After all, it happened every year!

"Take care of my fiancé," I told her, as if she needed to be told. She quickly moved over to Steve's lap as I took her place on my dad's.

"It's almost time daddy," I said, more for Steve's benefit than his. Heck, my dad was the one who had started this six years ago.

Even with Kristen now on his lap, reaching under the water for his dick, Steve seemed more interested in what was going on across the tub from him. Meanwhile my aunt joined us, sitting in the corner between us where she had a nice view of both her daughter and her niece getting ready to do what we did best - fuck.

The first firework went off, lighting the sky and sending every dog in the neighborhood into a frenzy. I twisted around on my dad's lap, kneeling on the each seat on each side of him such that my pussy was right above his VERY hard dick. Yep, he was ready.

"NOW it's time," I announced. With that I sat down on his cock, forcing it up inside of me yet again. This would be the last time today I felt that sensation of his dick entering me and I pressed down hard to get every bit of it in me I could on the first push.

As the fireworks went on, I fucked my dad. Normally I would say my dad fucks me as I prefer to submit to him and allow him to take me however he wants. This time however it was different. I was fucking him. Now he just sat there and I did everything. I was the one who set the pace. I was the one who determined how deep he went into me. I was the one who said when I stopped for a moment just to savor the feel of him in me as the hot water swirled around us.

Meanwhile Kristen was doing the same with Steve. Hmmm, was she establishing a new tradition of her own? Would this be the way it was from now on when the 4th of July came around, fucking my husband while his wife fucked her father? Sounded good to me!

"I love you daddy," I said as I bounced on his dick.

"I love you too baby girl," he said huskily back to me.

He had his hands on my bare hips, helping to balance me as I ride his dick like a horse on a merry-go- round. This was different than before when he fucked me slow. This was ME giving HIM pleasure. This was a daughter giving back to her father the most precious gift she had in return for all the things he had given her in the past. This was the two of us showing the others our love for one another, the never-ending love between a father and daughter that would always be there no matter who I married.

Over the years my dad and I had fucked so many times we each knew the subtle signs and hints of impending orgasms and I was using every instinct I had to time this right. He came so close a couple of time that I thought I might have overdone it but he managed to keep it under control until the right moment came. The finale suddenly lit up the sky and I gave his dick everything my pussy could muster. Just before the last firework exploded, so did my dad. With all the heat of the water it was impossible to actually feel his cum entering me but there was no mistaking it was happening, especially since he made it a point to tell me!

"Take it baby... take my cum," he gasped as he squeezed my hips so hard it almost hurt.

I put all my weight down on him, pushing him as deep into me as I could as he grimaced and then gasped and I knew from the thrusts under me that my father was releasing his final load of cum for the day deep inside of his daughter's hungry pussy.

It was suddenly so quiet and all we could hear was the distant applause from the park as the how ended. I looked next door to me and Kristen gave me a thumbs up. Apparently her timing had been right on as well and Steve looked radiant after having obviously filling my cousin with his cum.

"Good job girls, like the pros you are," my aunt applauded, adding her clapping to that of the crowd. I sincerely doubted THEY were applauding anything like the same thing she was though!

I just collapsed on my dad's lap, my arms wrapped around his shoulders with me head buried in his neck as he stroked his hands and fingers up and down my back down to my ass. My boobs pressed against my dad's chest as I felt him heaving under me to catch his breath.

"I love you SO much daddy," I whispered in his ear.

He answered with an extra squeeze with both hands on my ass. Then we kissed for what seemed like forever, our tongues meeting. God I love my dad!

With that we paired up to close the night properly. I was on Steve's lap as Linda took her place on my dad's. That left Kristen alone but then who knows, maybe next she will have a fiancé of her own. I kissed Steve but it was different from the way I kissed my dad. THAT had been a daughter kissing her father. THIS was a woman kissing her lover. While I loved them both, my love for Steve was totally different from how I felt about my dad. My dad would always be that – my dad.

On the other hand Steve was now much more than a boyfriend or even a fiancé – he was my lover and soon to be my husband. Two men, two loves, yet one way to share it in such a way that it worked for both. Still, my dad fucked me while Steve made love to me so it wasn't exactly the same.

Isn't incest wonderful?

(Jul 10) Chapter 232: Swapping Party

Story codes: MF oral
Me (26)
Steve - my fiancé (28)
Dwight (41) & Virginia (40)
Mick (30) & Penelope (30)
Matthew (19) & Julie (18)

So much for my "stay within the family" ideals. Perhaps I was a bit idealistic growing up to think that once I got married my sexual activities would stay confined to my marriage family. Sure my mother had accomplished this throughout her 25 years plus of marriage but times have changed. All was well and good until that magical day when Steve asked me to marry him and I accepted his proposal - unconditionally. It's sort of ironic now to think that I always figured the biggest issue with getting married would be having my fiancé accept my requirements regarding incest!

1. Marital Give and Take

I have always believed that the foundation of a superior marriage is based on the willingness of both partners to compromise. Face it, no two people can live together, married or otherwise, for any length at time - at least not happily, without being willing to change some of their ways to satisfy their partner. Of course I've never been married (only engaged at the moment) so all this is easy for me to say. The real test will be after I take my vows. Still, based on what I've seen in so many other marriages it seems to me that this one of the most critical elements of a successful marriage.

At the same time I also believe that every person must have certain morals and ethics which they simply can't compromise. Without those then who are they - and who will they be down the road? If two people get married and they haven't previously identified what those "off-limits" areas are, then in my opinion their marriage is doomed. Sooner or later the afterglow of the wedding and honeymoon dies and what remains can become a harsh reality. It may not be for 25 years (as with my parents), but the day of reckoning has to come sooner or later.

As for me there are not that many issues which I can't at least debate but there ARE a few areas where either a guy will have to accept me as I am or else we simply can't get married - no matter how much in love with him I may be. The first and most important is my faith and religion. As a devout Christian, active in my church and community, I expect my husband to be engaged as a full partner and not just an onlooker. It's such a shame to see women at church with their children whose husbands never attend or attend a different church, using their kids as pawns in their little power games. I simply can't see myself living that way - and won't. My husband WILL attend church with me and he will confess to having Christ as his Lord and Savior AND believe it. This is simply not negotiable.

Another area of mine for which there is "no compromise" is my family relationships. My family, in particular my parents, will always take precedence in my life. If a guy can't deal with my parents or relatives, then he can't deal with me. None of this, "I hate my mother-in-law" crap. Like church, I know of couples who for one reason or another can't attend family functions together or otherwise are estranged from one part of their family or another. Sure there are members of my family I don't really care for (some I REALLY can't stand) but that doesn't mean I shut myself off from them. What a guy wants in terms of a relationship with his own family is up to him but when it comes to mine, it's all or nothing.

Another important area also deals with my family. I simply can't EVER see myself compromising when it comes to incest, at least with my father. In a way it's a combination of the first two subjects I stated as being non-negotiable. Biblically I believe that as the daughter of my father I am bound to honor him in every way possible and if that means he wants me sexually, then I will honor those needs. It's not that I feel trapped or forced to do anything, quite the opposite in fact. Don't take this the wrong way but in a sense it's like my relationship with Christ where as his disciple I am bound to honor him and obey him. I do this out of love and respect, not slavery or under threat. If my husband cannot understand this basic principle then better to end the engagement before entering into a doomed marriage.

Just to show why this is so important to me, my Aunt Linda married a man whom she loved dearly but who wasn't on board with her having sex with her father. Because he wanted to marry her he claimed that he could deal with it but when push came to shove he couldn't contain his jealousy and after a couple of years demanded that she stop. Like me, her family was a higher priority over her marriage and thus she was forced to make the terrible decision to demand a divorce. I like to think that I would've made the same decision in her situation so I want to be sure I never get myself into that situation in the first place.

Finally, just to show how things CAN change, there WAS a fourth area that I always thought would be beyond compromise - adultery. According to my reading of the Bible, adultery is defined as "sex outside of marriage". For some people the term "marriage" is defined as husband and wife ONLY. However, as I mentioned earlier I believe that when you marry someone you also "marry" their immediate family. Thus so long as sex stays within the "marriage family" there can be no issues with adultery, regardless of how you define it.

For my mom it was black and white - adultery was a sin, period. It didn't matter if your spouse was OK with it or whatever rationalization there may be. Adultery was a sin and she refused to allow it in her marriage. Having been raised by her, I always assumed that I would approach my marriage in the same way by limiting my sexual activities to within my marriage family once I said my vows. As much as I enjoy sex I can't say this thrilled me but then my first priority is God and HE takes precedence over my personal desires.

Growing up I worried at times that finding the "perfect man: who would agree to all my requirements might become impossible. Indeed, the one guy I thought was going to propose to me ended up dumping me and actually causing me personal harm once he got a whiff of my family's incestual activities. After that I was depressed as if the best guy I'd ever met couldn't deal with it, then who would? Still, while I was willing to negotiate most anything else, these three things were off the table. Better to be single than miserable.

As it has turned out, getting Steve to agree to my "conditions" of marriage was easy which just goes to prove that he indeed is "the one" for me. Although not nearly as deeply religious as I am, he at least goes to church and prays. While not as biblically versed as I would like, I believe he will teach his children to love the Lord and to follow his commandments. Steve loves my family - well for the most part but I certainly can't blame him for disliking a few of them as I can't' stand them either.

When it came to the incest part, he was naturally surprised as he had no idea I was involved in such things. In fact I it wasn't until after seeing me doing it once with my dad just to prove it wasn't some monstrous practical joke that he believed me. After that time he made it clear that he never wants to see me with my dad again but at least he has NEVER even suggested I abandon my responsibilities. I suppose it didn't hurt when I told him that I had no issues with him fucking any of the women in my family that were agreeable to it - especially my Aunt Linda who seems to have really caught his attention.

So as it turned out, all my worries about my fiancé agreeing to the "terms" of my acceptance of his proposal turned out to be for naught. In looking back I see now that our marriage was indeed ordained by God. How else do you explain that the boy I gave my virginity to and then moved thousands of miles away would come back to me after over ten years and eventually propose to me? After fretting for so many years about not giving my father my virginity, I was finally able to see God's plan - that I gave it to my husband instead. How many married women these days can say their first time was with their husband? OK, so there were a few in between but that doesn't take away the fact that he was my first.

Perhaps it was a bit selfish of me but I had never thought about the fact that my fiancé might bring a few demands of his own to the table. Steve really only two had big issues, but both of them were huge so far as I was concerned, especially given the background of my own parents' marriage.

Steve's first "demand" regarded what I considered to be adultery. Steve made it clear to me that he fully expected to continue to have sex with other people after we got married and he meant people outside of our families (well, MY family since he didn't have sex with anyone in his). For him this was non-negotiable and so I was forced to reconsider my stance on adultery. There was no way I could completely toss it aside as it was clearly stated in the Ten Commandments that we are not to commit adultery so what were my options?

I discussed the problem with my aunt as my mom was so far away, praying on it with her and alone a LOT. The one day it was like God spoke to me and I felt like my eyes had been opened to a new reality. My mom's definition of adultery was hers and I totally respected her for it. However, just as hers was based on her interpretation of the Bible, so I felt I should be allowed to have my own interpretation. Where do we go for the insight to achieve such interpretations - prayer. It was on my knees that I suddenly realized that yes, I COULD marry Steve without compromising my integrity yet at the same time satisfy his needs and desires.

The whole issue comes down to, what is adultery? In short, I came to the revelation that just as incest is not adultery (although some people would claim a strict biblical interpretation would say that it was), neither would be sex outside the marriage so long as both partners consented and nothing was hidden. It was clear to me now that adultery was more about "cheating" than sex. It's the INTENT, not the ACT, that counts. If my husband is hiding his sexual activities from me then he is cheating on me and thus committing adultery because in his heart he is betraying me

So much for what became my first "compromise". The other issue was a bit more nebulous and based more on my mother's personal feelings than any guidance from an authority such as the Bible. So far as my mom was concerned, and therefore me for most of my life, sex with a minor was OK so long as it was incest but otherwise it was strictly off-limits. Granted, her "age of consent" was more like fifteen to sixteen versus eighteen, but still it ruled out anything with a girl in her early teens and certainly any preteens.

On the other hand, my father has always been infatuated with underage girls. Still, for over 25 years he compromised for my mother's sake and relied on porn and then eventually his daughter and nieces to satisfy his dark hunger. How he held himself back for that long is some sort of miracle but eventually the dam burst and his uncontrollable needs became one of the major contributors to their eventual divorce. The sad thing is my mom knew about his perversions before they married yet clung to the hope she could change him or at least keep his needs in check. Sadly, it provides further proof to me that when you marry someone you have to accept them as they are!

Given all that, imagine my shock when I was informed by my new fiancé that he was into the same perverted things as my dad regarding underage sex. Once again I was faced with a major decision. Was I really ready to enter into marriage with the same understandings my mother had? The answer was easy - no. Either I accepted him as he was or not but none of this "I'll change him" crap. At first I considered compromising a little and allowing his to delve into these nasty things so long as he kept me out of it.

I quickly put that aside as I wasn't about to go through the rest of my life pretending that the reality wasn't there. The only alternative was to put aside my beliefs and submit to his authority as my husband. Of course technically there WAS another alternative - to give him back the ring but in reality that was never anything I considered seriously. This was an issue of public morals and ethics, not my religion or family, so compromise was acceptable to me.

In the end, as much as I tried to pretend to debate the issue, in my heart I think I always knew what the final outcome would be. After seeing the results of my mother's beliefs on their marriage, I couldn't mimic her knowing that sooner or later the same thing would happen to my marriage. Some might say that 25 years was pretty good but I intend to marry Steve "until death do us part", not until we can't stand each other anymore.

Even after accepting my decision, I didn't just jump in the deep end all at once. It was more like entering slowly into the shallow end and working my way deeper and deeper. Until now we'd swapped with a few couples, always just one other couple in which case we pretty much just traded partners for the evening - or in once case the weekend. I actually found it rather erotic to try someone new with my fiancé nearby and Steve seemed to love watching me being fucked by another guy as well. I can't really say I get the same enjoyment out of watching him screwing another woman, but it's nothing I can't deal with since I know whose pussy he'll be filling with his wonderful dick when it's all said and done.

Now with just a little more than a month to go before the wedding, Steve wanted to take it to another level - a swapping party with several other couples. The first thing that came to mind were the various sex parties my best friend Beth use to take me to now and then (although it's been ages since the last one). The irony was that those parties banned couples as only singles were allowed. Now it was going to be just the opposite in that you had to be married, or at the very least engaged for at least six months, to gain entry. Well, at least there wouldn't be any silly initiation ceremonies this time around!

2. Introductions

One of the most frequently asked questions I get about swapping is, "Where do you find these people you meet up with?" Well, that's a good question. When it comes to groups and parties, for most of my life it's been through friends. My best friend Beth is one of the principles in a group that meets frequently for sex parties. They are restricted to the group members and guests by invitation only. Strictly for singles and no voyeurs - you participate or leave. Beth's parties were my most common source. Now and then I would go to various parties where people would break off or maybe give a blowjob in front of everyone but those were pretty tame for the most part. Some of the craziest ones I've been to were courtesy of my cousin

Kristen back when she was a working girl. She was the one getting paid - I just went along for the experience. Some of those got really out of hand!

I never really "swapped" until Steve and I got engaged. I guess before then I never considered myself in a position where having sex with someone else would be considered "swapping". My Aunt Linda was the one who really opened THAT door for us. She was a long-time member of a local swapping club that was VERY exclusive and VERY private which also made it VERY secure - a key concern for most people involved in such things. She had been a part of it since shortly after her divorce making it over twenty years now. Call it our "engagement gift" from her when she showed my fiancé their web site. For years it was all done by phone calls and beepers but now they were in the Internet Age.

Steve was really enthusiastic about it and quickly got our application process started. I looked at the web site but he did all the work. It wasn't like Facebook where you just could make anything up about yourself and "buyer beware". Believe it or not we actually had to go through a formal credit check and other personal security checks to verify who we were as well as our intentions and expectations. My web site was discovered, even though it was no longer on-line (just goes to show what goes on the Internet is forever) which made for some tense moments as they were worried about my ability to keep things private. For a while I was worried sick that it might disqualify us until I was able to show how I managed it and modified the story details to keep things private.

By far the most stressful part of the "application" process, at least for me, was making our introduction video. Over the years I've developed a bit of a phobia about on-line photos and such after some of the things that have happened to me by people bent on hurting me because I somehow offended them in some way, shape or form. When Steve told me we HAD to do this video where we HAD to answer a number of routine questions, I was OK with it at first until he told me we also HAD to be nude when we did it - and not be hiding anything like crossing legs or folding our arms. Thankfully we didn't have to DO anything, just allow ourselves to be seen naked standing up and posing, then turning around slowly so whoever was checking us out got an idea of who they were going to potentially meet.

It wasn't like I've ever been exactly shy about exposing myself but I have to say I was nervous as a virgin on her first date while Steve was recording me! Images of me posing nude being posted all over the Internet still haunt me but so far as I know, nobody has ever violated the terms of the group as by the time you do the video you've already had to pass all the other tests.

As the head of our household, Steve is the one who does the initial searches for people to meet, browsing through the lists and then the various video profiles until he finds a couple he thinks might be fun to swap with. He knows me pretty well so I trust him to find someone I will like as well and so far he has done a pretty good job. Steve usually narrows it down to three or four couples that he is OK with after which he shows them to me and lets me pick the final one although he retains the ultimate veto power. I have to say my tendency so far has been to go with the older couples. In fact, we spent a weekend in Columbus, OH with the last ones we met and they were old enough to be our parents!

Once I picked out someone then Steve contacted them through the service so that they can check out our profile and decide if they want to accept our invitation without having to divulge any personal information. In fact, until both sides agree to meet no personal information is exchanged such as full names, addresses or phone numbers. When an agreement is made, THEN initial contact information is exchanged.

The usual means of "first contact" is via web cam. This is where we really find out a lot about the other couple. Some are pretty conservative whereas others have put on full-blown sex shows. For me, either end of the spectrum is pretty scary and we have turned down more than one couple after the web cam introduction when they proved to be just way too out there for us. We figure if they are THAT wild and crazy the first time on a web cam, what would they be like meeting them in person?

Finally when everyone agreed that a hook-up was desirable, THEN more personal information was exchanged. How you met the other couple, where, etc. was all negotiable and varied with every couple we met. Some would want to meet in a public setting like a restaurant, others just wanted to meet in a hotel room and get things started quickly. It was the variability that helped to keep it exciting each time.

So as you can see, it's not like you just get on on-line and ask someone to meet and next thing you know you're at some restaurant waiting for a total stranger to appear. It's a rather long and tedious process but in the end I feel safe meeting the people based on all the security background checks as well as the time we spend getting to know each other before any meeting actually takes place.

This time was even more arduous in that we were trying to line things up with three other couples instead of just one which made it more like ten times more difficult than just three times. Each couple had to approve of the other three so it took a couple of weeks before a full agreement was made. Again, this was a LOT different from Beth's parties where you just showed up and had no idea who was going to be there. For some people it may have been too troublesome and for those type of people I know there are plenty of swapping parties where anyone can show up and do anyone. Personally I just don't feel comfortable getting involved in those type of parties so much anymore. In fact, if it was totally up to me we would only swap with one other couple at a time but Steve likes having a "buffet" as he likes to put it rather than having to just order off a menu.

Finally it was all set with a time and place hammered out. One of the couples lived in a rather exclusive part of town with a secluded back yard that came complete with a pool hot tub and high security/privacy fence surrounding it all which sounded perfect. The people we were meeting with were:

Dwight (41) & Virginia (Jen) (40) – married twenty years, three kids
Mick (30) & Penelope (Pen) (30) – married two years, second marriage for both, one girl from Pen's first marriage
Matthew (19) & Julie (18) – newlyweds, just married in April, no kids

Of course none of their kids would be there. When it came to the swapping group that was a strict rule that was grounds for expulsion from the group – no kids, period. This was a swapping group, not an incest group and definitely nothing to do with anyone underage. There were no other real limits as you were free to find someone who matched your profile. If you're into BSDM then there were people who shared that interest and if you didn't then, you just didn't agree to meet with to those who did.

Interestingly, while kids weren't allowed, that didn't mean it had to be adult humans. Some of the profiles claimed to be interested in K9 and other forms of bestiality. The first time I saw one of those Steve grinned at me and I slapped him (maybe even a little harder than I intended). He knew better than to even THINK about anything like that.

Everything was set for Saturday afternoon at Dwight and Jen's place. They had warned everyone that they could only host for a few hours due to earlier commitments with their kids' sports schedules but it was the only weekend when it seemed everyone's schedules worked out. In any case, to be honest I'd rather meet for a few intense hours than drag it out over the whole day so putting an abbreviated time limit on everything up front was just fine with me.

Steve stopped by just after noon to pick me up. Parking his pickup at the curb in front of the house, he came to the door where Kristen let him in as I was still getting ready. Sneaking up behind me in the bathroom, he poked me in the middle of my back just as I was leaning over the sink to fix an eyelash, scaring me half out of my wits!

"Good lord, what can possibly take a girl so long to get ready?" he teased me, "Besides, it's not like anyone is going to care what you're wearing once when you get there."

He had a point I guess, at least from a man's perspective. Odds were I wouldn't be wearing my outfit for very long but then again, a girl likes to look good when she first meets someone. You can tell a lot about people by the clothes they wear so I'm always interested in seeing what the other couple was dressed like when we first met. Since I felt this way I suspected other women did too so I wanted to be sure to make a good first impression.

Ahhhhhh, now THAT was the question - how to make a good impression? While we wouldn't be the youngest couple we were more at the more youthful end of the range. Still, I didn't want to come dressed like some college girl Steve had just picked up. At the same time, we weren't even married yet whereas everyone else was so I didn't want to come looking like some sort of soccer mom either. Everyone would know why we were there so there was not need to dress like a slut to get attention yet at the same time I didn't want to give the impression I was doing something I wasn't comfortable with either by dressing like some old lady.

So here I was, standing in front of the bathroom mirror still naked after my shower. I'd already blown my hair dry and rubbed lotion on me after having shaved so it was just a bit of makeup and then getting dressed. Steve started to reach around me and grope at my boobs.

"Steve! We'll never get out of here if you get me started," I warned him.

Poor Steve; I could see his face in the mirror over my shoulder as he rested his chin on it and reached down to put his hand between my legs. I rolled my eyes a bit melodramatically and sighed heavily as his finger started to tease me. Damn but it felt good yet we didn't have time to mess around now.

"Damn it Steve, stop!" I said, although albeit not very convincingly.

Steve reluctantly pulled back and chuckled. "If only we weren't running so late already...," he whined.

Well, that made two of us with those thoughts. Honestly, if he hadn't listened to me and simply dragged me off to bed and made love to me all afternoon I would've been just fine with that. Face it, the party was really for him and if we missed it I wouldn't have been exactly heartbroken.

Ignoring him I put on the last touch of eye shadow and added a hint of perfume before reaching over to grab my outfit. I'd gone for a light summer dress, no straps and no underwear. It was a light yellow, short enough that it came down barely mid-thigh and defied gravity by clinging to my boobs without slipping down although all I had to do was lean over the least little bit for some nice cleavage exposure. What I liked about it the most was that it was relatively sheer such that if the sun was on the opposite side it would give you a pretty nice outline of me underneath. I slipped it over my head and adjusted my boobs.

"Damn, haven't seen that one before," Steve wolf-whistled as he watched me getting ready.

Well, it WAS brand new so he'd better not have seen it before! I twirled around on one foot, just enough to bring the skirt up but it was tight enough that it didn't rise up high enough to prove whether or not I was wearing panties. Of course Steve knew I hadn't put any on so it wasn't like he didn't already know the answer to the question.

"You know... we could just stay here and do it," I offered seductively. For a moment I could Steve was tempted but then he just smiled at me and shook his head.

"Noooooo, you don't get off THAT easy," he laughed, "Let's go, we're already late."

On the way out I gave Kristen a kiss and she lifted up my dress and spanked me playfully on my bare ass.

"Now don't do anything I wouldn't do," she said, trying to act serious. Well, THAT certainly left me with a pretty broad playing field as I don't know exactly what Kristen would NOT do in such a setting had she been invited.

With that we were off. It was just a ten minute drive to get where we were going but that meant we would still be about twenty minutes late. Oh well, all the better to make an entrance as my mother use to say.

As we pulled up and I noted the address, oddly enough I'd seen this house many times before driving around town but had never paid it all that much attention. Maybe that was because the reason I ignored it was the same reason it had been chosen for today's little party - it was set way back from the road without a hint as to what was happening behind the stone and iron fence that surrounded it. Large shrubbery and a forest surrounded the back yard, rendering it invisible to anyone driving by. It was built into the side of a hill with nothing above it or even to the side, making it even more private than my parents' deck which technically was visible from across the valley to anyone with a high-powered telescope. A cobbled stone driveway led past the iron gates which were open as we pulled in. Inside a circular drive allowed us to park close to the main entrance where double doors that reminded me of something from a knights of the round table movie guarded the interior.

"Pretty impressive," Steve mused as he put his truck in park.

Ahead of him was what looked to be a new Lexus and ahead of it was some older model Toyota which looked to have seen its better days. Evidently that other two couples were here and it didn't take a reincarnation of Columbo to figure out which belonged to whom.

"Figures, last ones to arrive as usual," Steve muttered as he got out of the cab.

I knew it was directed my way even though he hadn't looked at me when he'd said it. Steve was always complaining about me being late, even to the point he sometimes faked the time we were going somewhere by telling me it was a half-hour earlier just so I would be ready when the real time came around. What can I say? That's me.

We approached the front doors and Steve rang the doorbell. Within a few seconds a woman appeared and I recognized her from her profile. Virginia (or Jen, short for Jenny as she preferred to be called) was taller than I'd pictured her but other than that pretty much looked exactly like her profile photos and video. She was dressed in a short robe with a belt that barely kept it in place. The hem came down low enough to cover her butt but that was with her standing and I doubted that it hid much once she sat down. She had good reason for wearing it so short as even though she was almost twice my age I would've loved to have had her legs!

"Welcome to our humble abode," she greeted us.

I can't say THAT impressed me. The house was gorgeous and VERY high end so to try and pass it off as anything even remotely "humble" was being more than a little pretentious.

We stepped in and she motioned for us to follow her through the spacious great room and then into a hallway leading past the kitchen and then to the back of the house where it looked like something from a Hollywood movie. There was a large in-ground pool would have dwarfed my aunt and uncle's with a large hot tub off to one side as well. The concrete pad was large enough for several tables, a built-in grill/fireplace as well as a looked to be a wet bar that overlooked the pool.

"Wow, some place, eh?" Steve whispered into my ear.

I elbowed him as he never could master the art of whispering and no doubt everyone in the back heard him. If so, then nobody was rude enough to take notice and Steve nursed his bruised side like a hurt puppy.

Jen then introduced us to the others starting with her husband who was serving drinks. Dwight was wearing cargo shorts almost the same as Steve's but maybe a shade darker than Steve's khaki's. He also had a Steelers t-shirt which would have instantly endeared him to my father had he been along. I didn't have to recall their profile video to recognize Mick and Pen as they were definitely the older couple compared to what had to be Matt and Julie.

Pen was a bleach blonde bombshell with boobs that definitely had to stay away from the hot sun or the silicon might have melted. Like most women with boobs jobs she obviously loved to show them off and was wearing a VERY low cut tank that hugged them like Saran Wrap. Mick was rather non-descript, just your average Joe off the street with the beginnings of a receding hairline.

Matt and Julie caught my eye more than the others. Both of them looked like they may have been fudging a couple of years on their profile but then I when I considered the scrutiny Steve and I were put under, I had to believe their ages were as advertised (nineteen and eighteen respectively. Julie had her hair cut really short, actually shorter than her new husband's. She was extremely petite, maybe just a couple of inches over five feet tall and nowhere close to needing the "100" weight on the scale at the doctor's office. Matt was not all that tall himself, maybe just a little more than me but he must spend half the day at the gym. Damn, he was built! If anything being short and that muscular made him appear at first a little stocky but I imaged once he removed that muscle shirt and shorts there wouldn't be one ounce of fat to be seen anywhere.

We all greeted one another, shaking hands to start. Dwight efficiently took our drink orders and looked at me a little funny when I asked for a Diet Coke but then I didn't really care. I've never been much of a wine or mixed drink person so there was no reason to get started now. Besides, I wanted to remember what happened here today, not wake up with a headache.

Nobody said anything at first but I think we all felt a little anxious. We WERE on the clock and with Steve and me arriving late that didn't help matters. At least they'd been courteous enough not to get started without us. As experienced as we were in such matters, it still would've been a little awkward to have to walk in on a bunch of strangers having sex and just jump in without hardly even a word spoken between you. As the acting hosts, I think the rest of us looked to Dwight and Jen to take the lead.

"Well, I just thought maybe it would help if Dwight and I confessed to something," Jen said after a few minutes of discussion about the Steelers' upcoming season thanks to Dwight's t-shirt. "This is a first for Dwight and I. Oh I don't mean our first swap," she hurriedly corrected herself, "I mean our first time with a group."

The rest of us looked at each other and I got the distinct impression from the knowing looks on people's faces that this was NOT the case with the others.

"Hey, no sweat," Mick was the first to respond, "Pen and I were pretty anxious ourselves the first time but it's like riding a bike... well like riding something at least."

The rest of us laughed and then Pen added, looking at Jen, "Mick's right Jen, I was the one who was nervous though. Mick couldn't wait. We didn't start until we got into our late thirties and it was like it took ten years off his performance - or lack of it I should say... sorry sweetie."

Dwight took the opening to add, "Oh that's right. For the guys we've got the purple pills available although I apologize for being so late to mention that so I guess if you need one you'd better take it now. Girls, anything else you might need along those lines just as Pen - I think she could open a store with her current stock!

Thankfully Steve wasn't at that age yet where he needed pharmaceutical assistance to get or maintain an erection and I doubted very much that the others did either although I knew guys their age who took it thinking it would extend their performance even more. Mick was only a couple of years older than Steve and he just waved his hand to politely refuse.

With the introductions over, it was time to get started...

3. Round One

"Well, now that we have the formalities out of the way, any suggestions on how to get this party started?" Dwight asked, rubbing his hands together.

I almost laughed. Wow, this WAS really different from Beth's sex parties. With those once the initiation "ceremony" was over (provided there was someone new) then everyone just more or less went at it without a whole lot of thought. Then again, the average age of the people there was in the mid to late twenties compared with today's somewhat older crowd.

I raised my hand and then red-faced, lowered it again. School teacher habits die hard.

"Why don't we put our names in a hat and draw for first time partners?" I suggested.

Hey, it worked for sixth graders when it came time to match them up although in that case boys picked from the boy hat while girls picked from theirs. Then again, maybe THAT wasn't such a bad idea either although with a little twist in that the guys would pick from the girl hat and the girls would pick from the guy hat. It wasn't that I didn't want to be with any of the other women but I knew Steve would have had a stroke before he paired up with another guy.

We all agreed to my modified version. Pen produced some paper and pens and a couple of baskets instead of hats. We all put in our names with the caveat that if you pulled your own partner then you had to put the name back in and draw again. After all, what was the point in being here if you were going to have sex with your own mate?

As the youngest Julie was picked to draw first and wouldn't you know it, she picked Matt's name. Everyone just laughed as she tossed it back in again and then reached in for another one. This time she got Dwight's name who definitely looked pleased as punch to be picked first. Then again maybe as the oldest guy he was more pleased to be picked by the youngest girl if I know anything about men at all. They can say what they want but when given a choice men will almost always go for the youngest option.

It was then my turn so I reached in to pick out a name and drew Matt. It really didn't matter to me who I drew as I could've made a case for starting out with any one of them. Unlike the guys, I tend to lean towards older men anyway - more experience, care and appreciation. Besides, I had little doubt that before the day was done I'd get to try them all on for size, so to speak, so did it really matter which one went first?

Pen was next with a 50-50 chance between Steve and Mick. Knowing that Steve seems to prefer his women at either the extreme low or high end of the age brackets, I was happy for him when Mick's name was unveiled leaving Jen by default for Steve. Again, he'd probably be dipping his dick in all four of us before we got our clothes on again but I knew the guys were more focused on their first partner than the other girls.

At this point we were all still fully dressed and given that the initial pairing had been decided, everyone sort of looked around and then it was if an unspoken command was given and we all started to undress virtually simultaneously. Soon the four of us were stark naked. Looking around, I quickly took inventory...

First, the obvious things... Julie and I were the only ones shaved - male or female. Had I been asked to guess ahead of time, I would've bet that Jen was mostly hairy while Pen would be trimmed neatly. Jen was around the same age as my mother and aunt. They, and other women I've known in their age bracket, grew up with hairy pussies and I know my mom especially could never bear to shave hers off. I would be willing to bet that 90% plus of the women I know over forty, even many of those in their mid to late thirties, have most of their pubic hair intact. Well, Jen was in that other 10% as she was trimmed down to nothing but a small "V" above her pussy while Pen, who I would've expected to have a similar style, won the trophy for the hairiest pussy although she DID trim it down pretty low.

Other than that, we pretty much covered the spectrum in terms of body shapes and boobs. As for me, I was somewhere in the middle in most categories. By no stretch of the imagination did I have the largest boobs - Pen and her fakes took THAT prize without a close second. Julie had such a small frame that even though her boobs weren't physically the biggest, when taken in proportion to her body they looked much bigger than they actually were, creating an optical illusion that made was likely a B cup if you looked at the tag on her bra into what looked more like a C or a D.

As for the guys, I could tell that despite their outward macho behavior they were all checking out each other's junk. Considering a guy has zero control over the size of his dick I always get a kick out of how much emphasis they place on cock size. It seems so silly as I would bet if you took a poll of all women that most of them would tell you it really doesn't make a heck of a lot of difference to them. Oh sure if it's a monster or a dwarf then that means something but for the typical, run-of-the-mill dick, they all pretty much feel about the same once they're in you. In my opinion the only time it matters is when I'm giving head as then you can really tell what size a guy is - and yet another time when overly large is NOT the most desirable attribute in the world.

That said, three of the four dicks pretty much fell into the mainstream. I also noted that all four guys were circumcised. Over the years I'd had a few guys who weren't cut, maybe more than I know if you take into account the parties where it was hard to keep track of who was in you and who wasn't, but overall I confess that I prefer them cut. Maybe it's more because some guys simply don't practice good hygiene. Regardless, once they're erect and in you, it doesn't make any difference anyway. Again, it's mostly the blowjobs when I really care one way or the other.

I said three of four... Then I noticed Dwight, at apparently the same time as the others based on the soft gasp from Julie. Damn, the guy missed a stellar career in the porn business! If you ask most guys what size their dick is, I can guarantee almost all of them will reply with something at least one or two inches longer then they actual are. Then there's always the "shrinkage" copout, even when it's 110 degrees out. But if Dwight was to claim that his dick was a good eight inches, I would have said he was being conservative. Nine inches? Maybe even ten? Heck, he wasn't even erect yet!

That brings me another point when it comes to dealing with cock size - the erection process. Like, who really cares what size a guy is when he's flaccid? The only good thing about a limp dick is the promise it holds. Face it, the best dick is a hard dick and an small erect dick wins my vote over a long soft one every time.

One odd thing I've noticed over the years is that the larger a man is when he is flaccid, the less he tends to expand when he gets erect. Like I've had guys with dicks maybe only a few inches long when they were soft that practically pushed their way down my throat after I start sucking on them to get them erect. Also, the smaller dicks seem to get stiffer which is a selling point for those who like HARD dicks (like me). When a guy whips out a huge soft dick I find myself often more than a little disappointed when it only grows a little bit and never even gets stiff enough to stand up on its own. While the little guy is pointed up to the ceiling like a rocket about to take off, the big guy is just hanging out there like some sort of firm sausage. Oh well, every girl has her own version of what makes for a good dick so I'm just giving my two cents worth. In any event, it's rare to come across a dick like Dwight's so I was already looking forward to giving it a test drive if nothing else.

Steve leaned over, gave me a quick kiss and headed straight for Pen who had sat back down in her chair in anything but what her mother taught her was a ladylike pose. Her legs were wide apart in a manner exactly how every little girl's mom teaches her NOT to sit. She was cupping her huge boobs in her hands, bouncing them like melons as she waited impatiently for my fiancé. Unfortunately (or fortunately?) I didn't get to see what happened as at that very moment Matt stood in front of me with one hand on his dick slowly stoking himself.

"So Kelly, do you want to suck my dick first or are you going to watch it get hard from me just staring at your incredible body and then fuck you?"

Well, it was a unique approach, I had to give him that. Ironically I had to think about my answer for a moment. On the one hand I LOVE sucking on dicks but then on the other, sometimes it's nice just to fuck like rabbits without any fanfare or even foreplay. What the heck, I could always suck a guy's dick whenever I wanted but it's not that often you get the chance to JUST be fucked. That may sound strange but if you think about it it's true for most girls. Even if I don't suck their dicks first, guys always want to at least grope a little, rub my boobs, try to play with my pussy, maybe even eat me out. Even if it's just a little kissing and playful groping, there's always SOMETHING. That's right... think about it and you'll agree with me.

"Cool, let's do it," I finally responded, strolling over to the hot tub. Unlike my parents' tub this one was built into the ground like a miniature swimming pool, more like the type you see at a hotel. It was circular with decorative ceramic tile lining the sides and top. I sat down, feeling the sun-warmed tile warm on my bare butt. Swinging around, I dropped my legs in the water and then leaned back on my hands with my legs spread wide apart.

Matt watched me and quickly assessed the situation. Realizing what I wanted, he climbed in the tub and stood on the submerged seating area that went all around the interior. Whether by design or happy coincidence it put him at the perfect height to where his growing cock was right at the level of my crotch. He started to reach for my knees, probably to get his balance as he went down on me but I moved them away quickly.

"Noooooo, no touching... I just want you to fuck me Matt," I teased him, wagging my knees in and out to show him my pussy and then hide it from him.

as Matt was keeping his on the edge of the hot tub on each side of me to keep his balance. The only parts that were physically touching between the two of us was his dick and my pussy.

Not surprisingly as it was his first fuck of the day, Matt didn't last all that long. "Mmmmmmm, fuck yeah," he grunted as he started to cum in me long before I was anywhere near getting off myself. He let the first couple of loads of sperm loose inside of me and then he pulled out and the rest of his warm cum sprayed all over my lower stomach and pussy.

"Damn that was fucking hot," he huffed as he plopped down on the tub next to me, his spent cock already starting to droop. Hopefully it would rise again with some of the same speed that it was showing now when it came to dwindling.

I looked down and slowly spread his cum over my stomach with my fingers like it was lotion. Then I slipped down into the hot water and washed it off before it could dry and cake on me. Little streams of coagulated cum spread out over the surface, slowly falling to the bottom of the hot tub where hopefully the filter would grab it before someone got in and found it all over them - been there, done that, not the coolest thing in the world.

"Thanks Matt," I said with a grin, rubbing my pussy with hot water to clean it off. Now THAT felt pretty good too!

Having punched his score card so far as I was concerned, Matt was already looking around for the next piece of, stroking himself again with one hand as he walked away from me. Well, what do you expect when you've just been fucked for the sake of fucking, an after-sex cigarette?

4. Two for One's

After each of the men had cum we regrouped for the next round. Pen was toying with her pussy with a coupled of fingers, pushing Steve's cum out of her and the scooping it up and licking it off her fingers like she was cleaning the bowl after her mom had made cookies. She looked at me and at first I thought she was going to offer me some but she was just teasing me and if anything, made even more of a show of eating it once she knew she had my attention.

Julie looked to have taken a full load on her face, not to mention her hair but she didn't seem as inclined as I would've been to wipe it off but rather wore it like some sort of badge of honor. Jen must have taken her load on her boobs as she was rubbing it over them with both hands, one on each boob as if it were suntan lotion. Hmmmmmm, I appeared to be the only one relatively clean of sperm at the moment but then I was the only one who had gone into the hot tub for sex while the rest had remained on the tables and chairs.

"Well, that was certainly a great way to get things rolling, everyone agree?" Dwight proclaimed after we all were seated again.

Everyone sort of just nodded and smiled, especially the guys. I know at least one of us girls had cum but I wasn't sure who although the glow beaming from Pen's face would have lit a room.

"It would be nice if we had all day to try out various combinations and such but as I warned everyone while planning this, Jen and I have a soccer match to be as in a few hours and you parents know how that goes. So how about we try something to get more people involved all together?"

The rest of us, Jen included, looked at each other but nobody was offering up any ideas so it was left up to Dwight who seemed to relish his role but time was wasting away causing his wife to give him a playful poke and he got the message.

"Alright, alright, so here it is... the gals all lay on their backs next to each other over there on the big table, the guys start out with their own partner and the one on the end flips over this timer I stole from Jen's kitchen drawer." He lifted up a little old-fashioned egg timer with salt in it that spread from one globe to the other when you flipped it over. Each time the timer ends we move over one and the next guy on the end starts the timer over. If a guy cums he has to drop out - along with his partner, until only one pair is left and then we all get to watch the finale."

OK, so it was something different which made it pretty cool for me. Sort of like a sexualized version of musical chairs. It wasn't like anyone else had anything else to offer so we girls got up, went over to a large stone table and laid out some beach towels under us. Then we laid down tight up against one another far back enough so we could rest our feet on the edge of the table. Then the guys got into position. Steve and Matt were firm and ready but Mick and Dwight were still stroking.

After she said it she covered her mouth with both hands, embarrassed a bit but everyone understood what she meant, even if poor Dwight looked a little embarrassed himself at his half-hearted erection.

"Sorry... I didn't mean to say it that way," the poor girl looked like she might even cry but Jen sat up and looked over her way, trying to calm her down.

"You know, she's right," Jen observed, "Dwight, why don't you go down and see if she can't help you out a bit and even the playing field? I think an eighteen year-old should be able to get that perked up pretty quick, don't you think?"

Being Julie was on the end, it made it easy for Dwight to move over and stand to the side of the table while Julie turned her head and took his dick in her mouth and started sucking on it like a baby on a pacifier. Sure enough, in a few minutes between her sucking on his dick and his fondling her boobs he swelled right up like a trooper.

"Ah the wonders of modern medical science... and teenager mouths," Mick observed, having stroked himself to a full erection in the meantime.

The it was my turn to register a protest.

"I think the guys need to give us a little attention before they just start fucking us, don't you girls?" Everyone looked at me and while I had their attention it was obvious I didn't have their understanding.

"Why don't we see which guys eats pussy best first... and THEN they can fuck us after we cum?" I proposed. It only seemed fair to me as odds were at least one of us wouldn't cum otherwise this time around.

Nobody seemed to protect, least of all the guys although I wasn't seeing any open signs of revolt from the female side of the room either. I wasn't trying to be smart-alecky or anything, I just wanted my pussy licked and what could be better than several guys licking it one after the other?

Steve proposed that the guys all line up with their previous partner to start, using some lame excuse about "transitioning" but I knew what his real agenda was. Steve was about as homophobic as they come and it was so soon after the first round that we all had cum still in us, especially me. Steve HATED cum - if he even got his own on him by mistake he acted like hot acid had been poured on him until he washed it off. The idea of having to lick a pussy dripping with another man's cum must have been driving him crazy from the moment I had first proposed it. I hadn't really thought about that or I wouldn't have proposed it but now I could as least support my poor anti-gay fiancé.

Matt returned to his earlier position - between my legs, as I leaned back on my elbows and propped me feet on the edge of the table, lifting my ass up just enough to give him a good clear view of my pussy. Although I had washed myself off, I knew there were still remnants of his last load in me and that if I pushed hard enough I might get some of it to squeeze out but something told me he wouldn't exactly appreciate such a move so I behaved myself.

Dwight announced that it was to get started and matt dropped his head down with his hands under my butt, lifting me up to his mouth like I was a giant piece of watermelon. He plunged his face into my crotch, going directly for my pussy hole with his tongue. I could feel the bridge of his nice against my clit as his tongue probed into me, apparently oblivious of what was lurking just inside. I wonder if he knew the pressure his nose was putting on my clit was actually feeling better than his tongue as it tried to wiggle inside of me - but without a lot of success.

My head leaned back and I closed my eyes as I focused on the feeling of my pussy being licked and kissed. Matt was OK, but definitely eating pussy was not his string suite. It didn't matter all that much as being as horny as I was it didn't take much to drive me over the edge as my hips bucked into his face while I groaned with the ripples of pleasure that were coursing through me.

Soon I could hear all the girls sighing and moaning as each of them was treated to the pleasure of having their pussy licked. Personally I would have been just as happy to get in a circle and do the next girl down the line while the guys watched as I had no doubt they would do a better job than poor matt but this was a party where WHAT we did was almost as important as anything.

Matt was followed by Mick, the Dwight and finally Steve. By the time Steve arrived I'd cum twice (Mick was by far a total novice when it came to female oral sex) and my pussy was soaking wet, well clear of any remaining cum by now.

"What are you waiting for?" I teased him as he seemed to hesitate.

More likely he was just catching his breath but I wasn't giving him any quarter. Steve wasn't nearly as much into giving as receiving when it came to oral sex and lucky for him, I was more than happy with that arrangement. If I really wanted my pussy licked then I preferred going to a girl for that anyway. Still, it wasn't like he was anything like Mick - at least he knew how to make me cum.

And cum he made me... twice in fact. It didn't hurt that he was my fiancé either as I always enjoy being eaten out by someone I know more so than strangers.

Once a full round had been completed, Dwight stood up and wiped his face off with a handy towel. He asked if we girls had had enough for them moment - with his eyes fixed on me, the troublemaker. Hey, I was happy but I didn't know about the others. Everyone seemed anxious to get to the fucking again so I shut my mouth and didn't propose anything more like that

With all the guys now ready, they positioned themselves and then Dwight counted down from three and all of them pushed their dicks into their partners pussy. I felt Steve's inside of me and compared it to having Matt in me a few minutes earlier. Had I closed my eyes and not known who was in me, physically there was little, if any difference. Still, there was something about having my future husband in me that was far more satisfying.

With everyone now coupled, Dwight flipped the timer and they all started.

"OK now, no cheating... full strokes only, none of this half-way shit," Dwight called out like a referee. "And keep up the pace - we don't have all day."

I could feel Julie on one side of me and Pen on the other as we had lined up by age. Their warm nude bodies felt so smooth and soft against mine. I laid one hand on each of their upper thighs as we all were fucked by our husband (or soon-to-be husband in my case).

Before I knew it Dwight was calling out to switch. Damn, that was one fast egg- timer! I wonder if he had doctored it to remove some of the salt in it so it would drain faster?

Dwight came around to replace Matt while the other three just moved down one girl. This time is was Mick's turn to run the timer and as soon as we were all filled once again with a dick he flipped it over and the fucking resumed. Once again Matt was in me and once again I compared him to my fiancé who was now fucking Pen and her massive boobs. Yeah, it was good but definitely not AS good. I wondered if it made the same difference to the guys or was a pussy a pussy and it didn't really matter whose? Hmmm, something I would have to talk to Steve about some time...

Once again the timer quit WAY too soon in my opinion and none of the guys seemed close to cumming. I was starting to wonder if the frequent starts and stops might make this drag on a long time. I mean, it was kind of fun but face it, once the novelty wore off this wasn't exactly the sexiest activity in the world.

The third round was about to begin and who was in front of me but Dwight with that monster dick. I'd heard Julie crying out in a bit of pain when he had first entered her and now when I looked down and saw that python of a snake about to enter me, I drew a sharp breath and prepared for the worst. Held it about half way up, aligning the massive head with my pussy. Thanks god he wasn't the first. After having been fucked now by three guys (OK, two of them was the same guy), I was wet and loose. Actually, when he started pushing there was a momentary sharp feeling and then it was more like I was being pushed apart than anything else. Then with one more hard push he was in me, well, almost all the way but close enough.

Oh yeah, now THIS was a different dick! It was midway through the third round when Steve started groaning. He was fucking Jen now and I thought to myself oh god, he's getting off fucking the MILF! Then he just grinned at me and gave the thumbs up as he continued to hump her - but without the accompanying sound effects. Bastard! He was just teasing me.

Then without warning I felt Dwight's rhythm change and he thrust himself hard into me, causing me a little pain as he pushed in too deep.

"Oh crap!" he groaned as he came inside of me. Now THIS was a surprise. I actually would have put money on Dwight being the last guy standing given the difficulty he had getting it back up again. Then again, who knew how much Viagra he'd taken before we came over.

"Dwight! How could you?" Jen complained as Steve pulled out of her. And so we were down to three.

I had a lot of confidence in Steve. He could go sometimes for like forever without cumming in me. The boy had staying power, I had to give him that. So imagine my surprise when just moments after he started fucking Julie my loving fiancé, the guy who could go on and on, started cumming. It figured, the young one got to him. Crap, it wasn't like she was THAT young.

"Oh Steve, you've GOT to be kidding me," I groaned.

Poor Steve, he could barely even look at me. To think he came in third place... out of four! I never would have called that one.

Eventually Matt was the winner and so he got to cum in Julie as the climax (sorry for the pun) of the event. From my perspective, who cared? It was first place or no place so far as I was concerned.

5. Anything Goes Gangbang

We were down to where things would have to end in about a half hour at the maximum so nobody was really in the mood for anything cute. The time had come for some good old-fashioned fucking. Poor Dwight, he was pretty limp and I didn't think even another blowjob by Julie was going to help at this point. Mick was recovering much better than I had expected as was Steve. Matt... well Matt probably had another two or three loads left in him before that well ran dry.

"C'mon Steve, let's DP Pen... she loves it," I heard Mick say to Steve.

Pen was actually sitting next to me. She had heard them just as I had and she leaned over to whisper to me, "Crap, looks like I'll be sitting sideways in the car going home."

We both giggled but then I wasn't so sure how much she was kidding. I HATE anal sex and DP's even more. OK, I've done them before but that didn't mean I liked them.

Meanwhile, Matt seemed interested in the opposite age range as his wife, heading for Jen with that unmistakable gleam in his eye. That left me, Julie and Dwight. Well, Dwight's dick didn't look like he was going to be making any progress anytime soon. I don't mind sucking on a soft cock so long as it stiffness in my mouth - actually I LOVE that feeling. But sucking on a spent dick that has no chance of recovering is sort of a lost cause.

So that left only one viable option so far as I was concerned. Julie.

Taking a seat next to Julie, I put my arm around he and hugged her close as we watched our guys fucking other men's wives. Steve and Mick were having quite a time with Pen. For all her minor complaints, she sure hadn't protested one bit when after climbing on top of her husband's dock she leaned over and let Steve stuff his cock up her ass. Well, I was glad it was her getting him that way and not me! Meanwhile, Jen was doing a little riding of her own on a dick young enough to be her son's.

"How does it feel to watch your husband fucking another woman?" I asked Julie as I gently touched my fingers to her perky breast, running little circles around the nipple. She was apparently too busy keeping an eye on her husband to notice.

"I really don't mind, we've never been exclusive since we started dating," she said softly.

Yeah right. Something just didn't seem right but then I had other things on my mind than how she dealt with her husband's lustful endeavors.

Reaching a little more around her, I cupped her breast in my hand as I leaned down to kiss the side of her neck. God she smelled so good!

"Ummmmm, Kelly... what are you doing?"

I guess it never even dawned on me that any girl involved in swapping might NOT be a little bisexual.

I leaned over further, taking her nipple in my mouth and sucking gently on it while playing my tongue over the tip.

"Kelly... please don't."

I sat up and looked at her but kept my hand on her boob. "Don't you like girls Julie? You HAVE been with a girl before, haven't you?"

Julie nodded vigorously and answered, "Oh sure, plenty of times. I just prefer boys... is that OK?"

Damn, stuck with an old guy with a spent dick and a hot teenage girl that only wanted sex with boys. Now this was turning into one heck of a swap!

Well, that left just one option. I wasn't about to force Julie into anything she wasn't comfortable with and as much as I LOVE sucking cock, sucking a soft dick wasn't my idea of how to finish the day. Looking over at Steve and Mick, I made an executive decision. Walking over to where Steve as still fucking her ass, I tapped on Mick's head.

"Sorry guy, this girl needs to be fucked and Steve can take care of your wife so that leaves YOU."

Pen look at me and started to say something but I put my fingers on her mouth and shushed her. "Sorry, but stop being selfish and share!"

It took a little rearranging but soon Mick was set free leaving his wife leaning over the table with my fiancé back in her ass again. I sat on the edge of the table and motioned for Mick to move in. If he was holding a grudge for me pulling him away from his wife he certainly wasn't showing it as he quickly inserted his dick where it belonged, at least for the moment - in my pussy.

As Mick fucked me for the last time that afternoon, I saw Julie and Dwight sitting off to the side watching. Well, Julie could be having her pussy licked pretty damn well by now if she had really wanted it so I wasn't feeling sorry for her. Poor Dwight was a different story though. I waved him over and he came up next to Mick.

"C'mon Dwight, let me see what I can do with that monster," I encouraged him.

I laid back and let Mick put my legs up over his shoulders as he held my thighs while he fucked me. That left my head on the table at the other side, in perfect position for Dwight to dangle his dick down into my open mouth. It was like lowering a worm down into the water but this was no little worm, that was for sure.

I started to suck on Dwight's dick. Damn, even when soft it was bigger than most any dick I had ever sucked. I'd had a few giants in my day and his was right up there with them. Even though it wasn't erect, it was so large and thick that it almost passed for a mild erection.

As I sucked on Dwight, Mick eventually filled me with my last load of cum for the day. This time I was playing with myself and actually came twice in the process. While Dwight never did get to cum again, I like to think I made his last moments memorable - they were for me.

It was time for Dwight and Jen to get ready to get their kids. They apologized for having to cut things off but then we all knew the rules before we started so it was fine with all of us. I could have done with a good shower - or even a dip in the hot tub to wash off but we needed to get going so I just threw on my clothes as did Steve. We all hugged and then left for our cars - or truck in the case of Steve and me.

"So did you cum in her ass?" I asked Steve as we drive away.

Steve just grinned at me so I continued, "Don't you dare ask me to suck that thing until you shower, got it buster?"

Steve laughed but he knew I was serious. There aren't a lot of things I won't do sexually but anything to do with assholes is off limits - especially ass-to- mouth. Nope, won't do THAT!

6. Back Home Again

Back at my place Steve came in with me. Kristen was there to greet us, asking all sorts of questions but I brushed her aside, telling her I needed a shower - badly. All that did was elicit even more questions but I just shook my head and told her she would have to wait until later for any details.

Steve followed me up and we showered in the bath tub together. First things first - washing that dick off. By now Steve was in high gear yet again so it began to harden as I scrubbed it but THAT would have to wait a few more minutes. My second priority after getting him cleaned off was scrubbing myself down - especially my hair. Somehow along the way I'd gotten someone's load in my hair which I discovered on the way home as I tried to comb my hair.

Once we were clean it was straight to bed. Part of my agreement to do this sort of stuff with Steve was that anytime we had sex with other people, we had to come home and make love first thing. Yeah, I know it's "just sex" but still, it WAS sex and no matter how you try to depersonalize it, it was someone else my fiancé was fucking. That was OK but before he went to bed he was going to always get a reminder of who really deserved that dick - ME.

Later that night as I lay in bed with Steve's dick still in me, I smiled to myself and squeezed down just a little on it, feeling that reassuring feeling in me I get whenever his cock is inside of me. It's like I'm totally his, completely his, only his.

Sure swapping is fun but nothing beats making love with the man you love!

(Jul 20) Chapter 233: My Wedding Shower

Story codes: MF oral F-solo adultery inc father daughter
Me (26)
John - my dad (46)
Steve - my fiancé (28)
Josh (39)

So much for my "stay within the family" ideals. What I mean is that I always figured once I got married my sexual activities would stay within my family, just as my mother had done throughout her 25 years of marriage. That was fine until Steve asked me to marry him and I accepted unconditionally. It's rather ironic that I always figured my biggest issue with getting married would be getting my fiancé to accept my requirements regarding incest and here it was ME the one having to accept HIS requirements!

For those who just want to know what happened, here are the answers to your questions... YES, he fucked me. NO, his daughters had nothing to do with it. YES, his wife was home. NO, she had no idea. YES, my grandma knew about it. NO, my grandma was not involved in any way. YES, I enjoyed it. YES, their pool was involved. YES, he came in me.

Now for those who want the details...

1. Plausible Deniability

If you see something happening that you know is wrong, be it morally, legally, or whatever, if you don't report it or otherwise take action does that make you guilty of that activity as well? Well, a number of laws in the United States would say you are. For instance, if you witness a murder and don't report it, then you are considered an accessory to that murder. Sorry, but when your dad's a lawyer you tend to think about these things...

So now take a step back and look at the "guilt by association" concept from this perspective... if you SUSPECT that something is being done but you don't actually witness it, you have no proof that it happened and nobody actually confesses to you that it took place, THEN are you responsible? You may be wondering if such a thing is really worth worrying about but yet it happens every day. Such a situation is sometimes referred to as “plausible deniability” and most closely associated with the sleazy world of politics. This principle can apply to a lot of situations and all of us have probably engaged in it in one form or another to various degrees. For example, there’s the infamous, “Don’t ask don’t tell” policy in the U.S. military.

So why am I bringing all this up? Well, recently I spent a week at my grandmother’s house in northeastern Illinois. We’re talking about my mother’s mother, the same mother whose husband took the virginity of both her daughters in the course of two weeks when they were just fourteen and twelve respectively. The same mother who had to know full well what was happening behind her daughters’ closed bedroom doors even though she never actually witnessed anything or talked about it with her daughters or husband. This is the same mother who always seemed to need to go shopping or visit a friend when her now married (or divorced) daughters later came home to visit their father.

If you were to ask my grandmother on the witness stand whether she knew that her husband was having sex with her daughters, she could raise her right hand and swear on stack of bibles that she had never seen anything like that and that nobody ever told her anything about such things. No jury in the world could convict her on those narrow responses as they were absolutely true. Wildly misleading... but true.

Privately though, she has told me that she knew what was going on from the start. Like, how could she not? The knowing looks between the girls and their dad, the way they dressed and acted slutty around him; the flirting and occasional flashing. Where else could the cum stains on their pajamas and nighties have come from at such an early age? What about the flushed faces and the occasional bit of cum that they missed when they cleaned up? Did she really expect anyone to believe that seeing her husband getting an erection whenever her daughters were in the room was just a coincidence?

Yes, it was all about plausible deniability. So long as she wasn't told about it, so long as she never allowed anything to be done in her presence, she could always claim she had no hand in anything that happened and she wasn't responsible.

That’s not to say in private my grandmother kept her peace. As I entered my teens I wondered at times why my grandmother was so interested in how things were going between me and my dad. It wasn't until I had passed my sixteenth birthday and started having sex regularly with my dad that my mom finally told me about HER relationships with her own father as well as how her mother had stayed away from it all. It was then that the puzzle pieces all fell into place for me. The next time she asked me her probing questions I proudly informed her that my dad was fucking me, thinking she would be happy for me. It sort of struck me funny that she seemed more disappointed than anything else. Did she really think that the traditions that had started in her own family would not be passed down to the next generation?

As I got older, my grandmother and I would talk more and more about incest. I mean incest so far as I was concerned, not so much with my mom and grandfather. While my grandma may have been willing to admit she knew about it to me, it wasn't like she was willing to talk about it. She seemed far more interested in what was happening in my life instead.

Just to be sure, it's not that my grandmother is sexually repressed or some sort of prude. From what I gather she was a bit of a slut herself in her teen years, at least so far as that went back in those days. Like it didn't take much back then for a girl to get a reputation. So far as raising my mom and her sister, she certainly hadn't exactly been overly strict. While she may not have been as open-minded when it came to having sex in her house the way my parents were, it was also a different era when such things weren't even considered, let alone encouraged. I looked at photos in my mom's picture boxes and albums and she and her sister definitely dressed slutty and loved the boys.

I say all this because I was getting ready to spend a week at my grandma's house - just me and her. With my wedding just six weeks away, she wanted to throw me a shower and didn't want to make too many trips so she asked me if I could make it to her house instead. She had a number of friends that knew me from when I would visit as a teen and they were all going to get together. Considering the average age would be over forty, probably more like fifty or sixty, it wasn't going to be anything like the one my friends were plotting for me back home. Still, I imagined some silly games and prizes mixed with some practical gifts. The big thing was that it would please my grandmother and to me that was the most important part.

On the bright side two of my bridesmaids (I have six in all counting the MOH) said they would attend the shower. They were going to drive together and go home after the shower as they had to work the next day. At least I'd have someone that wasn't twice my age! I didn't envy them the long drive back that night but they were determined to help me with my shower. Once of them had recently gotten married herself and I had been a bridesmaid in her wedding so she was returning me the favor as well. Neither of them knew anything about me and my dad, or even of some of the things my fiancé and I had been doing since we'd gotten engaged. Both were really sweet girls and while they WERE good friends and thus knew a lot of my past history, I doubted that they would have really wanted to know everything about all that stuff anyway.

It's all about plausible deniability...

2. Road Trip

There are two basic options to get from Pittsburgh to the small town in Illinois where my grandmother has lived just about her entire life - drive or fly via Chicago. It's a good nine hour drive at the very least and I'd actually never driven it alone before but rather always as a passenger in the back seat. People might ask me why I don't fly but when you take into account the trip to the airport, the time to check-in and board, the flight time, then the time to get your luggage, get a car and then drive an hour to get to my grandmother's you really didn't save any time and the cost was a LOT more. Besides, hate to fly in the first place.

As you might gather, I can't say I was looking forward to the trip. I should clarify it is the travel part of the trip I dreaded, not the destination. As I mentioned, this would be my first time driving it alone. In fact, it would be the furthest I'd EVER driven in one day in my life. My previous driving record had been to college which was only a three hour drive or so making this like triple my previous record.

All my life my family made at least one or two trips a year to visit my grandmother, sometimes more. My dad always did the driving with my mom in the front passenger seat and me in the back, usually seated behind my mom. Sometime my Aunt Linda and cousin Kristi would come along as well in which case my Aunt Linda would pick her spot and then the two of us would negotiate our own seats. Sometimes one of us would sit in the third seat of my dad's SUV, sometimes we both would. It was always something different and usually changed several times during the course of the trip.

As a young girl, my mom would always bring me toys to play with or books to read to keep me occupied during the trip. As I got older, these became less a distraction but then when I got to be eleven I found a new "toy" that made the trip much easier to deal with, not to mention I always had the necessary "tools" right at SUV I had to be a bit more careful who drove by me but then there were times it was fun NOT to be careful. Truckers were always safe to tease - even the female ones. They would honk and drive alongside of me before moving on. It was the soccer moms in minivans who I had to keep an eye out for the most. Armed with cell phones and pious attitudes, they could have called me in for indecent exposure had I not kept a rein on myself when they were pulling up alongside.

One thing I DID learn though about masturbating and driving... People may think that texting and cell phones are distracting while driving but they are nothing compared to masturbating, especially if you get serious about it. More than once I caught myself in a wrong lane or about to rear-end someone when my feelings and desires started to get the best of me. Still, it DID make the trip a lot more relaxing and passed the time quickly so I considered it worth whatever risk there might be. Thank goodness nobody is proposing a law to ban masturbation while driving!

So I was packed with my suitcase in the car and some clothes hanging in the back seat when Kristi met me at the door to kiss me goodbye. We hugged and I felt her bare breasts pressing against my thin pink t-shirt which was the only thing between our boobs. Not that this was anything unusual as Kristi was topless around the house at least 90% of the time. She had on a black thong though as unlike me, she wasn't a "bottomless" girl. Not that she was shy - quite the opposite in fact. I think that for her it stemmed back from her hooker days when she would tease the guys.

"Nice... I see you're all ready for your trip," she chuckled, stepping back to give me the once-over. My cousin's eyes started at my feet which wore a comfy set of sneakers with little white anklet socks. I don't like to wear sandals or open-toed shoes when I drive as I find that to get the car cool enough for my body that my feet would often end up freezing. In addition to a light pale pink t-shirt I wore one of my favorite denim skirts, one of those that looked like they were cut from long pants but actually came off the rack that way. Needless to say I wasn't wearing panties, something Kristi seemed to feel that she had to verify herself by reaching under the back and planting her hand on my bare butt, running her finger up my ass crack to make sure there wasn't anything hiding in between my butt cheeks..

"Mmmmmmm, you know I've always envied your ass," Kristi murmured as she rubbed and squeezed my butt.

"Well you're more than welcome to come with me and rub it the whole way if you want," I teased her, not that I would have turned her down if she had accepted.

Kristi just frowned instead. Actually I knew that she would've taken me up on the offer if she didn't have so much to do over the weekend. With the local home sales market starting to pick up, it wasn't a good time for her to be taking time away from open houses. Even if she had, I think her mom would have killed her had she even suggested it as they worked as a team.

One last kiss and I was off to the turnpike. It had been ages since I'd pushed my poor car this hard but hopefully it would hold up. Based on the forecasts for the week I was praying that the air conditioning wouldn't give me any problems. The road wasn't all that crowded and once I was through the toll gate (thank you God for EZ-Pass) I set the cruise control on 70 and settled in for the long haul.

It wasn't long before boredom set in. I know some people love driving and for them a road trip is heaven on earth but for me it's just about the most boring thing I can think of. I'd rather sit through an extra sermon than drive more than hour on the road, especially alone with nobody to talk to. It was bad enough when my dad drove and at least I had the back seat all to myself to do whatever I wanted - even if it was just to stretch out and sleep. Driving was worse in that you had to keep your mind on the road.

Yes, driving alone is the epitome of hell. Sometimes I wonder if masturbation got started back on some ancient cave-man road trip. Like the clan was on the move and the kids were bored and then someone discovered this wonderful way to keep them occupied and quit whining, "Are we there yet?" OK, so maybe that's stretching it a bit but the core concept still applies. I know my parents were thrilled when I started handling my own boredom issues by taking matters into my own hands - literally. The timing couldn't have been better. Just as I was getting to where keeping me occupied on the road was becoming more and more challenging, suddenly I had this new thing that if anything, made me sad when we reached our destination.

While I know some guys claim to masturbate when they drive, it has to be difficult to stroke your own dick behind a steering wheel. There are many reasons why I'm thankful for being a girl and I say a little thank-you prayer when I'm horny behind the wheel. I can't even imagine trying to wiggle out a cock from my pants and then trying to stroke it while I drive. Heck, it's hard enough for me to do it for a guy while he does the driving and all I have to do is concentrate on the task at hand! All I have to do is lift my skirt a bit and I'm home free. Even if I'm wearing panties it's a whole lot easier to slide them to one side then trying to work out this long hard dick through a pair of boxer shorts or, god forbid, tight jockey shorts.

I don’t really remember at which mile marker I started touching myself but it was somewhere just after Cleveland. It’s like one of those things you start to do without really even thinking about it. My mom use to nudge me at times when I first got into it and my hand would drift to my crotch at times and places it wasn't really appropriate - at least she said it wasn’t. Often I was just as surprised as she was. It was like my hand developed a mind of its own and did its thing without me even realizing what was happening.

Somewhere just after crossing into Indiana I was just driving along like I was on autopilot. A few miles before I’d passed though the toll gates at the borders and it was like one of those “How did I get here already?” moments. Ever find yourself somewhere you wanted to go and then not remember hardly a thing about how you got there?

Then a horn honked and I was jolted out of whatever surreal world I was driving in at the time and looked about to me see where the obnoxious noise had come from. It had to be a truck from the deep sound of the air horn and the way it seemed to come from above me rather than right next to me. Sure enough, passing by me was this huge semi with a guy on the passenger side hanging out of the window with one arm holding on for dear life as he stretched to peer into my car. He was saying something but with my window up and the air-conditioning on full blast there was little chance of me hearing what he was saying. Still, there was no mistaking what he was looking at - ME!

It was then that I realized my skirt was bunched up around my waist, exposing my bare crotch with my one hand tucked in between my thighs. From the guy’s perch above me there could be no mistaking what I was doing. Well, it’s not like I was embarrassed, just surprised at the unexpected intrusion. If anything, the fact that some total stranger had “caught” me doing myself was turning me on all the more if anything. I looked up and smiled at him while spreading my legs as far apart as I could in the confines of my seat. He gave me a thumbs up which just encouraged me to do more so I pushed my finger up into me to get it good and wet, making sure he could see what I was doing, and then pulled it back out and sucked it clean like I was sucking on a popsicle. Licking my lips, I returned my hand to where it belonged as the horn sounded once more and the truck passed me by.

Feeling a little flushed from exposing myself so blatantly, I got all the more serious about what I was doing. What I REALLY needed right then was a rest area where I could pull over and do myself properly but lord only knew how far it would be until the next one came up. Other cars were passing me as I wasn't doing 80 MPH like it seemed people thought the speed limit was but none of them had the proper height or angle to get a look inside to see what I was doing. Still, even that was sort of a turn-on as I would glance to the side to see who was passing me and then realize that they had no idea whatsoever what I was doing just a few feet away.

It was maybe half-way through Indiana when I came the first time, arching up against the seat back as I rubbed my clit fast and furious. God it felt good! A minivan with family complete with mom and dad in the front seat and three kids in the back was passing by just as I was peaking. Mmmmmmm, if only they had any idea of why I was looking a bit frazzled at the time! What would dad have answered to, “Daddy, why is that girl touching herself like that?”

My second orgasm came along just before the heavier traffic in the Chicago/Gary area started which was fortunate as I needed two hands on the wheel from this point onward. It’s not like I drive all that often, especially in this sort of traffic where there were five and six lanes in each direction! I left my skirt pulled up though in hopes that maybe somebody would notice but every seemed too intent on getting to wherever they were going to notice. Oh well, their loss...

Finally I reached the last interchange and turned on the smaller highway leading to my grandmother’s home town. It was amazing to see the growth in the area. Back when I was a little girl I remember my dad driving here and me looking at all the fields and pastures filled with farm animals. Oh well, now it was nothing but stores and roads. Not an improvement if you ask me.

Before long I was pulling into my grandmother’s concrete driveway. It looked just the same as I remembered it all my life although now it was dwarfed by all the newer, larger homes that had sprung up during the building explosions of the past decade or so. It was a small ranch home with a basement, nothing extravagant. The corn field in the back where I use to play as a little girl was long gone - replaced by a church which suited my grandmother just fine as she switched to it and could now walk to church whenever she wanted. She had lived next to the same people since my mom was born but in the past few years even that had changed. When the older guy to the one side had moved into a nursing home after his wife died, a new couple had moved in that were in their forties. Empty-nesters, they didn't associate much with my grandma other than to be polite and say hi when they were in the back yard. The only time my grandmother mentioned them was to complain that their dog pooped in her yard all the time.

The old widow on the other side of my grandmother's house had died a few years back and been replaced by a school teacher and his family. They had two daughters, both of who were now in high school if I remembered things right. I hadn't seen them in a while and we'd never really talked much in the past although I distinctly remember my father drooling over them! I noticed the above-ground pool they'd installed shortly after moving in was still there but nobody was home at the moment so I just went in to greet my grandmother.

3. The Bridal Shower

The primary reason for my trip was my first wedding shower. Actually I was having a total of three of them - this one, one by Steve's mother for her friends and family, and another by my friends (not to be confused with the bachelorette party Beth had promised me so many years before!). My mom and Steve's had initially been coordinating to hold one together but then they decided to hold off until just before the wedding when Steve's side of the family and friends from California would be coming in. My friends were talking about something a couple of weeks before the wedding so it ended up that this one was to be the first.

Just to be clear, this was my grandmother throwing the shower for me, not any of my crazy friends, and she was inviting her personal friends so I wasn't expecting it to be anything wild and crazy. In fact, the invitation list I'd seen numbered about thirty women and I hardly knew any of them. Thankfully two of my bridesmaids, Nancy and Samantha, were going to drive out the morning of the shower which I thought was really sweet of them. Sam had some friends in Indiana so they would drive back the night of the shower and spend some time there before heading back to Pittsburgh. At least I wouldn't be the only one under forty! Exactly why my grandmother couldn't have just waited until my "family" shower a month from now was beyond me but who was I to argue?

Arriving at my grandmother's house after a grueling drive, I was tired and frustrated from all the city traffic towards the end of the trip. Even though I'd done my best to keep myself "occupied" during the trip, it still was a long trip and without anyone to talk to or share the driving duties I was dead tired. Hmmm, or maybe it was because I did so that I was so tired?

Fortunately my grandmother is a sweetie and she had dinner ready and didn't push me to go out and do anything right away. It was crazy hot out but her back deck was shaded by several old trees that kept it down to a reasonable temperature. It was much nicer to sit out on the lounge chaise than being cooped up inside in the air-conditioning.

As we sat and exchanged small talk, I looked over at the neighbors' houses. The deck was on the side of the house that was closest to the teacher's house, actually just a few feet from the property line with just enough room for a car to drive back to get to the extra garage in back. It was never used as a garage, it was really a tool shed with a garage door.

"I bet they use that pool a lot in this weather," I commented to my grandmother.

She sort of shrugged and replied, "Not nearly as much as back when the girls were little. Actually it seems like a waste as I think he spends more time cleaning it than they do swimming in it."

The pool was mostly above ground with a wooden security fence around the perimeter. The stairs leading to the top deck that surrounded the pool had a swinging door that I noticed was padlocked shut. Damn, so much for sneaking in and cooling off while they were out!

A while later a lady arrived to talk to my grandmother about the shower the next day. It was going to be held in the church behind her house which made it convenient. From their discussions I learned they were planning on setting up right after the service with everyone due to arrive by around 2:00. Hopefully Sam and Nancy would be here by then!

****************

The next morning I woke in the guest bed and for a moment I was disoriented and when I looked at the alarm clock I felt a panic in my chest. Damn, I'd slept in and now I was going to be late! It was something I rarely missed, meeting with my dad before church, and now I would barely have enough time if I skipped a shower to get over there to his house and satisfy him before we'd be late for service.

Then my eyes focused and I remembered that I wasn't in my bedroom in Pittsburgh but rather the guest bedroom at my grandmother's house. I felt a little twinge between my legs as I realized that I wouldn't be seeing my dad this morning. Over the years I think I could count on one hand how many times I missed being with him because of something that was my fault. It wasn't so much that I missed the sex. Sure, any sex is good sex but it wasn't the physical rewards that made me so conscientious about fulfilling my obligations. No matter how many times I give myself to him, I don’t think I will ever grow tired of seeing the look in my father’s eyes when he wants me, or his sigh as he cums inside of me. It’s the kiss he gives me after we uncouple that tells me how I pleased him, how I satisfied his needs and desires even if only for a little while.

I threw back the covers and walked down to the hall to the bathroom. I didn’t hear my grandmother anywhere and the door to her bedroom was closed so I assumed she was still sleeping. After taking care of Mother Nature’s urgent call I started back to the guest room and was startled when my grandmother turned the corner into the hallway and almost bumped right into me. I hadn’t bothered with a robe or anything so I was stark naked at the time.

“Sorry grandma,” I stammered, instinctively covering my boobs with my hands. I know, it was a strange reaction as in most circumstance I LIKE to be seen naked but with my grandmother it was different.

Grandma stepped back a step and just shook her head. “Nothing I haven’t seen before honey,” she assured me.

With that I slipped back into the bedroom and closed the door partially behind me. It felt odd to be in a bedroom with the door shut, even when it wasn't shut tightly. Still, I respected my grandmother’s feelings and I knew she didn't really like it when people ran around naked in her house. When my dad was with me we made it a point to always put on a robe or a shirt or something to be a little modest. Even when we started sharing the same bedroom after he started fucking me, nothing was actually said about it although I noticed the first few times my grandmother didn't seem too thrilled about it even though she never brought up the subject or discussed it.

Still feeling tired, I lay back on the bed with my head on the pillow and my legs stretched out and spread open. Even though the air-conditioning was running, my grandmother didn't keep the house exactly cold and so the ceiling fan was running at mid-speed. The air the fan was blowing my way felt so good against my hot bare skin.

I closed my eyes and started to remember the last time I’d slept in this bed but then my dad had been with me. He had woken up first and by the time I awoke he already was spooning with me and had his finger up my pussy while his hardened dick was trying to push its way between my closed thighs - without much success I might add. I didn't even say good morning but just lifted my leg enough for him to get his dick up against my pussy. I felt his fingertips push the head into my pussy and then the thrust of him against my bottom as he pushed himself inside of me. Silently my dad fucked me; it was as if I was still asleep and he didn't want to wake me. Of course I WAS awake but neither of us wanted to spoil the moment. Eventually he came in me and as he flooded my pussy with his sperm he put his arm around me and pulled me in tightly against him, his hand covering my boobs and squeezing it as he thrust deeply with each load of cum. When he had finished, he left the room, still without saying a word as I laid there and drifted back to sleep once more.

Oh yeah, it was working! The memory of my dad's thick dick in me, together with the light touch of my fingers on my swollen clit and wet pussy, was working their magic on me and before long I was cumming once again on my grandmother's bed.

With THAT out of my system, I headed back again to the bathroom, still naked but my grandmother was out of sight this time. The shower felt good and after I dried my hair and did my makeup I went back to the bedroom to get dressed. I'd bought a new dress just for the shower - a black sundress with large roses. The spaghetti straps were so thin as to be almost not there and it came down to about the mid-thigh region - low enough to keep from offending the Victorian sensibilities of my grandmother's friends but high enough to bare some leg. A pair of simple black heels rounded it out. While a bra was out of the question in this type of dress, I DID choose a black thong. Again, this was going to be worn in front of a bunch of women two to three times my age so it wasn't like I was trying to show off anything.

I headed to the kitchen where my grandmother had breakfast ready. She took a long glance at my dress and for moment I thought maybe it was just a hair too short but then she smiled and nodded her approval. Again, she wasn't exactly a prude and I had seen some old photos of the outfits she allowed my mom and her sister to wear made this dress look positively conservative. We carried our cereal bowls out to the back deck and sat around the round glass table. I noticed the cars were back in the driveway next door which meant people were home again.

Not long after we'd sat down, I heard the door open next door and out walked this simply stunning teenage girl. Trying to keep my eyes from bugging out of my head, I couldn't help but think, "Damn, could this possibly be the same girl I use to baby-sit when I stayed over so many years ago?"

"Maggie's grown up a lot, hasn't she?" my grandmother said to me in a low tone, seeing my eyes focusing on the stunning neighbor girl. "She just graduated you know - but she's a year younger than Tammy."

She was referring to me youngest cousin Tammy who had indeed graduated from high school not long before. Tammy was nineteen though, whereas Maggie was eighteen if I was remembering correctly.

Maggie paid us no attention as she got in the car and drove off somewhere.

“She’s a bit of snot,” my grandma huffed, “Thinks she’s God’s gift to boys or something like that.”

Well, from the brief look I’d seen of her in her standard summer girl uniform of daisy duke shorts and tight low-cut tank top I could understand why she might have that perception of herself. Indeed, I bet the guys were falling all over themselves whenever she was around.

My grandmother continued, “Now Cindy... SHE is the cute one. She’s going to be even hotter than her sister but she has such a better attitude and personality. We still talk a lot whereas her older bitch of a sister doesn’t give me the time of day.”

There was no sign of her but just as I was about to pick up our dishes and take them inside, the door next door opened again and out walked the father. He seemed to have a mission - to pick up the pool toys that were strewn all about.

My grandmother sniffed a bit and leaned over rather conspiratorially, “He does that EVERY day - picking up for those girls. Always has you know. They don’t do anything around the house so far as I can tell. A couple of spoiled ones if I ever saw them.”

It wasn't until he had tossed everything back into the pool that he turned and saw us sitting there. He waved and walked over to the railing on the deck.

“Morning Martha, going to be another hot one, eh?” he greeted her. Then he looked at me and smiled, “So who’s your visitor this morning?”

My grandma just waved her hand at him and laughed. “For crying out loud Josh, you know darn well who this is. Now greet my granddaughter properly.”

“Oh my god, that’s little Kelly?” he exclaimed, maintaining his little façade for just a little longer. Then he leaned over and extended his hand which I took and shook. “So you’re finally getting married... you’re worried grandmother here thought THAT was never going to happen.”

“Josh!” my grandma scolded him but he just ignored her.

“So when’s the big day?” he asked. I told him and he whistled, “Wow, that’s not too far away. Nervous yet?”

I just shrugged and smiled. Meanwhile I was giving him a once-over, just as he was so obviously doing with me. I had my legs crossed and shifted slightly so my dress worked its way up just a little bit more to expose more of my upper thigh to him. His eye glanced down quickly and then he tried to act like he hadn't noticed. I wanted to laugh but that would have spoiled things.

"The gals are all throwing her a shower this afternoon, would you like to come?" my grandmother teased him.

"Hmmmmmm.... sounds tempting but I'll take a pass," he declined gracefully. Yeah, like some guy just under forty was going to spend the afternoon playing silly games with a bunch of ladies that could be his mother - or maybe even grandmother.

"So when you heading back?" he asked me. I told him I would be staying the week which he then used as an excuse to make his exit. "Great, hope to see you around. Gotta get back before the old lady hollers," he joked, saluting us and heading back to the house.

"He's always been a nice neighbor," my grandmother said once he was out of earshot, "Sometimes I don't know what I would do without him helping out around here.

"Yeah I see... I wouldn't mind him helping out either," I said, winking at her and then looking back to check him out as he returned home. OK, so he wasn't some twenty-something Adonis but he wasn't too shabby for a guy almost forty. Serving as a wrestling coach undoubtedly didn't hurt either.

My grandmother quickly caught onto what I was inferring.

"OK, I'll just say this once and then keep my peace," she started out, making me wonder what was about to come out. "I know a lot more about what you do than I let on but as you know it's not something I care to discuss. All I ask is that you control yourself this week and not do anything to mess with Josh. He's a decent husband and father who doesn't need someone like you messing with him."

With that it was like a light switch got flipped and she smiled and helped me with the dishes as if nothing had been said.

Wow, now THAT really stunned me. I wondered who had been telling her about me and just what she really knew. Obviously someone had clued her in on my weakness for married men. But it was the "someone like you" comment that really surprised me.

"Like me"? Just what did she mean by THAT? It certainly didn't appear to be a compliment that much I could figure out on my own.

After we had cleaned up it was time for her to head over to the church to get things ready. I offered to help but she insisted I stay behind.

“This only happens once in your life sweetie, take full advantage of it.”

Left all alone, I grabbed the remote and turned on the TV before calling home to Steve. God I missed him already, and not just his wonderfully responsive dick. One of the things that made me sure that Steve was “the one” was that I could do just about anything with him and still be happy. Even if we just sat next to each other on a bench on the park and never said a word, it was like I was in heaven. With most guys, if I was calling them it was for phone sex but right now I just wanted to hear my fiancé's voice, to hear him tell me how much he loved me and how badly he missed me. Now if he wanted to tell me how he missed fucking me, I could go for that too!

Time flew by and I was still on the phone with Steve when the doorbell rang and I went to find that Sam and Nancy had made it. I said goodbye to Steve and let them into the house. It was just for a brief moment as once they learned that things were being set up for the shower already they hustled out the back door, down the deck stairs and almost ran to the church in back, at least as much as their heels allowed.

Watching them leave for the church, I felt a pang in my heart to realize how fortunate I was to have such good girlfriends. Both of them had been in my inner circle of friends since we were little girls. Sam (short for Samantha) held a rather unique place in that she was the one who introduced me to doggie sex – and I don’t mean just the position. She was wearing a pretty white dress with a light tan crocheted shawl that was even shorter than mine. With her blonde hair and stunning tan she looked positively gorgeous. She was getting married a week after me and we were both bridesmaids in each other’s weddings. We had even tried on wedding dresses together. When she told me she was getting married it was a bit of a shock as I hadn’t realized she was all that close to her current boyfriend. In fact, I even thought maybe this was one of those “required” weddings but she assured me she wasn't pregnant. When I asked her if her fiancé knew about her favorite bedmate she’d just grinned and made it clear that he knew everything and that he was OK with it. Well, just as Steve as OK with sharing his wife with her dad, I guess I couldn't say anything about her future husband being willing to share her with the family pet!

Nancy had been wearing a cute strapless sundress in a blue pattern. She’d put on a few pounds in the last few years but was still nowhere near being fat. She had been one of the first girls I masturbated with at sleepovers as a young teen but other than that we'd never done much beside a few experimental times together. Perhaps one of the times I remember best was about four years earlier when Beth had joined us for a rather interesting game of Truth or Dare. She was still single but I had the feeling the wedding bells weren't too far off for her either based on the way she and her boyfriend behaved whenever they were together – which seemed to be all the time.

About a half hour later Sam came back over and announced it was time for me to make an appearance. It was about fifteen minutes after the hour so most of the women who were going to show up were probably there by now. I walked across the blazing hot asphalt parking lot and into the church where I was greeted by applause and yellow lei. The theme was a beach party and there was Beach Boy music playing along with decorations that all encompassed a beach theme.

I noticed that everyone was wearing a clothespin so I asked where mine was and Nancy just giggled and explained. Apparently anytime someone mentioned my name during the proceedings they had to give their clothespin up to the person who caught them saying it. The idea being that whoever had the most clothespins at the end of the shower would win some sort of prize. Thus from then on I was referred to as “the girl”, “the bride”, “sweet pea” – don't ask me why, and just about everything but “Kelly”.

Once things got started for the most part it was a typical wedding shower right out of “God Housekeeping or something like that. There were lots of snack foods followed by silly games. As dumb as they were, everyone seemed to get a kick out them and so I tried my best to smile and be gracious.

Then came time for the gifts. Nancy was appointed to hand them to me while Sam sat down next to me with a pad of paper to record who gave what so I could get the Thank-You letters correct afterwards. Apparently everyone thought I was going to be some sort of housewife like on Leave It to Beaver as I got mostly kitchenware, towels, baskets and such. Someone slipped in a box labeled “Sex Toys” and everyone gasped and acted all embarrassed but at the same time they all had something to say about me using them. The other gift I enjoyed was from my grandmother which was something NOT in my registry – a beautiful cream- colored satin nightgown with a matching short robe. It wasn't so much sexy as it was beautiful. She just smiled at me while everyone oohed and awed at it as I held it up to be seen.

By the way, supposedly I’m having three kids - two boys and a girl. That’s based on the scientific method where they counted the number and color of ribbons that I broke while opening the packages!

After the shower I thanked everyone, especially my two friends for having driven so far. It seemed like such a long drive for just a few hours but they were really great about it. Still, they headed off without staying too long afterwards so they could get to Sam’s friend’s house before it got too late.

And so my very first wedding shower came to a close…

4. Flirting With the Neighbor

The rest of the week was forecasted to be unbearably hot and indeed for once the weatherman got it right. My grandma had an old circular thermometer on a tree by the deck and it seemed stuck on the upper ninety degrees section, almost 100 degrees at times and that was in the shade. The heat wave made life miserable; almost too hot to even lay out for some much needed sun before my wedding. It didn’t help that my grandma's house isn't exactly situated for privacy. The deck was built out over the lawn from the back door with no fences and with the land as flat as it was the neighbors on both sides can see everything - and vice versa.

After my initial greeting by Josh, I didn't see anyone until the next morning when I went out to read the news on my iPad. I almost fell asleep when I heard voices and I looked over to see Maggie and Cindy getting ready to head out somewhere. I didn’t say anything but did look their way. Cindy waved and I waved back but Maggie just ignored me. It wasn't like she was being mean; she just didn’t seem to notice I even existed. They drove off without saying anything so I went back to my reading and e-mails. Given I was as much as ten years older than them I guess I could see where they didn't see me as much as another girlfriend but rather a mom and indeed, I imagined that if they babysat that some of the mothers could very well be my age. Wow, talk about making me feel suddenly so old!

My grandmother eventually joined me and she seemed fascinated by my iPad. Then again, I loved it myself so I was more than happy to demo it for her. As we played Josh came out, this time along with his wife Karen. It had been a while since I had seen her and the first thing I noticed was that she was a little chunky than she had been before. Not so much that she was fat but her thighs definitely were heavier and it didn't help she was wearing shorts that really should have covered more in her condition. The other thing I noticed was she apparently was one of those women whose weight is disproportional to her bust. What I mean is that when a woman like that gains or loses weight, it seems her boobs are affected the most before anything else. In Karen's case she was sporting what had to be 38DDs – significantly bigger than what I remembered her being before.

While her weight was a little bit more than before, her personality hadn't changed. Oh she was nice – but nice to BE nice, if you know what I mean. It was like it was all a façade and if you dug in just below that forced smile and cheerfulness it was a whole different person inside. Although she had always been fine around me whenever I visited in the past, I could never shake the feeling that behind closed doors there was another Karen that most people never saw.

Josh and Karen each grabbed a chair and we talked about the shower and my upcoming wedding. Being Josh was a teacher, he was off for the summer and unlike me, he seemed to make enough money that he had to moonlight during the summer to make ends meet. Then again, the high school where he taught was quite affluent and if the teacher salaries were anything like the facilities, and then he was paid handsomely.

This morning I had picked out a pair of shorts and a halter top. The shorts were loose as it was already in the nineties and it wasn't even noon yet and even the halter top wasn't one of my smaller ones. It tied in the middle and left me pretty much unsupported, allowing plenty of cleavage to be exposed which I saw that Josh had noticed almost immediately when he first said hello. It was like I wanted to give him the classic, “Hey guy, I'm up HERE,” but I didn't want to embarrass him in front of his wife. Still, I couldn't believe that she hadn't noticed her husband's wandering eyes. I mean like when I am with Steve I instantly know whenever his attention is on anybody but me. It's not so much that it bothers me, but I DO know it.

Needless to say my mind immediately went to the gutter. We hadn't been talking for more than ten minutes and already I was fantasizing about how I wanted him to fuck me. It would be cool if he just did me here in front of his wife but THAT wasn't going to happen – although it WAS a nice fantasy.

I started to think more about Maggie and Cindy. As hot as the two of the looked, did their dad ever have any thoughts about them? I wondered if he ever masturbated about his daughters while they played in the pool? There was a large kitchen window that overlooked the back yard – perfect for him to sit and watch them and jerk off without anyone seeing him.

I hadn’t yet seen their bikinis but something told me from Maggie’s demeanor that she wasn't wearing a one-piece these days by any means. When thinking about that I was reminded of those fathers who would take their daughter’s bikini tops and jerk off with them, coating the inner side of their daughter’s cups with their cum and then sending me photos of the results. What made them even hotter was seeing pics of them wearing that same bikini. I wondered if Josh was one of those secretive fathers doing such things in the middle of the night while his wife and daughters slept without having a clue as to what he was doing up so late.

Damn, all these nasty thoughts were making me horny and it was all I could do to keep my hands away from my crotch as I tried to focus on the conversation. Then I looked at Cindy and she reminded me of a couple of the mothers that I’d had sex with over the years. Sure she wasn’t a hot teenage girl anymore but she wasn't ugly by any means and even the extra weight managed to enhance her curves and as to some extent - especially those massive boobs. Hmmmmmm, was she bi? Had she ever been with another girl? Oh sure, there were probably those wild time at college when everyone experiments a little but what about as she got older? Did she have a BFF that came over to play when Josh and the girls were off at school? Was she into three-somes? Now THAT seemed a bit far-fetched under the circumstances but then you can never judge a book by its cover.

After they left my grandmother and I went back inside to watch some of her TV shows. As we sat there she turned to me and once again I was a little surprised at her expression.

“I thought we’d talked about Josh and that everything was settled so far as that went?” she asked rhetorically in a rather terse tone. I looked at her with a “what are you talking about?” expression so she shifted in her chair and then continued, “Now Kelly, don’t even try giving me that innocent look; you know exactly what I mean. Don’t forget I raised two daughters who were just as slutty - if not more so, as you. You just lay off of him, you hear me? Girls like you need to learn when something’s off-limits and that’s all I’m going to say about the subject.”

There it was again, that underhand “girls like you” comment again. Now what the heck did THAT mean? OK, so I’m not stupid and I had a good idea what she meant but I didn't understand why she was so upset. If anything I thought I had been quite the good girl all morning. I never even tried leaning over to show him my boobs, something that could have been done easily had I any desire to do so. Still, I wasn’t going to push the subject and in the end the rest of the afternoon went quite well so it was probably best I hadn’t.

Around 2:30 or so I decided it was time to get some sun. I’d brought along several bikinis and laid them out on the bed, trying to decide which once to use. Basically I had three options - church girl, school girl and slutty girl as I liked to call them. The “church girl” bikini was technically a bikini but with full legs and a higher waist while the top fully enclosed my boobs and wrapped up around the back of my neck halter-style. While it still would never have been allowed at church camp, it was about as conservative a bikini as I would ever allow myself to wear. The “school girl” bikini was a little less conservative but still wearable at a public pool. It was strapless which meant it covered most of my boobs in order to stay on but not much more than necessary. The bottoms were cut much lower, almost to where my hairline would have been had I not been shaved. The legs were cut up high on the hip and the back, while not a thong, didn't cover more than half my butt.

Finally, there was my “slutty girl” bikini - a name given to it by my horny dad who had first picked one out similar to it for me back when I was barely a teenager. It was definitely NOT for the public pool where I’m sure someone would have asked me to leave had I tried exposing myself in it - which is essentially what it did. The top was nothing more than a couple of small triangles that covered my nipples but not much else. As for the bottoms, let’s just say there wasn't any questions as to whether or not I shaved and the only thing in back was two strings - one around my waist and the other leading down my butt crack to join with the front at my crotch.

Frankly, I don’t know why I even bothered bringing the “church bikini”. I might wear the thing once or twice a year depending on where I was but other than that it never saw the light of day. I would’ve loved to have worn the slutty version and seen Josh’s reaction but the words of my grandmother rung like church bells in my ears. I really didn't want to offend her so today wasn't the day for such a thing. Maybe later in the week depending on how things progressed...

So the “school girl” bikini it was, winning more or less by default. I slipped it on and adjusted the strong so it wasn't too tight on me. Out on the lake in the boat or walking around on the beach I would have worn it a bit tighter to keep it from slipping off at the wrong moment but being I was going no further than the deck why be uncomfortable? After slipping on the top I grabbed the bottoms. Just as I was about to step into them I thought about how Josh had kept a close eye on me all morning. God I was feeling horny again! My hand started to reach for me but then I pulled away. If I got myself started who knows when I'd be done and really wanted to get some sun while it was still up but not as hot as it had been a little while before.

"Not exactly being shy, are we," my grandmother said as I walked by her on the way to the deck. I turned to her, half-expecting another lecture but she was smiling and I realized she was just teasing me.

"You know, I can remember back when your mother use to wear a suit almost just like that one. Some of hers were even sluttier than that one. But then, it wasn't like she ever listened to me."

I was tempted to tell her if she wanted to see slutty then I had just the suit for her but I kept my tongue and was just thankful she was OK with what I was wearing.

Out on the deck the wood boards were blistering hot so I laid down a couple of towels before stepping out to the chaise lounge chair. The cushion had been rolled back so it hadn't been exposed to the direct sunlight which allowed me to lay down on it without feeling like I was lying on a cast iron stove top. Still, I could already feel the hot sun blaring down on me and I knew I couldn't stay out for too long. Even though I had a decent tan already, it wasn't nearly enough to protect me on a day like today.

I must have started to doze off because suddenly I heard a voice saying, "You know, you really should use more sunscreen on a day like this."

Looking up, I saw Josh standing outside the deck, leaning over on the railing and supporting himself on his elbows. He was smiling at me and even though he seemed to try to pretend that he wasn't, he was definitely giving me the once- over – actually many times more than once. It wasn't like I didn't like it. Heck, what girl DOESN'T like to have a man look at her with desire and lust in his heart? It doesn't mean anything will ever actually happen, but it's just knowing he WISHES it would happen that counts.

I was turned sideways relative to where he was standing so he had a nice view of my body but not exactly an "up the legs" or "down the top" shot so I figured why not help him out a little? Standing up, I repositioned the chair so when I sat back down on it I was facing him with my feet flat on the cushion and my knees bent with my legs together – just as a nice girl would do. But then who says I am a nice girl?

"So where's the girls?" I asked him, pretending not to notice that he eyes were riveted on my ass, or at least as much as what he could see at the moment.

"Who knows, some friend's house I guess. They're never home anymore it seems."

"So no pool parties? Wow, if I had a pool like that I'd be in it every day."

Josh shrugged. "They use to practically like in it like they were fish. I guess it's not as big to them now that they're older. It's only a few feet deep."

I sighed and came back with, "Still, I bet it would feel good on a day like this."

"Actually it's pretty warm right now. Guess that's another reason they don't really like it. It's practically like bath water with all this heat lately."

Sheesh, talk about not being able to take a hint! Well, maybe he might start getting the idea if I showed a little more so I allowed my legs to open. My feet were on each edge of the cushion with my knees bent inwards to be together so all I had to do was straighten up a bit and it was like my crotch was on full display. Too bad I wasn't wearing my slut version as it would be pulled up inside my pussy by now leaving practically nothing to get in the way. Even so I had a pretty good idea that there was a decent camel toe for him to enjoy as the bottoms I had on were a little tighter than they should've been.

Poor Josh. As hard as he tried to carry on a normal conversation, it was like having a shark next to him ready to attack given the way his attention kept straying. I fanned myself with a paper and as I did so my hips rocked making my legs sway, further emphasizing the fact that I was deliberately allowing him to have a straight-on view of my barely covered crotch.

"Josh! Telephone!" Karen yelled out from the door. I would've been a hundred bucks that Josh would've gladly volunteered to call whoever it was back later but then it might've been hard to explain to his wife, especially if she came over and saw the position I was in for her husband. Josh said goodbye before THAT could happen and left me on my own - thoroughly horny by now as well.

Tuesday was pretty much a repeat. I wore the same suit most of the day, even around the house as it was so much cooler than anything else I had brought with me. Josh always seemed to find some excuse to come over to visit me, even if just for a few moments but it was always enough to get a good eyeful. The next time I was lying on my belly but I made sure I was pointed at the place he always perched to talk to me - he never actually came up on the deck, just stood there outside and leaned over. I had previously loosened the top about as much as I could and still keep it on me so when I got up on my elbows to talk to him I knew my boobs had to be fairly well exposed. He might not have actually seen my nipples but that was about all he didn't see.

That night I was on the phone with Steve in the bedroom. I told him about how I was teasing the married guy next door which seemed to turn Steve on even more than me – if that was even possible.

“So you want this guy to fuck you, don’t you babe?” he asked me.

I was naked on the bed, rubbing myself with one hand while I held the phone to my ear with the other. Using the speaker phone would’ve been so much easier but then I didn't want my grandmother listening to me having phone sex with my fiancé. Not that I cared but she might now approve of some of his fantasies that I played into at times. I just moaned in response.

“Ha, you’re playing with yourself thinking about him now, aren’t you my horny girl?” he teased me.

“You wanna watch?” I asked him. Needless to say he was more than agreeable so we set up FaceTime on my iPad and his iPhone so he could see what I was doing. I set the iPad up on the dresser so it had a full view of me on the bed while I talked to him on the phone.

“God you look so hot babe,” Steve sighed as he got his first images of his nude fiancé playing with herself. This was still rather new for me, even though we’d done it a number of times. It wasn't as good as him being there in person to watch me but under the circumstances you made do with what you had.

“Tell me what I should do for him,” I begged in a husky voice.

For the next half hour or so Steve did all the talking while I did all the actions. God, he must've been even hornier than usual for me judging by the incredibly sexy scenario he laid out for me and Josh. It was so hot to masturbate as my boyfriend told me his fantasy about how Josh fucked me and then his two teenage cute daughters joined in, all the while being watched by their loving mother who smiled and cheered us all on. Damn, I loved Steve all the more for the way he could dream up such things for me. Now if only he was a genie and could grant them all to come true!

After I’d cum a couple of times we went back to talking about the plans for our upcoming wedding and such so I closed the video app down and we just talked. Still, I was soaking wet by now and all I could think about was his dick.

“Kelly? You listening?” Steve said and I realized that once again my mind had drifted off as I dreamed about Steve fucking me. When I apologized he just laughed.

“Well, sounds like you need some serious ‘me’ time so why don’t you just hang up and take care of yourself and we can talk later?”

And people ask me why I want to marry this guy!

It was another hour before I called him back, exhausted and flush but finally somewhat satisfied. Although masturbation can never replace a real dick it still make me feel pretty damn good!

Wednesday came and went without much change in the local neighbor situation. Out on the deck I was still wearing the school girl bikini as I just couldn't imagine my grandmother going along with me wearing the sluttier one out in public. I only saw Josh once though as it seemed he had to take the girls somewhere for most of the day. When they came back the sisters headed straight for the house while Josh made a beeline for the deck. While he couldn't stay long without arousing the ire of Karen, I made sure this time I was on my belly facing away from him with my legs spread obscenely wide apart giving him the best possible view of my ass and crotch. It didn't hurt that I had tugged the bottoms in as much as I could when I hear the car returning in hopes he would stop by. I could just imagine the camel toe he was staring at. He still wasn't getting a direct view of my pussy but it was about as close as I could provide without me completely taking off the suit.

That night I did FaceTime again for Steve as he was ready with another fantasy about Josh - this time with just his daughters and me. Damn, he knew just what buttons to push to get me off! This time it took longer than an hour before I called him back...

Thursday morning arrived all too soon and as I laid in bed thinking about the upcoming day I came to the realization that I was stuck with a serious decision to make. So far Josh had definitely shown interest but nothing more than being a voyeur. In fact, we hadn't even talked about anything sexy or teased each other about sex. Heck, I was starting to think that while he WAS a man and thus couldn't control certain reactions, maybe he was also one of those rare creatures - a loving husband and father who was could stay faithful to his wife no matter how tempted, even if his eyes were straying a bit. Then again, it wasn't exactly like I'd thrown myself at him either. So whose fault was it that nothing had happened so far - his or mine? Well, if I was being honest with myself I would say it had to be me to take the responsibility. I was letting my grandmother intimidate me such that I didn't give it everything I could so how could I blame Josh for not picking up on my needs?

5. My Grandmother Reminisces

Once I was up and done in the bathroom I went in the kitchen to grab some breakfast and found my grandmother was already there, standing in front of the stove in a long cotton robe fixing some eggs and bacon. As for me, I'd thrown on a short tank top after my shower as I hadn't really expected her to be up so early. It barely covered my stomach so my ass was fully exposed. Actually the cool morning air felt good against my bare bottom. Before I could turn around and go back to my bedroom to put one something less revealing my grandmother turned and I say her mouth purse as she glanced down to my bald exposed pussy.

"You know you're a lot more like your mother than you may realize," she said, surprising me a little as I had expected her to just say something about me wearing more around the house. Stunned, I just stood there and waited for her to continue.

"Must be the genes or something, she was always trying to get away with running around bare-ass."

I was trying to think of something to say besides "good morning" when she really surprised me by adding, "You know, when I was your age I loved to be that way too but in those days nice girls didn't go about like that in front of their parents. Looks like you inherited the 'bottomless' gene though, unlike my other slutty niece."

By that she had to be referring to Kristi but I didn't interrupt her to confirm it.

"I don't know what it was with her mom and her always trying to be topless. Just never seemed comfortable to me."

This was new. She had never volunteered such information before and while I knew my mom sometimes hinted at being a little slutty around the house while growing up, she'd never let on about anything like this.

"So did you let mom dress like this?" I asked, modeling my tank top for her by spinning around once.

"Oh no! Not at all," she laughed, "Not with her father around at least. I know it probably seems silly to you but there WERE some things I had to put my foot down about."

I wanted to ask her why ignoring the fact her husband was having sex with her daughters was OK but when it came to them dressing slutty around the house that was bad but I knew better. Besides, while she usually was pretty closed-mouth about incest there had been a few times over the years she had opened up to me so I knew where she was coming from. Just knowing they were having sex was OK so long as they didn't do it where she could see. Running around without panties or shorts was different because then she could SEE what was going on and THAT was unacceptable. It seemed a rather fine and wiggly line in the sand but it worked for her so who was I to complain?

“Just make sure you don’t forget to put something on if you go out on the deck,” she reminded me as she served me my breakfast.

It had been a while since anyone had fixed me such a nice breakfast and I really appreciated it – not to mention how open-minded she was this morning. Damn, it was as if she had gotten laid last night or something! Of course THAT hadn’t happened but for whatever reason she seemed in an especially good mood so I figured I might take advantage of it a little.

“So did mom ever go out on the deck and forget?”

My grandmother looked at me a little more sharply and for a moment I thought maybe I had crossed some invisible line but then she just shook her head.

“Oh no. Don’t forget things around here were a lot different when she was your age. We didn't even have a deck back then. Heck, we didn't even have the family room – it was just a gravel area where the grill and chairs were set out. Your grandfather added the family room and then built on the deck over the lawn. None of the tress were there at first and he built the back garage about the time your mom left for college. So there really wasn't anything nice like there is now to go out and lay out unless you took out a lawn chair and set it out on the grass.”

I looked out thought the family room windows and tried to imagine how bare the yard must have been back then. It seemed so lush and green now with all the tress but I was reminded of some old family photos and how it had all been open space back in my mom’s younger years.

“So no neighbors to tease?” I tossed out, wondering how she would respond.

“If you mean like you’ve been doing to that poor man next door... no, nothing like that at all. It was an older couple that lived next door and they pretty much stayed to themselves.”

I caught the reference to the “poor man next door” and couldn't help but grin a bit at it – which she in turn picked up as well.

“Yes, I have seen what you’ve been doing young lady and I must say, I hope you’ve learned a valuable lesson. Not every man out there is going to fall over his feet just because you flaunt yourself for him. Some men actually have integrity and Josh is one of them which is why I haven’t said anything about it. If fact,” she added with a bit of a grin as if she was having fun with me, “I’ve gotten a bit of a kick out of your frustration this week. I bet you’re not use to being turned down like this... are you?”

Really, what could I say? I was guilty as charged and the expression on my face must have confirmed it for her.

“Oh now don’t get so defensive Kelly, I use to feel the same way when your mom and aunt would strike out. Granted, it didn't happen very often but it was sort of fun to see them get all bothered when some guy wouldn’t cave in to their little games. Personally, I don’t think it hurts now and then for girls like you to feel how others do the way you treat them.”

OK, once again she had referred to “girls like me” for the umpteenth time during my visit. It was time to address the situation.

“Grandma, what do you mean by ‘girls like you’?” I asked softly, trying not to sound overly accusing.

“C’mon Kelly,” she huffed a bit, “You know EXACTLY what I mean – sluts and whores like you and your screwed up cousin.” She paused to catch my reaction but I was doing my best to keep a deadpan face. “Do you really think I don’t know what you two have been doing? Really Kelly, the two of you are like mirror images of your mom’s so it’s not like I’m all that surprised how things have worked out.”

I could see how she could saw I was like my mom, but Kristi like her mother? Especially since she had practically spat out the word ‘whore’ when referring to Kristi. SO I asked her about it, figuring I had nothing to lose at this point.

My grandma looked at me like I was someone she didn't recognize. “You mean nobody has ever told you about Linda’s little side business in high school?” Obviously I hadn’t or why else would I have asked? “Your mom was a lot like you – screwing half the senior class and teasing every man she could. I could deal with that, it wasn't like it was anything illegal or what not. But your Aunt Linda...” she drifted off, shaking her head.

So NOW she had my attention. What could my aunt have done that she hadn’t told me about? It wasn't like she had ever hidden anything from me, and certainly not my mom – or so I had always assumed. Face it, with everything they had told me already, what could possibly shock me?

Grandma laughed, sitting back in her chair and folding her arms like she was pleased as punch to finally have something I didn't know about. Well, she certainly was making the most of my discomfort, that much I could say. Finally she leaned forward and all but whispered, “Your mom was the class slut but her sister was the school whore.”

Yeah right, and I’m the Queen of England. If what she was saying was true, why hadn’t anyone told me by now? Now when it came to my cousin Kristi, yes, SHE had been a whore for years and it was widely discussed and debated between us. I had always wondered why my aunt put up with it, even seeming to encourage her at times. Personally I was as thrilled as anyone when she announced her “retirement” as I was worried about her health but most of all her safety. When I’d tried being an “escort” back in college my career had consisted of five clients until I learned the hard way what the dangers were and quit before anything TOO serious happened. Kristi was a lost less discerning than I was when it came to who she whored herself out to and I knew she would do most anything for the right amount of money so I had always worried about her.

“You don’t believe me?” my grandma challenged me, leaning back again against the back of the kitchen chair, “When you get home go ask her. Tell her that her mom told you the truth finally. I mean really Kelly, do you think she got the idea for improving her real estate sales just out of the blue?”

I tried pushing her for more details but she just waved me off, saying she had probably told me too much already and to ask my aunt about it when I got home if I was really all that curious. Wow, talk about putting some puzzle pieces together that had been impossible to line up before now...

“So do you think Josh is never going to do anything with me?” I asked her, deciding to change the subject to something she might talk more about as it seemed she had reached the end of the line so far as my mom and her sister went – at least for today.

“Oh Kelly, do you really think I am so blind and naïve?” she said, rolling her eyes, “I’ve seen what you’ve been doing out there but I haven’t said anything until now because I DO think he is an honorable man.”

“Well, I still have one more day,” I retorted, not willing to give in quite yet.

“It won’t matter,” she said flippantly, as if the subject was already settled, “You can even wear that god-awful bikini you’ve been hiding in the room and it won’t matter, trust me.”

I started to protest, feeling a little angry now. What had she been doing? Had she been going through my clothes when I was outside?

“No, I didn’t look through your things,” she injected, as if she had been reading my mind, “You left everything open the other day with it right on top so it was sort of hard to miss... although with as little material as it has I’m surprised I saw it at all. You don’t really wear that in public, do you?” I assured her that I was a little smarter than that. If there was one thing I felt I was pretty good at - besides killer blowjobs, it’s knowing where the line is and how to push it as far as possible without getting arrested for indecent exposure. With my slut bikini on there was only one conclusion that could be reached if you saw me in it - I was all but naked.

“Well I can't believe your mom even lets you have one like that,” she sighed, “I mean, I let your mom and sister get away with a lot when it came to how they dressed - or didn't, but there were still certain rules that had to be followed.”

“Not even for Grandpa?” I asked before I caught myself. It was too late, it was already out there and nothing could bring the words back. If anything, it was like our conversation was opening her up though and she didn't respond as harshly as I was afraid she might. If there was one topic that was normally out of bounds it was incest.

“Especially for him,” she said rather rigidly and that was all that was said. Still, that was three more words than I had expected to hear.

At that point I should have known better and moved on but I was starting to get horny with all this talk about my mom and aunt. It was almost like I was drunk except I hadn’t been drinking anything.

“Grandma... why don’t you like to talk about grandpa and my mom?”

She shot me a look that told me I had indeed crossed the line and for a brief moment I was afraid she might get up and bolt from the room. Had I asked her earlier there wasn’t a doubt in my mind that she would have but now that we’d been talking for a while she seemed more open to this line of questioning.

“It’s just wrong Kelly,” she explained softly, “I know you don’t agree with me but I just can’t condone it. There are some things that aren’t exactly wise or safe - like the things your mom did at school and on dates. I can't say I exactly approved of the things she wore either but that was just clothes.”

She paused for a moment as if unsure of how to continue but then she took a deep breath and concluded with, “But when I found out what he had done to your mother and especially to poor Linda when she was barely even twelve... well I just couldn't go along with that.”

“So why didn't you stop grandpa from doing it again?”

Again she looked at me like I was some stranger in her eyes. “And just how was I going to do THAT?” she said with a note of exasperation in her voice. “When men feel urges like that they can’t be put aside forever. It certainly didn’t help that they both seemed to enjoy it. Maybe if they had protested or fought back even a little bit I could have stepped in but it was all I could do to keep them off of him at times. You have no idea how glad I was when he finally built that garage out back.”

Now THAT was an interesting point. The garage out back? So far as I knew, no car had ever been inside of it but they called it a garage because he’d installed a garage door in the front of it to make it easier to get things in and out. I’d always assumed it was more for his tool and a workshop but now based on my grandmother’s comments I wondered what else might have been the motive behind building it?

“I guess your mom never told you about THAT either,” my grandmother smirked. “They use to all disappear out there for hours at a time. Of course I knew what was going on back there but so long as they kept quiet about it and didn’t discuss it in front of me I could live with it.

As she spoke the thought of “plausible deniability” came back to my head yet again. At the same time, I was getting other ideas as well. I wondered if she had intended that or if it was just a happy coincidence? Was she trying to give me a hint? There was no outward sign of anything like that but then you never know, my grandmother has surprised me enough this morning as it was.

“You know he takes the girls to dance class on Thursday mornings,” she pointed out, pulling back the blinds so we could see the neighbor’s house, “He should be back any minute now.”

I looked at her, not sure if she was teasing me, taunting me, or trying to give me a boost. As it turns out, I was wrong on all accounts.

“Don’t get me wrong... I’m NOT try to help you out or anything like that,” she assured me, “I’m sort of anxious to see you crash and burn one more time before you go.”

Now that seemed a little harsh and even she seemed to realize what she had said, or least how it had sounded to me. “I’m sorry, I didn't mean that to be mean, I just meant that even you have to admit it’s sort of funny to see someone like you going all out and still getting turned down flat.”

Well, isn’t all that funny to me! I felt a slow burning in me and it wasn't from being horny. Well, I’d show her. She thought she had Josh pegged but I’d show her his true nature. ALL men are pigs at heart, if there was one thing I knew to be true that was it. For most men, being loyal to their wives was only a function of their opportunities. I'd seen the looks in Josh's eyes, the way he repositioned his shorts when he talked to me. He wanted me, I was sure of it.

Until the last few minutes I might have teased him today and gone home horny and frustrated, but not devastated. Now my grandmother had thrown down the gauntlet, where that had been her intent or not. I'd show her how wonderful her paragon of a neighbor really was. She'd see for herself that he was no better than any other father when it came to his desires and wants. He might not fuck his daughters bit before the day was out, he'd be fucking someone other than his wife I had anything to say about it.

"Well we'll just have to see about that," I said softly under my breath as I got up to put my plate in the sink. I half-expected her to warn me against doing anything or something like that but she was too smug about it all.

6. Behind in the Count

Back in my room I practically tore off the tank top and rummaged through my suitcase until I found my slut bikini that was now at the bottom. Holding it up, I marveled at how tiny it was - there was practically no weight to it at all. It actually wasn't the easiest thing to put on as it had to be positioned practically perfectly to stay in place. With a normal bikini my boobs would fill the cups and the top would pretty much automatically find itself in the correct position. With this one it was more like it covered my nipples and not much else so it was a lot harder to get into the right position.

The bottoms similar in that there was no material in the back so the strong just worked its way up my ass between my cheeks. The real challenge came in the front where it tended to fold in on itself and push into my pussy slit so I was constantly having to run my fingers under it and spread it back out again. Definitely not legal for the city pools!

I walked barefoot back into the kitchen carrying a beach towel in one hand and my iPad in the other, ready to hit the deck. My grandmother was putting away the dishes when she turned to see me passing through.

“You know Kelly, why don’t you just go out naked and get it over with?” she asked, sounding a little annoyed if anything.

I started to say something back but then thought better of it and instead just smiled and made my way out the back door and onto the deck. I noted that the car next door was still missing so Josh must not have made it home yet. I laid out the beach towel over the chaise lounge chair and moved it over close to the edge of the deck, pointing the head of the chair away from the lot line. I lay down on my belly, propping up on my elbows to read my email while I let my feet dangle over on each side for the chair, causing my crotch to be exposed to anyone who might be walking by. There was a large tree that hid me from the kitchen window of the house next door so if his wife should happen to look out she might notice that someone was lying out but she wouldn’t get a really good view unless she came outside to check.

Looking up, I caught my grandmother as she looked out the window and then turned away, leaving me alone at least for the moment. I turned the other direction and looked at the garage. I had not even gone into it on my own before so I wondered if it was locked or anything like that. I was about to get up and check for myself when I heard a car pulling up the driveway behind me. I knew it could be only one person – Josh was returning home.

God, my pussy was tingling like there was an electric current flowing through me. I was SOOOOO horny. Where I was he had to see me when he got out of the car so I had to believe that he would stop over to check me out. What I REALLY wanted to do was slip my bottoms off completely and start rubbing myself in front of him but I was afraid that might be too bold at the moment at least. Granted, there was technically little difference between them being on or off but it was the principle involved.

The car engine stopped and I waited for the door to open but nothing happened. Just as I was about to twist around to see what was going on, I heard the door open and the slam shut. Had he seen me? Was he heading my way?

"Good morning Kelly... last day, eh?" I heard a voice behind me. Of course it was Josh – like who else would it be?

"Oh hi Josh, I hadn't expected to see you today. My grandma said you had left early."

"Oh that... I just dropped the girls off at dance," he said, taking his usual spot at the rail as I turned on my said to face him. "It lasts about two hours – two hours more than I can take," he laughed. "Oh? I would think there would be lots of dad there to watch them," I teased him. He ignored my rather lame attempt at humor, probably best that he did.

"So do you like my new suit?" I couldn't resist asking.

"A little risqué, don't you think?" he answered, whistling softly to take the edge off.

"That's NOT what I asked."

Josh laughed but it sounded a little more nervous this time. "Well, it DOES show off your figure quite nicely."

I wasn't going to let him off the hook THAT easily so I said it again, a little more forcefully this time, "Josh... That's NOT what I asked!"

"OK, OK, you win... you look GREAT in it," he finally responded.

"I always thought my ass was my best part," I said trying to sound absentminded, "What do you think Josh? Are you an ass man, tits or legs?"

"How about all of the above?" he stammered.

"You're NOT being very cooperative this morning Josh," I teased him as much as I dared, ""I'm not making you uncomfortable, am I?"

"Why not," he lied, "Why would I be uncomfortable?"

I turned over onto my back then, letting my legs hang over the sides of the lounge chair so my crotch was exposed rather blatantly to him. My bottoms had gone back to their usual place, pulling up between my pussy lips so I was for all practical purposes naked below the waist.

"So if you're not an ass, legs or tit guy, then that must mean you prefer pussy, am I right Josh?" I asked, lifting my hips up ever so slightly but just enough for him to see me doing it.

"Ummmmm Kelly... I don't think this is appropriate," he said, drawing in a deep breath but at the same time his eyes were riveted on my freshly shaven pussy.

"Then maybe I should leave," he offered although he wasn't even leaning away from me at this point.

"That's up to you Josh... If that's what you really want."

He looked confused and conflicted. On the one hand his male ego was telling him "fuck her", I was sure of that. Then again, maybe he WAS the saint my grandmother had made him out to be. Sure he wasn't exactly turning his eyes away from me but at the same time he wasn't making any real moves either. In any case I had a nasty suspicion that if I didn't do more forceful - and do it quickly, that his angelic side would take control before anything better could happen.

Just then he looked back over his shoulder at his house and stood up straight, tugging at his shirt which was hanging out of his shorts.

"I REALLY have to go Kelly, sorry... Karen must have heard me drive up and I don't want her coming out to see where I am with you... well you know what I mean."

Before I could say a word in reply he turned and quickly walked back to the house and went inside, leaving me with this sinking feeling that maybe my grandmother was right after all. It had been going so well - TOO well in fact now that I had time to think about it. After a week of playing it cool and coy, did I really think it was going to be so easy to turn him?

I know people get the impression that I easily get every guy I go after but the reality is there can be a lot of work involved sometimes. It also helps that I don't just go after every walking dick with a wife and kids. The truth is there ARE a lot of faithful husbands out there. True, maybe it's more because they are too intimidated or scared to do anything but for whatever reason, they don't cheat on their wives - and won't no matter what temptation is put in front of them. What I HAVE learned is that is more the quiet and shy ones that are the most faithful. It's the outgoing braggarts that try to impress everyone with how saintly they are and what a perfect marriage he and his wife have that are the ones most likely to cheat. My experience has been that the more a guy tries to impress people with how virtuous he is, the more he is usually hiding.

So I guess you could say my high "success" rate when it comes to going after my favorite pastime - married men, is something like a baseball player having a high batting average if he gets to pick the pitchers he faces and what pitches they can throw. When you stack the odds in your favor, you're more likely not to have face rejection.

All this said it was little wonder I was having problems with Josh. He never said a word about his marriage - he just lived a respectable and moral life without making an issue out of it. Everything I'd seen this past week told me he was a loving wife, a caring father and an all-around decent man. Yep, all the more reason I wanted him to fuck me! Any girl can get a jerk of a husband to fuck her. Josh was now officially a challenge and I never back away from a good challenge. The only problem was, I had less than a day to go and so far I was way behind in the count and looking to stroke out if I didn't get my act together.

"So you struck out I see," my grandmother teased me when I returned to the house to get a glass of water. I just frowned which only seemed to encourage her. "I told you he wasn't that type, didn't I? I have to see, seeing you out there all but naked making a fool of yourself was a bit refreshing. Sort of restored my faith in human decency."

Wow! Now THAT was a bit harsh I thought. I looked at her with disbelief. Had my own grandmother actually SAID that? Even she looked a little sheepish now but I had no doubt she meant every word, even if she wasn't entirely comfortable with having said it to my face.

I went to the bedroom and undid the bikini and put it away in my suitcase. Oh well, so much for THAT idea. It wasn't exactly the most comfortable thing to wear so I rummaged through my things and found a pair of loose gym shorts and a cut-off t-shirt that came just down below my boobs. Returning to the family room, my grandmother was watching some silly game show on the television.

"Well, I guess that's a little better," she said when she realized I was back after checking me over. "So I was just wondering... you're getting married in a few weeks, just had a wedding shower for cripes sake, and still you're flaunting yourself to other men and if I get this right, trying to have sex with them. How does that all work for Steve or do you hide it from him?”

I sat down on the love seat across from her and explained to her the arrangements that Steve and I had worked out so far as swapping and such. Needless to say I didn’t breath a word about some of Steve’s other inclinations such as his feelings for younger girls and such. That was still something I waffled over as it seemed one day I was turned on by the whole thing and then the next totally set against it. I also didn’t elaborate on the swapping thing other than a brief overview – certainly no tales of any of the things we had done so far with other couples.

My grandmother listed to me without interrupting and I could tell she wanted to ask more questions but yet she also acted like she didn't want to know any more so I left it at that. We turned our attention to the games show but after a few minutes she sat up straight again and I could see she was struggling with something. Finally she took a deep breath and came out with it.

“Does Steve know about you and your father or is that something you’re going to stop when you get married?”

Hmmmmmm, loaded question. I could tell from her tone that she was expecting me to say he knew nothing about it and that I would be bringing it to a halt once we were hitched, maybe even already. Then again, maybe that was what she was HOPING was the case. Only one way to find out...

“He knows everything Grandma... everything,” I said softly, “Why do you ask?”

I was throwing it back at her because this was a subject she normally avoided like a dead skunk so why was she bringing it back up now?

“Just curious I guess,” she said, trying to sound flippant but I could tell she was anxious to dig a little deeper so I just kept quiet and let her work her way up to it.

“You DO know your father use to go out in the back garage with your mom and grandfather, don’t you?” she asked but it was more a rhetorical question than one she was expecting me to answer as she knew full well that I did indeed know. I knew where she was leading with the question though so I answered without her having to ask more.

“Steve’s not that way Grandma... he won’t be doing things like that,” I assured her and she actually seemed a bit relieved by that although I couldn't figure out why since it really had nothing to do with her. It wasn't like Steve and my dad were going to come here and head to the back garage to have sex, even if Steve WAS into that sort of thing.

Maybe I should have left well enough alone but I couldn't resist throwing in one more thing. "But he DOES have a thing for Aunt Linda."

Now THAT seemed to take her by surprise. No doubt had I said he was having sex to Kristi she would have taken that with a grain of salt. After all, not many men wouldn't given the chance. Seeing her expression, I was reminded of those words she had said when I came back in after Josh had turned me away. Looking back, I should have been more mature and kept quiet but after her hurtful words I couldn't help myself.

"Oh and by the way, yes he has done mom – back when she came for my birthday."

As soon as I said it I wanted to take the words back as she seemed so sad and disappointed. My grandmother had always been wonderful to me and as supportive as anyone in my family. Sure she had let her emotions get the better of her for a brief moment but that didn't justify me being hurtful in response. I got up and walked over to her and hugged her, telling her I was sorry and I didn't mean to hurt her.

"That's OK Kelly, you're just telling me the truth and I appreciate it... I really do," she said trying to keep her voice from cracking. "I guess I was just hoping that maybe things would be different for you once you got married."

I took her hand and smiled at her, assuring her that I was happier now than I had ever been in my life and that she had nothing to worry about. She just nodded but I felt better and vowed to myself to be more careful about what I said to her in the few hours I had left before I went home.

As we sat there I heard a door closing and I looked out to see Karen and the girls getting in her car. Josh wasn't with them so I wondered what was going on. Everyone seemed happy and I didn't have a clue watching them where they were going or why. Soon the car backed out and they were gone. Hmmmmmm, maybe my dad wasn't over yet!

My grandmother saw me watching the events next door and must have been reading my mind again when she said, "I swear all she does is take those girls shopping. Why anyone needs so many clothes is beyond me."

Assuming she was right – and who better to know the habits of the neighbors more than her, that meant I had a least a couple of hours or more. The question was, now what? I had tried what seemed to be a more outgoing approach and failed miserably. Did I need to go back to being subtle or was something more outlandish being called for? Giving the small window of opportunity and my failure to date with the less than direct methods, if I was really going to get anywhere with Josh that meant there was only one option available to me now.

“Kelly, can't you leave well enough alone?” my grandmother asked me, once again doing her mind-reading act with brilliant results. Still, I need to prove something to her as now it had become as much about showing her what I could do as it was about just having Josh fuck me. She had seemed so pleased with herself when he turned me down earlier that I felt this burning need inside of me now to prove to her that he was no better than any other cheating husband.

“One last try and if he turns me down I promise that will be the end of it, OK?” I bargained with her.

“Seriously Kelly, why?” she asked almost plaintively. “He’s really a good man and he doesn’t need his marriage ruined because you feel some perverted need to prove anything to me.”

“I’m not going to ruin his marriage grandma,” I assured her, “His wife will never know unless he tells her... or YOU do.”

“A wife knows Kelly,” she said softly, “Trust me, you’ll understand soon enough yourself. When your husband has sex with someone else you just know it.” I caught the inference – she knew that I knew that my grandfather had never cheated on her with any other woman so when she mentioned that a wife “knew”, what she was telling me that a “mother” knew as well. I thought back to when my mom and her sister were teenage girls having sex with their dad. Of course she knew what they were doing – it was sort of hard to completely hide that sort of thing. With Josh it was different. He wasn't going to be fucking his daughters and so long as he showered afterwards, there was no way Karen would ever find out so long as his guilty conscience didn’t get in the way.

7. Never Say Never

Time was ticking by and every minute passing was one less minute for me to work with so if I was going to do anything the time was now. Without another word I got up and headed for the door leading out to the deck. I briefly debated changing clothes but then what did I have with that was all that much better than what I was wearing now? Besides, more ideas were coming to mind and I didn't think it was going to matter for long what I wore anyway. I didn't even look back to my grandmother as I shut the door behind me and headed straight for the neighbor’s back door.

“Something you need Kelly?” Josh asked when he answered my knock on the door.

“YOU!” I responded firmly and without another word, I stripped off my shorts and t-shirt leaving me standing there naked on the landing.

“Oh my God, what are you doing Kelly? People will see you!” he exclaimed, glancing in both directions anxiously.

The reality was nobody could see me, at least not very likely. To the one side was my grandmother and she didn't count. The house on the other side was built closer to the street and so it wasn't visible when I stood this close to his back door. Behind us was the church but it was actually more up past my grandmother’s house and they had put up large evergreens to block the view of their parking lot from the homes that were already there so even if someone was there in the middle of the day they couldn’t be seeing anything. There was a highway on the other side of the church property but it was over a couple of hundred yards away or so which meant nobody would be seeing anything recognizable from that distance. Considering we were right in the middle of a suburban neighborhood, I was about as safe as I could be when it came to anyone seeing me standing there nude.

“Well, are you going to ask me in or just make me stand here naked outside?” I asked him teasingly.

Josh seemed frantic now. “Fuck no... but you can’t come in here... not dressed like THAT.”

He must have been really worked up as that was the first time he’d sworn in front of me all week – even after the time he got a sliver in his hand while leaving over the deck railing. I was going to point out to him that I wasn't really dressed like anything as I didn't have stitch of clothes on.

“Well then either invite me in or come with me to the back garage,” I responded. He didn't seem too thrilled with either option so I reiterated his options saying, “I’m NOT getting dressed so either you choose or I’ll just stay out here until someone sees me.”

He seemed resigned to having only one option. It was obvious form the way he was blocking the doorway that he was never going to let me in the house which is why I quickly came up with the back garage option. I reached down to pick up my clothes and started back towards the garage. At first he didn't follow but I called out to him and he then came out, closing the door behind him. Thankfully my grandmother never locked the side door to the garage and so in a few seconds we were both standing there in the cool air still trapped inside the garage from the previous night.

“Kelly, I don’t know what you’re doing or what you’re thinking I may have someone implied during the past week during our conversations, but this has to stop right now, understand?” he said firmly, keeping his distance from me.

“Oh come on Josh, I saw the way you looked at me before. I’ve seen the way your dick gets hard under your shorts... just like it is now.”

At that Josh shifted his shorts, trying unsuccessfully to make the rising tent less noticeable.

“Alright so I’m a guy... sue me,” he came back, “But I don’t do this sort of thing.”

“Oh, and what sort of thing is that Josh?” I asked pretending to be all naïve and innocent – or at least much as I could while standing there nude in front of him.

“You know damn well what I mean,” he came back rather angrily this time, “Now enough is enough... get yourself decent and I’m going back home now, ALONE.”

Yeah, like I was going to let THAT happen!

“If you leave now I’ll tell Karen you came over and forced me to have sex with you,” I called out to him as he started to open the door to leave. It was a drastic move but drastic times call out for drastic measures and I was running out of other ideas.

He turned and started at me, his eyes burning into mine. “You would never...”

“Look at me Josh,” I countered, “Do I look like the kind of girl that wouldn't?”

“You’re a fucking slut,” he practically spat out, ”Why would I screw a girl like you in the first place?”

Normally I take the word “slut” as a compliment, like when my dad called me “his little slut”. In this case I could tell that Josh meant it as anything BUT a compliment. Oh well, sticks and stones...

“Simple... because you have no choice,” I answered.

“She’ll never believe you... you DO know that,” he tried debating with me, “Just last night she was telling me she couldn't believe how you dressed in front of your grandmother.

I gave him a smirk and took a step forward. “All the more reason why she WILL believe me.”

The bravado disappeared from Josh’s face and his shoulders slumped in dejection. “PLEASE Kelly, I beg you don’t do this. I love Karen and I can't cheat on her.”

I took yet another step and was now just a couple of feet away from him but he made no move to reach out to me. “Yeah right, just like you don’t get off seeing your daughters run around in those little bikinis.”

It was a shot in the dark and I almost laughed at his response. His eyes widened like he couldn't believe I had even mentioned such a thing, let alone accused him of anything.

“Shit, what kind of person ARE you?” he gasped, “That’s just sick. I would never do anything like that.”

The funny thing is I believed him. Now when it came to their hot little friends I would have bet the answer would have been different but there was just something so honest about his face right then that I truly did believe he didn’t think about his own daughters that way. I wondered what he would have said had I told him what had gone on in this very garage in the past but for once I kept my mouth shut. No doubt that might have been enough to scare him off no matter what the potential consequences. It was all a major bluff anyway as I never would have breathed a word to his wife but then he didn't know that.

“I want to suck your dick Josh,” I said softly as I took a final step and was now right in front of him. I reached for his belt and he started to push my hand away but I firmly pushed him aside and he just stood there motionless. Soon he was undone and I pulled his zipper down and reached down inside his boxer shorts until I felt his dick – or to be more exact, his erection. Yep, he was hard as a flag pole!

“Mmmmmmm, I knew you wanted me,” I cooed as I pulled his pants and shorts down to expose his raging hard-on.

“Please Kelly, don’t do this,” he begged softly but I would have no part of it.

Holding his hard cock in my hand, I stroked it slowly with my fingers wrapped lightly around it. “Tell me you don’t like this Josh... You know you want it.”

“Please....” he groaned as I bent my knees and lowered my head down until my face was level with his crotch. I looked up at him and saw with watching me, his face a classic mix of fear and lust.

It wasn’t a no, that much was for sure. OK, so maybe it was implied but I wasn’t going to stop now anyway no matter how much he begged so it was a moot point. I could smell the musky odor of his manhood as I licked my lips at the sight of his hard dick poking out from a forest of thick black pubic hair. No trimming by this guy! God I wanted this dick!

“Tell me you want me to suck it Josh... Tell me.”

“I can’t Kelly... don’t make me do that,” he begged, his voice sounding more like that a little boy now as his lust grew in him.

“Tell me Josh... beg me to suck your dick. You know you want me to,” I murmured firmly as my hand worked on his cock while my other was cradling his hairy balls, rolling them gently between my fingers.

For a moment I thought he might actually hold out as the garage went silent with nothing but the sound of our breath and the slight noise I was making stroking his cock. Mmmmmmm, I wanted it in my mouth SOOOOO badly.

“OK, you win dammit... I want you to suck it,” he finally caved.

For a moment I wanted to let out a whoop of victory but I wasn't going to spook him. I looked up and our eyes locked as I smiled and reached out with my tongue to just touch the tip of his cock as I held it still. God it felt so warm and firm! I couldn't wait to taste it but I wanted this moment to be memorable for us both. His eyes widened as my tongue ran around the rim of his dick head and then up and down his smooth shaft until I felt his furry pubic hair against my face.

“Mmmmmmm, I love your dick Josh,” I murmured as I opened my mouth just enough to let the head fit inside. YES! I had his dick in my mouth and now I knew I had him. There was no turning back now and we both seemed to sense it as I started to suck on his cock slowly and deliberately.

“Oh my god,” he whispered as I took it all the way in until my face was pressed against the base of his shaft.

Josh had what I would call an average cock both in length and thickness. Nothing to brag about but big enough to get the job done which is what counted in the end after all. His pubic hair was thick but not so overgrown as to be gross. He smelled somewhat of sweat and lust, the sweat part no doubt from having run around town already this morning but so much that it turned me off.

I held the base of the shaft in my hand and let it drop from my mouth as I looked up at him and smiled, licking my lips.

“So tell me Josh, does Karen suck you like this?”

His answer took me by surprise. “Karen doesn’t believe in oral sex. She says it’s dirty.”

My eyes widened and I felt my heart skip a beat. Cool!

“So you’ve never had your dick sucked before?”

“There was one girl back in high school,” Josh gasped as I took the head of his dick back in my mouth as she answered. Karen doesn’t know anything about her though. Besides, she wasn't very good anyway... not like this.”

Well what more could I ask for? It was music to my ears, the perfect situation. God, how could any woman NOT like to suck cock? Oh sure, I knew of others who didn't but it still never ceased to amaze me. OK, so I liked being fucked more but I LOVED sucking dick. Over the years I’ve sucked off a lot more guys than I’ve let fuck me, probably by a margin of at least four or five to one. Back in high school it was a rare date indeed that I didn’t suck the guys off but I was a lot more choosey about who fucked me. Face it, a girl has to maintain her reputation.

I lifted myself up a little higher until his dick was between my boobs and I pushed them up against him, using them to rub his dick which he seemed to enjoy as well. Now and then I would reach down and lick on it or spit to make it easier to slide up and down.

“So tell me Josh, does that mean you don’t eat Karen’s pussy either?” I asked softly. He shook his head as his response so I asked, “Have you ever eaten one?” This time he nodded but didn't offer any further details.

I stood up, keeping my hand on his wet dick like a leash and moved over to the work bench where I let go of his cock and put my hands behind me so I could lift myself up on it. The wood felt cool against my bare ass as I spread my legs and started to play with myself in front of him.

“Eat my pussy Josh,” I said gently, spreading my legs as wide apart as I could. He seemed to hesitate for a second but then his lust won out and I knew at the moment he was finally mine. There wasn't going to be any need for me to encourage him, let alone force him to do anything to me from this point onward.

I gasped as his tongue ran over my wet clit and his finger pressed inside of me. Wow, he wasn't wasting any time! He looked up at me and I couldn't see his mouth as he pushed it tight up against my pussy do he could push his tongue up inside of me as much as he could. God it felt incredible!

“Make me cum Josh... Oh god make me cum hard,” it was my turn to beg. Sure part of it was an act to turn him but on but I really DID want him to make me cum! The more he licked me the less of an act it became and the more I really did need to orgasm. I leaned back on my elbows on the dusty workbench - I really should have thought ahead and come out to clean it off but then it wasn’t all THAT dirty.

“Oh god, right there!” I cried out softly as his tongue flickered right over my enflamed clit. I could feel my orgasm rising in me and my hips thrust upward, riving my crotch tighter into his face as I started to cum. I was feeling SO damn good. Between the physical pleasure he was giving me and the motional satisfaction of finally having him for sex, it was making me cum harder than I had all week, even when I was on the web cam for Steve.

I just had to have him now. I wanted his dick in me so badly. Actually it was more than just a want... I NEEDED his dick in me. My pussy was practically screaming to be filled by his wonderfully hard dick.

“Fuck me Josh... Oh god please fuck me now,” I begged yet again. Deep down perhaps I was expecting him to protest, to make one last stand in defense of the honor of his wedding vows, of his respect for his wife. For a man who had been so steadfast in his solemn vows could he actually do me now? Sure I’d sucked his dick and he had licked to orgasm but there was a BIG step between oral sex and REAL sex. Until now while his wife might have other ideas, legally he was still safe as he hadn’t committed an act of adultery. To do THAT he needed to put dick inside of me, to actually have sex with me.

Well, maybe it was a big step in my eyes but now that he had crossed the line it seemed Josh wasn’t even thinking about holding back any longer. Besides, I’d said those magic words that every man loves to hear, “Fuck me”.

Standing up between my legs, I scooted back just enough for my feet to rest on the workbench top but still leave my pussy accessible to his cock. He reached down and with one hand he grabbed his stiff shaft and with the other he reached down to spread my pussy apart. We both watched as he positioned the head of his dick at the entrance to my soaking wet pussy, then rubbing it up and down my pussy slit until he was all wet and slick 0once again. Damn, if he had rubbed me just a little more I might have come again before he even got it in me!

Just as I thought he was about to finally push it in me, I heard him groan and then he pulled back just a little, not more than an inch but enough to make me wonder what was happening.

“Oh god, what am I doing?” he sighed and I could see the conflict written all over his face.

Well, maybe he did indeed recognize the significance of what he was about to do. I had no doubt whatsoever that I was the first girl he was this close to fucking beside his wife since they had been married. Indeed, I was wondering just how many girls he’d had sex with before he got married. From the sounds of it, there was probably at least one but it didn't seem like there had been all that many.

“Fuck me Josh... I want you to fuck me,” I encouraged him gently, “You know you want to feel it in me... you know you want it.”

“Forgive me,” he muttered. I don’t know to whom he was saying it but it wasn't me. Well, whether it was to his wife or God, it didn't matter. All that mattered to me was the sensation if his dick forcing it’s way inside of me. Oh yeah, he was fucking me now!

Once the head was in me he seemed to hesitate but it didn't matter I the act was committed and nothing could undo it. From now until the day he died he would never forget this moment, this act. Every time he made love to Karen in the future he would remember how it felt to push his cock inside of me, how it felt as he slowly but forcefully press it deeper and deeper inside of me until finally his crotch et up against me and he was completely inside of me. How could he ever forget the feel of our two bodies joined together as much as any two people could be?

Perhaps this is what makes adultery such a horrible sin – the fact that not only was there the physical act involved but the emotions and memories lasted forever, well beyond any physical pleasures. Adultery is not just a husband fucking another woman outside his family – it is really the intention behind it. It is the act of hiding it, the secrecy, and the betrayal that makes it what it is. Two people swapping don’t commit adultery as there is nothing that the other doesn’t know about and approve. It’s the betrayal, the broken promises, the treachery that defines adultery, not just the physical act. And yes, what Josh was doing now was indeed adultery as had Karen any idea what was happening right now between us...

I picked my legs up and wrapped them around Josh, locking my ankles as I pulled him in tighter into me. He slipped his hands under my ass, grapping my butt as pulling me up into him as well. Each of us wanted the same thing – to have his buried as deep inside of me as possible! We hadn't even kissed up to this point and I wasn't expecting him to either. This was all about sex – raw, animal lust. Josh didn't love me or even like me for that matter. I was a pussy to him, something to fulfill his needs and desires, a fuck toy and nothing more. Then again, at this moment all I cared about was his dick and how it felt inside of me. I loved the way it felt as he moved it around inside of me, rubbing it all over me as he fondled my ass.

"Oh Josh... It feels so good in me," I gasped as my next orgasm began, "Tell me you love fucking me."

Whether it was the motion of his dick in me, my hand on my clit, his hands on my ass or his next words, the result was the same – a massive orgasm that wracked my body like I'd been hit by a lightning bolt. I closed my eyes and focused on the feeling of him deep inside of me as his words came out like the sweetest music.

"You're so fucking tight... so good... god I love the way you do that with your pussy!"

He was referred to how my pussy grabs down on whatever's in it when I cum, like it wants to just hold on to it and never let it escape. After two kids and almost twenty years of marriage Karen's pussy must feel like a loose bad compared to my tight pussy as I felt him struggle to pump it in me as my entire world collapsed to where nothing existed except his dick and my pussy. He just kept moaning and groaning, one minute telling me how good it felt and the next it would be something about how he couldn't believe what he was doing. Both sides of the conversation turned me on!

"Fuck I'm gonna cum," he groaned and I felt him lean back in preparation to pull out of me. Well, not if I had anything to say about it!

"Cum in me Josh. I want you to cum in my pussy," I managed to somehow get out in the midst of my pleasure. I gripped him even tighter with my legs, doing my best to prevent him from escaping.

"Oh shit... here it cums," he cried out as I felt his hips thrust himself even deeper into me until he practically pushed me backwards, his hands on my ass the only things holding me in place as he ground his hairy crotch into me. Then he did it again... and again... and yet again and I knew with each thrust any other load of his sperm was being ejected out of the end of his dick and deposited deep within me.

After he had finished cumming he pulled his hands out from under me finally and rested them on the workbench top on each side of me, leaning over me as he struggled to catch his breath. I loved it that he wasn't trying to pull out of me right away but instead seemed to enjoy the afterglow feeling of his now spent dick as it rested in me surrounded by his cum.

“You ARE on birth control, aren’t you,” he said out of the blue. Well NOW was a fine time to ask! I just giggled and nodded. I suppose it would’ve been naughty of me to say I wasn't and see how he reacted but after having fucked me so well I just didn't have the heart to pull such a trick.

“This is crazy,” he said then, standing upright and reaching behind him to unlock my ankles. He grabbed each ankle and gently lowered them down as he stepped back and his dick slipped out of me. I loved the way it looked, not hard anymore but now getting softer as time went by, covered with s sticky mix of our combined cum. Actually it looked delicious!

“Let me clean you off,” I offered. I stood up and he started looking around evidently thinking that I meant finding a towel or clothe to wipe him clean. Well, THAT wasn't going to happen, not with me anyway. That was probably what Karen did I was guessing. Well, I would show him how his wife SHOULD be taking care of him.

“Hold still,” I said firmly as I gripped his cock and then leaned over to suck him clean. He seemed a bit surprised at first but there was no misunderstanding the groan that he released when I started to suckle on his dwindled dick. I wondered if I was the first girl to suck his dick clean after fucking her. The odds seemed in favor of it assuming what he had been telling so far was true. Cool. Mmmmmmm, it tasted so good!

Like most men, Josh’s lust seemed to have escaped him along with his sperm and it was looking more and more like he was starting to realize the magnitude of what he had just done. Grabbing his boxers and pants, he started to quickly dress, muttering something about how Karen was going to kill him. I stayed nude and as I stood there I could feel his cum starting to drain from me. He seemed so distraught but I assured him that I would never tell anyone about what had happened so he had nothing to worry about.

Once he got his belt snug he seemed ready to go but before he did he turned to me with his arms crossed – some serious body language was going on here.

“So are you happy now?” he asked, more of an accusation than a question so I just grinned and kept my mouth shut for once. “So now what? Are you going to blackmail or what? What happens next time you’re here?”

It was like he was a general who had just surrendered and was asking for terms. In a way that was not a bad analogy but the key difference here was that there were no repercussions for his surrender, at least none imposed by me. I assured him of that and that I would never say a word to anyone.

“So what if I want to do you again?” he asked. From the tone and his expression I got the idea it was not a real questions that he wanted answered but more of a leader to another question which I chose to answer instead before he asked.

“Sorry, I told you that you were safe from me and that goes both ways.”

Josh frowned but I didn’t think it was because he was upset that he couldn't fuck me again and sure enough, he did have other issues.

“So what then? I’m just some sort of notch on your belt? Just another horny husband that you tricked into betraying his wife?”

If I was being honest the answer was a resounding “yes” but I didn't want to be cruel. After all, he HAD fucked me nicely and I owed him something for that. So instead I shook my head and swore it was nothing like that.

“Then what WAS this all about?” he demanded, starting to get a bit agitated now.

“Can't a girl just want to get laid?” I responded rather lamely.

“Something tells me you don’t have to worry about THAT much,” he muttered. He reached for the door and opened it, turning to say his final words.

“You know, I really don’t know whether to thank you or curse you. Just promise me one thing – we NEVER even discuss this ever again, OK?”

It was fine with me. While we might never talk about it again, I knew from past experience that all I needed to see was his eyes on me and that would tell me more than a book of words.

“Don’t forget to shower before Karen gets home,” I said with a smile, waving goodbye to him. When he was gone I reached down to get my clothes off the floor. I debated putting them on but then what would be the point for the few steps it would take me to get to the deck and then to the family room. So long as Karen and the girls didn’t pull up at that moment, nobody would see me anyway.

I scampered across the deck and into the house where my grandmother was seated on the couch waiting for me. Oh she had the game shows on still but there was no doubt what she was really waiting for.

“You know, you remind me so much of your aunt,” was all she said as I entered the house. I must’ve looked a wreck with my hair all over the place and Josh’s cum draining out of me. Still, she didn’t make any comment about my nudity which rather surprised me - or of me fucking Josh, which surprised me even more. That one little comment and for the rest of my stay that was the only thing she had to say about the matter.

Later that afternoon Karen and the girls returned. I was shocked when Karen came over while after they got home and for a brief moment I thought maybe the guilt had been too much for Josh and now she was coming over to exact her revenge. Instead she invited me over to use the pool as it was so incredibly stifling hot that afternoon.

Of course nothing sexual happened in the pool. Indeed, the girls had to practically drag their dad out to join in. The entire time he never looked me in the eye, not even once but nobody seemed to notice. His daughters looked hot in their tiny bikinis and I imagined how my dad would be reacting if he was here now - or my fiancé for that matter. Sure they were getting to be a bit at the upper end of their target age group, but as cute and tanned as they were what man would NOT be turned on by the sight of them? Once when Karen went in to get some drinks and the girls were messing around on a float I tried flashing quickly for Josh. I was pretty sure he saw me but he didn't a valiant effort at ignoring me. By now most of his cum was long gone from me but as I saw him in his swim trunks I couldn't help but recall the sight of his beautiful erection and I wondered what his daughters would say if they knew that just a couple of hours earlier their deer sweet dad had screwed the neighbor girl who was swimming with them now.

That night it was my turn to do the talking when I cammed for Steve. Actually I also did the masturbating but this time he got to watch me as I relived every moment of the morning. OK, so maybe I embellished it a little in the telling but who would convict me? It was sort of funny though that with the show I gave him and the story I had to tell, what really got him off was when I emailed him some photos I had sneaked out the window of the neighbor girls running around in their cute little bikinis!

1. An Interesting Dilemma

You've probably seen ads and commercials touting gifts for "The guy who has everything". Well, put yourself in my best friend's shoes and ask yourself, "How you plan a bachelorette party for a girl who has done most everything?"

Most bachelorette parties are based around the theme of doing something shocking or at least memorable, something of the "what happens in Vegas, stays in Vegas" sort of event. I remember the first one I ever went to for my cousin back when I was barely eighteen. They brought in strippers and my cousin did things I doubt she had ever done before, especially in view of so many people. No doubt she has never done them again either!

Well, that wasn't going to work for my party. I mean when you consider that I'd even been the entertainment for several bachelor parties then you see how bringing in strippers and such wasn't going to phase me – or anyone else who'd seen me at various parties and get-togethers over the years.

Beth had volunteered years ago to coordinate my bachelorette party so when it came time for my wedding I really didn't have to even ask – she just took over. Normally the Maid of Honor is responsible for this but in my case, my MOH had no idea about much of my past. Hillary was 40 years old and a good friend of mine as we taught together at the small school where I teach. Frankly I sort of copped out when it came time to select my MOH as I couldn't choose one of my friends over the other. Hillary and I had become quite close over the past year or so and it just felt right to ask her.

My other bridesmaids were going to be Beth – my absolute BFF, Brenda – my freshman year college roomie, Samantha – perhaps best known as the girl who got me to try sex with her dog, Nancy – one of my good friends who loved to play Truth or Dare, and finally Carrie – a close friend of Kristi with whom I'd spent quite a few fun times with. I decided NOT to include any relatives in my bridal party just so I wouldn't hurt anybody's feelings.

Whatever Beth was planning for my party, she was keeping a tight lid on it. Like, the secret formula for Coke probably would have been easier for me to learn than the details for my own party! She wouldn't even give me a hint as to what she had up her sleeve. All I knew was that it was scheduled for the Saturday before my wedding and would start at 2:00 in the afternoon. I was curious about the time as it seemed awful early but she just grinned at me and wouldn't even comment.

Finally the day arrived. Steve's bachelor party wasn't being held until Friday night after our rehearsal which sort of concerned me but then there weren't many options. Most of his groomsmen were coming in from out of town so they couldn't all get in until just before the wedding. Steve's brother was going to be the best man and had been working out the details long distance from California where he and Steve's sister had remained after Steve and his mom had moved back to Pittsburgh last summer. Jim wouldn't be flying in until Thursday night which made me wonder how he was making all the arrangements but then that was his problem.

Speaking of flying in, my mom was coming in from Oregon today also so Steve would be picking her up at the airport. I would have loved to have gone with him to greet her at the airport but with the odd timing of Beth's plans that meant I wouldn't be seeing her until after the party. Steve seemed excited to be seeing her again and I had a pretty good suspicion as to where he would be spending the evening.

So finally the time arrived and Beth pulled up to the curb in her car. Hmmmmmm, no limo or big vehicle so any thoughts of a traveling party went out the door immediately. Kristi and I went out and I noticed in the back seat that Nancy and Carrie were already there but nobody else from my wedding party. I had anticipated that Brenda probably wouldn't make it given she was living so far away since her wedding. Hillary being MIA was also not a surprise and if anything gave me a hint as to Beth's plans as she was the only one in the wedding party that was not aware of many of my past escapades. She only knew me as the conservative elementary teacher and to be honest, it was probably best for me and my job for her to stay unaware. The only person I wondered about was Sam. I guess she couldn't make it or what not.

Kristi hopped in back with the other two while I got in front with Beth driving. Everyone seemed to be talking at once until finally Beth broke in and demanded everyone's attention.

“OK everyone, we're gathered here today to mourn the end of our dear friend's life as she knows it,” she started out solemnly. They all just giggled and she shushed them, pretending to be serious about the matter.

“Kelly, you still have a chance to call this all off and retain your status as the sluttiest girls I know – Kristi excepted of course.” Everyone laughed, Kristi especially. “So we wanted to spend the day reminding you of your past and how you go to be here today. So what do you say – will you go along with whatever we have planned for you?”

Oh yeah, like I was going to agree to THAT! Only a crazy girl would agree to go along with anything Beth and company came up with.

OK, so I'm crazy. With all the excitement and buildup to this, what was I going to say other than to agree? I'd been dreaming of this moment from the time I first started planning my wedding and I wasn't about to throw a damp rag on anything. The only question I had in my head was what in the world was she talking about?

2. Back on the Swing Set

It didn't take long to learn more about the theme of the party. Beth drove through the neighborhood until we came to the old grade school that had been closed for years. She pulled around to the back where everything had pretty much been overgrown. Then much to my surprise we stopped by the old swing set and who did I see, but John, my old boyfriend. He was sitting on the swing set which surprisingly was still hanging.

“August 24th, 1999,” Beth announced, “Bring back any memories Kelly?” Bring back any memories? God, it was like it was just yesterday although almost exactly twelve years had passed. This was one of the many places that Steve and I had fucked back when we first started dating. Sheesh, I was only fourteen at the time and Steve was just sixteen. Back then we were like rabbits I heat, fucking everywhere and anywhere we could, not caring who might see us.

What surprised me the most was John and Beth must have seen me staring at him.

“I hope you appreciate that I had quite a time finding him,” she giggled. Since we couldn't get Steve to reenact the dirty deed I thought having one of your old boyfriends from back then might be a suitable substitute. He’s engaged too, in case you didn’t know, but the wedding’s not until next year and apparently he didn't mind cheating on his fiancé a little but when I went to him with my proposal. He even helped rig the swing back up again.”

It was starting to dawn on me what her plan was. Was she serious? It was one thing to have done it at dusk twelve years ago back when I didn't know any better and even if we HAD been caught, who would really say anything about two horny teenagers? Sure, the place was so overgrown that nobody could see anything unless they happened to cross through the schoolyard. Still, two people in their mid-twenties fucking in public in full view of the world would raise more questions than had we been ten years younger. And then there was the thing about having an audience... Were they all planning to just stand by and watch?

Apparently so.

“Well, we don’t have all do so get out and fuck him,” Beth finished up. “Don’t mind us – it’s not like you care whether or not some is watching anyway, right?”

John was swinging slowly, not making any moves or signs. Wow, it had been so long since we had done anything together. Back when we dated the two of us had done some pretty outrageous stuff. He had fucked me in the middle of a church picnic – right under the stage during the service! Then he had been the first to fuck me at a public beach out in the water in full view of everyone. He was also the one who had fucked me in a restroom ate mall. So needless to say, we had a bit of a history when it came to having sex in crazy places although the swing set hadn't been one of them.

Oh well, why not? After all, it was everything I loved to do - fucking in public with people watching me, even if they were all my friends and not a group of strangers as my fantasies usually went. The idea of John fucking me again after so many years wasn't exactly a bad idea either! Steve and I had promised after the last time we'd had sex a couple of days ago not to have sex with each other until the night of our wedding so I was more than a bit horny at the moment!

I got out of the car and stood there, waiting for some reaction from John. Beth had pulled up close so once I was out there were only a few feet separating us. Not knowing what to expect - and not getting any help from either Beth or Kristi, I had worn a rather neutral outfit - nothing all that sexy but not exactly church-wear either. I had on a pair of khaki capris that were about as tight as I could pull on without ripping out the seams with a lacy cami on top that was just short enough to expose a bit of midriff. It was cut really low so there was a lot of cleavage for John to see, not to mention my nipples poking through since I hadn't bothered with a bra. It didn't hurt that they were already starting to poke out further as I got more and more excited about what I knew was about to happen. My hair was hanging down to my shoulders and I was wearing black open-toe heels with a single strap around my ankle.

“Wow, I have to say your boobs certainly have grown,” he greeted me. I just rolled my eyes. Talk about a greeting after not seeing me for so many years! Not even a “Hello, it's been a while”. Then again, when he had last seen me naked my boobs didn't hardly qualify for a training bra so I didn't really mind the compliment.

“Nice to see you again too John,” I replied, waiting for him to make the next move. I looked back and saw the girls were all piling out of the car, taking their places on the hood and trunk to watch us.

“So I guess you know what's going on now,” he said, seeming a bit shy actually.

I looked back again and couldn't help but smile at all of them sitting there silently with their eyes fixated on the two of us.

“Yeah, I've got a pretty good idea.”

“So you don't mind then?”

Mind??? Like would I still be standing there if I did? Awkward was more the better description of the moment as neither of us seemed to know how to get the ball rolling.

“For fucking out loud... are you guys gonna do it or not?” I heard Beth behind me. The rest of them started egging us on as well with some not so subtle hints as to where his dick should go.

I glanced around one last time to be sure nobody else was watching. The place was deserted and since most everything had long been removed and the ground was pretty much overgrown with weeds and shrubs, there was little chance any of the neighborhood kids would be passing through. Still, one couldn't be too careful in such situations.

Walking up next to John, I grabbed the chains on each side of him and leaned in closer so my boobs were more exposed to him. As I had hoped, his eyes quickly moved down to stare at my cleavage.

“So do you want a blowjob first or do we just fuck and get it over with?”

John grinned at that. “I see you haven’t changed all that much, have you? Still the same slut I knew back in high school.”

“Well?” I asked, “What do you want?”

John seemed to contemplate his options although I knew he probably had known from the start what he wanted. After all, he had all week or more to think about this whereas I had found out just a few minutes earlier.

“As I recall, you had quite the reputation for sucking cock on the first date. You were pretty good back then so let’s see what you’ve got today.”

“Pretty good” back then? OK, so maybe I was being overly sensitive but I think I was more than just “pretty good”, even in high school. And yes, I was quite proud of my reputation at the time. It was a rare Friday night that some boy wasn't asking me out and I knew it had a lot to do with the fact they knew it was almost a lock that I would blow them before the night was over, even if they didn't get to fuck me or even feel me up.

“Well let’s see what you’re packing these days,” I replied, reaching down to undo his belt and jeans. He ended up helping me and I slipped them down along with his underwear to his knees, leaving him to sit bare-ass on the swing with his dick exposed for me.

“Not bad... brings back some good memories,” I murmured as I bent my knees to lower myself to his level. Indeed, John had a pretty decent cock. Nothing to threaten any of the major porn stars but certainly at the upper end of the average scale. It didn't hurt that he has already as hard as a rock.

One more look back at my friends and I smiled at them before turning back and taking John’s cock in my mouth using no hands. He was so stiff it was easy to do so without having to worry about it flopping around. Wow, it was hard to believe I was sucking my old boyfriend again after so many years! Talk about the one thing I had NOT thought would happen today...

As I sucked on his dick I reached down and lifted my cami up and over my boobs, leaving it on but allowing him easy access. He immediately reached down and cradled one boob in each hand.

“Damn, your tits are great Kelly,” he gasped as I put some extra suction on his cock for just a moment, “Fuck that feels good!”

I must have sucked him for five or ten minutes when Beth broke my concentration.

“Hey, we don’t have all day so let’s see how that swing set thing worked.”

Actually I was wondering about that myself. I wasn't all that huge today but certainly bigger than I was back when I was barely a teenager. John was also a lot taller and bigger than Steve had been back then as well. If I remember anything about how Steve had fucked me it as that it was a tight fit in the swing set as it was. How would John and I manage to squeeze in?

Leaving my top bunched over my boobs, I undid my capris and lowered them to below my knees, figuring it would be easier to get them back up in the event someone unexpectedly passed by. As John held his erect cock firmly upright, I turned around and tried to sit down on top of it. With his jeans still on and my capris keeping my legs together, it wasn't easy and finally he sort of picked me up and pulled me back on top of him. I was a little embarrassed at the display of awkwardness - not exactly a fine display of professional sluttiness.

“You have to sit up more Kelly, I just don’t bend that way!” John grunted as he tried to get his dick into me.

I held onto the chains and tried to pull myself up enough for him to position his dick under my pussy but it was like a comedy scene as when I tried to lower myself down he would be just enough out of position to not slide in and instead he would wince as his dick twisted under my weight. Finally we got it right and I dropped down as he slide into me until I was sitting on his lap with his dick firmly inside of me.

“That’s better,” he sighed as we just sat there and relaxed for a moment.

I looked over at our audience and everyone was watching intently. I couldn't remember the last time Carrie had seen me being fucked and as for Nancy... I wasn't even sure she ever had as the only time we were together was when it was just girls.

“Here goes nothing’,” John warned me as he pushed off gently. What a disaster! No sooner did the swing start to arc back then I was trying to slide forward on his lap. Only his dick served as an anchor to hold me in place and apparently it wasn't designed for the task.

“Fuck, this isn’t going to work,” he groaned as he let the swing go back to its neutral position, “How the hell did you guys do it anyway?”

Well, first of all back then I wasn't nearly as self-conscious about being caught. At that age I think kids think they are invincible - much the same reasoning that leads to pregnant teenagers when they don’t use birth control. Fortunately THAT was something my mom saw to as soon as I started having sex.

“Here, help me back up,” I told him as I slid down his lap and stood back up again. There was only one way it was going to work so I took off my capris and tossed them to Kristi who was sitting on the hood nearest to us.

“Now THAT is a sight worth seeing,” John said admiringly as I walked back to him bare-bottom with my cami still up over my boobs. “Why not go for broke and take off your top?”

I thought about it for a moment and then figured what the hell. In for a penny, in for a pound as I’ve heard it said. I crossed my arms, grabbed the bottom of the cami and pulled it up and over my head. I handed it back to Kristi again, leaving myself nude now in the middle of the playground. Thank god for overgrown bushes as I knew there were a number of homes less than 100 feet away or so that were out of sight thanks to the leaves and brush.

“Better!” John nodded approvingly.

I noted that HE still had on all his clothes, albeit his jeans were now down to his ankles. I still had on my heels so I guess technically I wasn't totally nude but that would have been a rather useless argument should the police arrive about now.

“OK, so let’s do this right,” I told him as I grabbed the chains yet again but this time I jumped up a bit to help me lift my legs up and over him, straddling him as I came back down.

My bare butt landed on his hairy thighs and I quickly wrapped my legs around his waist to keep me in place. My boobs were now pressing up against his chest and I could feel his erection poking into my ass.

“Ahhhhhh, this is better,” John said as I pulled myself back up and he worked his dick back into me again.

“Mmmmmmm, been a long time since I felt that in me,” I sighed as I enjoyed the feeling of his erection filling my pussy again for the first time in over a decade.

John had first fucked me back when I could still count the number of dicks that had been in me on one hand so I tried to imagine how many cocks had been there since we last did it. I wondered if he had any idea or if it mattered at all to him. Obviously if he knew it must not have bothered him. It’s funny how some guys react to a girl with “experience”. Some seem not to care or if anything, get turned on by the “challenge” of fucking me better than any of the hundreds of guys before them. Then there were those that were totally turned off by it, whether by concern over catching an STD or just intimidated that they might not measure up to those that came before them.

“OK, let’s try this again, shall we?”

I put my arms around John’s neck and pressed up tight against him to keep my balance as he pushed off again. This time it worked much better as I was able to pull myself into him with my legs while my death grip around his neck kept me from falling backwards.

“Go girl!” Beth cheered, followed by other encouragements from the peanut gallery.

John started to get some height which had the effect that reminded me of what it had been like to do this with Steve back then. It was like I was weightless at the peaks, lifting up and off his lap as we started to descend which made his dick pull out of me slightly and then once we hit bottom and started back up the opposite effect came into play and I was pressed down into his lap, driving his dick firmly into my pussy. As we gained height, the effect grew as well until it was almost scary.

“John! Not so high!” I begged as he gave an extra hard kickoff and we went high into the air.

I totally forgot that I was stark naked and was more focused on just hanging on than anything else, even more so than his dick in me. He let it drop a bit which made it better for me and I started to enjoy the ride – literally.

“Oh god... whoa!” I moaned as we reached the peak and I felt myself once again lift off his lap slightly.

It was like I was suspended in air, connected only to him by his dick which stayed inside of me. It was the weirdest feeling to be virtually floating on his cock. Well, it may have been weird but it was damn good as well! I wanted so bad to finger my clit but I didn't dare relax my grip around his neck.

John groaned even louder on the next upswing. “Fuck, this is crazy,” he practically grunted.

I was so hoping he would cum in me as we swung back and forth but I think the motion, while utterly erotic and sensual, was too slow to get him off. It was sort of like a hand job in slow motion. Still, it Would have been so cool to feel him cumming just as we reached bottom where his dick was pressed the furthest into me.

Although we didn't discuss it, it was like we both came to the same conclusion at the same time. John let the swing die down until he was able to stop it and then I lifted myself up and felt his cock slip out of me. Mmmmmmm, I knew it would be back where it belonged before much longer. John got up off the swing and shuffled out of the way, his jeans dragging on the ground around his ankles. I grabbed the chains one more time and then moved my feet back until I was bent over, supporting myself by the chains with my feet now spread wide apart. Without a word John moved in behind me and drilled his dick into me from behind.

“That’s it John... fuck me, fuck my pussy,” I begged him as I looked over my shoulder to see how things were going back at the car.

I was a little disappointed that nobody was masturbating but then I also thought that made it sort of hot that they were so mesmerized by what they were watching that they didn't even take time to cum themselves.

Then he reached around me and with one hand he cupped my boob and then with the other he reached into my crotch and rubbed my wet pussy until he found my clit. There was no doubt when he had the right spot as I practically jumped off the ground when he hit it.

“You like that there, eh?” he teased me as he pumped my pussy with his dick, slow and steady like he was drilling for oil and then picking up speed after he started playing with my clit.

“Just don’t stop,” I begged as my head raised back and I closed my eyes. All I wanted to think about was his hand on me, his dick in me. Someone could have driven up behind us right then and I doubt I would have even noticed, or if I had there was nothing I would have done until John made me cum.

“Cream pie, cream pie,” the girls started chanting, cheering John on. He at least was gentleman enough to ask first.

“I want to cum in you,” he panted as his rhythm quickened and the depth of his thrusts increased.

“Don’t you DARE pull out,” I responded firmly, not letting him have any doubt whatsoever as to my intentions for his cum.

“Oh fuck yeah!” he growled as he put one hand on each of my hips and pulled me into him. “Here it comes!”

With that he practically knocked me into the swing as he slammed his crotch against my bare butt and I felt the first ejaculation inside of me. Mmmmmmm, no THIS was worth all the effort.

After he had finished he quickly pulled out of me and started to pull up his jeans. It didn’t seem to matter that I was stark naked, just so long as he was covered up. Typical guy!

I went over to Kristi to retrieve my clothes but Beth wasn't having any of that.

“Smile!” she said, clicking away with her phone. Oh god, she had been taking pictures. Who knows, maybe video too.

“Let’s see that cum,” Beth insisted so I put my right foot up on the car bumper and spread open my recently fucked pussy. Squeezing down, I felt John’s cum drain from me as Beth snapped away.

“OK, hurry up and get dressed, we’re behind schedule,” Beth said, tucking her phone into her purse for safekeeping.

I turned to Kristi for my clothes but she was back by the trunk pulling something out of an overnight bag. I saw that she had folded my other clothes up and was getting out my favorite denim skirt and tank top.

“What’s with the new clothes?” I asked, impatiently waiting to get dressed. It was one thing to be naked while having sex, quite another to push it by just hanging around afterwards longer than necessary.

“You’ll see,” she giggled, handing me my new clothes.

It appeared the oath of secrecy was will in place so I didn't even try to argue. I knew I would find out soon enough. Beth was talking to John as I got dressed and once I was ready I went to turn to him to thank him but he was nowhere to be seen.

“Don’t worry, we’ll catch him later,” she said flippantly. Hmmm, now what did THAT mean? Was he going to be part of another trip down memory lane? Would it be one of the things we had done this time or would he be filling in for someone else again instead?

It didn't take long to get dressed, particularly since Kristi hadn’t bothered packing any underwear for me but then what else was new. The skirt was more than enough to cover my ass but not all that long such that when I sat down I had to be careful crossing my legs to ensure my lack of underwear wasn't noticeable.

“So now what?” I asked as we pulled away from the playground. I looked back one last time at the swing. Wow, who would have ever guessed twelve years ago as Steve and I left on our bikes that twelve years later I would be returning to re-enact what we had done?

3. Grocery Store Fun

“So Kelly, what do you think? Was that a cool way to get things started or what?” Beth asked as we drove to our next mystery location. At least it was a mystery to me.

I had to agree that it was great fun and something I never had expected. I mean, I was anticipating the typical hotel room suite with some fake delivery boy or whatever calling at the door who then transformed into a sexy stripper - the typical thing. I sat there feeling the afterglow of John’s dick in me, his cum still draining out as I wiped it up with a handkerchief that Nancy had so thoughtfully provided me. What other event in my past was she going to replicate now?

It was a few miles when she turned off into a Giant Eagle parking lot and before anyone said anything, I gasped and twisted around to face Kristi.

“Noooooo... you’ve GOT to be joking,” I gasped as the full impact started to overwhelm me.

Everyone started laughing but that was because THEY knew about this ahead of time and so it wasn't such a surprise to them.

“But it’s Saturday afternoon for heaven’s sake,” I protested, “There’s no way this is going to happen. When we did it the place was deserted.”

My words had no impact on Beth who sounded off like the introduction to the next circus act.

“Ladies and Ladies, watch now in the center ring as Kelly, along with her cousin Kristi, take center stage in the world’s most death defying act. We all know who won on April 13th, 2002 when these titans first clashed but who will cum first today in this classic battle of the ages?”

OK, so fucking out in the open behind a vacant school had been a little crazy but THIS was insane. Yes, over nine years ago my cousin and I had gone to this very store for a little contest we liked to play, only that time the stakes were raised to unheard of heights. Since we first started masturbating, there had always been a little friendly (and sometimes not so friendly) competition between us when it came to bringing ourselves to an orgasm. We would lay on the bed together, sometimes facing each other and then other times lying next to one another, playing with ourselves until one of us came. It was an honor system between us – no faking an orgasm allowed. Back then I was sixteen while Kristi was fourteen and just starting to have sex so she was masturbating a LOT to the point where she felt she was ready to end my winning streak.

“You’re really serious about this?” I asked yet again. Everyone in the car just laughed at me.

“Don’t worry, this time you have the three of us to be lookouts and to distract people.

The parking lot was full but not packed, a typical Saturday afternoon crowd I would say. Still, that was a LOT more than the time when Kristi and I had first played around and deep down I wondered if we could really pull this off.

Well, if nothing else I had the distinct advantage as I was horny as hell now after having just been fucked by John without having cum myself. Or at least so I thought. I heard a gasp in the back seat and when I twisted around to see what was going on, there was Kristi with her skirt pulled up and two fingers in her pussy. Damn, that slut was getting herself ready before we even got started!

“OK you two, now let’s have a fair match and no more cheating,” Beth said to the two of us, acting as more the referee than a friend.

We walked in as a group and I couldn't help but notice the eyes on us as we made our way inside – from both men AND women. Then again, while most of the stares from the men were appreciative and lustful, the majority of the women seemed more disgusted and envious. Kristi and I were the only ones with skirts and hers was higher than mine even, revealing much of her upper thighs. The other girls were all in the standard “summer girl” outfit – denim cutoffs, tight t-shirts and thongs. Beth had the biggest boobs by far and I noticed she wasn't wearing a bra today which was a bit out of character for her. Her boobs were at least a DD by now and she looked stunning without a bra but it was blatantly obvious when she left hers off - from all angles.

The produce department was off to the right as we entered and my heart sank when I got my first look. There must have been ten or fifteen people all around, mostly women but some men and kids. There was no way we were going to get away with anything with this many people around!

“Wow, look at all the people. This ain’t gonna work,” I sighed to Beth as we paused at the entrance. Although I had been a bit shocked when I first heard the idea, now that I’d gotten use to the idea I was looking forward to it. It had been ages since I had masturbated in a grocery store in any way but to be this naughty had been a VERY long time ago indeed.

What I was referring to was back when Kristi and I had gone in while the store was all but empty. Rather than simply finger ourselves to see who could get off first, we camped out in the produce department using the various foods as makeshift dildos. Everything from various types of cucumbers to carrots was a candidate. After we tried one out for a while we would put it back and maybe even take another one if we thought it was a good dildo. What made it really hot was watching when someone would come by and check out the produce to see if they would select one of the ones we’d played with.

That was all well and good when nobody was around to watch but not exactly the type of thing you do when people are in every aisle. I still hadn’t figured out how we were going to do anything when Kristi took control and headed for the far-most corner.

“Looks like your cousin isn’t so intimidated,” Carrie noted. “Yeah,” agreed Nancy, “Maybe you’re getting too old for this?”

I glared at them both even though I knew they were just teasing me to try and intimidate me into doing something nuts. Well, they were being quite successful if that was indeed their intentions. Anyone who knows me at all knows that if there was one thing I couldn't stand, it was being told I was getting to old to do anything. I made my way over to where Kristi was examining a long thin cucumber.

“Hmmmmmm, what do you think Kelly, just about the right size I would say, don’t you agree?”

She grinned and then looked around. There was nobody in direct line of sight just then although several people were only a few yards away and could turn at any moment. Kristi didn't seem to be overly concerned as she quickly slipped her hand under her skirt and then brought it out, this time without the cucumber in it.

“Mmmmmmm, a little cold but it will warm up soon I think,” she giggled as she wiggled her butt obscenely. That little vixen!

The other girls were spreading out and I watched as people came and went. There was a brief lull and I saw Beth give me an OK with her fingers so I took a cucumber that I’d been carefully examining, warming it up as much as I cold with my hands, and with one swift motion, reached under my skirt and slipped it inside of me. I stifled a gasp as it was like slipping a cold popsicle up me; nothing like the nice warm dick that I’d enjoyed about twenty minutes earlier.

“Oh my god, it’s so cold!” I whispered to Kristi, trying not to double over as I stood there with both hands on the counter top.

I saw she had one hand under her skirt and form the movement it was obvious what she was doing. With the pile of vegetables in front of her, nobody would be able to see her unless they moved directly across from her in the aisle but Nancy and Carrie were staked out at each end to keep an eye out for potential intruders.

Not wanting her to get too much of a head start, I did the same. It felt really strange to have something so chilly inside of me. It wasn't the first time by any means I’d used something around the house to masturbate with but I normally never took anything straight from the refrigerator. True, the cucumber hadn’t been in a cooler but between the cold sprays and chillers it was certainly cooler than normal room temperature at home. Thankfully it seemed to warm up quickly though.

I got maybe 30-45 seconds in when Carrie motioned to watch out so I pulled my hand up out from under my skirt. Kristi hadn’t seen Carrie but she must have seen me because she did the same, just in time too before a cart appeared with some kid in the seat and her mother pushing from behind. I could feel the cucumber inside of me and it was all I could do not to squirm too much as she looked over the produce and then finally moved on. No sooner than her back was turned than Kristi was at it again so I followed suit, even though I would have preferred to wait until the woman had turned the corner away from us.

While Kristi seemed to be getting off, I had to admit that maybe I WAS getting older. Somehow I didn't remember being so tensed up when we had done it before but then that was a long time ago. Plus, there hadn’t been so damn many people in the store. In fact, the lot had been practically empty at the time. By any account it felt good to masturbate but as for getting myself off, I wasn't holding my breath.

"Kristi!" I hissed as Beth motioned that someone was coming. Once again I relinquished my grip but Kristi didn't seem to hear me.

"Dammit Kristi, someone's coming!" I said tersely under my breath.

"It's just a guy," she muttered, barely looking up to assess the situation.

True, it WAS just a guy. He was maybe in his forties or fifties, overweight and balding wearing shorts and black socks with his leather sandals. What a dork! Still, I wasn't about to let him see me masturbate but Kristi didn't seem to have any qualms about it. Sure enough, he approached us from the side, checking over the tomatoes and melons on the shelves across from where we were standing. He glanced over at us and then turned away. Had he seen anything? I almost had to laugh then as he seemed to try and ignore us but at the same time positioned himself so he could keep an eye on us without being overly obvious about it. Yeah, head had seen but the question was, did he really believe what he saw?

"C'mon, let's give him a show," Kristi giggled as she made her motions more obvious. Then to my mix of horror and lust, she actually pulled it out of her and stuck the end in her mouth sucking off her pussy juices from it before reaching down and reinserting it. I thought the guy across from us was going to have a stroke! I could already see the letter... "Dear Penthouse..."

Just then I saw him look the other direction and hustle off where he met up with a woman who I was guessing to be his wife. I wonder when he got home if he masturbated about the two girls in the grocery store dong what he had always fantasized about seeing?

OK, face it, I was never going to cum this way. There were just too many distractions. I looked at Kristi and she had her eyes closed now, bending down so she was out of sight from anyone unless they actually came around to our side of the stand. It looked more like she was about to pee than masturbate but she as using both hands now, one to work the fresh dildo and the other to rub her clit. God, the girl could do it anywhere!

Beth again signaled and this time it was too much for me so I returned my cucumber to the pile and watched Kristi going at it, essentially surrendering to her. All she had to do was cum now and she would win by default. I saw three women coming our way, appearing to be shopping together which was good because they moved more slowly through the various sections as they talked and compared notes on the various selections and prices.

“Oh yeahhhhhhh!” Kristi moaned and I saw her bouncing on her toes a little as she tightened her shoulders and just held her hands still under her skirt. Either she was cumming or putting on a good imitation.

The ladies were almost upon us and I was afraid that they would see Kristi before she was done but her timing was impeccable as somehow she managed to stand up straight and pull out the cucumber all in one motion. Returning it to the pile, she grinned at me and pretended to be looking at the melons instead. We stood side by side and watched as the trio made their way to the cucumbers. I felt a jab in my ribs as Kristi poked me when one of the women picked up the cucumber she had used and studied it. Then she sniffed it and wrinkled her nose, returning it to the pile. I wondered if she recognized the scent mixed in with the smell of the cucumber. Even if she HAD, would she believe it really was what she thought it was? Whatever the answer, she ended up choosing another one and they moved on by us. Kristi burst out laughing when they were out of hearing range.

“I thought she was going to lick it,” she giggled.

Beth moved over, telling us it was time to go. We all returned to the car where everyone started laughing and telling Kristi how much they couldn't believe what she had done.

“Hey, I took one up me too you know,” I protested, trying to save a little face if I could.

They just teased me all the more, calling me an old married woman, over the hill, and more. It was all in jest but it still stung a little. What hurt the most was they were right! A few years ago it would have been me doing what Kristi had done and now here I was, playing spectator when I use to be the star attraction.

Well, it was still early so I figured Beth would have more up her sleeve to help me redeem myself and I wasn't disappointed.

4. The Mall Restroom Revisited

We crossed the main road and found a parking spot at the mall just outside the food court. My mind was racing trying to figure out what she might have planned for me to relive here. The problem was there was a lot to choose from as I had done a lot at this mall over the years. How naughty as she going to make me be for their amusement?

We gathered in a group on the sidewalk just outside the entrance to the food court. Beth waited for a couple of groups to pass us by and then acted as tour guide.

“We are now standing outside the mall where Kelly has flaunted herself shamelessly so many times over the years. Today we are going to visit the place where she first had sex in the mall back on August 12 in the year 2000. Notice that I said ‘first’ as only she knows how many times she has had sex here over the years.”

My mind was racing again. Damn, that was eleven years ago! Was I suppose to remember EVERY time I’d had sex? Then again, she had said it was the first time and I usually remembered most of my “firsts”. I almost laughed out loud when it all came back to me. No wonder John had disappeared back at the school earlier.

“So follow me now as we pass through the food court to the infamous men’s room where John molested our dear Kelly for her first time in a public restroom; or should I say SHE molested HIM?”

Everyone seemed to find that funny although I wasn't so sure why. In a way I felt almost relieved after the tense trip to the grocery store. Over the years I’d had sex in many a restroom stall, in both the men’s and the ladies rooms. It was always easier in the men’s room as if we DID get caught none of the men ever said anything whereas if a guy gets seen in the women’s room everyone screams. I wondered how she had set this up but I figured her usual efficiency would prevail and it would all be ready when we arrived.

Sure enough, as we approached the restroom area I say one of those yellow signs that the maintenance people set up whenever they are working that said the restroom was temporarily closed. I almost felt sorry for this kid who came rushing up to the door and then dropped his shoulders when he saw the sign, looking to be in a state of panic as he left to find another place to go.

“We don’t have time today to wait for it to clear out so I had John take care of things ahead of time,” Beth explained, pointing to the sign. She looked at me expectantly and I stood there, not sure what she was trying to tell me.

“Do I have to spell it out girl?” she said in exasperation, “He’s already in there so get going! I’ll take the sign down as soon as you go in so you better hide quick.

Without worrying about who was watching, I left them four of them and strode purposefully into the men’s room. Sure enough, it was empty except for one guy –

John. He was leaning against one of the sinks, arms folded and one leg over the other as he grinned.

“Glad to see you finally made it,” he greeted me, “Haven’t we already met today?”

I just rolled my eyes and pushed open the door to the handicapped stall. Over the years they had changed the furnishings but the basic layout was still the same. If anything there were even more stainless steel bars to hold onto and the door came even closer to the floor than before, offering more privacy than in the past.

“Not wasting any time this time I see,” he said as he joined me and I closed the door and latched it behind him. “Hmmmmmm, something seems familiar about this stall...”

“Yeah, like you don’t remember,” I said with enough of a grin to take the edge off. “So are you gonna at least be a gentleman this time and make me cum too?”

John licked his lips and rubbed his hands together in anticipation. “yeah, sorry about that back at the school but you know how it is. We guys are all just pigs.”

I still had on my short skirt and since I didn't have any panties underneath, it didn't seem necessary to undress. He’d already seen me nude not all that long before so why not just get down to what we both were there for?

“So how about another one of this incredible Kelly blow jobs?”

It was tempting and normally I was not the type of girl to turn down a dick when it was offered to me on a silver platter but it can also be quite sexy at times NOT to suck one, especially when the guys is so anxious for it.

“How about this time you worry about making ME cum,” I said in a teasing tone but at the same time not making any effort to reach for his dick which was now on display as he had dropped his pants and underwear yet again for me – twice now in the same day.

“Whoa, gotten a little bossy these days, haven’t you,” he joked, or at least I hoped he was.

“Why don’t you just fuck me before this place gets too busy?”

As if on cue, I heard the door burst open and the sound of feet as at least two or three people all entered the room at the same time. From the sounds and voices I guess it to be three people, two younger boys and what must have been their older brother or even dad – it turned out to be their dad. I looked at John and leaned back against the outside wall, holding the rail on each side of me in my hands as I rested one foot on the toilet seat and the other on the floor.

"Fuck me," I mouthed silently to him as the toilets flushed and the sinks ran while more people came in. I guess the word was out that the restroom was open again and it was like everyone had been waiting. Several times the door to our stall was pushed and I was thankful that the latch seemed pretty secure.

For the second time today I felt Steve's erection press itself inside of me. Then for whatever reason I remembered something that Beth had mentioned quickly about him being engaged. Damn, I hadn't asked him anything about that yet. Why was he fucking me when he had a fiancé at home? True, I was out fucking guys and it was less than a week before my wedding but that was with the complete support of my future husband. There were too many people around us now and the room was like an echo chamber so any questioning would have to wait until later.

John's hand were on my boobs over my tank top but not for long. Soon he lifted up my tank top to uncover them and then he had one hand over each one, pressing them together and squeezing them while toying at the nipples between his fingers. It felt good when combined with the pleasure of his hard dick as he slowly and steadily fucked me. It had been a while now since he had first fucked me so I figured he was still plenty young to have recovered fully by now but I figured he would probably not cum as fast as he had back at the swing set.

To my surprise John moved his head down and kissed me. I don't know why, but until then I hadn't really thought about kissing him, just fucking him. I had no romantic feelings for him whatsoever and all this was just for fun and pleasure. It wasn't that I minded him kissing me, I just hadn't expected it.

The voice in the room were distracting. Men are such pigs in the restroom and some of the things they were saying about the girls out in the all were downright chauvinistic and degrading. I wondered of some of them dared to say the things they were saying to their friends in front of their girlfriends?

My thoughts were interrupted when John pulled out of me and grabbed me by the waist, one hand on each side as he spun me around. I got the hint and "assumed the position" as they say. I felt his hands on my butt as he spread my cheeks apart and then once again the feeling of fullness as he reentered my pussy from behind this time. Thankfully he didn't try for my asshole! Like he had at the swing set, he reached around and grabbed one of my boobs while reaching down with the other hand and fingered my pussy.

While John massaged one boob, I lifted one hand and supported myself with just the other as I caressed my free boob. I heard the sounds of men all around us and I wondered what they would have said had they known what was going on just a couple of feet away from them with nothing more than a cheap door separating us? They probably wouldn't have minded watching but I was concerned about any young kids that might be out there so I didn't even suggest the idea to John.

Finally... yes FINALLY I was cumming. After all the teasing and such that my poor body had been subjected to so far I was more than ready. I felt my body tighten up and my back arched as my pussy gripped his cock like a python around its prey. I could feel my cum gushing around his dick, soaking him with my juices as he struggled to continue to stroke himself in and out of me. I wanted so bad to cry out, to tell the whole world how wonderful I felt at that moment but someone I managed to keep it to myself. That didn't diminish the feelings it was giving me though and I wasn't even hearing the loud voices anymore as one after another wave of pleasure rolled through me.

My pussy was still going but I wanted more of John so I straightened up which forced his dick to drop out of me. Spinning around, I bent down until my head was at the same level as his and took it in my mouth. Mmmmmmm, it tasted SOOOOO good with my cum all over it!

John took my head with both hands and ran his fingers through my hair before finally gripping it tightly. Then he held it still as he face-fucked me, driving his dick in deep and then pulling it out over and over and over again. I was fingering my sensitive clit, trying to get back up to the cliff edge once again and drive myself over when he started to spurt cum into my mouth. I kept a tight seal around his shaft with my lips, trying to keep any from escaping. Overall I was pretty successful which was good as I didn't have anything else to wear or even to cover up with should I get cum stains all over me.

Once he had finished cumming, he released my head and pulled his dick out. I looked up and our eyes locked as I opened my mouth to show him all his cum on my tongue and teeth. Then I closed my mouth and while grinning at him swallowed it all down in two gulps. When I had it all down I opened my mouth wide again to give him proof that it was all down in my stomach now.

My knees creaked a little as I stood back up but I made it with a little help from the handicapped bar. Pulling my tank top back down over my boobs, I straightened out the skirt and tugged at it to be sure I wasn't showing any ass when I walked out. Steve had his jeans back in order and then he turned to me and kissed me again. Surprise! Oh well, I guess he was just happy to relive a moment from the past. I mean like how many guys go through life remembering an event and wishing they could do it all over again? Well, John had just had such an opportunity so I suppose it was only natural for him to be a little emotional.

Still, we had a schedule to keep, or so Beth had warned me, so it was time to return. I doubted the room was ever going to completely empty out which left only one solution. Once again I was glad this was the men’s room as my approach would have never worked in the ladies room.

Taking John’s hand I opened the door to the stall and stepped out. There were two guys washing their hands and two others standing at the urinals. The guys at the sinks were the first to notice and they seemed too flabbergasted to say anything. I couldn't resist the temptation.

“What are you staring at? Haven’t you ever fucked your girlfriend in the men’s room before?”

Oh for a camera right then! The look on their faces was priceless indeed. Without another word or look back we left the room where the other three were anxiously waiting for us.

“Well?” Beth asked to the both of us. John just grinned but I hugged her and whispered in her ear that it had been great and I thanked her so much for it.

Apparently that was it for John for the evening as this time he didn't rush off but instead bid each of us adieu. I smiled when he got to Kristi who told him if he ever needed help in the men’s room she was always available. He laughed but I knew she was serious!

5. Office Sex

Beth was back in charge now and she was hurrying everyone back out to the car. She was saying something about we had to get going as we had to go downtown which made me wonder what was going on there that would be of interest to her. Downtown Pittsburgh was not someplace I frequently went as I did all my shopping and eating on the outskirts. In fact, there was really only one reason I ever went downtown...

“My dad’s office?” I exclaimed, turning to her as she drove through the tunnel traffic.

Beth didn't answer but the expression on her face confirmed it. Wow, now what did THAT mean. It wasn’t like she didn't know my dad fucked me as after all, he had fucked her twice over the years with one of those time being together with me. Kristi was certainly no issue as he had probably fucked her almost as many times as he had done me. No, it was Carrie and Nancy that I was concerned about. I'd never personally told them about my incestuous relationship with my dad although they obviously knew that Kristi and I played together. Still, having sex with your cousin was a whole different category than having it with your own father. Was this really the right time to let them in on the family secret? I wasn't so sure I would EVER tell them to be honest so what was Beth up to?

As we drove I thought about how I use to go to my dad's office as a teenager and flirt with the guys there. In fact, the first married guy, and to date still on the oldest guys I'd been with, was one of the partners and I had only been fifteen at the time which meant I wasn't even thinking about sex with my dad at that age. I recalled some "interesting" office Christmas parties but I think one of the most erotic memories had to be when my dad used me as a "reward" for some of his better-performing lawyers. Of course they had no idea that my dad even know about what I was doing, let along that he was having sex with me on a regular basis, but that still didn't make it any less exciting and fulfilling.

The more I thought about it, the more I started to wonder if maybe I was misreading Beth's intentions. Maybe instead of taking me to meet my dad at his office she was going to have me fool around with some of the guys there. Now THAT would be a lot easier to explain to Carrie and Nancy. Heck, if anything it was something they would've expected from me. Plus who knows, maybe they would get to participate finally as well. Personally I couldn't imagine being in their shoes so far today and have to just stand by and watch without being included at least a little bit.

Sure enough, we crossed the bridge and headed downtown where Beth pulled into the parking garage next to the office building where my dad worked. So far nobody had said a word on the trip, not even to discuss the events of the day so far. I didn't know if they just weren't talkative - something I would have had a hard time believing, or were they just so focused on what was coming up.

Being a Saturday and late in the afternoon, almost supper time by now, the garage was mostly empty. Actually it was nice to be able to just drive in and find a decent parking place for once where you didn't have to walk a mile or climb ten flights of stairs - or so it seemed, especially when I was wearing heels like the ones I had on today.

“We’re here,” Beth announced although I think THAT was pretty obvious. What I was waiting for was for her to reveal the next stage of the day’s adventure. It wasn’t until we got on the elevator and started upward that Beth finally broke radio silence.

“OK Ladies, we are now at the office building where Kelly’s dad works. As you all know, he’s a high-powered attorney and a senior partner in the firm but that’s not all. He’s also a loving father, a husband - well for 25 years at least, and I can tell you from personal experience... one heck of a lover.”

“Beth!” I gasped, not believing that she was saying what she was saying. Beth just put up her hand as to tell me to stay quiet and she resumed her tour guide moment.

“Today we go back in time to June 21st in the year 2001. Does that day ring a bell Kelly?”

Like it was over ten years ago and it wasn’t as if I didn't have anything to confuse it with. Back then I was doing all sorts of things at my dad’s office so I just shook my head and waited for Beth to continue. She was grinning from ear to ear, obviously pleased with herself for leaving me hanging and wondering what it was she had planned.

“Oh come on Kelly, how could you forget your first time with your dad in his office? And right in the middle of the work day at that!”

“Beth!!” I said more loudly this time, grabbing her by the arm to get her attention this time. “What the hell do you think you’re doing?”

The rest of the girls all started to laugh at that point, especially Kristi but even Carrie and Nancy. I saw we were almost to the proper floor so I stood back and waited until the door opened and we gathered in the foyer outside the offices. Normally a secretary would be standing guard there but at this time the desk was empty, leaving the whole area to ourselves.

“Oh Kelly, you can be so naïve at times,” Carrie giggled.

I looked at her with a bland expression, as if I had no idea what she was talking about - which was mostly true.

I looked at Kristi, the obvious choice when it came to who would leak such private information. She caught my glance and shrugged her shoulders, indicating it wasn’t her fault. Well, that just left one person and she was biting her lower lip and staying quiet.

“Well?” I said rather accusingly to Beth, “Are you going to tell me what the story is or not?”

Beth took a deep breath although I knew she must have had a prepared speech to go with all this confusion. It goes back to when your dad first did me. You can’t blame me for telling these guys. Then when he did me again, and this time he did you with me, I just HAD to tell somebody. But I swore them all to secrecy, didn’t I girls?”

Carrie and Nancy both nodded vigorously. “So you’ve both known all this time but never said a word to ANYONE?” I asked.

“Don’t worry Kelly, I think it’s cool what you do with your dad,” Carrie blurted out. Nancy nodded her head in agreement but didn't actually say anything.

“So what now?” I said, turning back to Beth.

“Well, someone special to you is waiting inside that office,” she responded, pointing to my dad’s office. “I don’t think I need to say who, do I?”

“And we want to watch,” Nancy blurted out. THAT really opened my eyes wide.

Kristi had been strangely quiet the whole time which was uncharacteristic of her who usually felt the need to dominate any situation. But now she stepped forward to add her two cents worth.

“Of course, SOME of us want to do more than just watch, isn’t that right Carrie?” she said teasingly. Carrie blushed a deep red but she didn’t contradict Kristi’s statement.

“Really Carrie?” I asked incredulously, “You want to have sex with my father?”

Carrie seemed embarrassed but I think it was more having her secret fantasy exposed than anything else. Well, she didn't have much to worry about compared to the so-called secrets that I thought were sacred until just a few minutes earlier.

“Well... I’ve never done it with an old guy before,” she said in a half-whisper. I wanted to say something about my dad not being all that old but it wasn't the time or place for arguing semantics.

Nancy was more blunt when she finally kicked in. “I don’t know about Carrie but I just want to see him do you. I’ve never seen a guy doing his own daughter before.”

“And you?” I said to Beth who hadn’t added in her reasoning yet.

“Well, they say three’s a charm, ain’t it” she said trying to suppress a huge grin.

“And my dad knows about all this?”

Beth rolled her eyes a bit melodramatically. “Like whose ides do you think it was in the first place? When I went to him to get some ideas for today all he asked about was could he be included.”

Well, that certainly sounded like my dear old dad.

“And he knows about Carrie and Nancy being with us?”

Beth REALLY grinned at that one. “Oh yeah, he knows all right. He said something about it finally being time so maybe you can explain that one to us.

Yeah, like I needed to explain that one to ANYONE!

“Then let’s get going, we’ve still got a lot to do tonight!” Beth encouraged us.

My head was spinning as we all marched through the inner set of doors into the office area. My dad’s was the last one down on the right and as we walked down I noticed nobody was in any of the other offices which seemed a little odd until I remembered what day and time it was. Still, it wouldn't have surprised me to see them filled knowing the hours my dad and his colleagues sometimes worked.

The door to my dad’s office was open and Beth was the first to go in, followed by Kristi, then me, then Carrie, with Nancy bringing up the rear.

“Sorry we are so late Mr. Wells, SOMEBODY just couldn't seem to get enough at our last stop,” Beth explained with a smirk.

My dad was sitting behind the desk with his legs up on the table. At first I almost didn't recognize him as he didn't have his suit on or at least a dress shirt and tie. Instead he was wearing a yellow polo shirt with a pair of dark khaki slacks with his beat-up deck shoes and no socks. Definitely dress-down for him!

“Wow, now THIS is what I call a nice surprise,” he greeted the rest of us.

My dad knew them all of course, and that meant in the biblical sense when it came to Kristi and Beth. Still, I had been hanging around with Nancy and Carrie since grade school so he’d met them many times during sleepovers, hot tub parties and such. Until very recently, while I knew he had always been turned on by them and even masturbated about them, that was true for most of my friends so I never thought he would ever actually DO anything with them. Of course for most of that time he was married to my mom who was strongly against adultery so that put them off limits. Even Beth was just a onetime thing (well, twice but that’s a long story) and it was only because she was my best friend and virtually a member of the family.

“So how’s the party been going?” he asked. Everyone started to talk at once and he held up his hand to quiet us down. When we finally settled down he pointed at me and said, “Why don’t we let the guest of honor fill me in?”

Everyone looked at me expectedly and so I quickly gave him the nickel tour of my day so far. He started to lean forward and as if he wanted to ask a question now and then but he caught himself and let me finish uninterrupted.

“I have to say, sounds like you’ve already had a full day already,” he teased me, emphasizing the “full” part. Everyone giggled like we were back in junior high or something.

“So what’s the story with you girls today? Is everyone good and horny after watching my daughter get laid?”

“Well we only saw her at the school,” Nancy whined.

“I beat her at the grocery store... something she forgot to mention,” Kristi bragged a little.

“Yeah, she wouldn’t even let us come in the men’s room at the mall,” Carrie added to the chorus.

“You should have seen her face when I told her the others knew about you and her,” Beth giggled, “I can’t believe I didn’t have my cell phone out.”

“Well, I have to admit I was a little surprised when you told me as well last week,” my dad replied. THAT surprised me yet again. So he hadn’t know they knew. Hmmm, VERY interesting. What had Beth told him?

“You understand that this is NOT something I’m entirely comfortable with,” he continued, “And I hope you can understand why I would appreciate it if nothing went any further.”

Nancy and Carrie both nodded vigorously and assured him that they would NEVER tell anyone. Carrie made a good point as well. She claimed they all knew about it for a couple of years now and hadn’t told anyone yet so he didn't need to worry about them. Then she added something that made both me and my dad perk our ears a little.

“Of course it’s been easier for Beth to not say anything. After all, you had sex with her and she has seen you and Kelly together. For THAT matter, we’ve only heard that you guys do it.”

There was a bit of an accusation in her tone, like she had only “heard” about it and thus implying that maybe we were making it all up, perhaps as some form of sick joke.

My dad was flirting with Nancy and Carrie so I pulled Beth over to the side for a quick chat.

“What the heck is going on?” I asked her. She just shrugged her shoulders like she had no idea but I wasn't buying that for a second. “I mean, what’s the story with Carrie and Nancy? They just wanna watch or what?”

Beth replied in a hushed voice, “Well, seeing how it’s YOUR party, what do YOU want?”

She didn't allow me to answer but instead rejoined the conversation where my dad was now showing off the view from his office. He had quite the view of downtown Pittsburgh and I could see Heinz Field in the distance, home of his favorite football team the Steelers.

“So John, did you really fuck Kelly right here?” Nancy asked in her best “little miss innocent” voice. God, she was pouring it on pretty thick!

“Well don’t you think it’s a beautiful place for that sort of thing?” he answered noncommittally.

“Weren’t you afraid people might see?” it was Carrie’s turn to egg him on.

“You mean across the way over there?” he said, pointing to the closest other office building, “Well they’d have to have binoculars and some incredible timing so I didn't think the risk was all that much.”

“I suppose everyone’s gone now anyway,” Carrie mused but it was obvious what she was implying but Beth wasn’t letting her off that easy – or me for that matter.

“You know John, I think what Carrie is trying to say is she’d like to see you do Kelly right here again,” Beth teased, reaching over and rubbing my boobs through my top.

Well, two can play this game and it was time for my partners in crime to step it up a little bit. My view of a bachelorette party isn’t just the future bride putting on a show, it’s everyone getting involved for some playing around.

“I’ve got a better idea,” I cut in, “I want him to do Carrie instead.”

For a moment there was total silence for like the first time that afternoon. Beth was grinning while my dad was eyeing Carrie a little more closely. Meanwhile Carrie’s blue eyes were like saucers and Nancy just stayed in the background like she wasn't sure what to say.

“Me?” Carrie finally squeaked.

Hmmmmmm, so it was a good idea when it was ME getting it but now that the attention was on her it seemed things were a little different. It wasn't like Carrie was a prude. After all, you just can’t be a best friend of Kristi’s and NOT be a bit of a slut. Still, most of my experiences with her had been with just girls. There had been a few parties where I’d seen her giving a blowjob but now that I thought about it, anytime she had sex it was always in a bedroom or someplace private.

Kristi added her two cents worth saying, “You know Carrie, you and Nancy are the only ones here he hasn’t done so it just makes sense if you ask me.”

Meanwhile my dad was just standing back, listening in on this debate over which girl he was going to fuck. He didn't say anything but then why should he? I would say that he was a winner no matter what the outcome.

“I’ve done an old guy before,” Carrie started to protest. My dad’s mouth opened and he raised his hand to say something but I jumped to his defense before he could get it out.

“Hey, you’re talking my dad you know!”

“You know what I mean,” she defended herself.

“So who was your oldest then?” Kristi asked inquisitively. She looked at me with a naughty grin after she asked and I had this instant feeling that something was up that I didn't know about.

“Steve,” Carried said, her eyes staying away from mine.

“What? When did he fuck you?” I asked incredulously. It wasn't that I cared that he had, I just didn't know about it which is what was perturbing me.

Kristi came to her defense, “You can blame me... I invited her over one time when Steve was coming by and well... one thing led to another. You know how it is. Besides, it was almost a year ago.”

“I see... so who else here has fucked my fiancé?”

Beth slowly raised her hand. Kristi I already knew about which left Nancy. We all looked at her but her hands stayed down. Beth started to say something to her but she realized the game was up and finally admitted to giving him a BJ at a party once. Hmmm, he hadn’t told me about that one either! Then again, I can't say I ran to him with every guy I’d had sex with since we reunited last summer so there wasn't much I could say.

“So back to what we were talking about... are you gonna let my dad fuck you or what?” I asked Carrie.

Carrie looked at my dad and then at me, and then back at my dad again who was trying hard not to show how excited he was at the prospect.

“OK... but I’m not stripping unless the rest of you do too,” she bargained.

That wasn't driving much of a bargain and in less than a minute we were all standing in a circle nude, even my dad. All of us were staring at my dad’s erection as it was obvious he was looking forward to what was about to happen – no matter what it was.

“Do her by the window,” Kristi suggested.

My dad and Carrie moved over next to the window while the rest of us formed a semi-circle around them. Carrie seemed about as nervous as I’d ever seen her. Whether it was the prospect of my father fucking her, of having her best friend watch her father fuck her, or doing in front of all of us, she seemed more like a girl on her first date than the slut I’d known over the years.

My dad, ever the gentleman, leaned over sand kissed her. At first she seemed to hesitate. Funny how some people can have sex with someone without a blink of an eye but to kiss that same person becomes “too intimate”. Then he started to run his hands all over her, stroking her hair, her ears, then her neck and slowly making his way to her breasts. From there his fingertips ran down her sides and then moved behind her until he cupped her bare butt in his hands, pulling her in tighter against her such that his erection was poking her in the stomach.

For the rest of us, or at least for me, we were torn between the desire to watch this erotic scene play out or have some fun ourselves. All of us had been with the other at one time or another although I’d only barely done anything with Nancy. Our times were limited more to parties where we would do things with more the intent to tease the guys than to really get off from each other.

My dad’s hand returned to Carrie’s shoulders and I say his biceps bulge slightly as he pressed down on her. The message was obvious and she knew what he wanted. Kneeling down, she took hold of his cock and started to stroke it slowly. A brief glance at her “audience” and she took him in her mouth and started to suck on him.

I have to say, the sight of her blowing my dad was more erotic than you might think. Really, over the years I’d not seen all that many girls do him outside of my family. There was Beth of course and then my mom’s best friend Tammy. But expecting the young girls at the kids parties I hadn’t ever seen him being blown by anyone else other than my aunt and cousins.

Evidently Kristi and Beth were getting turned on as they started to kiss and fondle and before long the two of them were on the carpet in a 69. They weren't wasting any time, that’s for sure! I looked at Nancy and she sort of smiled awkwardly, her eyes glancing down at where my cousin and best friend were licking one another’s pussy while my dad was getting blown by Carrie.

“Well... what do you say?” I finally asked, trying to break the ice. Nancy didn’t say anything but at the same time she didn't pull away either as my hand reached down to the curve of her hip and rested on her warm naked skin. As I slowly got down on my knees, I kissed her hardening nipples and then her smooth belly before rubbing my nose in the small “V” of pubic hair she kept right above her pussy. My hand moved to her ass and I felt the smoothness of her firm butt in my hands as my tongue worked its way to the top of her pussy slit and then slowly down until she jerked slightly when it found her clit.

Mmmmmmm, I loved the smell and taste of Nancy’s warm pussy. She was already a bit wet from everything that had been transpiring so it didn't take much to get her fully excited. I have to say I think I will always prefer my own pussy when it comes to flavor but Nancy’s was pretty damn good right about now.

“Oh god,” I heard Carrie sigh and I looked over, as did the others, to see Carrie with her hands on the glass window with her legs spread apart, welcoming my dad’s hard dick inside of her. Other than making work for the poor guy who clean the windows, there was no danger as my dad told me it would take a truck to break the window itself.

My dad had his hands on Carrie’s wide hips as he thrust himself deep inside of her. My pussy itched as I recalled how I had been in that very same place oh so many times over the past years. It was definitely my dad’s favorite place to have sex in the office which is undoubtedly why Kristi suggested it.

Knowing my dad, it wasn't going to take long for him to get off and I assumed that Beth had more up her sleeve for the evening so we probably didn't have time to get him ready again which meant we had to get the most out of his first time as possible. Kristi, who probably came as close to having been fucked by my dad as anyone (even my mom if you consider just since she turned sixteen), seemed to have the same concern.

“C’mon girls, get up,” Kristi encouraged us all as she lifted her head from between Beth’s thighs and stood up. She wiped off the wetness from her face with the back of her hand, licking it clean afterwards. The rest of us gathered by her as my dad continued his assault on Carrie's pussy.

Now what was she up to? Was this something she and Beth had worked out ahead of time or was she just playing it by ear now? Did it matter?

"Alright, let's line up," she directed us, "Nancy – you get next to Carrie, then you Beth."

Dutifully they took their places with Kristi next to Beth which left me at the end. We all followed her lead, standing back a couple of feet from the window and then leaning forward and catching ourselves with our hands flat on the glass. Our legs were spread apart and I could only image the image we presented to my dad as he continued to fuck Carrie at the other end of the line from me. It didn't take a rocket scientist to figure out what we were expecting from him.

"So you ALL want some of this, eh?" he chuckled, pulling out of Carrie and holding his wet dick in his hand as me moved over to Nancy.

I really wasn't sure how Nancy felt about all this but peer pressure can be a powerful thing which is why I think Kristi has her first in line before she had more time to think about what she as doing. Of all of us, Nancy probably had the smallest list of sexual partners and I knew she had been hanging out pretty much with just one guy now for the past several years.

"Oh yeah, now THAT'S a tight pussy," my dad grunted as he worked to get his dick into Nancy. Whether he as saying it just to boost her ego or what I couldn't tell but I think it helped Nancy appreciate him more.

One by one he fucked us as each pussy became a bit more familiar to him. Going from Nancy he went to Beth, fucking her for just the third time and then on to Kristi who was more like his second daughter than a niece. When he had fucked her enough to satisfy himself, it was then my turn. Until now we'd all stayed in our little line but when he got in behind me the rest of them straightened up and moved in around us to watch the finale.

"This is what you wanted to see, isn't it girls?" Beth said smugly to Carrie and Nancy.

I felt so proud at that moment. It wasn't that often that I got to let someone watch my dad fuck me. Other than Beth and Tammy, until the recent parties nobody else had that also knew he was my father. There was that time when I pretended to be a hooker for a couple of his clients and he fucked me with them but they thought I was just a whore he'd hired without a clue that I was his daughter.

As my dad entered me the same as he had the other four, I heard a gasp from either Carrie or Nancy. “I can't believe it,” Nancy said in a hoarse whisper. Like did she think we had all been just teasing her before?

“Oh daddy... fuck me good,” I sighed.

It was as much for my friend’s benefit as his in this case. It was sort of funny in that all of them had seen me having sex umpteen times over the years and even today they’d watched me with John but now that it was my dad fucking me it was like it was something totally new and different. He WAS just a man after all, so what was the big deal? OK, so I’m not THAT naïve but still, it was interesting to see their responses to the sight of my dad fucking me in full view of the downtown area.

With four previous pussies to stimulate him, it didn't take much before my dad groaned and pulled me in tight to him. I felt him jerk against me several times as he pumped his cum into my welcoming pussy.

“Oh daddy, that feels SOOOOO good in me,” I sighed. Again, it was as much for my girlfriends as it as from him.

After he came he pulled out and stood back as I used my hands to pull my butt cheeks apart so they could all see his cum ooze out of me. Leave it to Kristi to never miss an opportunity as she quickly moved in behind me and lowered her face down to catch the cum on her tongue.

Once Kristi has most of it, she moved back and then it was Beth’s turn to lick me clean. I turned my head back to see Kristi go to Carrie and offer to kiss her and share my dad’s cum with her. She moved back, seemingly unsure of whether or not she really wanted to do it but when Kristi offered it to Nancy there was no hesitation. Hmmm, I would have predicted the opposite reaction but that just goes to show you can never be sure about anything when it comes to sexual preferences.

My dad was watching all this intently. Well, it was probably most every guy’s fantasy so who could blame him? His cock hung there limply so when Beth had finished with me I went over to him and did a little cleanup work myself on him. I could still taste myself on his dick and I smiled as I remembered how I had tasted that very same thing after the first time he had fucked me.

“Well girls, we have more to do,” Beth announced, trying to bring an end to the current festivities. “So what do you guys think now?” she asked Nancy and Carrie.

Both of them just seemed speechless as they gathered their clothes and got dressed. I wondered if they had any warning from Beth beforehand that this might occur. Judging from their reactions, I was guessing the answer was no. And then there was my dad. I wondered what she had told him to expect? No doubt he would tell me later. I knew all I had to do was mount him and he would tell me anything I wanted to know!

We all gave my dad a quick kiss and then left his office with him standing there still naked by his desk. It was definitely a Kodak moment!

6. New Casino, Old Sex

By now the sun was going down and eyeing was approaching. We made it back to the car without further incident and then we were off again for parts unknown. Really, it had been quite a “party” already so I had to wonder if Bath had anything more planned. Well, it seemed she wasn't finished quite yet as she headed over the bridge towards the stadium.

“So Kelly, do you remember visiting your Mom’s friend Tammy out in Oregon back in 2006?” Beth asked as I watched the river pass by below.

It was five years ago but I had to assume that I would remember it if it was something Beth was planning to relive tonight. That didn't leave much to go on as while I had enjoyed the trip, there hadn’t been a lot going on that would have qualified for tonight’s attention. Well... there WAS one thing.

“Ahhhhhh, so you remember,” Beth teased me as she w the look of recognition on my face. “Well it just so happens Pittsburgh now has its own casino so guess where we’re going... and what YOU will be doing?”

I didn't answer right away, waiting for her to fill in the blanks. Beth’s voice resumed her “tour guide” mode.

“So now look to your left ladies and you’ll see the latest in adult entertainment in Pittsburgh, our new casino!” she said excitedly like she was introducing a new celebrity. As you may already know, our Kelly here has quite a history when it comes to gambling institutions but tonight we go WAY back to August 19, 2006, almost exactly five years ago to the day. That’s right girls, that’s when Kelly got gangbanged at a casino.”

Now I really DID feel like one of those contestants in a game show where they look at the host with a “how the hell did you know about THAT?” look on their face. I certainly didn't remember telling Beth about it and so far as I knew, she never paid much attention to my diary as she said she hated reading about her in it. So who had told her? I turned on the seat and glared at Kristi but she insisted she had nothing to do with it. Well, there were only two other people who knew about it, or at least that could have told Beth, and that was my mother and her friend Tammy. I couldn't see Beth discussing anything like that with Tammy as neither of them really knew all that much about the other so that left just one suspect - my mother. Evidently Beth must have called her when she was setting all this up looking for ideas and so my mom had planted this seed in her pretty head.

Speaking of which, I wondered how my mom was doing? She must have gotten in by now and surely Steve had picked her up and brought her to my house at least a couple of hours ago. Beth had confiscated everyone’s cell phones before we got started so I hadn’t been able to get even a text message from her or a tweet. God, it was like being in Siberia, cut off from the rest of the world!

My thoughts were interrupted by tour guide Beth again as we drove by the stadium. Before long we had circled around to the back of the casino and entered the parking garage. She managed to find a spot about half-way up that wasn't too far from the elevators and in a matter of minutes we were gathered in the small elevator waiting area. It was just the five of us so Beth took the opportunity to finally explain what her plans were.

“OK girls, five years ago our little slut here went to an Indian casino with her mom and friend and... if you can believe this, she got herself banged by four guys in the parking lot.”

I rolled my eyes and pretended to be flabbergasted as they all oohed and ahhed, pretending to be mortified that anyone could do such a perverted thing and how they never would have guess that I, of all people, would allow myself to be defiled in such a crude manner. Yeah right, like none of them would have jumped at the opportunity had they been offered. I especially got a kick out of Kristi pretending to be all innocent and sanctimonious. I mean, her of all people should be the last to say anything about me. What I did at the casino was small potatoes to some of her escapades.

They must have had this all worked out ahead of time because it was Nancy that chimed in next, about the last one I would have expected to say such a thing.

“You know girls, she’s getting pretty old now so we shouldn’t push her so hard. After all, that WAS five years ago and now she’s all settled down, getting married and gonna have kids and such.”

“Yeah,” added Carrie, confirming my suspicions regarding a rehearsal, it really isn’t fair to expect her to be able to get four guys again... maybe just one or two?”

They were just teasing me of course, even I could figure that one out. Still, there was just enough truth in what they said to sting a little. It HAD been a long time since I'd been banged like that. It also had been quite a while since I had just gone out and fucked a total stranger on the spur of the moment. Even though I knew they were just joking, maybe they were actually right to some degree. Had I lost my edge? Was I now taking the easy path? Did I still have the nerve to just throw myself at a total stranger and let him have his way with me? To be honest, I really wasn't all that sure of the answer.

"I'll help her," Kristi offered.

I looked at her a bit puzzled as I still wasn't even quite sure what I needed help with. "It's only fair as we don't have all night and the rest of you don't want to get bored."

I could think of a few points to argue but I kept my mouth shut. For one, why didn't we have all night? It wasn't like I had anyone to be in the morning except church and I think my dad would have understood my missing one Sunday morning with him under the circumstances. As for the rest being bored, maybe she had a point there as this was suppose to be a party for all of us, not a few hours that it might take to get the right arrangements set up.

On the positive side, with Kristi as an ally I knew it would exponentially improve the odds of success in a much reduced timeframe. After all, she had made a small fortune as a high-priced prostitute by her uncanny ability being able to attract men. I WAS a little curious about the plans of the others until Beth stepped in to finalize the arrangements.

"OK then, here's the plan... Kristi and Kelly go in and find their guys. They bring them back here and we all watch them from other there (she pointed to a spot across from where she was parked). Deal?"

"Piece of cake," Kristi said smugly, hitching up her skirt a little, as if it already wasn't short enough.

The elevator arrived and we all boarded and dropped down to the casino floor. The door opened and we were hit with the myriad of sounds and smells and lights of the casino. I loved it! Kristi grabbed me by the arm and headed off for the crap tables while the other drifted away to keep an eye on us from afar.

"Just follow my lead cuz," she said as we moved quickly to where a group of guys were all gathered at the end of the table.

I was about to say that I knew what I was doing but she seemed so intent on running the show I let her do her thing. After all, she WAS a professional...

“See those guys?” she said in my ear.

I looked to where she was looking and it appeared to be maybe six or eight guys all drinking and making a racket as they played. I wasn’t sure if any real gambling was getting done but they seemed to be having a good time anyway.

“OK... one - they all have drinks, two - they obviously aren’t their FIRST drink by any means, three - I’ll bet none are over thirty, four - no signs of wedding rings, five - they all have the same logo on their shirts so they work together and odds are they’re her on an expense account,” she rattled off.

I guess we looked at things differently. Had it been me, the drinks would have been a warning. Drunks were never all that much fun and even though they were easier to get, they couldn't always perform and if they did nothing tasted worse than cum from a drunk. Second, Kristi was always looking for the younger guys. I would have been happier had they been in their thirties or forties. Along with that was the wedding ring thing. Again, had it been me they ALL would have been married. Then again, under the circumstances her selection was probably best as while it would have been more erotic and exciting to seduce husbands and fathers, they usually took a lot more time and work than horny young single guys. As for the “work together” observation, that really didn't ring with me other than I guess she figured that by being a group already they would be more likely to be ready to have sex as a group.

“Now we need to cut them off from the herd,” she mused as we paused about twenty feet away.

I took that to mean she had her eye on a select few of the group and that she intended to somehow isolate them from the others to make it easier to get them to leave with us.

Just then I felt a hand on the back of my leg that was quickly moving up under my skirt. I looked back and there was some creep sitting at a blackjack table trying to feel me up in the middle of the casino!

“Perv!” I said, swatting his hand away.

He just laughed and said something to the guy next to him about girls dressing like sluts and how they really wanted it. A different time or place and I might have challenged him on that but for now I ignored him and turned my attention back to Kristi.

“Why didn't you let him cop a feel?” Kristi teased me. I ignored her as well and we moved in closer to the table ahead of us.

Kristi whispered in my ear, or as best you can whisper in a noisy casino. “OK, you go for the two at the end – the one with the beer and the guy with the sneakers... I’ll get the two next to them. Just get their attention, I’ll take care of the rest.”

We moved in and split apart as we got up behind them. I sort of worked my way in between the two I was assigned, pretending to try to get a better view of the table while Kristi did the same with her guys.

“Oh I’m so sorry,” I apologized as I stepped on the toes of the one in sneakers.

As I said that I pretended to stumble as I avoided his feet which caused me to fall against the other guy who instinctively grabbed me by the waist to keep me from falling.

“Oh you’re so sweet,” I said, keeping myself leaning up against him as he seemed uncertain whether to let go of me or what. I was doing my best “dumb blonde” routine, flipping my hair, leaning forward to expose my boobs, the whole nine yards.

“I have NO idea how to play this game,” I said in my best girly voice.

Actually, I really didn't so it wasn't a stretch to say so. Gambling for me was more a spectator sport than a participant. When I thought about it, I spent more time having sex at casinos over the years than gambling.

Sneakers guy was the “expert” so he started to explain to me what was going on while I kept pushing back against his friend, rubbing my butt into him “accidentally” of course. In the meantime, I saw Kristi was making her own headway with her guys. One of them was already trying to feel her up with his hand on her upper thigh. The longer she went on saying nothing, the more aggressive he got.

“You guys live in the ‘burgh?” I asked.

They both shook their head and said they were from out of town and were here for some sales conference. I noted neither of them seemed to want to tell me exactly where they were from but that was OK with me. I managed to learn that all but the guy next to the one with the dice were from various states which to me was encouraging as that meant nobody would be going home tonight or having a girlfriend or wife nearby.

I kept one eye on Kristi, admiring the way she could just get comfortable with any man in a matter of minutes. She was laughing and giggling and being a general airhead which to be perfectly honest, wasn't all that much of an act for her. Nobody had ever accused my cousin of missing a career as a rocket scientist. But then, with a body like hers and a sex drive to match, who need brains?

It was less than fifteen minutes before she had them wrapped around her finger and from the looks of things, her fingers were wrapped around more of them than was typical polite in public although she was discrete enough to keep it from being overly blatant. Still, if you knew what to look for, and I did, it wasn't hard to miss what she was doing. From the looks of things, it was having the desired effect.

“Hey Kelly, my friends want to show me the view outside,” I heard from behind me and I realized she had moved in close. She looked at the two I had been chatting with and giggled. “Do you and your new friends want to come with us?”

I don’t know what she had told the guys she was with but until now, I’d been flirting but not much more than that, at least nothing overly aggressive. Thus the two of them seemed a little shy about things so Kristi took charge, as she had promised she would.

“Look guys, it’s up to you. Me and her either do just the two of them or all four of you so make up your minds now.”

You had to hand it to her, she wasn't bashful. At first the two seemed to think she was just flirting and teasing so I figured I needed to help push things along.

“It’s my bachelorette party tonight and I want to get laid and I don’t have all night so either get your asses in gear or I’ll find someone else.”

Sometimes the truth can be more compelling than anything else. To prove my point I held up my hand and made sure they saw my engagement ring and added, “Yep, I get married in seven days so what do you say?”

I really couldn’t blame them for hesitating. After all, this was the sport of things you saw on silly porn movies or bad comedies where two girls go out and trick guys into thinking they want sex and then something bad happens to them. Still, they needed to make up their minds and for our purposes, it really didn't matter of we had two guys or four other than trying to be true to reliving my past where I did four guys under similar circumstances.

“Fuck, what the hell,” the one said I had been leaning on. He put his arm around me and Kristi led the way back to the elevators. I quickly looked around to see if the other girls were around but I didn't see them anywhere.

Once in the elevator, we were the only ones in the express one that only went to the upper floors so Kristi immediately took advantage of the situation by reaching under her skirt and pulling down her panties, handing them to one of the guys as a sort of “souvenir”. I don’t know who was surprised more, the guy she handed them to because she took them off right in front of him or me because she was wearing them in the first place!

This was all going much too easy. I mean, I have always maintained that ANY girl can get laid within one hour no matter where she is or what time it is so long as she’s not choosey but this was ridiculous. To just walk in a crowded casino, meet up with four horny guys and have them split up from their associates in just under fifteen minutes so they can have sex in a parking garage? OK, so I like to brag a bit sometimes but not even Kristi or I have this sort of luck, at least unless it’s been pre-arranged by an agency or something like that.

Then it hit me... maybe this WAS too easy. Beth had been planning this day for quite a while and I had already witnessed the details she had taken care of so was it too much to think that maybe she had indeed arranged for this? Was Kristi in on it too (notice I has already convinced myself of the “true” story)? She just about had to be or else how would she have known who to go to. Actually, it was the way she made a beeline straight for those guys without any hesitation that had set my Spidey-sense tingling from the start.

Still, did it really matter, at least right now? Whether it was spur of the moment or pre-arranged, we had four decent-looking guys practically drooling over us so why not take advantage of other situation and just go with it instead of trying to analyze everything?

The trip up was quick and the doors opened automatically. A group was waiting outside and practically pushed their way inside instead of waiting for us to get out first. Rude people! We made it out in one piece and were once again alone in the elevator waiting area.

“So now what?” one of the guys asked, glancing about a bit nervously.

It was one thing to flirt and tease in the casino but now that the reality of what they were doing was starting to sink in I could see at least a couple of them might e having second thoughts.

“Follow me,” Kristi said, taking control as usual. And people say I am the control freak!

The two of use held hands and made our way to where Beth had parked. I quickly glanced about to see if I could see anyone watching us but the place seemed deserted. This floor had pretty much filled up so new cars coming in were driving right up to the next floor. We got to the car and I immediately appreciated Beth's choice of a parking spot. First, a large concrete column hid a good part of the spot from the general view. She also had the good fortune to be between a large van and an SUV. While they sort of restricted the area a bit, the also acted as virtual curtains so far as hiding anything that went on between them. Finally, she had parked about two or three feet away from the wall so while that left the back end out a little bit, it really didn't matter as the two vehicles to each side provided coverage and it DID allow for lots of room up front.

We gathered at the back end, Kristi and me leaning back against the trunk and the four of them in a semicircle in front of us. The guy holding Kristi's panties was playing with them rather absentmindedly so I took it as an opening to get things started.

"So I suppose since my slutty friend here gave you her panties that you expect me to hand over mine?"

All four of them just smiled; the answer was pretty obvious.

I lifted up my skirt quickly, just enough for them to see what was underneath – and not, and then just as quickly dropped it back down again.

"Well sorry, but as you could see, I don't have any to give you," I continued in a pouting tone, as if I was disappointed.

Well, they certainly weren't, that was for sure. One of them jabbed his elbow into the other, muttering something in his ear that I couldn't hear but whatever it was, they both grinned and stared at my boobs.

"C'mon Kelly, let's get this started," Kristi said, grabbing me by the arm and tugging me around to the front of the car where she leaned over and kissed me.

"Oh, forgot to mention something I guess," Kristi teased them, "We're kissing cousins."

They all grinned again although I would have taken bets that they didn't take her literally. What is it that turns guys on so much when two girls kiss? I've never quite understand it but I HAVE used it to my advantage more than a few times.

"So who wants their dick sucked first?" Kristi offered. I half-expected all four of them to rush in but instead they looked at each other, as if waiting to see who would make the first move. I cold tell that Kristi was rapidly running out of patience.

"Do I have to do EVERYTHING?" she complained as she went up to the closest one and started undoing his pants. It's not like he resisted so I turned to the two on my side of the car and did the same with the one first in line.

“Bet I can make mine before you get yours,” Kristi taunted me as she reached inside his underwear and grabbed hold of his cock.

“You’re on cuz,” I agreed, throwing in that last bit to see if I could get any more reaction but it didn't seem to register.

I wasn't sure about hers but the dick I inherited was only semi-hard, actually more on the flaccid side if anything. Whether it was the drinks, nervousness, or maybe the early onset of ED I didn't know but whatever it was I had to deal with it quickly if I was going to beat out my cousin. She’d already beaten me earlier at the grocery store so this was more a point of pride than anything so far as I was concerned.

It didn't take all that long to determine that he was fully functional as I felt the cock growing in my mouth with my hand wrapped around the base. There was no way I was going to put my bare knees on the concrete floor so I just squatted in front of him as I blew him. Still, I heard a groaning behind me and I knew that my cousin had beaten me yet again, a fact that was confirmed not much later when she announced her victory. I wasn't about to give up though. Just as the Olympic runner continues the race after the medals are won, I was going to finish this guy one way or the other.

It was at no more than another two or three minutes of determined work on his dick before he came but it seemed like eternity knowing Kristi was watching me triumphantly. I took the guy’s load in my mouth and then figured I may as well get something out of the effort so I turned and kissed Kristi with my mouthful of cum, pushing it into her open mouth with my tongue. She in turn pulled back and let them see what she now had in her mouth which earned us their praise.

“I want a rematch,” I demanded. We still had two dick ready to go so why not keep the contest going?

“Alright but this time you have to use your pussy,” Kristi negotiated. Now those were terms I had no argument with, that was for sure.

“On the hood?” I asked her. She nodded and the two of us backed up to the car hood and then together we hopped up and pushed back such that we were seated on the front part of the hood.

“Well what are you guys waiting for?” I asked, trying to take some of the control from Kristi. I couldn't let her run everything, could I?

Being on the receiving end of a BJ in a public garage really hadn’t been all that dangerous considering they never even dropped their pants but fucking a girl... now

THAT was upping the ante a bit. Who knew what hidden cameras were watching us even now and there was still always the chance someone might walk by - perhaps even the owners of the vehicles to either side. Still, I would have lost my faith in the male species had they not responded to me and my cousin lifting our skirts and rubbing each other’s pussy right in front of them.

My faith remained intact. Again, I couldn't help but feel the whole thing was a setup to one degree or another but then again, maybe these guys had thought whoever made the arrangements might be just pulling a very bad practical joke on them. In any case, I’ve learned that no matter how “prepared” people are, when it comes to doing something they have never done before there is always that moment of hesitation when they face the inevitable that had come upon them.

This time is was my guy who was the most anxious as he unzipped himself and pulled out his already stiff dick through his pants. Sheesh, he wasn't even going to drop them? I spread my legs apart for him, signaling my acquiescence but before he could push it in me Kristi protested. “Not fair! They need to both start at the same time.”

My guys made some comment to his friend like, “get your ass in gear” or something like that. It was only another thirty seconds or so before he was in position between Kristi’s bare legs with his own stiff dick firmly held in his hand. Both of them seemed comparable so far as size went so it should be a fair match.

“OK, let’s do it,” she said as she lifted her hips up to help her guy put it in her.

I did the same as my eyes switched back and forth between our crotches as I watched the two of them fucking the two of us. Damn, this was the fourth dick in me in just a matter of hours! I certainly wasn't getting jaded though as I loved feeling it in me. There was something about the entire scene that was really getting me off - the public garage, my cousin getting it right next to me, my friends watching (I assumed from somewhere), the fact that I didn't even know this guy’s name but he was fucking me like there was no tomorrow. All of it combined to make this one extremely erotic moment - just as I had always hoped my bachelorette party would provide. Granted, I had never quite envisioned a party like this one but so far it was better than anything I might have imagined earlier.

Getting a guy to cum fast when he’s fucking you is not always straightforward. Because I had never met this guy before, I really didn’t know a single thing about him. Different guys seem to get excited over different things which directly impact how long they can last. It was sort of surreal since typically my goal it so try and prolong this as much as possible whereas no I was trying to end it quickly – faster than my cousin at least. So anyway, some guys really love it when a girl talks dirty while for others it's more a turnoff. Whereas most guys like me to help them by doing things like wrapping my legs around them and helping to hump them, other prefer the more submissive role where they grab my legs and pin them back as they drive themselves in and out of me.

Perhaps the most unpredictable thing was playing with myself. While most guys LOVE seeing a girl masturbate, a surprising number take it as almost an insult to their manhood if a girl gets herself off while he is fucking her, as if I was somehow implying that his dick alone enough to make me cum. The sorry truth is they would be right many times as just his dick alone is not always what I need to orgasm. Some girls – including my cousin, insist they can cum easily with just a dick in them but the vast majority that I have discussed it with confess that they need a little clit action too – preferably with their own fingers. When a guys is humping you he is usually too worked up to give a good clit massage at the same time meaning he either gets forgetful and doesn't do much or he can't control himself and practical smashes my clit flat.

Watching my cousin being fucked, I saw that we both were using much of the same techniques. We each were talking up a storm, telling our guys what HUGE dicks they had and how food they were fucking us, pleading with them to fuck us faster and harder. Both of us were working our clits, sometimes even with both hands. The only difference was my guy was more the dominate type, grabbing me by the ankles and stretching my legs upward and over his shoulders which lifted my bare butt up off the hood as he fucked me. Kristi, on the other hand, had her legs wrapped tightly around her guy and was alternately pulling and relaxing to cause him to go even deeper into her with each inward motion.

In the meantime, the other two guys who we'd just sucked off just watched. I had sort of hoped they would at least stroke themselves a little as they watched but instead they just stood back and took in an eyeful as their partners in crime fucked the two sluts.

It was taking longer than I expected and I was fearful that Kristi was going to triumph yet again when I heard those words I wanted so badly to hear.

"OH fuck, I'm gonna cum!" the guy who was doing me cried out as he threw his head back and closed his eyes. Sure enough, he thrust his hips forward and then instead of backing out again he held himself deep inside of me - a sure a signal as there ever was one and then I felt him thrust as he started to cum in me.

Kristi turned her head and out eyes met. Her lips pursed ruefully as she realized I had won this round but it was pretty close as just then her guy announced he was cumming as well. I had only beaten her by maybe ten or fifteen seconds but hey, a win was a win.

A couple more thrusts and my guy was done. He pulled back to admire his handiwork as I obliged and spread my pussy open with both hands, squeezing sown with my stomach muscles to push his cum out of me. The smile on his face was perfect as I felt his cum dribble out of me and down to the crack of my ass, probably leaving a puddle on Beth's car hood. Not to be outdone, Kristi did the same once her guys was out and just to one-up me, she reached down to catch some of it in her fingers and then licked them clean.

"So you guys ready yet?" she said seductively to the first two. Well, maybe had they been jerking off while watching they would have been but neither of them seemed ready and if anything, appeared a bit embarrassed at the fact. Oh well, it would have been nice to have had seconds but why not skip straight to dessert?

Getting off the car hood, I moved quickly between Kristi's tanned legs and dived into her pussy, licking her clean. I didn't look but I could almost feel four pairs of eyes boring into the back of my head as my tongue worked on her cum-covered pussy and clit. Meanwhile, I was working on my own clit as Kristi finally came for the first time.

"Don't you dare stop!" she whispered hoarsely as her hand grabbed my head and pulled my face tightly into her pussy. She smelled incredible with the flavor to match. Indeed, about the last thing I was going to do at that moment was stop - and that included my own fingers as I drove myself to my own climax. Both of use were moaning and sighing as we came, oblivious to our audience for at least the moment.

"Enjoy the show?" Kristi teased the guys as she slowly calmed back down again. I stood and straightened out my skirt, licking my lips rather obscenely to get every last drop.

We all just stood there for a few seconds, as if nobody wanted to be the next to say something. A rather awkward silence...

"OK guys, show's over so move along," I said. Kristi looked at me inquisitively so I grinned and said, "Don't act so innocent, I know what's going on here."

The four of them tightened up their belts and left, back-slapping one another and carrying on like a bunch of teenagers. Kristi waited until they were out of ear-shot before she responded.

“That obvious?” she giggled.

“C’mon Kristi, not even YOU are THAT good,” I replied, shaking my head but grinning broadly at the same time. “So who set it up?”

“Ohhhhhh, I just called in some favors,” she said, flipping her hair back. Now THAT made more sense than anything. I had no doubt that she still kept in contact with her old agency and friends so it probably hadn’t taken much to get this arranged. Heck, knowing her she probably had earned quite a pretty penny tonight. Normally I would have pushed her to share but this was my party and I was having a GREAT time so why spoil things by being greedy?

“You know you have just told me from the start,” I said, looking around to see where the others were hiding.

“Yeah but what fun would THAT have been?” she giggled, “and by the way, Carrie and Nancy have NO idea about that, OK? Let’s just let them think we’re the two sluttiest girls they know.”

Yeah, like THAT would be a newsflash for either of them!

Then I saw a movement out of the corner of my eye and a few cars down the three of them appeared. Seeing where they had been hiding out I wondered just how much they could have seen but Nancy was quick to let me know.

“I would never have believed it if I hadn’t seen it with my own two eyes,” she gushed, “Like, you guys just went in there and suddenly four guys are having sex with you. How did you do that?”

I started to speak but Kristi judged me in the ribs and answered, “We’ll never tell.” That sort of quieted down the discussion and so I turned to Beth and asked her how much they had seen.

“More than you might think,” she answered. Actually once you guys got going we moved in across from you but when it was over we went back over there so they wouldn't see us.”

As we talked we piled back in the car again. Just then I thought of something.

“So Kristi, did you get your panties back?”

Kristi answered, “No... but who needs them.” Everyone laughed at that one.

been cool about it. So my loving fiancé had helped arrange for his brother to fuck me at my bachelorette party? Wow, have I ever mentioned how much I love that guy!!

At least I assumed that was what had been arranged. Then again, not everything tonight had gone exactly to what I had always figured would be my final party as a single woman. I didn't even know he was in town yet as I had been told both he and his sister would not be coming in until the day before the wedding. That brought something else to mind - what about Sharon? Now THAT would be REALLY wild. Back when we were teens I knew she had a crush on her brothers, especially Steve. It use to make me feel so hot to see her squirm when I would tell her about how her brother had last fucked me, knowing that she wanted so bad to experience that for herself. Steve had never shown one iota of interest in his sister though, so she could only play with herself and fantasize.

“Sharon?” I said to Beth. She immediately deciphered by question and answered, “No, I couldn't get hold of her so she won’t be here for anything.”

Everyone in back was still jabbering about this new tidbit concerning my sexual past - even though it was almost twelve years ago. I wondered where Beth had arranged for us to meet and I quickly got my answer as she took the exit for Steve’s house. Damn, that meant he must be there. What about his mom? I knew Steve was out with his buddies for his own party so he wouldn't be there but I couldn't imagine anything like this going on when Steve’s mom was home.

It was like Beth was reading my mind. “Don’t worry Kelly, your mom is helping out with this one.” I looked at her, not quite understanding what she meant so she explained, “She asked Steve’s mom to go out with her dress shopping so the coast will be clear.”

“And he knows everyone is going to be there?” I asked.

Beth shrugged and answered, “Well... sort of.”

“Sort of...” What kind of answer was that? I pressed her for more and she finally admitted that he only knew about coming by with her and not the other three.

“So is he single, married, girlfriend...?” I asked, fascinated by this turn of events.

“Oh he’s VERY single,” Beth laughed, “And trust me, he still has the hots for you, especially when I showed him a few of those photos of you in the pink panties.

“Beth!” I exclaimed, genuinely shocked. How could she have shown ANYONE nude photos of me? OK, so I was just topless but still...

“Hey, he’s going to be family soon so I figured what’s the big deal. Not like he hasn't seen you naked before anyway.”

We soon arrived at the small house Steve’s mom had rented when she and her son had moved back to the area last summer. With Steve moving out, I wondered if she would keep renting it or move into something else. It wasn’t all that much but it was located in a pretty high-class area of town so I imagined it still must have cost her a pretty penny in rent.

“Well, let’s go surprise Jim,” Beth said to everyone as we opened the doors and piled out.

Beth rang the doorbell and who should appear but Jim! Wow, he had certainly grown but then he was thirteen the last time I’d seen him and now he was twenty five. Damn, he was smoking hot!

“Kelly?” he asked, looking at me. I nodded and he smiled, “Steve was right, you DO look even more fantastic than ever.”

Then he looked at the crowd behind me and I could see the curiosity in his face. I introduced Beth first, explaining that she was the one who had made contact with her.

“Yeah, I figured it was all just another one of Steve’s practical jokes,” he laughed, “Can you blame me?”

Then he seemed to realize the awkward position we all were in and invited everyone inside. We moved into the living room where Beth introduced the others. Jim seemed a little uncertain about the situation as he had just said, who could blame him?

“So I suppose you’re wondering what is going on,” Beth finally said, addressing the elephant in the room. Jim just shrugged and so she continued, “I told you it was Kelly’s bachelorette party, didn’t I?”

Jim nodded, keeping rather reserved for the moment, unwilling to show his hand quite yet.

“And you said you would be interested in having sex with your brother’s fiancé before the wedding, am I right?”

Jim just nodded again but I noticed his face seemed a little red this time. Beth was about to continue when he suddenly spoke up, “But that was suppose to be between me and you.”

His face reddened even more when the whole room erupted into a symphony of giggles and snickers.

"I guess your brother hasn't told you much about his fiancé then, has he?" Beth Said, seeming to enjoy playing poor Jim like a prize fish.

"What do you mean by that?" he asked.

"Oh nothing....," Beth came back as more giggles followed. "Soooooo, do you want to fuck the girl or not?"

Jim's eyes opened wider and he looked at Beth like she was some Martian or something. "I don't get it."

Again, who could blame him? When he knew me I was just a young girl who had only had sex with one boy - his brother. Since it appeared that Steve hadn't filled him in much on me, that meant he knew nothing about my class slut days, the college escapades, escorting, and especially incest. SO now out of the blue he was facing five girls, four he'd never met before (maybe Kristi but that would have just been in passing since she wasn't even having sex yet in those days), and he was being grilled about having sex with his brother's fiancé. It was enough to make most any guy blush!

"Sounds like you need to have a talk with your brother," Beth scolded him playfully. "Meantime, obviously Kelly is willing or why would we be here?"

Jim turned to me finally and asked, "And Steve is OK with this?"

I hesitated. Technically I'd never talked to him about Jim other than maybe a few times when I tried to learn what he was doing these days. Steve had always been rather vague about him and I got the feeling that maybe they'd had a falling out or something. I could have been wrong of course, especially since Jim was here now for the wedding, but in any case I knew just about nothing about Jim's life in the past twelve years, let alone how Steve felt about me having sex with his brother. Still, if it was OK for him to fuck my cousin, aunt and even my mother, then what was wrong with me doing his brother?

"Steve and I have an... understanding," I finally said.

"So let's quit yapping and start fucking, what do you say guys?" Beth urged us on.

"Steve's room?" Jim asked. There wasn't a spare bedroom in the house so I assumed he was sleeping on the rollaway bed in the living room which was why he undoubtedly assumed that we'd use Steve's bed.

"Sounds good to me!" I agreed, standing up to join him. As we walked to the bedroom the rest of the girls followed making Jim pause.

"Ummmmm, they aren't coming in too, are they?"

“It’s her bachelorette party dummy,” Beth said before I could answer, “What do you expect, us to stay out here and play cards?”

“Trust me Jim, if you knew what’s already happened today....” I said softly, tugging at him to get into the bed.

Just as Jim knew nothing about me for all practical purposes, I didn't know anything about him either. Sure he was acting shy but for all I knew he could be a porn star back in California. Then again, he could also be a priest so who could say? It was in interesting situation to say the least!

“So how does this work?” he asked once we were both seated on the bed.

“Why don’t we undress first?” I offered. He couldn't help but look at our audience so I assured him everything was OK and tried to get him to just ignore them.

“Yeah right... easy for YOU to say,” he said a bit glumly.

Still, he didn't resist when I started to unbutton his shirt and slipped it off of him. I knew every pair of eyes in the room was on his chest as I exposed him. Damn, this guy worked out!

Jim returned the favor, undressing me until I was naked in just my heels. He whistled softly as he stared at my body.

“Whoa, you’ve certainly grown up,” he said in a low voice.

Considering the last time he’d seen me I didn't hardly qualify for a training bra and my legs were thin as rails it didn't surprise me but I still felt good about the compliment. Indeed, my boobs were a LOT bigger now and I like to think I have a pretty good figure. The funny thing is now that I am older I have less pussy hair than when I was fourteen. Back then I was so proud to have what I had, even if it was just short and fuzzy. Now I was shaved bare.

Jim stood and removed his jeans and boxer shorts. Again, every eye was on him and even I was impressed. Damn, now I knew who had the biggest dick in the house and it wasn't even a contest. Steve was maybe a bit above average and I was quite satisfied with his equipment. But Jim.... damn! It was only semi-hard but already was thicker than Steve’s and looked to be maybe eight inches at least. And this guy was still single?

Jim glanced around again so I asked, “What’s the matter Jim, never did it in front of people before?”

“As a matter of fact.... no,” he replied.

Once again his face was getting red. At the same time his dick didn't appear to be shy, growing in size and hardness the longer we went. “I take it that YOU have though?”

Yet again he was met with a chorus if giggles which made him all the more curious. I just gave him a seductive grin and answered, “Why don’t you ask your brother about that...” Gripping his shaft in my hand, I could barely get my fingers all the way around it. “Now this is what I call a dick.”

Jim didn't say anything but I heard him draw a breath as I started to stroke him with my hand. Not only was he bigger than his brother, but he was a lot hairier as well, practically a bear rug. On the beach that would have been a turn-off for me but at the moment my eyes were focused on his crotch and I couldn't wait to bury my face in that lush forest that was at the base of his incredible cock.

“This is insane,” he muttered as I pushed him onto his back with his legs hanging over the side of the bed, laying to the side of him and putting my arm over him so my face was resting on his stomach with his dick right up against my lips. Although he was only seeing the back of my head, the rest of them had a courtside view.

“Oh god,” he groaned as I licked him slowly, working up the length of him and then up and over the lip of his head and then to the very tip.

I opened wide - really wide, and finally had him in my mouth. God, he was huge! I’d had bigger dicks but it had been a long time since I’d had one this big.

The girls were all watching intently, especially Kristi. Was there a hint of jealousy in her eyes? Something told me that Jim was going to busier than he may have thought during his visit. I wondered if Steve would tell him about me and my parents? Technically Jim would be qualified to fuck my mother, even if she was still married, once Steve and I tied the knot. Would Steve be willing to share? I had no doubt that Kristi was going to be after him like a bloodhound on the scent but what about her mother? I knew she as perturbed as a it was that Steve preferred to fuck my aunt more so than Kristi. Would this be a chance for her to have revenge sex?

As much as I was enjoying Jim’s dick, I knew that this wasn't going to be the only time he and I had sex in the upcoming week and I REALLY wanted to feel that monster inside of me. Leaving Jim on his back, I mounted him in reverse cowgirl, giving him a nice view of my ass while I would watch the girls at the same time. Whether I was facing him or not wasn’t the important thing. With a cock this big I wanted to be the one in control the first time he entered me. Even though I was already pretty loose now after being fucked all day, I had no doubt Jim was going to be a stretch - pun intended. I wondered if Beth had any idea when she was laying out the schedule what a favor she had done me by leaving Jim until last?

“Wow!” I exclaimed, grinning at my friends as I pressed down on Jim’s firm dick.

Like most oversized cocks, he wasn’t steel hard the way smaller dicks get when they are erect but he was still plenty stiff to get the job done. As much as I was ready for it, I still couldn't help but gasp as my pussy felt like it was being split in two when that monstrous head began to press in me. I held myself in place, pausing for a moment to acclimate myself to his size and then allowing myself to drop down a bit more.

“Fuck he’s big!” I exclaimed to their delight as I got maybe the first inch or two in me and then had to hold on for a minute or so to catch my breath. Jim had his hands now on my hips, helping to steady me as I wiggled on his cock, working it slowly deeper and deeper inside of me. Finally I bottomed out, my ass meeting his bushy crotch. I would have sworn I felt him up in my stomach!

“Oh boy, this is incredible,” I bragged to them, pleased to see Kristi especially getting hornier by the minute. I knew she was most likely hoping I would eventually offer to share with her but this was MY party... and his was MY dick.

Once I got use to the weird sensation of such a large cock in me, I started to slowly work it in and out of me. I didn’t have to raise up much to make it stimulate my pussy I a way different from very other dick I’d taken so far today. It was just... different, what more can I say?

Once I’d ridden him for a while and my pussy was taking him more easily, I raised up and off of him and flopped down beside him on my back. He took the mount and got on top, fucking me missionary style. I loved the feeling of him over me, pounding that incredible piece of meat into me. From there we spooned, making sure I was facing the audience. It was so erotic. Not only was I being fucked by a guy I hadn’t fucked in almost twelve years, he was my fiancé's brother and I was doing him in front of four of my closest friends.

Finally I was on my hands and knees as he fucked me doggy style. I loved the way he grabbed my hips and pulled and pushed me back and forth in rhythm with his thrusts. My boobs swung under me until I collapsed down to my elbows, pushing them into the pillow under me.

“You can cum in me,” I gasped as my second orgasm dwindled down.

He was like a fucking machine, not taking break or pausing even for a moment. I was also impressed with his staying power as most guys would have cum a long time earlier the way he was fucking me.

One thing about Jim, he was what I call a “silent fucker”. None of the dirty talk or even few words here or there. The entire time he was either quiet or groaning but never anything I could make out in terms of words. Even when I invited hi to cum in me he didn't respond - at least not in words. But then the silence broke at least for a couple words...

“I’m cumming,” he gasped. Hmmmmmm, two words or three? Does a contraction count as just one? It didn't matter as all I cared was that he DID cum AND he was cumming inside of my pussy.

Rather than plunge deep into me the way most guys do when they cum, Jim actually pulled out until just the head of his dick was in me. The result was I had much more of a sensation when his sperm shot into me than I would have had he cum six to eight inches deeper inside of me. It also had the effected that after he came and pulled out, it was like a river of cum quickly followed and dripped onto the bed. Oh well, it wasn't like it was the first time these sheets had cum on them!

I feel forward, totally exhausted. Damn, what a day and what a way to end it! I felt totally fucked out, totally satisfied. Now that he had cum, Jim quickly dressed as if he was embarrassed to be seen naked any longer than necessary.

I looked around and saw the grins on everyone’s faces and felt really good about myself at that moment. Beth had promised me the greatest bachelorette party ever and boy had she delivered!

(Aug 26) Chapter 235: My Wedding Rehearsal and Dinner

Story codes: MF F-solo oral inc uncle niece
Me (26)
Uncle Paul (54)

I've "rehearsed" this event at least a million times over the years so obviously it wasn't for me. Still, it's traditional plus everyone else needed to learn what to do. I had a few items on my "to do" list that I was looking forward to. Yet it was the things NOT on my list that made it memorable.

1. Traditions Old and New

It was almost here, the day I'd been dreaming about since I was a little girl. I mean, what girl doesn't dream of being a bride? Even being a princess is secondary since what do most girls dream of but a royal WEDDING more so than being a princess day to day. As for me, it was the culmination of a lifetime of fanciful dreams, naughty fantasies and high expectations. I think I can honestly say that since Steve proposed to me just after last Thanksgiving that not a single waking hour has passed by that I haven't thought about my wedding for at least a moment.

To be sure, my wedding has been planned from start to end for at least fifteen or more years. That's not to say it's always been the same plan, but there was always one ready and waiting for when the right moment finally arrived. Over time it's varied from the most formal and traditional wedding in an old ornate church with hard wooden pews filled with friends and family to a small sailboat adrift in the Caribbean with just me, my fiancé and the captain - and then about everything in between at one point or another. Even in the past year I've changed my mind so many times that I think Steve must have wondered what kind of crazy girl he asked to marry him! Nymphomaniac was OK, but schizophrenic?

No matter what the final plan may be, I was always pretty sure of a few things... the white flowing wedding dress (none of this ivory or otherwise non-traditional crap), a large wedding party, NICE bridesmaid dresses (unlike those hideous obscenities that some girls force their best friends to wear), my father walking me down the aisle, and so on. I THOUGHT I was pretty well set on the location. After all, what better place than the church I grew up in and had so many fond memories? When I changed my mind about THAT at almost the last minute I thought I might have finally gone too far but I managed to sooth my frazzled father's feelings in a way only his daughter could. After griping about outdoor weddings for years, I guess I couldn't blame him for being put out when I suddenly announced that I wanted one too.

My wedding planner took it all in stride without even one comment about “bridezilla”. Fortunately the country club where we were having the reception was very accommodating and it all worked out perfectly without too much fuss. Then there was a hurricane moving in and I knew everyone was saying I should have stuck with the indoor plans after all but it all worked out perfectly - just as I always knew it would.

So much for “old” traditions. There were also some new ones I wanted to establish. I guess technically doing something once doesn't establish a tradition but at least I would be setting the stage for future generations should they want to carry them on. At the same time I like to think that had my grandmother not been so prudish that my mother would have been the one to start some of these herself so in a way I was actually following her lead, even if she hadn’t actually been able to do them herself.

As you may be figuring out already, I owe an awful lot to my mom when it comes to traditions. After all, she was the first generation in our family to engage in incest, at least the first one that I know about. She was the first to submit properly to her father, the first to continue on that obligation even after being married, the first to allow her husband the freedom to be with her family members so as to create a truly biblically-based family relationship. So I guess you could say that everything I've done so far has actually been in her footsteps.

People ask me all the time if I will have an incestual relationship with my kids. That's almost impossible to answer. Technically it's easy to say the answer is yes in that I would LIKE to have such a relationship. However, whether or not that will actually happen is a totally different matter. Still, if they SHOULD decide that it's what they want, then I would say three generations definitely qualifies as a tradition, don't you?

So now it was up to me. I was only going to get one shot at this so I had to make it count. That’s where the planning comes in. Now it was time to put those plans into action…

2. Steve's Family Arrives

For those who have followed my diary closely, you know that I first met Steve back in the summer before I became a freshman in high school. His sister Sharon was one of my best friends at the time and we always sat near each other in class and at lunch and about every other time for that matter. Steve’s younger brother Jim (three years younger making him a year younger than me and Sharon) was always a pain in our necks back then. Admittedly some of it was our fault as we use to tease him mercilessly. Once I even let him fuck me but it was just so I could tease him all the more afterwards. It was at a summer camping party with Sharon and friends that I first drew the attention of her older brother. To my total surprise he called me later and asked me out. The rest as they say, is history.

Just so people understand, while I did let Jim do me once, it was more out of spite than lust so it wasn’t like I was doing both brothers or anything kinky like that. I say kinky because at that age it would have been that as I never even thought about the word incest, let alone engaged in the practice, so there was never any real thoughts of Sharon joining in, even though she DID have a huge crush on her older brother.

From the start Steve was the one I was in interested in, not his bratty seventh grade brother. As for me and Sharon, like most girls at that age we use to have sleepovers and play silly games like Truth or Dare that inevitably got a little carried away. Like most girls learning to deal with their budding sexuality, we masturbated at times together but we never went so far as to touch one another. Even the most risqué dares only went as far as kissing and the only touching was us touching ourselves. It was an age where being a lesbian was something “bad” girls did – or at least girls that couldn’t get boys to do them

Another question I get asked a lot is whether or not there is any incest in Steve’s family. The answer is a qualified NO. What I mean by that is for all intents and purposes there has never been nothing like that. Interestingly, as I mentioned earlier Sharon had a major crush on her older brother. Alas, unfortunately for her the feelings weren’t mutual. She use to get SO jealous when we would get together and I would tell her about what I did with her brother! I have to admit that I may have embellished things a bit in the telling once I learned how much it turned her on to hear about us. Between her and my mom, I guess you could say that is where I got my start telling erotic stories about my sexual experiences. The only difference is that with them it was verbal whereas today it's all written down. I have to say it's a LOT easy to do it verbally.

The qualifier is based upon an isolated incident that happened once and only once so far as I know. Steve's mom once caught Steve fucking me in their house. Long story short (as in VERY short), he fucked her too before it was all said and done. Marlene's job was transferred and so they moved away shortly after that. They have both sworn on a stack of bibles that nothing like that EVER happened again. Given their reluctance to discuss it even after all these years and the obvious discomfort it brings them when I mention anything about the topic, I have to believe them.

When Steve and his mom moved back to Pittsburgh last summer, Sharon and Jim stayed behind in California. From what Steve told me, they both had established jobs, friends and such so they had no real reason to move back. For Steve's mom, it was another promotion and a resulting job transfer so she had little choice, especially in today's job market. If your employer tells you to move, you move. It so happened that Steve had just finished his paramedic training and didn't have many prospects in California so he decided to move back with his mom when he learned the city was hiring paramedics. Even though he was twenty five at the time, they decided to live together to save money in a small house – separate bedrooms of course.

While Steve and his mother do not practice incest, they ARE very close, perhaps TOO close by some people's standards but then who is anyone to judge them? They enjoy cuddling and kissing each other – and I mean on the mouth with tongues. They even fondle one another in ways that would make some people blush or even gasp but everything is always over their clothes. I've never seen them naked together and Steve swears that they aren't when I'm not there either. To them, it's just a mother and son being close to one another, nothing sexual or even lustful. In fact, they both seemed quite offended one time when I implied otherwise.

One thing that I found a bit disconcerting at first when I started dating Steve again was having his mother watch us when we had sex at his house. It was sort of like back when I was in school and my own mother would watch my dad fuck me.

Unlike my mother, Marlene never masturbates or even touches herself while she watches. Also unlike my mother, she never says a word so over time I've become accustomed to her presence to the point I hardly even know she's in the room these days. ONE time I made a suggestion that maybe she would like to join in but trust me, I'll never make THAT mistake again. Let's just say she wasn't too pleased by the suggestion and leave it at that...

When we announced our engagement, Sharon and Jim both promised they would fly back for the wedding but I didn't have any idea how that was going to work out. As it turned out, Jim came in earlier than I was told such that he was a surprise ending to my bachelorette party. Unlike that one time over twelve years ago, I have to say this time when he fucked me we both enjoyed it immensely. In fact, I was already revising my rehearsal dinner plans and even thinking about how he might fit into the reception schedule after we were done!

Sharon wasn't due to fly in until just before the rehearsal so I wouldn't be seeing her until the last minute. While we had talked on the phone a few times, it had been a long time since we'd been friends so most of it was just reminiscing about the good old days. How things would go when she arrived would be anybody's guess.

After my bachelorette party and Steve and I were comparing notes about that and his own bachelor party, I asked him how he felt about me fucking his brother again after so many years. Granted, I had a pretty fair idea what his response was going to be or I wouldn't have fucked Jim in the first place but I still wanted to hear it straight from his mouth.

"What do you want me to say Kelly?" he responded, sounding just a wee bit exasperated, "So my brother screwed you. What's the big deal?"

"So you don't care if he does me again then?"

Steve's eyes narrowed down a little and he looked at me as if trying to figure out where I was leading the conversation. "Why? Was he that good?"

I just flipped my hair back and shrugged, trying to sound more nonchalant than I was actually feeling. "Well, he wasn't exactly BAD."

"Then whatever," he said abruptly, seeming to brush it off but I knew him better than that.

"You know Steve, I've always wanted to be fucked by two brothers."

"Sounds to me like you've already done it then."

I slapped him playfully. "No silly, I meant at the same time."

Steve didn't say a word but instead he leaned over and kissed me long and hard. As much as I loved him to kiss me, I also knew his habits and this probably meant he was going to tell me something I wasn't going to like. Sure enough...

“OK Kelly, you know better. It’s like you and your dad. If you want to get laid by my brother then just do it but please don’t ask me to get involved, OK?”

“So you guys never fucked a girl together?” I asked, a bit incredulously, “My dad said he and his younger brother use to fuck girls together all the time.”

“That’s fine for your dad but let’s not push this, OK Kelly?”

With only a couple of days before the wedding this was not the time to have a fight so I backed off. Still, I couldn't help but dream later when I was masturbating about having the two of them take me and both of them having their way with me. First it was Steve fucking me while I sucked off Jim and then swapped positions. In my fantasy world both of them came in my pussy - Steve first of course. Rank hath its privileges!

What I REALLY masturbated about that week was me and Sharon getting together with the two brothers. God, I would love to see the two of them fucking her, especially Steve. I wondered if she still had that old crush on him or did she have her own boyfriend now that drew her attention? Then again, just because she had a boyfriend didn't men she had to stop fantasizing, no more than I had to now that I was about to be married.

Well, his whole family would be together soon so I wouldn’t have to wait long to see what, if anything, was going to happen.

3. Surprising Uncle

My father has two brothers. Uncle Paul is now 54, making him eight years older than my dad. Uncle Jim is nineteen months younger than my dad making him the baby of the family. According to my mom, the two younger brothers were in a whole different world from the older one due to their age differences. Whereas Uncle Jim and my dad hung around each other and even double dated (and double fucked) together, including two girls named Mary and Linda, later to be known to me as Mom and Aunt Linda. Apparently the guys had the quite the reputation as a team.

I first had sex with Uncle Jim back when I was nineteen, just a week after me and my cousin Tammy played around for the first time. She was just thirteen then and all I did was give her some masturbation pointers. She was fourteen when my dad took her virginity, followed the next day by her own dad.

Uncle Paul was a different story. Being so much older than my dad, he had kids well ahead of my dad and so when my dad started getting into incest and his niece Tammy, Uncle Paul's girls Laura and Ginny were already married. So far as my dad knew, his older brother had no idea about the incestual nature of my mom's relationship with her dad, nor anything about what I was doing with him either. So while me and my mom were having sex with Uncle Jim and his son Rick, nothing like that was happening with his older brother's family - or so I thought. I was mostly right... mostly.

It wasn't until I was 23 that my Uncle Paul stopped by and dropped the bombshell that he and my mom had been doing it for years and that he knew all about me and my dad - even though my dad didn't even know about it. So that was the first time he fucked me but we only did it once more after that.

Both of my uncles would be at the rehearsal and wedding, along with their wives. Although nothing had been said, I could only imagine what the two of them would be thinking about when it came to the upcoming nuptials. After all, what guy doesn't dream of screwing the bride-to-be on the eve of her wedding?

While I wasn't sure how things would work out, I had a really good idea of what would NOT happen. There was no way in hell my Uncle Jim was going to fuck me, period. He was a total asshole and I hated him for the way he mistreated Tammy, treating her like some sex slave and forcing her to do anything he wanted. He was one of those guys who likes rough sex and I dreaded being with him. He especially likes anal and won't take no for an answer, making him very dangerous in my book.

There finally came a time when the only reason I let him fuck me was so he would let my dad fuck Tammy. Once she got into a serious relationship and the desire of her uncle began to fade, I cut off her father from me as he no longer and anything to hold over my head. It had been years no since he had last fucked me - and it would be many more years if I had anything to say about it.

The wild card was my Uncle Paul. I had a pretty good idea that he was going to be looking to get under my dress but I was having a hard time figuring out just how it could happen. The day and evening were already stacked full and with everyone there it would be difficult at best to sneak away long enough to actually fuck.

Kristi and I drove to the country club about an hour before the rehearsal. One of my friends had volunteered to be the wedding planner and I had total faith in

Wendy so there was no reason to show up any earlier and just mess up the works. Both of us were dressed to kill in short tight dresses that hugged our hips and heels that were at least five inches. I'd been working on the prefect tan all summer and had even spent some time at a salon to even things out. It's not something I recommend long term but I figured the risk of cancer was low enough to make it worth it.

Wendy greet us when we arrived and I couldn't help but grin at her. She was always the type to show off and she had plenty to show. Standing at least six feet in her heels, she had on a mini-dress that was so short I was sure all the men would be staring at her the entire evening - which turned out to be a rather accurate prediction by the way.

The ceremony was being held right next to the country club on the putting green. The first thing I noticed was high heels and natural grass are a dangerous mixture! Wendy laughed when I almost feel over and made some comment about us aerating the green or something like that.

Looking around, not many people had arrived yet but I DID notice that my Uncle Paul was sipping a beer on the outside porch of the country club which overlooked the putting green. I waved at him and he waved back, smiling broadly. I had to wonder how long he had already been here and which beer that was. Everyone seemed to have everything under control and I sort of felt useless so I wandered up into the clubhouse and went through the bar and out onto the deck where my uncle and some others had congregated. Looking at my watch I saw there was still 45 minutes before things got started so I went over to the outside bar and asked for a glass of white wine.

“A little something for the nerves?” my uncle joked from behind me as I thanked the bartender.

I just shrugged and smiled. “Not really, just passing time I guess.”

Uncle Paul glanced around to see who was listening and then leaned over and whispered in my ear, “Well if you need some help then I'm available.” He stood back up straight and winked at me. It was a little corny and I couldn't believe I'd been there less than five minutes and already my uncle was hitting on me. Then again, if I just stood around I WAS going to turn into a basket of nerves so why not?

“Follow me,” I mouthed to him as I walked out slowly. I'd been here a few times already getting things planned so I pretty much knew my way around. One of the things I‘d especially looked for were “private” places where people wouldn't notice what was going on. There really weren't all that many when you came down to it. As the temperature was pretty warm, one thing people were NOT wearing were coats so that left the obvious – the coat room. A little cliché but then what did that matter? If it works it works.

Nobody seemed to be looking so I slipped inside only to be followed shortly by Uncle Paul who closed the door behind me.

“Are you serious?” he whispered, appearing to be more nervous now that his bluff had been called.

“What’s the matter, afraid Aunt Julie will catch us?” I teased him. My aunt was pretty cool but I also knew there was no way she would ever understand her husband fucking ANY other woman, let alone his niece and let alone on the eve of her wedding.

“She’s off doing something or another,” he replied, then he looked me up and down in the small room. “Damn, did you have to pour that dress on or what?”

It WAS pretty damn tight and I DID have to really suck it in for Kristi to get the back zipped but when I looked at myself in the mirror the pain and problems were all cast to the side. I loved the way I looked in it!

“Don’t worry, you don’t have to take it off,” I assured him, rolling up the hem to my hips and then my waist, exposing the white thong underneath.

“You’re so fucking hot,” he said under his breath, his breathing starting to become more shallow and irregular. Yeah, he was horny all right!

“So are you just going to stand there or fuck me?” I asked as nonchalantly as I could, “We only have a few minutes before someone is going to be looking for me.”

That seemed to motivate him as he quickly undid his pants and pulled them down to his knees. The absurdity of seeing a grown man in what was not much more than a closet with his dress pants down to his knees, his shirt tails hanging down was offset by the sight of his erect cock sticking out from between them. Damn he was horny! OK, so he was not exactly the youngest man in the world and time had taken its toll, but there is still something about seeing a man’s erection that always turns me on – especially when it’s ME that is the reason for it being that way. After all, what normal girl doesn’t like knowing a man desires her? A man can SAY anything but his dick can't lie!

As much as I wanted it in me not to mention that little angel on my shoulder warning me that time was passing by, I couldn't resist. Ever since I had first put my hand on Steve’s hard cock over twelve years ago in that dark movie theater, the first thing that comes to my mind when seeing a dick is how it would feel in my mouth. Yes, fucking me was the best and nothing beats the sensation of a dick pressing its way into me that first time.

Sucking a dick was different. There was no real “pleasure” for me in doing it, not like the pleasure I got when it was in my pussy. For me it was all about what it did to HIM when I sucked his dick. It was the way a guy looks at me, hoping with everything he can that I’ll kneel down and take his dick in my mouth. It’s the way he groans when my tongue plays along the shaft and then my lips caress the head of his dick. I especially love feeling a cock grow in my mouth, knowing that it is all because of me that is making it happen. I guess you could sum it up in saying that for me, sucking cock was one of the best ways to see how much a man desired me and enjoyed the skills that I had.

So it was without any hesitation that I bent my knees and lowered myself to waist level and took his dick in my hand. Mmmmmmm, it felt so hard and warm! I stroked it a little and then leaned forward to let the tip of my tongue just barely touch the head of his dick. I was rewarded by a groan and the feel of him pushing his hips forward like he was trying to get more of it in my mouth. I didn’t need him to tell me what he wanted. ALL men wanted just one thing when I kissed their dick – to have me take it all the way in my mouth.

Uncle Paul’s cock was what I would call average size. If I grabbed it with two hands then I pretty much covered the entire length. I could smell the musky odor of his crotch as I slowly took him inch by inch into my mouth. In one continuous movement I lowered my head onto his cock until I felt my nose pressing against his the base of his dick with his pubic hair rubbing my face.

“Oh God that feels so good Kelly,” he groaned softly, using his hands to push my head onto his dick even further.

A few head bobs and then some sucking on the head was all I felt I had time for. Besides, as horny as he was I didn't think it was going to take much to set him off and I really didn't need him spraying his cum all over my face and hair and maybe even my dress. I stood up, using his dick as a support as I held onto it with one hand so as to keep my balance in my heels. Turning away from him, L bent over and pulled my dress up over my butt and then pulled my thong over to the side to let him get a good view of my pussy.

Uncle Paul didn't say anything but I felt both of his hands on my butt, one on each cheek as he shuffled forward until I could feel his erection poking me in the butt. Turning my head back over my left shoulder I grinned and said ever so softly, “Fuck me Uncle Paul... fuck me now.”

Yeah, like I really needed to tell him but then what guy doesn’t want to hear those words from the girl he’s about to fuck, no matter how certain he already is that she wants it. “Fuck me” has got to be the two words that drive men crazier than any others. Uncle Paul was no exception.

“Oh yeah, the little slut wants it before she gets married, doesn’t she?” he hissed under his breath as I felt him wiggle such that his dick finally got in the right spot and he gave a push.

I was so wet it easily slid into me and I couldn't help but sigh as the head of his dick split me open, soon to be followed by the rest of his shaft. When he bottomed out I could feel that thick bush of pubic hair between his legs tickling my bottom.

“I love fucking your pussy,” he moaned as he started to thrust in and out of me. “You’re a better fuck than even your mother.”

That was more of a compliment than maybe he even knew. My mom had taught me so much over the years and I owed her so much for everything. I wondered if the two of them were doing it now that she was back for the wedding but this didn't seem to be the appropriate moment to ask such a question.

Just then I thought someone was trying to enter but it must have been just somebody brushing against the door. Even so, I looked at my watch and I knew in a few minutes people would be hunting me down so hopefully Uncle Paul would be quick.

I really didn't need to worry...

“I’m almost there,” he sighed as the speed of his motions increased.

“Cum in me Uncle Paul, cum in my pussy,” I asked, more desperately than he might have realized. It was really the only safe way to do it as anywhere else ran the risk of ruining my dress or messing my makeup or hair. While I knew there were a few people out there that would smile if they saw a strand of cum on my cheek, the vast majority would be flabbergasted.

A grunt and a hard thrust signaled his orgasm was starting. Each time he pushed himself deep in me I knew he was releasing another load of sperm into me. Unlike my father, he was not “fixed” but I had relied on my good old birth control pills for this many years and they had always done their job. Finally he just grabbed my bare hips and pulled me tightly into him as he held himself still inside of me.

“God that felt so good!” he sighed, “Kelly, you are one sweet piece of ass.”

As he pulled out I could feel his cum wanting to escape. Looking around desperately, I didn't see anything to clean myself up with so I turned to him and asked for his handkerchief. Uncle Paul grinned as he reached into his pants pocket as he pulled them up onto place and pulled out a new white one. I grabbed it and reached between my legs, squeezing down to try and get as much as his cum out of me as possible. It wasn't that I didn't want it in me, not that at all. I just didn't need to have a wet crotch should my dress somehow get out of place and the wrong people got a peek.

Once I was cleaned up I folded the handkerchief as best I could to seal in the cum and handed it back to him saying, "I think this is all yours." Uncle Paul just grinned as carefully returned it to his pocket. Hopefully he would remember to do something with it before he got home and his wife did the laundry! Now THAT might have taken some explaining to do as nothing smells quite like aged cum on clothing.

Pulling my dress back down into place, I ran my fingers through my hair, wishing I had my purse with so I could brush it out. Oh well, it would have to do. Hopefully my face wasn't as flushed as it felt!

"Stay here until I get outside," I instructed my uncle. It would be hard enough to explain why I was leaving the coat room without him trailing behind me. Ho dick, while it had dwindled significantly, was still hard enough to form a noticeable bulge so a few more minutes wouldn't hurt from that perspective either.

As I stepped out there were only a few people around and none of them were looking my way as I started to walk across the foyer. Or so I thought...

"So who just fucked you?" I heard from behind me as I cleared the doors and started heading down to where the rehearsal was about to begin. I turned around and there was my cousin, grinning ear to ear.

"I have NO idea what you're talking about," I returned, trying to act naïve about the situation. Kristi wasn't having any of it though.

"Oh yeah, and that's why your face is all red and Uncle Paul just left the coatroom," she came back with. "So since when do you fuck Uncle Paul anyway?"

Indeed, hardly anyone knew about me and my uncle, not even my dad or about to be husband. It wasn't that I was ashamed of it, not in the least. The only issue I had was that it started because he had been having sex with my mother for all those years and nobody knew about THAT. It would be sort of difficult to explain how I got started with him without bringing my mom into the picture.

“Later... OK?” I said, hoping to brush her off or at least get her to not ask about it again but then I should have known my cousin better than that.

“Hmmmmmm, so maybe later I should check him out?” she mused as we walked hand in hand down to the ceremony location. Oh great, now what had I done? I knew better than to try and talk her out of it as if anything that would just encourage her all the more. Better to just ignore it and maybe she would be too busy with the rest of the guys in the wedding party to worry about her oldest uncle.

4. Kristi Takes Advantage

I only learned the details about what happened immediately after the rehearsal later that night after we got home so I have just my cousin’s version of the story to rely on – not exactly the most reliable source but I pretty much can count on her to be honest about the sex parts. I apologize that this is rather brief but as I said, I wasn't there to witness anything so I’ll just recount what I heard happened.

The rehearsal went well as expected. We walked through the entire ceremony, discussing everyone’s duties and responsibilities. Everyone wanted pictures so we had to pose and such with friends and families as well as the wedding party. The rehearsal dinner was being held at a restaurant about 20-30 minutes away so eventually we called a halt and everyone went to get their cars for the trip. I went with my mom and dad and Aunt Linda. I had expected Kristi to come along with us as well but apparently she found herself another ride.

When we got to the restaurant, everyone went inside and for a while we just had some drinks and enjoyed a table of appetizers that were laid out. From the looks of things everyone was there. My uncle came by me and squeezed my butt when he thought nobody was looking but he didn't know my mom saw it. Later she asked me what that was all about and I told her about the coat room. I really wasn't sure how she would feel about that but then I should have trusted my mom more. She actually didn't say a thing but instead just rolled her eyes and then this sly grin came to her mouth. I couldn't help but wonder if my uncle wasn't going to be one busy man tonight!

It wasn’t until we had been there for maybe twenty minutes that in came Kristi and her two escorts – the groom and his brother. She strode in with them like Cleopatra down the Nile, them both flanking her arm in arm like they were somehow her escorts. Once inside Steve broke off and headed straight over to me but Jim stayed with Kristi as they took their seats across the round table from me and Steve.

I kissed Steve and then whispered into his ear, “Did you really both do her?” I said it more of a whining tone in that I already knew the answer so it really wasn't a question so much as a “how could you do that” sort of thing. It wasn't that I was upset at them for screwing my cousin; after all, it’s not like I wasn't sure whose idea it was in the first place. I just couldn’t believe that they would be so obvious about it PLUS show up late for our once-in-a-lifetime rehearsal dinner.

“You’ll have to ask your cousin,” he whispered back before getting up to hug his mother who had just welcomed everyone. For a brief moment I had this naughty image of him kissing her in front of everyone the way I’d seen him kiss her at home - full tongue and all with his hands all over her. Well, at least he had enough common sense to not do THAT!

I looked across the table where Kristi was practically draping herself all over Jim. Like, it was one thing to keep up tradition when it comes to having sex with the bridal party but another to be blatant about it in front of everyone. Fortunately it appeared that those who knew Kristi just ignored them as if anything she was actually being somewhat subdued compared to her typical nature. For those who didn’t know her as well, I suppose they just put it down to being silly without realizing that she wasn’t just teasing him.

As for Jim, he had that look you think of when you imagine the cat after eating the canary. So far as I knew, he had never fucked Kristi before although for all I knew there may have been something going on there back in school as she was in the same class as he had been. In any case, it had to be at least twelve years since they’d done it and then to do both brothers at the same time must have pleased Kristi to no end, especially since I was sure she knew that I had never done them together.

For the rest of the evening I was bursting with curiosity. It didn't help that all three of them seemed to be getting a perverse pleasure from teasing me to no end about it. It wasn’t until the evening was finally over and we were back at our house that Kristi finally couldn't contain herself anymore.

“So cuz, you still wanna know what happened after rehearsal with the boys?” she teased me.

I just gave her my best “duh” expression and folded my arms as I sat down on one of the kitchen chairs to wait for her to continue. I wasn't going to play her game because I knew the more I let her tease me, the longer it would take to get anything out of her. The cool chair felt good against my bare bottom as I was just wearing my "bride" t-shirt that someone had given me. It was at least a size too small and as tight as it stretched across my boobs, it failed miserably when it came to covering anything much below my belly button. Kristi was wearing just a plain black thong, typical of her "run-around-the-house wardrobe choices.

Somewhere along the line we had our genes switched as I hated to be topless whereas she hated to be bottomless, at least when it came to just being alone at home. It had been that way since we were preteens. I guess I could blame my aunt for Kristi's condition as she was the same. If anything, Aunt Linda was the nudist of the family but when she DID wear something it was usually nothing more than a skimpy thong. On the other hand, my mother was more "traditional" in that she almost never went without full panties (no thongs around the house) and sometimes even wore a bra under her top at home.

Kristi pulled up a chair next to mine and sat down with one leg bent under her so she was sitting on it with the other dangling down to the floor. She adjusted the sides of her thong and then wiggled to get more comfortable. I think she was just having fun tormenting me as I waited for her to go through all her little rituals before finally getting down to the business at hand.

"OK, so here's what happened," she started, like a mother starting out a fairy tale foe one of her kids. All that was needed was "Once upon a time" and it would have been perfect.

For the next half hour or so she went into ridiculous detail of the events of the late afternoon. I think it took her longer to tell me about it than it did to do it in the first place. In essence, what had happened was she had gathered Steve and Jim together while everyone was heading to their cars and asked them if she could hitch a ride with them. Steve's truck easily held two comfortably and a third could fit in that center of the bench seat so long as your legs weren't too long. This I knew because many a time I'd ridden next to him with my feet up on the passenger side of the seat.

Kristi was wearing a short little skirt made of denim with ruffles and layers such that it looked even shorter than it actually was - although it WAS pretty darn short to start with. A yellow tank top with no bra underneath, coupled with five inch "fuck me" stilettos completed the outfit. Somehow in the process of getting to the truck she had managed to "lose" her panties, assuming she had them on to start with. This was made immediately obvious when she scooted across to be in the middle and her skirt “accidentally’ rolled up under her to expose her bare little bottom.

Of course she acted as though she had no idea what was exposed and when Jim nodded to Steve to look she caught it and acted surprised at what had happened although she made no effort to fix herself. In fact, her only reaction was something like, “Like what you see boys?”

Let’s see... two horny mid-twenties men, one slutty girl with no panties and a short skirt hiked up to her ass, a big pickup truck with a bench seat parked in a rapidly emptying parking lot. Like do I need to draw out a map?

The fact that they only showed up about twenty minutes late was actually rather surprising as Kristi told me all the various positions and combination that the two of them had fucked her right there in the middle of the now-empty parking lot. In the end, the both came at around the same time with Steve in her pussy and Jim in her mouth as stood outside the door with her feet on the pavement and her head buried in Jim’s lap as he sat on the outer edge of the seat while Steve fucked her from behind standing next to the door.

“So you’ve never had the two brothers together?” she asked me as the last details were filled in. I shook my head which prompted her to add, “So when will you?”

Now THAT was a good question. Until I’d heard Kristi’s story I hadn’t ever really seriously considered fucking the two of the them at the same time. Sure I’d THOUGHT about it but not seriously. For that matter I think about a LOT of ways to have sex, most of which I know will never come true even if I was given the opportunity.

“Well I guess now you’ll have to wait until after the honeymoon,” she said putting her hand to her chin as if in deep thought. She was right as even if they WERE available I wasn’t planning on seeing Steve again until I walked down the aisle holding my dad’s arm. True, there was always the reception but that wouldn't be as easy to pull off in real life as in my fantasies.

“I guess technically I could do them both in the morning though, right?” she teased me again. She seemed to be serious but I knew not even she would do such a thing on the morning of my wedding day. The night before was one thing but not just before the ceremony.

“Well, if the reception turns out to be anything like the rehearsal dinner then who knows?’ she said with a hint of amusement in her tone.

Indeed, if the rehearsal dinner was any indicator at all then I was more anxious than ever to get to the reception!

5. The Dinner

The rehearsal dinner itself was relatively uneventful. The restaurant had everything ready for us and everyone was served quickly and efficiently. We talked about a bit of everything and anything and I couldn't remember hardly any of the conversation just minutes after dessert was finished. It was sort of the way you sing a song from the hymnal at church that and then two minutes later can’t remember a single word you sang.

After dinner we had some music playing from a Bose speaker set using someone’s iPod plugged into it. For a tiny thing it sure put out some sound! Immediately me and my girls were summoned to the outside courtyard for photos and such. Wow, it wasn't even my wedding yet and already I’d had more pics taken of me than I think my entire life put together before then.

From there some people dance while others played corn hole and the rest just hung around and drank and talked. Nobody seemed to be in a rush to do anything, or least not to do anything in public. In all fairness, there seemed to be plenty of people wanting to do SOMETHING but it wasn't anything they were ready to share with the rest of us.

Kristi sat down next to me as soon as I had a moment alone. “So how long had Uncle Paul been fucking you?” she asked. I held up three fingers and her eyes bugged out. “What? Three years? And you never told your closest cousin?” she said in a tone that was intended to show me how terribly hurt she as. Yeah, like I was buying that one.

“Does your dad know? My mom?”

I shook my head and she put her hand to her open mouth as if in shock. “You’re keeping family secrets Kelly?”

I pleaded with her not to say anything as there was more to it than she knew. Instantly that seemed to turn on the calculator in her head and she immediately began trying to guess what those reasons might be.

“Oh my god, he’s fucking Ginny or Laura? Both?”

That was WAY out there and I just shook my head and rolled, my eyes as if I couldn't even believe she could think that. My Uncle Paul fucking his two daughters, now wives and mothers with kids, was about as likely as being hit by a meteor tonight.

“I know... he was doing your mom!” she announced triumphantly, seeming to be so proud of herself for guessing correctly. At least she thought she had but I was not up to sparring with her so I didn't even try to deny it.

“Oh... my... god!” she tried to stifle a shriek, “Uncle Paul was doing your mom! Fuck, how long did that go on? Was that why they divorced?”

I refused to give her anything more but instead pleaded again for her not to say a word to anyone. I looked over at the table where the parents were sitting and saw my mom talking to Steve’s mom. Damn, she would be so pissed if she knew what I’d just told Kristi. If there was anyone you didn’t want to tell when keeping a secret, it was Kristi.

“I wonder if he would fuck me?” she mused, glancing over at where he was sitting next to my dad and Uncle Jim. Well, two of them already had done her so there was no reason why the third wouldn’t. Besides, if that would help to keep her mouth shut about the other stuff then I was ready to do anything to make it happen.

Kristi sat there in thought for a while and I could have sworn I saw a little smoke rising from her head as she worked on her little “problem”. She may have had the attention of a two year-old in school but when it came to working out a sex problem she held a PhD.

“I’ve got it... you go and distract your dad while I work on dear old Uncle Paul,” she told me with a mischievous grin. “This is SOOOOOO wild... I never dreamed Uncle Paul would ever fuck any of us and here’s he’s been doing you for ages!”

By “distract” I knew what she meant. It was easy to “distract” my dad at home but this was not exactly in the privacy of our family room where all I had to do was walk in bottomless wearing one of his dress shirts and taking a seat on his lap. There were still a few dozen people hanging around and it wasn't like nobody was watching the bride. In a way I felt a bit like a Hollywood star being hounded by the paparazzi with people just walking by and snapping pics of me for now reason.

In a manner of speaking, I ended up doing much of what I would have at home except I was fully dressed and my hand stayed away from his crotch. I walked slowly over to where my dad was sitting and proceeded to make myself at home on his lap. I even tugged down my dress a little so as not to expose too much skin so people wouldn’t get the wrong idea from me sitting on my daddy’s lap. Well technically it would have been the RIGHT idea but you know what I mean.

At the same time I noticed Kristi moving in like a lion moving in on its prey. No sooner than I was on my dad's lap, hiding what was behind me from his view, Kristi was making her move, pouncing on her older uncle like that lion would had it reached its dinner.

As I told my daddy how happy I was and how pleased I was with all the wedding arrangements, I kept his attention away from my uncle long enough for Kristi to do whatever she had planned. Although I couldn't actually see what she was doing, the possibilities ran through my mind, none of them exactly what a "nice" girl would do. Whatever it was it must have worked because finally my dad twisted around to say something to his brother and lo and behold he was gone!

"Where the hell did Paul go?" he asked nobody in particular, looking all over to see where his wayward brother had disappeared. Apparently he hadn't seen Kristi making her move so he didn't even think about how THAT might have been working out about right now. On the other hand DID know and I was feeling hornier by the minute as I thought about what Kristi was doing with her uncle at this very moment.

Steve stopped by and pretended to be jealous so I moved over to sit in his lap. Soon we were joined by my mom and Aunt and Steve's mom and we were all together as one big family for the first time. Well, almost that is. Kristi and Uncle Paul were conspicuously absent... as were Jim and Sharon. The last two drew my attention. Now where the hell were they? I counted the remaining bridesmaids and groomsmen and all were accounted for. Hmmmmmm...

It was maybe twenty minutes or so later before Kristi came back. Her hair was not quite as straight as it had been but that could've been just from running around all evening. Other than that she had this glow about her and a sense of satisfaction that I would have recognized anywhere. I wasn't the only one that knew that look - he mom, my mom and my dad all seemed to zero in on her at the same time, just as my Uncle Paul came in behind her.

I thought for sure my Aunt Linda was going to say something but with Steve's mom there she caught herself in time. Marlene had no idea that my side of the family practiced incest and this was no time for her to learn, especially in an instance such as this. Still, I could see my aunt's eyes boring in on Kristi, and then on her brother-in-law. I knew that she had a pretty good idea as to what had been going on supposedly behind everyone's back.

Kristi sat down next to me again and I leaned over and whispered, "Could you have made it any more obvious?"

Kristi frowned at me and looked defiant. “Don’t blame ME, he’s the one that was suppose to wait and then enter through a different way.”

Looking around I had a feeling there were going to be some interesting discussions later that night. We were about to get up and start getting ready to go when in walked Sharon and Jim. I don’t think they had been expecting everyone to be sitting together like this as it seemed like they wanted to turn and run from the room when everyone’s eyes fell on them. This time it was Steve and his mom with the “you’ve got to be kidding me” looks. Now what the heck did THAT mean?

Whatever it was Steve’s mom seemed not too interested in discussing it as she hinted at it being time to wrap things up so everyone would be ready for the big day ahead of us. I looked again at Jim and Sharon and they seemed much too relieved for my tastes.

“OK buster, what’s the story?” I cornered Steve off to the side as people said their goodbyes. I had to know now as I wouldn’t be alone with Steve again until after the wedding.

“I have NO idea what you’re talking about,” Steve responded, pretending he really didn’t know.

”Oh come on, you and your mom were about to fall off your chairs when your brother and sister came back to the room.”

“Oh THAT!” he said, acting as though it was about the last thing I might have been talking about, “We were just worried about them and wondered where they’d gotten off to.”

I was buying that about as much as if he had offered me the Brooklyn bridge. There was more to this than he was letting on and I was starting to get a pretty good idea. Back in high school I knew Sharon always had a crush on her older brother. Steve had never shown any interest in any such things, leaving her to just masturbating when I would tell her about the things he did to me on our dates. She had never mentioned her younger brother though...

The puzzle pieces fell into place like a Sudoku puzzle once you had it almost solved. Was this why the two of them had remained out in California while Steve and his mom had come back to Pittsburgh? Was this why both Steve and his mom were so adamantly against doing anything sexual with each other, or even talking about the possibility? Oh my god, if what I was thinking was true then this was the most incredible thing I’d learned about Steve’s family – ever.

“So other two of them... they do it?” I asked softly, trying not to push TOO hard for a response.

Steve fidgeted like he always does when he doesn’t want to answer a question.

“So back in California I take it they are living together? Is that why you never give me their addresses?”

“I’d rally rather not talk about it now... not here anyway,” he said tersely, looking about as if the room was full of lip readers.

So it WAS true. Holy crap Batman! So Steve’s family WAS involved in incest, just not in a way I’d ever imagined. And my one-time best friend had never uttered a word about it to me since she’d been back.

On the way back home Kristi was driving as I sat in the front seat. Wow, what a day it had been. I had yet to hear from her about the events before the dinner before her and my fiancé and his brother but even so there was still more to talk about than we had time in the car. I had figured the main topic of discussion was going to be Uncle Paul but the last minute revelations at the dinner trumped everything.

“So what did Steve say?” Kristi said almost as soon as her door was closed. I told her to wait until we were on the road during which time she squirmed like she was about to wet her panties.

“OK, so what’s the story” she repeated no sooner than I had turned onto the main highway. I explained to her what Steve had told me and she seemed disappointed that I didn't know more.

“I would have never guessed,” she sighed as she relaxed back into the seat, putting her feet up on the dash and absentmindedly rubbing herself with her legs spread wide apart. It was dark and I doubted any of the cars passing us could see anything much.

I had to agree with her. I was like in shock. I mean, it’s like I was in shock because it was incest. Heck, if anyone is a proponent of incest it would be me. What shocked me was WHO was into incest. Sharon had NEVER even once given even a hint when we were friends that she had any feelings toward her younger brother. Now as for Steve... THAT she was pretty blatant about but Jim... never. What really was interesting was it was obvious that both Steve and his mom knew all about it and THEY had never made even a hint about it in all the time I’d known them.

It made me wonder how Steve’s mom would react if she ever learned that my dad fucked me on a regular basis? Would she be as surprised to learn about that as I was to learn about her two youngest kids? Had I managed to keep it a secret as well as she had kept her family secrets?

That night after Kristi finished telling me about her fun with the two brothers, we both headed up to my bedroom where we spent our last night together as single cousins. After tonight I was sure we would still find time to sleep together now and then but it would never be the same as it was tonight. After tonight I would be Steve’s wife and as much as he had made it clear that he had no objections to me having sex with other people, it would always be me doing it as his wife.

We were both horny as hell and as much as I knew I needed sleep, I couldn't resist my sexy cousin’s incredible body. Later as we feel asleep in each other’s arms, our naked bodies pressed tightly together with our legs intertwined, I could feel the warmth of her pussy on my thigh and the firmness of her boobs against mine and I realized what an incredible luck girl I was!

(Aug 27) Chapter 236: Wedding Bells

Story codes: MF oral inc father daughter
Me (26)
John - my dad (46)
Steve - my husband (28)
Kory - Steve's friend (28)

Was I dreaming? Could this be real? After so much has happened could I actually be getting married? Could it possibly live up to expectations? After all, I'd been dreaming about this day since I was a little girl and even written stories about my fantasy wedding. I had everything planned down to the smallest detail - or so I thought.

1. Wedding Dreams

The most beautiful white wedding dress, a church filled with friends and family, flowers everywhere, a giant extravagant wedding cake, the sun shining brightly overhead, a large wedding party, beaming parents and grandparents seated proudly in the front row... what girl doesn't dream of the day she gets married from the time she sees her first wedding? How many bridal magazines are bought every day by girls without even a boyfriend at the time just so they can fantasize about being the beautiful bride on the cover?

As for me, I had kept a box filled with all my ideas and plans that had grown from a small shoebox to a much larger version over the years. It included invitations and programs from weddings I'd either attended or been a part of in the past. (Yes, I had been the proverbial "always a bridesmaid, never a bride" for many years with the ugly dresses in the closet to prove it.) Clippings from magazines, newspaper articles I'd read, advertising materials from caterers, florists, and chauffeurs; it all made it to the dream box I kept in my bedroom while growing up. Over the years the type of service, indoors versus outdoors, the dress, flowers, colors of the bridesmaid dresses - and styles, it all changed based on my mood and the state of my life at the time. One thing never changed - the moment I said "I do".

So as I entered the second quarter century of my life I had just about everything I needed for the wedding except to one teenie weenie little detail - the groom. All through high school and college I was never lacking for boyfriends but they were really more boys who were friends than anyone I wanted to marry. Like so many girls I'd had a HUGE crush on my first boyfriend and even though I was just fourteen at the time, I knew as certain as the sun rises in the east that I'd met the guy I would marry someday. He was my first - and only, for months after we first did it as I couldn't imagine giving myself to anyone else but my future husband. You can just imagine how shocked I was when he told me that he was moving away to the west coast, leaving me despondent and convinced I would die an old maid. I want even fifteen yet but was convinced that love had passed me by.

I'll let the psychoanalysts make the call but if I'm honest with myself then maybe it was this feeling of loss and despair that led me to become the class slut. Heck, I think I qualified eventually as the SCHOOL slut although my younger cousin gave me a run for the title. Once I realized how much guys wanted me and the lengths to which they would go to have me it became like an addiction. It didn't hurt that I LOVED sex. It also helped that my parents, especially my mother, encouraged me to act out my dreams and fantasies. She even convinced my gynecologist to put me on the pill when I was fourteen. Mom wasn't the only one interested in my sexual exploits. Both of my parents went out of their way to make it easy for me to bring guys home rather than having to hide in the backseat of some car. I suppose them being able to peek in and watch didn't hurt either.

Still, there's a BIG difference between enjoying being with a guy for sex and wanting to live your life with him. While I did have a few guys I got closer to, something always seemed to get in the way. At the end of my senior year I thought I had finally met "the one" only to find that once I left for a college that was hours away and thus he couldn't fuck me whenever he wanted that he dropped me like a hot stone. It taught me a valuable lesson in that I became a bit cynical as I realized the lengths that guys would go to and how they would say just about anything to get in my pants. So far as I was concerned, when they said "I love you" it was really just another way of saying "I want to fuck you".

A few years ago I finally met him, the guy I just KNEW I wanted to marry. Duane was everything I'd dreamed of, or so it seemed, and I was totally convinced that he was the going to propose at any moment. As much as I was excited about the upcoming event, I was also nervous in that Duane didn't know anything about my incestuous background. Would he understand that as my father's daughter I had duties and responsibilities that were just as important as my future duties as a wife and mother? Would he object to my relationships with other members of my family? Could he ever truly comprehend the love and closeness that I had with my family because of incest when he had never been exposed to it before and only knew what he saw in the newspapers and 20/20 episodes??

Rather than come right out and tell him, I decided to introduce him one step at a time. At the time I was heavily influenced by my mother's belief that adultery was a cardinal sin and a violation of the Ten Commandments. Thus once I was married, sex outside my immediate family would be out of the question. However, that also meant for my future husband that he would be free to enjoy the women in my family - so long as it was someone in my family and NOT just any girl off the street. After all, incest is NOT adultery since it stays within my marriage family. (Just a note - since then my parents have divorced and I now consider adultery to be the act of CHEATING on your spouse, not just having sex with other people.)

So I told Duane about my Aunt Linda and cousin Kristen who had slept together since their husband and father had divorced them just a couple of years after Kristen was born. I figured if Duane could deal with THAT bit of information then maybe I could tell him about mom and my father. Besides, I knew he wanted to have sex with them both anyway and this was basically giving him permission to do so.

Another lesson learned and this was a hard one. Duane did NOT react well to the news and before it was over I lost my job and what looked to be my entire teaching career. It was only the intervention of my father that salvaged anything. What he said to Duane that night neither of them ever told me but at least it stopped things in their tracks before they got any worse. Still, it took years to repair the damage - both to my career and to my heart.

Then my fairy tale fantasies came true. Imagine my surprise the day in church when Steve tapped me on the shoulder and I turned to see my old boyfriend had returned! As it turned out, my original prediction regarding him from back when we first dated came true. How many girls can say that the first guy they had sex with, the first guy they thought they would marry, would actually BE the one they married?

After the Duane incident, perhaps the scariest time for me was the day I told Steve about me and my dad. Unlike what I did with Duane, I came out and just spilled everything. It was a little easier as Steve was not entirely a stranger to incest. Once when we dated his mother caught us having sex and one thing led to another. Although they both claim nothing like that ever happened again, they were a lot closer than your average son and mother. Seeing them kissing and cuddling made me wonder about them at first, especially when the fondling got hot and heavy but it was always over their clothes and never went any further than that.

Steve actually didn't believe me at first, assuming it was another practical joke like the ones I enjoyed playing on him. I guess I couldn't really blame him but the only way to convince him was to show him. Well, THAT settled the issue and the next day he proposed to me so I was glad I hadn't waited any longer. While we both have agreed that what goes on between me and my dad stays between me and my dad, he didn't hesitate when it came to taking advantage of the situation. Surprisingly to me, it was my Aunt Linda that he was most attracted to and then my own mother. For a guy who has a fetish for younger girls, for whatever reason he likes the older ones when it comes to my family.

So after a nine month engagement, the moment was almost here. Everything was in place and there wasn't a whole lot left to do at this point. The previous night we'd had our rehearsal and dinner which went off splendidly. One thing I did take note of was that even though I thought I had everything planned down to the smallest detail, there were still a few surprises. For instance, I hadn't figured that less than ten minutes after arriving that my dad's oldest brother would be doing me in the coat room. I also hadn't even had the slightest idea that my cousin would be doing the groom and his brother between the rehearsal and dinner. Looking back it shouldn't have surprised me but who can predict everything?

Without a doubt the biggest surprise was when I learned that Jim and Sharon, Steve's younger siblings, also had sex during the rehearsal dinner. Now THAT really shocked me as I had no idea that sort of thing was going on and I couldn't wait to corner Sharon later to find out more about it. I knew she had a crush on her older brother back in high school but never once had she hinted about any longings for her younger brother.

Now it was August 27th, the day that would forever more be on my calendar as my wedding anniversary. I woke in the morning groggy and sleepy. Ideally I would've had a good night's sleep but when my cousin gets in bed with me it's not like either of us can just turn on our sides and ignore the other. In the end it turned out to be a great way to spend our last night together as roomies. Certainly there would be other nights but never again as two single cousins. Actually I didn't even remember falling asleep as somewhere along the line I just became so exhausted that I more or less passed out in the middle of things.

I was the first to wake and I laid there motionless, enjoying the feel of Kristen's warm nude body snuggled up against mine. Somehow or another I'd ended up on my back with Kristen laying on her side, one leg draped over me and an arm over my chest with her head resting on my shoulder. My left arm was under her head and I reached down and felt her bare butt, running my fingers lightly along the curve of her hips. She stirred at my touch but didn't wake; if anything she just seemed to press in tighter against me. I had to wiggle under her just a little to get comfortable and as I did I felt her smooth crotch pressing in tight against my upper thigh. Mmmmmmm, I wished I was the one on top right now as I knew where my head would have been before long.

Reaching over with my right hand, I gently stroked my cousin's hair away from her face. She looked so peaceful and innocent when she was asleep, not a hint of the sexuality she had oozed just a few hours earlier. Reaching down, I adjusted my boob under her as hers pressed down against it. My pussy tingled as I remembered how good her mouth had felt on me and how badly I wanted her again.

I've been with a number of women over my lifetime although only a small fraction compared to the number of guys. Unlike guys, who I'm willing to have fun with regardless of who they are, I tend to lean towards the women in my life I know and am comfortable with when it comes to sex. Even then it's a world of difference having sex with a girlfriend as compared to being with your mother or cousin. There's a sense of intimacy that just can't be matched when you're with someone you've literally known all your life. Neither Kristen or I had a sibling so we pretty much grew up as sisters more than cousins. With her mother being divorced, sometimes it seemed that they spent more time at our house than their own. Of course it didn't hurt that my aunt loved sex with my dad even though I didn't know about THAT until I was having sex with him myself.

As my fingers ran slowly up Kristen's bare back and then back down to her cute little butt, my other hand gently touched the sides of her perky boob and then I carefully squeezed my fingers under it so they were between our boobs, allowing me to cup her breast in my hand and slowly massage it. God her breast felt so good in my hand and I loved the way the back of my hand felt against my own hardening nipple. Apparently she liked it as well as she stirred again and I saw her eyes start to flicker open.

"Good morning sweetie," I greeting her softly, twisting my body so we were now facing each other on the bed. I put my arm around her and pulled her in tightly to me, pressing my leg in between hers and pushing it up tight into her crotch. Her pussy felt so warm against the top of my leg and I moved it just enough to rub her gently. Our boobs rubbed p against each other and I could feel my nipples move against hers.

"Mmmmmmm, that feels so good," her first words came out. She had her eyes closed again but I knew she wasn't sleeping anymore as I felt her arch her back and press herself in tighter against my leg. Then she started to slowly hump against me, rubbing her pussy on me.

"Fuck I'm so damn horny," she whispered under breath as she humped against me more. Well, so much for getting out of bed early!

Later as I showered all I could think about was the upcoming events! So far the day had started out perfectly. While I hadn't planned on 69'ing my cousin before even getting out of bed, it was definitely a good omen for the day to come. Like the day was barely underway and already I'd cum twice!

2. Getting Ready

Fortunately I'd woke with enough time to get the morning started right with my cousin as we were both due at the salon by 8:30. Ever mindful of her duties, my Maid of Honor was calling me a half hour beforehand to make sure my alarm had gone off. Hillary was 40 years old and a good friend of mine. We taught together as a team at the small Christian school where I teach. Hillary and I had become quite close over the past year or so and it just felt right to ask her. It also gave me a bit of an excuse for not choosing any of my friends over the other when it came to the MOH thing. Some decision are just impossible to make and I never claimed to be Solomon

My other bridesmaids were going to be Beth – my absolute BFF who I think was a bit disappointed not to be the MOH but she dealt with it nicely. Then there was Brenda, my freshman year college roomie who also had the distinction of being my first lesbian experience (I don't count my mom and aunt as that was family). Samantha is probably best known to people who read my diary as the girl who got me to try sex with her dog. Nancy was also one of my longtime good friends, best known for her obsession with Truth or Dare. Finally there was Carrie, a close friend of Kristen with whom I'd spent quite a few fun times with. I decided NOT to include any relatives in my bridal party just so I wouldn't hurt anybody's feelings. Even so, I still invited Kristen and my other cousin Tammy to join us for the preparations. Sharon was also invited. I probably should have included her as a bridesmaid but to be honest I wasn't even 100% sure she would make the wedding until I actually saw her at the rehearsal.

The colors for my wedding were pink and grey. The bridesmaid dresses were pink with grey trim while the groomsmen would wear grey suits with white shirts, pink vests and pink ties. When we got our nails done I stuck with just simple light pink nails with light grey tips. We all had them done the same of course, but when it came to hair it was every girl for herself!

With all the hustle and bustle of the rehearsal, this was the first time I actually got to spend some time alone with Sharon. It had been years since we had been together yet it seemed like just yesterday when we were young teenagers dealing as best we could with our erupting hormones. As was the case with all my friends at that age, we never actually touched one another but we did masturbate sometimes when we got especially hot talking about some guy we knew. Once I started dating her brother most of those times revolved around me telling her the latest dirt on what Steve and I had done. Perhaps I should have felt guilty for teasing her when I knew how badly she wanted her brother for herself but I never did.

After what had happened the previous night, or at least what I assumed had happened between her and her younger brother, I couldn't wait to get her off to the side for a few minutes. With so many of us crammed into the salon, privacy was not easily found but eventually we managed to get a few moments when we could be relatively alone.

"OK girl, spill it," I demanded as we sat on two chairs facing one another.

"Why Kelly, what in the world are you talking about?" she replied coyly, pretending to be clueless. For a moment she tried to appear serious but then she couldn't contain herself anymore and broke out into a huge grin. "OK, so what can I say? I know it must freak you out to think of me having sex with my brother but don't knock it 'til you try it."

I almost burst out laughing. Wow, if she only knew! Still, I didn't give her any clue as to my own history of incest. Talk about don't knock it 'til you try it, she had no idea!

"So how... I mean when did this all start?" I stammered, pretending to be flustered somewhat.

Sharon quickly gave me a rundown about how after they had moved to California. It seemed like everyone was stuck up and with Sharon being a little on the heavy side back then the guys wouldn't talk to her so her younger brother came to her defense. Not bad for an eighth grader considering how immature he had been when they were in Pittsburgh. She said that Steve just ignored her all the more now that he wasn't dating her best friend anymore so it was just natural for her and Jim to grow closer. Finally one day when she was upset about not being invited to a dance it happened. She said she felt incredibly guilty afterwards and a little bit dirty but she couldn't stop herself and so their relationship deepened.

We didn't have much more time but she mentioned that it got pretty tense when her mom found out. Apparently she came home early one day and caught the two of them in her bed and all hell had broken out. Still, they refused to stop despite her demands and eventually her mom and Steve just ignored them so long as they didn't do it in front of anyone.

"So you guys have sex all the time still?" I asked, trying to sound incredulous at the stunning news.

"Oh yeah. I even think we might move somewhere new where people don't know us and get married," she gushed.

Now THAT did make my jaw drop. I'm a firm believer in the potential benefits of incest when done in the proper setting but to MARRY your own brother? It was something I would never have even considered in a fantasy. Marriage would mean having kids and although I know of people who do that, it wasn't something I would ever do myself. People have asked me if I would ever have my father's child and my answer has always been a vehement NO. (Of course, the fact he got a vasectomy after my mom's difficult birth with me made the whole point rather moot.)

That was all we had time for, leaving me with a thousand more questions that I hoped to have time for later. With us leaving for our honeymoon the morning after the wedding I wondered if Sharon and I would have any time as the schedule was pretty stuffed as it was. Sitting back in the salon chair I tried to digest the new information. It certainly helped me to understand a few things better, such as why neither Steve or his mom liked to discuss the topic of incest. It also helped me to understand why even though they each obviously had carnal desires for the other neither of them was willing to cross the line - although they certainly pushed it about as far as they could.

It was interesting to see the difference in how people react to such situations. In a perfect world the relationship between Sharon and Jim would have paved the way for the rest of their family to become involved but in the real world, it actually accomplished the opposite. I wondered if the two of them had not started having sex if Steve and his mom would have gone on to the next step. Oh well, that was the way it was but it made me feel better to finally understand a situation that had baffled me for the past year or so.

There's just something about spending the morning, lunch, and then the afternoon with friends and family doing fun things like nails, makeup and hair that just makes you feel special. I looked in the mirror when all was said and done and I wanted to cry. It had been ages since I'd been doted on this way and I loved the way the girl had done my hair, exactly the way it looked in the magazine photo I'd shown her. I felt like a princess ready for her royal wedding. Well, the country club may not be Buckingham Palace but it was MY wedding this time and because of that it was going to be the most special one ever.

3. One Last Time With My Dad

We arrived at the country club a couple of hours before the wedding. Special rooms had been set aside for the wedding party with the guys off somewhere in theirs and all us girls in our own. I never did see where the guys were. For that matter we hadn't seen any of them all day. Steve had mentioned something about some massive video game tournament so I left him to do his thing while I had my day with my girls.

The room was decked out with flowers and ribbons. Someone had brought in a portable player and had their phone or whatever hooked up to play music. There was a table of finger foods which I tried to stay away from as the last thing I needed was to spill something on me or stain my fingers or dirty a nail. In the far corner was my wedding dress, hanging up waiting for me. I LOVED my dress. After all the ones I'd tried on it was the one that I knew was the perfect one the moment I looked in the mirrors. I still tried on some others but once I'd seen it I was just going through the motions. My aunt made sure the price tags were hidden so I never did find out exactly what it cost after the alterations but from the way my dad teased me I got the idea it wasn't exactly cheap. Oh well, it's something you only buy once and even though you only wear it for a few hours it's the memories that last a lifetime.

The photographers were everyone it seemed. There were three guys with cameras and one with a video recorder. The head guy was giving directions to the other three who pretty much stayed in the background taking shots of everyone else while he pretty much focused on me. My mom was with me the whole time for emotional support while my aunt hovered, keeping track of all the details. I wore just a robe while the girls all changed into their gowns and then they left, leaving just me and my mom with the head photographer.

I saw my mom talking to the photographer as I sat in a chair next to my gown, waiting for her instructions. She and the photographer were apparently discussing the shots she wanted with her doing all the talking and him just nodding his head with a serious expression. I'd never met the guy until the rehearsal the previous night and even then, we hadn't exchanged anything more than what it took to get the shots he wanted. He was actually quite handsome, probably in his late thirties or early forties if I had to guess. He wore black everything - black pants, a black t-shirt, black shoes and socks. I couldn't help but smile as he looked just as I imagined a cat burglar might dress before a heist.

"OK, I think we're ready now," my mom announced as the two of them approached me, "Let's take a few first for your special album, what do you say?"

We had talked in the past about the photos I wanted for my wedding. Of course I wanted all the usual shots but I also wanted to have something special that I could share with my husband after the wedding. Although he wasn't allowed to be anywhere near me now, I wanted him to be able to see the preparations for the wedding someday.

I stood up and she got in behind me and helped me remove the robe. I was nude underneath and while I assumed my mom had this all worked out with the photographer, I was still pleased to see his eyes widen just a little and then he regained his professional demeanor and got busy with the camera. As he took an almost continuous series of shots (isn't digital photography just the best thing ever invented?) I dropped the robe behind me into my mother's arms and stood there posing nude for the camera.

I got the idea quickly that this was not his first experience with erotic photography as he immediately began giving me direction for how to pose. These were not just porn shots but more what I would call erotic photography. Yes, I was nude but still there was a feeling of good taste about every shot. There actually was very little that was sexy per se in that he didn't have me touch myself in any blatant way. It was more like he was trying to tell a story in photos, of a girl preparing herself for her upcoming wedding, gazing out the window, holding a photo of my fiance, checking out my wedding dress.

After he had taken the nudes my mom stepped in to help me get dressed. I sat down in the chair as she put on my garter. If the photographer had any thoughts about how she caressed my bare leg in the process he kept them to himself but he had to have sense of how close my mother and I were and I just hoped he was managing to capture those feelings in the photos he was shooting.

Again, if the guy had any questions about me not putting on any panties as my mom helped me with my dress he kept those to himself as well. That was one thing I'd decided long ago. There was no way I was going to be wearing anything under there for when my husband got down to retrieve the garter. Plus there was the naughty feeling it was already giving me to know I would be standing in front of all those people completely bare ass under my dress.

Finally I was encased in the dress. What I mean is a wedding dress is NOT something you just slip on and off, at least not the one I chose. There were enough ties, snaps, and hooks to make it more like a strait jacket. Once on, it wasn't coming off again until the night was over! I looked in the mirror and again it was all I could do to keep the tears at bay so as not to ruin my makeup. My mom looked at me and I could see her over my shoulder behind me in the mirror, She was beaming. Indeed, her little girl was about to get married.

"You look stunning," my mom said, her voice choking up a bit as well as her emotions seemed to be about to get the better of her. I wanted to kiss her and hug her but that would have to wait.

"I love you mom," was all I could get out.

"I love you too baby," she replied. Then she shooed out the photographer and it was just the two of us for the moment.

"I need to go take care of something," she said cryptically. "But I know someone wants to see you right about now."

She was beaming and while I wasn't exactly sure what she needed to do, I had a pretty good idea of who she was talking about when it came to being with me. There was just one man in the world right now I wanted to see – my father.

She gave me a peck on the cheek and walked out from the room. I turned to look out the window which overlooked the putting green where the ceremony was to take place. Everything looked wonderful. My heart about burst as I thought about how so many people had worked so hard to make this day perfect for me. I looked down and saw Steve with his guys. The windows were tinted and with the sun as it was I knew he couldn't see me. He looked SOOOOOO handsome. It was hard to believe that in just an hour or so he was going to be my husband, my soul mate and partner for life.

Just then I heard the door opening behind me. I stood there silently, listening to the approaching footsteps as my heart rate climbed.

"Wow... You are the most beautiful sight I have ever seen."

I turned and smiled at my father. He looked so handsome! He was wearing the same style suit as Steve and the groomsmen. For a moment we just stood there a few feet apart, a father and his adoring daughter just minutes before her marriage. This was to be the last time I would be with him this way. Forever more I would still be his daughter, but I would also be another man's wife. This moment was so special as it was the last time I would be just his.

"I love you so much daddy, thank you so much for everything," I said, my voice breaking as I was barely able to contain my tears.

He stepped forward and put his arms around me, holding me tightly against him. I felt so protected, so safe in his arms. All my life this was the man I'd turned to when I needed protection. He was the one man who never betrayed me, never failed to be there when I needed him. Everything I had I owed to him.

"I love you too Kelly," he whispered to me. I could tell he was feeling as emotional as I was.

"Show me daddy.. show me one last time how much you love me."

Indeed, that was what I wanted more than anything else at this particular moment. It is important to note that I did not ask him to "prove" his love to me as I would never question my father's love for his only daughter. It was more the symbolic nature that counted. Words can only go so far before actions are needed. While my dad has told me more times than I could ever count how much he cares for me and loves me, when I feel him inside of me it takes me to an entirely higher level. Not only does it demonstrate his love and respect for me, but it is also a symbol of his lust for me which has supported me through those days when I felt ugly or unwanted. To have your own father desire you in the most intimate manner he can express is something that I can never fully express. Only a girl who has felt herself mated with her father, to feel her body joined with him and then to feel him moving deep inside of her can truly understand my desires at that moment.

"I would do anything for you baby," he whispered to me, "Just tell me what you want."

Of course he knew what I wanted, that wasn't the point. It wasn't the same "want" I feel when Steve is about to fuck me, and nothing like the urge I get when I am about to be taken by someone whom I've never met before. This was something special, something unique, something I could never share with any other man in the entire world because only one man is my father.

"Make love to me daddy," I said ever so softly.

At that I saw tears begin to stream from his face. For the first time in my life I asked my father no to just fuck me but instead to make love to me. It was not something that came easily to my lips. Indeed, the only man I ever intended to make love to me was to be my husband. Anyone else, no matter who he might be, could only "fuck" me. To be honest, I think I was as shocked as he was to hear those words as I had never dreamed or planned to say that to him. Indeed, whenever I fantasized about this moment the words were always along the lines of, "Fuck me daddy, fuck your little girl before she gets married."

"Oh baby, you have no idea how much that means to me," he said in a voice hoarse with emotion.

With that I turned around and twisted the chair around so that I was holding onto the back of it for support, facing the large window so that I could see the people assembling for the upcoming ceremony. The chairs were already three-quarters filled and more people were waiting to be seated by the ushers. As I watched I leaned forward and felt my dad raising up the back of my wedding gown. It wasn't quite as simple as flipping up a miniskirt and I could only imagine how it was bunched up on my back. Then I felt his large hand on my bare bottom as his dick pressed into my exposed butt.

A sigh escaped my lips as I felt his erection pressing against my welcoming pussy. He had his hand around his hard shaft, sliding it up and down my wet pussy slit. I gasped as he rubbed the head against my sensitive clit and then teasing the opening of my wet pussy with it.

"This is just for you baby," he whispered as I felt him penetrate me. Oh god, he did it soooooo slowly. It was like he wanted to savor every moment he could as he ever so slowly pushed himself inside of me. Inch by inch I felt his dick sliding into me, filling me more and more as he went.

4. The Ceremony

No sooner had my dad gotten his pants back together and I had my gown back in order was there a knock on the door. Thank god we were done as I hadn't realized it had been unlocked! In came Hillary without waiting for anyone to answer but then why should she have worried about privacy? After all, so far as she knew it was just me and my dad exchanging a few last words. I could only imagine if she had even the slightest clue that even now I could feel my father's incestuous cum threatening to drain from my pussy. No doubt my teaching position at a strict Christian school would have vaporized.

"Is someone ready to get married?" she called out gleefully as my dad stepped out of the room as inconspicuously as he could. Hillary helped gather my train and we worked our way out to the area where the wedding party was gathered.

My dad had joined my mother as it was about their turn to be escorted down the aisle to their seats. My grandparents on my dad's side were already seated and I saw my grandmother from my mother's side was being led down to her seat as the music played. Then came the parents and I watched with pride as my mom and dad took their sets in the front row. Steve led his best man and groomsmen in and then one by one my bridesmaids walked in holding their bouquets. Everything was set now. This was the moment I'd always dreamed of.

The music changed to "Here comes the Bride" and everyone stood and turned to watch us make our entrance. A number of people had tried to talk me into something more non-traditional for my processional music but as tradition-bound as I was, there was really no other option no matter how corny it may sound.

I could hear the crowd murmuring as my dad led me across the grass and then slowly down the aisle. I felt like I was in a fairy tale and all this was somehow just a dream. Any worries I might have had about tripping from my heels digging into the turf disappeared as it was like I was floating on air the entire way. Everyone was smiling and I could hear them saying what a beautiful dress I was wearing. I felt so proud I thought I might burst!

As I stood there holding onto my dad's arm and the minister opened with a prayer, it was like I was in some sort of time warp and everything was happening in slow motion except me. Memories came flooding back to me of my childhood and how me and my parents were always doing things together. I thought about all the boys I'd had sex with during school and how I doubted any of them ever thought I was make it to this point in my life. I looked at my friends and family and thanked god for blessing me with the most wonderful people in the world.

I also said a little prayer thanking god for long wedding dresses as I felt my dad's cum seeping from my pussy and down the inner part of my thigh. There was absolutely nothing I could do about it so I just had to try and not think about it – not nearly as easy as that may sound. Of course I COULD have worn panties but then I would not have been able to feel his cum dripping from me and that has always been part of my dream for my perfect wedding.

The ceremony was short and simple. Rather than some long song I had arranged for a short bible reading by one of my cousins. Being it was outdoors we knew candles were a bad idea so instead of a union candle we used two different colors of sand which we poured together into a single vase to symbolize the blending of our lives. When it came time for our vows we did the usual "till death do us part" thing but then we each read own vows as well. For me, I reached back and Hillary slipped a rolled up scroll into my hand which I then made a show of unfurling all six feet of it or so. The crowd laughed as I started reading which turned out to be probably the lengthiest part of the entire ceremony by the time I reached the end of the scroll. When it was Steve's turn he reached inside his suit and pulled out his iPhone, again sending ripples of laughter through the crowd. His words were considerably shorter but that was to be expected.

Then it was time. The minister pronounced us man and wife and told Steve he could kiss me. Rather than lean towards him, instead I arched my back and leaned toward Hillary who had a small bottle of mouthwash ready for me. One spritz and then I turned back to Steve and we made out like lovers, tongue and all. For a moment I forgot about everyone else as all I felt was my new husband's lips on mine as my dad's cum drained further down my leg. The minister couched politely and reluctantly we parted as everyone clapped and cheered for us.

It was over. I was married!

5. Consummating the Marriage

After what seemed to be hours of pictures (but really maybe no more than thirty minutes) the wedding party made its triumphal entrance into the country club ballroom and the party began. The food looked delicious but honestly it was about the last thing on my mind at that moment. We hadn't hardly even sat down before the glasses were tinkling and we repeated out first kiss - a gesture repeated MANY times as the night wore on.

Over the years I'd spent many a night masturbating as I fantasized about my reception party. In my more vivid dreams I fucked every man in the room as the bride laid on the table and opened her legs for one and all to have a share. Of course those were just fantasies but it still would have been pretty hot. There were a couple of things that I wanted to happen, regardless of which scenario came true. First, my marriage Would be consummated before we left the reception. Second, each of us would fuck at least one of the other's bridal party.

The only thing is I hadn't mentioned that last one to any of my girls and I wondered if Steve had anyone prepared on his side of the table. For me, the choice was simple. There was only one girl I would even think of sharing with Steve on this night and that would be my very best friend Beth. As the only girlfriend of mine that had been fucked by my dad, it seemed only fitting she be the only one to fuck my new husband as well.

The first hour or so everything was so busy that there was no chance whatsoever for Steve and I to spend any time in private, let alone have sex. Between the meal, the cake cutting and the garter and bouquet ceremonies it was all a whirlwind to me.

When it came time for the garter ceremony, Steve and I had something special worked out that turned out really well. Unknown to anyone but Beth and Kristen, when it was time I made a quick entrance and sat down as fast as I could before anyone could see that I was waddling. I had my dress hitched up just enough to get it off the floor. My heels were ditched and I was wearing white flip-slops which were a LOT more comfortable and easier to get around in.

The DJ started the music and Steve came out on the dance floor like a proud peacock. His friends cheered him on until suddenly he dove and slid on his stomach right under my dress. Then he slipped out but instead of holding my garter he had small plastic wrench! Everyone laughed and in he went again, this time coming out with a lint brush. That was followed by successive trips resulting in items scattered all over the dance floor as everyone got into it and started debating what he would come out with next.

Finally he got serious and I swear half of him was buried under my dress. This was no reach under the dress and blindly follow the leg up to the garter thing like at every other wedding I'd intended. Fortunately the previous acts made the whole thing light-hearted and so people weren't offended by what could otherwise have been interpreted as being somewhat risque. Steve made a big showing of pushing out on my dress as he reached my garter which I had almost all the up to my crotch. What people didn't know was that he had on hand on my leg while the other was poking up my pussy! I let out a started shriek as two fingers went up inside of me and everyone laughed, thinking I was just faking being shocked by whatever he was doing under there. Expect for a few people, I doubt any of them had the slightest clue what was really going on underneath.

Steve merged triumphantly with my garter as I feigned embarrassment but nobody could have known how horny I was at that moment. God, I could have jumped Steve right then and there in front of everyone!

The groomsmen gathered to catch the garter and while they were lining up, Steve leaned over to me and said in a voice low enough that nobody else could hear, "The one who catches it is the one, got it?"

Oh my god, so THAT was how he was playing it. From the way the guys were positioning themselves and looking at me I had to wonder if he hadn't already told them about his plan. No doubt most of them probably thought he was just teasing them with a plan that bordered on being bad taste but then you never know.

In any case, Steve released my garter like a rubber band over his shoulder and the line surged forward as the guys practically fought to get it. At one point I thought they tear it to pieces and then what would THAT have meant - would I have had to fuck every guy that had even the smallest piece of my garter?

As luck would have it some guy caught it that I didn't know. He was one of Steve's buddies from out in California that had flown in for the ceremony. Steve had introduced me to all his guys at one point but it had just been a quick meet and greet and I had never even had a one-to-one conversation with him. Hmmmmmm, did he know about the arrangement Steve had made with me? Well, judging by the look and wink he gave me after catching the garter he must have.

With that it was time for the bride to dance with her father. As my dad took me in his arms I once again thought about how it had felt to have his cum in me during the ceremony. By now I'd cleaned up but the memories were still fresh. Too bad there couldn't be a father-daughter fuck instead! Steve and his mom danced next and as I watched them I wondered how many people knew what willpower they were exhibiting to keep their hands off each other's private parts! Hmmm, what would have people thought about the most - a father fucking his daughter or a mother being groped by her son? So much for the scheduled events. The rest of the evening was spent socializing, drinking and dancing. I stuck with Diet Coke and I gave Steve the evil eye when I thought he was going past his limit on the beer. He had a lot to do before the night was over and the last thing I wanted was him passing out before he'd fulfilled his responsibilities.

That left just two things on my "to do" list. The first thing had to be the consummation of our marriage. While I knew Steve had no objections to me having sex with other men after we were married, the FIRST guy to fuck me once I had the ring had to be hymn, no questions asked. As it was turning out, this was not as easy as it sounded. It was like we were never left alone more than a minute or two. I couldn't even go to the bathroom without an escort! Of course I really did need one to deal with the dress but you get the point. The question in my mind was becoming how were we going to do this?

Then it hit me. One of the things the wedding planner had arranged for was a photo booth. People could go in and have four shots taken of them in various poses, something like the photo booths you see in stores and other places. It even produced the same four photos on a single piece of photo paper. It was all done automatically. The only thing the guy running it had to do was put the printed photos in a plastic casing and run it though a machine that heated and sealed it. I had no idea it was going to be there until someone mentioned it and showed me the photos they had taken. Instantly I knew it was exactly what I was looking for - private yet almost public. We would only have a few minutes but the point wasn't to have a long love-making exercise but just to get his dick in me enough to seal the marriage.

There was a long line but one nice thing about it being MY wedding was that I got head-of-the-line privileges to everything. I grabbed Steve away from some guys he was talking to and told him what I had in mind. He just shook his head but he knew better than to argue with me. Hmmm, at least he was being a good husband from the start!

On the way I grabbed Kristen and filled her in quickly. As Steve and I cut in line to be the next inside, she worked her way to behind the guy working the booth where she would be sure he didn't see the ones of me and Steve, at least not the more private ones.

The couple ahead of us exited from behind the curtain and Steve and I ducked inside. There was barely enough room to maneuver as the mechanical voice welcomed us and instructed us on what was about to happen. Thankfully Steve was already hard from anticipation. I turned sideways to the camera as Steve lifted my dress up and over my back, quickly pulling down his pants as the voice counted down. He barely had his dick our and with it close to my ass when the flash went and photo number one was taken. The next one had his dick in me as did the third and for the fourth I turned quickly and took him in my mouth Justin time before the final flash went off.

Knowing people would want to see the results, I poked my head out an apologized, saying the first ones messed up and we had to do another set. These were more serious and soon our turn was over and we exited from behind the curtain. My pussy was tingling from being teased for those few seconds Steve had fucked me but the deed was done. NOW we were officially married.

Kristen had spirited away the first set of photos and a sleeve, allowing the guy running the booth to return to process the second batch. From the look he was giving us I had the idea that he had a pretty good feeling about what had been going on inside the booth between Steve and I. Oh well, let him fantasize. We were about to leave when Steve's face suddenly had this look of shock and he turned back to the guy running the booth. I couldn't hear them talking but then the guy w doing something on the computer with Steve watching carefully over his shoulder. The photo guy's face lit up and I saw Steve grab his arm a bit forcibly upon which the photo guy did something on the keyboard which made Steve happier.

"What was that all about?" I asked him.

Steve just pointed to a sign and I about burst out laughing. It said that a DVD of all the photos taken could be ordered and mailed to your home. Oh my god, imagine if those four pics we had taken had stayed on the guy's computer!

With our marriage sealed it was time for the two of to work on the second half of my list of things to get done at the reception. I'd already discussed this with Beth the last time she was at my house and she had been so turned on by the idea that we ended up in bed together - something that didn't happen between us except on special occasions. Thus I had no worries that she and Steve would find a time and place to get it done. For me it was a different story. I didn't even know this guy so how was I supposed to get him to fuck me? Heck, I wasn't even sure that he would do me.

"Could you at least introduce us again?" I asked Steve, nodding towards his friend who was wearing the garter on his arm like an old-time barkeeper. Steve grinned at me and agreed but before we reached him I grabbed his arm and pulled his ear down to me again. "So does he know the arrangement?"

Steve grinned at me and nodded. Seeing the curiosity on my face, he pulled me to the side and quickly explained. Apparently he had been to another wedding where the same sort of deal had been arranged. Yes, it was this guy's wedding. So he was married to boot!

"So you fucked his wife the night of their wedding?" I asked.

"Yeah, it was pretty wild," he smirked. "So that's why I made sure he got the garter. I owe the guy Kelly."

With that he introduced me to Kory who shook my hand and leered at me like some drunken pervert. From the looks of the bottles on the table around him, no doubt I had him dead to rights on both counts.

By now the crowd was thinning so it was easier to sneak off for a few minutes without everyone's eyes on me. I looked to Steve for any help but he just grinned and kissed me, whispering in my ear, "You're on your own this time Kelly." Then he walked off, apparently to check up on the whereabouts of Beth.

Had I been any other girl there it would have been pretty easy to slip out unnoticed and do it about anywhere. Heck for all I knew people had been doing it all night in the best of wedding reception tradition. However, wearing a billowing white dress made it rather hard to go incognito! The photo booth had been fine for what Steve and I wanted to accomplish but I imaged Kory had more I mind than just a five second fuck.

"Come on, I've been checking the place out and I know the perfect spot," he said, motioning me to follow him. We made our way out and he turned down a hallway and opened the second door on the right. It was some sort of office, from the looks of it maybe the clubhouse manager. In any case it was dark and deserted, perfect for what we needed.

Kory turned on a small desk lamp that barely broke the darkness and then locked the door behind us. Turning to me, he had that look of a lion about to pounce on its prey. Leaning towards me, he reached forward as if to kiss me but I pulled away, leaving him a bit surprised.

"What the fuck?" he complained.

I'll suck your dick and you can fuck me but no kissing, got it?" I said forcefully, leaving no room for negotiation.

He had been drinking and I don't like kissing drunks but that was secondary. Being fucked was just sex but kissing him felt a lot more intimate and on the evening of my marriage, the only man I wanted to be intimate with was my new husband.

Kory shrugged his shoulders. I suppose in his mind he was getting the better end of the deal in the first place so who was he to argue?

"Well, let's get to it then, shall we?" he said, undoing his belt and then pulling down his pants and underwear. I wasn't left with many options as there was no way the dress was coming off so all I could do was lift it up and out of the way as much as possible. I did so, sitting down on the desktop with my legs handing over the end as I held the dress bunched up on my lap in my arms in front of me.

"No panties... nice touch," Kory said admiringly as he stroked his already erect cock with his hand. "So tell me, was he really fingering you under there when he took off the garter?"

I just grinned which told him all he needed to know. "Damn, I figured he was just exaggerating," he said ruefully. Looks like good old Steve married himself quite a slut."

He stood in front of me with his dick poking out and so I leaned over and with my hands on the desktop to steady myself, I took his dick in my mouth without any fanfare or playing around.

"Damn, you're not just a slut, you're a cock-hungry slut," Kory laughed as I started to suck on his dick. His laughs changed to groans and moans as I worked on his dick. I only did it for a few minutes though, then I leaned back and spread my legs.

"That was sort of quick, wasn't it?" he whined.

"Are you gonna fuck me or just complain?" I said, suddenly feeling like I just wanted to get this over with. I thought of Steve and Beth and how the two of them were no doubt having quite a time at this same moment while I was stuck with this moron. Still, a deal was a deal.

"Alright, alright, you don't have to ask twice," Kory chuckled as he moved in between my legs and quickly inserted his pencil dick in me. Yeah, the guy was built like a fourteen year-old - and that's being cruel to the fourteen year- olds of the world.

He was in me and cumming in me before I hardly even realize he was fucking me. Wow, he must have been REALLY horny! He started to pull out of me as he came but I wasn't about to have my wedding dress stained with some stranger's cum so I grabbed onto him and pulled him into me as he came.

It was over and done in what had to be less than ten minutes, maybe ever closer to five. Still, even though it wasn't the best fuck I'd ever had, it was a notch in my belt so to say and something to remember as we sat around on future anniversaries.

"Stay here an count to 100 before you come out," I instructed him as I made ready to leave the room. I opened the door and thankfully nobody was watching. Making my way alone back to the reception I ran across Kristen.

"There you are! I've been looking all over for you. Where have you been?" she asked.

I held up one hand making a circle with my thumb and forefinger which using my other hand to poke a finger through the whole - the universal sign for fucking.

"But I thought Steve was with Beth?" Kristen started out and then her voice trailed off as she realized what I meant. She grinned and looked around, "OK, so who was it?"

By then Kory made it back - he must have either cheated or counted REALLY fast. I nodded towards him and Kristen's face scrunched up. "Ewwwww, him?" she asked in an unbelieving tone.

I quickly explained about the garter game rules, leaving out the part about the results being rigged. Kristen just shook her head, saying something about how I should have done someone better than him.

In the end that was all the sex I had that night. The rest of the evening was spent enjoying the company of friends and family. Everyone wanted to know where we were going on our honeymoon and my response to everyone as the same -= if they find out where then tell me. Indeed, Steve was keeping this one REALLY close to his vest so to speak. The only hint I had finally wring from him was when he checked to make sure I had my passport up to date. So I knew we would be leaving the country but I didn't have the foggiest ideas as to where.

Finally we announced our departure and left everyone to close the place down. Steve had arranged for a suite at a downtown hotel which was actually an expense he could have spared. We were both exhausted so much of the place went unexplored. We didn't even get in the giant whirlpool bath tub. It was like see how fast we could strip and get in bed where it was like we had sex for the first time!

So now I'm married... oh yeah!

6. Filling in the Gaps

As busy as things were and with all the people and events, it was impossible for me to know everything that was going on during the wedding. During our honeymoon and then in the days since I have pieced together much of what happened. As I didn't witness any of this I can only go by what people told me and even then, any details I might give would have to be made up since nobody told me any - at least not in enough detail to fabricate a story. So here are a few snippets to fill in the gaps of what went on during the wedding and subsequent reception...

First, as it turned out I wasn't the only one at the wedding bare ass under my dress with a pussy full of fresh cum. OK, so there may have been others but the one I know of specifically belonged to my mother and whose cum was more fitting to be in her than from her soon-to-be son-in-law. Yes, when my mom left the room so my dad could be with me it turned out she went straight to Steve where she offered to do what his mother should have - to let him fuck her. I'd like to say it was done out of kindness but knowing my mom she was happy to have any excuse to have Steve fuck her. How many years had I listened to her tell me how she couldn't wait for me to get married so she could have a new guy to fuck her? True, at those times we didn't know she would be divorced and then it wouldn't matter if the guy wasn't in the family yet. Then to just keep up with me, I guess, she left her panties behind in the men's dressing room. Wow, I hadn't realized that when she and my dad stood up during part of the ceremony that both mother and daughter were dripping fresh cum form someone other than their husbands.

As it turned out, not even my mother knew at the time that she wasn't the first older women that Steve had fucked that day. My Aunt, his favorite target in the months before the wedding besides me, was determined to be the first one he fucked on my wedding day so she had stopped by his house and offered her services. Fortunately Marlene was out with Sharon for breakfast or I don't know how my aunt would have explained her being there but thankfully it all worked out for the best.

Speaking of Sharon, Jim made sure to pull me aside during the reception to inform me that he and Sharon had done it just before the wedding as well. Damn, it was like everyone in our families was getting laid within a half hour of the ceremony! They had done it out in the parking lot which I would have thought to be a bit more dangerous given all the traffic but it seemed if anything that just motivated them all the more.

Afterwards I did manage to get Sharon alone for maybe two minutes, long enough to confirm her brother's boasting and for her to put in her own two cents as to how hot it was to fuck her own brother with people walking past the car - and I don't mean the 90 degree heat. She mentioned something about the four of us getting together some time but we didn't have time to finish our conversation before people broke in on us. Unfortunately I never got to follow up on that offer but I had a really good idea of what Steve's take would be and it wouldn't be pretty.

Then there was Kristen. What can I say about my ex-prostitute of a cousin? According to her she had taken three loads of cum in her pussy and two in her mouth. Two of those were from the groomsmen ranks while the rest were from guys she hooked up with during the reception. I had no reason NOT to believe her as if anything, I figured she was plenty motivated to outdo me on my own wedding day if at all possible, at least when it came to the total count.

And so just like that it was over. Years of planning, hundreds of hours of fantasizing, thousands of dollars in expenses and it was done and over with. Now it was time for the mystery to be solved. Where was Steve taking me on my honeymoon?

(Aug 30) Chapter 237: Our Honeymoon

Story codes: MF oral exhib
Me (26)
Steve - my husband (28)

Boarding the plane I was still in a daze - was I REALLY married to my high school sweetheart? Now it was time for Steve to finally reveal to me where our honeymoon was going to take place. Steve had kept it secret for as long as he could, I have to give him that. I had all sorts of potential locations in mind - Europe (Amsterdam?), Asia (Hong Kong?), maybe Las Vegas or Atlantic City?

Now that it's over what can I say? My husband did himself proud. Costa Maya in Mexico was absolutely beautiful! We visited Mayan ruins, zip-lined through the jungle, snorkeled a wreck on a deserted beach, and shopped and shopped and shopped. We almost didn't have time for sex. Well, that's a bit of an exaggeration! Note: This is one of the longest, if not THE longest diary entry I've ever written. Maybe I should have broken it up but I felt it all had to be together or it would be like a puzzle with a piece missing.

1. Day 1 - Wakeup Call

It was day two of my marriage to Steve, actually the first full day since yesterday was only about seven hours. Day two of what I hope and pray will be the start of a relationship that will indeed last, "until death do us part." While nobody gets married with the expectation of being divorced, something about this just seems so RIGHT that I just know it's going to be a lifetime thing.

I woke up Sunday morning and for just a few seconds felt totally disoriented. This wasn't my bedroom! Heck, I wasn't even alone in bed. It only lasted a few seconds before it all came flooding back. I was in a huge king-size bed in a wedding suite of a luxurious hotel in downtown Pittsburgh, lying next to my freshly-minted husband Steve. My handsome man was still lying on his back, apparently not having moved an inch since last night after I dropped off his dick and laid down next to him after our first time having sex since being married - not counting those couple of minutes in the photo booth at the reception of course.

Rubbing my eyes, I focused on the man I adored in bed next to me, still sound asleep like a baby. Looking past him at the clock on the table next to our bed I saw it was already 6:30 meaning we had to get up soon if we were going to make our 10:40 flight to... well to wherever it was we were going. After months of keeping our destination a secret tighter than the Manhattan Project, he had at least told me the flight time so that I could help to make sure we got up on time. Steve was a notorious late sleeper and there were times a fog horn could be used as an alarm clock and it wouldn't wake him. However, I DID know one way to get his attention...

Reaching over, I gently grabbed Steve's flaccid cock in my hand. It was so soft and warm, nothing at all like the hard steel pipe that had fucked me so well late last night. Since I first held one in my hand at the age of eight, a man's penis has always fascinated me. Like right now it was small and soft, flexing easily in my hand as I wrapped my fingers around it. Yet with just a little bit of work - if you can call it work, it would soon change like a caterpillar becoming an amazing butterfly. What was even more amazing that even now, with its owner sound asleep and totally unaware of what I was doing, it STILL reacted like it had a life of its own. Perhaps that's why some guys refer to it as their "little head" as indeed it did seem to do as it pleased all on its own.

Ever so gently I let his dick slip through my fingers until it dropped back onto the soft cushion of dark pubic hair underneath. Using my fingertips, I grabbed it by the base and let it slip through my hand until it flopped back down again, repeating this several times. Cocks are SO cool! Even so I couldn't imagine going through life with one of those things stuck permanently between my legs. I know what it's like trying to walk with a vibrator up my pussy and while I realize that's not a fair comparison, it still makes me cringe at the thought of having my own dick. So far as I was concerned, it was a marvelous part of God's plan that he saddled men with such devices, all for the enjoyment of women like me while they have to deal with it the rest of the time.

As expected, I noticed that even with this slightest of attention it was beginning to react as it wasn't quite as flaccid as it had been a few minutes before. Getting on my knees, I leaned over him and supported myself with my hands on the other side of him as I dropped my head down and took the tip into my mouth. Mmmmmmm, he tasted soooooo good. OK, so he was going to need a shower before we left after the exertions of the night before but for now the sweaty musk smell just reminded me of what a man I had for a husband - as if I needed reminding.

For the first minute or so I just suckled on the head of his dick like a baby on the nipple of a bottle. Ever so slowly I could feel his cock begin to change, growing a bit longer and fatter. Gingerly I took more of him into my mouth until I had his entire semi-flaccid cock past my lips. As soft and short as he was in this state he easily fit into my mouth and I could feel the coarse dark pubic hair rubbing against my face like a soft hairbrush. For a moment he stirred and I held still, not ready for him to wake yet but he didn't make any more noises so I resumed my slow blowjob.

As I said, cocks fascinate me and perhaps one of the most fascinating things is feeling them grow in my mouth. There are so many things involved at that moment and all of them hot and sexy so far as I was concerned. First, there was the simple fact that he was becoming erect because of what I was doing to him, even if he didn't consciously know it. Then there was just the erotic feel of his dick swelling and filling my mouth as if someone had an air pump attached to a balloon and stuck it in my mouth. What had fit so easily just minutes before was now tickling the back of my throat forcing my mouth to open a lot wider to take him in without scraping my teeth against him. My mom had taught me from the beginning that guys will accept about anything when it comes to a blowjob so long as you didn't scrape your teeth on him.

Mmmmmmm, what can I say, I simply LOVE sucking dick! From the first time I had done Steve back when I was fourteen until this very moment, I don't think I have ever not been excepted by the sight of a man's cock. My boobs hung down and I let my hardening nipples barely rub against his hip bone as I leaned over him to continue sucking his dick. It was just enough to tickle them and stimulate them such that they grew all the more. Although it was nothing at all of the magnitude of his dick's growth, they were still significantly larger than they'd been before I'd started this morning.

Finally Steve's dick achieved full erection status. I ran my tongue up and down the shaft, wetting him and then rubbing it with my lips from the base to the tip. Leaning over, I took him all in my mouth, the last inch or so almost gagging me as I took it down my throat. One thing about sucking a sleeping guy - it's actually easier to deep throat him as he isn't moving about trying to get a look or push it in even deeper before you're ready. Holding myself down on him as long as I could, I finally rose up again and let him flop, or at least drop out of my mouth as being so hard he wasn't about to flop anywhere!

My pussy was tingling now with that familiar feel I get when I NEED to be fucked. There are those occasions when I WANT to be fucked but then there were times like now when I NEEDED a dick in me. It didn't even matter whose dick it was - I just wanted one. Thankfully I had my new husband's at my immediate disposal as some of my craziest (and stupidest) stunts had been when I was at the mercy of my pussy and couldn't control the resulting urges.

Carefully I got up on my knees and then lifted my leg up and straddled Steve's muscular waist. Damn, the poor guy must have been exhausted from last night - something that I was rather proud to take credit for. His stiff dick poked into my bare butt so I lifted myself up on my knees until it slipped down between my legs then I reached down past my crotch to grab it and direct it to its goal - my aching pussy. As horny and wet as I was there was no problem sliding it up inside of me until I was seating on his crotch with my bare butt against the base of his dick, his entire cock now buried deep inside of me.

For the next few minutes I just sat there, looking down at my lover - now husband, enjoying the feeling of his cock as it filled me. It was so hot knowing that this was now officially MY cock. Oh sure it may have some fun in some other girl's pussy now and then but at the end of the day I knew that it would always come home to MY pussy. He felt so good in me at this moment that I couldn't imagine how this feeling could ever grow wearisome or boring the way some people claimed to feel about sex after marriage. Of course I had one advantage most other wives didn't - my guy's dick was allowed to fuck other girl's pussies so he would periodically get reminded of just how special MY pussy was! The same applied to me as well. What better way to appreciate your husband than to try out someone else now and then?

Looking at the clock for the umpteenth time, I realized that as much as I'd have loved to stretch this out to fill the entire morning we DID have a plane to catch so it was time to get things moving along. Enough of being subtle, I started to rock on his cock, bouncing my bottom against his crotch as I fucked his dick.

"What the f....!" I heard him say without opening his eyes. Then those lovely brown eyes cracked open and then suddenly popped wide open as he came to realize what was being done to him.

"Oh God.... you are so amazing," he sighed as his head went back against the pillow and I felt his hips lift up to match with my movements.

It only took a few more seconds before he was totally awake. Bunching a pillow under his head, he looked down to where he could watch his dick as it appeared and then disappeared as I sank down onto him and took him inside of me. My boobs were bouncing as I got into a rhythm and he even grunted a couple of times when I especially dropped down onto him just a little bit harder.

"Damn girl, take it easy," he groaned as I literally dropped my entire weight down onto his crotch, driving his dick like a piston deep inside of me.

I heard him but it didn't really matter to me. I LOVED the feeling as he thrust hard and fast into me. That was part of the reason why I like to be on top - so I can control the pace and depth based on how I am feeling at the time. When I first mounted him I preferred it slow and shallow but the more I fucked him the harder, faster and deeper I wanted him in me until finally we would both cum.

That was when he came in me. My pussy was suddenly flooded with my husband's sperm, making its way up inside of me on its futile journey. I smiled to myself as I imagined how someday that sperm would be allowed to reach its goal and produce our children but not this morning - this was just for fun. Maybe in a year or so....

When he finished I dropped down onto his chest, my boobs pressing into him as we both laid their breathing heavily with his arms now around me, pulling me tightly into him.

"I love you wife," he said with a hint of amusement in his voice. Yes, it WAS something new for both of us as I responded with, "and I love you husband." Oh sure I had role-played being someone's wife in the past but this was for real! It hardly seemed possible but I still loved the sound of it.

"Oh crap, we have GOT to get moving," he said suddenly, looking at the clock for the first time.

Grabbing me by the waist, he rolled me off of him and hustled into the bathroom where I heard him lift the toilet seat and do his thing. When he was finished and flushed I listened for the seat to go down... and it did! Good boy. I guess living with his mother for so many years had taught him a few good habits.

"Hey Steve, what should I wear?" I whined as he brushed his teeth.

He mumbled something but I couldn't understand him with his mouth full of toothpaste so I waited - impatiently. In all the hustle and bustle of the night before, I hadn't even thought about not having a suitcase with me. Sure I had my "new bride" bag all ready with a sexy nightie and some toiletries, not that the nightie lasted for very long. But what about my clothes for the trip?

"Look in the closet," he called out, "Your mom packed for you."

Good news, bad news. At least I had SOMETHING but what had my mother packed me? It could go either way when it came to her. Now had Steve said my Aunt Linda had packed me then I would've known there wouldn't have been much in the suitcase except some naughty bikinis and sexy shorts - definitely no bras or panties. My mom might have done the same but then again she might have gone in a more conservative direction as well - after all she WAS my mother and as outrageous as she could be at times there were days when I felt she was overprotective of me, especially now that I was 26.

The suitcase was new, evidently a present from someone for our honeymoon. It wasn't all that large either - maybe we would have to check it but that would depend on what type of plane we flew on as to whether or not it would fit in the overhead of a plane. Whatever was in it, there wasn't much of it.

"We can buy more clothes when we get there if you need them," Steve said from behind me rubbing his still bare crotch in against my butt as I looked at the small suitcase.

There was no doubt from the feel of him behind me that he was erect again. Hmmmmmm, if he wasn't careful we might never make it to the plane!

"I suppose that depends on where we're going," I said, not even trying to conceal the burning question in my mind. Where the heck WERE we going anyway?

"Check out the front pocket," he said, patting me playfully on my bottom as he turned and headed for the shower.

Sure enough, inside the front pocket of the suitcase was a plain white envelope which I carefully opened to find two plane tickets. Hmmmmmm, final destination - Costa Maya, Mexico. Where the heck was THAT? Like, I could read that it was in Mexico but that didn't exactly narrow it down at all. I'd been to Cancun once for spring break but that was years ago and the only thing I saw then was the road from the airport to the strip and then the beach outside the hotel so it wasn't like I'd had the grand tour of our neighbor to the south.

Then I noticed a larger vanilla folder also tucked into the front pocket and took it out. Inside were a few travel brochures and some printouts from various Internet sites.

"Costa Maya is the section of the Caribbean coast of Mexico running from Sian Ka'an Biosphere south to the town of Xcalak, near the Belize border. Just north of the fishing village of Majahual (also spelled Mahahual), in the heart of Costa Maya, cruise lines have erected a pier and carved out a piece of the jungle to build an artificial Mexican coastal village. Surrounded by jungle, this primitive setting offers a vast expanse of natural scenery."

There was a map and I saw it was quite a ways south of Cancun. It didn't look all that populated so I looked through the brochures until I saw one for an inn.

"Explore Costa Maya in one of our comfortable beach front cabana, ocean front rooms and large sea- view rooms. Boutique style hospitality and seclusion that can't be found on the crowded Cancun hotel zone, noisy hotels of Playa del Carmen and the Riviera Maya or even Tulum. Contact us- we personally answer all reservation inquiries from our hotel office on the beach of Costa Maya. We are 30 minutes north of Mahahual (also spelled Majahual) and the Costa Maya Port, Mexico's 2nd most popular cruise ship destination. Get the quiet and seclusion that you want yet still take advantage of Costa Maya and Mahahual activities. Check our Guest Book and Guest Photos to see what others are saying."

Sounded interesting... Looking at the tickets I saw we would arrive before 2:00 so it must have been a direct flight to Cancun. That was much better than the last time when I'd had to rot in a boring Houston airport for hours waiting for a connecting flight and then again in Atlanta on the way home. I wondered how long it would take us to get to our destination when I read further into the brochure...

"The drive from Cancun airport to Mayan Beach Garden takes about 4.5 hours - but there are several things to do along the way, from the Crocozoo, to the Mayan Ruin of Tulum, to the little town of Felipe Carrillo Puerto - so plan on making a day of it. If your flight arrives in the afternoon, plan on spending the night in Playa del Carmen, Akumal, Tulum or Paamul and enjoy the drive."

Wow, four to five hours! It sounded like we had a long day ahead of us.

2. Day 1 - Mile High

One way or another we eventually did make it to the airport. I'd wanted to stop by my dad' house to thank him for helping Steve set up what was already looking to be a wonderful honeymoon. However, Steve was worried that we were running late and were already in danger of missing our flight being it was international and the check-in times were more restrictive. He mentioned something about "getting up late due to some nymphomaniac needing attention" which I let run in one ear and out the other. Yeah, like he didn't enjoy every minute of it!

We ran to the gate and just made it, being among the last to board. Well, being five minutes early was better than being one minute late so we quickly took our seats. Wow, I'd never flown in first class before. For that matter, I had not flown all that much period but when I had, it had always been in Coach Class. Well, this wasn't actually true first class but the seats up front were upgraded so there were only two seats on each side of the aisle meaning no middle seat - and no partner to either side of me either other than my husband. There was also more leg room which Steve appreciated.

After much debate I had ended up wearing my "Just Married" t-shirt which my mom had so thoughtfully packed for me along with a pair of new white shorts which fit my ass like a tight glove. It seemed to please Steve even more than me that I got a lot of looks as we walked through the airport and then from the people on the plane as we boarded. Hmmm, I wondered what was getting more attention, my braless boobs poking out against the words "Just Married" spelled out in sequins or my ass that was barely contained in the shorts? The only other thing I was wearing besides some jewelry were new flip flops which promised to be MUCH more comfortable than heels on such a long trip, although I knew from past experience that the heels DID make my ass look even better in these shorts.

"So just married I take it?" the flight attendant greeted us.

I wanted to saw something like, "So you can read?" but she meant well and I was in WAY too good of a mood to be the least bit snarky with her. Then she asked if we would like a little champagne as it would still be a few minutes before we left the gate. An ice cold Diet Coke would have actually been better so far as I was concerned but we graciously accepted her offer.

Soon we were in the air with me holding Steve's hand in a death grip - partly because I liked to hold his hand but mostly because I really don't enjoy takeoffs. Our hands rested on his lap which allowed me the pleasure of feeling the warmth and bulge of his crotch through his shorts. There wasn't enough privacy in the open cabin to do much more but it still felt good just knowing his wonderful dick was so close to my hand.

Steve was seated on the aisle after graciously offering me the window seat so that I could look outside and watch the scenery. He had a lot more experience flying than me and claimed that the view was boring to him but I was fascinated to see the state I'd driven through so many times flashing by below me. Before long we were passing over parts of the country I'd never seen - from the air or the ground. We had a few hours to get to Cancun so I leaned back my seat and rested my head on my lover's shoulder. I found myself toying with the new feeling on my finger. It had taken me months to grow accustomed to the engagement ring and now I had TWO rings on my finger. Well, if I had anything to say about it they would never come off.

Steve had struck up a conversation with another couple that looked to be about our age in the seats across the aisle. Like us, the guy was seated on the aisle with what I was guessing was his wife over by the window. Other than the row ahead of us, there weren't that many other people around as the attendant had drawn the curtain separating us "elite" passengers from the commoners in the back of the plane (just kidding). Still, I have to admit that it DID make me feel a little self-important.

"No we haven't. This is actually our first flight together," Steve was saying to his new buddy next door. I'd dozed off just a bit so I had not a clue as to what they was talking about but now he had my interest. Hmmm, what hadn't we done?"

"Well, it's not as easy as they make it seem in the movies," the other guy was saying. What the heck were they talking about?

"Yeah I can imagine," Steve agreed, "Plus they don't seem all that private."

"I wouldn't sweat it. I don't think anyone here would say anything," the guy offered.

"I doubt she'd go for it anyway... she's pretty conservative."

Go for WHAT? As for being conservative, now I was wondering who he was talking about as it couldn't be me! If there were two words I never heard in the same sentence it was "Kelly" and "conservative".

"Yea, Monika was the same way but you know, it really got our honeymoon started out on the right foot. It was like once the dam broke... well, you know what I mean."

They both chuckled like two conspirators. Typical guys. I nudged Steve in the hip whispering, "OK buster, so what's the story?"

Steve just tried to ignore me and instead he turned back to the guy sort of laughing and said, "She just woke up I guess... wants to know what we're talking about."

Well HELLO, I'm right here! I wanted to say. He was talking like I couldn't hear what he was saying.

"I say just do it... don't tell her until you get in there and then see what happens."

"Nawwwwww, I couldn't do that to her, she might freak out," Steve resisted.

"Hey, it's your honeymoon so go for it... make a memory."

Something was going on here so what was it? Whatever it was, for some reason Steve didn't want to reveal too much about me, that much was obvious. I don't care what it was, Steve would have a hard time freaking me out about much of anything so long as it didn't involve animals, anal, torture or poop.

I felt Steve shrug his shoulders and then he sat up straight as the flight attendant checked in on us. She offered more champagne but we politely refused. Steve said he was going to have to drive five hours or so when we got there which eventually led to another discussion between him and his new friend about places to stay and things to see in the Costa Maya region. Any more discussions about whatever it was they were talking about seemed to have gone by the wayside.

About half-way through our trip my bladder began to remind me why I normally don't drink champagne. Feeling the urge growing stronger, I nudged Steve who had started to doze off as well and explained that I needed to use the little girl's room.

"Ummmmm, I hate to be the one break the news to you Kelly but little boys and girls share the same room on here."

OK smart ass, I had to GO so enough of the wisecracks. I playfully punched him and he stood up in the aisle to let me pass. Finally I made my way to the front where the flight attendant was getting some snacks ready for us.

"So was the wedding last night?" she asked.

I grinned and gave her the brief rundown. As bad as I had to pee I still couldn't pass up the chance to brag about my wedding to whoever would lend an ear. Finally I turned to open the door to the restroom and when I stepped inside I felt the door pull from my hands as Steve pushed his way inside and somehow managed to shut the door behind us.

"Steve, I really DO have to go," I implored him. There was barely enough room for ONE person to pee in here without a guy the size of Steve squeezed in as well.

"Then hurry up and go and quit whining about it," he teased me.

If there's one fetish I do NOT have, that would be I get absolutely no pleasure or kick out of peeing in front of people or seeing other people pee. If anything it just flat out grosses me out. Steve will just stop anywhere, whip it out and piss any time he feels the needs but I will cramp and do whatever it takes to await the security, comfort and cleanliness of a modern bathroom. Still, ever notice how much more you have to go when you're just about to do it? It's almost impossible to stop once that train leaves the station so I huffed and pushed down my shorts and sat down with my legs between Steve's as he leaned back against the door to give me as much room as possible.

"You know something? You're insane," I sighed as I did my thing and wiped myself clean. I reached to flush but Steve held my arm.

"Not yet, I don't want anyone to think you're done yet."

OK, earth to Kelly. Finally it dawned on me what the two of them had been talking about back in the main cabin. Well, well, so Steve wanted to join the mile high club (at least I assumed he wasn't a member yet as I wasn't). Crap, there was barely room in here with the two of us to masturbate, let alone fuck! Who was he trying to kid?

Then I realized why he'd been saying those things to that guy. Certainly he must have seen Steve sneak in with me. Steve was just setting him up and I could just imagine how turned on the guy must have been to think I was somehow being coerced to have sex in this little room. I almost laughed as I thought about how I was supposedly so conservative that I would "freak out". Little chance of THAT happening!

"Just leave your shorts down," Steve instructed me as he undid his own shorts and released his dick from its prison.

Oh yeah, my horny new husband was already getting hard! As it turned out, I found that it was actually quite easy while sitting down like this to simply lean forward and suck his cock so I wasted no time in doing so.

"Damn that feels so good," he groaned.

The whole situation seemed to be really turning him on something fierce as he got steel hard in record time and I had the feeling if I just sucked for a couple of minutes - or less, he would be cumming in no time. Did a BJ count for membership? Somehow I didn't think so. Technically oral wasn't sex anyway so if we were going to do this then we had to do it right. I didn't want to have to embellish anything later when I told the story to my friends.

I tried to stand up but the wall curved over me preventing me from getting upright with Steve in the way. Somehow I managed to twist around without banging TOO terribly much until I was facing away from him, leaning over as much as I could while balancing myself with one hand on the sink ledge.

"I guess he was right, this IS a little awkward," Steve chuckled as he tried to work his dick into me.

It turned out that getting everything in the right place was the real work as once he was in me things went easier after that. Steve reached under me and then under my T-shirt to cup my bare boob in his hand as he held my hip with the other while he banged me. With the limited space he couldn't really be as forceful as I would have liked but it was getting the job done nonetheless. Considering I hadn't cum this morning, I was horny as hell and this time I was determined to be the first.

"Fuck me Steve... fuck me," I gasped as I reached with my free hand to my crotch and rubbed my clit as he fucked me.

I thought of all the people just outside the door. Was there someone waiting, bouncing from foot to foot as they struggled to control their bladder while we hogged the toilet? Actually I would've been more than happy to do it on our big seats than in this little cramped space but somehow I doubted that the flight attendant would've gone for such a breach of protocol.

As orgasms went it wasn't at the top of the scale but it sufficed. I shuddered as I came while Steve's dick maintained its steady piston motion in and out of me. With all the difficulties and the distractions I don't think he even realized I was cumming as he had his own orgasm going just after mine started, flooding my pussy with his sperm as I came even harder.

"Fuck, that was wild," he gasped as he pulled out of me. I reached for some paper towels and wiped myself as clean as I could. Squeezing down, I did my best to push out all his cum so I wouldn't have this big wet spot between my legs later as we walked through the airport. If I could have worn a sign that said "wet from sex" it wouldn't have been so bad but my fear was that people would think I'd peed myself. Again, not my fetish.

We eventually got ourselves straightened up and then Steve kissed me before unlocking the door behind us. I had no idea what - or who, would be waiting for us but as it turned out nobody was there. Even the flight attendant had disappeared, either in the cockpit or to the rear of the plane to get something. Then again, maybe she had realized what was going on and had moved away so as not to be held responsible should anyone say anything.

Smiling broadly, we made our way back to our seats and then to my surprise, the guy sitting across from us started to clap, then the other three guys in the front row did as well. I noted neither of the two women did but that was understandable. Probably just jealous.

"Welcome to the club," our new friend greeted us as we took our seats.

I got in first as Steve high-fived the other guy. Pretending I didn't hear or notice, I turned sideways to look out the window, doing my best to ignore the post-orgasm pulses that were still emerging from my swollen and wet pussy. Checking myself out, I noted a small wet spot emerging between my legs and sighed. It seemed no matter how hard you try there's always that last little bit you can't clean up.

Soon the curtain parted and our attendant was back. Once again she offered us drinks, but this time she seemed to be looking more at me than Steve with a mischievous smile on her face. As a professional I understood she couldn't come right out and say anything but there was that knowing look in her eyes that told me all I needed to know. Yeah, she knew what we'd been doing, that was for sure.

Finally we landed and as I walked past the attendant I thanked her for all her hospitality. She smiled and informed us that our membership cards would be in the mail. She caught me a little off guard and told me she was just teasing but then I finally got the joke. Then I winked at her and off we went to get our bags and go through Customs.

3. Day 1 - Beach Sex

The trip from the Cancun airport to where we were staying actually took us six hours - on top of the hour and a half it took to get out the airport and rent a Jeep. I wasn't too sure about the Jeep thing but Steve said we would be going through a lot of areas with less than perfect roads so he felt more comfortable with something that wouldn't get bogged down. Seeing how once we left the airport and turned south I was immediately on road I'd never been on before, the entire trip was a new experience for me.

On the way down, I read more from the brochure about where we would be staying...

"There is a good coral head about 100 yards from the shore with a lot of fish of many varieties. We have marked with a buoy so that you can find it and so that boats don't run into it."

Now THAT sounded interesting. I had snorkeled once in the Keys while attending a friend's wedding and tat had turned out to be pretty interesting - at a number of different levels. Continuing on...

"Mexico uses 110, the same power type and outlets as the US. Because we are solar powered, the lights are low voltage, water is solar heated and the fans run off batteries that are charged by the sun. We run a generator for about 5 hours a day in order to do our laundry. This subsidizes the solar power and provides power to a 110 outlet in each cabana. This outlet only works when the generator is running -- usually in the morning. This is the only time that you will be able to use hair dryers or recharge batteries."

No hair driers? Generators? Sounded a little primitive to me.

"If you do venture from the dockside development, a trip to nearby Uyumil Che (nicknamed the Monkey Farm) can be entertaining. This facility can best be described as a rehab center for injured wild animals, or discarded pets that need to be reinstated to their natural habitat. Bird watchers are delighted with the number of toucans that can be spotted from the nearby jungle. Less than an hour away is Chinchorro Reef Underwater National Park. The world's second largest barrier reef that protects most of the Costa Maya shoreline is a treasure for divers and snorkelers. Sunken ships abound and the coral reef is magnificent."

A monkey farm? I mean like real monkeys? That one we could skip but the reef sounded really cool. Sunken ships? WAY cool.

Steve had borrowed my dad's GPS who had bought and downloaded the maps for Mexico before handing it over. We probably could have found our way as there weren't really all that many options when it came to roads - or at least paved major highways. The one thing I hated were the ridiculous speed bumps. Oh my god, who was the crazy lunatic that put those in? We'd be going 60 miles per hour and if you didn't see the other drivers stopping and missed the sign you could be killed. Speed BUMPS? More like speed MOUNTAINS. Calling them bumps is like saying my friend Beth has bumps on her chest (they're DD's).

Although I'd heard things about the security, or lack of it, in Mexico, the only time I really felt scared was when we were stopped out in the middle of nowhere for a security check. I guess they were checking for drugs which thankfully I knew we didn't have. We were just driving along without a soul in sight and then someone had strung this huge rope across the road which practically threw the stiff Jeep into the ditch. A tent had been set up with these kids (I mean they couldn't have been even eighteen) armed with what looked like automatic rifles started asking questions. Unfortunately I don't think they understood a word of English and my Spanish is totally rusty. They made us get out while they searched the Jeep but I think it was more so they could stare at my ass than any need for us to get out of the way since they never even looked under the seats. Other than that the trip was rather uneventful.

For most of the trip I cursed the Jeep. It rode more like a tank and my ass was sore as hell after just a couple of hours. The roads were actually pretty good so I was questioning the wisdom of choosing our current mode of transportation until we were about two miles from our final destination (as the GPS was saying). Then the road disappeared and what remained was a wide clearing in the jungle with HUGE potholes filled with water that you had no idea how deep they were until the Jeep plunged into them. I guess we might have made it with a car but for the first time I was glad we had out trusty Jeep to wade through this so-called "road".

We finally made it to the inn and to my pleasant surprise it didn't look primitive at all. In fact it looked rather elegant. Sure it was small but I already had expected that from the photos in the brochure. I noted there were a couple of other rental cars parked so evidently we wouldn't be alone. By now it was past 8:00 PM and getting dark so we grabbed our stuff and went in through the front gate.

The inn was quite homey with no formal front desk or anything like that. Instead it was more like we were visitors at someone's home. We were greeted by Maria who turned out to be a tall older women who hailed from northern Maine with a wicked accent. Later she would tell us the story behind how she and her husband had moved here and started up the inn but for now she welcomed us and showed us to our cabana.

OH MY GOD! Talk about heaven on earth and romance in the air! There were three cabanas, each facing the ocean which was like thirty steps away. Maria mentioned that Hurricane Dean had pretty much wiped them out a few years back so everything was rebuilt and still fairly new. A large covered porch with a hammock greeted us and then inside was a simple but well-kept room with a large bed and a small kitchenette. The bathroom was rather open except for a curtain over the shower. I noted that there wasn't even a ledge between the floor and the shower floor but the pitch was such that the water must go straight to the drain. No bathtub but that was fine - we had an entire ocean within a stone's throw from us. I listened to the waves crashing and the silence of the beach. It was SOOOOO romantic. Maria handed Steve the key and as soon as she was gone I turned to Steve and hugged him hard.

"Oh Steve, this is so perfect. I love you so much!"

Maria had mentioned that dinner was still available and that the other couples were gathered for drinks if we wanted to stop by and get something before they closed things down for the night. I was famished so we dropped our things on the bed and headed to the main house. Before we went thought there was one thing I HAD to do. Leaving my flip flops on the porch, I ran barefoot to the beach and tested the ocean water with my toes. It was perfect! I moved in so the water was about to my knees and then quickly moved out again as a wave threatened to soak my shorts. Satisfied, I ran back to Steve and kissed him again.

"Sorry, just had to do that."

Steve just hugged me and we walked with our arms around each other to the house where a large screened-in room with candles for light was set up. Maria's husband was there with two other couples. In the dim light I thought for a moment that one of the couple was the pair that sat across us from the plane but that would have been too surreal - and as it turned out not to be the case. Beside Maria and her husband we were the only Americans with an older couple in from Germany and the younger ones, about our age I would say, from Australia. The German woman spoke excellent English while her husband didn't seem to be as fluent. The Aussies of course spoke English but the Australian version which even by the end of the week I still had a hard time understanding at times.

Maria introduced us and added in that we were newlyweds to which everyone clapped and congratulated us. It was so pleasant, not at all like checking into some giant impersonal hotel with fake people at the bar. Everyone was friendly and open and treated us like we'd know each other all our lives.

The food was excellent - as I found for the rest of the week to be the standard for the inn. An older Mexican women came in each day to do all the cooking and everything was prepared in a kitchen in the back. Finally we decided to call it a night as it had been a LONG day and there was much to do in the few days we had left.

Back in our cabana, Steve closed the curtains but left the window open. I noted there were screens in the windows. I had no idea if insects were an issue or not but we WERE out in the middle of nowhere, or so it seemed, so God only knew what might come crawling or slithering into the room at night. Images of the monkey farm signs we had passed on our way in came to mind...

Steve moved our suitcases off to a table in the room. We both stripped and then he pulled back the covers. Well, he might be ready for bed but I had other ideas.

"Let's check out the beach," I said, wringing my hands like a little girl begging her parents to hurry and come out to the living room on Christmas morning.

"It's dark Kelly," he protested, "And we haven't unpacked our suitcase yet and to be honest, I'm bushed after everything today."

"Who needs bathing suits?" I replied mischievously, "C'mon, last one in the water has to shower last."

I used the shower order as a reward because Maria had warned us that they used solar heaters for the hot water so at night once the hot water was gone it was gone until the middle of next day or so. Being second to shower took on a whole new meaning!

Without waiting for him to respond I scampered out the door completely naked. There were no lights outside, just the moon overhead as I ran to the water's edge. It took only a few seconds but still I barely made it before Steve even with the unfair head start I'd given myself. Holding hands, we made our way quickly out into the water. I could feel some sort of grass with my feet now and then but mostly the beach seemed clear of rocks and anything too yucky.

"Mmmmmmm, now THIS is heaven," I sighed as he grabbed me and pulled my wet naked body into his.

We kissed and I tasted salt water on his lips but I didn't care. We were in the ocean all alone, totally naked with the moon overhead out in the middle of nowhere in Mexico. What more could I have ever dreamed for the first night of our honeymoon?

"You know, I've never had sex on a beach," I said to him as we kissed and fondled one another with the water up to my waist. Mow that my eyes were accustomed to the dark the light from the moon was almost like a lamp overhead. It was almost enough that I could have read a book!

I looked back towards the beach and didn't see anyone. I had no idea how long the other couple would keep drinking and talking but they hadn't seemed to be inclined in the least to be leaving when we'd said our goodbyes. Besides, I got the idea they were pretty open-minded based on some of the innuendos they'd mentioned once they learned we were honeymooners.

"Why not?" Steve replied with a grin.

Back at the water's edge I learned the real reason why I'd beaten Steve to the water's edge. A large beach towel lay just beyond the waterline where he must have dropped it on his way to chase after me. Hmmm, so my hubby must have had some ideas of his own already! I was actually quite thankful as I wasn't relishing the idea of getting sand in places where it really didn't belong.

For the next half hour or so, maybe even an hour, Steve and I made love on the beach. Yes, we made love. Steve wasn't my boyfriend anymore, not even my fiance. He was my husband and I was his loving and adoring wife. For the first time in my life I came to understand what the term "make love" really meant. Sure we'd had sex the night before and even early this morning and yet again on the plane. Those were fun times and I certainly enjoyed them but what we did on that beach towel at the very edge of the water as the waves came crashing in was like nothing I'd ever experienced in my entire life.

Not only did I make love for the first time, but I learned a whole new meaning to the concept of submission. Yes, I've always said that I submit myself to my father but that is because of my biblical obligations to him as his daughter - the "honor thy parents" thing. I have never resented those duties, nor would I have changed anything even if I could have. Even so, it was something I was born into without really being given any choice in the matter - you can choose your friends but not your family. You could also say it is sort of like a princess becoming a queen. Granted she is most likely pleased to do it but it's not like she did anything to earn it or had any choice in the matter.

There in the moonlight Steve took me in his powerful arms, picked me up and then slowly lowered me to the beach. It was like at that moment I truly became married to him. Oh sure we had the official paperwork and been through the ceremony but it was at this one special moment in time that the magic happened. It wasn't something I was waiting for or even anything I'd ever thought about. Up until now in my mind I was married to him the moment I said, "I do".

Yes, SOMETHING special happened. I can't even really explain it. As I felt myself held in his arms, then the gentleness as he laid me on my back, and then that special feeling as he quickly entered me without saying a word or touching me in any other way, it was like I was transported to another world.

"Oh Steve, take me... I'm all yours... I love you so much," I said before even thinking about it as he plunged deeper into me, silently fucking me as nothing but the sound of the waves broke the silence.

Yes indeed, at that moment I truly DID give myself to him, totally and irrevocably. I surrendered my very essence to him, complete and total submission but not in any sense of bondage or domination but rather as his wife, as his friend and partner for life.

Those were the only words spoken as we made love out in the open in front of God and the entire world. We moved from position to position, as if we just knew what the other wanted and when they wanted it. Finally I was on my back again as he thrust himself again and again deep inside of me. I sighed out loudly, my third or fourth orgasm rising from deep inside of me like a volcano eruption. My legs wrapped around him tightly as my ankles locked and I pulled him into me as my body felt like it was on fire yet at the same time I was covered with goose bumps.

Finally he came inside of me, spilling load after load of his sperm into me, mating me as he took me as he so well deserved. Gripping me tightly, he rolled over so I was on top of him but never letting his cock slip from my pussy. We laid for what seemed forever, panting and dazed.

"Oh my god Steve... what did we do?" I gasped as it seemed every pore of my body was tingling with pleasure.

"I don't know but THAT was incredible," he replied softly and then we kissed. He was still inside of me and I could feel him stirring in me. My body was certainly ready for more but I don't think emotionally I was able to take it any further. Somehow everything just seemed soooooo... perfect. For maybe the first time in my life I felt satisfied sexually - I mean totally satisfied.

"I don't want you to ever pull out of me... I want you to stay in me forever," I whispered as we kissed yet again and I felt him pull me in even tighter with his strong arms around me.

Sooner or later of course it had to end and reluctantly we parted. I tried to stand but almost fell and probably would have had Steve not held me up.

"Hang on there lover," he chuckled. Yeah, easy for him to say. I was the one walking bowlegged!

We slowly made our way back to the cabana. We were both still naked but somehow that didn't worry me. It was like that was how we SHOULD be at this moment. To be clothed would have just taken some of the intimacy away. As we stepped into our cabana I noticed a small light coming from one of the others. I didn't hear anything but I didn't remember seeing the light on before. Had one of the other couples returned while we were making love? It would have been virtually impossible NOT to have seen us being the shoreline was so close; not to mention I know there were a few times I had to have been heard over the waves.

Oh well, who cares? I'd just spent maybe the most special time in my entire life and if anything I wanted the whole world to know about it!

4. Day 2 - Visiting the Ruins

The next morning we somehow managed to wake up and get to breakfast. Thankfully they served until 8:30 and we made it with fifteen minutes to spare. I had just thrown on a simple bikini with a sheer wrap around my waist while Steve wore some shorts and t-shirt. The older German couple were still there but there was no sign of the younger Australians.

"Have a good night?" Maria greeted us. We just smiled at first and then Steve assured her that everything was going well so far. She seemed to hesitate and then added, "You know, I probably should have mentioned this but you might want to be careful about going in the water after dusk. That's when the smaller fish come in which means dinner time for the larger ones."

My heart skipped a beat for two reasons. First, what exactly did she mean by "larger" fish or for that matter larger what? Second, how did she even know we'd been in the water as all told we were actually the ocean only for a short while? She didn't offer any details and I wasn't about to ask. Some things are better left unsaid.

While we ate breakfast Maria sat down with us and offered some advice on where to go so as to maximize our short stay. I was a bit overwhelmed at all the activities there was to do within just a day's round trip drive and to think we only had three full days. One thing that caught my eye were the Mayan ruins, especially with all the flurry of late about 2012 and the end of the world stuff. It wasn't that I believed any of it, but it was interesting all the same. Maria offered us two options.

The largest and perhaps one of the most famous sites in Yucatan Mexico was called Chichen Itza. According to the brochure, eighteen structures have been restored over the years. Pyramid Kukulcan is the tallest of them and allows a view from the top of all Chichen Itza. During the Spring and Fall equinoxes, the setting sun creates shadows down the steps of the pyramid that resemble a snake descending. Maria explained that this was a popular event and usually draws big crowds so it was probably good that it was still several weeks away. It sounded interesting but was quite a drive, too far for today being we were getting started so late.

The other recommendation Maria had for us was Cobe which was supposed to be one of the most important archaeological sites in the area. I read that it was built between two lakes during the Classic Period (600-900 A.D.) and was at one time a very large city spread over 80 square kilometers. The main pyramid, Nohoch Mul meaning 'large hill', is 42 meters tall (138 feet) and is the highest in the Yucatan peninsula. Another pyramid known as Templo de la Iglesia, (Temple of the Church), is second in height at Cobe and from its summit there is a spectacular view of a nearby lake. The good news was that it was only a couple of hours away. Maria also told us that it was that being so far from Cancun it was much less crowded plus they allowed people to climb one of the pyramids - something that had been stopped at Chichen Itza a few years back due to the damage being done to the pyramid by tourists.

Maria offered to have box lunches prepared for us while we got ready to go so we wouldn't have to worry about where we ate or be stuck paying exorbitant tourists prices. She was so helpful and personal and again I thought about how much better this was than staying at a large chain hotel.

Maria also recommended that I wear shorts instead of the bikini I was wearing at the moment. She noted that while most anything was tolerated in places like Cancun, most of Mexico was more conservative and I would probably find people more helpful if I didn't overly flaunt myself. She laughed when she saw the downcast expression on my face and assured me I didn't have to wear TOO much. She seemed to have me all figured out already and we'd been there just over twelve hours.

Back in our cabana I selected a nice pair of red shorts that covered my butt but still left just about all my tanned legs exposed. I thought about sticking with the bikini top but I hadn't found any in the suitcase that didn't fall in the "slut" category. Evidently my mom assumed I'd be flaunting myself all week. There was a cute little camisole that I hadn't seen before which she must have bought for me. It was white with pink letters saying "bride" outlined by some glitter-like highlights. It looked way too small but it stretched out and actually held my boobs in tightly which helped support me as there wasn't a single bra - or pair of panties for that matter, in the suitcase. I giggled a little to myself about that. That was so like my mom!

My plans were that for the time being I would stick with my flip-flops but Maria warned us to pack good shoes as we would be doing a lot of walking and if we decided to climb the pyramid then solid shoes were a must as it wasn't exactly built to be tourist-friendly. Fortunately my mom had packed a pair of sneakers so I grabbed them and put them in a bag along with some toiletries and a roll of toilet paper - another Maria recommendation which would later prove to be a life-saver.

Once we were ready we stopped by the kitchen where the cook had our lunches ready along with some bottles of water in a plastic bag with some ice around it. Maria wished us a good trip and warned about not drinking anything that wasn't in a sealed container - and no ice either while we were on the road. I hadn't thought about the no-ice policy but once she mentioned it then it made perfect sense.

As we drove I was a bit surprised at how few cars we encountered. The Cancun area had been packed but down here it was much more relaxed and quiet. We would pass through towns where things would pick up but between them there were only a few cars with more trucks that anything. I also noted that we passed several tour buses which apparently were bringing people out from the cruise ships that pulled into the town that was near our inn.

Once other thing about the Jeep - it didn't exactly offer much privacy. Had we been in a car I might have teased Steve a bit but I was acutely aware of Maria's warnings about being too slutty while in public. The LAST thing I wanted was to be in a foreign country, especially Mexico, and get in any kind of trouble with the police. As fun as things might have been, nothing was worth that kind of risk.

We finally found our way in a small town where we wound around to the entrance. There was a large gravel parking lot with the entrance to the ruins at the one end with one side filled by a number of vendors selling their wares. Steve found a tree to park the Jeep under so it wouldn't be quite as broiling hot when we got back. I slipped on some white anklets and put on my sneakers, grabbed a bottle of water and we were ready for our first adventure in Mexico.

At the entrance we found that you had to buy tickets which was no problem. There had been a couple of tour buses ahead of us but they must have been there for a while as the line was only a few people long so all the tourists must have already passed through.

According to the signs, it was a good mile or more to get to the furthest ruin which also happened to be the one I was most interested in. That didn't seem too far but by now the sun was already getting hot and the trail wasn't exactly paved. One of the first things we came across was the equivalent of a taxi stand except instead of motor vehicles they were large three-wheeled bicycles with a seat for up to three people mounted behind the driver. They were lined up just like the taxis at the airport and apparently you were supposed to take the next one in line. Although they all were different colors and the drivers varied widely in demeanor and appearances, I doubted that it really made a whole lot of difference in the end which one you got. Steve paid some guy sitting in a small shack who then told the next guy in line to take us on our way.

OK, so maybe the Jeep isn't the most comfortable riding means of transportation but it was an absolute Cadillac compared to this bike! The path was filled with potholes, not all of which could be avoided. Fortunately our driver was a young kid who I felt sorry for being he seemed way too small to be peddling the two of us. One good thing was that he spoke excellent English and was quite the exuberant tour guide as he pedaled along. Granted, I knew he would be expecting a tip at the end but he was well worth it as he pointed out many things we would have missed on our own.

Along the way we stopped at several sites which were explained in the brochure they'd given us at the ticket counter. There was this large round stone that had been carved quite intricately which our driver pulled up next to. He said something about it being the god of fertility or something like that and then he grinned and I saw him checking me out a bit. Steve seemed quite excited but I poked him in the side to bring him back to his senses!

Eventually we reached the end of the trail. With all the jungle about us even then it was hard to see the pyramid until we were almost upon it. Wow! It was huge! Our driver parked in an area where the bikes all seemed to be gathered. I saw there was a small stand set up to sell souvenirs and food so I asked our guide if he wanted anything to drink. He politely refused but I insisted until he finally caved in and admitted he liked Diet Coke. I laughed and told him that it was my favorite drink as well. He really seemed to really appreciate it when I came back and gave it to him.

Steve had been taking photos with his phone and I poked him when I was ready. It startled him a bit and then I realized what he had been taking his last photo of – a couple of young girls running around while their weary parents were taking a rest. Apparently they'd decided to make the hike on foot and seeing their exhaustion made me glad we'd chosen to pay the ten dollars (plus tip). Besides, I would have sworn it was a lot more than a mile!

"See something you like?" I teased him.

Steve put his arm around me and gave me a kiss. "Mmmmmmm, yes, right in my arms."

knees were getting a little sore from the climbing. Steve was about two steps below me, taking photos of me as he'd been doing for the entire trip up.

"Flash your boobs," he encouraged me.

"Steve!" I admonished him. There were maybe a half dozen people in my line of sight below and ahead of us. Judging from the voices there may have been two or three at the top as well. Whether or not anyone could have actually seen me was difficult to judge but then you never know who has a telescopic lens on their camera or even a set of binoculars.

"Oh come on, I've got a ton of your butt so let's see some T to go with the A."

Glancing about, I grabbed the bottom of my cami with both hands, took a deep breath and quickly pulled it up to my neck, exposing my entire bust, then just as quickly pulling it back down again.

"You gotta warn me if you're gonna do it that fast!" he complained, playing with his camera to get the right shot. "One more time, c'mon you know you love it."

Well, I couldn't argue with THAT so once again I did a quick look-see and lifted it back up again. It felt good to allow the air to caress my sweating boobs but after about two second I lowered it back down again.

"That was better," he announced with a grin, check out the images on the camera.

I resumed my climb and resolved NOT to look back down again until I reached the top. Finally I crawled - and I do mean crawled, over the last of the stones and then stood up in triumph, my arms over my head like I was in some Rocky movie at the top of the stairs in Philadelphia. Steve was not far behind and when he finally got to the top we hugged and kissed - well away from the edge mind you!

Wow, what a view! I tried to imagine how this must have been so many hundreds of years again when the Mayans built this and stood here for the first time. It was positively breath-taking. At the top was some sort of stone structure that was taped off with signs that said it was dangerous and not to enter. I took them for their word. The pyramid was surrounded on three sides by jungle with only the front being climbable, or at least by normal human beings. Soon I learned that there were three people on the far side, taking photos and talking. It seemed to be some Russian or eastern Europe language and if they also spoke English they didn't volunteer any information. Seeing the two of us seemed to cause them to finish up whatever they were doing and start to make their way down, leaving me and Steve all alone at the top.

"Now is this cool or is this cool?" I gushed, looking out over the horizon at the dense jungle below us. Up this high a nice breeze was blowing and it felt so much better than it had down in the jungle under the trees with all the humidity mixed in as well.

"Actually I was thinking it was pretty hot myself," Steve said, planting his hand firmly on my butt, squeezing the cheek in his grip.

"Now now, down big guy!" I joked, pretending to try to run away from him. He followed me and grabbed me in his arms, pulling me in tightly to him which made me aware that it was definitely hot here, at least so far as his dick was concerned.

"Did I ever say I loved you?" he said, his intent obvious. Whenever he started out with those words I knew what was not far behind...

"C'mon, let's do it before anyone else gets up here." And there it was...

"You're kidding?" I replied, feigning mock astonishment at his blatantly horny condition.

"Hmmmmmm, is this the same girl who was running around nude in the ocean last night?" he mused, "the girl who wanted it on the beach right in front of our neighbors? My god, who are you and what have you done with my Kelly?"

"You're so silly," I sighed but I was getting just as turned on he was.

As high as we were anyone would have a hard time figuring out what we were doing even if we stood at the edge and they had a telescope. Being behind the structure effectively put us into total privacy, hundreds of feet above the jungle floor in the middle of the Yucatan Peninsula.

Lifting my cami up over my boobs, I twirled around for him and then I undid my shorts and let them hang open in front, still covering everything but offering a provocative hint of what was hidden a bit lower.

"Oh no, you're not getting off THAT easy," he chastened me, "Strip... I like my women naked when I fuck them, just like those Indian girls they use to sacrifice up here. You just KNOW those priests had to all be pedophiles. Why else insist they all be virgins?"

I didn't need remind him that while I may be able to get naked for him, I wasn't a nubile young girl anymore and as for being a virgin... now THAT was funny."

"Anyone coming?" I asked him as I pulled my cami up and over my head, laying it down carefully on a ledge. It's not like I had a backup in case the wind blew away what little I had to wear as it was.

"Nawwwwww, there's that family we saw but they're way down there. I can't imagine them making it all the way anyway," Steve said after checking again. Then he grinned and added, "But then again... talking about nubile young virgins to sacrifice..."

"Hey mister, ain't these good enough for ya?" I asked as I cupped my now freed boobs in my hand and juggled them for him. "And speaking of pussy... why worry about what you CAN'T have and concentrate on what you CAN?"

By then my shorts had dropped to the stone floor and I lifted them up with one foot and carefully secured them along with the cami, leaving me in just my sneakers which I had no intention of removing. Playing the role of the naked sacrifice was one thing, killing my feet was another.

"Hang on, I can't let this go by without recording it for posterity," he urged me, putting his hand out to keep me at bay. He took a few pics with his phone and then switched it to video mode and had me pretend to be a tour guide – albeit a naked naughty tour guide.

"Had enough?" I asked seductively, moving in closer to him. Judging from the tent in his shorts he was ready, no doubt about THAT.

Steve undid his shorts and dropped them, leaving them in a heap as he stepped toward me with his hard cock pointing out at me like an ancient Mayan spear. Amazingly we'd gone the entire day so far without sex, something I had not envisioned as even being possible on our honeymoon!

"Eat me," I whispered hoarsely to him as I put my foot up on a stone and spread my legs apart for him. Like most guys, Steve sometime got too anxious to get his dick taken care of and would forget that I had needs as well.

Steve grinned at me and knelt on one knee in front of me, reaching around grabbing my butt in his hands, pulling me into his face like he was about to consume a watermelon. I watched as his tongue reached out and started to lick my clit as his nose pressed into me.

"Oh yeah... right there Steve," I sighed as it was all I could do not to just jump up in the air.

He moved down, reaching with his tongue inside my pussy while his nose rubbed on my clit. One of his hands released my butt and he reached under his chin to push a finger into my pussy. I was soaking wet already so he put a second in me as he lapped my pussy slit like a cat at a bowl of milk.

God it felt so good! I loved the feel of his face in my crotch as I looked at over the surrounding jungle. I could hear voices from down further but couldn't see anyone where they were at. They sounded a long ways off so I wasn't worried.

"Oh my god," I groaned as he took my clit between his teeth and gently tugged on it while he licked it with his tongue.

Then he put it between his lips and tugged on it even more. I grabbed his head with both hands and pulled him into me as my orgasm made me shake. I humped my crotch into his face, almost fucking his tongue as I did.

"This time I want you to fuck me," I murmured to him as I shivered with goose bumps all over me, "Let me be your virgin sacrifice."

Leaning against the structure with my back to the jungle, I moved my feet out away from the wall and spread them in the universal "fuck me from behind" position. Indeed, it was one Steve was well acquainted with! He was already hard as the stoned we were standing on and my pussy was as wet as the jungle below us as he moved in behind me and with no further fanfare pushed his dick up into the pussy that was being offered to him.

"Oh yeah, that feels soooooo good Steve," I sighed as he began to fuck me quick and hard. Steve's hand reached round me and cupped my boobs, then grabbing onto them to squeeze them and caress them as his cock thrust in me time after time without a break. Then after a while he pulled out of me, twisting me around and moving over to where a smaller stone was all by itself on the flat stone floor.

One thing good about our honeymoon was that we didn't have to teach each other about sex but rather could enjoy ourselves in whole different ways. Placing my foot up on the rock, I spread my legs apart giving Steve full access to my crotch and wet pussy. Standing in between my legs, I put my arms around his neck as he reentered me again, fucking me as my boobs jiggled up and down against his strong chest.

"Oh Steve, just look!" I sighed as I peered over his shoulder and marveled at the view below us. It was like he was fucking me up in the clouds as we overlooked the surrounding jungle.

While I didn't want to ruin the moment, I did know that this was NOT a sacrificial pyramid form the brochure that Steve had refused to read. Still, why break the mood with facts when the fantasy was so much more fun? Besides, I was sure that there WERE pyramids such as this were ritualistic sacrifice DID take place and in general, it was accepted that the priests had sex with their virgin sacrifices just before slipping a knife between the ribs. Well, that's one method of birth control but not one I would condone.

"Damn I'm almost there," he groaned, "Suck me... be my little Indian slave girl and let me cum all over you."

Now the history books never mentioned blasting the girls' faces with cum but I suppose it might have been true. Besides, I doubted that cumming on a girl is something invented solely by western civilizations.

Instead of subjecting my already sore knees to further abuse, I just bent them and squatted down in front of Steve. He started to stroke himself but I pushed his hand away from his dick and took control. There was no way we were going down THAT path where he jerk off at the end. If he was going to cum, then I was going to be one to make him do it.

"Almost there, let me shoot it in," he gasped as he started to pull from my mouth. Well, I suppose that was a workable compromise. Besides, he was so close to cumming that it would probably only take one or two more strokes needed to get the job done.

"Oh fuck!" he groaned, almost growling actually like a caged animal. The first couple of shots made it safely into my mouth and onto my waiting tongue but after that all bets were off. The next one landed on my forehead and then my boobs and the rest just went everywhere. Typical man, can't hit anything with it, not even the toilet bowl.

I was about to make some smart-ass remark about his poor aim when suddenly I heard voices - children voices as in young girls. Holy crap, either time had gone warping by or that family was a lot more ambitious than I'd given them credit for being.

"Shit," was all Steve said as he reached for his shorts while I moved quickly to get my own clothes. Fortunately neither of us had much to put on which was for the best as no sooner than I was able to get dressed than the voices suddenly got louder and I realized that they'd made it to the top and must now be on the opposite of the roped-off structure.

Well, the good news was that Steve had cum so at least his erection would start to die down rather than keep poking out as it had been not so long ago. The bad news was I knew I had to look a wreck and I didn't have so much as a hanky to wipe myself off with. It was too late to do anything as the girls came scampering around and then stopped dead in their tracks when they saw they were not alone.

"Sorry, we didn't know you were here," the older one apologized. Yes, just as Steve suspected this one was no stranger to "adult" issues as she took one look at Steve's crotch and then at me and immediately sized up the situation. Her younger sister seemed more clueless although I had the idea that would be changing before much longer at the rate her sister was going.

"Suzie? Mandy?" I heard her mother calling and then she too appeared. If her daughter caught on pretty quick, her mother took only an instant to make her own assessment of what had been going on. She sternly told her girls to go back to their father and then as soon as they were out of sight she turned to me - not to Steve but to me.

"Slut!" she practically spit out, "How could you do such a thing with young children around?"

I started to say something in my defense but she would have none of it, motioning for me to shut up while she dug through the bag tied around her waist, finally pulling out some hand wipes, the type you tore open and then tried to use before all the alcohol evaporated.

"here, now clean yourself off, you look disgusting."

As I tore the first one open, she turned her wrath on Steve. "And as for YOU, don't let me see you standing in front of my daughters ever again with that... THING sticking out like that, hear me?"

To be honest it was all I could do to keep from bursting out laughing at her. Did she really think her girls were so innocent? Well, maybe the younger one but certainly not the older girl. Why was I getting the idea that mom was clueless about her daughters, especially the teenager?

After the third wipe I felt like I had most, if not all of Steve's cum off of me. I'd gotten lucky and his aim had been a little low so most of it was on my face, cheeks and chest without hitting my hair. THAT would have been a while different story in terms of getting it out here and now without a shower.

"So I take it a blowjob from you is out of the question?" Steve asked her so innocently. I about burst out loud laughing at his audacity.

"You're nothing but a sick, perverted man," she spit out at him and then turned to go back to her family, leaving the two of us alone momentarily. No sooner had she gotten out of sight than we both broke out in the largest of grins and did our best not to burst out laughing so she wouldn't hear us.

"Let's go you sick perverted man," I said with a sly smile. We made our way to the other side and passed the others. The mom refused to look at us and when her husband started to turn to look at me she grabbed him by the arm and gave a look that should have turned him to stone. She didn't have enough arms to control her entire family and I noticed the older daughter couldn't take her eyes off of Steve's still bulging crotch. Yep, she was looking more and more like a slut the more I saw of her.

If the climb up had been tiresome and difficult, it was nothing compared to the climb down. The view was frightening and I knew that one wrong step and I would get to the bottom a lot faster than I intended. It was a bit of an eye opener as I knew nothing like this would ever be allowed back home, at least not for the general public.

Thankfully our loyal driver was waiting for us when we returned. By then I needed another drink so I bought a bottle of water at the stand before we started back. As we looked back at the pyramid one last time, I could see the family was still at the top. I wondered if Steve would be jerking off later imaging he was all alone at the top with two the young daughters and their hot mother. I could only imagine what history lessons he'd be teaching her at the expense of her daughters' virginity!

By the time we made it back to the inn it was almost dusk already. It was really my fault as I insisted that we make a number of stops at various roadside marketplaces to do some souvenir shopping and just general window-shopping. One thing I'd caught onto real quick was that many of the places seemed to be nothing more than outlets for the same warehouse as I would see the same crap at all of them. Still, there were a few unique stores that had some really cool stuff for sale. The prices were always high to start with but with a little finagling you could always work it down quite a bit.

Another thing I learned was that the women running them much preferred to bargain with Steve than me. Maria had been spot on the mark when she warned me about being overly "showy" around the working-class Mexican women. This was definitely NOT Cancun where they catered to half-naked college girls and rich MILFs seeking to relive their youth. Deference and respect were the keys to getting what you needed out in the general population.

Back at the inn supper was being prepared so it gave us time to shower and clean up before we had to sit next to people after sweating all day, especially given the climb we made up the pyramid. Everyone was there when it came time to call for supper and I sat next to the younger girl, although as it turned out Kathleen was a few years older than me. Over supper I learned that she and her husband had spent their own honeymoon here and now they had returned to celebrate their fifth anniversary.

Everyone listened politely to our tales from the day although we left a few parts out of course. There was one interesting moment when I mentioned my fear of falling and how dangerous it was for them to allow just anyone to climb without anyone watching or having emergency services nearby just in case of an accident.

"Don't be deceived Kelly,' Maria cut in, "Things here aren't always as crude and backwards around here as they may seem."

From there she explained how she had gone on a tour of the ruins with a local business club to familiarize them with the place so they could advise their clients. She said she wasn't supposed to say anything about it but now that we'd been there and probably wouldn't be going back it should be OK. To my surprise she explained how the entire place was under 24 hour surveillance by hidden cameras. Should anything happen, police or rescue crews were only minutes away in the nearby town by helicopter.

"So you see Kelly," she concluded, "you really were a lot safer than you might have known... and a lot less private as well." Everyone around the table laughed when she added something about how many times the surveillance crews had watched people do all sorts of strange things when they thought nobody could see them.

"Something wrong Kelly," Maria asked me as I felt the blood leave my face.

"Oh no... just too much sun I guess," I responded weakly.

"Well you may have noticed that the locals actually cover most of their bodies in the sun. It may look like they should be hotter but actually they stay much more comfortable than those crazy tourist running around half naked."

She winked at me with a sly grin and everyone laughed again as they knew who THAT remark was addressed to. Still, I knew she meant no harm so I didn't take offense. Now I just wondered if they kept video tapes from those cameras.

Suddenly Maria's face lit up and everyone laughed even harder this time as I sat there bewildered.

"Oh Kelly, you're something else," Maria giggled, "Don't worry, there are no cameras there although there IS a helicopter nearby on standby but that's for the entire area, not just the ruins."

Even Steve was laughing and I wasn't sure if he was in on the joke or not but in either case he seemed to find it hilarious. Hmmmmmm, I would have to get even with him sooner or later for this one!

5. Day 3 - Snorkeling the Wreck

The next morning I was again the first to wake. It was only 6:30 so I let Steve sleep as I got out of bed to use the toilet. I was extra careful to wash off my pussy to rid it of Steve's cum that had dried on it after we'd had sex before falling asleep exhausted in each other's arms. When I was finished I dusted myself lightly with some Johnson's baby powder. Starting back in high school Steve had always loved the fresh smell of it on me even more than any of the fancy perfumes. Wrapping a towel around me, I tucked in the ends into my cleavage and grabbed my iPad before common sense hit me. We'd left any reception miles away and other than a small hot zone set up inside the inn we were cut off from all outside communication. Even our cell phones were at zero bars unless you went to the inn's roof and held your phone up as high as you could reach and even then it was barely one bar. Frustrated, I picked up a couple travel brochures and went out to the porch to lay in the hammock.

Now this was the life! The large hammock wrapped around me like a cocoon as the breeze blew in off ocean smelling of seawater. Various breeds of birds were flying and making all sounds of strange sounds as the waves crashed into the beach. It must have been high tide as the water's edge seemed even closer than it had before. In fact, I could've picked up one of the sea shells on the porch and easily pitched it into the water. Nobody else seemed to be stirring and it was like I was a million miles from civilization. Yes... this was heaven!

As I relaxed, the door to the cabana next to ours opened and out walked Kathleen. She too had a robe around her but hers was just around her waist, leaving her bare from the waist up. Judging from the total lack of tan lines, this was obviously not something unusual for her. Her long straight black hair hung down over her shoulders and down to her small breasts. She looked beautiful! She had a mug in her hand but I couldn't tell what she was drinking. If it was coffee then she must have already been up to the inn as there was not enough power in the cabanas to run a coffeemaker.

Watching Kathleen, I felt a stirring between my legs. I could only imagine what might lie under that white towel. She turned back to the door for a moment and I saw a hint of a tramp stamp on her lower back although it was low enough that the towel hid it for the most part. Whatever was on her mind she must have changed it because she turned back again and this time went to the edge of the porch where the stairs led down to the sandy beach. The rising sun was up enough to highlight her in a soft glow, further emphasizing her tan and perfect figure. Whether I moved or whatever, she suddenly notice I was there and she waved over and called out to me.

"Good morning Kelly, I see you're an early morning riser as well."

I about burst out laughing at that one. Boy, she really didn't know me, did she?

I replied with a good morning of my own as she walked over and stepped up on our porch and took a seat on one of the chairs, crossing her legs which left VERY little to the imagination considering she wasn't using one of the larger towels that were available.

"I just love it out here in the early morning," she sighed, "So peaceful... so relaxing."

I simply LOVED her accent. I know people always confuse a British and Australian accent but to me the Aussie version is much more lyrical and carefree compared to the stodgy British style.

She stood up and dropped the towel, then used it to line the chair for her to sit on. Once again taking her seat, she crossed her thin legs again but this time a bit more slowly... or was it just my imagination.

"Oh I hope you don't mind," she said, putting her hand to her mouth as if she had done something wrong. "I guess I just get used to it being so private here and nobody usually cares."

"Oh no... not at all," I assured her. I wanted so badly to take my own towel off just then but I felt it might be taken the wrong way for me to strip down right after she had exposed herself to me. Then again, maybe I was more afraid she WOULD take it the right way.

"You seem cool," she smiled, "I sort of figured that after you guys had that little show the first night." My face must have colored a bit. So there HAD been someone watching us. At least now I knew who.

"I hope you didn't mind," she started to apologize, "If anything I owe you one. After you guys were done Kyle was on me like it was OUR first night of our honeymoon." Then she gave a nervous sort of giggle and added, "You know, I think we did it in the exact same spot our first night, must be something about that location."

For the next twenty minutes or so we talked about our weddings and their honeymoon five years ago. Kathleen was such a pleasant, down-to-earth woman which made her as easy to talk to as if she had been my closest friend for years. When she mentioned she did social work and counseling it didn't surprise me in the least. Then she added that she specialized in child abuse situation which perked my ears.

"Oh Kelly, it makes me so sad at times," she went on, almost crying, "You wouldn't believe what some fathers do to their own daughters... the depraved and perverted acts. The worst ones are the sly ones, the ones who train them when they're young and convince them that it's all good and that it's their duty or something like that to be their father's little sex toy. I mean, how can anyone DO that to such a precious gift from God?"

Whoa, now this could get touchy. I knew better than to even begin to debate what she was telling me and actually for the most part I agreed with everything she said. Indeed, in the vast majority of incest situations I would agree that incest is used as an excuse by a perverted father to use his daughter for nothing more than his own sick pleasure. Still, I wanted to tell her that it wasn't 100% true, that there WERE fathers who truly loved their daughters and only did what they thought was best for them. I wanted to tell her that there WERE daughters who were not brainwashed but really DID love their fathers and wanted nothing more than to please them in any way they could. Just because I submitted to my father didn't mean he had "trained" me to be that way.

Before it could get too weird the door to the cabana opened up again and out stepped Kyle, her husband. My eyes widened just a bit as I saw he was totally nude with a large handsome dick hanging down proudly from his crotch. He also had shaved totally which further emphasized the size of his cock although I still preferred a bush on a man.

"Kathie?" he called out, shielding his eyes from the sun which was now shining brightly onto their porch.

"Over here babe," she answered, "I'm just talking to Kelly. Come on over."

Without any hesitation Kyle made his way to where we were sitting. As he did, Kathleen explained, "You'll have to excuse my husband, he's from a nudist family and getting him to wear clothes unnecessarily is like teaching an old dog a new trick - impossible."

Kyle too the remaining chair next to his wife. Unlike her, he didn't bother crossing his legs but just leaned back with his legs wide apart, totally oblivious to his nudity. Well, maybe Kathleen was accustomed to her handsome husband walking around naked but I certainly wasn't. Damn, he was gorgeous! Thoughts of how Steve wanted to swap with other couple once we got married ran through my head. I don't think he meant to do anything like that on our honeymoon but now I was having some naughty thoughts...

I pretended to have to stretch after laying so long in the hammock which caused my own towel to fall away, revealing my nudity to them. If I had hoped for any response from them it was quickly dashed as they just accepted it as something normal - which for them most likely was. Kathleen did have one comment though.

"You really do have a nice figure Kelly... do you work out?"

I pretended to be embarrassed by the compliment and told her that while I probably SHOULD, I didn't.

"Well, you might try it some time. It's more than just for maintaining weight, it drives your body rhythm and enzymes and just makes you feel better all over. I find it even helps with the sex drive, right babe?" she said as she nodded her head towards Kyle.

Kyle just smiled and reached over to squeeze her hand. They seemed like quite the couple, like none I'd ever known before. Their easy-going attitude and non-sexual way of addressing nudity and sex was refreshing.

Maria made her appearance then. If she was surprised to see the three of us having a conversation in the nude she didn't show it.

"Breakfast is ready. I just thought I'd let you know as I knew you guys were getting an early start."

Kathleen looked to me and said, "We're going deep sea fishing today."

That sounded pretty cool although visions of seasickness came to mind. I'd looked at some brochures and it looked like fun but boy was it expensive!

I excused myself, explaining I had to wake up my sleepy head. Neither of them seemed to catch the double innuendo - maybe it was a language thing. In any case, they said their goodbyes and headed back to their cabana, to put on some clothing I assumed!

Steve was still sound asleep. He had the covers thrown off and as usual was flat on his back with a raging hard-on going. Hmmm, either he was having one heck of a dream or he was going to be heading to the toilet as soon as he woke up. Maybe he was thinking about those two daughters we'd met yesterday...

I decided to rinse off quickly again in the shower. As much as I loved to lay out next to the ocean, the breeze must have been heavily laden with the salt from the ocean as I felt like I was covered with a light film. The water was lukewarm at best which made my nipples stick out like missiles. Still, I felt refreshed and ready to go as Steve was making himself slowly out of bed. He shuffled over to the toilet where sure enough, he must have pissed a quart!

I once heard it said you know you're engaged when you share a toothbrush but you know you're married when you share the bathroom. Watching Steve pissing into the toilet was not exactly the most erotic sight for me in the world. Maybe it stemmed from my early years when I first started sucking on cocks and lived in mortal fear that a guy was going to piss in my mouth. Pissing was bad enough but I just couldn't stand being in the same room when someone was taking a dump. Perhaps that was part of my anti-anal fetish coming out, who knows?

Steve finished and turned to me, s sigh of relief escaping as he greeted me. He reached forward to kiss me but I turned my head and gave him a peck on the cheek. Morning breath... Now had he started out by eating my pussy first, THEN he could have kissed me! I felt his dick against my belly but I was going to wait until he'd cleaned up. I don't have any great cleanliness issues so long as the guy takes decent care of himself but again, he'd JUST peed and I would rather wait until he either washed or at least "drip dried" for a while before I took it again in my mouth.

"By the way, I just met our neighbors," I said as he brushed his tooth, "Did you know they were nudists?"

THAT got his attention but he was doing his best to pretend to me all macho and nonchalant. I knew him better than that, especially when the girl was hot.

"Kathleen has an incredible all-over tan," I continued, laying it on thick and heavy, "Nice boobs too... and they're real."

Steve rinsed out his mouth and turned to grin at me. "Hmmmmmm, so what do you think? Would they be interested?"

I knew what he meant by that but it didn't bother me. For some girls, to be married just a couple of days and have their husband suggest a swap with a couple they barely knew might have been a bit offensive to say the least. Fortunately I knew my husband better than that to take such a thing personally. Heck he WAS a guy after all! Better he be open about his feelings and urges than sneak around behind my back.

"Not a chance," I said, shaking my head.

Although that line of conversation hadn't come up, based on her other comments I had a pretty good idea what her reaction would be if I was to ask her if she wanted to swap cabanas for a night. It was funny in a way. It just confirmed something I already knew - that the people least likely to be sexually active with other people were the ones most people would think would be the most likely - nudists. I guess it is just another illustration of how familiarity takes away the erotic nature. It's along the same lines of why strippers don't reveal it all until just before the end. It's what people do NOT see that really turns them on much more so than what is exposed.

Steve finally finished shaving, shivering a bit as the cold water splashed against his face.

"Are you going to shower and fuck me or what?" I finally said a bit exasperated.

Steve wrapped his arms around his nude body and pretended to shiver. "That water is ice cold!"

"Well I guess it just depends on how badly you want to fuck me," I said softly as I rubbed naked body up against him, letting my boobs run up on his chest.

"How about if I just rinse off my dick?" he proposed.

"Ahhhhhh, real men don't fear shrinkage," I teased, grapping his dick in my hand and giving it a tug before I let it go. "OK, but hurry up, I'm so damn horny now."

Indeed, after spending the early hours with Kathleen and Kyle, I WAS horny as hell. Funny thing was, I think I was more attracted to her than her husband. Too bad as I knew Steve would never go for THAT type of swap! Still, maybe we could work something out before the week was over.

We were a bit late for breakfast and our neighbors were actually on their way back and passed us on the walkway as we headed in. We each said hello and something about having a good day, see you at supper, that sort of thing.

"Damn, I wish I'd seen those tits," Steve whispered to me as we drew close to the main inn dining area. I nudged him in the ribs just as Maria greeted us.

During breakfast we talked about how we wanted to go snorkeling. Maria said she had equipment we could borrow and asked if we were familiar with it. Steve said he had done it a lot while out in California and I mentioned that I'd done it once down in the Keys. Steve looked at me curiously and it reminded me that it was just one of those things I'd never mentioned to him. Then again, it's not like he had ever told me that HE had gone snorkeling before either.

Maria said we could just go right off our beach where a small reef was out about a hundred yards. Steve seemed more anxious to go out and see more of the area. Maria hesitated and went off to ask her husband something. He returned with her and said he could describe an area where we could do some snorkeling that was pretty isolated if that was what we were interested in. I recalled how crowded it had been when I did it in Florida so being isolated sounded much better.

"Well, there's the Sian Ka'an Biosphere Reserve to the north of here," he explained. "The only thing is it's not really public but rather a government area so you're a bit on your own when you're there. It's usually pretty safe. It's been a while since I've heard of anything going on up there. Just stick to yourself and don't socialize. If anyone comes by then just be nice and leave as quickly as possible."

To me it sounded a little scary and the reef off of our beach was sounding better all the time. Steve, on the other hand, seemed all the more excited about the prospect.

"I wouldn't have recommended it without you having a Jeep," Maria's husband continued, "Even so, remember that it's sandy and even 4-wheel drive vehicles can get stuck if you're not careful. Just avoid the dunes and you'll be fine."

The guys hunkered down over a map while Maria and I talked about shopping in the area. Hopefully we'd get back soon enough to do some serious damage to the credit card my dad had so graciously given me to use on our trip. Maria said there were two cruise ships scheduled to be in during next couple of days. We needed to go while they were in as otherwise the place was a ghost town.

Once again we had lunches prepared and then Maria's husband brought out the snorkeling gear and checked to see that it fit us. It was a lot nicer stuff than the equipment I'd rented in Florida and just further convinced me we'd picked a wonderful place to stay.

So we were off. We headed north up the main road, following the directions we'd been given as the GPS became useless once we hit the end of the public highway. About a mile into the Biosphere we ran into a government patrol - the usual young guys in fatigues with large guns and from what I could tell, very little in the way of adult supervision. Maria's husband had forewarned us about everything so at least time we weren't caught by surprise. He'd even given us some advice about the best way to get through.

"They're just kids dumped off and they have to stay there for a week sometimes with hardly anything to do and very few cars so when you come by it's more something to entertain themselves than to really cause any problems. The key to keep them from rummaging through everything and causing a long delay is to 'entertain' them."

He was looking at me was he spoke and I was getting a pretty guide idea of what he meant but he kept on anyway.

"So everything Maria said yesterday about being discreet and humble....? Forget it. Give the boys a show Kelly and they'll let you right through. The better the show the faster you'll go through." He looked at me and then grinned a little, "Besides, I get the idea you're the type of girl who wouldn't mind doing that sort of thing."

"Ian!" Maria exclaimed, giving her husband a playful slap, "That's no way to talk to a guest."

"Hey, if the shoe fits..." he answered, earning himself another slap, perhaps not quite as gentle that time.

"I'm so sorry Kelly," she started to say but I cut her off and assured her everything was just fine.

She pulled me over away from the guys then and said softly, "OK, so everything he said was true but just remember one thing... don't get carried away and absolutely NO sex no matter what they say. The boys like a show so a little teasing is OK but if you get naked or have sex with them they'll think you're just a whore for some drug runner and arrest you. Trust me, you do NOT want that! Remember, they have no way to get back to town so if you're arrested..."

She didn't have to finish, I got the message loud and clear.

"And in any case, you really don't have to do anything. They won't hold you up too long regardless so it's up to you if it's worth an extra fifteen minutes."

It gave me something to think about so I figured we'd just play it by ear. I'd seen too many 60 Minutes and 20/20 episodes of girls being locked up in foreign jails for things they shouldn't have done so I wasn't about to take any risks when it came to the police - especially the military guys. Still, it never hurt to be prepared for anything so I'd chosen to wear a bikini top under a light unbuttoned blouse with really short denim cutoffs and flip flops. It was the sort of outfit that left open a number of options.

Steve slowed down as one of the guys stood out in the road waving at us to stop. With the machine gun hanging over his shoulder he didn't have to ask twice. He looked to be maybe in his late teens and was doing his best to appear stern and in control. There were three other guys sitting around a table under the pop-up tent, all of them with nasty looking guns. It sort of freaked me out.

The guy in charge started asking us questions but it was in Spanish and we tried to tell him we only spoke English which just seemed to frustrate him. He motioned to the other guys and one of them came along side and in halting English asked us where we were going and what we were going to do. In the meantime the other one was walking around the Jeep checking everything out. We had taken our innkeeper's advice and left all non-essentials behind so there would be as little as possible for them to see. Large bags that could be hiding drugs were definitely NOT recommended.

Steve pointed out our snorkeling gear and lunch boxes and tried to explain but it was like they didn't understand him. I noticed they seemed to be paying more attention to me than him which may have contributed to their lack of comprehension. Then the first guy said something to the other one, then formed a circle with his thumb and forefinger on one hand, poking his forefinger from the other hand through it. That was one form of sign language that was pretty universal! For a moment my heart beat raced as I thought maybe they were saying that THEY wanted to fuck me but then the other guy patted Steve on the shoulder and laughed, pointing at me and nodding his head. Evidently they were congratulating him on what they expected to be a "fun" afternoon.

For a moment I thought maybe I should show them a little bit if what Steve would be getting but then stopped when it looked like things were coming to a close. No sense in opening Pandora's box if I didn't have to. As it was it wasn't like I was hiding all that much anyway and I felt a huge sigh of relief when they stepped back and motioned with their guns for us to continue on.

"That was really scary," I told Steve as we accelerated away. He just nodded and focused on the road ahead as the pavement ended and we were on nothing more than a sandy pathway alongside the ocean.

We actually couldn't see the water most of the time because of the hill between the road and the beach but now and then there would be a cut-through into the foliage with an entrance to something or another. As tempting as it was to want to explore, we'd been warned to stick to the main "road" until we got to where we were going. Ian had warned us that you never know what you might find down some of those paths and odds were whoever you DID find didn't want you to find them.

In a way I felt more than just a little nervous. This wasn't like running around the Florida Keys where at least there were some form of law and civilization. I got this creepy feeling that someone could stop us, kill us (or worse) and nobody would ever know - or care. There was no cell phone reception so even if we simply broke down we were screwed. The road was so narrow that I kept worrying we would meet another vehicle head-on and then one of us have to back up forever to a more open area but it was like the whole area was deserted.

Finally we made it to the turnoff that matched the description we'd been given. Steve pulled in and immediately I was thankful for the Jeep as it struggled to work its way through the drifting sand that covered the path. We zigzagged up and over the hill until suddenly there was the beach. Oh my god, it was beautiful, like something straight off a postcard! The water was a crystal clear with a pale blue and turquoise tint and I could see from the waves and the sand that it was shallow for maybe fifty to a hundred yards out. Palm trees lined the beach and the sand looked fine and soft.

Sadly, the one thing that kept it from being perfect was the trash. I was amazed at the amount of garbage that had accumulated along the shoreline. Obviously it wasn't from beachgoers as it stretched out each way as far as I could see. Maria had mentioned it, saying it was from the cruise ships primarily and that the only reason her beach looked as good as it did was because she constantly raked it and picked up the garbage. What was really amazing was what had collected. It was literally everything AND the kitchen sink. I even saw a mannequin doll leg! Water bottles, batteries, plastic of every shape and size, shoes, clothing, paper... it all was there in about a three foot wide line that continued all along the beach. It made me mad to think of how people could be so wasteful and careless to dump all this into the water.

Looking out I could make out the shipwreck Maria had mentioned. It wasn't that much to see from shore and it barely broke the surface. From this distance you could see the basic outline of some sort of vessel that was maybe a hundred feet or so long but not much else.

The best thing was that the beach was OURS! There was no sign that anyone had been here recently and where we were parked nobody driving by would see us. Unless you knew to turn off here there was nothing to give any clue that this gorgeous vacation paradise was waiting just over the hill. If course there were our tracks that would tell someone passing by that a vehicle had entered but hopefully that would not lead to any problems.

"Oh Steve, isn't this beautiful?" I gushed taking off my blouse and tossing it back onto the front seat as Steve got out our snorkeling equipment. I didn't think twice about removing my bikini top and then my shorts. I hadn't worn anything under the shorts so it didn't make much sense to just wear the top by itself.

"Not wasting any time, are we?" Steve said with an admiring smile as I posed for him with the ocean in the background.

"C'mon, let's just try out the water first," I encouraged him, grabbing him by the hand, "Get out of those clothes!"

We kept our footwear on until we reached the clear portion of the beach. I hated to even imagine what might be buried in the ribbon of trash should I step on it with bare feet! Then we held hands as the two of us walked into the warm water until it was up to my waist. It felt so good as the waves caused the water level to rise up and down on me. The actual breaks were out quite a ways so this was almost like swimming in a lake more so than the ocean.

"Kiss me husband," I murmured to him as I reached my arms around his wonderful naked body. I felt a shiver through me as my lover's kips touched mine and then our tongues met. It felt so good to feel my breasts pushed in tight against him and I loved the way he reached around me and cupped my butt cheeks in his strong hands.

"I love you Steve," I sighed, "This is like so perfect!"

"I love you too Kelly," Steve replied. I could feel his dick growing as it started to press into my belly. Once nice thing about the warm ocean, it wasn't doing any harm to his ability to get an erection.

Still, there was plenty of time for THAT so for now I just wanted to play in the water like a little girl. We worked our way out until it got deeper. We must have been a couple of hundred feet out before it came up to my chest which was so cool. What I really liked was that for some reason the ocean floor was totally clear with none of the grasses and rocks that were at the beach by our cabana. It was hard to believe we could be out this far and still be able to stand on our feet.

We played and teased each other, like we were castaways on some remote island in the middle of the ocean. Perhaps that what fascinated me more than anything, having all this just for the two of us. Granted, it wasn't exactly on the map and I doubted many tourist even knew it existed, let alone take the trouble to get here. It was like we were rich movie stars with our own private beach, only with no paparazzi.

At the same time, I couldn't help now and then but wonder what would happen if someone DID show up... and what their motives might be. As wonderful as it was to be this isolated, it also meant we were pretty much at the mercy of anyone who might have plans that weren't so pleasant. Maria had said because tourists DID come here now and then that the drug lords and such stayed away from it so it was safe so long as you didn't go wandering much anywhere else. I couldn't see how she would have allowed us to come here if she thought we would be in any real danger.

"Want to see the wreck now?" Steve finally asked. I knew he was anxious to explore it so best to let him get it out of system right away.

From where we were it was hard to tell where the wreck even was as it was down past the cleared part of the beach where we were swimming. We worked our way back to the shore, grabbed our snorkel gear, and walked down the beach until we were closer to the wreck. It was still somewhat hard to see but the waves breaking over it made it a fairly easy target. It had been quite a while since my last - and only, time I'd snorkeled so Steve helped me out. For some reason he had to adjust my boobs and check out my crotch in the process! I didn't mind - and I returned the favor by tugging on his dick playfully.

"So if I hang onto your leash, will you guide me?" I teased. No answer other than a roll of the eyes as we worked our way into the water again.

This time it was much different. Instead of the ocean floor being totally clear we had to work our way through grass and rocks until the water was deep enough for us to start swimming out on our stomachs. Also, it deepened much quicker although once it got to just over Steve's head it seemed to flatten out. We took our time, our fins doing most of the work as I watched the coral pass by under us. The fish were incredible! It was even better than the Keys!

One thing we hadn't accounted for was the current. We had started out with the wreck directly in front of us but when I would stop to tread water and look ahead I noted we were being moved down the beach by the current. Had we been smarter, we would've started up the beach further and let the current carry us to the wreck but now it meant we had to do some extra swimming and I felt a little panic as my arms and legs started to tire.

Well, this is when strong and handsome husbands come in handy. Steve could see I was tiring and so he would help support me and let me hand onto him as he did the work. I thought for a moment about hanging onto his "leash" but that would have to wait until we weren't working so hard. The wreck had looked a ways away from the beach but now it seemed a lot further!

One way or another we eventually made it. I couldn't tell what kind of boat it had been, maybe some small fishing vessel. It was old and rusting, made of metal instead of wood. The fish certainly seemed to love it! We got on the side sheltering us from the waves and it was easier to stay in one place and just let the fish pass under us. Oh my god, they were so beautiful. It was like swimming in an aquarium.

"This is almost like Blue Lagoon," I said to Steve as we rested for a bit holding onto the wreck. It was too deep to stand up but this worked out fine.

"Mmmmmmm, you remind me of a naked Brooke Shields," Steve grinned, "You know I think I must have jerked off to her a hundred times in that movie with those underwater scenes."

"Well what about a naked wife?" I asked, pretending to be a little dejected at his thoughts of another woman, even though I had to admit I'd been turned on by the movie as well.

"Even better... and I can fuck my naked wife," he said with a grin as he kissed me. The water in his mouth was salty but I didn't mind.

"I wonder if anyone has had sex by this wreck before?" he said as he looked around.

"Oh I'm sure they have... so why not make it one more?" I came back as seductively as I could.

No more words were necessary. I could see through the crystal clear water that Steve was sporting quite an erection at the moment so he was certainly raring to go. I was getting more horny than ever thinking of how it might be if we were really shipwrecked as children, no clothes and forced to be naked all the time until finally one day we learned about the wonders of sex. Had we been in a swimming pool or freshwater lake I might've ducked down to suck his dick but the taste of salt water really wasn't all that great. Instead I leaned back and let my legs float up and then wrapped them around his waist. I could feel the pressure of his cock pushing against my crotch and at that moment there was just one thing in the world I wanted – to have it in me.

"Fuck me Steve," I asked softly, closing my eyes and just letting all the sensations and feeling imprint themselves into my memory. Steve worked his way until he was able to get himself positioned and I helped by pulling myself into him, literally pulling him into my pussy.

"Oh yes.... I love it when you first enter me," I sighed as I felt him deep inside of me.

How could it be more romantic than this? The two of us naked out in the water in the middle of an idyllic beach, having sex next to an ancient shipwreck. I looked down and marveled at how much I loved seeing him up against me with his cock out of sight, knowing I couldn't see it because it was IN me, the erotic visual matching up with the pleasure of the feeling of it inside of me.

In truth, it was more difficult than it had been in my earlier dreams when I'd fantasized about doing just what we were doing right now. Even though the wreck blocked us from the brunt of the waves, it still wasn't a calm lake by any stretch of the imagination. Being so deep neither of us could touch the bottom AND still breath. Now I found myself wishing we had taken along the buoyancy vests Ian had suggested. At the time it seemed like exactly what NOT to wear when you plan on swimming naked but you can only tread water for so long and hanging on to the wreck was dicey.

Finally I decided it was up to me to face the music. Yes, I ALWAYS loved it whenever we had sex but at the same time there WERE limits.

"Steve," I gasped, trying to catch my breath without taking in a mouthful of water, "why don't we finish this on the beach?" Was that a look of relief on his face? Then we both laughed as we realized that the other was thinking the same thing. I unhooked my ankles and let myself drift off of him. We took a few more minutes to just float and watch the beautiful coral and fish below us and then set off for the shore.

I always assumed it would be easier to swim towards the shore than away but it certainly didn't feel that way. It didn't help I was tiring fast but the thought of what awaited me on shore was all the motivation I needed. Looking towards the shore, I wondered what we would do if someone showed up as both of us had nothing on besides our snorkeling gear. It wasn't like we would have many options. With the grass and rocks I didn't want to spend any more time than necessary in the shallow water. Then again had we been further up where the sea bed was clear the water was so clear that anybody would have known we weren't wearing anything. Actually it made the whole situation all the more erotic,

We finally made it to the shore although we had drifted down quite a ways by the current before we were able to stand and walk the rest of the way in. Once back on "dry" land we gathered our masks and flippers and hiked back to the Jeep where Steve packed it away while I got out the lunches. Steve brought along a huge beach towel that Maria had packed for us and we made our way back to the water's edge.

How do you explain in words the setting we were in? Two people, just married, totally alone on a Caribbean beach with the most perfect view in front of us. There was even a cruise ship on the horizon, heading south most likely to the port a few miles south of our inn. We sat in the middle of the beach Indian style while munching on the lunch Maria's cook had made for us. The sun was quite strong and I was hoping the sun tan I'd worked so hard on for my wedding held out as the one thing we hadn't brought with today was sun screen.

"You know, I believe we have some unfinished business to attend to," Steve said with a grin as we packed away the leftovers. He was on his knees bending over the basket and I loved the way his dick hung down. OK, so I loved his dick no matter what it was doing but at this moment all I could think about was taking it in my mouth and making it hard. Evidently he was thinking along the same lines.

"So now that we're married, are you going to turn into one of those bitches that won't suck her husband's dick now that she has the ring?"

He was teasing of course. Besides, I'd already proven to him a number of times that I was NOT one of "those bitches". But then again why not have a little fun.

"Well I don't know..." I said slowly, pretending to be unsure, "I mean why would anyone want to take one of those nasty things in her MOUTH and then let it squirt all gooey stuff on her tongue? You know, it's not like YOU ever suck on one so why should I?"

Steve stood up and grabbed his cock in one hand and flopped it up and down to tease me. "Well... if you REALLY don't want to suck on this bad boy then I guess I'll just have to take care of it myself."

Two can play THAT game. Yes, I DID want it bad... REALLY bad but I wasn't going to be THAT easy.

"If you're going to do that then I suppose I'll just have to do the same," I said flippantly as I scooted my legs out from under me and leaned back on one hand while I started to rub myself with the other. I made sure I was positioned so with my legs spread apart he was getting a good view of my fingers on my pussy.

"Whatever... your call," he said, calling my bluff as well.

Steve just stood there jerking off his cock while watching me touch myself. So there out on the most beautiful beach in the world the two of us masturbated while we watched the other. Looking out I saw another cruise shop passing by and I wondered if anyone had powerful enough binoculars to see what was happening on shore? Oh well, if so I hoped they were enjoying the show.

Watching Steve jerk off was quite sexy for me. Actually I'd hardly ever seen him jerking himself off, I mean other than just a few strokes to help himself stay hard between positions and that sort of thing. He claimed he didn't masturbate all that often but I had never bought that one for a second. So to see him standing there out in the open on the beach, his eyes locked on my pussy while his hand gripped his now stiff dick was extremely erotic. The only question now was who would be the first to give in. I knew that as much as I was enjoying myself, there was no way I wanted to see his cum wasted by spraying all over the beach instead of in me. At the same time, it was a point of principle that I maintain the honor of the female species. Don't all girls claim to have more self-control than men?

Time to play dirty. Fortunately I was armed with more options that Steve, as a male, simply didn't possess. It really wasn't fair, more like a modern army compared to the knights of old.

"Ohhhhhh!" I moaned as my orgasm rose within me.

Luckily I wasn't faking as if it hadn't happened soon I would have resorted to faking just to make sure I got Steve's attention before it was too late. I leaned my head back, closed my eyes, arched my back and curled my toes, checking all the boxes of a classic orgasm.

I opened my eyes just enough to see Steve's reaction. On the one hand things looked good as his eyes were locked on my pussy like a heat-seeking missile. On the other hand, he was stroking his dick even faster than ever. Would this help or hurt me in the end?

"OK, OK, you win," he grunted as without another word he dropped down to his knees, right between my legs.

It was like he couldn't get his dick in me fast enough as he plunged into me and drove himself deep. It soon became obvious why he was in such a hurry as I held himself up on his arms and grimaced as it seemed he tried to hold back for as long as possible before he exhaled sharply and groaned again as he released his sperm into me.

If I HAD been faking then I wouldn't have been for much longer and as it was it just made my current orgasm all the better. I lifted my hips up to meet him and I could feel him shaking as he held himself still in me as the final loads of cum left him to enter my pussy.

"Damn that felt good," he sighed heavily as he flipped over on to his back and lay next to me.

I turned on my side with my elbow on the towel, running my hands over his firm body. I loved just touching him sometimes, feeling every inch of his male body. Sometimes...

"I believe there were some questions regarding my intent when it came to B-A-M," I said with a grin as my fingers traced over his flat stomach.

"B-A-M?" he asked?

"Blowjobs After Marriage silly," I giggled.

Before he could come up with a response I wiggled down until my head was on his stomach and the tip of his dick was looking me straight in the eyes. That was my Steve, still hard and raring to go even after just fucking me. Opening my mouth, I leaned towards it and took the head in my mouth, making him jump as my tongue teased the tip.

"Still a bit sensitive," he explained.

All the better so far as I was concerned. After all, he was never one to give me a break when my clit was so worked up that I practically flew out of bed when he sucked on it. Seemed only fair to return the favor...

I could smell and taste my pussy on his dick as I licked the shaft and kissed the base of his dick. I tried to imagine how just a few moments before this thing had been INSIDE of me. With my tongue tickling the very tip, I did my best to visualize the sperm spurting out of it as he deposited his cum way up inside of me. In fact, I could still feel it as it drained out of me while I played with his dick.

"Oh yeah... just like that," he moaned as I took about half his dick in my mouth and while my tongue circled around it I sucked on it with all the suction my cheeks could deliver.

With my free hand I played with his balls, rolling them in the palm of my hand carefully. As I gave my hubby what he wanted I also pushed myself up against him so I could feel his leg between mine, putting pressure where it counted most, right on my clit.

"I need to fuck you again," he gasped, pushing my head up and getting on his knees.

I wasn't exactly sure how he wanted me but he soon made that clear, grabbing me by the waist and twisting me around so that I was on my knees facing away from him. Soon he was back in me again, pumping away as I leaned forward on my elbows.

Unlike the other night on the beach, this was a good old-fashioned fucking and given the time and place it was exactly what I wanted. Steve seemed to be having a good time as well, changing positions frequently. After doing it doggie he pulled me over onto my side and spooned me from behind, holding my upper leg up high to the sun as his other hand cupped my breast. That didn't last long before he stood up and motioned for me to jump up and grab him around the neck, locking me ankles behind him as he grabbed my ass and held me up. With neither of us having a free hand, it was almost comical as he tried to get his dick back into me and we both laughed when it finally met up with my pussy.

"Where are you going?" I asked as he started to walk towards the water, holding me up with his dick impaled in me like I was some sort of marshmallow on a stick.

"Just shut up and let me worry about it," he said but the tone in his voice took any hardness of the words away as he entered the water and kept walking out until I could just start to feel the warm water on my ass. He stopped and it felt almost surreal as my butt was splashing into the water as he bounced me on his dick.

"Where do you want it?" he asked, which told me that he had to be getting close.

OK, had it been entirely up to me, such as had it just been any guys screwing me, I would have made the easy decision and stayed on his cock such that he came inside of me. ANY time I have the option, THAT is where I prefer the cum to go. I mean, isn't that what my pussy was designed for in the first place?

However, now I was married and so I had someone else's pleasure to consider, not to mention my new duties and obligations as a wife. I don't mean I infer I was some sort of slave or "barefoot and pregnant in the kitchen". It was similar to being a daughter where while I DID have similar duties and obligations to satisfy my father's needs, I did it not because I HAD to but because I WANTED to. So it was now with Steve. I didn't HAVE to make a decision based on what HE wanted, I WANTED to.

"Cum on my face and tits," I said grinning at him. OK, so I almost NEVER call them tits but hey, in for a penny, in for a pound so if I was doing this for him, why not talk the walk as well?

"Well, if that's what you want..."

Steve lifted me up so when I unlocked my legs I wouldn't accidentally end up bending his dick in the wrong direction (do that once to a guy and you'll never forget again). Dropping to my feet, the water came up to my waist but Steve's dick was just above the water so at least I didn't have to submerge my face into the salty ocean water. He must have been cutting it pretty close as in less than thirty seconds he pulled back, grabbed his dick, and started shooting cum all over me. Considering he had just unloaded in me less than twenty minutes ago, I was amazed at how much cum he could produce again so quickly. It hit me on the mouth, my forehead and then all over my neck as I rose up out of the water to let him hit me even more.

"You look so fuckin' sexy," he grinned at me. Why guys think having cum all over a girl is sexy has always mystified me but since it does almost universally, I stopped questioning it long ago and used it to my advantage.

One reason I really don't like guys cumming on me is the mess. One nice thing about Steve moving out into the water was all I had to do was dip down and wash it off of me before it coagulated and dried on me which tended to itch and made it harder to remove, especially if it was in your hair.

Once I was more or less cleaned off, at least as much as you can be using seawater, we held hands and walked back to our beach towel. I noticed that his dick still had some heft to it and I knew that I could probably get it back up again with a little lip work but for now I just wanted to spend some time with my husband. Now THAT still made my mind twist a little. Not my boyfriend, not my fiance, but he was now my HUSBAND. It hadn't been all that long ago when I was wondering if I would EVER use those words and now here I was, having sex in the water on a secluded Mexican beach with my HUSBAND.

"I love you Steve," I said quietly as we laid beside each other, leaning back on our elbows facing the water to watch the waves washing in.

The only sound was that of the breaks out in the distance. No cars driving by, no other people making noises, not even birds except for an occasional call by something I couldn't identify. It was like we were totally cut off from civilization.

"Now I want you to make love to me," I said softly as I turned to him and put my hand over his semi-hard dick.

For a moment I think he was about to protest. It was a little quick considering he's already cum twice in the last half hour. Yet now it wasn't about the sex, it was about making love and that put an entirely different light on the matter.

Over the course of the next hour or so, for the second time in my life I made love with the man I loved more than anyone else in the world. Afterwards while I was thinking back about it, I came to the realization that now I finally understood why my parents never had sex in front of me as a child, and then still almost never as an adult except for those rare times when we all got together. It wasn't that they were shielding me from anything a I had always assumed. It wasn't that they were embarrassed - an option I never considered seriously. Now I understand... it's something they shared as a husband and wife, something just between the two of them, something that made their marriage special.

I say all this as I decided at that moment that going forward, I would keep those moments between Steve and I private as well so please understand why I won't go into the details. I would never say that sex between a husband and wife is ALWAYS making love, quite the contrary. The vast majority of the time we fuck, pure and simple. The difference is that as a married couple we CAN make love whereas I can never share that with any other man, not even my father. If anything, it also helped me to better rationalize swapping with other couples in the future. No matter who else I had sex with or whatever the circumstances, I would never make love with anyone but Steve.

Suffice to say that it was the perfect ending to the perfect day at the beach. While I often fantasize about being watched at the beach while making love, this was one time when I was happy that we were all alone. My only regret was that we had to finally leave. Most likely we should have left even earlier as I started to worry about the amount of sun we were getting as neither us had been wearing anything for hours now.

The trip back to the inn was uneventful. Even the guys at the roadblock just waved us through. Apparently they were only concerned about people ENTERING the reserve. We got back about 5:00 or so, well before dinner would be ready. We only had one day left and from the plans we had been making up it was going to be pretty full so Maria suggested we make a quick run to Majahual just so we could see it and get a taste before it got dark.

We quickly showered and made the twenty minute drive to Majahual. We quickly learned that there were essentially two types of people there - tourists from the cruise ships and locals determined to lighten the tourists' wallets to the maximum extent possible. I don't mean anything crooked, just aggressive souvenirs sales, drink, massages, jet skis, and the like. It was obvious they didn't cater to many other tourists as the parking was almost negligible but with the Jeep we had more options.

It was fun to barter and we both got massages on a second floor porch overlooking the ocean. It wasn't near the view we'd had earlier but it was unique. I couldn't believe all the people! The beach was a madhouse and I didn't regret for a moment our decision to spend the time we had at our "private" beach.

That evening I was exhausted and a bit sunburned. We entertained our fellow guest and hosts with stories about the beach and snorkeling without going into any of the other details. Not everyone was as discreet.

"So did you guys have sex on the beach?" Kathleen asked, much to the amusement of her husband.

I wasn't quite sure how to answer. Just a yes or no or was she looking for details? Fortunately Maria came to my rescue.

"Doesn't everyone who goes there?" she said teasingly, poking at her husband.

We all laughed and the subject shifted to what others had done that day. I sat on Steve's lap the whole time, my arm wrapped around his neck as I snuggled up next to me HUSBAND. (I just can't get over that.)

That night as I laid in bed next to my sleeping man, I suddenly realized that the next day would be our last full day. Wow, time was flying by! Thursday would be spent traveling so that meant we had to do everything we wanted in just one day. Obviously that was impossible but if the events of the past two days were anything to go by, I couldn't wait for morning.

6. Day 4 - Extreme Zip-Lining

The next morning I awoke at sunrise. Steve was still dead asleep. He was a little sunburned from yesterday's day in the sun, especially in a places he normally didn't expose at the beach.

Looking out the curtains, I didn't see anyone outside so I dispensed with the towel this time and walked out onto the front porch nude. The rising sun felt good against my bare skin although I could still feel it against a few parts of my body. While my tans lines weren't all that big, they still were there only now instead of being white on tanned skin, now the white had been replaced by red.

"You know, you need to be careful. The sun is a lot stronger here than it is back home."

I turned to see Kathleen walking over from her cabana. She was naked of course but this time it didn't surprise me at all, nor did I feel any discomfort standing out in the open like this without anything on. It was still a little strange though. I'd never been one that was comfortable being nude in a causal way. Oh sure when it was for fun like at a party or during sex but just to run around the house in the nude? Not my thing. I'd started sleeping naked when I was twelve, a practice I'd continued whenever possible ever since but that was because I simple felt better without being all wrapped in something when I was asleep. When me and my family would gather in the hot tub we always were naked but that was only while in the tub. Once out I would wear a towel or a robe or even just a t-shirt. It wasn't like I was afraid to be seen naked - quite the opposite. If I was heading from the bathroom to my bedroom I didn't worry about being seen. There was just a difference in my mind between a quick view and just flaunting yourself for no reason.

Never in my 26 years had I done anything like this though. To just hang out in the morning air, sipping on a glass of water while talking to someone I barely knew, and doing so without a stitch a clothing on was something unique for me. I could have worn just a bikini top with no bottoms and felt just fine but to be completely naked? This was something entirely new for me. I know it may seem like no big thing, but there's a little security in having even the barest of clothing on. Kathleen, on the other hand, appeared to be totally at ease as if she had been doing this all her life - and maybe she had.

We started talking about our trip to the beach and I asked her if she had been there. Kathleen vigorously shook her head.

"Oh no, I was actually surprised to hear that the two of you went there," she said, "It would scare me to death."

I looked at here with a curious expression so she continued, "It's not like the area is exactly the safest in the world. There are a LOT of drug dealers that work out of there and they don't exactly appreciate unexpected visitors."

I explained to her how Maria had mentioned something about that and how she had warned us to stay on the road except for the shipwreck beach.

"Well, it's a good thing you took her advice. I suppose the drug lords know that beach gets the most visitors so they probably stay away from it. I wouldn't want to try anywhere else though. People tend to disappear around here when they poke their nose where it doesn't belong."

Wow, I was a little shocked at what she was telling me. Still, if it had been THAT dangerous I can't imagine Maria recommending we go here. Time to change the subject...

"Steve wants to go zip lining. I've never done it and it looks dangerous. Have you guys done it?"

Kathleen uncrossed her long legs, opening up her crotch for a moment and then leaned forward, her large breasts hanging down. "Oh yeah, it's really perfectly safe so long as you stick with the larger companies. It's a LOT of fun."

I asked her where she thought the best place was to go and she leaned back again to ponder.

"There are a lot of places to go but the best by far has to be Selvatica, but it's almost all the back to Cancun."

"Why there?"

"Oh my god Kelly, they have something like a dozen different runs and you just go from one to the next. Some of them are really long too. Then at the end you can take another one and land in the middle of a cenote."

Kathleen explained to me that the Yucatan is a large riverless peninsula made primarily of limestone. There were thousands of underground caverns, many running with underground rivers. Sometime these caves collapse and leave an opening. If the cavern is running with water, it creates what the locals called a cenote.

"If you're going to go, you better leave soon though," she warned, "And you probably should call to make reservations as soon as possible too as they tend to get pretty crowded."

I thanked her and we stood up. Then to my surprise she stepped up to me and gave me a quick kiss.

"If you go, then I won't be seeing you again as we're leaving around noon. It's been nice to get to know you though Kelly."

With that she smiled at me and walked back to her cabana. I couldn't help but wait and watch her perfect ass as she slowly made her way back. Hmmmmmm, too bad she hadn't followed up that kiss with something more. I surely wouldn't have turned her down.

Back in the room I shook my groggy husband awake. "C'mon sleepy head, it's our last day in Costa Maya!"

Steve reached out and grabbed me, pulling me into him until we were pressed tightly together. Mmmmmmm, somebody was horny!

"When she kissed you I thought I was going to cum," he whispered as he started to fondle me and run his hands all over me.

"Oh so you were spying on us?"

"Hell yeah... two beautiful women naked in front of me, who wouldn't?"

"You're so bad!" I chided him playfully, reaching down for his hard cock. Oh well, so much for getting an early start...

Later when we finally arrived for breakfast, Kathleen and her husband were just finishing.

"I thought you'd be right behind me," she said with a wink.

I just grinned back while Steve was taking a seat, anxious to eat. For a guy as thin as he was, he sure could eat a lot!

"So you guys going to go zip lining?" Maria asked as she brought us our drinks. I explained to her how Kathleen had recommended

"Selvatica? That's quite a trip. You'd better get started soon."

I said something about how I had thought we were going to be on the road. "But SOMEBODY had other plans," I said, nodding towards Steve.

"Well, you ARE on your honeymoon dear. Selvatica will be next year but this is your only honeymoon."

She had a point and besides, it's not like I was really complaining. I looked over at Steve and fondly remembered how he had cum in me from behind not ten minutes ago... nope, I wasn't complaining at all!

Soon we were off and on the road again. We didn't bring a lunch this time, figuring there would be plenty of opportunities to find something good to eat given the more densely populated area we'd be traveling through during the day.

Our trip took us through the entire Rivera Maya along the east coast of Yucatan. We made an early stop in Tulum for gas and while we were stopped Steve called and was able to confirm that we could make reservations for the zip lines. This time we passed the turnoff to Coba and continued heading north. After a while we passed Xcaret which advertised heavily. Nearby were some zip lines that we could see from the road but that wasn't what I had envisioned. I wanted to be out in the jungle, not in the middle of some sort of Mexican amusement park. The traffic through the Playa del Carmen region was heavy which delayed us somewhat. I had hopes we would be back in time to do some shopping. If we had one more day I think we would have taken the ferry there over to Cozumel but that would have to wait for our next trip to Mexico. I'd already decided we were coming back!

After passing Puerto Morelos we started watching out for the signs to Selvatica. As it turned out it was easy as there were actual highway exit signs for it. The drive once we turned off was longer than I was expecting but soon there was a large banner across the road that welcomed us and we were there. Steve parked the Jeep under some palm trees as it wasn't like they had much of a parking lot. Apparently most people road the shuttle that went around to the various resorts and hotels.

We checked in and learned it would be about thirty minutes before our group would be called. Given how far we had to drive and the traffic and construction I thought we had done pretty well so far as keeping on schedule.
